Community Center Building Proposed For City

Survey Cites Industry Enticement With Plan

One of the improvements for the City of Muleshoe which will also be of benefit to county residents as well, is a proposed Community Center building.

City Councilmen have often heard request made by social and civic groups that Muleshoe find a way to provide a meeting place for both regularly scheduled events and special events.

There is not such a building in Muleshoe for public use. American Legion Hall is rented for many activities, the Fellowship Halls of Churches are used, school cafeterias, community rooms of the First National Bank, Muleshoe State Bank and Bailey County Electric Cooperative.

These are made available for public use by appointment, due to the foresight of the business itself.

However, most cities the size of Muleshoe do have a common meeting place, a community center.

There is presently no location for clubs to meet except in the homes of members, is the most voiced complaint of the women's clubs.

The bond issue which will be voted upon September 10 will be including $60,000 in General Service Bonds for a Community Center.

In the Capital Improvements program made for the City Council and City Planning Commission by Kenneth W. Larsen and Associated states: "Muleshoe is in need of a community center which could serve not only as a public meeting place or a space which might be rented to private groups, but also for various types of indoor community recreation."

This quotation from the Comprehensive Plan points up this project. Such a building could also be used for dances, for musical gatherings, and plays. Civic clubs could have their luncheon meetings in this type of building.

The city now has no community center as such, and no recreational facilities are available. Political meetings must be scheduled in various types of buildings, among other events.

School Starts, Labor Day $ Day Monday

Monday, September 2, might well be marked as a day with a three-fold meaning. It is the first day of the 1968-69 school term for students attending Muleshoe schools, it is Labor Day and it is also Dollar Day in Muleshoe.

While some observe it as a holiday, others will be getting all settled in their classrooms, many for the very first time.

During the same time, local merchants will be putting special back-to-school price tags on merchandise and Mothers, with the small fry in school will again be free to look over these specials.

School starting on Labor Day, takes away a holiday set aside as a legal holiday for working people in the United States and Canada many years ago. Only banks and government offices will be closed for this holiday.

Proposed Community Center Who Must Apply For Ballot

Voters who have lived in Texas less than a year must apply for a ballot during a 15-day period beginning Friday, September 6, if they want to vote for President and Vice President in the coming general election, Hazel Gilbreath announced today.

Applicants must appear in person at the county clerk's office. This will be the first time that persons having less than a year's residence in the state will be able to vote in a presidential election, Hazel Gilbreath said.

A law passed by the Texas Legislature last year permits a voter who moved to Texas from some other state less than a year before general election day to vote for President and Vice President, but for no other offices, if he will have lived in Texas at least 60 days on election day.

In order to vote, he must possess all the qualifications required of electors under Texas law except the ordinary residence requirements, and it must also be shown that he was either a qualified elector in another state immediately before his removal to Texas or that he would have been eligible to vote in the presidential election in the state where he formerly lived if he had remained there until election day.

Hazel Gilbreath said that a person who had been issued a voter registration certificate, voter identification card, or document showing that he was a registered voter in the state from which he moved should take this document with him when he goes to the county clerk's office to apply for a ballot. If he does not have written proof of his registration, it will be necessary for the clerk to obtain verification of his voting eligibility from the voter registrar or other appropriate election official at the place of his former residence before he will be accepted for voting.

Applications must be filed with the clerk by 5 o'clock on Friday, September 20. However, the voters will not actually vote until the period of October 21-November 1, when they will return to the clerk's Dana Dianne Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcy C. Moore and Billy J. Darnell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Darnell, were united in marriage in an evening ceremony at the First Methodist Church, Friday, August 30.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Royce Clay, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, from Hobart, Okla. Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was attired in an appliqued white silk organza gown, featuring an empire waist with an A-line skirt over taffeta. It was offset by a Chantilly lace and jewel scalloped neckline with long tapered lace sleeves and tiny covered buttons. The remarkable Watteau train was attached at the shoulders by small taffeta bows and complimented by an elbow length silk illusion veil with a pearled rose headpiece. She carried a bouquet of a white cattaleya orchid with light pink roses, lilies of the valley and peqeo.

Style Show Plans Near Completion

With "That Night in September" to be presented less than a week from now on the night of September 6, preparations are nearing completion for the seventh annual style show to be presented by the Llano Estacado Civic Club.

The style show will be presented Friday, September 6 at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church. Participating merchants include Fashion Shop, St. Clairs, Sears, Cobbs, Montgomery Ward, Sweetheart Lane, Dot's Shop and Allison Shoes.

"To successfully complete any project, there must be a great deal of planning and organization," said Publicity Chairman Darlene Henry.

"One committee used during our show that has one of the hardest jobs," she continued, "is the decorating committee. After our style show has been named, this committee must do the decorating."

The committee this year is headed by Jaqueta White. Committee members are Pat King, Diane Heathington and Margaret Kimbrough.

This year the committee plans to use an outdoor patio for the general decorating theme. They have made a backdrop of a house, and plan to use outdoor furniture, flowers and shrubs to complete the scene.

"This committee plans all phases of decorations to be used, have all materials on hand and on the afternoon before the show, the entire membership gathers to help put everything in place," said Mrs. Henry. "Lots of work and headaches go into this committee but in the end, the decorations are so effective, they are well worth all the hard work. The decorations must have a lot of thought and planning as to what will work, and be pretty, also we must consider the cost."

"The decorations could be a major expense in our show, but with careful planning this can be avoided. The decorating committee is a 'must' to a beautiful and successful style show."

Mrs. Henry concluded with "This year, Arlene Phelps has very graciously consented to be the narrator for our show. Our entertainment this year will be provided by Kathy Williams in a most delightful skit of songs accompanying herself on her ukelele and Nelda Finley will entertain with piano selections."

Elinor Yerby will assist with stage makeup and Southwestern Public Service Company is providing spotlights for the stage.

Door prizes to be drawn for at the close of the show will be given by Tri-County Savings and Loan, Henry Insurance Agency, Western Drug, Lambert Cleaners and Lindsey Jewelry.

Tickets are available at $1 each from any member of the Llano Estacado Civic Club.

Letters From Readers

Dear Mr. Hall:
I read with great interest the story of M.L. Carpenter as it was included in your August 18, 1968, Bailey County Journal. As you know, my father, A.X. Erickson, who is referred to in the M.L. Carpenter article, was the one who brought M.L. Carpenter into Bailey County, together with the Holts and some of the other pioneer families. My father is quite ill at the present time, but we are going to endeavor to reconstruct some of the early happenings in Muleshoe for submission to you for inclusion in your forthcoming book. My uncle, Stephen C. Hart, who lives in Lynchburg, Virginia, is the son of William

Hurt, who was the initial purchaser of the land that M.L. Carpenter eventually acquired through my father. As you look through the history of Block B, M.B.&B. Survey, you will see the name William Hurt predominately appearing. The history of his purchase is one that rings out the foresight and ability of my grandfather to recognize Bailey County for what it is today. My mother, Virginia Hurt Erickson, was the person for whom Virginia City was named. Virginia City, as you know, is now no more, but was the center of the early land promotions in Bailey County. I am going to endeavor to put the entire history together for you and will cause the narrative statement to reach you at the earliest time that I can. All best regards.

Very truly yours,
(s) W.H. Erickson
Denver, Colo.

Dear Sir,
What are some of us-we, the Muleshoe citizens-thinking of these days? More especially, what about the city manager and all the city councilmen; chamber of commerce manager, president and directors, as well as the industrial foundation committee; county officials, commissioners; and employees of all these governing bodies--past and present--and what about our so-called "civic" organizations (such as Lions, Rotary, Jaycees, Jaceettes, Women's Study Club, women's civics clubs like the MAWS, PTA, Llano Estacado, ESA), as well as teacher and school, youth, church organizations, et al.... How can they all - those should be the ones who can answer and explain and debate and educate us, the general public - how can they remain so quiet and publically "unconcerned" now, after all their careful study and planning, reports and call for an election for the Capital Improvements Program? I, for one, am concerned....

IT DIDN'T LAST LONG

All letters to the Editor of reasonable length are welcome and will be published. Letters to the Editor must be signed, however, names will be withheld upon request.

only meetings. Perhaps it is only their fishing trip, vacation, or crops or yards they are preoccupied with more than in performing one of the many challenging and worthy duties of their respective jobs... In their defense, the blame for lack of knowledge and understanding the bond issues does not rest solely among the so-called officialdom or civic-minded ones. It does rest squarely on the shoulders of every person (who, incidentally, does so elect the officialdoms and their employees). We must all remember that our one vote is a most important part of this our democratic way of living. EVERY INDIVIDUAL - the young and the old - must read, listen, ask about the bond issues, each and every point, pro and con. We are all "TOO BUSY" - be it at our desk, field, office, store, or job at home or school or church or club or bridge... ARE WE TOO BUSY to stop and study the bond issues? Are the officials and the civic-minded citizens so well-informed that none can think of a way to help educate some of us - the less active citizens of this town and area? What do we hire and elect our various officials for, if not to be of assistance to us all and to further the development and purpose of our area - Muleshoe and our communities neighbors? Why don't we all take the time to read, listen, watch, and then discuss this important Bond issue and all its ramifications? The Bible says "seek and you shall find..." How many of us perform our Christian convictions as well as moral and civic duties as well as we should? How many of us have thought of how these various issues of today will really effect us, our children tomorrow? Are we short-sighted, unconcerned, maybe even a little self-centered or "uneducated," that we continue to keep on trying to "only get by as we always have"?

Now in our defense, I must add that a lot of this county's citizens do keep up and are interested in not only their families, neighbors, church, schools, friends, or enemies, and even so of late - in national politics (which well we must with the November general election nigh upon us and the conventions just over.) Only an ordinary - kind of citizen am I, who prefers that you do not reveal my name at all - although it is not that I personally am ashamed to "stand up and be counted". Someone from your office phoned me, among the others, for your telephone survey recently. I told them a little of this then. Since they seemed to encourage "letters to the editor" to the Journal, I am so complying. I hope that you will feel free to use some of these sincere comments of mine. (And while I'm on that subject, who don't more of you other readers write you letters-pro or con, in these days of rapid changes and problems-whether national politics, international - state or local issues- even about some pats-on-the-back as well as complaints...?) If I can, so can others...

To Bill With Love

BY PAUL HARVEY

There is a gravestone in West Brookfield Cemetery, Massillon, Ohio. Until the Massillon Evening Independent drew my attention to that gravestone, I'd never heard of it. Now I will never forget it.

Five score years ago our forefathers were engaged in a great Un-Civil War. When young William Evans was summoned for duty in the Army, his brother, Johnny, could not stand the thought of separation.

They enlisted together; were assigned to Company K, Pennsylvania Volunteers Cavalry.

Johnny was made a messenger because he was a splendid horseman. The historians of the Battle of Gettysburg have paid glowing tribute to the daring messenger who dashed back and forth to and from headquarters through a hail of musket fire and a sustained barrage of cannon. Then, on one trip back to command HQ, during a momentary lull in the battle, Johnny, the hard-riding messenger, saw several members of the company huddled around a fallen comrade. With the six sense that brothers sometimes have, Johnny knew before he dismounted that the man bleeding there on the ground was his brother Bill, Johnny did not weep.

It is important that you remember this: though others did, brother Johnny dared not cry.

Instead, he grabbed his brother's musket from the fallen hands and placed its bayonet into the bloodstained mud to mark that place.

Moments later as the fighting resumed, Johnny, still dry-eyed, grabbed a saber. No more messenger now, he must replace his fallen brother in the front lines. Still dry-eyed, but venting his agonizing grief by swinging that saber with all his might, Johnny strode forth into the fray.

That night when the company remounted, Johnny tried with his cap to conceal the gash across his forehead - but an unstoppable trickle of blood betrayed the wound, a deep gash inflicted by an enemy saber.

Johnny, despite vigorous protests, was removed to a field hospital.

Then and there it was decided promptly that Johnny Evans would recover from the wound-but would never fight again.

After serving 18 months in the front lines, Johnny was returned to Daaville, Ohio, to live out his years. He is buried under that gravestone in that cemetery west of Massillon.

But this is THE REST OF THE STORY:

Johnny Evans, who did not have to go to war but chose to, who refused to be separated from the brother he loved--Johnny Evans who spent 18 months in the front lines of that War Between the States just to stay beside his brother, William--was not his brother at all.

Johnny Evans, the greatest horseman in the Pennsylvania Volunteers, was no horseman, either.

For what they discovered in a field hospital on the fringe of the bloody fighting at Gettysburg was the reason Johnny had not dared to cry. That Johnny--to whom death was less bitter than separation--was Mary Owens.

Not Bill's brother, but his sweetheart, Copr. T-M 1968, Gen. Fea. Corp.

ON M16 RIFLE CONTRACTS

The General Accounting Office has upheld the legality of the Army's award of two new M16 rifle contracts without regard to price. The chairman of the GAO said he would seek legislation to require a price M16 rifle contracts without regard to price.

Now in our defense, I must add that a lot of this county's citizens do keep up and are interested in not only their families, neighbors, church, schools, friends, or enemies, and even so of late - in national politics (which well we must with the November general election nigh upon us and the conventions just over.) Only an ordinary - kind of citizen am I, who prefers that you do not reveal my name at all - although it is not that I personally am ashamed to "stand up and be counted". Someone from your office phoned me, among the others, for your telephone survey recently. I told them a little of this then. Since they seemed to encourage "letters to the editor" to the Journal, I am so complying. I hope that you will feel free to use some of these sincere comments of mine. (And while I'm on that subject, who don't more of you other readers write you letters-pro or con, in these days of rapid changes and problems-whether national politics, international - state or local issues- even about some pats-on-the-back as well as complaints...?) If I can, so can others...

In conclusion, let's all not forget that the almighty dollar still must be worked for, invested with, and spent, so that it will earn more, as well as just clothe, feed and entertain us. We must protect our investments in our businesses, farms, homes, churches and communities here in the Muleshoe area...Otherwise somewhere in that un-foreseeable future our great-grandchildren (say, our own children even) will KNOW what (pardon the expression for I am one too) "country people" and not-thinking- beyond the present people some of us, their ancestors, we of this 1968 era what we really are today, in the backward glare of tomorrow.

Let us all work together- harder than ever- to study, understand, and then vote our convictions on September 10th and then in November also, Yours, mine and our future depends on our vote. Let's voice an educated "Yes" for the bond issues, a "Yes" for progress of this great Muleshoe area. Thank you for your consideration of my letter, for I am just a very sincere, concerned citizen of Muleshoe.

Name withheld by request. More food-stamp funds urged by Freeman.

Nixon & The Bomb

One of the interesting reactions to the nomination of Richard Nixon by republicans is the recent attack on him by Nguyen Thanh Le of North Vietnam, in Paris. Le, finding Nixon's views on the war "impudent," says the G.O.P. nominee told delegates in Miami that he would use nuclear weapons, if necessary to bring Hanoi to its knees.

Nixon's press aide, Herb Klein, replied Nixon had never mentioned use of the bomb, either to delegates or newsmen. Nevertheless, newspapers in Britain and France have printed stories about the Nixon threat. The alleged statement thus might become a campaign issue if Nixon opponents can make it one.

In this connection, it is interesting to recall 1952, when the nation was bogged down in the Korean War and elected another Republican, Dwight Eisenhower, President. Eisenhower ended the fighting in 1953, his first year in office, and one of his methods was to hint to the North Koreans that unless a settlement was achieved the U.S. would use whatever weapons were necessary to end it.

No one is in favor of the use of nuclear weapons, nor should any American throw the bomb around lightly, or the threat of it. And though Mr. Nixon almost certainly made no bomb threat in Miami, it should be remembered that this country possesses the means to end the war quickly, if necessary and if no reasonable negotiated peace can be achieved. This constitutes a diplomatic and psychological trump of considerable value.

"Riding through the beautiful rugged country on the ranch was fun, however, it had its moments of high excitement when the horses came upon places where they talked along the rocky trail," one rider said. Approximately 10 of the group which gathered at the Ranch remained in camp during the day and spent their time playing cards and hunting arrowheads.

The group also hunted wild plums and wild grapes. The 4-H members attending from the Progress 4-H group La Vera, Joey and Curtis Carpenter; John, Brian and Gary Hunter; Mike and Hall Tibbets; Benny and Connie Floyd; Terry, Tim, Tommy and Curtis Wheeler; Bobby and Kenny Henderson and Randy Fossey.

Q - I am getting ready to file an application for social security benefits since I will be retiring soon. What do I need to bring with me when I visit the social security office?

A - When you apply for your social security benefits, you should take your social security card, birth certificate or other evidence of your age, and, if available, evidence of your total earnings for your most recent year of work. However, if you do not have all of these documents, do not delay filing your application. Any evidence needed can be submitted after the claim is made.

My opinion is that the future good or bad conduct of a child depends upon the mother.

- * HELPED the farmers in the state to be better informed on how farm income legislation would affect them, so that they would be alert to changes which might be detrimental.
- * WAS RESPONSIBLE for developing as good a four-year Farm Program as could possibly be passed through the Congress considering the opposition of one large farm organization and several cotton organizations.
- * GOT the concept of direct payments to the farmer firmly built into the programs for wheat, feed grain and cotton.
- * SOUGHT restoration of budgetary cuts that could cripple the effectiveness of the 1965 Farm Bill and damage existing and future programs for soil conservation, Farmers Home Administration, rural housing, school lunch programs, and rural electric cooperatives.
- * FOUGHT for and was effective in retaining the 7% investment tax credit on up to $20,000 worth of farm equipment.
- * FOUGHT for and was successful in getting revision of skip-row regulations removing the penalty, and the review of inequitable projected yield allocations tied to the skip-row planting pattern.
- * URGED and was successful in getting the 2.11 cents increase in cotton payments announced for 1967.
- * PROTESTED state policies permitting CCC sales of cotton in competition with sales of current stocks and was successful in influencing USDA to announce a program for 1967 allowing farmers more headroom to sell their 1967 crop.
- * PROVIDED its members with insurance services of all kinds including low cost Group Life and group hospitalization through Blue Cross. Made available low cost direct drug service to its Senior Members.
- * Is the only farm organization in the state that has provided constructive support for programs that the farmers and rural communities need.
