Plains Talk

By Wendell Faught

Add the name of Tom Warren to that list headed by Joe Curry—you know, the list of those who tried to quit smoking and failed.

Figures don't lie, but there are such things as wrong figures and lots of them are being circulated at this time of year.

Our exchanges (weekly newspapers we receive from other towns) paint glowing pictures of what this or that town's population is. The barometer for arriving at these impressive figures is the number of water meters.

But here, all similarity ceases. One town, for instance, claims it is generally accepted that there are five people per water meter—another says 4.8 and another claims 4.3. Granted, the population-meter ratio may be higher in one place than it is in another, but it is extremely doubtful the variation would be of such significance.

I did a little figuring last week with Bob Loe the city secretary. Plains had 429 water meters as of January 1. Checking back a bit farther, I found that in 1950 the city had 125 water meters and an official population of 480. So at that time there were 3.84 people for every water meter.

If the same ratio held true today, we would have a population of 1,647. But for the past several years, families have gotten smaller and this must be taken into account if any accuracy is to be placed on the estimate.

But another local situation should be able to cancel out this trend for purposes of guessing. That would be the large number of trailer houses within the city which do not have individual meters. The number of trailer houses varies widely from month to month. I recently counted 60 such homes here. Some of these, of course, are occupied by permanent residents who have water meters, but the vast majority are those on multi-purpose meters.

So the figure of 1,647 takes on additional virtues.

It's that time of the year when most people begin worrying about income tax and hoping their returns suit the internal revenue boys. But, actually, Uncle Sam is not so hard to please. He lets you have your choice of how you want to pay your taxes—cash, check or money order.

I'm not sure whether it's the charm of Dr. Lynn or a new attitude being adopted by the new generation, but local youngsters like to go to the doctor. I thought my three-year-old needed her head examined for begging to go get a shot until I learned that others in that age group are equally receptive to the doctor and the needle.

COWBOY DON TODD receives the third-place trophy the Cowboys earned in the Seagraves basketball tournament Saturday. Making the presentation is Hilda Turner, an attendant to the Seagraves basketball queen. The Cowboys defeated Tahoka in Saturday's finals.

Cowboys open district play here Friday night

Plains opens defense of its district 5-A basketball championship here Friday night, entertaining dangerous Seagraves in the conference debut for both clubs. All district teams swing into action within the next few days. The Cowboys go to Frenship next Tuesday for their second district game.

The Cowboys have undergone rough sledding in pre-district games, but have nevertheless compiled a respectable 8-4 won-lost record. Losses have been administered at the hands of Denver City twice, Lamesa and Eunice, all except the Eunice loss coming in tournament play. On the other hand, the Cowboys hold two victories over Denver City and one over Eunice.

Other wins have been over O'Donnell, Seagraves, Snyder, Littlefield and Tahoka.

Friday's game here will be only the third home contest of the season for Coach Rip Sewell's quintet and local fans are anxious to see the Cowboys perform at home where they have not lost in so long few people can remember when.

In Seagraves, the Cowboys will meet a dangerous club with one of the area's brightest stars in Dick Stephenson. The Eagles who have run hot and cold this season won the Tahoka tournament earlier in the year and were runnersup in their own classic last weekend. Plains bumped into the Eagles in the Denver City tournament several weeks ago and came out on top after a close game.

B teams of the two schools will meet in the curtain-raiser of Friday's twin bill. The B game begins at 6:30 p.m.

Oscar Henard's calf brings 52 cents per pound

Oscar Henard, Plains 4-H Club boy exhibited a Hereford steer at the Odessa Show on Thursday of last week. The steer placed 19th among 37 animals in the medium weight class and sold on Saturday for 52 cents a pound. The 921-pound steer sold to Odessa Natural Gasoline Company for a total of $478.92.

Marsha White was the only other exhibitor from Yoakum County and her calf placed 35th in the same class. Only 40 steers are allowed to sell at Odessa and this year they sold two 20th place steers. The Odessa Show has about the stiffest competition of any of the major shows in Texas because it is the first show of the year and all the good calves are there.

Firemen to elect new officials

Plains firemen will elect officials for the new year at a meeting to be held at the fire station Monday evening, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Fire Chief Duane McDonnell urged all members of the department to be present.

In addition to a fire chief to serve during 1960, the group will name an assistant chief, a secretary-treasurer, a reporter and two lieutenants.

James Watson is the present assistant fire chief and Bobby Kinsley is secretary-treasurer.

Others have our name

It may come as a surprise to many people here, but this isn't the only town in the U. S. A. by the name of Plains. As a matter of fact, Rand McNally's atlas lists four towns by that name, one in Georgia, one in Kansas and one in Montana, in addition to Plains, Texas.

But people here can probably lay claim to living in the largest town by the name of Plains.

The atlas from which this information comes reveals a striking similarity between the populations of the four towns, although population figures are now somewhat out of date. Plains, Georgia, is listed as having a population of 528. There were 570 people in Plains, Kansas, 624 in Plains, Montana, and 550 in Plains, Texas, when the population figures were compiled.

Almost qualifying for this group is the little Wisconsin town of Plain (population 405). There is a Plain City in Ohio and also in Utah. In addition, there is a Plainsboro in New Jersey and a Plain Dealing in Louisiana. There is a Plainview in the states of Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota and Texas and a Plainville in Indiana, Kansas, Massachusetts and Michigan.

Plainfield is the name of towns in Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

Only other town names similar to Plains found in the atlas were Plano, Illinois, and Plano, Texas.

State seeking bids for local highway project

Construction of new Main street is expected soon

Plains and Denver City have both received belated Christmas presents from the State Highway Department.

The Department today announced that it is seeking bids for the construction of a total of 15,305 miles of highway in Denver City and Plains.

According to the request for bids on the project, the construction will include the long-awaited Broadway project in Denver City and the construction of a new Main Street for Plains.

Bids on the project will be received by the Highway Department in Austin until 9 a.m. on Wednesday, January 27, after which a contract will be awarded for the construction.

According to a local contractor, the estimated cost of the new construction should approximate $150,000 or approximately $10,000 per mile on the project.

The actual bids call for construction from the west City Limits of Plains to State Highway 214, and from State Highway 214 through Denver City to the New Mexico State Line.

The work will be on highways US 380 (the main street of Plains) and on State Highway 83 (Broadway in Denver City.)

The sealed proposals will be for grading, culverts, flexible base (caliche) and for triple penetration surface treatment.

Plains and Denver City have Word from the state on the Plains project has been awaited for a long time. Property owners along the highway route subscribed approximately $20,000 for the construction of curbs and gutters last summer.

The local contractor said that the state department usually takes 10 days to study bids, after which the contract is awarded. A performance bond then guarantees that work on the project will start within a specified period of time, usually about 10 days he said. The estimated time of completion on the project will be approximately six to eight months.

Poll tax payment nearly doubled

Payment of poll taxes in Yoakum County has almost doubled during the past three weeks, according to E. W. Craig, Chief County Tax Assessor-Collector, but they are still running far below the anticipated number for a major election year.

Craig reported late Wednesday afternoon that 938 county residents had paid poll taxes thus far this year, as compared with only 497 on December 29.

The county tax chief estimates that there will be approximately 2600 receipts issued prior to the deadline on January 31. Thus he anticipates a tremendous rush on his office during the 11 days remaining before the deadline.

Ty Field candidate for commissioner

Ty Field, rancher in the Bronco area, has authorized The Review to announce his candidacy for commissioner of precinct 3.

Field is the fourth announced candidate for the office being vacated by Gene Payne. His formal announcement will be released later.

Band to sell calendars

High school band students will begin their third annual birthday calendar sale Friday, according to an announcement made this week by Bobby Brooks, band director. The sale will continue through Saturday, January 23.

Purpose of the calendar sale drive is to earn money for the band's spring banquet and to help defray any expenses which the band accumulates over the school year.

Brooks explained that calendar costs had increased since the project was inaugurated, but the band will not increase its prices for listings.

Listings are priced as follows: Married couples, $1.25 for listing both birthdays, wedding anniversary and given one calendar. Price for a single person is 75 cents for listing his birthday and for one calendar. A whole family cost is $1.50 for listing all birthdays in the family, listing wedding anniversary and one calendar.

Extra calendars are 50 cents each and extra listings (for clubs, special programs, etc.) are 25 cents each.

There are also 12 spaces left for business advertisements. Any businessman interested should contact Brooks either at his home or at the junior high school.

The calendar has been initiated as a community project and it is hoped that this year's calendar will be the biggest and best yet, Brooks said.

Soil Fertility committee plans general meeting

A newly organized committee in Yoakum County called the Soil Fertility Committee is making plans to have a meeting of all farmers in the county as soon as arrangements can be made. This new committee, which held its initial meeting on January 7, is headed by Kenyon Banks of Denver City as chairman. Loren Gayle of Bronco is vice chairman and Bob Boulter of Denver City is secretary.

This committee is made up of a group of farmers and fertilizer dealers who are interested in getting the farmers of Yoakum county to make the most efficient use of commercial fertilizers. Besides having a meeting of farmers where farmers can get the latest information about fertilizers, the committee plans to have some result demonstrations during 1960. It has set a goal of four cotton fertilizer demonstrations and four grain sorghum fertilizer demonstrations.

At the meeting that is to be held in the future, committee members are trying to get Harvey Walker of the Lubbock Experiment Station, Ben Spears, Extension Service Agronomist from College Station. The date of the meeting will be announced as soon as it is learned when these men will be available. Farmers are urged to watch the local papers for the date and place of the meeting.

Auto inspection deadline nears

Local motorists were reminded this week they have only until April 15 to obtain their 1960 motor vehicle inspection certificates. Inspections are being made and certificates issued at Tingle's Garage in Plains.

Joe McLaren of the vehicle inspection department of the department of Public Safety was in Plains Tuesday and urged motorists to take care of this matter as soon as possible. "We have only one inspection station in Plains," he said, "and if too many people wait until the last few days to take care of this matter, a serious problem could arise."

McLaren went on to explain that vehicles not displaying the inspection sticker after midnight on April 15 could not be operated legally. Owners will be subject to fines. Minimum fine for this violation is $16.50, McLaren stated.

Political announcement, advertising rates are announced by The Review

following: weekly listing of his name under the appropriate heading in the political announcement column to be published each week until the primary; a formal announcement, along with a picture one column in the newspaper, to appear in the candidate chooses between now and the election.

Moore and Oden set weekend clearance

The annual January clearance sale of Moore and Oden Dry Goods and Ready-to-wear is being held Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The store was closed Wednesday afternoon as employees worked behind closed doors in marking merchandise and making other preparations for the sale.

LIKE DEATH AND TAXES, school tests are necessary evils for local students. Here, Ivy Beggs, Plains high junior, is all wrapped up in her studies as she prepares for mid-term examinations which are being given in the local schools this week. Review photo.

Few farmers give much consideration to the growing of fertilized and irrigated grain sorghums. They just cannot believe that it would be profitable to spend money for water and fertilizer on a crop that sells for the price that grain sorghum does. But according to some figures that have been released from the Sandy Lands Experiment Station in Terry County, irrigated grain sorghums made 4,335 pounds to the acre in 1953 and 3,828 pounds in 1959. These plots were made with no fertilizer at all.

They applied fertilizers at various rates as they do at all experiment station tests and they found that by putting on 40 pounds of nitrogen the average yield was increased by 251 pounds to the acre but the increase lacked 21c an acre paying for the fertilizer. When they increased the amount of nitrogen up to 80 pounds to the acre they only got an increase of 28 pounds to the acre and they went in the hole by $7.05 an acre. When they put on 40 pounds of phosphorus they went in the red by $8.43 an acre and where they increased the phosphorus to 80 pounds they were $10.91 in the hole.

The plots that received both nitrogen and phosphorus made a profit. The plot that received 40-40-0 averaged 4,913 pounds for the past two years which gave a profit from fertilizer of $4.59 an acre. The plot treated with 80-40-0 showed a profit of $5.95 per acre and the 80-80-0 plot made a profit of $3.03 an acre. The plot that received 40-80-0 lost $1.92 per acre and the 120-80-0 plot showed a loss of $1.17 an acre. None of the plots that received potash in the treatment were profitable.

The highest yield was made in 1958 when the 80-40-0 plot yielded 6,152 pounds to the acre. The untreated plot in 1958 produced 4,335 pounds per acre so the fertilizer was responsible for an increase of 1,817 pounds. At $1.40 per hundred pounds the increase due to fertilizer was worth $25.43. The fertilizer cost was $10.76 leaving a profit of $14.67 because this particular treatment was used.

Most people seem to think that there will be a certain amount of fertilizer carry-over in the soil where it will be available for the crop during the following year. This has not been proven and neither has it been disproven. Some cotton fields that have been fertilized for the past four years at about the same rate each year has shown a steady increase in yield especially over the past three years. This seems to indicate that the carry-over of plant food may last longer than just one year.

The Soil Fertility Committee in Yoakum County is planning some fertilizer demonstrations which will give some needed information about the use of commercial fertilizers. Farmers will do well to keep a sharp eye on these demonstrations as they progress.

The carat used in weighing diamonds was originally based upon the weight of the seed of the carob, a tree of the Mediterranean region.

County residents' payment of taxes is 95% completed

County tax payments are running slightly ahead of normal, according to figures revealed late Wednesday afternoon by E. W. Craig, chief county tax as-essor-collector at Plains. Craig announced that thus far the county has received a total of $832,489.99 in tax money from a total expected tax receipt of $878,893.39. The collections amount to approximately 95 per cent of the total tax bill, Craig said.

In announcing the tax collection figures, Craig reminded county residents that they have until January 31 to pay taxes

Kee-Diamond nuptial plans are announced

Mr. and Mrs. Silas C. Kee of Plains have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Anita Dale Kee, to James Diamond. The wedding will be an event of January 24 in the home of Miss Kee's parents.

The groom-to-be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Diamond of Kilbourne, Louisiana. He is presently employed with Continental Oil Company in Hobbs.

Miss Kee is a 1958 graduate of Plains high school. She attended Draughn's Business College in Lubbock and has been employed this past season as secretary at Newsom Gin in Plains.

The couple plans to make their home in Hobbs.

The reported production of garlic in the U. S. was over 20 million pounds in 1958, and sold for an average of $10.72 per hundred-weight. During the same period approximately 35 million pounds were consumed. The difference of 15 million pounds was made up through imports.

Jim Williams on Colorado squad

Jim Williams, former Plains high school athletic great, is one of 30 candidates for the freshman basketball team at Western State College in Gunnison, Colorado. The freshmen open their season this weekend against Colorado College freshmen on Friday and Saturday nights.

Williams, an all-state basketball player at Plains high last season as well as an outstanding football performer on last year's Cowboy powerhouse, has been described as one of the most promising players on the freshman squad.

Other area boys on the Colorado freshman squad include Jim Smith and Maurice Warren of Meadow.

The Old West had its pirates too. A range pirate was a man who turned his stock loose on the range without owning open range and water in proportion to the cattle turned loose.

Pharmacist explains drug prices

"Americans today are the world's healthiest people largely because of thousands of failures suffered in medical research,"

Roy Edwards said here today. "This may sound like a strange idea" he asserted, "but, nevertheless, it is true."

What is not generally realized by the lay public, he pointed out, is that for every major drug discovery, the pharmaceutical industry writes off hundreds, even thousands of failures. The pharmaceutical industry, in fact, considers itself fortunate if it develops one useful drug out of every 1,000 chemical compounds it investigates, Edwards added.

To some, the local pharmacist said, this may sound wasteful in manpower and money. The fact remains, however, that screening and testing thousands of different compounds is often the only way of finding a drug which may revolutionize the medical treatment of some hitherto fatal disease and save thousands of lives.

As an example, Edwards cited the case of a well-known antibiotic, which was discovered only after scientists had screened and tested 1,000,000 soil samples. Two and one-half years and more than $4,000,000 was spent on the project. Today, however, that antibiotic is one of medicine's most formidable battlers against bacterial disease.

"Americans have the most effective and potent medicines in the world today, simply because our medical researchers are willing to face failure in their attempts to find new drugs to alleviate illness," the local pharmacist asserted.

"For this reason," he added, "a drug which has newly come on the market is often somewhat expensive. Several germ fighters, which are newer than penicillin, cost about 50 cents per capsule at retail, the pharmacist said. The cost reflects the vast amount of time and money which the pharmaceutical industry expended to find and develop the drug. However, $15.00 worth of this medicine is sufficient to clear up a case of pneumonia in about a week. Twenty years ago, pneumonia killed one out of three cases; if you survived, it cost five weeks in the hospital plus a long convalescence at home. Medical bills ran up as high as $300 or $400, Edwards said.

"Medical research," the local pharmacist concluded, "is a complicated, time-consuming business filled with uncertainties and disappointments. It involves huge investments in laboratories and equipment and requires the efforts of thousands of highly trained scientists. "But, today Americans live longer and stay healthier. If they do get sick, their illness often is shorter and their total medical bill is smaller. "All of this can be had for only a few dollars worth of a miracle, a miracle discovered and produced by American Pharmaceutical know-how."

Craig announces for tax office

E. W. Craig this week announced his candidacy for the office of Tax Assessor-Collector of Yoakum County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, May 7, 1960.

The Craigs were residents of Eldorado, Schleicher County, Texas and Abilene, Texas prior to moving to Yoakum County, as and while in Schleicher County, Mr. Craig engaged in stock farming, served as Chief Deputy Tax Assessor-Collector, and two terms as County Judge & Ex-

Officio County School Superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig are the parents of two children, a daughter, Mrs. John Phillips of Odessa, Texas, whose husband John is employed by Humble Oil Company; a son, Weldon Craig, of Hobbs, New Mexico, who is employed by Byron Jackson Tools, Inc., as a salesman, with Yoakum County being a part of his territory. The Craigs also have four grandchildren, Jimmie and Vincent Craig, and Douglas and Loann Phillips.

Mr. Craig, your present Chief Deputy Tax Assessor-Collector states "I feel that I am well qualified for the office I seek, having had a number of years experience in tax office work. Serving as your Chief Deputy Tax Assessor-Collector, I have gained valuable knowledge that will enable me to continue carrying out the duties of the office more efficiently in the future. I appreciate the co-operation of the people of Yoakum County and trust my efforts as your Chief Deputy will merit a continuation of my services to you as your Tax Assessor-Collector. I promise to continue discharging the duties of your tax office to the best of my knowledge and ability and to strive to keep abreast of the fast changing times as we continue to grow in population and valuation, realizing that the custodian of the county tax records is becoming a more exacting and important job from year to year."

Mr. Craig further states "During this campaign I shall attempt to contact personally as many voters as possible; however, the next four months is our busiest times in the tax office, and should I fail to see you, just remember I am sincere in saying 'I want to be your Tax Assessor-Collector.' I ask that the

Cowboys take third place

Tsa Mo Ga meet conducted Monday

"Security from Relationship with Others" was the topic of the Monday night meeting of the Tsa Mo Ga.

The meeting was called to order with members repeating the club collect and pledges to the Texas and United States flags. Mrs. Stotts read the minutes of the December 14 meeting and they stood approved as read.

Mrs. McCargo, club president, gave all the club members pamphlets on the rules of the Vogue Pattern Contest and "The In-the final two periods, Jerry Goodwin led Denver City with 15 points.

For Plains, Harmon Meixner and Coffman both scored 16 points.

The game against Tahoka Saturday night was the Cowboys all the way although they never pulled too far ahead of the Bulldogs from Lynn County. Time and again Plains threatened to turn the game into a rout, but each time the Bulldogs stormed back to tighten the score.

Todd scored 22 points to lead the winners in that category. Harmon Meixner added 12 and Coffman scored eight.

The Cowboys now swing into district 5-A action with an 8-4 record. Three of the losses have come in tournaments. They lost to Lamesa in the Denver City tournament and to the Mustangs in the Brownfield and Seagraves classics. But in each instance, the conquerer of the Cowboys has gone on to win the tournament.

telligent Woman's Guide to Art" by John Canaday. Reports were then heard from the following committees: Finance, Program and Yearbook, Social, Constitution and By-Laws, Membership, Flowers and Cards, Special Projects.

Business transacted included plans for a get together Monday morning at 10 o'clock to clean the Museum and get it ready for formal opening. It was urged that all club members make a dress to enter in the Vogue Pattern Contest. It was voted to have the January 25 program on February 8 and to have the February 8 program on January 25. This decision was made since some on the program planned to be out of town.

The Assay and Art Contest were discussed and a chairman appointed. Mrs. Casey Jones was elected as mother of the year to represent the club in the final runoff.

The nominating committee presented the names of the new officers for the 1960-61 club year and they were elected by unanimous decision. They consisted of president, Mary Swann; vice president, Reva Cleveland; secretary, Mrs. J. W. Moore Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. B. E. Loyd; critic, Mrs. Harvey Stotts; reporter, Mary Jo St. Romain; parliamentarian, Mattie Field; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lois Bedford, columnist.

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Glenn Cleveland, and she presented Mrs. Norelle Sloan who gave a very interesting talk on "India and the United States Maturing Relations." Due to illness and absences this ended the program and the meeting was then adjourned.

Mrs. Alf Carpenter and Mrs. Donald Ray Lackey then served members of the club sandwiches, pecan pie and coffee.

The club room table was decorated with a lace table cloth, centered with an arrangement of gold sprayed drift wood, and wild plants, pine cones sprayed gold.

The year 46 B. C. was known as the "year of confusion," because the calendar was three months ahead of the seasons. World Book Encyclopedia explains that the Roman calendar was changed at the whim of politicians. To adjust the calendar to the seasons, the year 46 B. C. was given 15 months.

DEEP YEARNING

...for God, or is it hero-worship, or is it a desire to be shown the way... is it a dream? Well, heroes are God's occasion for awakening in His children a yearning to be one. Dreams are the doorsteps up which one must climb to reach this higher elevation. Be it hero-worship or a longing for God, it is his dream and a child is at his best when he dreams. His dreams are his prayers. God and your son, together, can do great things. But they can do better if a father joins God and his son in the dream-prayer. Here a father meets, face-to-face, one of the finer experiences of life... his own son in fervent prayer. Scenes like this cause a father to be interested in things that have to do with life rather than just a living. A prayer life is the result of church teaching and good raising... has your child learned to pray??? To be good and kind, and patient are fine but add church attendance to the list and you'll have the ingredients which go into every good man.

Annual school census now underway in district for 6-to-17 age group

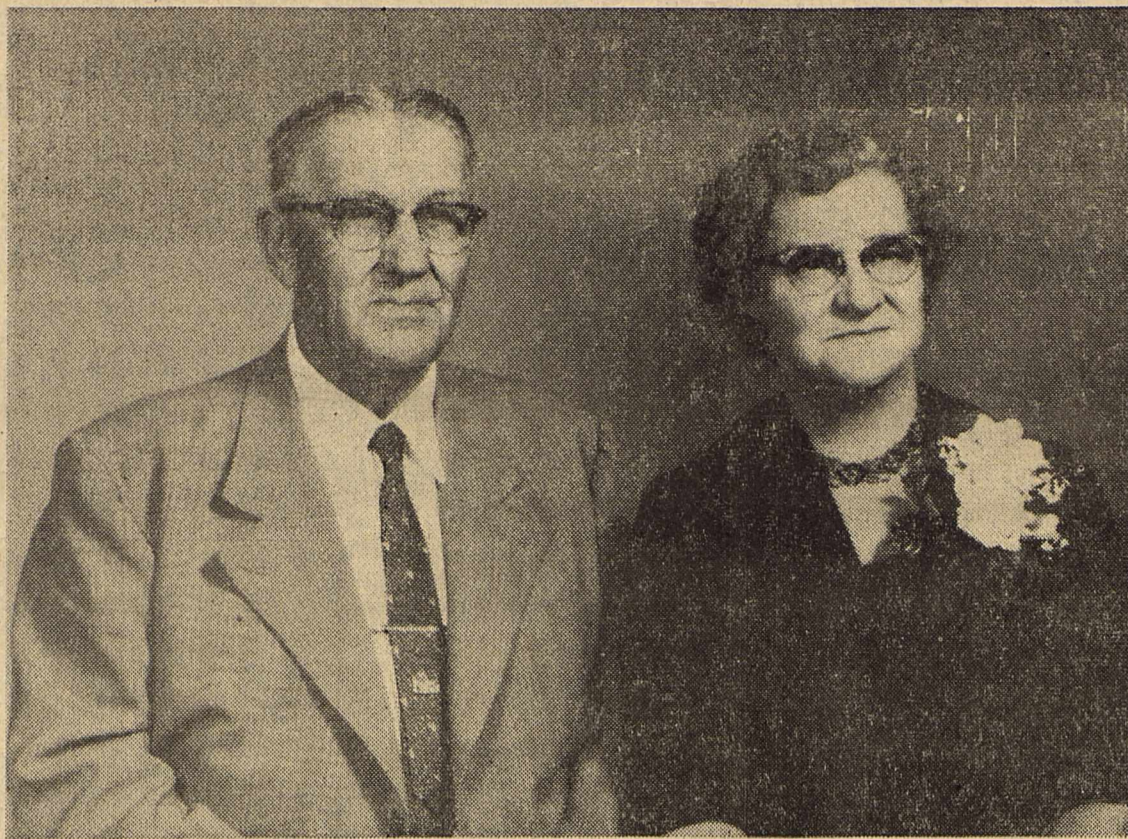

The annual school census is now under way, according to Superintendent G. D. Kennedy. Purpose of the census is to obtain the number of scholastics between the ages of 6 and 17. Children who will be 6 on or before September 1, or not older than 17 on or before September 1 should be included in the census, Kennedy explained.

The census is held annually to determine the amount of state aid which goes to the various schools. The Department of Education is to give $72 per student during the next school year. Therefore, any person in this age group who resides in the area and is not counted in the census will cost the local school.

Kennedy also requested that persons employing Latin-Americans of school age to encourage them to attend school. "There are several Latin-Americans in the school district who are not attending school," the superintendent stated.

Camp awarded certificate

State health authorities have awarded John T. Camp of Plains a Grade C "certificate of competency" in recognition of his skill and knowledge of water plant operation.

The certificate was awarded under Texas' general sanitation law that water plants furnishing the public must be under the supervision of an operator who has proved his talent for the job in a written examination and has been certified by the Texas State Department of Health.

Camp's newly won certificate will be valid for three years. After meeting certain requirements of experience and training, he will be eligible to try for higher certification.

The examination for Grade C certification covers fundamental knowledge in quality requirements for a public water supply, interpretation of bacteriological analysis, selection of pumps, well or surface supply sanitation, distribution system sanitation and procedures involved in pipe laying and maintenance.

Grade C certification requires a minimum of one year of experience plus 40 "credits" earned by attendance at annual district and state water works short schools sponsored by the Texas State Department of Health, the engineering extension service of Texas A and M College, and the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association.
