TOTAKE SCHOOL PIX

School pictures are to be taken in the Plains Schools this Thursday, September 17.

Teachers and other school personnel will have their taken, then they will be followed by the seniors and then from the first grade and work up.

Parents are asked to please not bring pre-school children to have their pictures taken at this time, as a day in October will be set as make-up day and at this time pre-schoolers will be most welcome, but Thursday's schedule just doesn't have any spare time in it.

Tell Football Contest

Winners in this week's grid contest each had to be selected by using the scores in the tie-breaker game.

Two entries missed only four of the 18 games for which the winners were to be chosen, and three guessers missed only five, so that first and second place winners were picked from those who had missed only four. Felton Riggs was nearest with his guess in the tie-breaker score, thereby he nudged out Cordell Huddleston, who got second place.

For third place Mike Nix, Shawnee Nix and Eddie Tingle all missed only five but Tingle was closest in the tie-breaker and thereby won third place.

First place winner receives $3, second place $2 and third place $1. If anyone is able to correctly pick all the winners in the contest, a special award of $25 is offered.

County Seeking Bids For Park

Commissioners of Yoakum County are now advertising for bids on the construction of the Yoakum County Park to be built some nine miles south of Plains on the Denver City Highway.

The construction is to include a county park and a nine hole golf course. County voters recently voted to build the facility and also voted a $235,000 bond issue to finance the venture.

Bidding on the speerate or on a combination of the various sections of the project is to be allowed in the submission of bids to the court, which are to be opened on October 13, at 10 a. m.

A copy of the bid request may be seen on page two of this issue of The Record.

ESTIMATE 1964 COTTON CROP

County Agent Leo White estimated this year's cotton production at 26,000 bales, which figured at the expected average price of 30 cents per pound, will yield the county $3,900,000.

This estimate reported by White was forwarded by Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains Cotton Growers, and is 2,000 bales less than the estimate they made on August 1.

Most county farmers are expected to machine harvest their cotton which means that they will probably begin to defoliate about October 10, barring the event of an early freeze.

Most of the cotton production this year is from irrigated acreages as the drought has seriously hampered dry-land production.

Estimated grain sorghum production for the county has been set at $945,000 which is 1,500 pounds per acre on about 35,000 irrigated grain acres, figured at the current price of $1.80 cwt.

White says too that dry-land grain production is not even in the picture this year.

really fine run for the first tally.

In the second period, Jack Lowe, on a keeper scored six from the eight and then kicked the extra point. Also in that period, Elmore went 23 yards, this time on a scissors draw, for another TD, after which Lowe again added the point after.

In the third stanza, Joe Dan Cooke on a power play up the middle drove his way past the Sudan defense, scampered 49 yards to add six more points to the Plains spread. Again Lowe added the extra point.

Finally in the fourth quarter, Lowe, on the last play of the game kicked a 23 yard field goal for three points.

This Friday the Cowboys travel to Friona to do battle with the highly regarded Friona Chieftians who had a nine-one season last year in which they downed Plains 15-13, and who last week stomped Farwell 27-0.

Scouting reports have it that the only elements of the Friona team that Plains needs to be really concerned about is their size, toughness, speed and their determination.

The Cowboys, at full strength though are going to Friona with the idea in mind of downing the Chieftians.

This real fine contest is set to begin in Friona at 8 p. m.

It was this week pointed out by Plains Mayor Johnny Brown, that there are several persons residing in Plains who are still keeping animals, especially, horses, within the city limits, although it recently was pointed out that this is specifically in violation to the zoning ordinances of Plains.

At that time, it was also pointed out that, in the event persons did not comply with the zoning ordinances, official action could possibly become a necessity.

Brown stated yesterday that it had been the hope of the City Council that citizens who were violating this portion of the ordinance would correct the situation themselves by moving the animals outside the corporate limits of the city of Plains. He said, "The last thing we want to do is to have to begin issuing citations for these violations, but it seems that a few individuals are not going to be convinced any other way. If we continue to receive complaints about these violations, and the needed action is not voluntarily taken by the offenders, they will have left us no alternative but to issue violation tickets in these instances, which are according to statute, misdemeanor offences."

Clarence Todd In Accident

Reported in "fair" condition was Clarence Todd following a one-vehicle accident on Highway 380 on Tuesday morning of this week.

Todd, who was employed locally by the Texas Highway Department, was driving a Payloader, which is a front-end dirt loader, to a job site on the Brownfield highway. Todd was being followed by a co-worker, Maxie McElroy, who witnessed the incident when the Payloader began to whip and got out of control and after striking a culvert overturned, pinning Todd under the machine which is said to weigh several tons.

SEEK SECOND VICTORY

Cowboys Travel To Friona

Plains Cowboys started this season out with a bang by downing the Sudan Hornets by a 30-12 score. The fact that the new Cowboy uniforms didn't get in didn't seem to bother the boys at all as they seemed to do a fine job in their old uniforms.

The Hornets were completely void of score in the first three quarters of the game and didn't hit pay dirt until the final stanza when they scored two touchdowns, both on passes from QB

Mike Smith, the first for 20 yards to Corley Baker and the other for 12 yards to Marcy Cantu.

The Cowboys scored in each of the four periods of play, six in the first quarter, 14 in the next, 7 in the third and 3 in the final quarter.

In the first period, Ronnie Elmore, on a sweep around the right end scooted 62 yards on a

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There is much talk of inflation in Washington, and this is grist for the bureaucratic mills. Bureaucrats love to shut their eyes to the real cause of any danger, and exploit it fully to raise more taxes, impose more controls, or in some other way lead the nation into regimentation.

A perfect ex- ample of this policy is shown by the chaotic newsprint situation. News- print is a vi- tal commodity to the American life.

Every resi- dent of a community depends on his local newspaper to keep him informed about his community. The local merchant depends on the paper to promote trade.

Yet the price of newsprint, the biggest cost item in pub- lishing a newspaper, has soared from $30 to $122 1/2 ton.

Naturally, if a free press is to survive, independent publish- ers must increase their rates.

This increased rate, in turn, must be paid by small busi- nessmen who are prevented from increasing their profit margins by weird pricing regulations.

There has been a lot of talk at higher level about this shortage of newsprint. The talk al- ways dwells on higher labor costs, and other factors.

However the 36th report of the Marshall Plan, covering the period through May 31, 1951, shows how inflation has been accomplished in newsprint prices.

Newsprint is suffering from an artificially created shortage.

This Marshall Plan report shows that American taxpayers have donated $114,500,000 worth of pulp and paper to Europe. Of this total, 60 per cent has gone to England, where it is used largely to publicize the new British Socialism. England has received almost four times as much paper as Western Ger- many where presumably the need for anti-communist propa- ganda is great.

Of course, this amount of paper does not nearly equal the $442 million worth of tobacco given away with American taxes, but on the basis of its im- portance to the American economy, it is more startling.

The amount of paper given away even based on present in- flated prices, would supply every independent American weekly newspaper for twenty years.

But the interesting facts about this situation do not end there. Newsprint supply is largely a Canadian monopoly. $80,300,000 worth of the paper given away by the Marshall Plan was pur- chased in Canada.

Yet just recently, Canadian newsprint mills raised the price to American publishers $10 per ton. So there is the queer situa- tion of monopoly in one part of the British Empire profiting be- cause of gifts bestowed on another part of the Empire.

There seemed to be some hesi- tancy on the part of the few ma- jor American producers to fol- low suit. Perhaps this was due to investigations being made of the newsprint scandal by Sen. Sparkman's Senate Small Busi- ness Committee, but now Ameri- can made newsprint has been brought up to the Canadian price.

So inflation in the newsprint industry is explained. A Cana- dian monopoly, plus the Mar- shall Plan has created the infla- tion. A close check would find that the same duet has created inflation in many lines.

Form Producers Marketing Ass'n

A new cotton marketing group, Producers Marketing Association of Levelland, was approved August 21 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to use the Form G Loan for obtain- ing government price support on producer member's cotton. This will be the first cotton marketing association head- quatered on the South Plains, where its home office outside of Lubbock. The office of the association will be adjacent to the office of the Levelland Com- press Co. The association is locally owned by cotton producers and locally administered by a board of directors comprising cotton producers from Hockley, Cochran and Yoakum counties. Fred Owens of Levelland is president, Marvin Green of Levelland is vice-president and Bryan Hulse ov Whitharral, Weldon Newsom of Morton, A. B. Carpenter of Plains, Erlan Gresham of Arnett and James Morrow of Opdyke are directors. The Secretary-Treasurer and Manager is Lon- nie Stern. This association has been formed as a result of widespread interest among farmers, ginners, cotton merchants, bankers, cot- ton warehousemen and other interested people. A series of meetings beginning in the early spring with the various interested parties throughout the counties brought about the formation of the Producers Marketing Ass- ciation. Although the association is to function primarily to serve a three county area composed of Yoakum, Hockley and Cochran counties the facilities of the association are also available to producers of neighboring counties. It will be the primary purpose of this new association to provide a truly competitive price every day for all qualities of cotton including those inel- igible for price support. All earnings of this association will be distributed on a patronage basis to its members. The as- sociation's modern facilities, including IBM equipment will enable them to process mem- bers' cotton quickly, accurately and in volume. Cotton producers may obtain further information about the association from their local gin or by contacting Stern by telephoning 894-6137, or by going by the office.

Freeman Report On Wheat Sale

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said today the Soviet Union has made the final cash payment for the wheat it purchased in this country in late 1963.

The Sec. noted that U. S. exporting firms sold about 65 million bushels of wheat to Russia and had received $140 million in cash payment. The wheat exports in fiscal 1964, as a result of the Soviet purchas- es, were a record 850 million bushels. "The U. S. balance of pay- ments is $140 million to the good, wheat farmers received more dollar for the wheat they grew than would otherwise have been possible, new business was created for railroads, barge lines and shippers as well as for the exporting firms, and addi- tional jobs were created be- cause of the increased level of activ- ity -- all as a result of these added wheat sales. "And the American taxpayer will save almost $85 million which otherwise would have been paid out to store this wheat until it could have been moved into commercial markets over a five to seven year period. "Equally important, the peo- ple of the developing nations saw clearly the difference be- tween the Soviet system of gov- ernment and our own. These people, for the most part, live on the land and are farmers; and all of them seek to improve their own agriculture so they may enjoy more adequate diets and strengthen their farming economy.

These people now know that Communism cannot fill their stomachs -- and that is a key advantage in determining which political philosophy they will choose -- Communism or Democracy.

ALL MEN are created equal
... and every man is entitled to his

. . . . Day in Court

His day in court entitles him to

. . The Solemn and Serious Consideration of . .

A JUDGE . . .

the presiding officer of the court. A highly responsible public official, the judge is charged with the responsibility for the proper conduct of the court. It is his duty to 'instruct' the jury regarding the law. These instructions are not intended to tell the jury what to find as facts, but simply to interpret the law. If he should make an error, it can be corrected on appeal.

A JURY . . .

The right to be judged by a jury of his peers is the inalienable right of every American. The jury is more powerful than any other functionary of the courts. If jurors make a mistake resulting in an injustice, there is no way to correct it. No judge nor any other person has the power to change the findings of fact as made by a jury on substantial evidence. When a jury lets emotion or sympathy bias their verdict, they are doing not only an injustice to the litigants, but to themselves, by undermining the very system that protects their own freedoms.

A LAWYER . . .

Every citizen is entitled to representation by an attorney in a court of law, even though he has no funds to pay for it. If a litigant is financially solvent, he enters into an agreement to pay his attorney a retainer fee or honorarium. If not, it is possible to obtain legal counsel without cost through the auspices of a local university or college law school or the Legal Aid Society. Or, he may enter into a 'contingent fee' agreement with an attorney. This simply means that the attorney will receive a percentage of any award made to his client either by out of court settlement or by the judge or jury. If no award is made, the attorney takes nothing for his services. The percentage an attorney may ask for varies from 33 1/3% to 50% of the gross award. Litigation expenses are paid by the client, as well as medical or hospital expenses in the case of personal injury. There have been many arguments for and against this type of fee arrangement. It has long been outlawed in England, and is used in only a few countries outside the United States. Proponents of contingent fees say it is the only way an indigent can prosecute his suit. Those against say it foments litigation by making an attorney a party to the law suit by reason of his financial interest. Reputable attorneys will not enter into such an arrangement unless they feel the suit has merit.

Mistake And Fraud

When you get the short end of a deal you may feel inclined to claim mistake or fraud to get out of the contract. But courts are not inclined to correct your business mistakes unless they also find serious injustices. For to charge the other party with fraud is serious since fraud is a crime as well as a civil cause of action. Our courts, therefore, demand more proof than usual in civil cases where one sues to get out of a contract on the grounds of fraud.

Suppose Smith and Black agree to do something in clear language, but Smith does not grasp the terms of a plain contract. This failure of Smith will not void the contract and our courts will enforce its terms. But suppose instead Black well knew that Smith had made a mistake, and he still didn't explain it to Smith. Then if this can be proved, Black may have trouble enforcing his contract.

Both parties often make a mistake which may void the deal. In one case Raffles agreed to buy and Smith to sell goods arriving on a ship named the "Peerless." But it just so happened that two steamers had the same name. Raffles and Smith had in mind different steamers. No contract. Why? No meeting of the minds. But to end such a contract both parties must make a mistake about something in the contract. Except for guardians and others in positions of great trust, the law assumes that persons deal at arms length and have equal ability to protect themselves.

The law, in short, expects you to use your head in checking out claims and facts. This goes to the ancient Roman principle: Caveat Emptor (let the buyer beware). The law expects you to look into the claims of the other party, and not to agree to any old paper shoved under your nose as a "standard" contract.

Letter To The Editor

Editor,
The Plains Record
Plains, Texas

Dear Sir:
There are a few questions to which I certainly would like some answers. I am given to understand by the City Officials of our fair city that it is against the laws and ordinances of Plains to keep livestock stables or penned in the city limits. And yet, I see several instances around town where this evidently is not being enforced. Over on one side of town, it recently was enforced and a Plains resident was caused to stop stabling an animal in a residential area.

Several men from our neighborhood met with the City Council recently requesting that a similar action be taken. What happened? The Council wrote a letter to the offenders, and even though no action was taken, nothing more was done. Do our laws only apply if you live on a certain side of town. If I ran a stop sign would the whole thing be dismissed by only writing me a letter? I think the law should be enforced equally for all the citizens of Plains, and I think our City Council should be told by all of us that this is what we expect to be done.

A Puzzled reader,....

Cover Cropping Continues Big

YOAKUM SCD NEWS

By: WILSON DUKE
Interest in the cover cropping program continues to be the number one topic of discussion with local farmers in the Yoakum SCD.

Many farmers have already planted their cover crops and others are planting or getting ready to plant. Rye, wheat, and millet seem to be the most popular small grains that are being planted. However, some cane and sudan are being planted on diverted acres. Rye is being planted to a great extent in cotton that was planted solid and also in skip row cotton and on acreage where cotton was destroyed. This is also being done on feed land when a satisfactory cover was not obtained.

The ASCS office has approved the cover cropping program as a cost share practice and many applications for assistance have been received.

Approximately 50 per cent of the cost of the seeding operation and 50 per cent of the cost of the seed will be shared.

Anyone interested in the cover crop program or anyone who needs more information should contact the ASCS or the SCS personnel.

Generally, the earlier we get cover crops planted, the more growth they will make before cold weather begins to retard their growth.

A good cover next spring, living or dead, will be the determining factor on the amount of wind erosion that we will have during this critical period.
