OUR 33rd YEAR

With the advent of "Texas 65", Texas has further enhanced its position as a leader in providing adequate health care for all aged citizens.

Passed without opposition by the 58th Texas Legislature and heartily backed by the Texas Medical Association, the "Texas 65" plan is a logical supplement to Texas' already successful program of health care--medical benefits to Old Age Assistance recipients and the proposed plan, Medical Aid for the Aged.

Under the "Texas 65" plan, insurance companies doing business in Texas will make health insurance available at reasonable cost to all Texans 65 years of age and over, regardless of past medical history, through the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association. There are 745,000 aged Texans, according to the 1960 census.

The benefits of this unique program will be underwritten and guaranteed by some 50 insurance companies licensed to operate in Texas.

Any Texan over 65 can purchase the plan from his own insurance agent, with no health questions asked, during the first enrollment period October 1-31.

"Texas 65" is a significant step forward in the effort to provide health care coverage for all senior citizens, said Dr. Robert Mayo Tenery of Waxahachie, President of the Texas Medical Association. "This plan should meet the health needs of the Texas aged," said the physician, "if those who would benefit most will avail themselves of the plan's advantages."

Governor John Connally has called "Texas 65" a sound step forward in this state's continuing program to care for its own people.

Texas 65 will supplement, on a voluntary basis, the medical phase of the state's Old Age Assistance plan, under which the State Department of Public Welfare purchases health insurance policies for those who qualify for OAA. The latter plan makes the use of state funds and federal funds available through Kerr-Mills legislation. OAA provides for the health needs of 30 percent (225,000) of the Texas aged.

Highway 82 Officially Opened

A motorcade of some 16 automobiles which formed all the way from Lubbock to Loco Hills, New Mexico, wound its way to Artesia on Tuesday of this week for a very special occasion.

Another group of cars also converged on Artesia from the other direction, beginning at Las Cruces, New Mexico.

Occasion for all the people going to the neighboring city was the official opening of the newly designated U. S. Highway 82, which is lauded as being the shortest route from the east to the west coast.

Several dignitaries from both Texas and New Mexico were on hand for the official ceremonies in Artesia.

Included in the group were Lt. Governor Preston Smith of Lubbock, John Ben Sheppard, a former secretary of state and attorney general of Texas, and Oscar Crain, also of Lubbock, who is the district engineer of the Texas Highway Dept.

Other dignitaries assembled for the occasion included Lt. Gov. Mack Easley of New Mexico and two highway state commissioners of that state.

the official opening of U. S. Highway 82 from Lubbock, through Plains, to Las Cruces, Lt. Governors Smith and Easley and the actual ribbon cutting ceremony.

During the banquet in the evening, the key-note address was given by Sheppard.

When the Lovington group joined the group from Texas, a coffee was served at the community building, and a short address, carried in part on the Lovington Radio station, was given by Lt. Gov. Smith.

The designation of U. S. 82 from Lubbock to Las Cruces linked the thoroughfare from Savannah, Ga., to Los Angeles, California, and is the result of several years of work by Chambers of Commerce and the Highway 82 Association.

The Highway, which is known locally as the Lovington highway, will now appear on tourist and travel maps as a major east-west federal route.

Making the trip from Plains were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Loyd, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Pete St. Romain, and Mr. Johnnie Moore. Loyd is a director in the 82 Association.

Face Steers In Farwell

COWBOYS OVERPOWER SUDAN

The Plains Cowboys racked up their first victory of this season last Friday evening in their tilt with the Sudan Hornets at Sudan.

Final score in the game wound up at 9 for Plains and 0 for the Hornets.

The score in the game was no real indication of just how much the Cowboys were in complete control of the situation during the entire contest.

The Hornets made a grand total of 45 yards in their ariel and ground attacks combined, while the Cowboys amassed a total of 305 combined yards despite being penalized an unbelievable 120 yards in the game.

After one unsuccessful try the first Plains tally came on a field goal kicked by Jack Lowe. Score at the end of the first quarter of play was Plains 3 and the Hornets 0.

Then in the second period, fullback, Joe Dan Cooke, ran 30 yards to the Sudan 2 yard line to set up the touchdown, which was driven over by Mike Field on a quarterback sneak. The score at the end of the first half of play was 9 for the Cowboys and zero for Sudan, and this is the way the game finally ended also.

This week, the Cowboys are travelling to Farwell for the final non-conference tilt, before opening district play at Tahoka next week.

Farwell is rated as having a top-notch Class A team, and as Plains fans know quite well, the Steers are always tough on their home field.

Farwell will be running their offense from a slot back formation, which is described as being a very useful form of attack especially for setting up pass plays and sweeps.

Roland Faires will again not be in the lineup for Plains due to the knee injury he received last week. One change in the lineup was announced by Coach Rip Sewell, that of running Jimmy Smith, who has been playing end at the left halfback slot, alternating with Dennis Crutcher. The balance of the starting lineup is expected to remain the same as it was last week.

Cowboy "B" teamers this week hubbed quite a stump when they came up against the Seagraves B's. Score in the game wound up Plains 12 and Seagraves 52.

Junior High footballers of Plains split a pair of games with Morton. The 8th grade Plains team won by a score of 24 to 8 and the Plains 7th lost by a score of 6 to 0.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK---Plains Booster Club, Monday Night, selected the entire Cowboy team as their choice for outstanding player of the week, because of the splendid showing they made in Friday night's game against the Sudan Hornets. Cowboys were victorious by a score of 9-0.

We should have the patience to explain very carefully to our children about all the wonderful things we are spending their future tax dollars for.

It is estimated that the government spends over 22 billion on crimes directly connected with liquor. The government takes in taxes about 2 1/2 million, or only about one-tenth of what it spends.

To belong to a church doesn't make one a Christian any more than owning a fiddle makes anyone a musician.

Dignity is one thing that can not be preserved in alcohol.

One of the easiest places to waste our sympathy is on ourselves.

We flatter those we scarcely know. . . . We please the fleeting guest. . . . And deal many a thoughtless blow. . . . To those we love the best.

What this country needs is for more people to be raising beans instead of spilling them.

The worst thing about the future is that the older we get the quicker it gets here. Just remember for a moment how slowly the years passed by as we waited to become 21. Then, how fast time went by afterwards. Someone wanted to know our age. Now that isn't a fair question. Anyhow, we are younger than Jack Benny, and he claims to be only 39.

This morning's mail brought a note of appreciation about this column from Mrs. Ella Castleberry of Star Rt. No. 2, Morton, Texas. She reads our column in Southwestern Crop & Stock. We appreciate such kind words very much, and of course it is only natural that we were glad to have this reader order our book.

I guess it wouldn't be fair to give any names, but the other day a comparatively young fellow made the following statement: "I have always enjoyed working for my father. I have learned a lot from him already, and I am still learning." What greater compliment could be paid a father?

Almost within the same week another similar statement was made. This time a father said, "Nothing has given me so much pleasure in life as having my son become a partner with me in the business." What finer compliment could a father pay to a son?

Just for the record: both of the above parents were honest hard working and upright citizens. Neither gambled or drank either socially or any other way. Both are christians and belonged to different churches. The lives of both sons are following a similar pattern.

The other day a young friend made this statement: "God made and worthwhile, but there is something good and uplifting about the outdoor life. This young man was a member of a group considered the indoor type. Bless him both in his work indoors and out in the open spaces. We thank God for the thoughts that come to our own life from other folks. Bless Your All . . .

man to live and work in the great outdoors. All of the other work has come about through the inventions and thoughts of man himself." It is something to think about. Of course all work that is honest and honorable is necessary

FOR the amendment of the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to repeal the provision making payment of the poll tax a requirement for voting and so as to authorize the Legislature to provide for the registration of all voters. AGAINST the amendment of the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to repeal the provision making payment of the poll tax a requirement for voting and so as to authorize the Legislature to provide for the registration of all voters.

This proposed amendment, if approved by the voters, would repeal the provision in Section 2 of Article VI of our Constitution which requires payment of a poll tax in order to vote. It would give the Legislature authority to provide by law for the registration of all voters, by amendment of Section 4 of the same Article.

A sound and fair system of registering voters in advance of an election, how such a system can be assured and maintained, is the basic issue involved. The proposed amendment would not repeal the poll tax, it would simply do away with the requirement of a poll tax receipt in order to vote. The poll tax, when originally adopted in Texas in 1845, had nothing to do with voting. It was not made a prerequisite to voting until 1902 when this requirement was adopted as a means of securing general registration of voters.

The first appearance of the poll tax in Texas law was in the general revenue measure passed by the Ninth Congress in 1845. The revenue measure provided among other things that "there shall be levied and collected a poll tax on every white male of this Republic, between twenty-one and fifty years of age." The Constitution of 1876 provided that a "poll tax of $1 on every inhabitant of this state between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools."

During Reconstruction Days a type of so-called registration of voters created widespread resentment. Agents of the Governor, acting as registrars under little restraint of law, were accused of fraud and intimidation. The system was used to insure that those who would support carpet bag rule voted while persons who had been connected with the secession movement were barred from the polls. When our present Constitution was adopted in 1876 after the State recovered its authority from occupation forces, resentment was so strong that the new document provided "no law shall ever be enacted requiring a registration of the voters of this state." It was soon evident that some means had to be found to keep the ballot pure.

In 1891 an amendment to the Constitution gave the Legislature authority to require registration of voters in cities having a population of 10,000 or over. In the highly agricultural State of that period, when the total population in incorporated places of 2,500 and over was less than 18%, this was such a small portion of the population as to be almost meaningless.

It was repeatedly charged that illiterate and uninformed voters were being controlled by influence men representing the "big interests" and the "liquor interests." A constitutional provision was finally adopted in 1902 requiring payment of the poll tax in order to vote. It was proposed by reform elements in the Democratic Party and by the Prohibitionists as a system of mandatory registration of all voters was calculated to stir bitter memories of Reconstruction Days. This is the same provision this amendment now proposes to repeal.

A proposal to eliminate the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting Texas elections was submitted as a constitutional amendment in 1949. It was defeated by a vote of 172,284 to 133,550. Referendums taken last year by both major parties indicated strong sentiment for repeal but wording of the questions left some doubt as to whether people understood them clearly. Apparently many overlooked the referendums or were not interested since the vote on this subject ran considerably behind that for candidates.

 The proposed amendment does not repeal the payment of a poll tax. Section 1 of Article VIII of our Constitution gives the Legislature authority to levy a poll tax and Section 3 of Article VII provides, as previously mentioned, that a tax of $1 on every inhabitant of the state between twenty-one and sixty years shall be set apart annually for the benefit of public free schools. Neither of these two sections would be changed.
 As a practical matter collection of the poll tax would become difficult and doubtful. The money for schools which the poll tax now provides, a-hout $2,000,000 per year, would probably have to be made up from some other revenue source.

 This proposal should not be confused with a proposed amendment to the federal constitutional which has been submitted to a vote of the states. If the federal amendment is adopted, it will prohibit requirement by the states of the payment of a poll tax or other tax in order to vote for federal offices. This amendment also would relate only to the vote and would not affect legally the right to levy a tax.
 The amendment provides that the Legislature may enact a registration law in anticipation of its adopting, and the Legislature passed Senate Bill 132 which will apply to all elections in Texas if the amendment is adopted. It provides for general registration of voters before February 1 of each year, with a registration fee of 25¢. It would of course, be subject to revision or repeal at a future session.
 A special provision of Senate Bill 132 would apply if the federal poll tax amendment is adopted before our Texas Constitution is amended. This provides the manner in which people could vote for U. S. Senators, U. S. Representatives, The President and the Vice President, without payment of the poll tax.
 Payment of the poll tax as a requirement for voting has become entangled in racial issues, and for that reason there are those who argue that it would be best if this amendment were adopted. Aside from whether its effect has been good or bad, and regardless of its history and purpose they feel the requirement of a poll tax receipt in order to vote has received so much bad publicity throughout the nation that it would be better to set up a new system of registration for voters without reference to the poll tax. It is argued that repeal of the poll tax requirement for voting would not materially change the fundamental situation since the Legislature would be given power to enact a system of registration.

 It is argued just earnestly by others that repeal of the registration requirement based on payment of a poll tax, would leave the subject open to the abuses that brought cries of fraud and corruption in years gone by. They emphasize that we are dealing with the very foundation of all our law, which is the Constitution, and that this amendment would take out of the Constitution any requirement for registration of voters. While the Legislature would be authorized to set up such a system, it would not be required to do so.
 Opponents fear some future Legislature might weaken requirements for registration, or the method of registering, or allow registration so near to invite the very problems the reform elements sought to end in 1902. They remind us that it took a long struggle to get a state-wide system of voter registration in Texas, and it was not achieved until it was written into the Constitution in mandatory form.

HARVEST TIME IS CONSERVATION TIME

Harvesting of a good crop whether it be cotton, grain or grass gives the land owner and operator the opportunity to look at the economic production as well as the Conservation needs of the land.
 Reports of increase production from such Conservation practices came from farmers and ranchers alike, Jimmy Sherrin who farms the Mozell Fitzgerald farm East of Plains reports that crop rotation and soil building crops really paid off this year. He uses cowpeas in a rotation with Maize and Cotton. Rancher Dick McGinty sprayed shinoak with a lot of grass coming back.
 Interest continues in Conservation work mainly in the form of Soil Conservation work and Great Plains Contracts to help carry out the contracts.

For more than 400 years, the puppet show Punch and Judy has delighted children from all over the world. These youngsters at Six Flags Over Texas watch enraptured as puppeteer John Hardman manipulates the characters in the classic play.

PUNCH AND JUDY STILL KIDS FAVORITE
 "You'd never think that a play written about a grotesque character who beats his wife, throws a policeman out the window, strangles his child and finally gets eaten by an alligator would be a favorite with children," said John Hardman, Six Flags' adroit puppeteer, "but that's the way it is."
 John is talking about the play, Punch and Judy, and the youngsters visiting Six Flags Over Texas make a beeline to the little stage where performances of the classic puppet show go on almost continuously.
 "For over 400 years, Punch and Judy has delighted the younger set in countries all over the world," continued John. The play reportedly was of Italian origin and drifted over to England. Eventually it came to America. "I never cease to be amazed at the kids' reaction," said the 28-year-old manipulator of the hand puppets, "and I'm not going to try to explain the reasons why."
 "Suffice to say that 400 years from now I wouldn't be surprised if children were still exploring their parents to take them to see a performance of Punch and Judy . . . on the Moon, that is."

Set Welding Short Course

"Many welding short courses in various parts of the state have been taught by Mr. Barton and all have met with outstanding success," according to Hulan H. Harris, area supervisor of vocational agriculture, Big Spring, Texas. Arrangements for the adult education short course in welding and in other fields are made through Mr. Harris's office. The short course at Plains is scheduled to begin October 14, at 8 p. m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in the series of five will be held October 15, 16, 17 and 18. During the dates the short course is in progress, Mr. Barton will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Calvin Helm. Farmers interested in attending the short course should write or call the Superintendent of vocational agriculture to provide improved educational services to farm people. Specialists are available in fields of beef cattle, insect control, farm management, farm electrification, farm welding, swine production, tractor maintenance, dairy cattle, oxy-acetylene welding and pasture.

PLAINS COTTON GROWERS DIRECTORS
 YOAKUM COUNTY

The two Yoakum county directors of Plains Cotton Growers are urging full participation from farmers, ginners and businessmen--the team that makes up PCG--in the "do-it-yourself" program to insure a vigorous future for the High Plains cotton industry through research, promotion and service. These directors are your county representatives in all affairs governing the policies and actions of PCG, together with "home-folks" from the other 22 counties, are your assurance that those policies and actions are a direct reflection of your needs and desires. The long-term future of the cotton industry will rest on its success or failure in world markets. PCG's production research to make cotton more competitive in price, technical and fiber research to enlarge old markets and open new ones, and its intensive promotion are the types of action that will re-establish the superiority of cotton in these markets. A representative of PCG will be calling on your ginner soon in the organization's annual "Sign-Up" campaign. Wherever you gin, contact that ginner and let him know that you want to be on the team that keeps this work going for the High Plains.

The Bidding:
 South West North East
 1 ♦ pass 1 NT pass
 2 NT pass 3 ♣ pass
 3 NT pass pass pass

Opening lead, six of hearts.

North plays low from the board, west plays low and south wins with the ten. North leads a low spade to the jack and west lets the trick hold. North leads the queen of clubs from the board, west covers with the king and east is forced to play the ace. East leads a low heart which West wins with the ace and North show out. West returns a heart which forces East to go up with her king to win the trick. East returns a heart which is won by the queen in the dummy. Then North has solid clubs and diamonds for the remaining trick and four NT.

COMMENT: North was very aggressive in the bidding and the hand should have been set. East and West became too involved with hearts. West should have taken the first spade trick and led the king off the board. Then on the first club lead West should have played low. East and West then could have had two spade tricks, two heart tricks, and two clubs trick for a two trick set.
