MOORE or Less

By Winnie Moore

Heard a pretty good definition the other day. A completely integrated school is one in which the primary kids in their arithmetic classes say two plus two is four.

I remember one time when I was sitting in the living room of a certain family I was visiting in a town not too far from here, and the conversation got around to this couple's lawn.

The remark was made about how well-kept their yard was, and the question was asked if it weren't quite a bit of trouble keeping such a big spread of grass out of the many flower beds they had.

Seems that the grass in the yard turned out to be pure buffalo grass transplanted out of various areas with great care.

So that the grass wouldn't spread and give trouble about getting into the flower beds and such, the man of the house he reported, had gotten down on his hands and knees over the entire lawn and, with the help of a pair of tweezers had extracted all the male pests from the lawn, making it not spread, by virtue of all of it being female grass.

The lady of the house said she wasn't at all satisfied with the lawn because it was too thin.

Then getting very graphic, she went on to say, "I just told Henry that if he'd only lit our grass have a little sex life, we'd have a thicker and prettier lawn."

Well, needless to say, that broke up the party then and there and the conversation shifted to some other subject real quick.

There will be no "compromise" in the fight opposing the financing of health care through the Social Security System--the proposal generally known as Medicare.

That promise is made by Dr. E. R. Annis, of the American Medical Association. Medicare, in his words, would meet "neither the medical nor the financial needs of the old people who really need help." The Administration - backed, bill got nowhere in last year's Congress, but, it is clear, it will be offered again, with the fullest kind of White House backing and influence behind it.

The proper approach to meeting the health needs of those who are unable to finance it for themselves is to be found in the existing Kerr-Mills law, which provides federal financial aid to local agencies and stresses the importance of local responsibility, administration and decision. If this law has proven inadequate, let it be broadened but let the principle remain--and let American medicine, the best in the world, remain free.

Whitlock Wins CU $80

Frank Whitlock was the recent winner in the Yoakum County Federal Credit Union's cash drawing which is held on the last Saturday of each month in various business establishments in Plains.

The pot, by virtue of their never having been a winner, had gotten up to $80, which Whitlock carried off.

On the last Saturday of this month the drawing, for $10, at the building of the pot will start all over again, will be held at Romain Telephone Co. Time for the actual drawing is set each month at 5 p. m.

Right after the Appreciation Day Drawing, which is held at 4 p. m., an open house at the exchange building of the Telephone Co., will be held, to which all are invited. After the drawing, a film will be presented by P. W. St. Romain in the Club Room in the old Court House.

Sets Hearing March 6th Grant Temporary Injunction

Although 121st District Court Judge M. C. Ledbetter said that at present, he was not of the opinion that he will grant a permanent injunction in the matter of certain citizens in Yoakum County versus the County Commissioners, in the matter of using County road building equipment and county employees on private property for private purposes, he did grant a temporary injunction and set a hearing in the matter for 10 a. m. on March 6.

He gave one exception in his ruling for temporary injunction, that being the Soil Conservation Statute No. 2372c of Texas Civil Statutes. This statute states that it is lawful to use County equipment for purposes of preventing soil erosion at the landowners request, if the county equipment to be used is not needed for road building or maintenance.

The law goes on to say that when such things are done it is necessary that the person for whom they are done be charged a nominal charge for having them done.

Further in the same vein, the law says it must be for the purpose of conservation and of some general public good.

Ind. Tournney Starts Tonight

Plains Independent Basketball team is playing host this weekend to seven other independent teams from around the area.

There will be four games played each of the three nights, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, two in each of the gyms.

Games start, in each gym at 6:30 and the second game in each gym will begin at 8:

30. Admission charges are set at 50 cents per person on Friday and on Thursday nights, and $1 per individual on Saturday night, the night of the finals.

Proceeds from the tournament will be used by the Lions Club of Plains toward building the Proposed Scout Hut.

AD To $166

Crowds gathering for each Saturday's Appreciation Day Drawing are continuing to be very good.

Last Saturday the cash pot had gotten to $141, making it possible for someone to win up to $70.50. First ticket drawn was a 40 percent sub, but individual whose name was on the ticket was not present.

On the second drawing, Rev. Walter Driver's name was drawn just as he was walking up to the crowd. It was a five percent ticket, causing him to win $7.00.

This week's pot will be up to $166, making the possible maximum that can be won a big $83.

Drawing takes place on the Court House lawn at 4 p. m. each and every Saturday.

Young Farmers Plan Meeting

The Yoakum County Young Farmers will hold their regular monthly meeting Monday night. The guest speaker will be a Representative from the Internal Revenue Service.

Any questions that you might have concerning your income tax will be answered by an expert. The meeting will be held in the Vo-Ag Dept. at 7:30 p. m., February 11, 1963. Everyone is urged to attend.

Hear 3 Cases

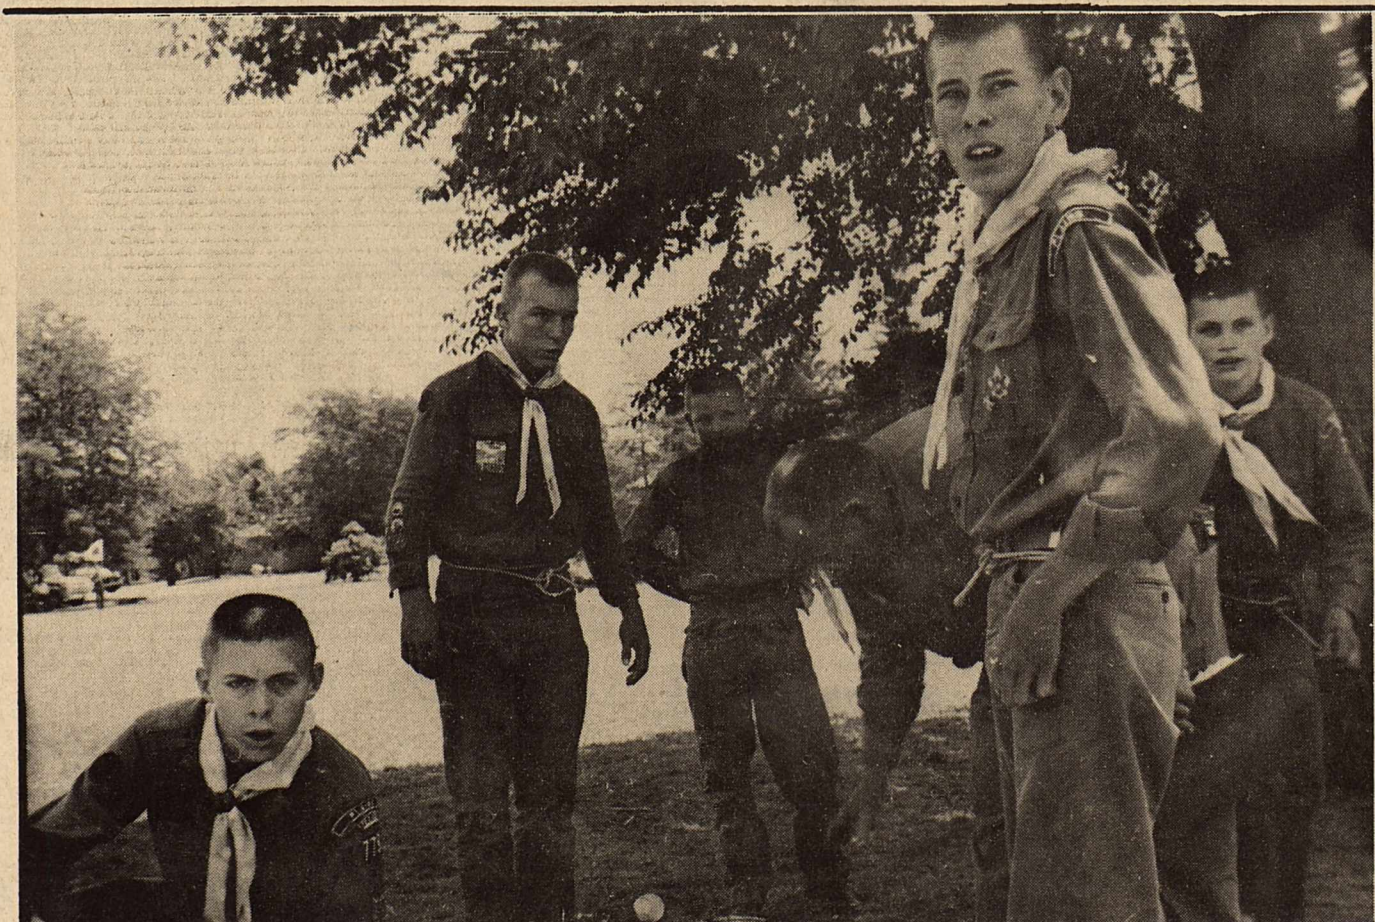

In 121st District Court, which convened on Wednesday of this week, three cases were heard and decided.

The cases were all non-jury cases, heard before Judge M. C. Ledbetter. In Case No. 2119, Sylva Cooke versus Don E. Cooke, a divorce action, the divorce was granted and custody of the infant child given to Mrs. Cooke.

In case 1979, Marvin West versus P. G. Adams, suit for the recovery of losses, a case which had been tried before a jury which didn't reach a verdict, decision was for the plaintiff, West, giving $600 to him which was on deposit with the court and $800 which was on deposit in escrow and one-half the court costs.

Case 2130, Emanuel Figueroa versus Security National Insurance Co., plaintiff was awarded compensation in the amount of $2,500.

Our 53rd Boy Scouts Of America ANNIVERSARY

BOY SCOUT WEEK-----began on February 7 and will continue on through the 13th. Local troop members are shown above as they won, some months ago, first place in the District Camporee, which is a testing of various skills of Scouting.

Commissioners Pay Partial

In their February 4 meeting, the Yoakum County Commissioners tended to the usual routine business, such as the paying of bills as presented by the County Auditor.

Approval was also given to accept a bid of $441 made by the IBM Corporation for the purchase of a new typewriter for the office of the District Clerk.

Gene Kinder and Bennett Construction Co., submitted their estimate No. 3 on the work being done on the hospital annex in Denver City, which was approved for payment. It was in the amount of $29,890.80, bringing the total paid for construction completed to date to $77,362.20.

This leaves a total owed to the construction firm for the project of $222,818.80, out of the original accepted bid of $300,181.00.

Big Crowd Out Lions Beat Young Farmers

The cry of "woah mule" and some other choice unprintable items were the order of the day when the Plains Lions met the Young Farmers in a Donkey basketball game here on Monday night.

Lions wound up on top in the scoring department, but just about even on wound up on the floor in the riding department.

Lion members scored 16 points in the game to the Farmers' 10.

Proceeds from the game, which attracted a big crowd, for the Lions' part to be used toward the construction of a new combination Scout hut and Lions Den, amounted to $257.

Johnny Brown, Lion rider, was injured in the game, sustaining a fracture in one bone in his foot.

Lose Game To Seagraves

Friday night, the Plains Cowboys hosted the Sundown Roughnecks here and managed to deal the Sundown crew a pretty damaging defeat.

Plains "B" squad started the ball rolling by defeating the Roughnecks 77 to 23.

The varsity team took over and trounced the Sundown varsity 63 to 39.

The Plains teams just, it seemed, couldn't do anything wrong.

The story, however, changed quite a bit when the Cowboys hosted the Seagraves Eagles here on Tuesday night.

Plains "B" team had only been defeated three times, once by Denver City and two times by Eunice until Tuesday night. They were dealt a pretty good defeat, though, going under before the Eagles by 12 points.

The Plains varsity, in their tilt with the Eagles, stayed right with them in the first half of the game.

Only three points edge was held by Seagraves at the end of the first quarter and also at the end of the first half.

Things took a turn for the worse though, in the second, go-around. Plains wound up being defeated 76 to 47.

Onestarter for Plains, Mike Field, was in the hospital and two other starters were just getting over the virus. Coach Sewell explained that the boys just didn't have the strength left, because of these illnesses to keep playing real good ball.

The Bowboys travel to Wink on Friday night and then meet O'Donnell here on Tuesday night of next week.

PTA Anniversary

February 17 is a red letter day in the annals of parent-teacher associations for it was on that day in 1897 that the organization, now known as the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, was born. This infant organization was to grow to great heights, nurtured by a group of women who believed the child to be the hope of the world. The women were inspired and led by Alice McLellan Binney of Georgia and Phoebe A. Hearst of California, who called together the, then, National Congress of Mothers. They would have been pleased had 50 attended from over the United States but, to their amazement and delight more than 2000 came. The women left the meeting fired with enthusiasm to return home and organize mothers' clubs--and they did. Today the far-flung organization numbers more than twelve million women and men in some 47,000 units. The Texas Congress, organized in 1909, numbers more than 766,000, with some 2700 units. The objectives of that first meeting are the objectives of PTA's today: the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community. Many activities, which are accepted as part of the community and school system today, were started or encouraged by the PTA. They include the hot lunch program health examinations, prevention of juvenile delinquency raising the number and quality of the nation's schools and teachers, better teachers salaries and tenure, school bond issues, improved school equipment health, school libraries, parent education, scholarships moral and spiritual development--the list is almost endless as each new chapter is added. Whether by speeches, pageantry, tributes, project dedications, special ceremonies, the membership will call attention to this month the PTA founding and growth. Said Mrs. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, president of the Texas Congress, in her Feb. message to the membership: "Part of our American heritage is the founding, by those pioneer women, of this great folk movement--Each generation adds its own chapter--I pray that ours will be worthy addition."

Good Business
A farmer, paying his first visit to the seashore, asked a boatman if he could buy some of the water to take home to show his wife. The boatman assented and charged the farmer a quarter.
A few hours later the visitor returned to the shore. By now the tide had gone out, and the man gazed open-mouthed at the spectacle.
"By gosh, mister," he said, "you've done a good business today."
Must Have It Repaired
The landlord was quizzing the prospective tenant. "You know,"

he said, "we keep it very quiet and orderly here. Do you have any children?"
"No."
"A piano, radio, or victrola?"
"No."
"Do you play any musical instruments? Do you have a dog, or parrot?"
"No, buy my fountain pen scratches sometimes."
Voice of Experience
"My wife always lets me have the last word," exulted the husband of two months.
"Huh!" snorted a seasoned old-timer; "just wait until you run out of compliments, young feller!"

March of Dimes Makes Gains in Birth Defects, Arthritis

People say everyone talks about the weather but no one does anything about it.

Until just recently, a similar observation could have been made about birth defects. Not only had no one done anything much about the problem but, in truth, people have always been reluctant or afraid even to talk about the subject.

The tragedy of this affliction has beset mankind since the dawn of recorded history. Yet no organized attack on birth defects was launched until 1958 when The National Foundation-March of Dimes entered this medical area.

The reason for this historic action was that birth defects constitute the world's greatest unmet childhood medical problem today. Meeting the problem, moreover, entailed fund raising on the same multimillion scale as was required by the long, costly but successful fight of the same health organization against polio.

Marks 25th Year
The March of Dimes, now marking its 25th anniversary, last year appropriated more than $4,000,000 for research in birth defects, arthritis—another baffling disease which is the nation's No. 1 crippler—and on certain aspects of polio and other virus diseases. On birth defects research alone, the March of Dimes approved grants totalling $1,200,000, with about another $800,000 earmarked for regional treatment centers. Directly financed by March of Dimes chapters, these "grass roots" centers today number 31 and are located across the nation.

The need of funds for these March of Dimes-financed treatment centers, particularly in the area of birth defects, is urgent. In the 50 states, the full extent of the problem was not appreciated until March of Dimes medical advisers reported that about 250,000 infants were born yearly in this country with significant birth defects—almost 700 a day, or one every other minute.

Birth defects cause at least 21,000 deaths each year. The chief requirements in the battle to save these lives in the future, and to lessen the damages that birth defects as well as arthritis inflict, are trained manpower, equipment and time—and, of course, the substantial funds that these demand.

Research into the physical calamities that birth defects represent costs stupendous sums. The cause of a type of disorder that has bewildered mankind for uncounted centuries is unlikely to be explained overnight at bargain-sale prices, or its prevention quickly found.

In the areas of birth defects, arthritis and virus diseases, scientists supported by the March of Dimes were responsible for important research advances during 1962. For example, in birth defects:

- Certain white blood cells in the mother were found to enter the infant's blood stream before birth. The possibility exists that such cells may harm the baby later in life. This was reported by Drs. William P. Creger and Rejendra C. Desai of Stanford University.

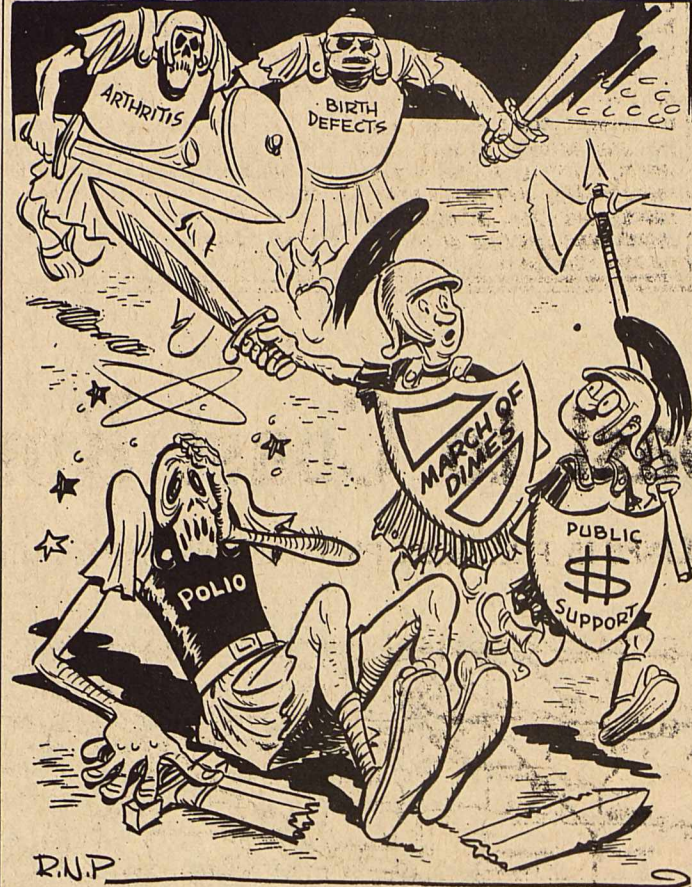

- Belief that the hereditary material called nucleic acid carries the blueprint for the production of protein was considerably strengthened. (Protein is the basic stuff of living material.) This was reported by Dr. Norton Zinder of the Rockefeller Institute.

- Experiments with pregnant guinea pigs established that certain hormones (such as hydrocortisone) can provoke birth defects in offspring. This was demonstrated by Dr. Richard M. Hoar of the University of Cincinnati.

- Further evidence on hormones, obtained by dipping unhatched eggs in a hormone solution, led Dr. Gregory Pincus of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology to conclude that the problem of what causes some infants to be born with mixed-up sex characteristics may be a matter of hormones rather than heredity alone.

- In arthritis: evidence was un-ered by Dr. Robert A. Good at the University of Minnesota that the mysterious thymus gland, situated behind the breastbone, is responsible for the functioning of the body's immunity defense mechanism. Abnormal working of the immunity mechanism is believed involved in rheumatoid arthritis.

• The discovery that there is a similar ground plan of chemicals in the connective tissue of many animals ranging from the horseshoe crab to man was reported during the year by Dr. Albert Dorfman and his associates at the University of Chicago. This means that research in the connective tissue of animals can be related closely to connective tissue diseases in man, such as arthritis.

In virus diseases:

- Studies of a tumor-causing virus disclosed how it changes normal cells, in tissue culture, to cancer cells. This significant finding was reported by Dr. Renato Dulbecco of California Institute of Technology.

The ultimate significance of these and numerous other March of Dimes-financed research studies may not be fully apparent now. But these findings are valuable clues to future progress. If no one does anything about the weather, at least something important is being done today about diseases that cripple children.

The FFA Creed

I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

NATIONAL FFA WEEK
Is scheduled to be observed this year from February 16-23.

Tax Refund Available In Bonds

Taxpayers were reminded today of the new plan allowing them to take their tax refunds in United States Savings Bonds, by Ellis Campbell, Jr., Dallas District Director of the Internal Revenue Service.

Beginning with the 1962 Individual Income Tax Return, eligible taxpayers will be given the opportunity of taking their refunds in Series E Savings Bonds, in addition to the standard options of cash or applying the refund to next year's tax. When Savings Bonds are chosen, the smallest possible number of the highest denomination bonds will be issued, along with a check to cover any remaining balance of a dollar or more.

The idea of allowing a taxpayer to choose between Savings Bonds and a check is not new. Taxpayers have been recommending it for years. What enabled the Treasury to offer it with the 1962 returns was the recent installation of high-speed data processing equipment to handle tax returns. The Treasury also conducted a survey of taxpayers to determine their interest in a Savings Bonds refund. A significant number of those questioned said they would take their tax refunds in Series E Bonds if given the option.

Last year approximately five billion dollars in refunds were returned to American taxpayers. Sales of Savings Bonds could thus be swelled by many millions of dollars in the next few months, thus putting more of the public debt into the hands of small savers.

The New Pay Raise

The Kennedy Administration has decided to ask Congress for a 14.4 per cent pay raise for the armed services. This is what the pay hikes would average for active members of the armed services and reservists, who are also included.

Scarcely a worst time for the national economy could be imagined that at this moment for the pay raise hike to be put before Congress. In fact, with a budget deficit of about 7.8 billion expected by the end of June, and with tax-cut hopes for the 1st of January almost dead, it hardly seems credible that the Administration can really expect Congress to pass a pay bill for the millions in the armed services which would cost about a billion and a half dollars annually.

The temptation is to suspect that the bill is partly political or at least to suspect that top Administration leaders know there is no chance of enactment of such a bill at this time.

Aside from the timely considerations, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara has made a basic error in stating the case for the big pay boost to the nation. One of the arguments McNamara uses in trying to justify the hikes is the argument that in the past four years (a military pay hike was voted four years ago) the members of the armed services have lost, comparatively, in comparison with their civilian counterparts.

But service in the armed forces has never been intended to be on a par, either in living conditions or in financial remuneration, with civilian life. Rather military life has been looked upon as service to one's country. For short-termers, it is looked upon as a sacrifice they make to insure the security and defense of their country.

TV TODAY AND TOMORROW

CONNIE STEVENS AND WARNER BROTHERS HAVE AGREED to an armistice and she will return to Hawaiian Eye. Only five episodes remain to be filmed. Says Connie after her return from her long suspension: "I had no choice. I have a contract to honor. But I have been welcomed back beautifully and they've promised I'll be very happy. They're even considering two pictures for me." Says Warner: "She has come back to work — status quo" . . . George Montgomery, to star in ABC's new color series, Thunderhead, gets guest-star workouts in both Bonanza and Combat.

JACKIE GLEASON AND THE NURSES ARE NURSING A FRIENDLY FEUD. An upcoming Nurses episode will star Keenan Wynn as a TV comedian who might be patterned after Gleason. He makes a shambles of hospital routine. In retaliation, Gleason's writers are working on a take-off of Nurses. Both shows are on CBS . . . DuPont next season will present at least 24 dramas.

Twelve, to be produced by The Directors Company, will be originals, while at least six of another 12 to be produced by Lewis Freedman will be originals . . . Michael Ansara (Broken Arrow, Law of the Plainsman) will try a third series, this time as a doctor in the Old West. Test film will be a Wagon Train episode titled "The Adam MacKenzie Story."

DONNA REED HAS MADE HER SECOND ANNUAL ANNOUNCEMENT that she will quit her Donna Reed Show. Such a statement is usually a prelude to financial negotiations . . . The Eleventh Hour is planning an episode dealing with group therapy. Titled "The People in My Basement," it will co-star Patrick O'Neal, Pat Crowley, Patricia Barry and Sylvia Sidney . . . Billy Friedberg has resigned as co-producer (with Nat Hiken) of NBC's Car 54, Where Are You? to become producer of Harry's Girls, new series starring Larry Blyden scheduled for NBC next fall . . . The weekly boxing matches will move from Saturdays to Friday nights at 10.

Kennedy's Deterrent

President John F. Kennedy is reported to favor a plan whereby the United States, England and France would control a joint nuclear deterrent, perhaps in addition to an overall NATO nuclear deterrent.

The President is willing to consider such a step because he fears a split in NATO if some provision is not made to allow England and France play a larger role in shaping the destiny of Western Europe's defense.

But Mr. Kennedy — or his political advisors — have evidently decided to leave West Germany out of any nuclear arrangement. This could have unfortunate consequences for the democratic world.

If this democratic government is once again forced into the role of playing an inferior among the world's nations (as was the Weimar Republic after World War I) and her allies do not trust her with the most modern weapons for her soldiers, the nationalists and neutralists inside Germany will be given their opportunity to overthrow the democratic government with a campaign of derision and contempt.

It happened before, and it can happen again. The sound course is to include West Germany — as long as she is a democracy — in our plans and trust, as a faithful ally.

More Bad Balance News

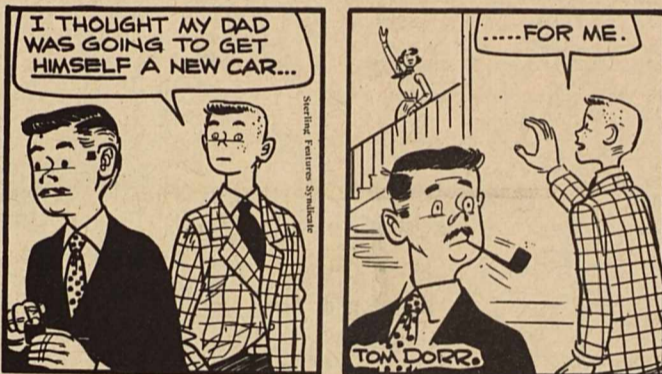

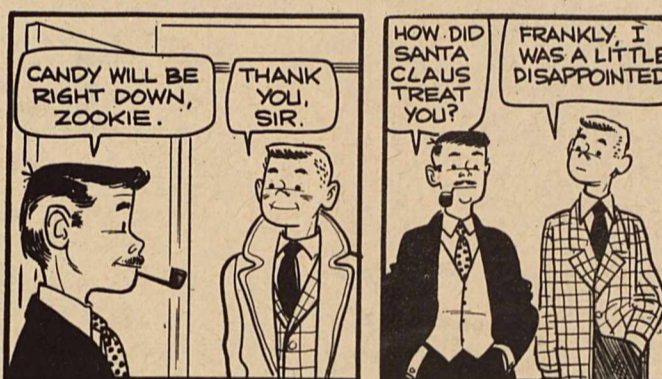

The latest news on the important balance of payments battlefield is that the improvement in the payment balance expected in 1962 has been less than was anticipated.

As the reader perhaps knows we have been suffering a payment balance for five consecutive years, which has caused the U. S. supply of gold to sink to a disturbing level. The word at the first of 1962, from the Kennedy Administration, was that the loss that year would be cut considerably and that, in 1963, a payments balance would be attained.

The year 1963 is to be a critical one. The Kennedy Administration has officially pledged itself to the goal of evening the payments balance. It is imperative that this effort be successful. Foreign aid, defense expenditures, to a degree, and every other consideration should be dependent on this goal.

URBAN AFFAIRS

President Kennedy will ask the new Congress to create a Department of Urban Affairs with full cabinet status. This resulted from the defeat of the plan last year. Officials who gave this report admitted that prospects for passage this year are dim, but said the Administration hopes at least to get the legislative wheels oiled for a big push in 1964.

WASHINGTON NOTES

JFK GETS VICTORY

The opening of the 88th Congress dealt a blow to conservative members in their hopes of controlling the key House Rules Committee. A victory for President Kennedy had been expected, but the large margin came as a surprise. His supporters won the decisive vote in the House 235-196. This vote kept the size of the Rules Committee at 15 members.

KENNEDY AND KUZNETSOV

President Kennedy recently met with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov to discuss some of the problems which divide the two countries.

It was the first meeting of this kind since the Cuban crisis and it was not revealed whether the two leaders discussed Soviet troops in Cuba. Informed sources said that they discussed a number of subjects they considered needed further study by the two countries in order to find solutions.

A STRIKE BAN BILL

Senator McClellan (D., Ark.) said he planned to introduce bills to outlaw strikes in defense industries and to place transportation workers unions under anti-trust laws.

McClellan said strikes at plants producing Polaris missiles and the recent strike of East and Gulf Coast longshoremen were occurring almost daily.

These bills would be similar to measures McClellan introduced in the 1961-62 Congress but which died in Committee.

THE BUDGET AND CUTS

The Democratic and Republicans expect to receive a $99,000,000,000 budget from President Kennedy later this month.

They expect to cut the budget wherever they can and possibly as much as $10,000,000,000.

The estimated $99,000,000,000 fiscal 1964 budget would top all records in war or peace. The biggest share would go for defense eroding while building up soil fertility.

The difficulties of early bench leveling were that the benches were frequently not of uniform width for equipment use, pointrows were numerous and border maintenance was difficult. The benches at the Foundation were constructed parallel so that four-row equipment could be used and pointrows could be eliminated. A new bench border maintainer, used for the first time in 1963, apparently solves the problem of border maintenance and border weed control.

The use of these modern methods has paid for the cost of constructing and maintaining benches and farm profits have increased over a period of years.

The three year average profits in grain sorghum on benches over sloping land was $22.69 per acre. On cotton the three year average was $21.39 per acre. Capital loss from soil erosion on sloping land is far greater than many realize.

Fertilization, pumping costs, cultural practices, time of irrigation and yields were included in report No. 55, released to supporters of the Foundation this week.

What About Bench Leveling?

Does bench leveling of irrigated land with 2 and 3 per cent slope pay? James C. Valliant, associate water engineer at the High Plains Research Foundation, says it does. In Research Report No. 55 issued in January 1963, it is shown that three year results on both cotton and Grain Sorghum planting on benched land paid off in comparison with sloping land at the Foundation.

The returns from bench leveling are three-fold. They are (1) increased yield; (2) decreased water usage; and (3) saving valuable soil from

Watch Modern Hair Styles

The young ladies nowadays and sometimes their mothers, too are showing up at the office at school or at a party with a variety of elaborate new hair styles that the men often find somewhat baffling.

Most of the new puffed up hairdos depend on roughing, backcombing or teasing the hair to give added body to the new styles. Some other names for these techniques are ratting and lacing.

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, reports that roughing or backcombing does not damage the hair if it is done properly and if the hair is in good condition; that is, if it is naturally lustrous and the fibers are strong and springy.

However, these operations should be carried out gently and not too frequently. This will avoid roughening of the hair fiber's surface and undue tangling, especially on dry, brittle or easy-to-break hair.

These operations tend to tangle the hair quite badly. Tangled hair is difficult to comb, and somewhat greater than normal fiber breakage may occur unless care is exercised.

And when milady tires of the puffed up hair-do and decides to return to normal, be gin combing at the ends and then gradually progress toward the scalp to remove the tangles by gently combing. Actually, brushing is more effective than combing for removing the tangles and is easier on the hair.

If your teen-age daughter turns up one day with what the parents believe is an absurd hair-do, or a dye-job in unnatural colors, don't worry about it. The new hair that grows out from the roots will still be daughter's own normal hair and the new style will go away with time.

Must Be Done

"There's a man outside," said the attendant at the asylum, "who wants to know whether we have missed any of our men patients lately."

"Why does he want to know that?" asked the doctor. "Well, he says somebody has run off with his wife."

A Study in English

"I want to be procrastinated at the next corner," said the passenger to the bus conductor.

"You want to be what?" demanded the conductor.

"Don't lose your temper. I had to look in the dictionary myself before I found out that 'procrastinate' means 'put off.'"

Rev. ROBERT H. HARPER

KINDNESS TO CREATURES

RECENTLY, on a blazing day in July, I drove with a friend down a neighborhood road to a home where my friend desired to visit relatives. After he went into the house, he came out and said that his relatives invited me in, saying they would make some coffee. It was pleasant to sit in a large comfortable chair, with a busy fan playing upon me. And I was well content.

Soon the frenzied family dog set up a great barking and the young daughter went to see. In the back yard the dog was barking fiercely at an intruder which

JUST A THOUGHT:

It is extremely difficult to find any good in the human race when we go about with eyes and ears expecting to always see and hear the very worst.

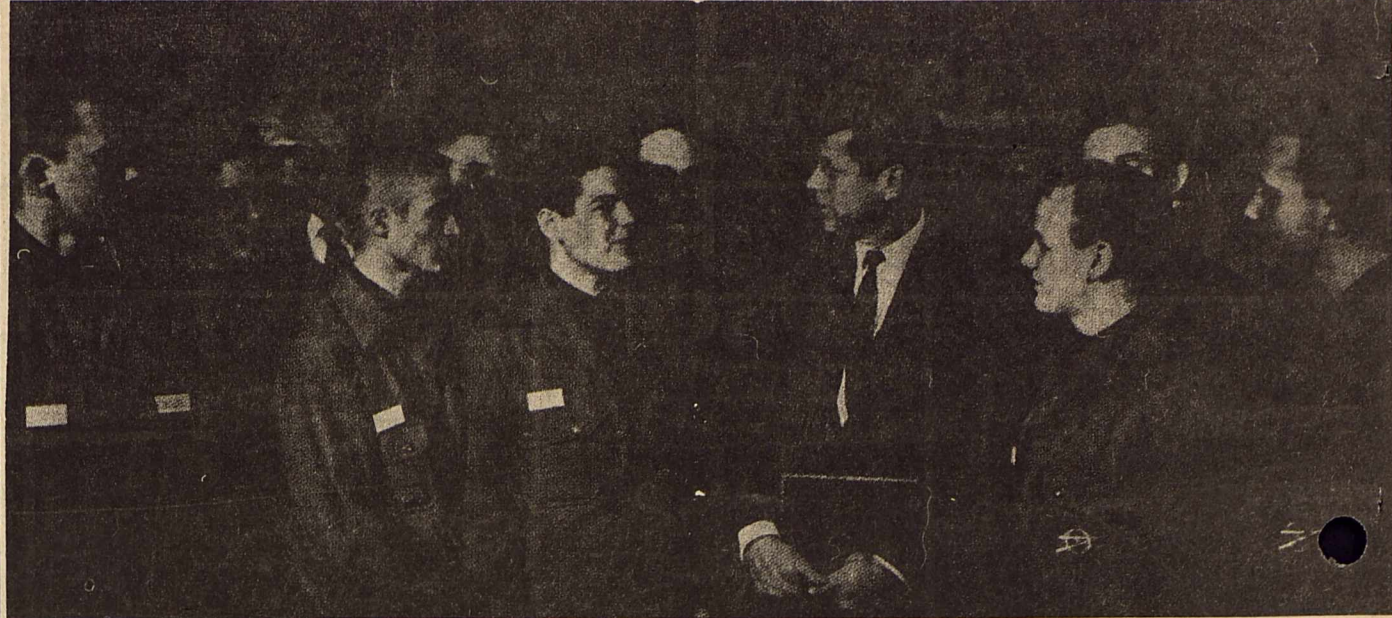

few dogs have found in their territory—a large crane with plumage as white as the driven snow. My friend, a big ready fellow, rushed toward the crane, who with his long pointed beak pecked the mat on the nose. I could not help but be amused, since he was not badly hurt and the lady had touched saliv to his nose.

The crane could hardly be blamed, since the hand of man had always seemed against it. But that was the only time he offered any act of defense. Sick or injured, we know not, he had seemed to trust the people who dealt with him kindly. I recalled what Coleridge wrote in the Ancient Mariner—"He prayeth best who loveth best all things both great and small."
