OUR 35TH YEAR

THURSDAY MAY 27, 1965

NUMBER 21

MEMORIAL DAY

First Crop Harvested

The first crop of the year was harvested by K. O. Hendricks pictured above in his field.

The first crop of 1965 is being harvested in Yoakum Soil Conservation District now. K. O. Hendrick has completed cutting and baling a good crop of Alfalfa. This crop is relatively new for our area. There has been more interest in cotton and grain sorghum as a money crop until last year. There has been some Alfalfa grown for several years in our district but not until the present drought has Alfalfa been a good money crop. Alfalfa takes lots of water, but it pays a good return if properly watered and fertilized. Not to be overlooked is the fact that we can harvest five crops a year and we don't have to plant but once ever five to seven years. Too, what crop gives as good soil protection and in fact enriches the soil while it grows. K. O. cut over ten tons per acre last year and from the looks of this cutting, 77 bales to the acres or 21 1/2 tons per acre he is off to a good start this year.

We can best honor our heroic dead by rededicating ourselves to the cause of freedom for which they so bravely fought.

Sunday is May 30, and the thoughts of the people of our nation will be on the Indianapolis 500, or the pennant race, but to many, their thoughts will be on those who served their country in time of war and these people will remember in their own way a relative or friend who lies buried in some cemetery. They will also silently pay tribute to all of the Country's war dead.

Memorial Day will be observed in Plains, Texas. Not in a big way, but in a quiet way. The American Legion Post will place flags on the graves of the veterans who have found their final resting place in our cemetery. Their fallen comrades will be remembered in a service at the cemetery. The flags will be set early Sunday morning and after church the Legionnaires will make their way to the cemetery in observance of Memorial Day.

Post Commander Dick McGinty urges the residents of Plains to be at the cemetery at 2:00 p. m. to attend the Memorial Day Services. Harry Cayce is the program chairman, and Rev. Johnnie Moore will act as Post Chaplain and conduct the services at the cemetery.

A color guard will be present with the post colors, and after the chaplain conducts services, taps will be sounded to conclude the program. The public is invited to attend.

These men know what it means to never forget that America has raised its standard in years gone by, and to remember that her sons have rallied around the flag to keep the Nation free.

Each veteran will remember in his own way, which may be small to others, but is gigantic in his own memory, a solemn thought not to forget those who have been called by the Supreme Commander of the Universe.

Sons, daughters, brothers, sisters, and widows will remember those who's footsteps are heard no more, and old Glory will proudly fly at half mast for her sons who sleep beneath the turf of time.

The Plains Record proudly and humbly offers this story as a remembrance to those who served their country in her hours of battle. We have not forgotten, and hope and pray that our readers won't.

OBITUARIES

Graveside services for William Deverelle Lewis, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lewis were conducted in Lamesa last Monday, and the Rev. Mr. J. L. Bozeman, pastor of The First Baptist Church, Plains officiated.

The Lewis infant died early Sunday morning at the Yoakum County Hospital in Denver City.

Another tragedy occurred in the Lewis family the same day of the infant's death. Clarence Leon, two year brother of the deceased infant, was bitten by a rattlesnake at Stanton. The child was taken to the hospital in Midland, where he is reported in satisfactory condition.

Survivors of the Lewis infant other than the parents are two brothers, Precetha Clyde, and Clarence Leon Lewis. The maternal grandmother, Mrs. P. A. Dugger, Lamesa, and the paternal grandfather, Mr. Clyde Lewis, Brownfield.

Mr. Leon Lewis is a teacher in the Plains Independent School.

Boys-Girls State Named

Bobby Taylor

Joe Dan Cooke and Bobby Taylor have been named to be the delegates from Plains High School to attend Texas American Legion Boys State and Gayle O'Neil has been chosen to attend Girls State.

The students will represent their school and local American Legion Post at Boys and Girls State. They were selected for having displayed good citizenship, academics, and leadership.

Boys and Girls State is a school of citizenship where city, county, and state government is taught.

Every state in the Union has a Boys and Girls State program with the exception of Rhode Island and it sends delegates to a neighboring state. All of the offices on the

Street Signs

Members of the Chamber of Commerce gathered on the Southeast corner of the courthouse square yesterday and erected a street sign. Hoss Newsom acted as chairman for the Chamber and has named a committee to work with him on erecting the other signs in the city.

The signs are concrete with vertical letters. It is hoped that during the summer that enough signs can be built by the Chamber members to cover most of the town.

Mr. G. D. Kennedy, Superintendent of Schools is also on the committee and has made the use of the shop at the school available to the Chamber of Commerce.

The forms for the signs were obtained in Portales, New Mexico, and the members voiced their opinion that the signs would be durable and would be hard to damage or vandalize.

Several of the signs have already been erected, through the efforts of Pete St. Romain and others, and the members thought that these signs were appropriate and voted to use these models.

In other programs being undertaken by the local Chamber, the following students have submitted their names in hopes of securing summer jobs. Any businessman or farmer needing summer help is encouraged to contact either the students directly or the Chamber of Commerce, Pam Parrott daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tex Parrott; Tommy and Lee Crawford sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crawford; Pam Long daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Long; Tommie Flores daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Flores; Larry Newton son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Newton; Eddie Lee Hunter son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hunter; Corky Coke son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd E. Coke; and Bobby Haines son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haines.

They put the letters on the pole.

Pee Wee Baseball

All boys between the ages of six and eight who are interested in playing Pee Wee League baseball should meet at the Little League park today at 4:00 p. m. Their parents should come if possible.

The Lions Club will furnish uniforms for two teams in that division and the games will be played prior to Little League games.

Those heading up the Pee Wee League are Dickie Green, Dick Hamm, Rev. Johnnie Moore, Rev. E. Flores, and Bob Blundell.

Release forms will be sent home by the boys in order that their parents can sign the proper release forms, and parents are urged to return them to the baseball officials as quickly as possible.

Fathers of the Pee Wee players should attend the meeting today if at all possible, said Dick Hamm.

Rough Riders

Officers of the Plains Rough Riders have called a meeting for Monday night at 8:00 p. m. in the club room at the old courthouse building to organize for the summer events and contests.

President Tex Parrott extended an invitation to anybody who has a horse and is interested in riding to attend the meeting.

The club has 40 members and was a big success last summer officials said. Five contests were entered in by the Rough Riders, and they brought home four trophies. The trophies are on display at the Cowboy Grill.

Jim Cooke, vice-president of the Rough Riders stated that last summer the group won the trophies pictured in the Record at Denver City, Lovington, and Seagraves.

The club officers also stated that they have entered into competition at Seagraves and that the event will be held in about two weeks. The officers urged attendance at the Monday night meeting because of the coming contest at Seagraves and due to the fact that the rodeo season has opened.

Both Parrott and Cooke said that they expect to be stronger in competition this year than last. They stated that they are hopeful that two teams will be in the contest at Seagraves from Plains for the quadrill.

Besides Parrott and Cooke, the other officer of the Rough Riders is Saddie Marchman. Refreshments will be served at the meeting.

Census Plan

Chamber of Commerce President Roy McGehee stated today that a committee from the Chamber will undertake the task of conducting a census in Plains soon.

A committee headed by Bill Loyd, president of the Plains State Bank met at Alma's Restaurant yesterday to put the program into the planning stage. Besides Bill Loyd, the committee consists of Joe Curry; Pete St. Romain; Harry Cayce; Roy McGehee; Rev. Johnnie Moore, minister of the First Christian Church; Rev. Jim Bozeman, The First Baptist Church; Rev. H. A. Tarkington, The Assembly of God Church; Rev. Walter Driver, First Methodist Church; Brother Joe Chisolm, minister of the Church of Christ; and Rev. E. Flores, Spanish Baptist Church.

In connection with the regular census a church census will be conducted. This will enable all of the ministers to know the church preferences of the residents of Plains.

state level on down to the city will be elected at the American Legion school. A Governor will be elected and after the week of citizenship training, two delegates from each state will be sent to Boys Nation at the University of Maryland.

Schools are assigned quotas depending on their size. Plains had a quota of two boys and one girl. Alternate delegates are selected in case one of the delegates can not attend.

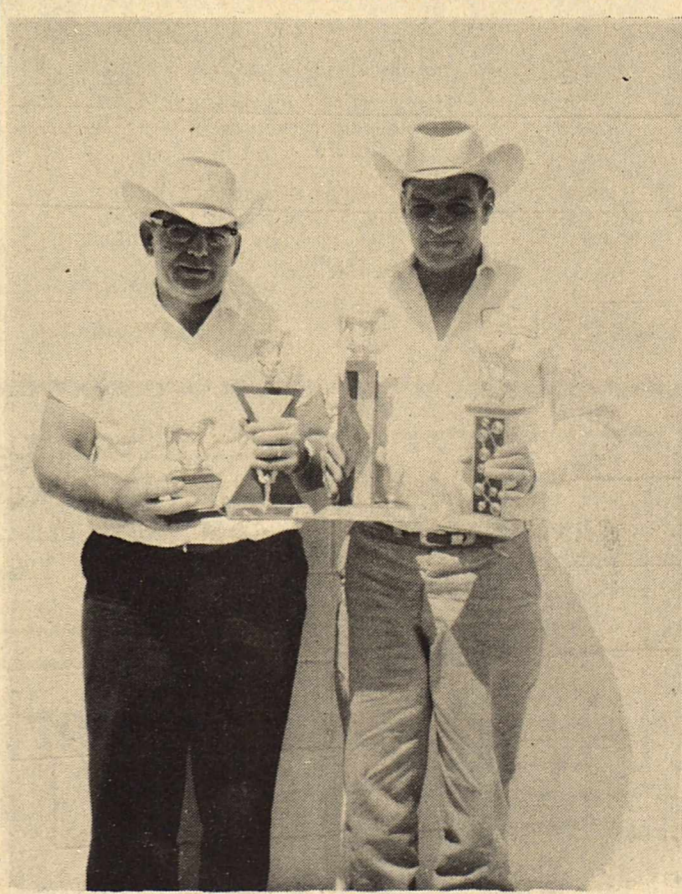

Dr. Ferman Hainey, Portales, New Mexico, is the director of the Texas Boys State program. About 600 delegates will attend Boys State and Girls State is about half as big as Boys State.

Post Commander Dick McGinty stated that Plains has always sent strong delegates and that our citizens this year are of the highest quality.

It is believed that the population of Plains has grown considerably since the U. S. Census was conducted in 1960, and as quickly as the count is taken the Chamber plans to put up new signs on the highways coming into the city.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

The first capitol building at Austin was partially built from logs and sawn lumber obtained at Bastrop, in the heart of the Lost Pine area, according to the Texas Forest Service. Today, wood production from the pine-hardwood area furnishes much of the economic life blood of the state.

Our thoughts, somewhat like the soil, needs to be turned over once in awhile if it is to reduce a fruit-full crop.

The other day we were watching television when some of this modern day dancing was going on. This swing and sway, twist and weave type along with some of these long-haired vocalists makes one wonder just what the world is coming to. . . . Seriously, I wonder what the wild, native savages from Africa would think of some of our native shindigs.

My four year old grandson is fast becoming an expert on windmills. He can identify all of the leading brands including some that haven't been manufactured in the last several years. He wants a drink of water from each well he sees and has no sympathy or understanding for those so-called modern individuals who install a certain beep-beep pump. . . . Even though he is somewhat a fan of our friend, Cotton John, he just can't understand his being willing to brag on a pump over and above a windmill. . . . He has been trying to get me to remember the brand of windmill that in years gone by was sold by Sears Roebuck. . . . Someone please help me out. . . . If you have a good windmill picture send it to me and I will pass it along for his scrapbook. . . . And for goodness sake, be sure and tell me the name brand.

One tip we can learn from nature is the ears were not made to close. Only the mouth. . . .

We used to hear about a business being started on a shoestring. Now one can only use them to lace shoes.

Uncle Jay Bob says that things are getting to the point one had better be a poor man with his peck of troubles than to be a rich man with his barrel of problems.

Faults, like a dirty face, are much easier to see on the other fellow.

This weeks mail brought almost a dozen letters from the readers of Southwestern Crop & Stock alone wishing this column and Uncle Zeb a happy birthday. Not one seemed to want us to stop with 19 years but to go ahead with the column. Each letter made up so happy. Thanks to each one who took the time to drop a line. Looks like after that much encouragement we will just have to keep on keeping on awhile longer. . . .

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Napoleon is supposed to have once said something along the line that with the Italians for allies one needs no enemies.

Of course that was over a hundred years ago. If the Little Corporal were alive today and an American, he would probably be bragging that up to date by saying that anybody that has any allies needs no enemies.

For this C. W. Harder was basically what Rep. Paul Rogers was talking about recently in the Congress on this question of continuing the multi-billion dollar American foreign give away programs.

He stated quite emphatically that in the latter part of 1964 over 200 ships flying flags of presumed allies were hauling supplies to North Vietnam.

Of these ships 40% were British, with the ships of Japan, Greece, Norway, Lebanon, Italy, West Germany and Panama also engaged in supplying the American enemy.

He also pointed out these nations received some $29 billion out of the American foreign give away bonanza.

Thus, there is quite a paradox developed here. While the nation struggles to keep a foothold in southeast Asia for the free world, other members of the free world with large delegations at the United Nations, supply enemy seeking to drive free world out of Asia.

Yet in this as appalling as the killing of American men by an enemy supplied not only by supposedly friendly nations, but nations who also receive vast sums of American wealth, some of which is extracted from the parents, wives, families of the slain men? Is this not a revival of the ancient English custom of the condemned man paying a gratuity to the hangman?

And that is the grim fact that American men are being killed in Vietnam. The American embassy has been bombed with a loss of life. American ships have been attacked.

There is a peculiar quality to the indignation level of the American people. The entire government is involved in a situation whereby in a southern state a probably unnecessary amount of force was used to enforce local law.

Yet in Vietnam Americans are killed by the enemy being supplied by the ships of "friendly" nations.

A youth is stabbed to death in a New York subway with no one attempting to stop the murder. This is an appalling blot on what some term the American civilization.

Is this not a revival of the ancient English custom of the condemned man paying a gratuity to the hangman?

Perhaps this could be considered as one of those monstrous jokes which the U. S. State Department has continually perpetrated, except for one apparently largely overlooked factor.

But despite these facts, the "allies" of America supply the enemy. It would appear that their only alliance is with the State Dept. to extract money from the U. S. taxpayers.

By Dawn's Early Light

Let us observe Memorial Day this year with our remembrance of those who paid the supreme sacrifice. Let us not forget that our nations war dead kept faith with us, and let us keep faith with them by keeping America strong, and in doing this, we will safeguard the bastion of liberty and preserve it for our children.

Let us not be swayed by the internationalists who cry disarm, and enjoy peace, but rather, let us stick to the philosophy of Theodore Roosevelt and carry the big stick.

Let us walk with God and always remember the Biblical message, "Unless the Lord watcheth over the city, then the sentinal watcheth in vain."

We believe it only fitting to print an inspirational poem written by Captain John D. McCrae many years ago:

IN FLANDERS FIELDS
In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you from falling hands, we throw
The torch - - Be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Captain John D. McCrae

CAYCE'S CORNER

Every newspaper editor likes to write about the advantages of advertising. Well, Old Cayce is no exception either. . . .

In Los Angeles not so long ago, a tourist and his wife were passing through the city of the Angles and stopped to do some sightseeing, when they became separated in a large crowd. The man was unable to find his wife, and after an exasperating search with little help from the police, the stranger advertised in the classified section of the paper if anybody had any information about the whereabouts of the Mrs. . . . to please call a certain number at the motel where he was staying or to please give the message to his wife to do so.

After two days and seven men calling to tell the man that they had in their company a woman fitting her description, and after one proposal from a member of the lonely heart group, the lady showed up at the address. You see, it paid the man to advertise, and he said just to think, at 78 that proposal from the lonely heart member really boosted his ego.

What about the man who advertised in a small town weekly that the neighbor who borrowed his wheel barrow had forgotten where he had gotten it, and would he please return it that day. Sometime between bedtime and sunup, five wheelbarrows were left in the man's yard.

More recently a well known editor of a West Texas Weekly danced with glee after selling a full page color ad to the local John Deere dealer. The color print came out supreme. No errors were detected and the paper hit the street and the mail. The editor lit a cigar and leaned back in his swivel chair and began to build castles in the air about the profitable issue of the rag when the telephone began to ring off the wall and he learned the fact that instead of reading "Your Friendly John Deere Dealer," the line had "Deere" omitted. Even though the poor guy didn't get a cent for that color ad, we'll give odds that the ad got results.

To top it off, an Arizona newsman passed this little tidbit on to Cayce this week. . . . Running a business without advertising is like winking at a girl in the dark, you know what you are doing, but she doesn't.

Just Thinking

Mary Faulkner Payne

CONROE, Texas — A term often used in communications is gobbledegoose. The term may mean anything from over-explanations to typographical errors.

I notice in one of my little tales of the 'Big Thicket', it was gobbledegoosed into 'The Big Ticket.' Now whether that was the way I did it or was misread that way, it's still a gobbledegoose.

A classic genre is a directive from the British Admiralty.

It reads:
"It is necessary for technical reasons that these warheads should be stored upside down, that is, with the top at the bottom and the bottom at the top. In order that there may be no doubt as to which is the bottom and which is the top, for storage purposes, it will be seen that the bottom of each warhead has been labeled with the word 'Top.' That's gobbledegoose friends!

ANASTHETIC NEEDED!

"What would I have to give you for just one little kiss?"
"Chloroform."

Dan Burrows, in his column in the Albuquerque Tribune, on March 24th says: "The report from Houston is that spraying paint on the dome of the big stadium has enabled the outfielders to catch a fly ball in the daytime. This having been settled, perhaps we can hope not to hear any more about the Houston Stadium for awhile." Johnny Carson has also taken some 'pot-shots' at the dome. Of course, his remarks are attempts to be cute and funny.

Evidently neither Carson nor Burrows has visited the dome, for anyone in their right senses, upon seeing it, could fall to be impressed by the truly fabulous edifice.

Am I when one is as impressed as I am, one just can't help talking about it.

Two things I haven't mentioned, small things it's true, but points up the detailed attention given to everything to make the structure complete and efficient, is the 'In and Out' ticket buying. One approaches the ticket window facing the dome, buys his ticket and goes out the same direction he was headed upon entering the ticket enclosure, thus he doesn't have to turn around and 'bump into people' struggling to get to the ticket window.

The same idea is carried out in the rest rooms. 'In and Out' certainly speeds up ticket buying as well as use of the rest rooms. Also on the entrance to the rest rooms one will notice the medical symbol for male and female. You've seen this on the Ben Casey TV show.

So if you get tired of my remarks about the dome I suggest that you see it and then you'll join me.

Each Mother's Day, each birthday, each anniversary of any importance to our family, I receive a telephone call from one or several of the members of my family.

This Mother's Day, in addition to a beautiful arrangement of 'Elegance Carnations' (pink) in a lovely long stemmed vase, crystal stem and emerald bowl, my son decided to go to "Cut 'N Shoot," and make the usual call.

However, Mac (grandson and new wife) called me from Houston so I didn't miss the regular call and the Doctor didn't have to go to "Cut 'N Shoot," to keep the tradition.

Incidentally the only phone in "Cut 'N Shoot," is in the office of Roy Harris, ex-fighter and now Real Estate Agent.

Watching TV as much as I have lately I find that many of the guest stars who participate on the panel shows, come near ruining them in their attempts to be cute, funny or impressive.

The high rating I had given many of them has been down graded and many of them now, in my personal rating, instead of getting 100 get a big fat zero.

Taylor Hall collects old time folk remedies, according to a book I found at the Clinic.

A lot of people, now living, remember home remedies like sulphur and molasses. I remember this one too and also the bagful of asafoetida hung round children's necks to prevent illness. My grandmother firmly believed in these two cure-alls.

However here are a few I hadn't heard of.

A method of preventing croup in children was to hide a hair from the child's head in a hole in either an ash or oak tree. The belief was that the child wouldn't have croup until he grew to the height of the hole.

Another croup remedy was to pass the child three times through a horse collar.

A cure for fever was to, "Gather plenty of rabbit droppings and dry them for the winter.

To cure a fever, brew a strong tea of the droppings and hot water. Strain, and drink tea until sweating starts. This never fails."

Even today some people stuff cobwebs into open wounds to stem the flow of blood.

A cure for baldness according to an old recipe is to, "Take a quart of clean tar, and a quart of honey or molasses. Put into a pewter dish and heat, (do not boil) for twenty minutes. Skim off the tar and bottle the brew. Then take one teaspoonful three or four times daily, if you can stand it."

Little League Slate

The Indians nailed down first place in the Little League race Tuesday night in a high scoring game by outlasting a late Cub rally 22 - 16. In Saturday's duel with the giants the Indians came from behind and bombed the Giants 9 - 5. The tribesmen remain undefeated after playing four games. The Cubs remain in the cellar after being mowed down four in a row by the other three teams.

The Yankees kept their title hopes alive last Friday by blasting the Cubs 22 - 3. The Yankees had defeated the Giants after losing an opener to the Giants.

The Giants have won two and lost two games, but have been playing good ball and were contending for the lead when they suffered their loss to the Indians.

Even though the Cubs are winless, they have stayed on doing battle and are the second highest scoring team in the League.

School is now out. This will be the signal for summer vacations to begin, especially for the youngsters who will be popping out in all directions. They will be darting from behind parked cars, trees, or shrubs. Watch for children coasting down sloping driveways and streets. Many will be looking for a place to swim or fish, and others will be roaming around aimlessly.

This means that motorists must be constantly on the alert at all times during the summer months for children darting out from unexpected places. Remember, children are unpredictable. The Sergeant stated, "Let every child be a living warning sign."

Security

The Social Security Administration needs your help in keeping an accurate lifetime record of your earnings and the more than 100 million other Americans covered by the program.

Future benefits are based on these records. Unless an error in reporting is brought to light within about 3 years, after the year in which it occurs, correction may not be possible. Because of this, it is a good idea to check your record occasionally. There is no charge. Your social security office, located at 3428 Avenue H, Lubbock, Texas, can furnish you with a postcard Form OAR-7004 to do this, or you may request the information by letter, being sure to clearly show your social security account number, date of birth, and name.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the Library, Denver City, at 10:00 a. m. on June 18.

Plains and area residents 65 or over who have not yet applied for Social Security benefits are advised to file a claim regardless of whether or not they are planning to retire in the near future. John G. Hutton, Lubbock Social Security district manager, explained that it may be to the benefit of an applicant to file when reaching age 65 to protect his Social Security rights.

Faith and Freedom

There they are — two precious, and related, symbols!

The American flag is the traditional symbol of our cherished freedoms in these United States. The church-spire pointed heavenward and surmounted by a cross is the familiar symbol of our religious faith.

In our country, these two symbols and the realities they represent — Faith and Freedom — have always gone together. The founding fathers of our land were men of faith in God — remember George Washington on his knees in prayer at Valley Forge. That faith gave birth to and helped support the freedom which they sought and won and passed on to their descendants. That faith was written into our national Constitution and into the constitutions of the various states of the Union.

Still today, faith nurtures freedom. And the churches of our community are "factories of faith" — they constantly seek to instill, strengthen, and deepen faith in God in those who attend their services. Thus they help to maintain our heritage of freedom.

The church near you opens wide its doors each Sunday and through the week, inviting you to come and learn the truth of God from which springs human freedom. Go to the church of your choice this week and find faith — or find your faith in God deepened by your attendance and worship!

"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." (John 8:32)

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

FARM NOTES

YOAKUM COUNTY ASC
NEWS
BY W. M. OVERTON
OFFICE MANAGER

Applications on 57 Yoakum County farms have been approved to participate in the 1965 Domestic Cotton Allotment Program. Under this program farmers who stay within their domestic allotment, which in most cases is 65% of the effective allotment, will receive a price support payment of 4.35¢ per lb. The payment is made on the basis of the approved normal yield of the cotton acreage planted for harvest in 1965. In general the price support payments will be divided among the producers on the farm as they share in the 1964 cotton crop. Farmers complying with this program must stay within the farm's feed grain base if the domestic allotment is less than the effective allotment. The entire cotton production from the farm on which the producer signed the domestic allotment agreement and stays within the farm's domestic allotment is eligible for a price support loan based on 29¢ per lb for Mid 1" cotton at average location. Eligibility for price support loan is in addition to the price support payment. Any of the farm's operators that have approved domestic allotment contracts may, if they wish, plant their entire effective allotment and not comply with the domestic allotment program, in such cases these producers would lose eligibility for price support on any cotton produced on the farm.

According to our records 35 of the approved domestic contracts are dry land farms and 22 have one or more irrigation wells.

Twenty-six members of Plains F. F. A. Chapter, Larry Lemberg, Ag instructor, and eight adults left town about 8:15 a. m. Saturday for their annual 4 - day "Camp-out" at Lake Brownwood, returning Tuesday afternoon tired, but happy.

L. L. (Snake) Smith served as Chief Cook for the big meals during the outing and furnished his pickup to carry the groceries.

Boats were furnished by John Jones, W. O. Spencer, and R. J. Davis of Tokio and Travis Jones of Plains.

Other pickups were furnished by O. A. Pippin, Care Ra-

Chemical weed control is not a cure-all for the cotton farmer. In order to keep the weeds from robbing the cotton of moisture and plant food, the cotton farmer will have to do a good job with his machines and his chemicals and then some hoeing will be necessary for a weed free crop.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT

BY LEO WHITE

Yoakum County cotton farmers are attempting to beat the "Cost Price Squeeze" by reducing the cost of producing an acre of cotton. Hoeing is not usually the big item of expense but if the hoeing cost can be reduced, it may offset some of the production expense and also aid the labor situation which is different than in prior years.

A sizable acreage of irrigated cotton land has had a chemical treatment applied as a pre-emergence application. More chemicals are expected to be used later in the season either as a post-emergence application or as a lay-by application.

Several materials giving good results are Diuron, caparol and DSMA. Each of these materials are to be used with a surfactant. These materials, diuron or caparol are effective after the cotton is six inches high.

DSMA plus a surfactant is effective against many grasses and some broadleaved weeds. It works better under hot and dry conditions whereas diuron or caparol is most effective when the weather is damp and weeds are growing rapidly.

Diuron plus DSMA plus a surfactant is a mixture which

After sorghum has emerged, spray Atrazine to control weeds and grasses.

The idea is to spray Atrazine 80W herbicide right after sorghum has emerged, but before weeds are 1 1/2 inches high. This one application, moved to the weed root zone by rainfall, will control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in sorghum for the entire season.

Control of weeds and grasses in sorghum with Atrazine can greatly reduce the need for cultivating. And so your crop goes through the entire season without weed competition for moisture and soil nutrients.

The results of weed control in sorghum are higher yields and lower production costs. And you can now graze or feed forage to livestock from treated sorghum fields 60 days after Atrazine application.

Contact your local supplier now for Atrazine 80W herbicide.
