OUR 33rd YEAR

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1963

With all the civil rights stress and strain that's going on right now in the state of Alabama, I certainly hope a second crisis that could very easily come to pass in that state is not eclipsed or allowed to pass unnoticed because of all the confusion.

Several weeks ago the state legislature of Alabama passed a state law making it mandatory that each of the sessions of school each day in all Alabama schools be started with a devotional reading from the Bible and an oral recitation of the Lord's Prayer.

This law was literally and purposefully thrown right in the teeth of the U. S. Supreme Court, who this same summer made Bible Reading and the use of the Lord's Prayer in any public school in our nation an unlawful act, if the reading was from any but for literary purposes.

Many many Americans, who are very concerned about the situation will be watching the developments in that state with more than just casual interest.

Do you suppose the justice department, which is pledged to uphold the laws of the land will send Federal Troops in to take the teachers' Bibles away from them? If the teachers resist will they be arrested in a 20th Century Inquisition?

I've been told that we are doing something that we just shouldn't do when we overly criticize the Supreme Court or the decisions they make, because they are the supreme law of the land. I say that anytime we start believing that kind of baloney, we are putting ourselves in a real definite position to go on and loose a great many of our basic American rights, of which Freedom of religion is one of the most basic.

When we loose sight of the fact that we, the people, are under the constitution and in fact, the final supreme law of the land, then we're in the position of being governed by a system of Federal bureaus, instead of living in a democratic Republic.

The following poem was written shortly after the last Supreme Court decision in regard to religion. It's worth reading.

SUPREME COURT EDICT

Nine men passed judgment on the Book
In stately hall, their places took,
In somber robes and somber hall
They let their fateful sentence fall.

No Bible read, no prayer said,
In schools of state no grace when fed.
We must respect the atheists' stand
If we would have a happy land.

From godless homes, from crowded slums,
These boys and girls get but the crumbs
Of moral principles and right.
The Bible offers them some light.

But now we dare to make decree.
The bread of life is history.
It's literature, but nothing more.
Religion must stay from the door.

read the Word, and nothing more,
Without interpreting, for sure
Would preach no cult, just bend the twig.
The fear of God is something big.

Hypocrisy is made of this
With Pilate's soap or Judas' kiss;
You can't divorce God's will from life
We need Him now, in peace or strife.

A new religion we have found,
I guess I've been too long around.
When godlessness its spires doth rise

IN FULL SWING---Plains Schools are reported to be really getting into the swing of things this week. Beginning school enrollment was said to be 620 students.

Cowboys To Crane For Season Opener

The Plains Cowboys will have a real test of their abilities this Friday night when they travel to Crane to do battle with the mighty Golden Cranes.

Crane is expected to have a real fine Class AA team this year, with a great deal of size and a considerable amount of experience, especially on their defensive team. Plains Coach, Rip Sewell, reports that their defensive line averages about 195 pounds. He said that their offensive line-up is lighter but that their is some speed to make up the difference in size, although they are not as fast as they were last year.

Probable defensive starters in the halfback slots will be Roland Faires and Jimmy Smith. In the safety positions, Mike Field and John Robertson. Linebackers are presently slated as Joe Dan Cooke and Richard Spencer. Defensive end positions are tagged for Jack Lowe and Bob Parker, and starting defensive linemen are Fred Carnally, Dan Smith and Fred Blount.

Others who will see a lot of defensive actions include Bruce Long and Jimmy Kerby. A total of 21 boys are slated to make the trip on which the Cowboys will leave at 2 p. m.

I long for home, beyond the skies.
This nation under God, say we,
Shall perish never, we foresee;
But nations without God will fall,
For time and judgment, too, must call.

I'm very glad that this decree
Was made by them and not by me;
When schools deny God's Word and more
I'd hate to think: "I closed the door."
Paul J. Siebenmann
San Antonio, Texas

They have scheduled a stop in Odessa to eat and then to be in Crane in plenty of time to get some rest and be ready and rarin' to go for the big game which starts at 8 p. m., as do all Plains' pre-conference game, whether at home or on the road.

REPORT FROM GEORGE MAHON

LUBBOCK, Sept 5--Congressman George Mahon spent the first part of the week in the District, stating that the House was marking time for a few days.

Mahon said that the issues in Congress were being hard fought in the best American tradition and that the indications were that Congress would be in session until much later in the year. He said that it was the duty of Congress to remain in session until the work was completed.

Mahon agreed the legislative output of Congress this year has not been very great, but added that he felt Congress should be judged not only by the legislation it passes, but also by the legislation it does not pass. He pointed out that a considerable volume of work would have to be completed before Congress could adjourn later in the year. He said that the most important pending legislation directly affecting West Texas was cotton legislation designed to deal with the crisis in cotton. The outcome of such legislation, he explained, was uncertain at this time.

With respect to pending Bracero legislation, he indicated that the chances were fairly good that Congress will agree on a simple one-year extension of the present law. In late May the House, in a surprise move, voted down a two-year extension.

Mahon stated that if the legislative program in Congress permitted he would return to Texas next week to attend the annual meeting of the Plains Cotton Growers at Lubbock and the Field Day program of High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway.

COUNTY H D MEMBERS TO STATE MEET

The following Home Demonstration Club members will leave Lubbock Tuesday morning, September 17, by chartered bus for the Texas H. D. Association meeting to be held in San Antonio on the 17th and 18th.

Mrs. Preston Murphey, ThDA Chairman from Stamford Valley Club; Mrs. Amos Smith, delegate of Turner Club; Mrs. Guy Hughes, delegate from State Line Club; Mrs. John E. Fitzgerald, delegate from Stamford valley; Mrs. Tom Box from State Line; and Mrs. Leroy Box from State Line Club.

The program is to include Rural Civil Defense specialists, Thomas G. Holmig and Bobbie Riney of Texas Extension Service; Lucille Moore, recreation specialist; Claudia Williams, program specialist; and others from the extension service.

Bexar County HDC members will act as hostesses for the annual meeting.

GRAND OPENING WELL ATTENDED

Mr. Sid Wade and Mr. Glenn Morehouse, owners of Plains Frozen Food here, said their Grand Opening here last weekend was counted a real fine success.

A total of 12 baskets of groceries valued at from $18 to $20 were given away to various customers during the day.

Something of a different method was used to determine the winners of the groceries. Mr. Harvey Stotts was asked to call the store at 12 different times during the event, and whoever happened to be checking out at that particular time was a winner.

PLAINS SCHOOLS

REPORT ENROLLMENT

Superintendent of Plains Schools, Mr. G. D. Kennedy, reports that total enrollment in the Plains Schools for the beginning of this school term is 622 students.

He pointed out however, that this figure is considerably below the peak for last year which was 700 students. He went on to explain that in about the center of the school year the enrollment always reaches a peak for the year, and that each year's peak is always greater than the one for the previous year.

He went on to say that he had been travelling around in the school district the last few days and had discovered several children not enrolled in school, who, since contacting them, had become enrolled.

In this vein he pointed out that a revision had been made this year by the state legislature in that the mandatory number of days for a school age child to attend school has been raised from 120 to 160 days per year and that this now applies to children from seven to 16 years of age.

He said that land-owners and others employing transient help are urged to see that any and all children of their workers become properly enrolled in school.

TELL RIDING CLUB PLANS

It was reported earlier this week that an attempt is being made to organize a riding club for Yoakum County.

It was stated that the club might conceivably become something in the nature of a Sheriff's Posse, and that another possibility was that a junior quadrill team might, if enough interest is shown, be a part of the club's activities as well.

Anyone who is interested is invited to attend the organizational meeting of the group which is scheduled for 8 p. m. this Saturday evening at the Yoakum County Arena here in Plains.

It was stressed that there is no age limit and it was also pointed out that anyone who wishes to do so is invited to bring their horse with them on Saturday evening.

BOOSTER CLUB

The Cowboy Booster Club had its initial meeting for the season last Monday evening in the American Legion Hall.

Head Coach, Rip Sewell, showed the group a very interesting film of the last year's regional tilt between Crane and Winters. He also made a report on the scrimmage held last Saturday between Crane and Hobbs in Hobbs. He said Crane looked plenty tough and that they have a lot of weight especially in their defensive lineup.

ELECTS OFFICERS

Officers for the coming year were elected. They are, Jack Palmer, president, Vennum Fitzgerald, vice-president, and Paul Gobb, secretary and treasurer.

Dues for the year were again set at $5 and a call for members was put out. The group meets each Monday at the Legion Hall at 8 p. m., and sees a film of the previous week's game and hears a scouting report on the one for the current week.

Golden Cranes Friday night in Crane will be the backfield Roland Faires, right halfback, Johnny Robertson, and quarterback, Mike Field.

Supervisor, R. M. (Bob) Jones, in a field of millet stubble provides a good cover needed organic matter to the soil. A dead cover crop does not require any moisture and it will hold our soil as well as hold the moisture by cutting down on evaporation.

Cover Crop Planting In Full Swing

Cover crop planting time is here. Many hundreds of acres are being planted to rye, wheat, oats, alfalfa and millet as a means of protecting our soil from wind erosion next spring and also providing a cash crop next summer.

K. O. Hendricks has a good stand of alfalfa. H. G. Smith, Price Brookshire, Lloyd Allsup, Bob Jones, C. O. Head, Wilbure Hayse, Charles Roseberry, Foye Powell and Earl Kiser are either planting or preparing land to plant alfalfa. This is the largest planting in many years and it may be a new crop for our land. Each day trucks haul hay through this area that could have been grown here. Alfalfa in a long time rotation will help build the soil and provide good cover in the spring when it is needed.

Looks like we can't get a District Cooperator to let his Great Plains Contract run out. We have about 8 that should expire this year but due to changes in operations or need for more Conservation work most of the contracts will be extended. Bob Long plans to extend his contract and plant several acres of crop land to grass. Other contracts that are to be extended are C. C. Copeland, S. L. Tingle and possibly Mrs. L. J. Duff.

The bermuda grass you don't graze now will mean a lot next spring in terms of vigor, cover, and increased growth. Rest now will insure deep root systems, better moisture utilization, less cold weather damage and a better over all stand of grass. 36 acres of grass with only half the land covered is not 36 acres of grass when it comes to grazing but 18 acres. It takes a good stand of grass to produce lots of grazing just as it takes a good stand of cotton to produce 2 bale to the acre.

Origin Of The Law

The law is a system of rules and regulations governing the whole field of human relations. Just to name some of the fields of law, there are criminal law, tax law, the law of contracts, business associations, torts, bills and notes, property, mortgages, sales, domestic relations, labor relations, wills and the administration of estates, and many others.

Where did this law come from?

At the risk of over-simplification, the law comes from two sources. One source is from the legislature of our state and from the federal Congress. This is referred to as statutory law. The second source of our law is frequently referred to as the common law. This common law started its growth in 1066 A. D. when William the Conqueror set up his judicial system in England.

Under William's system, when a person became aggrieved because of the act of another, he presented his grievance to a court duly constituted by the king. The court, after affording both parties an opportunity to be heard, then decided who was right. The judge's opinion was based upon former decisions of other judges, if any, and upon the justice of the situation and upon the custom of the people. If the king had made a law, a statute, then it controlled the situation and the other factors could be given no consideration.

The opinions or decisions of the court were then written down and referred to as precedent, when a similar situation arose at a later time, thereby giving a consistent pattern to the law.

As time went on the common law developed to meet the changing times. The change in to common law was somewhat slower than the progress of society with the result that occasionally the judge-made common law was (and is) sometimes out of date and worked unjust hardships. Into this gap, the king, parliament, or the legislature stepped and by the enactment of a statute, changed the common law.

When the colonies were settled by the British, they brought with them their system of common and statutory law, both of which continued to grow to meet the ever-changing times. After the revolution the states of our nation continued to follow this system of jurisprudence.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas is written to inform--not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

From Mrs. H. Leland, Brice-lyn, Minnesota: I remember quilt washing day as a day of great fun and excitement.

We lived near one of the Northern Minnesota clear, sandy-bottom lakes. On a clear, sunny and warm day in early summer, the grownups would have us carry rocks for a fire place and water to fill the boiler placed on the rocks.

A wooden tub would be partly filled with warm water made sudsy with good homemade soap. A quilt was placed in this tub and the children would take turns stomping the quilt in the tub with our bare feet. Then, two children at each end, the quilt would be wrung out by twisting the ends.

Next, the quilt was placed in the shallow water and someone would stomp on it again. Then it would be taken to deeper water for a good rinsing. Finally, it was wrung out again and placed on ropes strung between two trees. Quilt-drying in the process, the children could run around under them playing games.

Sometimes a quilt would float out to deeper water and there was

DIRT GARDENERS CHANGE PARTY DATE

The Plains Dirt Gardeners will have their Annual Family get-together Friday night at 8 p. m. in the Clubroom of the Old Courthouse instead of on Thursday as was previously planned, according to the planning committee, Mrs. Ed Hunter and Mrs. Robert Young.

It was stated that conflicting activities of various members were responsible for the change in date.

Each member of the club has been asked to bring a freezer of ice cream or a cake or cookies. Dominoes, canasta and other games will be available it was announced.

FIRST CHRISTIAN SLATES DINNER

As a culmination of a 3-months long attendance contest between the men and the women of First Christian Church here, a chicken dinner will be held by the group in the Clubroom of the old Courthouse on Wednesday evening of next week.

The contest, operated on a point basis was won by the men of the Church, so they, the men, will be feted to the chicken dinner by the women.

The women, on the other hand, it was pointed out, are symbiologically, at least, to eat crow, having lost the contest.

♦ SPEAKING OF CARDS ♦

"...FIRST SUMMER WE HAVEN'T HAD A CABIN FULL OF KIBITZERS."

THE LATEST TWIST
What is "in" in North America? Duplicate Bridge, for one thing, which is enjoyed by more than a quarter of a million people here. The form of Contract Bridge played in the big tournaments, Duplicate allows beginner and expert to compare themselves with others playing the same hands under the same conditions.

In Duplicate Bridge, each hand is played at least twice. Conditions exactly duplicate those of the other tables with the same cards in each hand, the same dealer and the same vulnerability. The score depends not on the luck of the deal but on the comparison with scores of players holding identical cards.

Accordingly, the number of points by which you win a deal matters less than the number of pairs outscored with the same hands. You can lose 2,000 points on a single deal and still receive the top score your way of the table if at every other table the opponents bid and made a vulnerable grand slam. Although the hands played in the usual Duplicate game are not prepared in advance, they are shuffled and dealt only at the first table. Then they are moved from table to table just as first dealt in Duplicate boards. Trays with pockets for the hands, the boards are marked with an identifying number and an arrow to show the direction in which they should be placed on the table. They also designate the dealer (that is, the first bidder) and indicate vulnerability.

Every deal is bid and played as it would be in rubber Bridge except that the cards are not gathered into tricks in the normal way. Each player turns down his own card as if he were keeping the tricks for his side. Cards are placed toward your partner if your side wins a trick, lengthwise if the opponents do.

Scoring in Duplicate differs slightly too. For an "Easy Guide to Duplicate Bridge," send a self-addressed, stamped #10 envelope to the American Contract Bridge League, 33 West 60th Street, New York 23, New York. Duplicate can be played in Bridge clubs, country clubs, social clubs and homes. Do it!

The picture taking will begin with the elementary students at 8:35 and continue on through junior high and high school.

Teachers pictures will be taken from 8 to 8:35.

Students are asked to wear dark clothing to have their pictures made.

Moisture Good Key To Cotton Quality

At present the only reliable method of checking the quality of cotton on the farm or at the ginning point is grade and staple length.

But according to Beverly G. Reeves, cotton ginning and mechanization specialist, Texas A&M University, the cotton moisture meter can be used as a good indicator of quality on seed cotton.

This device makes it possible to determine the proper time for harvesting and the way to conduct the ginning operation to preserve cotton quality, the specialist adds. The moisture content of the cotton fiber when harvested, while in storage prior to ginning, and during ginning is definitely correlated with spinning quality.

The fiber strength, the length uniformity of the fibers, and the amount of tangled fiber or neps in the cotton affect its spinning quality and fiber moisture level in turn affects these. Research has shown that cotton harvested at moisture levels above 8 percent is difficult to dry for proper ginning and that cotton with excess moisture tends to deteriorate in storage prior to ginning, says Reeves.

Cotton moisture level is also affected by the amount of trash in the harvested fiber. When trashy cotton is stored for long periods, moisture moves from the trash into the cotton, explains the specialist. Therefore, dry, careful harvesting is needed to produce quality and a moisture meter can help achieve this, he adds.

Reeves recommends that you buy a moisture meter if your operation justifies it, or have the cotton moisture content checked at the gin, but take advantage of this aid to quality cotton production.

Home from college for the past two weeks has been Miss Paula Tidwell. She plans to return to the Tech campus on September 12.
