City Plans Annexation Move

Attorney Consulted on City Tax Collection

The City of Muleshoe proposes to institute annexation proceedings to enlarge and extend the boundary limits of the city.

The annexation plan called for the boundary of the proposed city to begin at the east line of East Houston Street in the Country Club Addition beginning at the east-northeast corner of the present city limits.

The exact metes and bounds included in the annexation proposal appeared in a legal notice in the Muleshoe Journal on July 18 and includes all the Country Club addition.

Albert Field, city manager, said: "Those persons who have objections to this annexation should attend a public hearing which is to be held in City Hall at 2 p.m. Monday, July 22, in the City Council Chambers."

"Any person who wishes information or wishes to discuss the matter, either pro or con, are urged to attend the hearing at this time."

Field said "All interested persons have a right to appear and be heard on this matter as it is at this time that the annexation will be determined."

Enough opposition will be considered by the council as will each inquiry and opposition and favorable comments by interested citizens.

Field said that the resident of the Country Club Addition had most of the benefits of the city limit restrictions, such as police protection, fire protection and such vital protection and it has been the express feeling of many that it should become a part of the city. Utility facilities on city basis will be installed in the event of annexation.

Contemplation of the annexation has been under study by the council for some time and an ordinance to call the hearing was set for July 29 at the meeting of the council held July 8.

The council will complete the annexation process if the public hearing proves it to be of benefit to the city and the residents of the Country Club addition or if there is no opposition on Page 3, Col. 6

Sweatmon Found Dead Wednesday

Funeral Held Here Friday

around muleshoe with the journal staff

Cleta Williams, Journal tele-type operator and sports writer, remains in Green Hospital where she is being treated for a heart condition.

Carol Haire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd F. Haire, has been named to the Dean's Honor List for the spring semester at Texas Technological College.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney Poyner and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Poyner are in Dallas, attending Fall market, Saturday through Wednesday.

Mrs. Connie Gupion is in Scott and White Hospital, Temple, where she is undergoing treatment.

Out of town visitors at the First Methodist Church Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Hart, Fort Worth; Von K. Edwards, Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Nance, Mrs. Louis Wixon, Jan and Gary, Amarillo; Terri and Cindy Mack, Tulsa; Lynn Hill, Littlefield; Denise Doss, Wilcox, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. James

Funeral services for Sherman Sweatmon, 55, were held at 3 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church with Dr. Otis Strickland, Fort Worth officiating and assisted by Rev. Doug Bubose, local minister and Rev. Alfred Woodard, Portales Baptist minister.

Sweatmon, owner and operator of the Progress Gin, was found dead of a gunshot wound in the stomach Wednesday afternoon three miles north and two miles east of the Oklahoma Lane community.

Officers said Sweatmon apparently had been hunting alone when he tripped and fell at the edge of a field, on the south side of the farm road, causing his 20 gauge automatic shotgun to discharge.

The blast caught Sweatmon in the center of the stomach, according to J. R. Thornton, Farmer County Justice of the Peace.

Pronounced dead at the scene by Justice Thornton, Farwell, his shotgun was still in the case but had been fired, reports show.

Death was ruled by Thornton as accidental due to an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Sweatmon had been missing since noon Monday, July 15, and Thornton estimated time of death at sometime Monday. Farmer county officers found the body after they received a report Wednesday on Sweatmon's abandoned pickup. His body was near the vehicle. Bulletins had been issued by law-enforcement officers throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Three Students To Attend Waco Seminar

Three high school students from Bailey County will attend the sixth annual Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar July 30-August 3 on the Campus of Baylor University, Waco, James Warren, president of Bailey County Farm Bureau announces.

The students are: Glenda Calhoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Calhoun of the Y.L. Community; Tommy Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Little, Muleshoe and Bobbie Ethridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ethridge, Progress. All three students are seniors in Muleshoe high school.

The annual training school for high school junior and senior students is an intensive course in citizenship, American heritage and the proper role of government, Warren said.

"It is designed to complement the formal education of the young folks and make their roles as citizens more meaningful," he continued.

The County Farm Bureau sponsors the local students by paying their tuition, room and board and transportation to and from Waco. Travel is by chartered bus. A total of 425 students

FIRST AND LAST--Frank Snyder is showing stepping off the last passenger train to run on the Santa Fe Railroad through Muleshoe. Snyder, a Bailey county pioneer has been here through the 55 years of just such passenger service. He rode the first passenger train to make the run from Farwell to Muleshoe 55 years ago and was aboard the last Farwell-Muleshoe run when it passed through and made a brief stop here at 11:10 p.m. Friday, July 19. This closes an era which during the toil and struggle of building the railroad grade and putting in track was never expected to come to pass.

Safety Week Starts

In his proclamation, Judge Chihak said "the citizens of Bailey County are proud of our farm families from whom comes our abundance of food and fiber; therefore, our citizens are deeply concerned about the safety and well-being of this segment of our population as they go about the sometimes hazardous task of producing the commodities needed by the entire population."

The proclamation said the week-long special safety campaign is a coordinated effort by Farm Bureau and various local and state agricultural and safety groups.

The judge urged farm families "to become more safety conscious not only during Farm Safety Week, but every day of the year."

President Johnson and Governor Connally have previously designated the same period as Farm Safety Week both nationally and in Texas.

Sudan-Amherst Set Clash With Morton

The Sudan-Amherst winners will meet Morton here at 7 p.m. Thursday, July 25 in the district play-off, due to the fact that Sudan-Amherst won the coin flip and chose to play the final game here.

All area citizens are urged to attend this district play-off.

The first Little League All-Star tournament to be played on Muleshoe fields concluded with the Wednesday night.

Muleshoe and Littlefield were knocked out of the tourney the first day of play, Monday, July 15.

The Muleshoe All-Stars lost a heart-breaker, a 2-0 tilt with the Plainview Nationals. Olton's Freddie Longoria provided the pitching which also took the Littlefield All-Stars out of commission during the opening day of the three-day tournament.

Longoria held Littlefield to six hits and gave Olton a 3-2 decision in the opening round, played here at Roger Miller Park.

All area citizens are urged to attend this district play-off.

Entomologists Advise Farmers On Control

Wheat aphids, better known as "greenbugs" are infesting the grain sorghum crops, especially the smaller "catch" crops planted on wheat land after harvest.

Two experts in insect control have given their opinion on spray control of the aphid in the present state of condition in Bailey County.

Norris E. Daniels, entomologist for the experiment station at Bushland and Lyndon Almand, area entomologist for the extension service, Lubbock, advises against spraying at this time.

Almand examined on the more severely infested crops here, Wednesday and found the insect mostly confined to the lower plant section.

"Should the aphid continue to multiply in number until it covers the plant completely, the spraying could be beneficial."

The crop experts found lady bugs and other beneficial insects along with the destructive type of bugs.

The advise against applying control chemicals is based on tests conducted on the Bushland Research farm and considering the location of the insect on the lower section of the plant.

Farmers in the area are alert to the aphid infestation are watching for the stage of infestation which could be advisable to apply chemical control.

Battle Indicates Tightwire Walk

From every indication, the battle for first place in the Journal "Good-Will" circulation campaign is going to run right down to the wire, with the separation between candidates in several positions too close for comfort.

There have been several changes in positions during the past week. The final prize winners very much in doubt at this time.

The changes that have taken place since last week are proof that the first prize can go to any of the enrolled workers.

Yes, anyone can win, but only the candidate with consistent drive and determination will come out on top and become the proud winner of the first prize of $700.00. The four other prizes or even the 20% commission which will be paid to the non-prize winners are well worth working for.

Friday, July 19th, was the close of the first period. Votes will drop each week until the end of the campaign. All subscribers have been urged to get their subscription in as soon as possible to give their candidate the most possible number of votes. Fascinating, Primitive America

ODD HOBBY-- To most people, the hobby of collecting reptiles is odd. To Hal Newsom it is a matter of people not understanding the habits of the reptile that makes it seem strange to them. He is pictured holding a five foot Boa which he caught on a reptile hunt in Central America. He returned home from the trip Monday. The youth makes a thorough study of animals, plants and reptiles, so much so, that he spent several weeks in the steaming jungles of Central America and plans a return trip.

White waiting, they purchased for clearance of the guns. Finally the youths discovered the officer had never left Bluff for Bluefield with the clearance of the guns.

two canoes, as they quickly learned that walking through the jungles was impossible. The excursions had to be made by canoe or barge as the jungles were too dense and dangerous for travel. You either quickly became lost or ran into swamps.

As the days passed, the men who went on gave up on Newsom and Cline appearing on the scene and went back to Bluff. By this time, these two were searching the river for Smith and Bolin. They were finally reunited in Bluff.

Off together, the set up camp three miles out of Bluefield.

Newsom said "It rained from sunup to sundown and most of the time at night. Our camping equipment stayed wet to damp all the time."

"The mud was always ankle deep and the rare times the sun shone, it was so hot that the surface of the ground dried tone-hard within 10 minutes."

"In describing the natives of the Central American country of Nicaragua, there are three types: those who are very friendly; those who are forever trying to get anything they can from you, then the segment who are dangerous. But the majority are good, friendly people, but very superstitious."

They speak Indian, Spanish and English. About one-fourth of the population speak English, however, their dialect makes it hard to understand them.

The country and towns are primitive. Should there have been a Dodge City (show type) 300 years ago, I imagine that is what Bluefield and Bluefield would be compared with. There is no such thing as bathrooms and their beds are hammocks between trees or impoverished in the climate did not heal as ots and makeshift places to sleep. The houses are mostly bamboo with the thatched roofs made of banana leaves. The pigs, chickens and other animals run through the homes the same as the children do.

Although there is an abundance of fruit all around, the main dish for the natives is a mixture of beans and rice. "I liked rice before I left the states, but none of that for me now," Newsom quipped.

We found our own food. We prepared it, once we set up camp. We ate gator tails, Coucans, fruit and seafood, mostly fish. Coconuts, bananas and all types of fruit was plentiful.

Few cars are in the area. Speed boats, canoes and barges are the major mode of travel. There are a few trails to the banana plantations which could be traveled by car and on foot, but is not a frequent thing.

What electricity being used there is from generators imported from the United States.

The insects are something else, Newsom said. There are mosquitoes which are unbelievable, they literally eat you up. In addition, ants are another problem. They are black and measure one and one-half to two inches or more in length. The yellow fly presents its own problem and there are numerous poison spiders and poison caterpillars.

Smith experienced about with the caterpillar by rolling over on one while asleep. His leg swelled as if he had been bitten by something very poisonous. Another of the men was hospitalized in Bluefield after hitting his foot with an axe while chopping wood. It is what Bluefield and Bluefield would be compared with. There is no such thing as bathrooms and their beds are hammocks between trees or impoverished in the climate did not heal as they do in the climate they are accustomed to.

The youths were hampered in catching reptiles and native Central America by rain. However, they returned with several. One of the prime "catches" was a nine-foot boa.

In relating the capture of the reptile, Newsom said: "We had four native guides in the canoes and went after the Boa which was hanging in a tree near the riverbank. Smith skinned up the tree and grabbed the 40 pounder by the head. We all had hold of it when it slipped from our grip and into the water. We went into the water after him and came out with him. He attempted to coil around Smith when he was first captured, however, with the four of us holding him, gave him no chance to collaround of us as is their nature of self preservation.

"We caught other smaller Boas, Slouths, and an assortment of animals and reptiles. The most poisonous one was the Fer-A-Lance and the largest one we captured was 6 feet long."

The natives superstition about the snakes is almost wierd, Newsom said. While on the canoe trips, the guide would tell the most fantastic tales.

We were told of a dragon-type creature in the river which they said had been shot by a military man and the bullets just glanced off. They told that one person had touched the grey-lairy water creature, they believe impossible to kill.

Many of the stories they tell are of this nature.

Newsom was bitten twice while in Central America. He has the scars to prove it. One, the most serious one was from the beak of a parrot and the other scare he is bearing is where he was bitten by a crab. Being reared in Texas, Newsom has heard and is familiar with the song "Boll Weevil".

While there, he learned that the Central Americans call it an American roach; the English call it an African roach and the Africans call it an English roach...so the little creepy fellow is denied by most countries...in fact all of them mentioned. The natives could not tell Newsom which country the United States assigned the roach to, but knew they did not claim it as one of their products.

Newsom and Smith returned to the states, bringing the reptiles while the other two went to an experiment station to study plants until August.

Newsom brought a Boa, a tropical Indigo and an Anaconda home from Central America and an Arizona Sidewinder which he obtained in Florida.

He said "I am glad to be at home and the things I appreciate most is a mattress with a pillow and American food."

Although it is unusual to find an American named town in Central America, the name of Bluefield, Newsom found out that a pirate by the name of Bluefield established the city with a current population of about 1,000, therefore it was named for him.

Aside from the excitement of the games being played during the tournament, many commitments were paid by out-of-town guests concerning the Roger Miller Park. A Plainview coach pulled no punches as he said this field was the best he had seen and it was a pleasure to play a tournament in a town where citizens were interested in the summer recreation program for young boys to provide this type of playing field.

This fact has been well-found in-as-much as the play-off game will be played in Roger Miller Park.

Vietnam News

The blistering Vietnam heat is evident in the sales of sodas and refrigerators in the post exchange.

In May alone, the Task Force X-Ray, 1st Marine Division PX has sold more than one million cans of various soda pops.

The exchange received a shipment of 36 refrigerators and the entire supply was sold in less than 45 minutes. The increased sales were expected, however, with the mercury climbing over the 100 degree mark.

"Actually, with the weather being so hot, we could have sold much more," explained Gunner Sgt. Charles M. Stain, 34, Albany, Ga., exchange manager. "We have a limited stock, however, and are forced to ration the items out, especially the sodas. That way, everyone gets his fair share."

"Other items that sell fast are fans and ice chests," added Sgt. David P. McNulty, 24, Maywood, Ill., exchange operations chief.

"All of the 40 fans we put on the shelf one day last week, were sold within 25 minutes," he continued.

The first round exploded harmlessly in the command post's landing zone but it was the Leathernecks' signal to run for their bunkers. The second came through the tin roof of the Logistics hut, landing directly on the refrigerator. The two remaining rounds caused only minor damage.

hoist the flag with stripes unfurled to decorate 881

She'll wave in gentle majesty, and let escape a sigh, for those whose blood has stained this hill, and those who've yet to die.

Personified, she walks with God, and longs for peace when all is done, but 'till then, lives will be lost, like those on Hill 881.

As nightfall comes her vigil ends, she's folded with a loving hand, and sent with care across the sea, to the family of fighting men.

Tomorrow brings another flag, to stand, like she, against the sun, the queen of those who fought for us, and died on Hill 881.

A young Marine on his way to Vietnam recently received a lesson in geography.

A group of Marines boarded a jet aircraft at Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif., for their flight to Hawaii, with scheduled stop at Hawaii.

Before leaving, the plane's route was changed and the aircraft headed for Vietnam via the Polar route.

When the plane landed in Anchorage, Alaska for refueling one Marine was heard to complain, "Damn, but this here Hawaii is cold."

Other fast selling items, though not the result of the heat, include canned foods and snacks, from potato chips to sardines.

Camera equipment, stereo components and electrical supplies are also fast selling commodities.

Cigarette sales are as high as 12,000 cartons a week. The sales of books and magazines average more than 1,000 each daily.

The PX at the Phu Bai combat base closes only on Christmas and two days every four months for inventory. Stein also arranges mobile exchanges that truck requested supplies out to the infantry units in the field. Stein is also in charge of numerous Vietnamese concession stands, made up of camera, tailor and jewelry shops.

He has more than 36 people under his control, including 22 Vietnamese employees who work as sales clerks and laborers.

Plans of expansion are completed and shortly the exchange will double its size and its available stock.

Logistics personnel stationed on Hill 37, southwest of Da Nang, are angry. They're hot. They're thirsty.

Enemy mortar rounds exploded on their small refrigerator, sending ice water and sodas in all directions.

The 3rd Bn., Seventh Marines underwent a daylight mortar attack. Only four 82mm mortar rounds reached the battalion area before counter-mortar fire was called in, silencing enemy positions.

WILLIAM SHATNER, Captain Kirk of "Star Trek" celebrates his thirty-seven years by his youthful appearance. He started his dramatic career in Canada and appeared in Broadway in several successful productions. His first big part in "Henry V" during the Stratford Shakespearean festival was at the age of 22.

Ben Cockrell

Russell Bryant

The Bailey County Farm Bureau congratulates Ben Cockrell on qualifying as an All-Star for his outstanding record in the sale of life insurance the first three months of 1968. He and his family will leave next week for the Southern Farm Bureau Insurance Company All Star Celebration in Biloxi, Mississippi.

We also welcome the return of Russell Bryant to our agency staff. Russell did a very good job servicing our members insurance needs before joining the New Mexico Farm Bureau sales force, and we are happy to have him back in Bailey County.

On August 6, Bailey County is sponsoring the regular Farm Bureau Queen's contest. The county winner will be eligible to compete at District, State and National levels. A committee consisting of Lou Ann Black, chairman, Ann Little, Velda Hunt, Janell Turner and Jaquita White are now coordinating plans for the contest and are accepting entries. Anyone interested in entering the contest may contact any member of the committee or call the Farm Office.

Again this year Bailey County is sending three students to High School Student Citizenship Seminar. Those attending will be: Tommy Little, Glenda Calhoun and Bobbie Ethridge.

Barbara Williams Married to James Couder

Mrs. James Couder

Miss Barbara Williams became the bride of James Spencer Couder in an impressive double ring ceremony Friday, July 19, in Abilene Baptist Church Chapel, 3:30 in the afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Williams of Sudan. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Louis Couder and the late Louis Couder of El Paso.

Rev. Jack Riddlehoover, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress, fashioned by her sister, of white bonded crepe sleeveless sheath with a chauntilly lace overdress, featuring wrist length sleeves. The dress featured a rounded neckline, accented with nineteen tiny covered buttons, representing the age of the bride. Her shoulder length veil of tulle, fell from a rose headpiece of Delustered satin and velvet. She carried a cascade of white feathered carnations, centered with pink roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Janette Cooper of Morton. She wore a street-length dress of deep pink linen with wrist-length sleeves, matching shoes and pillbox headpiece. She carried a nosegay of pink feathered carnations.

Serving the bridegroom was Steve Jakerst of Florida. Seating guests were Richard Wright of Bula and Howard Wright also of Bula.

The couple stood in front of an altar decorated with a candelabra of three white tapers flanked with greenery.

Miss Elaine Tiller of Bula provided traditional wedding selections.

After a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple will be at home at 1602 Sanderfer, Abilene after July 22.

For her traveling, the bride wore her bridal attire with rose corsage, lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Littlefield High School and is a sophomore at Hardin-Simmons. The bridegroom is a 1962 graduate of Burgess High School in El Paso three years and presently serving in the Air Force, stationed at Dyess.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Miss Williams

Miss Barbara Williams, bride-elect of airman first class, James Spencer Couder, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower, Friday afternoon July 12, in the Fellowship hall of the Bula Baptist Church.

The bride's chosen colors of pink and white were carried out in the decor of the room. Serving table was laid in white net over pink, centered with an arrangement of pink flowers entwined with white candles.

Pink fruit punch and white cake squares were served by Elaine Tiller and Donna Crume to the 34 guests that registered in the bride's book.

Entertainment for the evening included a humorous reading "The Romance of Barbara and James", by Mrs. O. L. Walker, Song, "My Love" by Margaret Richardson and poem "Home", read by Donna Crume.

Mrs. Larry McCain presented the honoree with her gifts, with the hostess gift including a set of stainless steel cooking ware and set of stainless steel flat table ware.

MEN AND MONEY:

Both must be employed if our community is to prosper. If you plan to buy any thing, purchase it from a local merchant.

If you want your job to be secure and your investment protected, then trade at home.

If you want a good thriving community, with good churches and good schools, one that you would be proud to be a part of, then support your local business men who are largely responsible for making all this possible.
