Plains Talk

By Wendell Faught

The Sundown game is still a week away and we just hope nobody dies of nervous indigestion or anything before the game is played. Coaches say they expect no trouble in getting the Cowboys up for the game. The same might be said of the fans, many of whom are already so nervous they can no longer live a normal day.

With the open date this weekend, Plains fans will scatter in all probability. Many here have wanted to see Denver City's fine football team all year and will take advantage of the open date to see the Denver City-Alpine game although it appears the contest will be very one-sided. Others, itching for a look at Sundown, will see the Roughneck-Frenship game at Sundown, but this contest too is expected to be a rout.

By the way, there is no foundation to the rumor that next week's game would be moved up to Saturday. Several fans had hoped something could be worked out whereby all interested parties in Yoakum County would be able to see the Plains-Sundown and the Denver City-Seminole contests which are both scheduled for the same night. Both will decide district titles.

The Dallas News doesn't have much circulation in West Texas, but Sundown subscribers may not want to renew their subscriptions after the cold-shoulder treatment given their football team by the Dallas newspaper. A tie for 10th is as good as the Roughnecks have done in the weekly polls by the News.

We're probably the only people who ever got lost between here and Seagraves. Someone told us to go all the way to Denver City and then turn east. We followed these instructions to the letter. Guess it was taken for granted that we had more sense than to turn east on an oilfield road.

Like so many small town press boxes the one at Seagraves was used for everything except the press. Population of the booth at one point reached 22 and it was somewhat revolting to see the seats occupied by children while some of those who actually had business in the press box were forced to stand up — or we should say "humped over" since the ceiling was not high enough to stand up under.

Since arriving here last summer we have been startled a number of times to see the manner in which people support local events. Another perfect example was last Saturday night when just about everybody turned out for the school's Halloween carnival, despite the terrible weather.

Looking at a Virginia news paper this week we saw a headline which revealed that bank deposits in the town where the newspaper was published amounted to $310 for every man, woman and child. We grabbed our pencil and did some quick figuring. Our finding — Plains has deposits of more than $1466 for every man, woman and child. Denver City has $580 per person.

These millions who enjoy watching television are the ones who will suffer from the fixes which have been brought to light. Big advertisers who pay the bills are going to be rather hard to convince all messes have been cleaned up when it comes time for them to let new contracts. As a result, many are expected to drop out, reducing TV revenue and consequently the calibre of programs. We'll all pay for it.

Actually, no legal laws have been violated — only the moral ones. Congress will surely come up with something to make it illegal for television programs to deceive the public. It will be interesting to see if it will include political programs.

Baptist revival is now underway

The layman revival which began Wednesday evening at the First Baptist Church in Plains will continue through Sunday, according to Rev. C. J. Coffman, pastor.

H. L. Wren of Snyder is the visiting speaker. Wren, a well-known speaker and Baptist leader, is conducting services each evening at 7:30 p.m.

JACKIE HAWKINS, left and Shirley Ethridge were crowned queens during the school's Halloween carnival Saturday night. Jackie, a seventh grade student, won out over three other contestants for junior high honors, while Shirley, a freshman, was the high school winner. City secretary search on after Duff's resignation Buford Duff resigned last Thursday evening as city secretary of Plains after serving nearly two years in that capacity. Duff requested that his resignation be effective November 20.

Secretary since February 6, 1958, Duff explained he was resigning to become associated with his brother, Rod Duff, in the operation of Cotton Growers Delinting Company. Rod Duff is a former city secretary.

Search for a successor to Duff is under way by members of the city council. Several applications for the $400 a month position have already been received.

Duties of the city secretary in Plains differ a great deal with positions of the same title in most neighboring cities. His duties here are very similar to those of a city manager in places which have that type of government.

Since the city of Plains owns its own power plant and gas franchise, as well as the water and sewer system, the city secretary is directly responsible for the operation of these departments. He is also the supervisor of city employees.

City council members are to meet tonight (Thursday). Just how far they will go in selecting a new secretary is not known. It appears doubtful, however, that an appointment will be made this early. Weighing in the other direction is the fact that Duff has requested to be relieved of his duties as of November 20.

Applications for the position which had been filed in City Hall by 4 p.m. Wednesday included the following:

Emery Longbrake, manager of the Plains Chamber of Commerce and insurance agent.
Bob Loe, Plains farmer and real estate agent.
G. Kenneth Davies, owner of Davies Funeral Home.
Duane Powell, student at Texas Tech.

Cotton crop estimates point toward new record

30,000-bale total now held likely by area officials

Barring severe weather conditions, Yoakum County farmers will probably harvest the biggest cotton crop in the county's history. This is the opinion of local area agricultural officials as the 1959 harvest nears the half-way mark.

Pre-season estimates placed the county's 1959 production at 25,000 bales. No official estimate has been given since that time, but Joe Spears of the Texas Employment Commission in Brownfield and Leo White, Yoakum County agent, have both expressed belief that production will surpass 30,000 bales. White said Tuesday he would not be surprised to see production of around 33,000 bales, which would be an average of a bale to the acre for the entire crop.

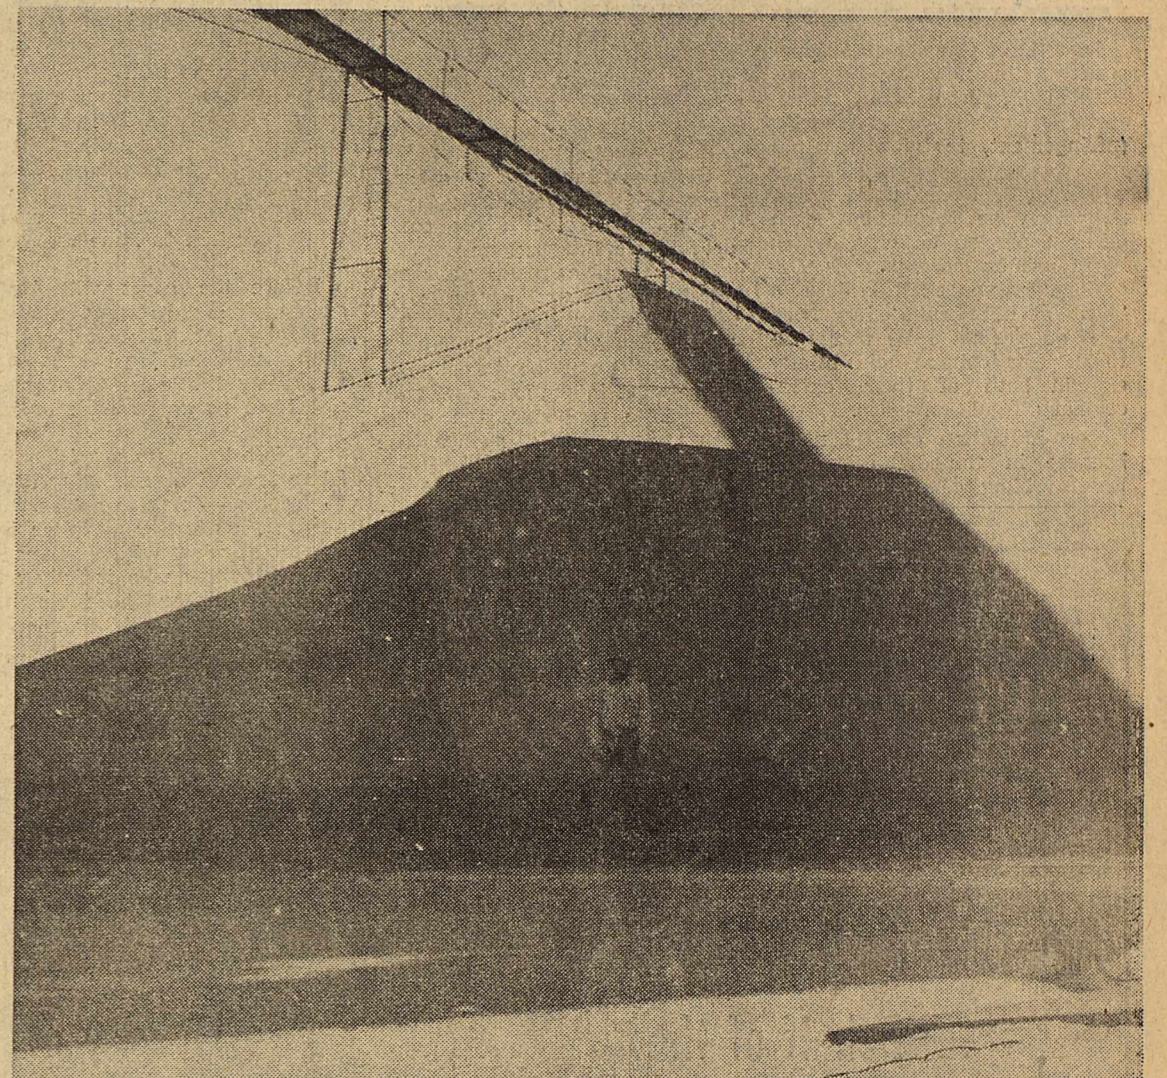

If the 30,000 bale crop is realized, it will easily be the largest harvest ever. Last year's record production was 26,500 bales. Acreage this year is about the same as last year. Actually, the allotment for 1959 was nine per cent under the 1958 allotment, but enough farmers chose the B plan to boost acreage to 33,000 acres.

White attributed the bright condition to several factors. Foremost of these is the extra nice weather this fall. Weather has been damp for the past week, but no great amount of moisture has fallen since harvest began. Frost has held off, giving late cotton time to mature.

As of Friday, Yoakum County gins had ginned nearly 18,000 bales of cotton, according to the Texas Employment Commission. White pointed out however, that some ginnings are of cotton produced in neighboring counties and the gin report does not offer a real accurate picture of production within the county.

The labor situation, although rather short in the early stages of harvest, now appears to be well in hand. The county agent said he felt there were enough crews operating to take care of the harvest without great difficulty. A number of mechanical pickers are also in use.

Goodpasture Grain and Milling Company's grain elevator in Plains had processed 50 million pounds of grain as of Wednesday as the record grain harvest moves into its final stages. Agriculture officials have estimated from 90 to 95 per cent of the county's grain crop has now been harvested.

14 MILLION POUNDS OF DRY MILO make up this tremendous pile of grain at the elevator of Goodpasture Grain and Milling Company in Plains. Tino Longoria, an employee of the company, is standing at the base of the pile. Altogether, Goodpasture has processed 50 million pounds of grain since harvest began. REVIEW Photo

Cowboys get extra week to prepare for Sundown

Football activity on the Plains front takes a holiday this Friday as the unbeaten Cowboys enjoy an open date just prior to the long-awaited Sundown clash on November 13. Sundown meets Frenship Friday and is expected to win with ease. In all probability, the Plains-Sundown contest here next week will settle the district championship.

Cowboy scout Sam Mosley who has seen Sundown several times told Booster Club members Monday that the Roughnecks had the best Class A backfield he has ever seen. Their record adds emphasis to his statement. In eight games, the Roughnecks have scored 335 points, an average of nearly 42 points per game. They have won seven, losing only to mighty Denver City of Class

AA. Plains has scored 303 points in nine games, an average of nearly 33 points per game. But on defense, the Cowboys have a better record, yielding just 27 points in the nine games while Sundown has given up 109 in eight contests.

The two teams have played three common opponents, Morton, O'Donnell and Seagraves, thus far. Plains beat Morton, 18-0, while Sundown tripped the Indians, 30-8. The Cowboys clouted O'Donnell, 61-0, while Sundown romped past the Eagles 54-20. Last Friday Plains defeated Seagraves, 30-6, while Sundown had beaten the same team a week earlier by a score of 48-12.

Sundown has depended this year on the long scoring play. Its backfield of Robert Foster, quarterback, halfbacks David McInturff and Haskell Davis and fullback Lewis Sessums, is noted for its ability to score from any spot on the field. The Roughnecks are not so famous for grinding out the short yardage on long touchdown drives.

Mosley said Monday that Davis, a 170-pound sophomore, is one of the best sophomores he ever saw. McInturff, a 138-pound speedster, is well known in these parts as a great runner and Sessums, a 205-pound bruiser, was an all-state selection last year as a tackle. Foster is a very good quarterback, Mosley said. He is a good passer, a good runner and operates the keeper on the belly series very well.

Opening is set for new Cowboy Grill

Formal opening of Cowboy Grill will be held Friday, November 13, it was announced Wednesday by J. C. Hill who will operate the city's newest business concern. The business was due to open for business today (Thursday).

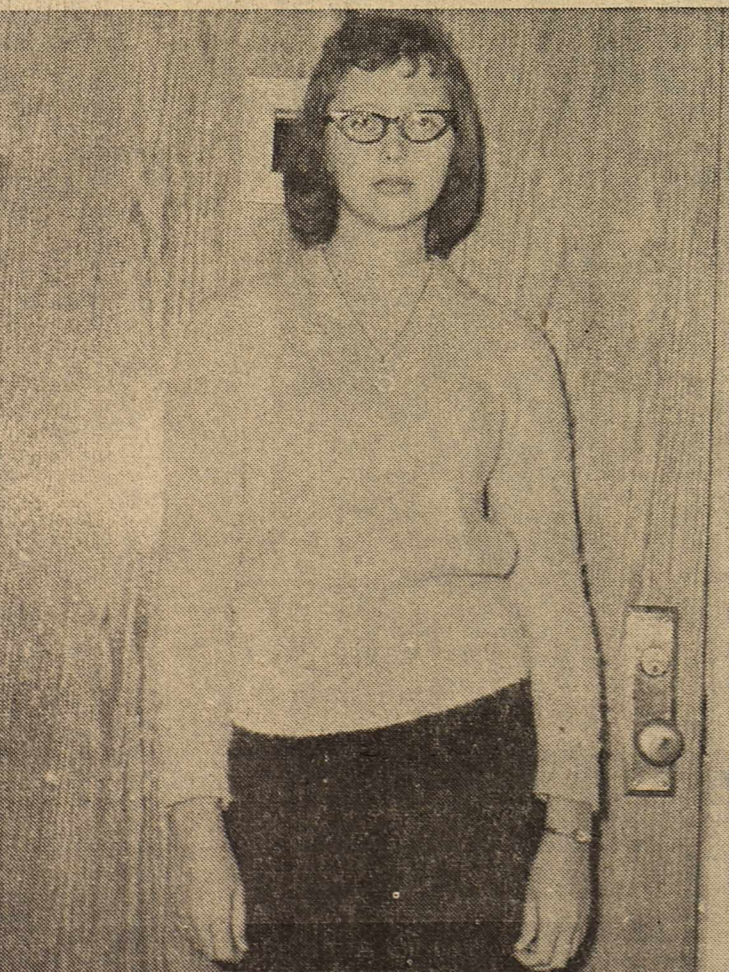

Everyone is invited to attend the formal opening next Friday. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served to all visitors. Guests will be able to inspect this modern cafe during the open house party.

The cafe is owned by Woody Wilmet, well-known Plains businessman and is leased to Hill and Mrs. Hill. The building is new and all fixtures are new. It seats 57 persons with its eight cushioned booths, four tables and nine stools.

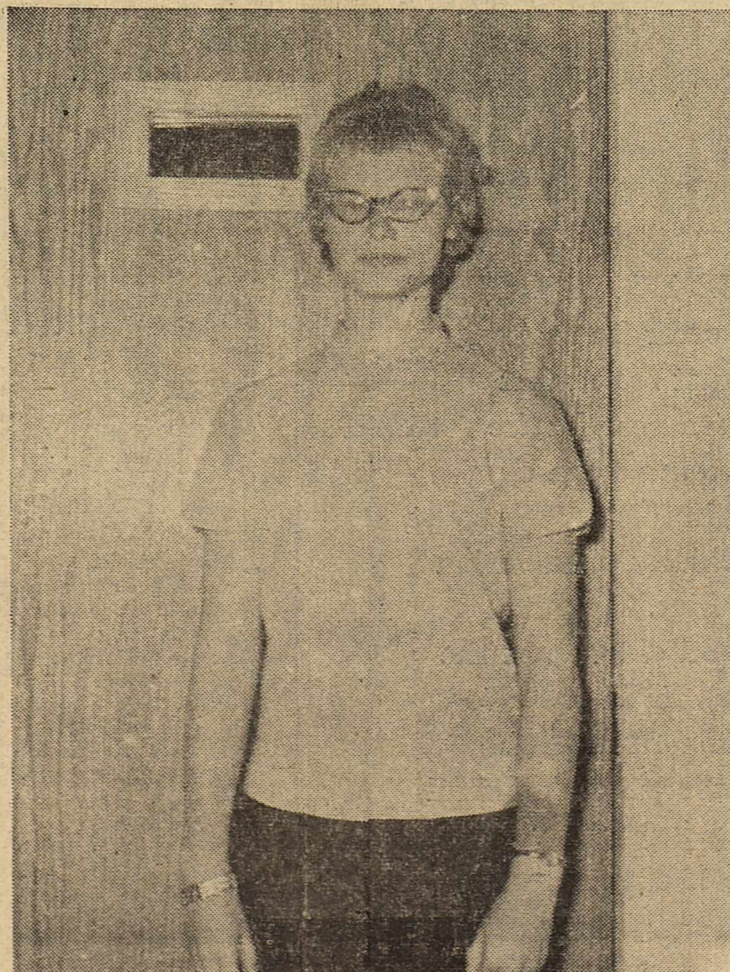

The new business will feature car hop service. The cafe will be open from 6 a.m. until 11 p.m. daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill moved to Plains in September from Littlefield. He is interested in cantaloupe production in this area as well as the production of other vegetable crops. He will work with area farmers in promoting crops in this area.

The Hills have a daughter, Linda, who is a sixth grade student in the Plains school.

ONE OF THESE THREE GIRLS will be crowned sweetheart of the Plains band during half-time ceremonies of the Plains-Sundown football game November 13th. They are, left to right, Shirley Gayle, Betty Bishop and Irene Koucaba. The sweetheart has already been elected by members of the band but her identity will not be revealed until the crowning ceremony. REVIEW Photos

SPECIAL LEGAL REMEDIES

Sometimes you see newspaper stories telling how various courts have issued "injunctions" to protect the owner of a patent from infringement, to stop someone from putting up a building which would be a hazard to the neighbors, or to prevent some other type of activity which harm one or more persons. Occasionally you read where a "writ of mandamus" has been directed against some public official. This column will briefly explain both of these extraordinary legal remedies.

The injunction got its name because in the old days the English King commanded ("enjoined") special action when an ordinary court action could not solve a problem at hand. Today it is an order requiring a person (or corporation) to refrain from doing a particular act.

As a rule, one would first get a "Temporary Restraining Order" which would stop someone from doing something harmful—like polluting a stream or annoying the peace of your home. By granting it the judge preserves the status quo until a hearing has been held to hear both sides of the controversy. Usually, if you want an injunction, your lawyer will take sworn statements into court to show that your grievance is one which could be taken care of only by an injunction.

Often you must put up a bond to make up for any damage you do the other side if the court doesn't see things your way.

After you've made your request, the court arranges to hear the other side. They must "show cause" why the injunction should not be issued. Because most injunctions deal with immediate problems, the court hears the merits of such a case in a very short time.

After the temporary injunction is issued, a "permanent" injunction may be obtained or either party may start a lawsuit to settle the problems which the temporary injunction has cleared up for the moment.

If the court grants an injunction, it must be served on the defendant to be effective. Then if he disobeys the order, he is disobeying the court and is subject to a fine or a jail term for "contempt of court."

"Mandamus" is a special remedy used to right wrongs or enforce proper action by a public officer.

When we elect public officers to work for us, we place a great deal of authority in their hands. Sometimes they fail to do their lawful duty. One way to make a government official do his job is to ask the court for a writ of mandamus.

Suppose you have applied for a permit to build a house under a city building code. You submit your plans which meet all the requirements of the code but the proper official won't give you the permit and you can't get one elsewhere. You can then ask the court for a writ of mandamus and if you were right and the building official had no grounds for refusal, the court will order him to issue the permit.

Before the court will issue such a strong command as this, the officer must have refused to do his clear cut legal duty—not something that he may or may not have to do as part of his job.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

"THIS IS"

...THE BAR OF JUSTICE IN MY COURT.
"Man must pay for the error he makes, the sin he commits... he must reap what he sows." Surely God tempers justice with mercy in His judgments upon us every day. It is that way too, in this judge's court, because he thinks principally of salvation for the man before him. Too often transgressors, both young and old, resent the kindly-intended judge. He sits in court to serve his country and the will of God. It would be well to remember that God shall bring every work into judgment. And that people who go to church more, go to court less.

Plains, Texas, Thursday, November 5, 1959 Page 3

Only two teams remain in race for district title

The district 5-A season is only three weeks old, but already the championship is assured of going to either Plains or Sundown. All other teams are already mathematically eliminated from title aspirations.

Both Plains and Sundown are unbeaten. The defending champion Cowboys have posted three straight wins while Sundown has earned two victories. O'Donnell, Seagraves and Frenship have all lost twice in conference play.

This week's schedule will find Sundown meeting Frenship and O'Donnell and Seagraves meeting each other in a game which will probably decide third place. Plains is idle.

Regardless of the outcome from now on, district teams will chalk up 1959 as a very successful season. None of the five teams is playing below .500.

Seagraves becomes ninth Cowboy victim, 30-6

Plains drove another spike in its football hope chest Friday as the unbeaten Cowboys romped past Seagraves, 30-6, for their ninth straight win of the season and their third consecutive district 5-A triumph. The game, played at Seagraves, highlighted homecoming activities for the Eagles and was witnessed by a large crowd of gritty fans who braved the damp 40-degree temperature and a terrific wind.

The Cowboys dominated the game all the way, constantly eating up yardage although being unable to deliver the back-breaking homerun punch which has been so evident during previous games. They scored twice in the second period and twice more in the third quarter. Seagraves' touchdown, only the fourth given up by the Cowboys this season, came with only one minute left in the game following a fumble recovery at the Cowboy 14.

Offensively, the Cowboys were led by Joe Don Marrow, Mike Sink and Don Williams, the latter turning in one of his best performances of this hard-luck year.

Sink scored the first touchdown on the first play of the second quarter when he sneaked one yard to cap a 78-yard drive. It was one of those power drives with no play netting more than 8 yards. Marrow attempted the extra points, but was short of the goal.

Plains scored again the next time it got the ball, moving from the 50 after a pass interception by James Alberding. Marrow went over from the 1 to climax the 10-play march. Sink passed to Alberding for the extra points to make it 14-0 with 6:35 to go in the first half.

The Cowboys threatened to break the game wide open shortly thereafter when Eldridge Tidwell stole another Eagle pass at the 10.

Farmers Union meets Thursday evening

The Yoakum County Farmer's Union will meet Thursday, November 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the County Clubroom for a chicken supper, Union President H. W. Taunton announced Monday.

A state officer of the union will be present to speak to the members. Mr. Taunton urges all members to attend and to bring fried chicken and the other "fixins" for the supper.

RUMMAGE SALE

The State Line Home Demonstration Club will hold a bake-sale and rummage sale on the courthouse lawn, Saturday, November 7 beginning at 10:00 a.m.

the Plains 40. Highlighted by a 43-yard pass from Sink to Walt Coffman, the Cowboys drove to the 14 but the Eagle's defense stiffened and Faught's fourth-downpass was intercepted by Joe Faulkenberry at the 1.

There was no more scoring in the first half, but the Cowboys wasted little time in adding to the scoreboard once the third period got underway. Joe Bob Oats returned the kickoff to the 34 and 10 plays later Williams went over from the 1 for the Cowboys' third touchdown with 7:27 left in the third period. Marrow got the extra points to make it 22-0.

Three minutes later the Cowboys scored again when Faulkenberry fumbled the snap while attempting a fourth-down punt and was nailed at his own 38. Sink passed 28 yards to Jack Meixner to put the ball on the 10 and then Marrow went over from that point. Williams crashed over for the bonus points.

Seagraves struck back with a spread formation which started the Cowboys momentarily. Quarterback Tommy Moseley would throw a long lateral pass to Falkenberry who was very wide and the speedy Eagle halfback turned in several good gains before the Plains defense adjusted itself to the odd situation.

The loser's score came after a fumble recovery at the Plains 14. Faulkenberry carried four times and Travis Wilcher once with the former scoring from 2 yards out.

Only one other time during the game did the Eagles threaten to score. That was late in the third period when they drove to the Cowboy 15 on the strength of the confusing spread formation. But a fumble halted that drive.

Defensively, the Cowboys played their usual stellar game. Don Todd, the 177 pound senior tackle, was never better than in this one. Aply assisting him were Doug Todd, Dick Cooke, Coffman, Vernon Ethridge, Alberding, Tidwell, Marrow and Williams.

Stinnett, Plains, Sundown rated 1-2-3

Plains continued to hold second-place in the state's Class A football rankings of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and the Dallas Morning News this week, while the Cowboys' district 5-A sparring partner, Sundown, made its long-expected move into the elite group.

As has been the case since early in the season, Stinnett's unbeaten Rattlers held down the No. 1 position in both polls, although the Cowboys continued to show strength in the balloting.

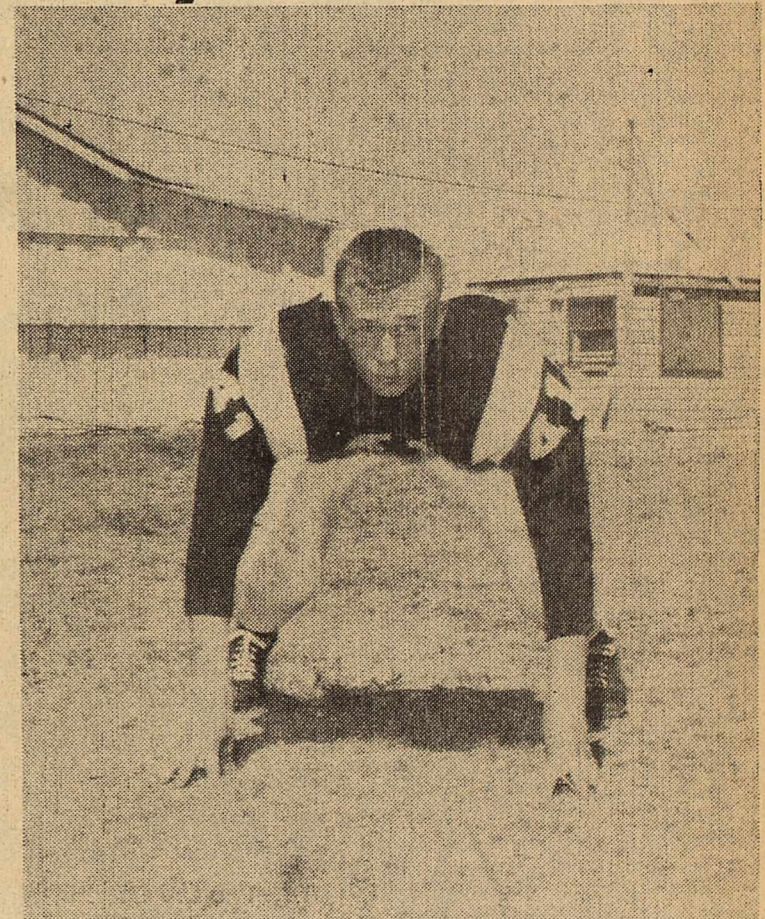

Sundown moved into third place in the Star-Telegram ratings, replacing defending state champion White Deer which fell to McLean last Friday and dropped clear out of sight. But the Roughnecks could do no better than hold their 10th place rating in the Dallas News poll.

Polsters go for the perfect-record teams, as evidenced by both polls. Sundown, which lost to Denver City earlier in the year, is the only team in the top 10 of the Star-Telegram which has been beaten. Only one other rated team in the News list has tasted defeat.

Here is how the state's largest newspapers rate the Class A teams of Texas:

Spencer purchases Col-Tex station

Frank B. Spencer assumed management of the Coltex service station in Plains Tuesday after purchasing the business from Arthur Kinder. The station is now known as Spencer Super Service.

Spencer has been a resident of Plains for the past five years, moving here from Seagraves. Since living here he has been engaged in a number of business enterprises as well as in the construction business.

The new owner said his station would specialize in fast service as well as battery service (including new and used batteries and charging), lubrication, washing and flat fixing.

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD
by LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

At this time the farmers in Yoakum are concentrating on getting the 1959 crop harvested and not making plans about next year as yet. As has been the case for the past several years, there will be some new land put into cultivation before the 1960 crop year. The number of cultivated acres in Yoakum County has increased every year for the past several years. In 1953 there was 125,000 acres in cultivation and now there is 165,000 acres, an increase of 40,000 acres in seven years. On this acreage the farmers grow cotton and grain sorghum as the primary crops. More forage sorghums or silage crops are being produced each year and sesame is being grown to some extent. The newest crop for this county is cantaloupes. Some people firmly believe that Yoakum County will eventually become a real cantaloupe producing area and that some other vegetable or truck crops will be produced here in large quantities.

I think the possibilities are very good that we will soon be growing truck crops. I can't see truck crops replacing cotton as a cash crop but they certainly have a place on some of the land. Perhaps the new farms that have no cotton allotment could do well by producing cantaloupes or some other truck crop. Yoakum County farmers planted 425 acres of cantaloupes this year and, from all reports, they realized about the same amount of money from an acre of cantaloupes as they would from an acre of cotton. The acreage planted to cantaloupes in 1960 has been estimated at 1,200 acres.

The main objection to truck crops is always the marketing situation. The 1959 cantaloupe crop moved out to many parts of the country. Yoakum County received some publicity from some far away places. Fortunately, we got off to a good start because all the publicity we have received thus far has been good. The way to get some bad publicity is to put some poor products on the market. By selling only the best part of the crop and keep all the culls off the market is the way to keep the slate clean.

The way for a farmer to realize a nice profit from his vegetable crop is to do a real good job of water application and fertilizer application. Putting on adequate amounts of fertilizer and water and apply them at the right time is the secret of making high yields. Exceptionally high yields does two things. The first is that it makes the crop more profitable to the farmer but the second and most important is that high yields go hand in hand with flavor and quality. This is especially true with cantaloupes. If a crop of cantaloupes are managed so that they will produce 200 crates of number 1 cantaloupes per acre, a crop that produces 200 crates will have a higher percent of the melons that will grade number 1 than a crop that has a lower yield. The variety of melon that is planted has something to do with flavor, size, shape and shipping quality but there is a great deal of variation within the same variety that is due to manage.

The average production per acre in 1959 has been estimated at 60 to 65 crates of number 1 cantaloupes. It is quite common in the Pecos area for cantaloupe producers to make 200 crates per acre.

If we can produce 150 to 200 crates per acre in 1960 in 1,200 acres we can send cantaloupes all over the country again and if

Lions broom sale to be Thursday

Annual broom sale of the Plains Lions Club will be conducted here next Thursday, according to P. W. St. Romain, secretary of the club. A truck with brooms and other supplies will be parked all day on the court house square. Members will gather at 4 p.m. to make a house-to-house canvass of the city.

The improved flavor and quality is there the housewife will demand Yoakum County cantaloupes each time she buys.

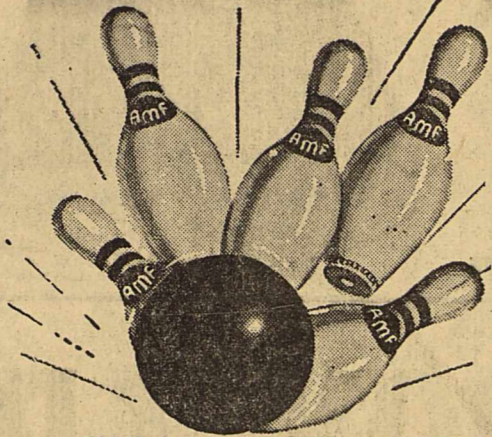

President presides over scout meeting

President Donna Nugent presided for the regular meeting of the Plains Girl Scouts Tuesday afternoon in the Tsa Mo Ga Clubhouse.

Twenty members answered the roll call. Minutes to the previous meeting were read and approved. Final plans were made for the booth to be placed at the Tsa Mo Ga Clubs Cracker-Barrel Bazaar. Leader Mrs. Tommie McDonnell showed the girls some new ideas.

In new business the girls elected Loretta Taylor as song leader. Following the closing ritual and prayer refreshments of candy and cold drinks were served the girls, one visitor, Sharon Faubus and the leader, Mrs. McDonnell.

Zoleta Brantley reports on trip to state dress revue as Yoakum county delegate

by Zoleta Brantley

First, I wish to thank all Yoakum County 4-H club members for the $20 they gave me for my trip to Dallas for the State Dress Revue and each person who helped to make it possible for me to represent Yoakum County. It was an honor to represent such a wonderful county and such swell people.

I enjoyed the trip and met 4-H boys and girls from all over the state. Especially nice were the 50 girls with whom I was in competition in the revue.

Mrs. Myrna White and my mother from Yoakum County, Linda Hinson and Mrs. Betty Moore from Terry County, and I arrived at Hotel Adolphus, where we lived while in Dallas, on October 15.

We were dressed and registered in the Cactus Room on 21st floor by 8:30 a.m. October 16 for the modeling of our dresses before the judges. At 11:30 we enjoyed a delicious luncheon in the hotel coffee-shop. We boarded a bus at 1:00 p.m. riding to Lee Park for a series of pictures and returned to the hotel at 3:45.

With a hurried dash we arrived back at the Cactus Room at 4:00 for the announcement of the winner who was lovely Annie Lou Williams of Willacy County.

The revue was a rainbow of lovely colors with dresses and suits of various fabrics and designs.

Early Saturday morning, the 17th, we went to the State Fair Ground where we were met by Mrs. Jessie Southworth, Fashion Coordinator of Sanger Brothers in Dallas, who conducted the rehearsal prior to the public show.

The first showing was from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. and the second was from 11:30 to 12:30 noon. Again, I say, it was just wonderful and a million thanks to all.

Homespun hints

The fall fashion trends show a wide use of the large belt with unusual buckle details. The slim waisted set will enjoy this keynote. Cardigan suit (the semi-boxy type) is dressed up with braid with rough textured wool fabrics. New wale arrangements in corduroy give the effect of broken basket weaves and brocades. The wide wale is more popular than the small wale.

Giant black and white hound's tooth checks are also used. The wide and puffed sleeve, the large bow, and the clipped (above waistline) weskit are also to be featured.

Hasty Fruit Cobbler is a quick dessert.

1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 cups fruit and juice, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 cup milk or cream, Milk flour, sugar, baking powder and milk or cream. Dot a baking pan with butter. Pour mixture into pan. Pour some juicy fruit on top of the batter such as canned berries, cherries, peaches or pineapple. Fresh stewed fruit may be used. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Serve 4 to 6.

Bank deposits in Plains reach all-time high

Bank deposits, long used as a guide to a community's economic strength, soared to the staggering total of $2,952,920.68 at the Plains State Bank Tuesday to erase all previous records set during the institution's short but fabulous history.

At the same time, total assets of the bank went past the $3 million mark for the first time, hitting a total of $3,164,000, an increase of about $760,000 over the figure of October 6 when the bank issued its quarterly statement of condition.

B. E. Loyd, president of the bank, attributed the sharp upturn in assets and deposits to the beneficial harvest now in progress and to the fact that the municipalities are collecting tax money at this time of the year.

Deposits as of Tuesday compare with those totaling $2,583,523.32 on February 10, the previous high-point in the bank's history. Total assets at that time were $2,763,901.52.

Loyd said the bank usually enjoyed its greatest figures in assets and deposits shortly after the first of January when the full impact of the harvest is felt. He pointed to last February's figures to prove his point and expressed belief that next February's totals will show considerable improvement over those of today.

The record deposits came just two days after the bank moved into its new modern quarters just north of the court house. The new location for business in its bank opened Monday morning, although contractors are still not through. Tentative plans call for the formal opening to be held November 21. It is hoped that all facilities of the bank will be in operation by that time and that all decorating will be completed.

The $60,000 building will offer residents of Plains the most modern banking facilities offered in a city this size anywhere. A drive-in window, night depository, safety deposit department and a saving account department are only a few of the many conveniences the bank will offer in its new location.

The Plains State Bank was established April 6, 1957, after years of negotiations on the part of local citizens. Its record of growth has been phenomenal since that time.

Activities planned for Veteran's Day

Bob Alberding, Commander of the local American Legion Post, announced this week that plans are incomplete for the Veteran's Day activities, November 11, here but they will be completed at a called meeting tonight (Thursday).

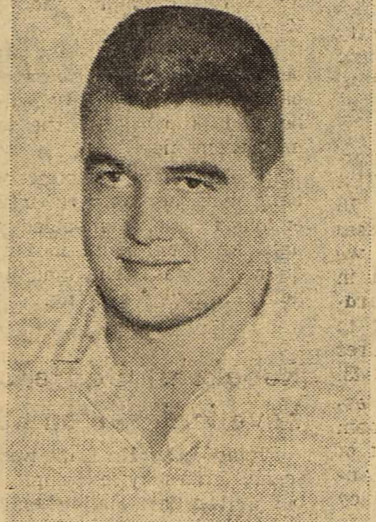

Posters will be placed throughout town, Alberding said. Everyone is reminded to be ready for the annual observance, he added.

The Post held a pancake supper and bingo, "42" and domino party last year.

Ross Stotts to play at Portales

Plains football fans will have an opportunity to see a former Cowboy star play with Western State College of Colorado on November 14, when that team meets Eastern New Mexico at Portales.

Ross Stotts, a 1958 graduate of Plains high school, has been seeing plenty of action this year as a guard with the Colorado team. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stotts, he is a sophomore after having attended Ranger Junior College last year.

Another former Cowboy star is a member of the freshman team at Western Colorado. He is Jim Williams who was a member of the Plains high school team last fall. Williams, now weighing more than 200 pounds, is the starting left halfback for the Colorado freshman team. He will not play at Portales since he is not eligible for varsity play.

placed on record. Last Thursday, an order was issued by the presiding judge overruling the defendant's motion for new trial in case of Violet O'Keeffe vs. Higginbotham Bros. Co., and John Lanham Higginbotham.

Hearings of Faye Crawford and Cecil Crawford vs. Allied Insurance Co. and Yoakum County State Bank, as well as Bill Hunt vs. General Telephone Co. of the Southwest, were continued to November 5 at 10 a.m.

Seven suits filed during past week in Dist. Court

Two compensation suits, two divorces, a suit for cancelling a contract and an action for reciprocal enforcement of family support were filed in district court at Plains this week. In addition, a cross-action in a previously filed divorce suit was also placed on the books.

Eula Mae Hallford, a resident of Yoakum County, is seeking a divorce from Arthur Durad Hallford, Jr., Denver City, on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. The plaintiff asks $100 per month child support as well as custody of two minor children.

J. W. McGuire, residing in Yoakum County, has filed for divorce from Noma McGuire of Grant, Okla. The plaintiff requests that the minor daughter remain in custody of the mother, with rights of visitation granted to him. He offers to pay $50 per month child support, and asks for division of certain community property.

Jimmie Dale Clifton of Yoakum County seeks $35 per week for 14 weeks as compensation for hand injuries allegedly suffered May 9, 1959, while in the employ of Donham Oil Tool Co. Defendant in the suit is Travelers Insurance Company.

J. E. Dulin of Gaines County is seeking total disability compensation of $35 per week for 401 weeks from Texas Employers Insurance Association. Dulin charges that while employed by Charles Long, Jr., Inc., as roughneck, he injured his back on May 25 and his hip on June 5, both of this year.

M. C. Ream of Seminole seeks $35 disability compensation of $35 per week for 401 weeks for injuries he allegedly received May 11, 1959, while working a drilling rig for Charles Long, Jr., Inc. He suffered, the suit declares, both face and head injuries.

Mary Katherine Henson of Harbor City, Calif., has filed suit for $895.05 in reimbursement from Fred Jack Henson of Denver City for expenditures allegedly made for living expenses for herself and two minor children.

Jesse Murphy of Tokio has named Daryl Anderson and A. R. Guetersloh of Levelland, together with J. I. Case Co. and J. I. Case Credit Corporation as defendants in a suit seeking rescission of contract. Murphy alleges that he purchased a Case tractor and equipment from the Levelland concern, that it never operated properly and that the company refused to live up to the terms of the contract in guaranteeing operation. Furthermore, the suit sets forth, Murphy was injured when mechanism failure caused the tractor to blow fuel and oil onto the plaintiff on July 11, 1959. He asks for $500 for injuries, plus $500 for lost time due to defective equipment. He requests that the contract be declared void or for an alternative that he has a judgement for damages of $2,000 and costs.

A cross action in the divorce of Henry Williams vs. Pearle Williams was filed this week. A temporary restraining order was asked enjoining the cross defendant from molesting the cross plaintiff, and for alimony during pendency of suit; for an order restraining the cross defendant from disposing of or secretly mortgaging or otherwise encumbering community property; and requiring him to return to court a sworn inventory accounting for all community property and separate properties. She asks for appointment of a temporary receiver for all assets. A hearing was set for November 5 at 10 a.m. on the cross plaintiff's petition for alimony of $300 per month during pendency of suit.

Three judgments were also filed this week. In the case of Jim Cates vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association, the plaintiff was ordered to recover $1500 in compensation. A judgment on behalf of the defendant was returned in the suit of Gordon Woods vs. Shell Oil Co. and others. Dismissed from the cause were the co-defendants, Prairie State Oil Co., Inc., Darby Oil Co., General American Oil Company, Seaboard Oil Co. Emit Maddox recovered $200 in compensation from Texas Employers Insurance Association, according to the judgment

There Are Some Things We Don't Like to Be Reminded of...

The diet list, for instance . . . especially when the table's laden for a festive occasion. It's one of those things we don't like to be reminded of . . .

Frankly, we get the feeling sometimes that you don't like to be reminded about service work for your John Deere Equipment. At this time of the year, our shop has extra time to handle service work, yet, many times, our "reminders" go unheard. Later, we'll be swamped with work; every owner will be clamoring for service; it will be first come . . . first served.

By making a service date now you can be sure of getting your service work done when you want it; there'll be no last-minute rush . . . no delay. We'll appreciate it and you'll do yourself a favor, too, if you'll come in this week and make a service date. How about it?

Youngsters get $129 for CROP

Approximately 30 Plains youngsters collected $129.93 Thursday evening during the annual "Trick or Treat for CROP." The event is sponsored each year by the churches of Plains with all collections going to CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program). Youngsters have adopted this as an annual program during Halloween week. Thursday's collections were about $50 less than those of a year ago. This was attributed to the fact that many people were not at home when the young people were calling. Anyone not contacted who wishes to make a contribution may do so by contacting Rev. Johnnie Moore, Rev. R. H. Meixner or Rev. C. J. Coffman.

Mrs. Nell Duff, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Ruth Duff of Lubbock, met another sister also a Mrs. Duff of Dallas, at the home of their sister-in-law, Mrs. B. T. Harrison, in Riby, Friday evening for a visit over the weekend. Mrs. Duff returned to Plains Monday.

Methodists enjoy special program

Week of Prayer and Self-Denial, October 25-31, was observed by women of First Methodist Church with a special program Wednesday evening, October 28, in the church sanctuary which was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums.

The program, planned and directed by Mrs. Donald Lackey, Spiritual Life Leader of the W.S.C.S., was presented in two parts. The first portion was talks on "Mission Work" with the following program presented: Schools and Staff-house by Mrs. L. C. Smith; Christian Social Centers by Mrs. Kenneth Haie;

Community Workers and Equipment of Rural Churches by Mrs. Lackey; Valley Community Center at Pharr Texas by Mrs. James Warren; and Dulac Indian Center at Dulac Louisiana by Mrs. Leo White. Hymns were sung by the group intermittently during the program.

A salad supper was served in Fellowship Hall, which was decorated in orchid. Miss Oneta Jo Meixner, at the piano offered the lovely dinner music.

Everyone returned to the sanctuary for the "Quiet Day" program. Hymns were sung and responsive readings were given.

A special solo, "Beautiful Garden of Prayer" was sung by Mrs. Jesse Hale, accompanied by Mrs. Gene Payne at the piano. Mrs. Payne played softly for a few moments of silent prayer. Mrs. R. H. Meixner gave the meditation on "The Secret of His Presence."

Mrs. Hale sang "Sweet Hour of Prayer" followed by a few moments of silent scripture reading.

Rev. R. H. Meixner conducted the "Holy Communion" as Mrs. Payne played "Take Thou The Bread of Life" which was the benediction.

$200 more needed for decorations

Civic organizations of Plains conducting a drive to have a nativity scene installed on the court house lawn during the Christmas season still need about $200 to be assured of a successful program. This announcement was made this week by the Chamber of Commerce as the deadline to raise the money draws frightfully close.

Contributions from the Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Home Demonstration Clubs and the Iota Pi women have swollen the fund and anticipation of contributions from other organizations will help further. But, it appears the fund will still be about $200 short, even counting donations which have not been definitely committed by other clubs.

Sponsors decided in the early stages of the program that no personal solicitation among businessmen would be made, but they emphasized this week that donations from merchants would be welcomed and probably necessary if the program is to succeed.

A committee made up of various members of the sponsoring organizations has selected a nativity scene which depicts the figures of eight adults, two children, the Baby Jesus, three sheep and one ox in actual life size. Total cost is approximately $1,200. It has been pointed out, however, that purchase of this scene would be a permanent investment since it may be used for several years.

Anyone wishing to make contributions to this project may leave them at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Cracker barrel bazaar is Monday

Mrs. Ty Field will be director of the program to be presented at the Tsa Mo Ga Club's Cracker-Barrel Bazaar to be held November 9, at which beautiful home-made gifts, delicacies and antiques will be shown.

Fiddlin' Music will be presented by Garland Gainer and Carl Hazelwood, Champion Old-time Fiddlers of Tatum, New Mexico.

An antique show and sale will be conducted by Mrs. Bobby Lineberry of Midland. There will be barrels of crackers, barrels of cookies and plenty of "soda water" and one of the chief attractions will be awarding of the Old-fashioned Doll to the person holding the lucky ticket.

All club members will be dressed in Old-fashioned costumes and the public is invited by co-hostesses, Mesdames M. W. Luna, Sherm Henard and Bill H. Powell.

Motion for new trial in Higginbotham suit denied

Motion for a new trial filed by John Lanham Higginbotham, Dallas against whom a judgment of $170,000 has been entered as the result of a suit filed by Mrs. Violet O'Keeffe, was denied last Thursday by District Judge Truett R. Smith.

Mrs. O'Keeffe was awarded the judgment in September at the conclusion of a five day trial in which Higginbotham was accused of causing the death of the plaintiff's husband, W. T. O'Keeffe, in an automobile accident north of Denver City in January.

Upon hearing Judge Smith's ruling on the new trial motion, attorneys for Higginbotham immediately announced intentions of filing an appeal in 7th District Court of Civil Appeals, Amarillo.

Higginbotham and Higginbotham Bros. Co., with main offices in Comanche, are co-defendants in the judgment filed by attorneys for Mrs. O'Keeffe, who was acting on her own behalf and in behalf of five minor children.

In another action in district court the same day the injunction obtained by Bill Hunt against General Telephone Company of the Southwest was continued until Thursday, Nov. 5, in the absence of District Judge M. C. Ledbetter.

Hunt filed suit against the telephone company last week for $117,775 for wrongfully removing a telephone from his home, contending that the bill had been paid and that the company, as a public utility, must furnish him with telephone service.

The plaintiff in the action asked an injunction against the company, restraining them from "not furnishing" him with the service of a telephone. The injunction remains in force until final determination before Judge Ledbetter.

Special meeting called by club

Mrs. Garland Swann, announced the calling of a special meeting of the Tsa Mo Ga Club to be held in the Clubhouse, Sunday afternoon, November 8 at 3:00 p.m. to decide the amount of money to be donated by the club to the drive for funds for the Nativity Scene for Plains.

Each member is urged to attend Sunday afternoon and is asked to bring her merchandise to the Cracker Barrel Bazaar to be held November 9 at 8:00 p.m. in the Clubhouse. The public is cordially invited to come to the bazaar. Mrs. Swann pointed out.
