

MOORE Or Less

by Johnnie Moore

Someone coined a very apt phrase the other day when they said, "It takes a lot of unity to make a community."

Out Michigan Way, a 13 year old youngster was asked to make a list of good dental practices. Here's his list: (1) Brush your teeth after every meal; (2) See your dentist twice a year; (3) Stay away from water fountains where the kids push.

Someone has very wisely said, "A joint-checking account is never overdrawn by the wife, it's just under-deposited by the husband."

We looked up the word sportsman in the dictionary the other day just to see what the formal definition was. It might surprise some that the qualities that make up a sportsman are not necessarily that the high score be in his column, but according to our dictionary a sportsman is one who exhibits qualities especially esteemed in those who engage in sports, such as fairness, self-control, freedom from mercenary motives etc; A sportsmanlike person.

In all fairness, we have to say that most certainly, most individuals who we see regularly participate in sports events as well as the spectators do possess these qualities. But, every now and then, we all have occasion to see an exhibition of anything but these qualities in individuals who think of themselves as class A sportsmen or class A fans of sports events.

We bought a real nice fountain pen once. It was a fine pen that wrote real well. Brings to mind some of the instructions that came with it. It said "If the pen runs too freely, that is a sign that it is almost empty."

Sometimes, we wonder if this might not apply to individuals as well as to fountain pens. Maybe when we're just a little too free to spout off about being robbed by the referee or unfair tactics on the part of the other team, it's a sign our grey-matter container is almost empty.

Oh well, it was just a thought.

Outsiders Win Own Tourney

Plains outsider's basketball team managed to win their own tournament here last week against some mighty stiff competition.

Other teams participating in the contests were Denver City, Seminole and Lamesa.

Plains wound up first place winner after defeating the Denver City Independents on Thursday night by a 32 point margin and after defeating Lamesa in the finals on Saturday night by a very slim two points. In the finals tilt, the Lamesa five led through all the periods of play as follows:

First quarter, Lamesa 15 - Plains 10; Second quarter, Lamesa 28 - Plains 24; Third period, Lamesa 35 - Plains 34 and last quarter found the score tied at 47 all, necessitating a three-minute overtime period to determine the winner.

Plains to Have Dollar Day this Month

First Monday Sale Set For February 5th

Several Plains merchants have banded together to provide the Plains area patrons with, in many opinions, a very fine thing, a local Plains Dollar Day.

Merchants participating in this event, which is at present scheduled to take place on the first Monday of each month, all are running Dollar Day ads in this issue of The Record. The ads may be easily identified in the issue, as each Dollar Day ad is being run in red this month.

The feeling and opinion among a great many Plains merchants is that the patrons of this area, for the most part, will certainly trade at home if they are given the proper opportunity. This has been demonstrated time and again as new businesses providing new services and products have come into the Plains trade area, area patrons have responded by trading at home with home-town merchants.

Many very fine Dollar Day specials can be found this coming Monday, February 5, at the following business establishments:

Hawkins Food Market, Plains Frozen Foods, The Elson Shop, Moore and Oden, Dorthea Style Shop, Glover's Cleaners, Curry-Edwards Pharmacy, White Auto Store, and Cogburn Young Hardware & Appliance.

Area patrons are urged to shop the Dollar Day ads and help to make Plains' Dollar Days fine thing for the community each month. Be watching the Record Dollar Day ads right before each first Monday of each month.

Court Minutes

Contrary to some rumors which have been floating around town the last couple of days, the petition for remodeling and modernizing the Yoakum County Hospital in Denver City was not presented for action on the part of the Yoakum County Commissioners this week, according to the court minutes.

Plans for the additions and improvements were brought to Plains and shown to the Commissioners by Mrs. McMahon, the hospital administrator, Mr. Jessie Allen, Mr. Walter Olivio and the architect who drew up the plans for this improvement as well as the plans for the unit that was proposed for Plains almost a year ago.

Other business considered and tended to by the Court included a motion by Commissioner Bookout and seconded by Commissioner Loe that bills as presented by the County Auditor be approved and ordered paid.

A second motion was made by Commissioner Brown and seconded by Commissioner Cotton that the First National Bank of Fort Worth be and is hereby requested and authorized to surrender the following securities to the Plains State Bank: 5 U. S. Treasury Bills, Nos. 9372462/66 and one Bill No. 4334865.

Motion was made by Commissioner Brown and seconded by Bookout that the current Easement agreement be approved.

Diamond-edge metal slicers have been developed that will slice metal to a thickness of one-half millionth of an inch.

Mother's March is Success

Chairman of the Yoakum County March of Dimes committee, Dick McGinty, has announced that the Mothers March held this week was termed a fine success.

From the Mother's March alone, $158.11 was collected to be turned over to the National Foundation to be used in the battle against Birth Defects and Arthritis.

Participating in the march were representatives from Iota Pi, Tsa Mo Ga, Girl Scouts, Plains Chapter of FHA and Ladies of The First Christian Church.

Persons wishing to donate who might not have been home during the Mother's March are urged to contact McGinty about particulars. Also, there can be found in most business establishments in Plains, displays and coin receptacles for placing donations.

Prospects Up For Doctor

Word was received this week from official sources that Dr. Clyde A. Lynn, present holder of the lease of Yoakum County Clinic in Plains, has agreed very graciously to allow the contract and lease in existence to be re-written in such a way that Plains might be implemented in their efforts to secure adequate medical care during his absence.

Lynn flew in last week-end to discuss the matter with local officials and is reported to have agreed to a co-lease arrangement of the local clinic.

A doctor in a nearby New Mexico City has stated that tentatively, he is interested in practicing in Plains and that the arrangement does sound satisfactory to him. He also stated that he is willing and will try to make the necessary arrangements, until such time as he might actually move to Plains on a permanent basis, to begin coming to Plains two or three days a week with the possibility of a fellow physician coming an additional two or three days a week, thereby providing Plains with practically full time medical care.

Scout Week Begins 7th

With Boy Scout Week only a few days away, scheduled for February 7-13, Plains Scout Troop 778 is set up for a real flurry of activities.

This Saturday a short expedition will be made into the Plains country-side to enable many of the scouts to pass some tests in their advancement work which can only be done well out of doors. Plans are for the Troop to leave from behind the high school band hall by 8:30 on Saturday morning and to eat their noon meal in the country and to return late Saturday afternoon. Scoutmasters Gene Young and Johnnie Moore will accompany the scouts and give instructions the entire day.

Today, Thursday, the Lions Club was to have been feted by representatives from the troop including the Scoutmasters to a program highlighting the accomplishments and activities of the troop in the last few months.

On their next meeting night, Monday, Feb. 5, the scouts will have a very full meeting which will be filled mainly with plans for the balance of the month's activities which will include a Board of Review conducted by the Scoutmasters and other members of the local Scout Board, each of which are members of the local Lions Club, the sponsoring organization of the Plains troop.

On the 19th day of the month, those scouts who show themselves qualified at the Board of Review will be awarded their applicable ranks at a very (Continued on last page.)

Salt Water Pollution Problem Aired in Open Meeting

An open meeting was held last Tuesday evening in the District Court Room of Yoakum County Courthouse in Plains by persons interested in working toward a solution of the possible salt water pollution problem which is at present being urgently considered by many area citizens.

Mr. Ed Reed, a noted area hydrologist, located at Midland was present to answer questions of all those present and to recommend what course of action might be followed to prevent any further pollution in the area.

There were 36 area citizens present at the meeting in addition to Mr. Reed. Reed pointed out many facts in the situation which were of great interest to the area in this matter, some of which were somewhat contradictory to the thinking of some individuals.

One instance in particular was the fact that salt water as it seeps through the ground, does not lose its salinity. In fact, Reed pointed out, most of the water and practically all of the salt will penetrate to the fresh water table at a rather alarming rate of speed, and that none of the salt is filtered out of the brine solution as it seeps through the ground. Rate of travel from the top of the ground to the (Continued on last page.)

fresh water supply is usually so rapid, Reed went on to say that it normally takes as little as two weeks to reach the supply.

After it reaches the water reservoir strata, the salt water which is heavier than fresh water goes to the bottom of the water table and is carried along with the fresh water supply, about the normal rate of seepage to eight inches per day or about 200 feet per year.

Some too have leaned toward the position that the salt water would evaporate before it had much of a chance to seep into the ground and finally the fresh water table. As Reed pointed out, this has been disproven many times by putting liners in dump pits. After the liners are installed, it is always the case that it does not evaporate at any appreciable rate, but must then be pumped from the pits and hauled away.

Reed was questioned by a group as to the cost of such an undertaking as it would take to get this area declared an area in which only approved disposal wells might be used. A county basis for the project was what was considered, and Reed stated that to cover the entire county would probably necessitate from $7,500 to $9,000. Opinion of the group was that this was not an exorbitant amount to ward off such problems as would exist if a great deal of Yoakum County water does become polluted.

It was also voiced as several members of the group stated in various ways that the project should quite conceivably be handled by the County Commissioners Court with the (Continued on last page.)

Library Hours to Change

February 4-10 Designated Texas Farm Bureau Week

AUSTIN--(Spl)-- Governor Price Daniel has proclaimed the week of Feb. 4 - 10 "Farm Bureau Week" in Texas and has called upon citizens of the state to cooperate in the recognition and observance of the week. "to publicize the important phase of our Texas Membership drive activities by county Farm Bureaus over the state will be concentrated during the special week, according to Millard Shivers of Waco, Texas Farm Bureau organization director.

A big chairman's rally Jan. 23 in Austin kicked off the state farm organization's membership drive for 1962. The TFB, largest farm organization in the state and fourth largest in the nation, had 82,362 members in 1961. Objective of this year's membership drive activities is to reach a new record in membership for the tenth consecutive year.

In his proclamation, Gov. Daniel described agriculture as "vital to the economic well-being of our State and Nation," and pointed out that more than one-third of all people in Texas derive their livelihood directly or indirectly from agriculture. "The abundance of food and fiber, produced ever more economically by an increasingly efficient agricultural industry, helps assure our citizens of the highest standard of living in the world," he declared. Continuing, Daniel said: "The farmers and ranchers of Texas, through their organized efforts, have campaigned by democratic procedures for a voice in the affairs of the state and for improvements in the economy and government of Texas.

"These organized groups recognize the necessity and supreme importance of having an informed, prosperous and organized agriculture in our State.

"THEREFORE, I, as Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby proclaim February 4 - 10, 1962 as FARM BUREAU WEEK in Texas, and urge our citizens to cooperate in the recognition and observance of this week in an effort to publicize this important phase of our Texas life."

What's new in a lot of physicians' offices: the diagraph chart. The chart, a sheet of paper with outlines of the human skeleton, glands and organs, was developed on the theory that it will help doctors to explain visually an ailment to a patient.

Van Liew Announces Candidacy

R. J. (Junior) Van Liew, local Plains businessman filed his intention this week to be a candidate for the office of Constable of Justice Precinct No. 1 of Yoakum County, a job which, at present, is unfilled.

Van Liew, in making his formal announcement, stated that he feels that he is qualified for the post through both experience and his being already somewhat employed in this field.

He went on to say that the vote and consideration for his candidacy on the part of each citizen would be sincerely appreciated.

Many farmers are preparing their land, some to blow and some to plant. Crop residue in the form of stalks or straw will help cut down on the wind movement if left on the surface but if shredded let blow, it only shows you which way the wind blew from. Stalks are good for the soil and they don't have to be completely turned under to do some good.

Opening Statement of Dennis Taylor Candidate For Congress

"Feeling a high degree of personal responsibility, I offer myself as a candidate for the nomination to the place of Representative of the 19th congressional District in the Republican primary.

In rising to the defense of my family and its freedoms and to the defense of our national liberties, I invoke the wisdom and direction of Almighty God in my every decision, that I may be a worthy citizen of His Kingdom and of our nation.

"I believe that candidates for public office and employees of government at all levels should state their beliefs with respect to capitalism, socialism, and communism.

"I believe that the democratic principles of free enterprise and human freedom upon which our nation was founded are responsible for its greatness.

"I believe in the right of every man to choose his own occupation free from compulsory unionism; to be rewarded in accordance with his productive contribution to society; to save, invest and spend his earnings as he chooses, and to worship as his conscience dictates.

"I believe that further centralization of power and authority in The Federal Government and the apathy of American people to this trend are among the greatest dangers threatening our Republic and the American way of life. "Planned economy" concepts, such as socialism and communism, fascism and other forms of totalitarianism must be opposed wherever and in whatever form they may be found.

"In order that I may as an individual make greater contribution to the above stated principles I shall spend and be spent in my efforts to serve God and my country in the conservative movement most profound in the Republican party of Texas.

"I further believe in our constitutional form of government and its divisions of powers. Without the constant conservation of this form of government the following way of life will eventually have eroded away. This must not happen now or ever."

These we must conserve:

1. Freedom of speech, press, and peaceful assembly.
2. Separation of church and state and the right of each individual to worship according to the dictates of his own conscience.
3. The American competitive enterprise system, in which property is privately owned, privately managed, and operated for profit and individual satisfaction, and in which supply and demand are the ultimate determinants of market prices.
4. Our high standard of living which is brought about primarily by efficiency of production and maximum per capita production.
5. The individual right to own property guaranteed by the constitution.
6. The exercise of free will, rather than force; this is consistent with the maintenance of liberty.
7. The right of every man to choose his own occupation; to be rewarded according to his productive contribution to society; and to save, invest, and spend or convey to his heirs, his earnings, as he chooses.
8. Change the constitution and its interpretation only by constitutional amendments.

I further believe:

1. In government by law impartially administered without special privilege.
2. That government propagandizing of the electorate threatens the maintenance of self-government.
3. That establishment by the government of organizations of citizens, which may in any way remain under its political influence or control threatens the continuation of self-government.
4. That secrecy in government affairs should not be tolerated except as actually essential to national security.
5. In strong and responsible state and local units of government and in the protection of state laws against federal pre-emption.
6. That farm people have the right and the responsibility to speak for themselves through organizations of their choice without coercion or government intervention.
7. That powers not specifically delegated to the federal government by the Constitution are reserved to the states or to the people and that such powers cannot be preempted by federal statutes and must not be pre-empted by the courts.

The foregoing statements and beliefs are now and will be my platform in asking to represent you of the 19th Congressional District.

I therefore earnestly solicit your vote and your help to win this political race. These fundamental principles which we hold near and dear to our hearts are consistent with the Word of God upon which our forefathers founded the Constitution of our land.

Statement by H.J. "Doc" Blanchard Announcing For State Senate

I consider the office of State Senator one of the most vital and critical areas of service to which a man can aspire. I believe that now, more than ever before, we should make moves to restore fiscal responsibility to our state. It is with the belief that my professional background and my past legislative experience especially qualify me for this most important office; that today I announce my candidacy for the Texas Senate representing the 28th Senatorial District. As many of you recall, I have said many times that if my friend, Preston Smith ever left the Senate, I would be a candidate for that office.

I feel that the people of this district have a right to know the principles upon which I base my candidacy.

I believe, first of all; that Texas cannot continue to operate efficiently until the budget is balanced. For the past six years, our expenditures have been exceeding our revenues. I will continue to work for fiscal responsibility or more simply, I will work to see that Texas does not have to give "hot checks" to pay its obligations.

Many folks talk about economy, but apparently few do anything about it. As a member, I supported legislation to improve efficiency in state agencies, and to make them economical. I found abuses in welfare payments to mothers who refused to work or marry. Instances of 8 to 10 illegitimate children, by 8 to 10 different men were found and these women were costing the people untold thousands of dollars, by receiving large checks from the welfare department. The welfare department has taken steps to remedy this costly practice. Vigilance must be maintained to seek similar practices in other state agencies and halt them, thus effecting savings to the taxpayers.

I believe that vigorous investigations which disclose evidence of fraud, such as occurred in our insurance industry when Ben Jack Cage was operating, vice and organized crime, such as in Beaumont, Port Arthur, and Amarillo, and official misconduct of elected officials, such as Randall County Judge, Roy Joe Stevens, are vital to all people in Texas. I was privileged to serve as Chairman and vice-chairman of the committees which made these disclosures to the people. I would propose an active and hard-hitting senate committee to expose such practices wherever they occur within the state as a warning that such activities will not be tolerated.

I favor numerous tax reforms for this state. Our tax structure should be streamlined to remove numerous inequities so that it will be less burdensome upon the consumer and easier for the merchant to enforce and collect.

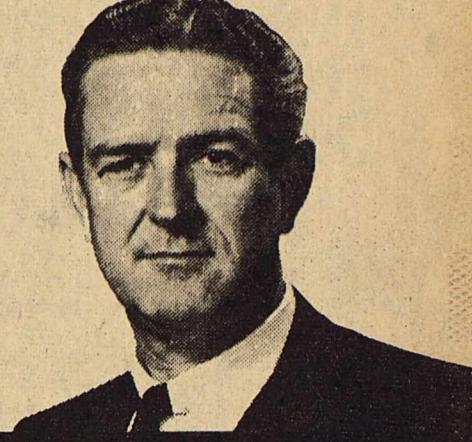

Water conservation has been and will continue to be one of the most important fields of my endeavor.

Because of my interest in this most important economic area, I accepted employment in 1961 to go to Austin and work for the passage of a bill designed to prevent the pollution of underground water by requiring all water well drillers to be registered with the state and to require that a log be filed by the driller on every well that is drilled in the state of Texas. In addition to being the only feasible means of cataloging vital information on Texas underfounded water, this bill will save the state thousands of dollars previously required to purchase water well logs. Because of its merit, this bill passed both houses by an overwhelming majority.

Reforms in insurance, traffic safety, and penal laws will be urged and supported by me. Many other issues will be developed in the months ahead which I will discuss with you. I want and need your views, advice and help to the end that a sound program can be adopted.

If you believe that we should restore fiscal stability to our state; if you believe that we should operate with economy, stability and efficiency in our welfare agencies; if you believe we should actively work for the removal of official misconduct, crime and vice in Texas; if you believe in working for sound and equitable revision of our tax statutes and if you believe in continued work for progress of the important areas of soil and water conservation and our farm to market road systems, then join with me in this campaign, give me your advice and ideas and let's make the coming election a real people's victory.

Highway Use Tax Return

District Director Ellis Campbell, Jr., of the Dallas Internal Revenue District announced a district-wide campaign by the Internal Revenue Service to make sure that owners of heavy trucks and busses have filed Federal Highway Use Tax returns covering the use of such equipment on the public highways.

Director Campbell said that the Internal Revenue Service has gone to great lengths to obtain voluntary compliance with the Highway Use Tax filing requirements before resorting to enforcement measures. Various informational and publicity programs have been undertaken to acquaint owners of trucks and busses with the filing requirements so that they can avoid liability for penalties and interest, in addition to the tax, for failure to file or for late filing.

This campaign will utilize various available leads to those who failed to file Highway Use Tax returns and is designed to assure that all owners of trucks and busses, whose use on the highways is subject to the tax, pay their fair share of the tax. Director Campbell said that the Highway Use Tax became effective July 1, 1956, and that the revenue derived goes back to the states in the form of Federal contributions to help pay the costs of the Interstate Highway System now under construction.

Truck and bus owners were urged to contact their nearest Internal Revenue Office for information on the Highway Use Tax filing requirements and to ask for Internal Revenue pamphlet, Publication No. 349, Revised, which contains information on the types and weights of vehicles whose use on the highways is taxable as well as on the due dates for returns and the rate of tax. Highway Use Tax returns, Form 2290, can also be obtained at these offices.

The District Director said that another phase of the campaign calls for an audit of Highway Use Tax returns to assure that taxpayers are correctly reporting their use tax liabilities. This audit will be aimed at seeing that all taxable trucks and busses are reported in the returns and that they are reported in the correct taxable categories.

Social Security Rep In Plains

In order to qualify for social security benefits, a worker, whether employed or self-employed, must have a certain number of social security credits. Many people are interested in knowing how they get social security credits and how many they need. Social security credits are counted in units of calendar quarters called "quarters of coverage." The number you need is based on the year you were born. A booklet may be obtained from the Lubbock Social Security Office which will give you this information.

If you work for someone else you get one quarter of coverage for each calendar quarter in which you are paid total wages of $50 or more. If you receive $4800 or more during the year, you get credit for all four quarters of that year even if you received no wages in some of the quarters. If you work in a private household, you will get credit only for calendar quarters in which you receive cash pay of at least $50 from one employer.

If someone hires you to do farm work, you will get social security credit for your cash pay if, within the calendar year, you receive cash wages of at least $150 or you work for the employer on 20 or more days for cash pay on a time basis by the hour, day, week, etc. . . . regardless of the amount of pay. You will get credit for one calendar quarter for each $100 credited to you, but no more than four quarters in one year.

If you work for yourself, you get social security credit for four calendar quarters for each taxable year in which you have a net profit of $400 or more from self-employment covered by the law. If you are self-employed in more than one business or trade, you add together your net profits from all of your businesses that are covered by social security. If the total amount is $400 or more, it counts for social se-

Farm Facts

"Twenty years hence, the most severe shortage may be that of men and women trained to produce food and fiber on our country's farms," observes Dr. Roger B. Corbett, president of New Mexico State University. He says this could hurt the country more than a shortage of trained engineers.

A nationwide study reveals a need for 15,000 trained men and women in agriculture. Output of our agricultural colleges, however, is about 8,500 annually. This is just a little more than half the number needed.

The percentage of people on farms and ranches has been declining steadily for about a hundred years. Some observers believe that eventually 2% can feed the remainder.

Dr. Corbett is concerned about whether or not we are training enough people, however, to keep even 2% sharp and efficient on farms and ranches and in the businesses serving agriculture.

New Mexico is turning out about 60 agriculturally trained men and 30 women each year to fill an estimated need of 378 and 134, respectively. The situation is fully as critical in many other states.

If you are a self-employed farmer and your gross farm income is $600 or more for a year, you may get social security credit even if you net less than $400. This special rule applies to farmers only. You can get more information about this at your nearest social security office.

You can get social security credit for work covered by the social security law no matter how young or how old you are.

Work done by a child under 21 for his parents, by a husband for his wife, or by a wife for her husband is not covered by the social security law. Work done by a parent for his son or daughter is not covered by the law unless it is done in connection with the son's or daughter's business. Domestic work for a son or daughter, for example, is not covered.

For further information, contact your nearest social security office.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Plains on Feb. 1, Thursday, in the Co. Service Office at 1:30 p.m. and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Houses in the future will consist of detachable rooms to trade in as the family's needs change, an electrical company executive predicts. G. T. Bogard of General Electric said the first such houses, with prices beginning at $13,500, will be on the market within a few years.

The detachable-room houses would be fashioned of foamed plastic panels with an inside and outside surface of any desired material — wood, aluminum, simulated stone, brick or plywood. They would be built on the modular principle. The basic size of rooms might be 12 x 12 feet, with expansion possible in 4-foot units.

Under this plan, newlyweds could buy a lot in a modest priced subdivision and purchase a house with two 12 x 12 foot modules for a living room and bedroom. A bath and laundry could be added by the purchase of a 4 x 12 foot module, while the living room might be enlarged by the addition of a 4 x 12 foot dining alcove on one side to counter-balance a similar-sized kitchen with built-in appliances on the other side.

Additional bedrooms and other rooms could be purchased as the size of the family increased. Finally, if the couple decided to move to another location, they could have their light-weight house disassembled, carted to the new lot and re-erected in a few days.

If the new location called for a larger and more luxurious house, a couple of old rooms could be traded in for new, more expensive ones and 12 x 12 foot modules added in groups of two to provide big 24 foot long rooms.

As the children married and left home, the parents might give each a present of their own rooms with which to start a new house or the old rooms could be sold to a used-house dealer or advertised in the classified section of the newspaper.

What will the detachable house look like? As Bogard sees it, the roof could be either pitched or flat, with translucent plastic panels permitting daylight to enter. The exterior could be virtually any style — ranch, Georgian, Cape Cod, colonial.

Changes inside would run mainly to built-ins—stereo, hi-fi television, cabinets, lighting and appliances.

Plans are progressing for the preparation of the Sweetheart Banquet for the intermediate and young people of the Baptist church. This will be held Feb. 12, in the Fellowship Hall.

Pastor J. L. Bozeman will be in Stanton, Friday, Feb. 2, attending a Christian Education Crusade District meeting.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The first step is a thrilling moment! An exciting new world is opening up for David. Soon he will be able to chase a butterfly, explore the old apple tree, play with Tommy and Mary next door.

The first step is the hardest. David needs the encouragement of Daddy's waiting arms. The second step will be easier. Soon David will be skipping about like a lamb.

The first step to Sunday School and church will be another thrilling moment in David's life. This first step will be hard for a shy little boy. David will need the encouragement of Mommy and Daddy. Soon he will be asking to go to Sunday School.

An exciting new world of religious discovery is waiting for your children when they take their first step to church.

Farmer's Union Washington Bus Trip

Texas Farmers Union's state president, Jay Naman, announced today that Texas farmers will have the opportunity to join the annual Washington bus trip leaving Texas for Washington, February 1st for a five-day visit in the nation's capitol. The bus, originating in Lubbock, will pick up passengers from different areas in Texas as it travels across the state, and after stop-overs in Mississippi and Alabama en route, will arrive in Washington on Sunday, Feb. 4th.

Scout Week--

special nighttime meeting held in the Plains School Cafeteria. The night will include demonstrations and skits presented by each of the four patrols in the troop, the court of honor badge presentation and the showing of a film of the local troop as it attended summer camp at Camp Post last summer. Highlight of the night will be the drawing for two winners for the twopigs which the scouts are giving away that night. Tickets for the drawing may be bought from any scout or from either of the scoutmasters for $1.00 each. Sunday, February 11, is National Scout Sunday, and the local troop has voted to attend services in a group at First Christian Church of Plains where special services will be conducted.

Rounding up the month of activities will be a very severe survival hike in the Post area. Scouts attending this event will be given only compass directions to find their way and will be expected to live one night and most of the day just off the land. This hike, it is believed, is some of the best training that scouts can be afforded.

Scout Troop 778 is at present meeting each Monday evening at 6:30 at the School Band Hall because of the cold weather. All area boys interested in the program of scouting are invited to join with the 27 boys now enjoying scouting in Plains.

NEIGHBORHOOD NUISANCE

Farm Facts

Tranquilizing drugs are proving as useful to animals as they are to humans. Not only are they used to quiet nervous, upset, or wild animals, but also to get better gains in normal animals by cutting down waste motion and minimizing effects of mild stresses.

In one experiment, steers administered tranquilizers in their feed gained weight 15% faster with a 10% saving of food. In commercial feed lot trials at Iowa State College, tranquilizers were added to the feed of sheep and a 17% increase in daily gain was attained with a 6.5% saving in feed costs.

Not too much luck has been attained with tranquilizers to achieve weight gains in hogs. Tranquilizers, however, may prove useful in large breeding operations. Tests indicate tranquilized boars get along without fighting. The drugs, too, may be useful in cutting down nervousness in gilts before breeding or during farrowing.

Tranquilizers have been used with a great deal of success to quiet animals during shipment. The change in surroundings, feeding schedules, and temperatures—along with the lack of feed to which they're accustomed—results in weight losses. Tranquilizers help reduce them.

also stated that if he did decide to come to Plains on a permanent basis, he would not be able to do so for a period of at least two months.

Local interests which are very interested in securing this particular M. D. feel highly elated over the response of all parties concerned in the matter and at the prospects of securing adequate medical care for the Plains area in such a relatively short time.

The possibility of a definite schedule of office hours on the temporary basis mentioned will be forthcoming in a very near issue of The Record.

BOATING

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press International

One of the most fabulous personalities in the boating industry began his rewarding career by fixing flats on bicycles and repairing motorcycles.

His name is Howard Griffin. For the past two years he has been one of the nation's leading salesman of outboard motors for one company (Johnson).

Griffin does not live in New York or Chicago or Miami or in the Minnesota lake country. His place of business is located in Monroe, La., a prosperous little city that lies beside one of the most beautiful rivers in the United States—the Ouachita River.

About 30 years ago, during the Great Depression, Griffin set up a small shop on South Grand St., only five minutes' walk from Monroe's main street and only a few feet away from the sparkling waters of the Ouachita.

His first customers were high school students who needed headlamps for their bicycles or wanted Howard to fix a flat. Some of his older customers wanted repairs for their motorcycles, because in those days few could afford automobiles.

The depression failed to affect Griffin. His business thrived and he added small outboard motors to his inventory of bikes and motorcycles. In the years to follow, his sales of outboard motors mounted and fishermen began coming into Monroe from all directions to find an efficient substitute for their paddles.

Today, Griffin's place of business still is located in the same spot on South Grand St. But it is no longer a tiny repair shop. It is a huge place with spacious showrooms and a means of good living for scores of employees.

And more than 30 years later from his beginnings in this business, Griffin still has a youthful look.

When asked why he had been able to outsell other motorboat salesmen in the nation, the shy and quiet businessman seemed puzzled.

"I really don't know," Griffin said. "It could be because we are located in an area near many fishing spots. Customers come from as far as 150 miles away regularly."

Perhaps the true answer is that Griffin is aggressive without being ostentatious, a person who is easy to talk to. And he has been encouraged and helped by his charming and attractive wife, who now manages the area's largest toy store, owned by Griffin and situated in his complex of buildings.

And though Griffin now stocks a complete line of boat motors, he still sells bicycles and, if you asked him, he would probably forget about everything else and fix your flat.

Among new products seen at the recent National Motor Boat Show in New York was a new compact water conversion unit. It was developed by the Maxim division of American Machine & Foundry Company.

For use with power boats or sailing craft with water-cooled auxiliary engines and 35 feet or more in length, it transforms either salt water or that of possibly impure lakes and rivers into pure, soft water at an average hourly rate of 8 to 10 gallons using only the engine jacket water as a heat source.

The manufacturer describes it as "the lightest, smallest and most economical conversion unit available to boating enthusiasts."

R. B. Kirkpatrick, outdoor editor of Popular Mechanics magazine has been named first winner of the new American Power Boat Association Writer's Award. He was cited for a story—"The Sports Car Sport That Went to Sea"—dealing with predicted log racing.

Another honor—the 1962 Ole Evinrude Award—went to James W. Peaslee of Benton Harbor, Mich., publisher of The Boating Industry, for "lifelong contributions to recreational boating."

Center Helps Indians Adjust To Ways of the White Man

By CLAUDIO SEGRE
United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—From pabulum for a baby to a grave for a forgotten old woman, the Los Angeles Indian Center ministers to the needs of the city's estimated 20,000 Indians.

These are some of the daily problems the Center's 200 volunteers are called upon to solve:

—A harried police magistrate needs someone to explain to an Indian boy who is under arrest why he can't borrow his friend's car and the driver's license as well.

—A hospital calls for an interpreter for an ailing girl who speaks no English.

—A family has run into hard luck and needs some food, clothing and a small loan to tide them over for the trip back to the reservation.

—Fall bearers and a grave must be found for an old woman who died without any known relatives.

These problems are dealt with from an old eight-room house near the city's downtown area by the one fulltime staff member and the volunteers, most of whom are Indians.

The Center has been so successful that new ones are patterned after it in Oakland and San Francisco, Calif., Seattle, Wash., Rapid City, S.D., and Gallup, N.M.

The new centers are particularly interested in how Los Angeles set up the first All-Indian Alcoholics Anonymous and the management of the craft shop which helps defray the organization's expenses, according to Mrs. Stevie Standingbear, who has been associated with the Center for many years.

An Indian Center was the dream of Myra Bartlett, a member of the midwestern Kickapoo tribe. She began it in 1935 as a meeting place for Indian women whom she saw at the bus stops every day on their way home from work as maids.

Until recently the Center was assisted by the staff and the finances of the Friends Service Committee. Today, thanks to the proceeds from the crafts store and contributions from welfare organizations, churches and private citizens, the Center is making its own way.

The Center has not only contributed to the Indian's immediate needs, according to Mrs. Standingbear. The dark-haired woman, who is a full-blooded Ponca, said the Center has played a key role in a great problem that faces all Indians today as they gradually move away from the reservations to the city.

Sociologists and anthropologists call it "acculturation," the shift from the Indian culture on the reservation to the ways of the white man in the city.

The police magistrate who calls the Indian Center is often deeply disturbed because the Indian violator of the law fails to understand he has done wrong.

He borrows the friend's driver license together with the car and sees nothing illegal about the idea. Among Indians who raise sheep on the reservation, a government permit to raise the herd is transferable. Mrs. Standingbear explained. When the herder goes away he tells a relative to take care of the sheep and gives him the permit.

Lawyers often are exasperated when Indians sign for a tribal member as a "brother" although he may not be a blood relation.

More than a welfare center, more than a referral agency cooperating with others in town, the Indian Center is a bridge between the two cultures, Mrs. Standingbear said.

Subsidy Unwanted

WASHINGTON -- It's a noteworthy event when someone tells the government: "DON'T GIVE ME A SUBSIDY!"

But that is what is happening today.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which speaks for millions of American businessmen, is telling Congress that the Administration's proposed 8 per cent tax credit for business is unwanted.

It's a subsidy, the Chamber says, because in effect the government is offering to pay 8 per cent of investment in new plant and equipment.

If a businessman should buy a $10,000 machine, he could credit $800 against his income taxes. The actual cost of the machine to him, $9,200. The remainder would be financed by tax money that would otherwise go to the government.

Businessmen in general don't want subsidies, the Chamber says. This particular subsidy, moreover, is unfair and illogical.

It's unfair because it favors businesses that have failed to modernize; they could take immediate advantage of the tax credit. Penalized would be businesses that have kept plant and equipment up to date.

The tax credit is illogical, the Chamber says. For example, the businessman who bought a machine, although the cost of the machine to him was only $9,200, could depreciate the machine as if it cost him $10,000.

The National Chamber agrees with the Administration that tax reform is necessary to spur this country's economic growth. Not, however, it says, in the form of a subsidy.

One thing the Chamber suggests is more flexible depreciation rates. New ways of production are being found so fast, the Chamber says, that although machines often can run for decades, many are obsolete in a matter of years. Businesses should be able to depreciate these machines, therefore, over a shorter period of time than now permitted.

With more flexible depreciation rates, all businesses would have more money to reinvest in new equipment including those who have kept plant and equipment up to date and those who have not. None would be favored.

New Look in Milk Glass and Punch Bowl

The white of milk glass makes it a perfect foil for just about anything that's put into it—punch, salad, soup, flowers. Imagine this stemmed bowl filled with bright autumn fruits and vegetables—rosy apples, dark green squash, shiny lemons. Or, picture it with evergreens and pine cones, and later, Spring flowers. There are 24 punch cups which could be used for a soup and sandwich luncheon. The 26 piece set of punch bowl, cups and ladle is unbelievably low in price, about $4.98. By Indiana Glass.
