The Faught family now resides in the Beal house in southwest Plains. We hated to leave a good neighborhood, but felt it necessary to have more room. Many people would be surprised to know of the large number of football fans the Cowboys have who don't even live in Plains. Foremost of these, of course, is Frank Whitlock of Plainview, father of Mrs. Jack Pierce. He missed the Jal game this year and also the Jal contest two years ago, but those are the only games he has missed in three years. We know of other people in Morton, Muleshoe and Brownfield who see most of the Cowboy games although they never have lived

The Booster Club is planning another car caravan Friday night, this time to Seagraves. There is reason to believe it may be quite popular with some of those who didn't join the caravan to Frenship two weeks ago. All offenders probably haven't spoken up, but indications are that a number of Plains fans got intercepted by radar on their way to Frenship.

Several readers have requested that we publish menus of the school cafeteria. Mrs. Cross, supervisor, said she would like to have this done, but foods do not always arrive as scheduled and menus often have to be changed as many as three times a week. We feel such an unreliable menu would only cause confusion and dissatisfaction.

The Association of American Railroads had a message it wanted to get over to as many people as possible. It had its advertising agency prepare an advertisement which it then placed in every daily and weekly newsaper in the United States last week. Nearly 10,000 newspapers, including the Review, carried this message last week. In a letter this week from the vice president of the association, it was pointed out that this never had been done before. "In lineage," the letter read, "this was a relatively modest ad, but it had a king-size job to do. It carried a message of vital importance to all America. That's the down-to-earth reason it was scheduled to run in all American newspapers." Thus, the Association of American Railroads has joined numerous other big organizations in calling on newspaper advertising to to get its message to the greatest number of people.

Seagraves provides the op- area's finest football players in their third straight district 5-A victory and their ninth consecutive win of the season. The game field and will be homecoming equally good on defense. for the Eagles.

And Cowboy coaches are worried about this week's game. Their greatest chore has been to get the Cowboys up for this contest instead of allowing them to think ahead to the Sundown game two weeks hence.

"This is just the kind of situation when you are likely to get knocked off," Coach Jack Pierce told Booster Club members Monday evening. The fact that it is Seagraves' homecoming adds other fears. Seagraves always has an elaborate homecoming elebration and the Eagle gridders put forth a super effort for the old grads.

Coach Sam Mosley scouted the Eagles last week when they played at Sundown. Although mighty Sundown won, 48-12, Mosley said the game could have been much closer and the score was certainly no picture of the comparable strength of the two teams. "Sundown ran a punt back for a touchdown, blocked a punt for a touchdown, intercepted two passes for touchdowns and recovered two fumbles which led to scores," Mosley said. "It would have certainly been a different story without these things," the coach

All Plains coaches have a lot of respect for Eagle coach, A. D. Shaver. Pierce said he always fielded a well-coached team and his club could be expected to come up with something new and different for the game Friday. "He's one of the best for getting his team ready for a big

School's annual carnival set for Saturday evening

Public is invited to attend event at county barns

One of the biggest school events of the year, the annual Hallowe'en carnival, will be staged at the county livestock barns beginning at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. All residents of the area are invited to attend. There will be no admission charge for admittance to the carnival area.

The carnival is being sponsored by the high school annual staff. Half of all proceeds go to the annual fund with the remainder being kept by the various classes which earn the money. The annual staff hopes to realize enough from the carnival that next year's annuals may be sold at lower prices than in the past.

All junior high and high school classes will operate booths at the carnival, as well as the FHA girls and the Science Club.

One of the highlights of the Saturday night activities will be the crowning of two queens, one for junior high and one for high school. Candidates are Jana Warren and Jackie Hawkins of the seventh grade; Tonya Randolph and Loretta Taylor of the eighth grade; Don-Borland, junior; Sandra Williams, sophomore; Shirley Ethridge, freshman, and Sharon Stewart, senior.

Various activities for the past several days have been conducted by class members in behalf of their queen candidates. Identity of the queens will not be known until the crowning cere-

Mr. Payne spent his early childhood near Colorado City. He and Mrs. Payne, the former Rowena Arnett, were married in 1902 and ranched in Garza County (near Justiceburg and Post) from the turn of the century to the "early thirties". They lived in Lubbock County and near Portales, New Mexico, for a period before moving to Yoakum County.

Ill health forced him to retire and they moved into their home in Plains in 1949. He had been confined to his home much of the time since suffering a broken leg several years ago and became bedfast following a stroke about 15 months ago.

ning meeting which is scheduled for Monday afternoon.

Official messengers to the convention, representing more than 11/2 million Texas Baptists, will take action on what some Coffmans to attend Baptist convention Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Coffman Baptist leaders term "the most significant proposals in the history of Baptist work in Texas."

Top item on the agenda will be the consideration of recommendations by the 191-member BGCT executive board. Meeting in Dallas Oct. 2, the board voted to recommend that the convention completely revamp the state administrative organization, establishing two new commissions, the State Mission Commission and Human Welfare Commission, and reorganizing an existing commission, the Christian Education Commission.

The messengers will vote on the board's recommendation to lease Wadley Hospital in Texarkana, rather than accept the hospital as a gift from the institution's board of trustees. The hospital built with the aid of $11/2 million federal Hil-Burton funds, was offered with no strings attached to the denomination, but some critics argued that accepting the gift might violate the Baptist stand on separation of church and state. Other Baptist leaders say that since the government money was accepted by the hospital's board long before the gift was offered to the denomination, there would be no violation of the principle involved in the transaction.

In other action, the denomination will vote on a record $12,880,000 Cooperative Program budget for world missions and will elect more than 230 pastors and laymen as trustees or members of boards of directors to Texas Baptist institutions and organization. Convention officers will also be elected. Principal speakers for the convention will be Howard E. Butt, Jr., vice-president of the HEB grocery chain; Dr. Robert G. Lee, pastor of Bellevue Baptist Church of Memphis, Tenn.; Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dallas; Dr. James B. Leavell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Angelo; Dr. Carl Bates, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Charlotte, N. C.; and Dr. Forrest C. Feezor, BGCT executive secretary.

The convention will conclude with a special Latin American session Thursday, Nov. 5.

Plains, Texas, Thursday, October 29, 1959

- It is more than a year until the day when the next President of the United States will be elected, but in Texas, the race is on.

From now until Nov. 8, 1960, may well be a year of the most feverish political activity the state ever has known.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn fired the starting gun by calling for an all-out campaign to win the Democratic presidential nomination for U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson. Rayburn called for Johnson-for-President organizations in every county in Texas. A campaign kick-off by the man who has often been called 'Mr. Democrat" gave enormous impetus to the activities of Johnson supporters. Pro-Johnson clubs, rallies and editorials blossomed over the state. Gov. Price Daniel and the state executive committee had previously pledged support.

Speaker Rayburn's sponsorship also makes exceedingly difficult the position of Texas' liberal wing Democrats who have been cool toward the senator since the convention has-

In 1952, Rayburn championed the liberals in their battle against a conservative party leadership working for Eisenhower. But the same group, now the Democrats of Texas Club

Some DOTers have pledged Johnson support. But Mrs. R. D. Randolph, leader, refused to commit herself on grounds the senator has not declared himself a candidate.

Candidate or not, Senator Johnson is whizzing around Texas for personal appearances, scheduled at the rate of more than one a day in the months

FAREWELL TO BENCH -Judge John E. Hickman has announced he will retire in 1960 from his post as chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

Judge Hickman, who became a commissioner on the high court in 1935, has served there longer than any other man in Texas history.

Noting that he is 76, the judge said he felt the time had come "to surrender the duties and responsibilities of my office to someone younger.

Two other Supreme Court justices, Joe Greenhill and Clyde Smith, will be up for reelection next year.

COMMITTEES FORMING -In a surge of appointive activity, Speaker Waggoner Carr named House members to serve on three of the study groups authorized for between-sessions activity.

Named to the Legislative Council, a permanent organization usually assigned a lengthy list of studies, are Reps. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches, Eligio de la Garza of Mission, H. L. Strickland of San Antonio, R. H. Cory of Victoria, R. A. Bartram of New Braunfels, Tony Korioth of Sherman, Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, Will Ehrle of Childress, W. W. Glass of Jacksonville and Richard C. Slack of Pecos.

members, will have to fly in the Commission on State and Local Tax Policy will be Reps. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio, V. L. Ramsey of Beckville and J. Gordon Bristow of Big Spring.

This group will further the study of the state's fiscal structure begun in 1957-58 by the State Tax Study Commission. Specifically, the new group will consider such problems as whether the property tax should be abandoned or overhauled.

To the Texas Coordinated Commission for State Health and Welfare Services, Carr named Reps. W. N. Woolsey of Corpus Christi, W. E. Shaw of Forney and Max C. Smith of San Marcos.

Three senators, three private citizens and seven agency heads also are to serve on this panel to study and recommend improvements in health and welfare programs.

ADOPTION STYMIED Texas Supreme Court ruled in favor of a woman who signed papers to allow her child to be adopted, then changed her mind and sought to re-claim the baby.

Though the court specified it was ruling only on the case at hand, some felt the decision might set precedent for future this emotion-packed area of the law.

In the case at hand, the mother, unwed at the time of the child's birth, wanted to keep the baby. After a doctor and welfare officials talked to her, she changed her mind and signed a waiver.

A juvenile judge declared the child "dependent and neglected" and sent him to another county for adoption. Within a few weeks, however, the the mother married the child's father and filed suit for the child.

High court opinion was that the lower court erred in declaring the child "dependent and neglected."

BUS KEEP PERMIT - In House members on the Texas another case the Supreme Court ruled the Railroad Commission could grant a bus line a permit to use a certain route even though the road was not finish-

Southwestern Greyhound Lines received a permit to use Highway 73 between Port Arthur and Houston before that road was complete. Sabine-Neches Trailways sued to have the certificate canceled.

Court held the Railroad Commission was required only to know in a general way" about the traffic potentials of a route. GAS TAX CHALLENGED -First of what will probably be many suits attacking the constitutionality of the new severance beneficiary tax on natural gas has been filed in an Austin district court.

Pipeline companies promised to fight the tax in court when it was passed by the Legislature this year.

A tax of 1.5 per cent of the value of the gas is levied on the purchaser, such as a pipeline that contracts to buy it from the producer

A similar sort of law, the gas gathering tax passed in 1951, was knocked down by the courts. Governor Daniel worked persistently for the new gas tax, an issue that helped keep lawmakers at loggerheads for months. He promised to help fight the suits. "Long line gas companies fought hard against accepting any of the tax load," said the governor. Now, he added, some want to escape "scot

Cowboys run over O'Donnell Eagles, 61-0 12 attend meet of fire department by punt returns and even by kicking a conversion.

Old hands Joe Don Marrow and Ray Faught had to share offensive glory with Joe Bob Oats, Mike Culwell, James Alberding and Ronny Hendricks Friday as the super-charged Plains Cowboys routed the visiting O'Donnell Eagles, 61-0.

In turning back the Eagles, the Cowboys added these laurels to their brilliant record:

1. Won their eighth consecutive game of the season.

2. Won their second district 3. Held their opponent scoreless for the sixth time this year. 4. Maintained their record of never having surrendered a point on the new Cowboy Field

5. Added to their record of not yielding a point to a district team here since 1957.

6. Ran up their greatest point

Friday's game was no contest after the Cowboys scored midway through the first quarter. They added another touchdown in the same period, picked up a pair in the second period and broke the game wide open with a four-touchdown barrage in the third quarter. The final score came in the fourth period.

Coaches Jack Pierce and Rip Sewell substituted liberally after the Cowboys took a commanding lead early in the second half, but the eager reserves only added to the score.

The Cowboys' first touchdown came with 6:35 remaining in the first period when Marrow went over from the 3 on the second play following his fumble recovery at the 18. Faught had picked up the first 15 yards in the drive.

Faught scored three minutes later from the 4, shortly after his run of 33 yards with an intercepted pass had set up the scoring chance.

With 2.29 left before the end of the first half, Marrow scored from 22 yards out to cap a 70-yard drive which took only four plays. Faught's 37-yard scamper had been the big play. Marrow swept end for the extra points and the Cowboys led,

It was Faught's turn next and the junior halfback scored from the 8 with only 25 seconds remaining before the half. The drive began at the Eagle 40 following a short kick by O'Donnell. Marrow slashed over for the bonus points to make it 28-0 at intermission.

Oats set up the next touchdown when he took an Eagle punt at the 46 and returned it 24 vards to the O'Donnell 22. Faught, Marrow and Mike Sink took it to the 5 and Marrow scored the touchdown with Faught getting the extra points to make it 36-0 with 9:48 left in the period.

Oats did better next time The Cowboy safety hauled in an Eagle punt on his own 32 and ran 68 yards for a touchdown to make it 42-0 with 4:35 left. Plains' second unit came on the field at this point and the starters never did return on offense.

But the reserves were ambitious. They took over for the first time on their own 24 and two penalties set them back to the 15 where they had a second and 19 situation. Oats ran 10 yards to the 25 and then with third and 9 Oats hit Jerry Warren with a long pass which carried to the O'Donnell 40. Oats then ran 14 yards to the 26 with the help of a block by Don Williams. Oats and Williams then carried to the 12, from where Quarterback Culwell hit Alberding with a pass in the end zone to make it 48-0.

O'Donnell ran the kickoff back to the 38 and failed to gain so Larry James punted. Marrow gathered the ball in at his own 31 and returned it 69 yards for another touchdown. Williams ran over for the extra points, but a penalty nullified the play Plains Volunteer Fire Department had 12 members at its regular weekly meeting Monday evening, reports Fire Chief Duane McDonnell. The department voted to fine any member 50 cents if he is absent three times in succession without a good excuse; and if he doesn't pay the fine and doesn't attend regularly he will be dropped from the membership roll.

There were three runs made by the department within a week and Chief McDonnell commended the boys on their cooperation and ability to operate the fine new equipment. Every man in Plains between the ages of 18 and "desirable" should learn and be willing to operate the equipment in case of an emergency, he pointed out.

A well-organized fire department and cooperation of the citizens in preventing fire-hazards will place our insurance rates at a minimum, he added, as he urged every ablebodied man to attend the meetings each Monday at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall.

The Yoakum County Review

ACROSS THE Cattle Guard

by LEO W. WHITE County Agent

If a farmer had 100 acres of tton that was irrigated and rtilized then he should be able produce 120 bales of cotton each year from that acreage. Now, if he had an open boll variety that was suitable for picking he might wonder if a machine picker would pay off for him. Here is how the problem was worked out by Fred C. Elliott, Extension Cotton Work Specialist, Texas A and M. College. Hand picking 120 bales a year at $37.50 a bale is $4,500.00 a year. For a five year period the total bill for hand picking would be $22,500.00. A one row machine picker would cost $10,-000.00. To operate this machine on the 100 acres there would be an annual cost of $732.00. This $732.00 would build up to $3,-660.00 over the five year period. When the five year operating cost is added to the cost of the machine there is a total expense of $13,660.00 for the five year period. The five year net saving by machine picking over hand picking is $8,840.00. When that is divided by five to get the saving per year it comes out as $1,768.00 per year. The $10,-000.00 machine has been depreciated down to nothing the end of five years but it still has a value. The farmer would have to pay more income tax because the expense of the picker even with the depreciation would not amount to as much as the hand

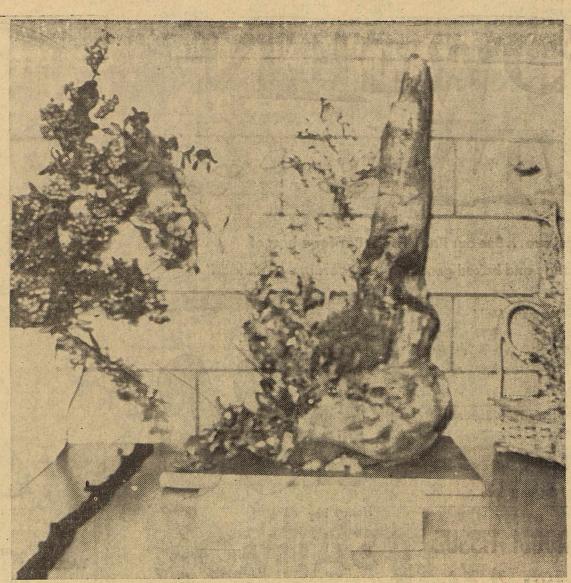

Several farmers have indicated that they plan to own a picker before the cotton harvest begins next year. Some of them do not have as much as 100 acres of cotton but they are going to get a machine anyway. The number of acres necessary to justify owning a one row picker will depend on the yield per acre. In the example of the farmer fith 100 acres, his yield was one and one fifth bales to the acre. A 60 acre plot making two bales to the acre would be the same thing. Some farmers who have pickers this year are of the opinion they are getting better grades with the picker than they were able to get in prior years with hand harvesting. Certainly this would be true of hand pulling if the machine was doing a good job but a picking machine is not supposed to improve the grade of the cotton over hand

Mother of Mrs. Bandy celebrates 91st birthday in Anton Sunday, October 18

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bandy enjoyed visiting with all of her spent Sunday October 18 in Anton with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Congers, who was celebrating her 91st birthday.

Mrs. Congers, though blind and bedfast for several years, machine picked cotton will have a lot of leaf stain in it during the early part of the season. The machine cannot help but get a few of the green leaves and the juice will stain the lint. This green stain becomes worse according to the length of time the seed cotton stays on the trailer. If the cotton can be ginned within six hours after it is harvested then the leaf stain will not be sufficient to damage the grade. This situation is hard to handle when the gins are 48 hours behind. Next year we may pick over the first time the leaves on the cotton and try to get it in the bale ready to harvest and the gins become crowded. After the first or second going over with the machine the leaves can be knocked off with a defoilant and the leaf stain problem will

If Yoakum County has 33,000 acres of cotton next year with 20,000 acres, irrigated and 13,-000 dry land, and we have one machine picker for each 200 acres, we will have 100 cotton picking mahines in 1960. This does not sound logical but it is entirely possible. Everybody knows by now not to under estimate what a cotton farmer will
