Irrigation Season Brings Advice

By GILBERT PIERCE
Soil Conservation Service

The irrigation season is almost here again. This means that it is time to start making plans for another watering season. Farmers will be busy checking their motors and irrigation systems to make sure that they are ready to go.

We should also make definite plans to carry out a good sound watering program. We in the Soil Conservation Service refer to this as irrigation water management.

Every farmer knows how costly it is for cotton, or any other crop, to fail to get the water it needs, how the crop will burn up and shed its fruit.

After the big rains in July last year, some of the farmers learned that too much water is also very costly and will stunt the crop, make it grow rank, not fruit satisfactorily. Most of the fruit it does put on will never mature.

By knowing that insufficient water, or too much water, is very costly, then we see that some where between too dry and too wet is where we can make our best crops.

In order to reach this point, we have to know how much water our soil will hold. We must make plans to put on the amount of water that the soil will take care of, but in order to do this we must know how much water our system is putting out.

We can then determine how long we need to set between moves and how many days it will be before the crop will need watered again.

If we wait too long, the ground will get dry and the crop will suffer and shed its fruit. If we come back too soon with the water, we are in danger of water logging our crop with too much water. Therefore, the amount of water our system puts out determines the number of acres we can irrigate properly.

Through long experiments, people who have been studying our big irrigation problems have found that during July and August, the peak growing season, in our type of soil, cotton uses one-fourth inch of moisture a day out of the soil.

If our root zone is six feet deep and the plant uses one-fourth inch a day, then in 12 days half of the moisture will be gone.

Since the crops get most of their water supply from the top part of the soil, the top two or three feet would be very dry, thereby requiring water every 10 to 12 days.

We in the Soil Conservation Service have all the necessary charts and equipment to work out a sound irrigation program for any farm. We will be glad to assist you with your irrigation problems at any time. This service is brought to you by your local SCD.

IRRIGATING---Gilbert Pierce of the Soil Conservation Service and author of the accompanying article, is shown here with T. J. Murphy at the Murphy farm northeast of Plains.

This is a lousy recession. Everybody's working and everybody's broke. At least we didn't have to work in the last one.

Recommended reading is an article coming up in the April issue of Reader's Digest, entitled "The Day the Elevator Blew Up."

The story is about the elevator explosion which happened in Brownfield last July. Many from here witnessed the aftermath of that tragedy.

The story deals primarily with the dramatic rescue of the laborer who was trapped atop the burning structure. It was the greatest act of heroism ever shown in this area when a city employee, Don Ethington, volunteered to be lowered from a helicopter to rescue the worker. I had a lot of admiration for the victim, a 17-year-old boy by the name of Phillip Reeves. He had seen a companion jump to a flaming death from the same window from which he clung.

The fact that Reeves died 16 days later was another tragedy within itself. As a reporter for the Brownfield News, I led off the story of his death with this statement: "The kid who wouldn't die is dead."

The Reader's Digest story is very interesting and highly factual in my opinion. It's a far cry from another article in a national magazine published last month concerning another Brownfield incident.

This one appeared in True Detective and dealt with the slaying of a Brownfield service station attendant. It was so full of discrepancies that the police department at Brownfield has lodged an official protest with the publisher.

Author of the story wrote the Brownfield police that I assisted him in preparing the story. This statement, like most of those in his story, was only half true.

I did furnish the writer with some information, including a couple of pictures. But the story was written in his own words. No one even remotely connected with the case could have fouled it up so badly.

In the glorious history of football at Wink, only two schools hold advantages over the Wildcats. Seminole holds a 1-0 mark against Wink, while Plainshas won two of two. And both Cowboy triumphs came last season over Wink's bi-district champs, one a regular season affair and the other in the regional playoff.

A visitor to this office the other day told me that people in Wink have drawn red circles around the Sept. 22 date on their calendars.

Jim Cooke has asked me to refer to him as Jim---and not as J. E.---when his name is put into print. Unless I forget some time, it'll be Jim from now on.

Andrews, one of the state's fastest growing counties, now aims that it has lost 400 in population since the 1960 census. The city of Andrews, which once boasted it would have a 1970 population of 30,000, now admits that it will be happy to settle for the 11,000-plus it now has.

Three Elections Face Plains Voters

School, City Officers, Senator to Be Chosen

Plains area voters will cast ballots in three important elections between Saturday and Tuesday. Scheduled Saturday is the annual school election, at which three trustees will be named to two-year terms. Balloting will be held in the school library. Polls open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Candidates for trustee positions are Olen Edwards and Garland Swann, both incumbents, and C. L. Gayle, H. W. Taunton, Pat Henard and Bill Gray.

The three candidates receiving the greatest number of votes will be elected. On Tuesday, two elections are scheduled. Three city councilmen and a city judge will be named. City residents will vote in the City Hall between 8 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Candidates for the three posts are Joe Curry, Buford Duff, Ralph McClellan, J. E. Cooke and E. O. Winkles, incumbent. G. P. Beane, incumbent, is the lone candidate for judge.

The three council candidates receiving the greatest number of votes will be declared winners of the three positions. All five of the candidates are seeking their first elective terms to the council. Winkles has served since December's special election.

Tuesday's other election is the special state election to name a senator for the unexpired term of Lyndon Johnson, who resigned when he was elected vice president.

Voters will cast their ballots in the court house between 8 a. m. and 7 p. m. Seventy candidates are seeking the Senate seat, but none has visited this area. Senator William A. Blakley, serving presently as an appointee of the governor, is one of several "major" candidates.

Attorney General Will Wilson and Fort Worth Congressman Jim Wright also carry the "major" label. Confident of a runoff spot is John Tower, lone Republican in the field. Tower was an unsuccessful candidate to unseat Johnson in November's general election, but he polled more votes than any Republican candidate ever received in Texas.

There has been no organized activity here in behalf of any candidate. The man on the street shows little preference in the upcoming election. Odds are, however, that Blakley and Wilson will lead the field in Yoakum County. Tower has considerable support

Regardless of who comes out on top, Tuesday's election will be strictly a preliminary for the runoff battle which appears inevitable. With 70 candidates in the running, the odds against any one getting a majority are about a million to one.

C-C Awaits Decision On Petition

The Plains Chamber of Commerce has adopted a sit-tight situation in regard to the proposed $195,000 hospital addition to the county clinic here.

A petition calling for a bond election was filed with county commissioners two weeks ago, but legality of the petition has been questioned.

County Attorney Vernon Townes told a C-C committee Monday that he would send a copy of the petition to bonding attorneys for examination.

Questions arose concerning the wording of the petition. Chamber officials still are hopeful that they can get an all-clear on the present petition. If not, they say they will file another as quickly as they can possibly do so.

Stanford Rites Held Here Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mamie Stanford, 83, a resident of the Allred community 46 years, were held at 3 p. m. Friday in First Baptist Church.

The Rev. R. H. Meixner, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Cliff Hinson.

Mrs. Stanford died at the home of a son, Hershel, with whom she lived, at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday. She and her late husband homesteaded their farm in the Allred area.

She was a member of the Methodist Church of Plains. Survivors other than the son include two brothers, Jim Gallatin of Austin and John Gabor, Okla.; and five sisters, Mrs. Lela Burney of Brownfield, Mrs. Dillie Horner of Colorado City, Mrs. Bessie Lacker of Austin, Mrs. Clara Calahan of Fort Worth and Mrs. Lola Curtis of San Antonio.

Burial was in the Plains Cemetery under direction of Singleton Funeral Home of Denver City. Pallbearers were Jack Cleveland, H. C. Long, Lefty Spears, Bill Story, Jesse Criswell and T. C. Hennington.

County Gins 23,827 Bales Cotton

Yoakum County gins processed 23,827 bales of cotton from the 1960 crop, according to figures released this week by the US Department of Commerce in Washington.

The 1960 figure was far short of the 1959 mark of 31,787 bales, but followed the pattern established throughout Texas.

Terry County, for instance, was down to 114,252 from the 1959 figure of 132,438. Gaines County was 43,963, compared with 48,809 in 1959. Lea County, N. M., dropped from 43,802 to 23,703.

Dedication of the new Methodist Church sanctuary will be April 23.

At Stanford Park

Sunrise Services Set Sunday

Stanford Park will be the scene early Sunday for the annual Easter sunrise services, sponsored annually by the Plains Ministerial Alliance.

The Public is invited to attend the services, which begin at sunrise, approximately 6:30 a. m. The program will last less than an hour.

Four Plains churches, the First Baptist, First Methodist, First Christian and Assembly of God, are taking part in the Easter program.

The Rev. E. L. Witt, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, will deliver a sermonette on the Cross.

Bringing the sermonette on the Resurrection will be the Rev. Frank Weedon, state evangelist who is now holding a revival at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. R. H. Meixner, pastor of the Methodist Church, will give the invocation. The Rev. Johnnie Moore, pastor of the First Christian Church, will bring the benediction. He also is in charge of the program.

A choir composed of members of all four churches will furnish the music with Mrs. Clarence Witt, accordionist, accompanying. Scripture reading will be by the Rev. C. J. Coffman, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The sunrise service is just one of numerous religious activities planned Sunday by local churches. The Baptist revival closes an eight-day meeting with services Sunday morning and Sunday evening.

Special services have been set by the First Christian Church where services begin at 11:15 a. m. Sunday School classes will be dismissed early so that children may take part in an Easter egg hunt before church.

Candlelight communion services are planned at the First Christian Church Friday night at 7:30. Everyone is invited.

Coffman Gets Cage Letter

Walter Coffman was one of nine freshmen at Hardin-Simmons University to be awarded a basketball letter for the past season.

Coffman, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Coffman, is a 1960 graduate of Plains High School where he was an all-state basketball player. He also earned a football letter last fall. He was a regular in both sports.

CHAMPIONS---Dan Houck, left, and Roy Guetersloh won New Mexico state Go-Kart championships at Clovis Sunday. Houck won the B standard and Guetersloh took top honors in A super.

Gardeners Have Program on Birds

The Plains Dirt Gardeners could virtually hear "The Music in the Air", theme for the month of March, when Billie J. Van Tries, manager of the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge, spoke to them at the regular monthly meeting in the Clubroom.

Mr. Van Tries showed colored slides of many activities carried on at the Refuge, especially emphasizing the banding of the Sandhill Cranes. The birds are banded in an effort to ascertain the exact flyways and seasonal territories of the cranes. The banding is not an easy task and trapping them for this purpose is accomplished by firing cannons which throw a net over them.

The South Plains has for centuries been their ancestral wintering home and the Refuge has been their sanctuary since it was created in 1935 with the crane population reaching an all time peak of 52,000 this year. This represents the largest known concentration of cranes in the United States. The cranes arrive at the Refuge in mid-October and begin to leave in early March.

Mrs. Roy Stockstill, director of the program entitled, "Conservation of Birds," also presented Mrs. Roger Harvey, who told many interesting facts of birds, including the important part they play in the production of food and clothing and how they helped in eliminating health hazards by consuming mosquitoes and other insects. Directions were given for reporting the finding of a banded bird and a formula that has been successful in the feeding of orphaned baby birds.

Much interest was shown by those present in the various educational exhibits that were on display.

Mrs. Leon Lewis, delegate to the district meeting in Lubbock, reported to the club of her attendance.

Rooms were decorated with many beautiful arrangements of early flowering spring bulbs and flowers by the hostesses, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. Ed Hunter, Mrs. Sallie Forrest, Mrs. G. D. Kennedy and Mrs. Thelma Ellis.

Frosted punch and cookies were served from an attractive table to approximately 30 members and guests.

CARD OF THANKS
Words are not adequate to express our gratitude for the many kind and thoughtful deeds shown us during the sudden loss of our loved one. May we express our sincere thanks to all of those who helped in any way. We know that this is just a small way, but may it be accepted from the bottoms of our hearts. The beautiful flowers and cards have meant so much in our hour of need.

How About You?

MAURICE CAIN, who lives 3 miles south west of Ropesville, is a booster of Liquid Fertilizers. "To me it's the SOLUTION to my fertilizer problem. I am putting down 60-lbs. of Nitrogen, 48-lbs. of Phosphate and 8-lbs. of Potash on my irrigated cotton land. I definitely feel that SOLUTIONS will give as good or better results than other types of fertilizers if used properly. I particularly like the uniform application I get with my tail-wheel drive squeeze pump applicator. I'm rigged up so that I can side-dress and cultivate in one operation later in the season. I can also see a big labor and time-saving by being able to apply more acres per day as compared to other kinds of fertilizers," said Mr. Cain.

Cain is farming 1200 acres—500 acres of cotton and 700 acres of grain. Last year he averaged about 1 1/4 bales per acre... "and I would have made more had I side-dressed at the right time. I feel very strongly that in order to realize the most out of fertilizers they must be applied at the right time. I was late on side-dressing last year, consequently I didn't get the full benefit that I would have gotten had I been a few days earlier," said Cain. Why don't you do as Cain has done—see your local Lee-Quid Sol-U-Phos LIQUID FERTILIZER dealer... he has a SOLUTION for any Fertilizer Problem.

Easter Program Held by Tsa Mo Ga

Mrs. Garland Swann, program director of Tsa Mo Ga, gave an interesting talk on "Ancient Tales of Easter" Monday.

Among the many beautiful legends that have been passed from one generation to another are some which center upon the death and Resurrection of Our Lord. Some of them strive to explain changes which are supposed to have occurred in a few more familiar birds, flowers, trees, fish and animals, for their efforts to help Christ during His hours of torture.

"The Easter Story in Art" was shown through colored slides by Mrs. C. F. McCargo, and narrated by Mrs. P. W. St. Romain. The glorious story of Easter was inspired from the many works of art in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C. by the personal interpretations of various artists of the past five centuries.

Raymond S. Stites, curator in charge of educational work of the National Gallery, prepared the story.

Centering the table was an oversize pink Easter egg filled with Easter eggs, with pink appointments. An assortment of sizes and colors of open face sandwiches, lime frosted punch and pink angel food cake were served to members and guest, and to Mrs. McCargo and Mrs. T. R. Nurdyke, hostesses. Spring flowers of Easter motif centered the officers' table.

FIRST CHOICE of TEXAS VOTERS

Senator William A.

BLAKLEY

★ SENATOR BLAKLEY is the winner of the Texas Poll directed by Joe Belden and subscribed to by 21 leading Texas newspapers. He also is the first choice in many other surveys and polls conducted throughout Texas.

SENATOR BLAKLEY'S ACTION PROGRAM FOR TEXAS

$100 MILLION MORE ANNUALLY FOR SCHOOLS: A home-rule aid-to-education plan that would return to each state 5 per cent of federal income taxes for support of locally administered public schools. In Texas this would mean over $100 million more annually for our schools—without federal interference!

INCOME TAX RELIEF FOR PRESSED PARENTS: Also, for families putting their children through school, additional income tax exemptions of $1,200 for college or university student, $400 for son or daughter in high school. Parents deserve a tax break!

A HELPING HAND FOR OUR SENIOR CITIZENS: A bill to raise ceiling on what Social Security recipients may earn without being penalized. Senator Blakley would raise ceiling from $1,200 to $1,800 a year to help many retired persons.

SHARP REDUCTION IN FOREIGN OIL IMPORTS: Reduce by one half the amount of foreign oil being brought into U. S. Texas' economy, schools, state government, all suffer when foreign oil floods market, causes Texas production to shut down.

INDEPENDENCE! WE MUST KEEP IT ALWAYS: Retain Connally Amendment to World Court. United States should maintain its sovereignty without question. Senator Blakley is fighting against repeal of this vital guarantee.

LET'S KEEP SENATOR BLAKLEY IN THE U.S. SENATE

Local Go-Karters Take New Mexico Race Titles

Roy Guetersloh and Dan Houck brought home the New Mexico Go-Kart championships from Clovis Sunday.

Guetersloh, starting in last position, came up to win in a photo finish on his Go-Kart 800 powered by a Mack 10 motor. Houck, starting in fifth position, won the twin engine race with his Simplex Challenger, powered by dual Poulan engines.

Another Plains karter, Sonny Brantley, won third place in the twin Mack engine race.

Competition was stiff with more than 100 karters from Amarillo to Albuquerque. Plains karters will tackle the Buffalo Lakes Road Race to be held in Lubbock April 16.

A 1960 graduate of Plains High School, she entered the Women's Army Corps last October and completed basic training at Fort McClellan, Alabama.

Mom and Pop Banquet Held in School Cafeteria

The annual FHA Mom and Pop barbecue was held March 21 in the school cafeteria. Theme of the evening was "Gunsmoke."

Roger Harvey gave the invocation, followed by the welcome given by Kaye Spencer. G. D. Kennedy gave the response.

The theme was carried out in a skit with Ronny Stockstill portraying Chester; Tom Warren, FHA Beau, was Matt Dillon; Jerry Bob Warren played Doc; Annette Sudderth was Rosie; Marsha White was Kitty and Carolyn Murphy was Can-Can Kate.

Miss Sudderth, as Rosie, was narrator of the style show as she recalled the models of FHA girls back East on a recent trip. She also told of a great barber-shop quintet she heard while she was in in New York.

The quintet, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Young, Odus Walser, Roy Stockstill and Bob Gentry, sang "Sidewalks of New York."

Following the style show Shirley Gayle and Billie Jean Coke presented an inspiring devotion of The Lord's Prayer. Sue Bookout gave a talk on "Why Take Home Economics."

Roberta Snodgrass, FHA president, issued the junior and chapter degrees of achievements to Letha Watson, Sue Bookout, Alice Hinkle, Roberta Snodgrass, Chick Coke Sandra Lewis, Carolyn Murphy Marsha White, Paula Tidwell and D'Lynn McGinty.

Recognition was given to Shirley Gayle, Annette Sudderth and Kaye Spencer, girls who will receive state degrees next month.

The session was closed with the FHA closing ritual and singing of the FHA prayer song.

FHA Girls Attend Area Meeting

Five Future Homemakers and their advisor attended the area FHA meeting in Odessa Saturday.

Attending were Letha Watson, Alice Hinkle, Chick Coke, Shirley Gayle, Kaye Spencer and Advisor Miss Carolyn Nelson.

The meeting was opened by the area president, Judy Dorsey and presentation of colors was given by the Air Scout Squadron No. 74 of Odessa.

The morning session was filled with welcomes, roll call, relaxers, recognition of degree applicants and a short program on the theme of "Understanding Our Neighbors." Members of the International Club of Odessa brought the program.

The afternoon session consisted of a beautiful style show, book review, special music of Exodus, introduction of honorary members and installation of officers for the coming year.

Plains Student Attends Retreat

Jeanine St. Romain is one of 61 students and staff members of Eastern New Mexico University who will participate in the 12th annual Leaders' Retreat at Cloudcroft April 9-11. The retreat takes 54 students and seven faculty members away from the campus to study and discuss all aspects of student leadership.

"Wives can find spring-cleaning aids at the grocery, the hardware store and out on the golf course."
