11th Annual Rodeo Set To Roll Shows Begin 8 P. M. Nitely

In order to further publicize the rodeo this year, the three queen contestants vying for Rodeo Queen honors this year, along with Plains Mayor Johnnie Brown, will appear on television Monday at 12:15 p. m. over channel 11 in Lubbock.

The contestants for this year are Pam Parrott, who is being sponsored by Yoakum County Roping Club, Pam Long, sponsored by Chamber of Commerce, and Dianne Marchman, sponsored the Plains Lions Club.

11th Annual edition of the Plains Rodeo and Old Settlers Reunion is in the very near future, and plans for putting it on are all but complete at this point.

Evening performances will start each night of the three scheduled at 8 p. m. and the program each evening will include the following:

- BULL DOGGING
- BAREBACK BRONC RIDING
- SADDLE BRONC RIDING
- BULL RIDING
- TEAM ROPING
- CALF ROPING
- JUNIOR BOYS RIBBON ROPING
- OPEN LADIES BARREL RACE

Following each night's performance, a Cowboy Dance is to be held, music being furnished by Jimmy Mackey of Lubbock.

Admission to each performance of the Rodeo has been set at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. The price on Saturday also entitles the ticket holder to admission to the big barbecue held at noon on Saturday, August 1, held in the local park. It is reported that a total of 6 beefs already have been donated for the big feed.

Livestock for the show this year is being furnished by Dick Ratchin of Happy.

All the earmarks are that Plains is set to have another real fine rodeo this year.

Just to stir your thinking a little we quote the following from "Human Events" reportedly spoken by Rep. Gene Snyder of Kentucky:

"If prayer and Bible reading are as bad in public places as many of our Church leaders and theologians would have us believe, then why did they wait until an atheist filed a law suit before they told us so?"

At 5 P. M. Parade

The following familiar saying, written by Dean Alfange has become known as the American Creed. Every real American should almost commit it to memory, as I believe, it very forcefully reminds us of a way of life and thinking that is in very real danger of being lost today.

I do not choose to be a common man. It is my right to be uncommon... if I can. I seek opportunity... not security. I do not wish to be a kept citizen, humbled and dulled by having the state look after me. I want to take the calculated risk; to dream and to build, to fail and to succeed. I refuse to barter incentive for a dole. I prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence; the thrill of fulfillment to the stale calm of utopia. I will not trade freedom for beneficence nor my dignity for a handout. I will never cower before any master nor bend to any threat. It is my heritage to stand erect, proud and unafraid; to think and act for myself; enjoy the benefits of my creations and to face the world boldly and say, this I have done. All this is what it means to be an American.

To get things started off with a big bang, the annual Rodeo Parade will again this year be held at 5 p. m. on Thursday evening, July 30. Many entries in the parade in the form of floats are expected again this year and local businesses and civic clubs are urged to cooperate to make this the best parade ever by making an all out effort for every business and club to have a float or display in the parade. Again this year, the judging of the floats will be done by out-of-town judges, and prizes in the form of cash will be awarded to first, second and third place floats.

Prizes have been set at $25, $15 and $10.

The parade will again this year be started from the front of the Plains Schools and will again proceed toward the Court House square, which it will circle.

Clubs and businesses who wish to enter floats or exhibits in the parade should contact this year's parade marshal, Mr. Johnnie Fitzgerald, so that their placement can, at least partially, be worked out well in advance of the parade.

TSA MO GA PLANS COWBOY SUPPER THURSDAY

A Cowboy Supper, featuring cowboy steaks, pinto beans, cornbread, fresh vegetables, and cobbler, is on tap for one and all Thursday afternoon, the opening day of the annual rodeo here.

The event, being sponsored by the Tsa Mo Ga Study Club, is being held in the interest of raising funds to help defray the cost of the remodeling job now being done on their local club house.

The big feed will be held in the Plains School Cafeteria from 5 to 7 p. m. on Thursday afternoon.

Charges for the meal have been set at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 years old.

Toward Scout Hut

Donation Honor Roll Begun This Week

As the work is progressing very rapidly on the new Scout Hut-Lions Den, the finance committee of the Lions Club, charged with raising as much of the money needed to finish the project as is possible, started their work this week in earnestness.

The finance committee is composed of Paul Cobb, Alf Carpenter, and Johnnie Fitzgerald.

Several pledges made by both Lions Club members and by several individuals around Plains were being called in and many other persons are being called on by the committee and being given the opportunity to donate to this very worthwhile project.

Planning on and dreaming about such a venture by the Lions Club and the local Boy Scout leaders began about two and one-half years ago, but the planning and fund-raising has taken a long period of time.

The part of the construction now underway, the erection of the outside of the building, which is being done by McCort Construction Co. of Brownfield, is set to be completed by Saturday of this week, and then Faulkenberry Builders Supply of Plains will begin finishing the interior of the building.

Upon its completion, the structure will be used by the Plains Lions Club for their bi-monthly meetings; by the Boy available for use by the Girl Scouts if they so desire.

Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers of Plains; and will be available for 4 q

The following named people, along with the amounts they donated are listed on page 6 of this issue on the Honor Roll and the names of donors throughout the fund-raising period will be added to the list each week.

- PAUL COBB
- WALTER DRIVER
- JOHNNY JAMES
- JOHNNIE FITZ
- JOHNNIE FITZGERALD
- ARCHIE WHITAKER
- ROSS IRRIGATION
- WOODY WILMETH

ROUGH RIDERS SCHEDULE BUS Y

Last Thursday, in the parade which opened the Lovington Rodeo, the Plains Rough Riders, a riding club for children and teenagers here, won a third place trophy in the parade.

The club, now boasting 37 members, meets at the local rodeo arena on each Monday and Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m.

They report that the club has been invited to participate in several other area rodeos.

This week, Thursday, the group is scheduled to ride in the Brownfield parade and a part of the club, which has been made into a quadrille, will perform during the rodeo in Brownfield on Thursday and on Saturday nights.

Then next weekend, the group is scheduled to take part in the Plains Rodeo Parade on Thursday afternoon and in the Rodeo each of the three nights the quadrille group will perform.

On the following week, the same schedule as was followed in the case of the Brownfield Rodeo will be followed in the Seagraves Rodeo.

Caller for the quadrille this year is Mr. Jim Cooke.

MRS. DOROTHY LOWE SUFFERS BROKEN LEG

Mrs. Morris (Dorothy) Lowe of Plains is a patient in the Yoakum County Hospital in Denver City, following an accident Tuesday, when she fell and broke her leg while shopping in Mary Dee's Personality Shop in Denver City.

Doctor's reports have said that she will have to stay in the hospital in traction for at least a period of six weeks.

INTO THE TANK---first customer attacked (I mean arrested) by the Rodeo Marshall and his deputies was the Mayor of Plains, Johnnie Brown.

ON HIS WAY TO THE HORSE TANK---is Banker Bill Loyd, who very innocently came out of the Bank yesterday to view the plight of and possibly to take a picture of his cohort, Johnnie Brown. Upon close examination, it was learned that he also was without a shaving permit.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: $3 per year in Yoakum and Terry Counties; $4 per year elsewhere.

Not only on Independence Day but on each day in the year we should thank God for our many blessings. For the freedom we hold so dear, and for the fact that our forefathers looked to God for guidance as they built the framework for a nation's future. Let us hope and pray that our country will stay within these bounds and that God will continue to watch over our nation as in the words of John Greenleaf Whittier He watches over His children:

"I know not where His islands lift... Their fringed palms in air... I only know I cannot drift... Beyond His love and care..."

There are at least two good reasons why parents should not do junior's homework; in the first place they shouldn't and in the second place they can't...

The wicked in most any community stick together better than good folks. They believe that unless you hang together you will surely hang separately. They work together for their best interests even when they dislike each other personally. Usually this is not quite so true in the other side. They split into factions within even the church, fall out over their club or lodge, and wage an all out war to be on the opposite of anyone with different political views.

"All men are born equal, but some outgrow it."

How true it is that we spend much of our time trying to impress those we scarcely know, and to please those from whom we hope to receive something in the future, and take for granted those we love the most. The following little verse called Whom We Love puts it in a nice way.

"We flatter those we scarcely know..."

Views From John Tower

Congress is again faced with the perennial problem of foreign aid. Last year, as you may remember, the Congress was successful in making rather drastic cuts in foreign aid. In fact, it was only after extreme pressure on the Congress by the Administration, that the bill was passed.

This year, the problem is back again. The Administration is asking for $3.5 billion this year, which is about the figure eventually arrived at last year. This figure has been cut by a very small amount more when it comes to the Senate floor. Since this report is being taped several days before you hear it, there is a possibility that we may even act on the foreign aid bill before the program is aired. At any rate, I want to give you my thinking on the matter, so you will know how I plan to vote when the bill comes up, or so you will know how I voted as I did if you hear this report after the vote has been cast in the Senate.

As you know, I have long been a critic of our scatter-gun approach to foreign aid. I have thought, as said, that our foreign aid funds ought to be used on a more selective basis, that we ought not to build up socialistic governments, or socialistic schemes abroad. We have had ample opportunity to study the effects of the present approach to foreign aid spending, and it leaves much to be desired.

There is another factor that enters the picture this year. The Administration wants $3.5 billion for new foreign aid funds. But there is now available, in holdover funds from past foreign aid appropriations, more than $7 billion. This is twice what the Agency for International Development wants from Congress this year in the way of appropriations.

It appears to me that they could well get along on the money they now have, without new appropriations from the Congress.

Perhaps if Congress were to force drastic changes in our foreign aid program, if we could restrict the funds to the barest amount needed to do specific jobs in specific countries, we could then force the Administration to pay closer attention to the expenditure of those funds. Quite obviously the Administration is not going to practice frugality in the expenditure of tax dollars if they have an abundance of dollars to spend.

I believe that waste in our foreign aid funds takes place in essentially two ways. On the one hand, we have the usual, and seemingly endless, graft and corruption that is inherent in the expenditures of large sums of foreign money in underdeveloped societies.

As an example of this: Recently my office was visited by a former Air Force officer who has spent the past several years in Laos as a civilian pilot. While the primary reason for his visit was to talk about general developments in the Southeast Asia, he did note, in a manner of passing, some rather interesting things in gard to our foreign aid in that country. For instance, he said that a quantity of cement, destined for airport construction, had been "liberated" for use in the construction of a huge religious monument. Later I inquired of the State Department if this were true, and was told that it was, except that the twenty tons of cement were removed from the Lao Government Rural Affairs warehouse, rather than from airport construction stocks. I was assured that a refund claim had been instituted against the Lao government to recover the cost of the cement. I strongly suspect that the settlement will come out of future foreign aid funds, furnished by our taxpayers.

Obviously, not all of our foreign aid funds are misused. But there is much more likelihood of mis-use if the funds are lavishly scattered around the world.

But what is of far more importance, it seems to me, is the use of our foreign aid funds to build up foreign societies that are inimical to our own best interests. We have provided millions of dollars to prop up socialistic regimes and socialistic schemes around the world, regimes that would have made it never past the stages of inception had we not offered a helping hand. This is a waste far in excess of that which is siphoned off to line the pockets of petty native politicians, or to build monuments.

Equally ridiculous is the practice of pouring millions of dollars into regimes like that of President Sukarno of Indonesia, when those countries actively oppose our efforts to build a peaceful world. We have aided the left-wing Sukarno, and still aid him, despite his insulting language toward our country and his campaign to crush the new nation of Malaysia, our friend and ally in Southeast Asia.

We need a new approach to foreign policy in general and in this case to foreign aid spending in particular. Until we can be assured that a new and better approach is forthcoming, I do not plan to vote for a bill that would appropriate vast sums of tax dollars to international expenditures.

Rev. ROBERT H. HARPER
A Matter of Words

IN A great daily newspaper a letter 59 64 Editor caught my attention. The letter told how many words are to be found in several well-known writings and speeches. I admired the writer's patience, but am sure he does not fix the value of the writing or speech simply by the number of words used.

As is the case with many little things in a paper that gain attention for a moment and are laid aside and a man going back for it cannot readily find it, so has it been with the item to which I have referred. But I remember that one thing of which he had counted the words was the Ten Commandments.

Certainly you will agree that the importance of those Commandments does not depend upon the number of words with which they are expressed or that there are eleven or twelve. Their importance is derived from the fact that they are the words of God and that obedience to them in the working out of human life is best for mankind.

We further realize that the words, whether few or many, draw their worth in being understood. When Philip joined the chariot of the Eunuch who was reading in the Scriptures, he asked the Eunuch if he understood what he was reading. And the Eunuch confessed the need of someone to guide him. So may the word of God be revealed to us that it may be revealed through us to others.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Fairly recently that part of the nation which takes an active interest in the maintenance of the American democracy was quite shocked when Senators J. W. Fulbright and Joseph Clark made a bitter attack on the American legislative processes. It was their published viewpoint that the authority of the legislative bodies of the government should be curtailed, and more power given the administrative branch. This, of course, would eventually lead to dictatorship.

Shocking as this proposal is, it is possible to see why men of the utmost goodwill would be inclined toward such a radical viewpoint out of sheer sense of frustration.

A case in point is the current handling in the U.S. Senate of the measure known as Senate Resolution No. 30, which would upgrade the present Senate Small Business Committee by giving it the authority to introduce legislation directly to the floor of the Congress. Independent business would thus be on a par with labor.

Early in the session Senator Winston Prouty introduced this measure, along with 33 senatorial co-sponsors. Since that time 23 additional senators have gone on record as favoring the measure. The total stood at 55 until the death of Senator Kefauver, but even now there is a total of 54 of the 100 senators committed, or more than enough to pass the measure.

National Federation of Independent Business

However, under traditional procedures, the measure is now with the rules committee, and cannot be voted upon until the chairman of the rules committee reports the measure out.

Congressional procedures were adopted to prevent a vociferous minority from stampeding through the Congress unwisely legislation before it could be studied.

But this wise safeguard is often used to defeat the will of the majority, which negates the basic principles of a democratic form of government.

In the case of Senate Resolution No. 30, there is major agreement that independent business, as nation's largest employer, needs the benefits that will accrue from the Senate Small Business Committee having legislative authority.

There is no government re-organizational matter involved here. The Senate Small Business Committee is a permanent committee, and an actively functioning one insofar as the investigative and hearing work is concerned. All that is required is to permit this committee after it has made its study of an issue, to send a bill to the floor of Congress for a vote, rather than refer it to another committee where it can be buried as is being done to Senate Resolution No. 30.

Yet despite the fact 54 senators have gone on record saying this reform is badly needed to aid the economy, a single senator is able to prevent them from voting for it. This illustrates lucidly a serious sickness of the American democracy.

Trade with the communists

Picture This! There was an article beginning on Page 173 of the "Facts For You" dated June 19, 1964, regarding U.S. sale of wheat to Russia. There has been another recent development of interest on this subject.

Congressman Lipscomb put in the Congressional Record on Page 13080, dated June 11, 1964, additional information regarding the Communist Bloc Nations. The Congressman reviewed the fact Rumania had issued a joint communique concerning an agreement which, if carried out, would help place the United States solidly in the league with the move which will result in contributing significantly towards building up the economic, scientific and industrial and, of course military potential of the Bloc Nations.

The Congressman reported that the United States and Rumania had laid the foundation for trade cooperation, under which Rumania would be allowed to purchase many commodities without the need of individual export license. The agreement, according to the article, will permit Rumania to by such things as synthetic rubber factories, hydro-electric turbines, modern oil riggings, equipment for the petrochemical industry, and steel industries. The article started that under the deal, United States would sell nuclear power plants to Rumania.

How is Rumania to pay for what she gets from the United States? How else but through the credit - guaranteed courtesy of the U.S. taxpayer by way of the Export-Import Bank.

One fact seems to stand out in all of these discussions about trade with the Communists as follows: If the Communists are successful in burying the capitalist nations, it will definitely be because the capitalist nations furnished the necessary goods, services and capital to do the job.

Place a picture at side of furniture group, with plant, lamp or another accessory for balance. (This is sometimes more interesting than centering a picture above a piece of furniture.)

- Look at size and shape of space where picture is to be hung. A tall space calls for a vertical picture or group of pictures in vertical shape. A square space may be filled with vertical, horizontal or square pictures.
- Set a picture off from patterned wallpaper by using a wide mat.
- In grouping pictures, choose a common subject or color or technique.

State Capital News

By Vern Sanford

Austin, Tex.—Local governments in Texas may be the main beneficiaries if state government winds the current fiscal period with a $80,000,000 surplus as Gov. Connally predicts it might. Connally told reporters it is "certainly" certain he will recommend a 10-cent ad valorem tax on property to state revenue pur-poses and leaving that source exclusively to local governments. Connally said $20,000,000 of an expected surplus could be set aside in a special fund to retire college building bonds backed by ad valorem tax contributions.

In predicting that the surplus will not be less than $35,000,000 and probably will reach the $80,000,000 figure, the Governor joined those who have contended all along that the general revenue fund will be so far in the black in 1965 that new tax problems will be eased if not erased.

Connally also said he contem-plates submitting to the Legisla-ture in stages the recommenda-tions of his Committee on Educa-tion Beyond the High School. He still plans to call a confer-ence on morals and ethics but said he has not picked a time. However, he declined to say whether he would recommend a ban on employment and public ac-commodations legislation in or-der to maintain some state jurisdic-tion over civil rights under the new federal law.

Illiteracy fight stepped up
A quiet campaign is under way to mobilize South Texas commu-nity facilities to combat an illiter-acy problem which results in wasted lives and a damaged econ-omy. Fausto Toscano, an assistant to Governor Connally, is in South Texas determining what can be done at the local level to help stamp out the blight of illiteracy. Toscano has visited seven South Texas counties attempting to es-tablish local literacy centers to teach adults to read and write. He reports that in most counties in South Texas illiteracy is far above the national average, and runs over 20 per cent in some counties.

Good neighbor trip planned
An August trip to Mexico City and to the four Mexican states adjacent to Texas is planned by Governor Connally, who said that much of this state's economic fu-ture is tied to lands of the Rio Grande. Connally hopes to improve re-lations with Latin leaders before the 1968 Olympics are held in Mexico City. Also he would like to link the Olympics with San Antonio's Hermit Fair which is scheduled for the same year.

Republicans head for Golden Gate
Nearly 500 Texas Republicans "irrevocably committed to Barry Goldwater for the presidential program for the 100,000,000 nomination," arrived in San Francisco last week for the GOP convention starting Monday, according to state GOP headquarters here.

Short snorts
Cigarette smokers are doing it again. Revenue from cigarette tax stamps increased $568,048 in June over June 1963 and more than $600,000 over May. A gold-painted guard rail was installed along a $90,000,000 freeway section near Winnie in Jefferson County. Freeway connects downtown Houston with Beaumont Highway Commission Chairman Herbert C. Petry, Jr., predicted it will save 21 lives a year.

Business strength maintained
Texas' 40 month business up-swing is the longest of the post-war era (except for the Korean War period), according to the UT Bureau of Business Research. While the business activity index slipped two per cent in May, the average for the first five months of 1964 is seven per cent above the same period in 1963.

New mansion asked
Should Texas build a brand new $500,000 governor's mansion? That is a subject of debate in the capitol city. Building Commission Director H. R. Nieman, Jr., has recom-mended a new structure to replace the 108-year-old mansion. Budget Director Bill Cobb also has testified in favor of the pro-posal. Connally, a member of the Building Commission, supports the new mansion plan. But whether he will throw his full backing be-hind it depends on the state's financial condition when the Leg-islature convenes in January.

Mental health
County Judge C. L. Abernethy heads a statewide committee which is taking a long, hard look at what Texasans do about mental health problems. The 112-member citizens com-mittee expects to have its report ready by August. But comments that meetings have indicated strong-ly that the committee will tell Texans that mental health work should begin in the local com-munity. Judge Abernethy said the old concept of isolating mental pa-tients far from home is far less effective than treatment in their home towns.

Fisherman's heaven
Parks and Wildlife Department spokesmen expect the out-sized Amistad Reservoir, now being fashioned from the Rio Grande, Pecos and Devils rivers, to be a heaven for fishermen.

REP. GEORGE PREDICTS STORMY SESSION

State Representative Elect Jesse T. George attended the regular quarterly meeting of the Texas Commission on Higher Education on July 13 in Austin. Concerning the authorization of a law school at Texas Technological College by the Commission George stated, "The Commission is to be commended for this step forward in higher education. Actions such as these will truly open the door to further advancement in the utilization of the brain potential of Texas' citizens. West Texas is a growing area, an arena for growing industry and education. The challenges which are before West Texans are unlimited."

Following a conference with Governor Connally, George said, "The 59th Session of the Legislature will be presented with many controversial and time-consuming issues. The problems of congressional redistricting, concerted efforts regarding horseracing and pari-mutuel gambling, and a move by the Texas Restaurant Association allowing mixed drinks in restaurants will create heated controversy among legislators. Recommendations by the Governor's special higher education study committee rank high on the legislative agenda."

George stated that he began duties Wednesday as an Administrative Assistant at Texas Tech, and in addition to this will instruct a night class in government at South Plains Junior College during the Fall Semester before the Session convenes in January.

OUR NEW LAND

Forty-three acres! How long we labored, hoping someday to add it to our modest farm.

Good bottom land... with a grove for the children to play in, a stream with an ol' swimmin' hole, and rich soil just begging for the plow.

Now it's ours! A great moment... full of promise... fraught with challenge.

Sort of like that moment a few years ago when Peg and I became members of the congregation. Before that the church had been simply a familiar scene along the border of our lives. Suddenly it became our church.

And there was that deep sense of partnership with God... full of promise... fraught with challenge.

There is such an abundant harvest of blessing and happiness to be reaped in life... if a man yearns for the best, and claims it for his own, and is ready to put his hand to the plow.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
