MOORE or Less

by Johnnie Moore

"Treaties are made to be kept. We expect our country to keep its end of the bargain, just as we expect other nations like Russia to respect treaties."

Words such as these are familiar nowadays. But in this case their source and the circumstance that led to them are unusual.

They are found in a letter which a Montana Indian, a member and former President of the Flathead Tribal Council sent to newspapers in several Western states. They have to do with the proposed construction of a federal dam which would flood 16,000 acres of Flathead land.

This would be a direct and ruthless violation of a treaty signed with the Flatheads in 1855, and ratified by the U. S. four years later. In the words of the Wyoming State Tribune while we are pondering the good intentions of the Soviets in carrying out the terms of a treaty negotiated with this country, the United States itself is in the process of violating one of its own solemn commitments--made over a century ago with the Flathead Indians!

The parallel is a striking one. The Free World, our own nation included, has been appalled by Soviet Russia's constant and cynical violations of agreements, supposedly made in good faith. There is solidly-grounded fear that new agreements, including the nuclear test ban, will be treated in the same callous fashion, should it suit Communist purpose to do so. Will our own government follow an equally cynical policy--different in area, but identical in principle in the Flathead Indian land instance?

This is not a carping question. The honor of this nation is involved. What do "civil rights" mean if treaties like this are wantonly broken?

From National Review: "A British firm sells 47 radar predictors to the Pentagon for $2, 145, 789.60. They are declared surplus. The British firm kindly takes them off our hands (still uncrated)---for $114, 500. British firm turns around and sells them to Portugal for $493, 500. Portugal gets the money to pay for them from the United States. Score board: Portugal has 47 radar predictors; British firm is $2, 524, 739.60 richer; U. S. is $2, 524, 739.60 poorer, plus shipping charges which the U. S. paid. Rep. Richard Poff (R., Va.), who uncovered the story has been unable to find out exactly what the shipping charges were. Maybe if we bought ourselves a radar predictor we could find out."

Cowboys Travel To Sudan

Friena Nips Plains 15-13

A much-improved Cowboy football team took the field Friday night to do battle with the undefeated Friena Chiefs.

The Cowboys, after kicking off to Friena to start the game, were able to quell an early Friena drive and get position of the ball early in the first quarter.

Roland Faires, on the 9th consecutive time that he was fed the ball on the same play a power play through the right side, tallied for Plains from the three yard line. Jack Lowe's extra point kick was good and the Cowboys jumped off to a seven point lead.

Again in the same period play the Cowboys got possession of the ball and held on.

Early in the second quarter Joe Dan Cooke skirted twelve yards for Plains' second TD. This time, the try for extra point veered off to the right and was no good. Half time score stood at 13 for the Cowboys to nothing for Friena.

The second half, however, was something of a different story as Friena came back stronger than ever, and this, added to the fact that Plains had a bad case of the fumbleitis, put the Chiefs in the drivers seat during the second half.

Friena scored in the third quarter when quarterback Renner plunged over from the ten and a run play was good for the two extra points.

He again scored in the 4th and kick for extra point was good, making the score 15 for the Chiefs and 13 for the Cowboys, which was the game's final score.

This week Plains travels to do battle with the Hornets of Sudan there. Sudan is always tough to beat especially at home. They will be running

Coach Rip Sewell said that he is moving up a Freshmen tackle, N.C. Clannahan, to the varsity squad, and pointed out that he will be the heaviest linemen on the team.

He also said that Dennis Crutcher will be starting at the left halfback slot replacing Faires.

the wing T against the Cowboys and scouting reports say they have plenty of backfield speed coupled with a better than average passing attack.

The Cowboys will be a bit under strength due to injuries. Dan Smith, due to a recent appendectomy, will be out for this game. Also, Roland Faires has been side-lined for this week due to a knee injury he received yesterday in practice and Olan Smith will be out because of a bruised back.

B TEAM AND JR HIGH GRID ROUNDUP

The Plains B Team gridsters have done very well in their three contests so far this season.

Their coach, John Richey, reports that a great deal of determination and desire has been displayed by the team.

So far they have one loss and two wins to their credit. In their opener they beat a big Tahoka team by a score of 10-6.

Their second tilt matched them against Eunice who came to Plains with their entire team with the exception of their senior starters, and really laid it on the Cowboys 38-6.

In last weeks contest Plains bowled over Whiteface 24-0.

Cowboys travel to Seagraves this evening for their fourth, and a real tough contest.

In the Junior High ranks, Plains seventh graders have a split record on a real even keel. They lost by a score of 14-0 in their tilt with Tahoka, and gave back in kind when they defeated Seagraves 14-0. Plains eighth graders, so far, have a 1-1-1.

In their opener with Tahoka their was no score in the ball game.

Seagraves downed them 14-0; and they defeated Tatum in a very decisive 27-0 victory.

Band Boosters Set Meeting

A called meeting of the parents and boosters of students in the Plains School bands was held Thursday, Oct. 1, at 8:00 p. m., in the Junior High Building with nine members in attendance.

Officers for 1963-64 elected were: Mrs. Jesse Hale, President, Mrs. J. A. O'Neal, Vice President, Mrs. Tommie McDonnell, Secretary; Odus Waiser, Treasurer; Mrs. W. M. Taylor, Finance Chairman; Mrs. Wallace Randolph, Refreshment Chairman, Jesse Hale, membership Chairman and Amos Smith, Publicity Chairman. Other committee chairmen will be elected later.

It was voted to sell birthday calendars again this year, as a finance project with top quality calendars to be presented. Other projects discussed were a chili supper and rummage sale or fruit cake sales. A letter was read from Mrs.

Joe Bradley of Manor Baking Company, Dallas, who will meet with Plains Band Boosters next Tuesday, October 8 at 8:00 p. m. in the Junior High Building, stating he will serve fruitcake and coffee to all band parents and boosters.

The parents of every band student, grades 5 through 12, are urged to attend and find out what your son or daughter is doing in band and how you can help them and the band this year.

By-Laws of the Band Boosters were read, but formal adoption on any amendment was postponed until a regular meeting.

Other matters pertinent to the band and its work were discussed with no action taken.

An urgent plea is made to every parent to attend at least one meeting and learn what an added interest you will have in your child's band and school activities.

Over 65 Enrollment Period Now Open

One answer to the vexing health expense problem of the elderly people has become a reality for every resident of Texas who is 65 or over.

The answer is a plan called "Texas 65". It is being made possible by a group of insurance companies serving Texas which got together and formed a public service organization under special state legislature in order to pool risks of broad coverage at low rates of the elderly.

During recent years great strides have been taken in making available broader health insurance protection for more and more people. Especially dramatic are the gains that have been made in providing for the 65 and over, more than 53 percent of whom now have some form of protection as compared with only 26 percent a decade ago. But while much has been done, there is still a real need for more and better coverage. There are still a great many Texas residents 65 and over who are inadequately protected or who have no health protection at all.

"Texas 65" provides basic health and hospital insurance for $9.00 a month regardless of health and without medical examination. An additional $10.00 will provide a major medical policy on the same basis.

This is a private enterprise answer to a pressing problem an opportunity for us to provide for ourselves and for our own at a moderate cost. Details are available from any insurance agent licensed to sell health insurance in Texas. It's worth checking into for yourself, your parents or a relative.

Governor John Connally has set the pace in Texas by purchasing the first three Texas 65 Health Insurance Plans for his mother Mrs. J. B. Connally, of Floresville and his wife's parents Mrs. and Mr. Arno Brill, of Austin.

Children and relatives of all Texas 65 years of age and past would do well to follow the Governor's action and look into the plan that offers health insurance to everyone age 65 and over, and regardless of past health conditions.

Texas 65 is our state's way of taking care of its own. It is an outgrowth of meetings between the Governor and representatives of the insurance industry in Texas last year, and ultimate action by the Legislature authorizing the formation of the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association. The Association is comprised of some 50 insurance companies who have agreed to underwrite health insurance for our ageing citizens with no health questions asked. "Texas 65" is private enterprise's answer of how to help the ageing help themselves.

The new health insurance is available during the month of October from any insurance agent licensed to sell health insurance in Texas.

County Grain Support Price Set At $1.69

The basic county support rate for grain sorghum grading No. 2 or better and containing not in excess of 14% moisture is $1.69 per hundred for grain sorghum stored in Yoakum and other nearby counties. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from harvest through January 31, 1964. A producer shall not be eligible to receive a price support payment on grain sorghum under the 1963 Feed Grain Program. Loans mature on demand but not later than March 31, 1964. Should any farmer wish to place grain in the loan he should contact the local ASCS office. As in the past loan documents must be signed by all parties having an interest in the grain including lien holders. W. M. Overton, local ASCS Office Manager states that "the market price at this time is above the loan and no loans have been made as of this date."

Farmers complying with the feed grain program and eligible for payments will receive "Overton" stated "all payments due them regardless of whether the grain produced on the farm is sold or placed in the loan." Some reports have been made that to be eligible for the price support payment on complying farms the grain produced must be placed in the loan, and this report is in error. The amount of grain produced on a complying farm does not in any way affect the 1963 payments made through the ASCS office. The price support payment, which is made through the ASCS office, is based on the planted acres times the approved payment rate which was mailed to all farm operators early in 1963. Under the 1962 Feed Grain Program the local ASCS office made over 600 loans. The total amount was $1,088,720.73.

Later Albien got to visit a nearby museum which had a large collection of stuffed birds. She carefully and thoughtfully examined the woodpecker. Both decided they had rather have their own hand-

Tsa Mo Ga And Dirt Gardeners Set Joint Meeting

Helping American families explore and enjoy their own country is the activity of a woman who travels 60,000 miles per year, and who will visit Plains, Texas, as the guest speaker of the Plains Tsa Mo Ga and Dirt Gardeners Garden Club on Thursday, October 10.

She is Miss Carol Lane, women's travel director of Shell Oil Company, whose topic will be "Let's Go Adventuring!" The talk will be given at the Courthouse, according to Garden Club President, Mrs. Overton, and Tsa Mo Ga program chairman, Mrs. Casey Jones.

A constant researcher into travel, Miss Lane this summer took a cross-country motor trip from the Pacific Coast to New York to search out an check on unusual places to visit and additional ways to heighten the pleasures of automobile travel, with special emphasis on trips to the World Fair in 1964.

Her talk includes hints on unique vacation trips, travel budgeting, short tourette vacations, how to travel with children, family camping, and other subjects.

A highlight for many previous audiences is a short bag packing demonstration during which a 26 inch suitcase is packed with a complete two-week wardrobe. Miss Lane travels ten months out of each year to test and develop new vacation ideas. In addition to her appearances before women's groups, who have written numerous booklets on travel, has appeared on hundreds of television programs, and is often described by club women as "America's First Lady of Touring".

The Board will enter such rules, regulations and orders to prevent and control pollution as in its judgement the evidence may justify.

Interested parties may appear at the hearing for the purpose of presenting evidence to the Board related to said matter. The hearing will be continued from time to time and from place to place, if necessary, until a determination has been made relative to said matter as the board may deem right, equitable and proper.

Issued this 27th day of September, 1963.

 Uncle Zeb

A friend and regular reader John Spencer, tells the following on a young preacher. When asked to fill the pulpit he eagerly jumped to the occasion and bounced into the pulpit as if he was going to take the congregation by storm. The message didn't seem to be forth-coming and after much humiliation, he sat down with a humble and contrite spirit. An old preacher told him later that if he had entered the pulpit in the spirit which he left it, then he could have left the pulpit in the spirit with which he entered it. Our friend John preaches on Sunday after working all week for the Amarillo Auction Co. We understand from a mutual friend that the spirit is with him when he preaches. . . .

Just received an order for our book from Frank Aldrich who lives way up in Greece, New York. He sent along enough extra cash to pay for our hometown paper just in order to keep up with Uncle Zeb. This we appreciate from the bottom of our heart.

If we expect to get along in the world we will have to learn to get along with certain people and also to get along without many others.

Speaking of preaching, the other day we were travelling during the regular worship hour. We tuned in the strongest station available and sure enough, at exactly 11 o'clock the services began. Fifteen minutes went by, then twenty and thirty and still no preaching. Just about everyone was recognized, including an ex-deacon who was back on a visit. Sunday School was re-hashed, even to planning a future picnic. At twenty-five minutes the preacher took over with what seemed like such little time left to recognize the Lord. . . . Maybe He wasn't there.

The following is a true and touching experience from real life: Maurine Seale, who lives at 2703 S. Taylor Street in Amarillo, Texas, is what we usually call a shut-in. Her spinal cord was severed in a car accident while she was a student at Hardin Simmons University in Abilene, Texas. Because of this injury she lost the use of her body from the waist down. Even though she is shut-in, Maurine always opens up a new world of thought for everyone who visits her. She is a fire-ball of energy and has more different jobs than a Mr. Fix-It-Man.

Albien Vincent is almost totally blind and lives across town from Maurine. She can tell light from darkness and can distinguish objects at close range. She very efficiently operates a newsstand in the Post Office Building in the daytime.

One day Maurine was a bit disturbed, and was telling her problem to Albien over the phone. It seemed that for some practical reason a tree near her window was being cut down. Maurine hated to see the tree go for one special reason, this being that each year a woodpecker nested here.

"I believe," remarked Maurine, "that it is the same one that comes back year after year. We have become acquainted and I

Brownfield Classing Office Now Open

Serving farmers in this area for the fifth season, the Brownfield cotton classing office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture opens Monday, Rept. 30.

Cotton from 45 gins in Gaines, Terry and Yoakum counties is classed by the Brownfield office, operated by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Wilburn L. Reeves, who has been with the AMS cotton division for seven years, will be in charge of the Brownfield office again this season.

During the peak ginning season, the Brownfield office has facilities for classing about 5,000 samples per day.

Last year, the Brownfield office classed 266,399 samples under the Smith-Doxey program, according to Mr. Reeves.

In addition to grade and staple information, farmers also can get a micronaire reading on each sample if they have requested this service through their ginner.

The micronaire testing service shows the maturity of the cotton fibers and is another aid in marketing cotton, says Mr. Reeves.

Early ginned cotton in the Brownfield territory was classed in Lubbock. Should a farmer want a review on any of these classifications, the request for review and samples should be sent to Brownfield, points out Mr. Reeves.

Cotton is classed without cost for farmers belonging to organized Smith-Doxey cotton improvement groups.

Farmers who know the grade and staple of their cotton are in a good position to get the best market price for it.

"That is why farmers in this area have nearly all of their cotton classed by USDA," Mr. Reeves says.

In addition to classing cotton, the AMS cotton office releases every Friday the "Texas Oklahoma Cotton Market Review," describing local, state and national market conditions trends and quotations plus facts on picking, defoliating, machine harvesting and ginning.

During the harvesting season

AMS issues a cotton quality report by classing offices every Monday and a quality report by districts, monthly.

During the ginning season, it releases a cottonseed review every Thursday.

Persons wanting these cotton reports can get them without cost by writing to Mr. Reeves at P. O. Box 163, Brownfield, Texas, 79316.

Sleep Habits Investigated

Each of us spends one-third of our time sleeping, yet the science of sleep is something about which very little is known. Earliest writings tell us that long ago man was curious about sleep, but it has been only recently, in the last 100 years that science has made fruitful investigations of this phenomenon. Some of the things which have been learned about sleep are published in the September issue of the Texas State Journal of Medicine in an article written by a Houston psychiatrist, Dr. Allan G. Hanretta.

The sleeping state begins before birth, some scientists think. Unless he is hungry or uncomfortable for other reasons the newborn baby sleeps most of the time. Gradually, he sleeps less and less. When he becomes an adult he will need about eight hours' sleep, although when he is over 80 he may need more. Periods of sleep for everyone, young and old, are made up of alternating cycles of deep and light sleep.

Sleep has various effects on illness, some of which provide valuable clues to diagnosis. For example, the change in the pattern of blood circulation occurring while a person is lying down asleep may contribute to the cause of sudden spells of shortness of breath in forms of heart trouble.

Inducing sleep is one way of treating mental illness. It is used principally by the Russians and in parts of Europe. The Russians are investigating the possibility that sleep may have life-prolonging qualities.

Illness causes changes in the way we sleep. Some conditions may cause people to sleep too much, such as encephalitis, head injuries, syphilis, brain tumors, diabetes, hardening of the arteries, flu and epilepsy.

Sleep may be affected by psychiatric disorders. Changes in the sleep pattern may provide aid in diagnosing mental illnesses. Many anxious neurotic people complain of trouble sleeping and say they wake up tired in the morning. Patients suffering from sleep phobia or psychotic insomnia are thought to have egos so weak that they cannot face the imagined terrors in the unconsciousness of sleep. According to Dr. Hanretta, "These patients cling desperately to wakefulness and may actually commit suicide to escape the nameless horrors that seem to threaten them in sleep."

Sleepwalking is common in children, but in adults is an indication of an emotional problem. Murders have actually been committed with knives and guns while an individual was in a somnambulistic (sleepwalking) state. "A young civil engineer stabbed himself four times," writes Dr. Hanretta, "while in a somnambulistic state and did not awaken until just before he died of blood loss. He then related dreaming that an evil spirit had persuaded him to kill himself."

Children's sleep is frequently disturbed by nightmares and night terrors. There is a difference in these two. Nightmares are characterized by an abrupt awakening from sleep by a frightening dream which can be recalled the next day. The child may be calmed down to tell his experience, but he may have trouble going back to sleep. With a night terror the child may not awaken completely although he hits up in bed, jumps out of bed, or runs about excitedly with his eyes open. He is terrified, cries and talks incoherently. The night terror may last 16 or 20 minutes and cannot be shortened by reassurance. Finally, the child will go back to sleep. He will remember the dream when he wakes up.

Being deprived of sleep is unpleasant. The ancient Chinese made it a form of torture, and the practice was carried on during the Spanish Inquisition.

In the Korean War, American flyers were subjected to sleep deprivation in order to obtain false confessions of germ warfare.

Loss of sleep is believed, in some cases, to trigger a psychotic breakdown. Dr. Hanretta concludes his article with a discussion of dreams which he says appear to be an integral part of normal sleep and have a definite role in maintaining healthy mental life.

When patients with various psychiatric problems describe their dreams it is sometimes possible to tell from what they say just what kind of illness they have. Neurotic persons tend to have more nightmares than is normal, to recall dreaming more frequently, and to dream most often color. In the early stages schizophrenia patients may dream of blood, bodily dismemberment or dismemberment or disintegration murdering or being murdered and the subject matter may display a lack of dramatic detail or color. Depressed patients often report dreams of being rejected, reproached, or punished.

There remain perplexing things about sleep. The investigation of its mysteries may be one of the most rewarding tasks of scientific research.

How Much Of A Problem Is Weight?

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am 17 years old. I will be a junior this year in high school. My problem is that I have difficulty with my weight. I have lost 15 pounds. This particular boy has taken me to the movie. I like him very much. What I want to know is how I can get him to like me a lot. Do you think my weight has anything to do with it?"

OUR REPLY: You forgot to state whether your problem with weight was "too much or too little." Either way, we must say that weight is important because the individual who is too heavy or too thin does not look her best. If you are overweight, ask your parents to let you discuss the problem with the family doctor . . . and follow his recommendations.

Appearance is important. We should all try to look our best. Yet it is still possible to be handsome or pretty and not be too well liked. This is because of the personality that we present to them and because of our attitudes and actions — what we are and what we do. Haven't you noticed that sometimes the most popular individual in school is perhaps not the prettiest or handsomest?

If you want to make someone like you, be yourself. Be a nice person. Be friendly, be fun to be with. Don't talk too much or too little. Try to put people at ease when they are with you and you will find that you yourself feel more comfortable at the same time.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Miss Sandra Williams left Monday for Canyon where she will attend West Texas State College.

Dorothy Taunton spent last week in the Denver City Hospital, where she underwent surgery. Dorothy returned home on Thursday of this week.

From Hal Kesler, Union City, Tennessee: I am 72 years old and I remember when we gathered some place each month for a haircut. Our shoe polish was soot taken from an old iron stove lid. Our kitchen floor was bare, scrubbed each week with creek sand and homemade lye soap.

Mother made my knee pants until I was 15 years old and the girls wore calico dresses, also homemade, from material bought at the country store for 5¢ a yard. And we used to sing "I was her barefoot beau. She was my queen in Calico."

We went to the old country church, which was about the only place to go. There was no lipstick, no powder, no paint, no short hair for the women, nor short sleeves, nor short dresses. Woe-be-unto she who disobeyed any of these rules.

The parson generally wore a beard and a long frock-tailed coat, no creases in the pants. Creases weren't heard of in those days. But the parson's message was soul-stirring and the songs of the day still linger in my soul. Many of them I haven't heard in years.
