COURT RE-DISTRICT VOTE SET TODAY

RHEANELL STRICKLAND

Queen Contest

Rheanell Strickland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Strickland is the Yoakum County Young Farmers candidate for Rodeo Queen. Miss Strickland is 14 years old and is a freshman in high school.

She is a member of the band, and plays on the volleyball team. Miss Strickland is also a member of the 4-H Club. She has shown calves at the County Fair.

The main hobby of the Strickland girl is riding horseback. She also states that she just likes horses.

Miss Strickland said that she is working hard for the Young Farmers and would consider it an honor to be elected Rodeo Queen. She extended her thanks to the members of her sponsoring organization for nominating her to represent them.

F.H.A. May Close

In a special telephone interview with L. J. Cappleman, State Director of Farm Home Administration the editor of The Record told Mr. Cappleman that it has been rumored in Yoakum County that the county office for that agency will be closed and will move to Gaines County, and that his comments would be appreciated.

The State Director said that a study is being conducted throughout the state to determine what personnel should be consolidated. He said that a survey is being made to determine the work load in the various offices.

Mr. Cappleman further stated that he realizes that the Plains office has over $1,000,000.00 out in loans in the county and that this is an all time high for Yoakum County.

The editor told Mr. Cappleman about the drought and expressed concern about the loss of the office in the county. The state director stated that he would make a note of the telephone conversation and bring this information into consideration before any decision is made.

In checking the cost of the local office, it was found that no rent is paid and that the utilities are furnished. The expense is for salaries and for supplies and telephone requirements.

If the office is moved the employees would have to accept transfers or be terminated. The manager for the county office is Eddie Taylor. His secretary is Mrs. Wilson Duke. Mrs. Duke's husband is with the soil conservation service.

Record Moves Today

The Plains Record is scheduled to move its home today. The local newspaper will be moved next door to the Eddie Taylor Building. For many years The Record was housed in the Taylor Building. The Record was moved to the Don Hancock Building while Rev. Johnnie Moore was the publisher of the paper.

The offices of the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Association will also be moved out of their present location into the new home of The Record.

It was understood that another business will be moved into the Hancock Building and that the building has already been leased.

Chamber of Commerce members will find their office in the front office in the Taylor Building. The Retail Merchants Association will also share that office as they are now doing.

The Record office will be the center room with the backshop and printing equipment located in the rear of the building.

The Plains Record had made its home in the Hancock Building for more than two years.

Officials of the paper stated that room will be available in the new location to stock office supplies for sale. The office supplies will be stocked starting next month.

The Record has also purchased some new equipment to give better quality in printing.

A headliner has been purchased from the Levelland paper. The headliner is the best equipment available for an offset paper to set headlines and ads with.

Harry Cayce, publisher of The Record, invites the public to visit the new home of The Record.

The Record will not close during the move. If anybody has business with the staff at the paper, someone will be at the new office.

The latest methods of lighting, wiring, farm safety, and the assembling of a pin-up lamp as a craft was enjoyed by 4-Hers and adult leaders from Yoakum County along with 150 other 4-Hers and leaders at the recent Electric Camp, sponsored by Southwestern Public Service, located 29 miles southeast of Cloudcroft, New Mexico, high in the cool Sacramento mountains. Lloyd Thompson, Southwestern Public Service Company instructor is shown demonstrating the mercury vapor lamp.

Court House NEWS

The editor of The Record called Bill Moorehead, County Auditor, this week and asked if he is considering accepting a position with the Denver City School System, and if so, will he resign as County Auditor. Mr. Moorehead confirmed that he is considering accepting the position, but said that it is not definite. He stated that he should know this week if he accepts the new post and resigns his county office.

The Yoakum County Commissioners Court met in regular session Monday morning in Plains and considered the following items:

Bill Cox, representative of the Public Health Office requested that his budget be approved for the coming year. Cox stated that his area will operate at 75 cents per capita, which is 70 cents below the national average. He also recommended that a filter be installed at the Plains swimming pool. Mr. Cox's requests were taken under advisement.

The bills for the county were approved for payment as read. The Yoakum State Bank requested that $50,000.00 in U. S. Treasury notes be redeemed. The motion carried.

Vance Brown made a motion that a grass digger and sprigger be purchased on an oral bid of $1000.00 from H. M. Connor, Seagraves. The matter was approved.

Bill Moorehead, County Auditor reported that the county is running about $15,000.00 short in the Park fund. He said that not enough funds are on hand to pay the construction which has already been let.

A letter was read from Gov. John Connally stating that a special election will be September 7 on the Constitution Amendments.

Representatives from two insurance companies were present to present their company's programs for a group hospitalization policy for the county. The county employees are now under Blue Cross, but the commissioners are considering making a change to secure more coverage at less cost to the individuals and to the county.

C. M. Thompson, District Soil Conservationist, made a request to move his offices to the first floor in the old courthouse where the F. H. A. is located if that office moves. The county agreed to consider the request at such time as the F. H. A. might move.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Rev. E. Flores, minister of the Spanish Baptist Church will be moving from Plains next week. The story, and pictures will appear in the next issue of The Record.

Baptist Church News

The First Baptist Church Youth-led Revival is this weekend, July 16 - 18. Lonnie Hayer of Kermit will be the preacher and John McAnelly the singer.

Lonnie graduated from Kermit High School last May and will enter Baylor University this fall to begin preparation for the ministry. He is the President of the Texas Association of Student Councils. On March 25, he delivered the keynote address for the 29th annual conference of this organization. The theme of his address was "I Must Know Myself." He also delivered this same address at the Plains High School Baccalaureate on May 16, 1965. Everyone is invited to hear him speak here in Plains again this weekend.

John is a music major at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene where he will be a member of several organizations on campus and has been elected to serve as President of his class next year. He is serving as Summer Youth Director at the First Baptist Church here in Plains this summer.

While the Revival is to be Youth-led it is for everyone, young and old, and all are urged to attend. A full schedule of activities has been planned for the youth during the week. A Hootenanny is being planned for Thursday night, and fellowships and esminars will follow each of the evening services. Young people of all faiths are invited to attend these meetings.

Services will be at 8:00 p. m. Friday and Saturday nights, 10:00 a. m. Saturday morning, and at the regular time on Sunday.

Rev. Johnnie Moore announced that the Vacation Church School at The First Christian Church is scheduled to begin July 19 through 23 from 8:30 until 11:00 a. m. each day.

The public is invited to attend the Vacation Church School at the First Christian Church.

Re-districting of the precincts in Yoakum County will probably be voted on today, said County Judge Stanley Duval. The County Judge reported that Commissioner Vance Brown made a motion for re-districting at the regular Monday meeting, but the measure did not receive a second. Judge Duval stated that he wanted more time to study the proposal.

The Judge also said that he had talked to a large number of people who were opposed to the re-districting motion, and that the reasons were sentiment, and that he is interested in business reasons. He asked that those people who have an opinion on the issue to contact him in order that he can give the measure fair consideration.

Judge Duval further stated that he wants to study the question from business reasons, because he feels that these reasons are more important than the people's sentiment.

The Judge expressed belief that the matter will come to a head at the meeting today.

Mrs. Paul Loe and Raymond Bookout have stated that they will vote to oppose the issue and it is believed that the other two County Commissioners, Mr. Brown and Mr. Cotton will vote to re-district the county. If the matter is brought to a vote and the vote ends in a tie, the County Judge will have to break the tie.

The proposal would change the line, putting the boundary about three miles south of where it runs now. Mrs. Loe and Mr. Bookout would gain the area involved and the electors in that area would be shifted from the Cotton and Brown precincts to that of Loe and Bookout.

Those favoring the proposal state that it would better equalize the county by population and would put more revenue into the precincts of Mrs. Loe and Mr. Bookout.

Those who oppose the measure have expressed opposition on geographical basis, and have charged that the measure is political. The opponents also have stated that new equipment would need to be secured to maintain the added roads in the precincts which would gain territory.

The matter is expected to be settled this morning at the county courthouse.

Farmers Protest

Roy McGehee, president of the Young Farmers stated that the group met Monday night and voted to contact U. S. Rep. George Mahon concerning the possible closing of the local F. H. A. office at the old courthouse.

The president of the Young Farmers said that a letter has been posted to the powerful chairman of the appropriations committee urging him to block the possible move.

Rep. Mahon represents this congressional district in the congress. He is considered to be one of the most powerful figures in congress and is reported to be close to the President.

McGehee said that the F. H. A. office is needed in Plains and that the Young Farmers will fight any possible re-location of that office. It has been rumored that the office will be moved to Seminole, County Seat of Gaines County.

Contest Ends

The subscription contest for The Plains Record will end next Thursday. Those who have not turned in their money and new subscriptions should bring their material by the office of The Record as soon as possible.

Several more winners of prizes will earn themselves a watch or a bicycle or a smaller prize over the next few days.

The gifts are being purchased at the Cogburn - Young True Value Hardware Store.

More than 140 new subscriptions have been sold since the contest has been in progress.

Plains Firemen Fight Country Fires

STATE LINE FIRE

Three blasts on the fire alarm sounded Monday afternoon about three o'clock signaling fire in the country and the Plains Volunteer Fire Department raced to the Dan Young home located 15 miles west and two miles north of Plains just over the state line, where a butane tank had ignited and was shooting flames 20 feet into the sky.

The firemen battled the flames and soon had the situation under control.

A tractor was destroyed in the fire. It was blamed for causing the spark which ignited the fire. The safety valve on the tank blew causing the tank not to explode.

Mrs. Young ran from the house to get away from the fire, and in talking to her after the blaze was under control, she laughed when she discovered that she had lost both shoes in her haste to get away from the burning tank.

Another bit of humor was added to the scene after the fire was extinguished when the fire department's water truck stalled and had to be towed by a tractor to get it started to make the return trip to Plains.

In a fire at the same location several years ago, two men were killed. No accidents were reported during this fire. Besides the tractor and tank, no further damage was sustained.

FIRE CHIEF FIGHTS YOUNG BLAZE

PLAINS FIREMEN PUT OUT OIL FIRE

OIL WELL FIRE

Lightning struck a tank battery at the O. D. C. Lease 40A, owned by Great Western Drilling Company on the Denver City Highway about eight miles from Plains last Friday afternoon. The Plains Volunteer Fire Department was called to the scene after the blaze got out of control because the Denver City Department had run out of water.

The Denver City Fire Department when the Plains Fire Department arrived and the Plains Firemen battled the blaze unassisted and soon got it under control by using chemical foam and water.

The explosion hurled the top half of the oil tank 110 yards due south and the bottom part was thrown 120 yards due west in the blast.

Fire Chief Johnny James stated that the department used chemical foam to put the inferno under control, because it is more effective than water when used to extinguish petroleum fires.

The Denver City Fire Department almost had the blaze put out when they ran out of water, and by the time the Plains firemen reached the scene, the fire was raging again. No injuries were reported in the explosion and fire.

The Plains Fire Chief said that this is the second oil fire that the Department has fought in the past few weeks. The other blaze was at a Shell lease east of Plains.

CAYCE'S CORNER

The Bone Yard is no more! Alas, since Paul Cobb moved his office across the street to its new location, Plains domino enthusiasts have lost their prize location to have the friendly domino games each day.

This loss to the domino players was like a plague upon the mystic Nile to the Ivory shufflers. Some of the domino players have searched in vain for a new location to set up the tables and are frantically awaiting the moment that they can eagerly report that a new nest can be found.

When the day came around for old Cayce to drop in at Paul's to get in a game or two, and he discovered that Paul had moved, it was like the little black cloud in Little Abner. What horrible luck. Cayce rushed back to The Record office and commented to his wife about the great misfortune. The first look of shock on her face started giving away to a look of absolute glee. In fact, if the truth were known, I'll bet that all of the wives around Plains wore that self satisfied look that day.

Cayce immediately turned the cogs in his mind thinking how nice it would be to let the boys play dominos at The Record, but before anything was even said the spouse guessed what was going through the thinking machine and she came out with positive statements hot off the wire, leaving no room for any argument in favor of establishing a rendezvous for hapless members of the Lost Bone Yard Society. Boys, if anybody finds a place for the gang to shuffle the dominos, whisper in old Cayce's ears so that he can spring that gleeful look at the old lady.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Instead of Bankruptcy

To the wage earner drowning in a sea of debt, the Bankruptcy Act offers two kinds of rescue. One is bankruptcy itself, whereby most of a person's debts are wiped out. Last year about 155,000 individuals chose that course.

The second alternative, although not so well known, has been gaining favor steadily in recent years. Called the Wage Earner Plan, it is designed for the person who is ready, willing, and able (eventually) to pay his debts—if only he can have a breathing spell to put his finances in better shape.

Although the Wage Earner Plan is administered by the bankruptcy court, the debtor continues to be called a "debtor"—never a "bankrupt." In a typical case it works this way:

The debtor agrees to turn over a fixed percentage of his weekly wages to a court-appointed trustee, who makes regular payments to the creditors. In return, the debtor is protected from wage attachments and most other forms of pressure by creditors.

In short, the Wage Earner Plan gives a debtor time to pay his debts gradually, under the protecting wing of the court. It requires an OK by a majority of the unsecured creditors, and also by the court.

Under what circumstances will the court approve a debtor's application? There are two main tests:

1) Financial—The debtor's earnings must be large enough, in proportion to his debt burden, to give a reasonable chance of success. As a rule, the court will approve only if his debts can be paid off in not more than three years, using not more than 25% of his income.

2) Moral—The debtor must have an earnest desire to make good on his obligations, even at the cost of prolonged belt-tightening and penny-pinching. And, in most cases, his wife must share that desire.

The Wage Earner Plan is not an easy alternative. Nevertheless, last year about 27,000 debtors chose that way of keeping the stigma of bankruptcy from their record.

For, even though debt is not considered as sinful as it once was, there still are a lot of job applications and credit forms that ask the question: "Were you ever a bankrupt?"

And there still is comfort in being a person who, like Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's village blacksmith, "looks the whole world in the face, for he owes not any man."

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

During the past 25 years Texas Forest Service tree nurseries have produced almost 400 million pine seedlings. Such a quantity is sufficient to plant a strip of land 100 feet wide, almost twice around the earth at the equator. Both pine and hardwood seedlings are sold to Texas landowners at a nominal cost each winter. They are made available only for reforestation and windbreaks.

Editorial

The tip of The Record's hat this week is extended to all of the managers and the officials who contributed their time and efforts to the Little League program this year. Those people have been devoted to our children this summer, not only helping them to become better ball players, but to teach sportsmanship to the youngsters.

We also extend our thanks to those people who were responsible for giving the members of the various teams a treat which the boys will always remember, whether it was an ice cream supper or a winnie roast.

A boy is only a boy for such a short period of time, and this program not only helps to build his character, it also gives him a great amount of fun. Children grow up quickly and must face the world and its problems; therefore we are glad that our little boys can have a moment of fantasy which boys enjoy so very much.

Nothing is more American than baseball, and one look at these lads in their suits makes us happy that somebody has taken the time to shout play ball, and really mean it. We bask in the sunshine of knowing that no better lesson of true Americanism could have been given to the team members than being a real part of the great American Past Time, "Baseball!"

Due to a recent Supreme Court ruling, postal department must now deliver free all propaganda mailed into this nation from communist nations.

Future historians will undoubtedly be more perplexed in trying to explain this decision than perhaps any other handed down by this tribunal.

Under an international postal agreement made long before there were communists, cold wars, and other modern manifestations, nations to the agreement are supposed to handle free of charge pamphlets, et al, mailed into a country.

Right after World War II, the communists really took advantage of this situation, mailing in tons of propaganda.

But as President, Truman put a stop to this, and the order was continued under Eisenhower. One of the first acts of the Kennedy regime was to nullify this order, with the result that as many as 75,000, 000 pieces of propaganda from communist nations poured in.

Then following the Kennedy assassination, when it was learned that his killer Oswald, had previously been active in New Orleans distributing imported communist propaganda literature, a law regulating the matter was passed by the Congress, supported by 82% of the nation's independent business proprietors voting through the National Federation of Independent Business.

The law provided that if such communist literature was received addressed to residents of this nation, before delivery the postal department should notify the addressee of the arrival and ask if he wanted it delivered.

But the ubiquitous Civil Liberties Union immediately made an issue over this law before the Supreme Court.

The Court's decision was based on Article I of the Bill of Rights which prohibits interference with freedom of speech, or freedom of press. However, the Bill of Rights in practically all articles continually refers to a clause "rights of the people."

Herein lies an interesting point. When the Constitution was written, was it intended to give rights to the Hungarian people, or give all peoples of the world rights to interfere with the United States?

The Supreme Court in the decision also took the position that if some one engaged in a restricted defense job wanted to receive this communist literature he might be endangering his continued employment.

It will probably be great comfort to the U.S. forces in Vietnam, daily exposed to the danger of slaughter in communist ambushes, to know that people employed in secret defense activity can receive foreign communist propaganda for their leisure reading with no effect on their job security.

Just Thinking

Mary Faulkner Payne

"Teens are an age... a way of life... a time of discovery. They are years in which to try out new ideas, make plans and decisions, develop new skills, carry out projects on one's own."

But most of all, the 'teens' are years for young people to learn about themselves, and their abilities, explore new horizons in living and find their place in an adult world.

Today's youth are all included in the category of 'teen-agers' which (unfortunately in too many instances includes the phrase 'juvenile delinquent').

True, there is an over-abundance of this shady-side of every generation... but those who ARE outstanding individuals in their forming years, those who definitely ARE setting high standards for other young citizens in their communities, should be recognized.

I can think of no better project, to enhance the fine youth center which we, in Lovington, have provided as a stimulus to right thinking among our local youths, than for a club to have some form of recognition of these high class 'teen-agers.'

Among our club leaders there are many people, both men and women, who could design projects and establish goals for stimulating the interest of teen-agers who want to participate and work together.

'Personal' goals, might include gaining experience for a future career, earning funds for college tuition, or for a car.

Goals to help others; might include food and clothes for needy families, an errand service for senior citizens, improvement of neighborhood areas.

In addition to what we are already trying to do for our youth some other (and there are many) ideas that might be adopted by clubs or societies to salute youth leadership, and thereby include many youngsters, who now, look on and do not participate, should be pursued.

LIFE AND LIVING
The universe is a house with many mansions, an infinite number of rooms. Each room gives entrance to another room, and that in turn to another, and thus the whole infinitude of rooms is accessible. A veritable treasure lies in each one, and the key to the next room is appreciation of what is contained in the room we are in.

"There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, anywhere, anytime."
Calvin Coolidge.

Caledonia says that what Grandpa used to say about getting water is true of speakers: "When you're through pumping Bud, let go the handle."

Whoever puts out a church bulletin ought to be sure to check with the preacher, the choir and each department, else they might run into a conflict such as this where great confusion was caused when the church bulletin read: Text for today "Thou Shalt Not Steal." And immediately below was the announcement: The choir will sing, "Steal Away, Steal Away."

Then there is the story of a little five-year old girl who had been attending the church kindergarten. Each day before the children were dismissed, the teacher had them sing the Doxology, which the little five-year old loved to sing, but in her own words: "Praise God from whom all blessings flow, Praise Him all creatures, here we go!"

I liked this story which Joe McCarthy told in the American weekly, about 1959 or 1960.

It seems that our Russian visitor, Mr. Krushchev (and his whole propaganda mill), could learn something about America from this incident which took place during World War II.

A snide British journalist, interviewing the great colored heavyweight champ, Joe Louis, asked him why American Negroes were willing to fight for a nation like the U.S. where there was so much anti-Negro prejudice.

Joe looked the fellow straight in the eye and said, "There ain't nothing wrong with us Negroes in America that Mr. Hitler can fix."

Cowboys

Win 2nd

The Plains Cowboys made a good showing all season with their ball playing, to come in second place.

In the tournament Saturday night, the Cowboys were edged out by the Colts, who in turn were beaten by the Oilers who took the trophy for the tournament.

Sonia Faulkenberry was the candidate for queen from Plains. The candidate from Seagraves will be the queen for the league as they travel to Slaton July 22, for their first All Star Game.

Plains Cowboys had three boys chosen for All Stars. They are Calvin Smith, Gary Liles, and Roger Seals. Cordell Huddelston manager of the Cowboys, is assistant manager for the All Stars.

Boys who finished out the season with the Cowboys were Joe Beal, Hal Black, Danny Kelly, Roger Seals, Billy Kennedy, Teenie Lowe, Lynn Cox, Jimmy Taylor, Calvin Smith, and Gary Liles.

ITEM: Studies have shown that the teenage girl is the poorest fed member of the family. Studies show that calcium, vitamin C and vitamin B are the nutrients most frequently missing. More serving of dairy foods and fruits and vegetables will help provide the missing nutrients.

ITEM: If you own an old home and are bothered by powdering plaster, experts recommend that you brush off as much of the plaster as possible and then apply a coat of light weight canvas as you would wallpaper. This gives a new base for paint and unless the powder is deep, it should stick. If it is deep, a still wall lining can be anchored to the wall.

Party Given

Misses Shannon Raley and Kendra Hale were honored on their third birthday with a party in the clubroom Friday morning. Twin pink birthday cakes and balloons decorated the table.

Refreshments of pink animal cookies, strawberry cream cones and pink punch were served to Dianne Wade, Donna Lackey, Paula Dee Hale, Sherry, Jana, Dinzil and Bradley Flood, Danny and Kathy Sewell, Theresa Nelms, Beth Ann, Karen, and Robbie Hale and Berrilynn Raley.

Favors of balloons and bubble gum were given each child.

Swim Party

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gentry and daughter Laurie Beth were honored with a swimming party and picnic Friday night in the park. Those enjoying the food and reunion were: Mr. & Mrs. Don Lackey and family, Mr. & Mrs. Dallas Powell and family, Mr. & Mrs. Gene Young and family, Mr. & Mrs. Guerry Wright and family, Mr. & Mrs. Kenneth Hale, Mr. & Mrs. Gene Young and family, Mr. & Mrs. Virgil Wade and family, Mr. & Mrs. Johnny Fitzgerald and family, Mr. & Mrs. Bob Gross, Mr. Jack Cobb, Mr. John Richey and Bob and Fran Gentry.

BIRTHS

Mr. & Mrs. Leland Ellison are the proud parents of a new daughter born July 11 in the Yoakum County Hospital. She weighed 6 lbs and 6 ozs and they named her Leann. Mrs. Pearl Ellison and Mr. & Mrs. L. O. Smith are the grandparents.

Mr. & Mrs. John Anderson spent the weekend in Peacock and attended Home Coming Sunday. There were about 300 people attending the Home Coming.

Mr. & Mrs. Vernon Mannin and children of Lovington spent the night with her mother Rachel Duff.

Mr. & Mrs. O. V. Hill had their grandchildren last week. Del, Vickie and Jackie Petrick of Big Spring and Sunday guests were Mrs. Albert Smith and Mrs. Happy Mortenson and children from Oklahoma.

Mr. & Mrs. Roy Fitzgerald have been at Lake Stamford for several weeks.

Mrs. J. V. Bean is still in Terry County Hospital but she is reported to be doing nicely.

Lt. Col. & Mrs. J. W. Kinneson and children of Scott and Mrs. Ruth Lambert of Amarillo spent last week with Mr. & Mrs. Ray Strickland.

Mr. & Mrs. R. B. Wauson, James, Bear Paw and families attended funeral services last Friday in Hobbs, New Mexico for Jinks Wauson.

Mr. & Mrs. Raymond Palmer of Dimmit visited their daughter Sunday, Mr. & Mrs. V. V. Fitzgerald.

Mr. & Mrs. Don Price of Jal, New Mexico visited her parents over the weekend Mr. & Mrs. S. Streetman.

The Sex Amendment—Equality for Gals

Now that the 59th Regular Session of the Texas Legislature has ended as of May 31, I am back in the District and available to any individual, civic, or service club for comment or explanation on the accomplishments made during the four-month legislative period. I welcome the opportunity to meet with you at any time to listen to your problems and offer any service to their solutions which I might be able to provide.

During the Interim Period, I have assumed the management of the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce in Morton, on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. The remainder of the week, and during those days if the need necessitate, I will be traveling throughout the new five-county district in an attempt to better acquaint myself with your problems.

While in Plains this week, two local problems were called to my attention. Talk has developed which would entail moving the Plains Farm Home Administration office to Seminole. I am writing a letter to Congressman George Mahon and to Mr. L. J. Cappleman, FHA State Director from Post, to explain the service and benefit the local office means to this particular area. Should you have additional facts and support to lend to this situation, please call it to my attention.

Of importance to the Plains area, too, is a situation involving a recent law enacted by the State of New Mexico requiring surety bonds and licenses by anyone doing contract work in New Mexico. This situation apparently is working a tremendous hardship on our local contractors who travel to New Mexico to work. I have written to the Contractors License Board in Santa Fe for copies of this new law, and have made initial contacts with those contractors directly involved. It is my understanding that a meeting was held in Hobbs a few weeks ago with the purpose of reviewing the enacted law and to sign a petition asking the New Mexico Governor, Jack Campbell, to consider a repeal of the measure during the January Session of the New Mexico Legislature.

Should you be one of those individuals who is confronted with this inter-state problem, please drop me a note or call me. Several have expressed an interest in setting up an appointment with the Lieutenant Governor of New Mexico, Mack Easley, Hobbs, for the purpose of further explaining the dilemma which this law has brought on our Texas contractors.

I will be in Plains again Thursday, July 22, to address the noon meeting of the Plains Lions Club. Should you wish to offer your viewpoint and suggestions to either of the above mentioned situations, or to any other which may be new to me, please do so. Only in a close communicative manner, can we bring our problems out in the open and begin the long search for their solutions.

It's always a pleasure to be back in Plains, whether it be on business or just to share in your great wealth of civic pride.

I want to express my deep appreciation once again to each of you for your tremendous co-operation during my freshman term in the Texas Legislature. Your grass-roots support was a working tool for me, and one which I shall forever be grateful.

Editors Note: This article was written by Dorothy Daniel and was published in the Publishers' Auxiliary, July 3, 1965.

IT WAS bound to happen sooner or later.

But the way it happened! Sneaking it into a Civil Rights Act when we weren't looking.

So here we are, practically on the Eve of the Fourth of July, Absolutely Equal to Men, by Law that is.

A Dismal Deal at best.

According to the U.S. Gov., Civil Rights Act of 1964 (PL 88-352) Title VII, a girl can now go right ahead and be a mailman, a bus boy, or a Chairman of the Board.

So who needs it?

Gone with one swoop of a pen is the contest of half a century.

Gone is the joy of competition.

Gone is the shy look, the slightly raised hem, the tilted chin, the swinging gait, the lowered eyes, the slow soft voice.

Think what Title VII means to the perfume business, the lipstick purveyors, the nylon industry!

Put away your polyester fiber-filled brassieres, girls, the game is over.

We are as equal to the boys as equal can be. Any minute now we'll be expected to pick up the tab for theatre tickets, pay our own dinner check, share the cost of a tank of gas.

It wouldn't be so bad if we'd had a sporting chance.

But the way they put that Equal Employment Title VII over on us was an accident.

It was a Southerner, a Chivalrous, gallant Southerner who did it to us.

Rep. Howard Smith (D.Va.) introduced the SEX amendment as part of an effort to delay the vote on the Civil Rights bill back in 1964. In the excitement and flurry of talk on the floor, the steam roller pushed the whole Civil Rights package through Congress and with it went our Female Status as a creature to be cherished and protected. Nobody could have been more surprised than Rep. Howard Smith or the Committee who had nary a chance to look into what this sort of thing could do to us girls.

Like it is now any girl who can catch a red hot bolt in a bucket and isn't afraid of heights has got her a job as riveter at the next letting. And will any strong handsome fellow in a tin hat help her along the edge of the I beam? Heck, No. It is everybody for him or her self now that Title VII is the law of the land.

Last weekend in Sunday newspapers from the Conyons of Santa Monica, there appeared columns and columns of Want Ads, precise, definitive and exact. "5 Young Men to assist manager"; "Counter Men, a Chance to grow"; "Fireman Guard must have telephone and weapon. Uniform furnished. No police record." Or "Gutter Man and experienced Helper."

Next week all this will be changed, if the advertisers know what is good for them, that is.

"5 Young Men and or Women, to assist"; "Counter Persons, to grow as they count"; "Firewoman guard, not given to tears"; and I don't know what they'll do with "Gutter Woman." That sounds downright indecent.

All this change over, praise be, is up to the advertiser, not the newspaper.

If a steel mill wants to advertise "8 Jobs for Men under 40 as Open Hearth Helpers," it is not the intent of the act or the responsibility of the newspaper to point out that Women have been keeping open the hearth of the nation for years. A bulletin of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. on Newspapers and Title VII further suggests that the Want Ad Takers do not "volunteer advice in this area" because telling an advertiser that it is illegal to advertise for a "Girl Friday" when a "Man Friday" might do as well, could just possibly "Lead to unnecessary involvement of the newspaper in enforcement proceedings through the aggrieved party."

There is enough grief in this Title VII already without the newspapers stirring up anymore. Besides the law is not all that clear.

For instance, any job that a waitress can handle presumably a waiter can do just as well. There is an exemption for Indians but I'm not quite clear what it is.

Then there are teamsters and seamstresses, seamster and seamstress, janitor and janitress, but from the newspaper's point of view it would seem to be safer just to neuter the whole business: carpenter, plumber sewer and reaper.

Other wise the poor harassed Want Ad takers are going to go out of their minds.

WANTED: Stripper, call Acme Offset Printers, 244-9813 and on the same page

WANTED: Stripper, call Bijou Vaudeville Agency, 276-1642. According to the law the second advertisement may be placed in a special, privileged and legitimate category, "Female Help Wanted."

The former must by its nature remain neuter.

While the new classifications may be complicated and revolutionary to an already confusing department of the newspaper industry, the new law, in the long run may result in increased revenue, word-wise.

As for instance: CIRCUS NEEDS BEARDED PERSON (only those to whom chin whiskers might be considered unique should apply). There you have twelve words going for you where one would suffice in the good old days before Neuter Employment.

As far as the Newspaper itself is concerned, the law applies just as it does to iron applies just as it does to iron founding, sand hogging, and long shoring. Of course, if an editor needs a new man on City Hall and a lady applies who is obviously only three away from accouchement, he has a chance or doing a little juggling, reassigning the real estate editor (who has for the

Pamper Your Personal Prosperity with Growth Vitamin $

Every drop of water, every bit of fertilizer that you put on a growing plant is returned to you in value... increased many times.

And every dollar spent at home instead of in some other community... promotes the growth and luxuriance of your own little personal prosperity tree.

We don't expect the neighbors to water and weed and fertilize our gardens so that we won't have to put out any effort on them. But a lot of us expect somebody else to do all of the trading at home that it takes to support and improve our jobs, our businesses, our schools and churches and other community helps to a richer life.

Trouble is... a lot of them are looking for us to keep the ball rolling while THEY go city-shopping.

Let's... every one of us... remember that loyalty to our home community is merely loyalty to our own economic welfare... that scattering our buying power leaves our own personal prosperity plant with less nourishment.

John Perrin Makes Rate

3D Armored Div., Germany (AHTNC) John F. Perrin, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Perrin, Plains, Texas, was promoted to specialist four, June 17, in Germany where he is serving with the 3d Armored Division.

Specialist Perrin, a survey instrument operator in Headquarters Battery, 2d Battalion of the division's 6th Artillery near Gelnhausen, entered the Army in December 1962 and arrived overseas in May 1963.

Perrin attended Whiteface High School and was engaged in farming before entering the Army.

Insurance Change

Automobile insurance rate and rule changes are slated to be effective August 1st.

The State Board of Insurance and the Insurance Industry started with a conference to which the press was invited on June 7, and another press conference on June 22 at which information was furnished on the worsening trends in insured automobile losses.

At the conferences it was dramatically shown by use of charts, loss statistics showing automobile liability claims had increased 15.5% while insured automobiles had increased 8.2%.

Figures from the department of Public Safety revealed the number of persons killed in Texas traffic accidents in 1964 totaled 3,006, up 10.2% or 277 over 1963; the number of traffic accidents reported to the department of public safety in 1964 were 454,762, up 13.7% or 54,845 over 1963; vehicle registrations in 1964 were 5,386,818 up 4.7% or 240,566 over 1963.

Even with the indicated rate increase on August 1, Texas rates will still be among lowest in nation. There will be 35 other states with higher average premiums for automobile liability insurance. This is true in spite of the fact that Texas ranks 6th in the number of licensed drivers in the nation; 5th in population; 3rd in the number of private passenger automobiles registered; and 1st in miles of highways.

The Texas rating laws provide a system whereby an average set of rates are established based on the loss experience of all insurance companies writing business in Texas. Texas rates are based on Texas experience only, not that of any other states.

W. G. GRAY IN LOVEGRASS PLANTED IN 1963.

S. D. C. Ends Fiscal Year

This last week started a new fiscal year for the Soil Conservation Service. Our 1965 year just passed was a year of dry weather but lots of good conservation work was done on many farms and ranches.

We will have a complete report very soon of all conservation work done this last year. As of now it looks like a very good year.

Grass planting is going good just now and more dead litter (Sudan or Sorghum) is being planted now to form a cover during time of high wind erosion hazard and shade for young seedlings later on in the spring and summer. Ray Bearden, Claude Freeman and Leon Simpson are a few who are planting dead litter cover or have plans to plant this week. The final date for planting is July 15.

Some late interest shown in the Great Plains Program to help carry out a complete conservation plan on their farm or ranch is on the William Worthan, J. C. Criswell and H. W. Nelson farms.

Mr. Roger Harvey, Plains Elementary School Principal, said today that parents of students who will be enrolling in the first grade this year, need to be mindful of the fact that it is absolutely necessary for their children to have their immunization shots and their small - pox vaccinations before the beginning of school.

It has been noted that it is good to have, especially the small - pox vaccination, well in advance to the opening of school, so the chances of having the resulting scab knocked off are lessened.

Cotton Bill In Hopper

Congressman Cooley introduced a cotton bill, No. HR 9715 which was referred to the Committee on Agriculture. This bill if enacted into law will make a big change in the cotton farm program. The bill states that if a farm operator elects to forgo price supports for any such crop of cotton in 1966, 67, 68, or 69 by planting in excess of the farm acreage allotment or planting cotton on the farm for which no allotment was established for such crop all cotton of such crop produced on the farm may be marketed free of any penalty (the marketing quota penalty for the 1965 allotment is 21¢ per lb). Acreage planted in excess of the farm's acreage allotment established under this bill introduced shall not be taken into account in establishing future State, County and farm acreage allotments.

The bill also provides that for 1966, 67, 68, and 69 crops of upland cotton released acres shall not be surrendered to the State Committee. The bill provides that for four years through 1969 the national allotment will continue at sixteen million (16,000,000) acres. This is the same national allotment as we have had the past few years. A farm domestic allotment will be established which will not be less than 65% of the farm effective allotment.

Under the program the producers will have the following choices:

1. Plant only his domestic allotment and receive loans and payments on his entire production covering both price support and payment for land retirement.
2. Plant up to 85 percent of his allotment and receive loans on his entire production and payments on his domestic allotment covering price support and payment for land retired adjusted to the acreage he plants.
3. Plant none of his allotment, retire 15 percent of his acreage, and release the remainder for reapportionment, in the county.
4. Stay out of the program, receive no loans or payments, and plant and market all the cotton he chooses.

For farmers that cooperate with the program price supports will be available through loans and not to exceed 90 percent of the world average market price for middling 1 inch upland cotton except for 1966 the loan will be 21¢ per pound. Under the 1965 program the government makes a payment to the textile mills of 61 1/2¢ per pound; and the loan is set up at 29¢ for middling 1 inch cotton. Under this new bill if approved by Congress payment will be made direct to farmers and the amount of the payment made is determined by the percent of reduction carried out on the farm. It has been determined that if a man has a 100 acre cotton allotment with an approved yield of one bale per acre and plants 85 acres of cotton, retires 15 acres and makes an average crop his blended returns would be 30.73¢ per acre and retires 25 percent of his allotment his blended returns would be 33.30¢ per pound. If he plants only 65 percent of his allotment and retires 35 percent his blended returns would be 36.65¢ per pound. This is all based on middling 1 inch cotton.

The big change in this bill is of course there would be no marketing quota penalties and any farmer could plant any amount of cotton, harvest and sell all the production for any price he could sell it for, without any penalty. It would bring the loan price down to near the world market price and farmers with allotments that cooperated with the program would be eligible for the 21¢ per pound loan plus direct payments (no payments would be made to textile mills as is being done in 1965).

The bill may permit under certain conditions the owner and operator of any farm for which a cotton acreage is established to sell or lease all or any part of such allotment to another owner or operator of a farm for transfer to such farm.

Farmers should keep in mind that this bill is not a law at this time but it has been introduced in the House of Representatives and is being discussed. It is expected that many amendments will be offered which, if approved, would change the original bill. It might be well for all farmers and other people interested in cotton production to study this bill and any others introduced and make their opinion known to their representative.

BRANDING AT THE BOB LOEB PLACE

Views From County Agent

Buyers at breeder beef cattle sales will soon be studying two pedigrees instead of the usual one.

A growing trend in Texas and other states is to supplement the standard family tree information with production or performance pedigree that more accurately describes the animal's real breeding value. Such pedigrees are production records based on actual performance.

L. A. Maddox, Extension Service animal husbandman in the Texas A & M University Animal Science Department, looks for the practice to become common in the near future.

"Ten years from now, very few breeder sales will operate without this information for buyers," he predicted. "With this kind of data, the buyer can come nearer evaluating what a young bull, for example, is capable of than ever before. It's better than relying on an ancestor pedigree."

Several major sales in Texas have used the system in the past few years, the most notable recent one being the Nine-Bar Santa Gertrudis sale at Crypress. Thirty head averaged $7,963. Ten bulls averaged $18,210 with the top bull going to the King Ranch for $58,000.

Maddox said the usual information in a production pedigree includes weaning weights of sire, dam and calves; gaining ability of sire and calves, complete fertility data on dams, and carcass information from a random sample of a bull's calves.

He added that breeders can gather such records on their herds in several basic ways: 1. All major breed associations have their own performance testing programs. 2. The Performance Registry International of Denver Colo. This is the oldest organization which has accumulated production records for breeders. It was established in Texas in 1954 at a time when breed associations were hesitant about value of production records. 3. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service offers help through local county agents. Agents have been working with breeders for the past 12 years. 4. Some private consulting firms offer the service.

FARM TOPICS

YOAKUM S. C. D. NEWS

By Wilson Duke

Since the rain in June several farmers have planted grass and others are in the process of planting. Some of the grasses being planted are on both dryland and irrigated land.

Jerome Head on the C. O. Head farm has planted 20 acres of Midland Bermuda grass along with 20 acres of switch grass. E. H. Frith has completed planting 23 acres of switch grass. T. O. Bearden 40 acres of switch grass, James Williams 40 acres of switch grass, and H. E. Northcut 20 acres of switch grass.

Bill Gray is in the process of planting about 300 acres of weeping lovegrass on dryland. Truitt Jones and L. C. Heath also have completed their pasture planting. Mr. E. W. New, one of the supervisors of the Yoakum SCD planted about 25 acres of blackwell switch grass on dryland this past weekend. Most of the grass planting for the year is over in the District, other than a few acres of blackwell switchgrass that will be planted on irrigated land. Daryl McNabb on the W. C. Putman farm west of Plains will plant about 10 acres of switch grass about August 1.

Many of the farmers in the District are now planning on getting some kind of cover crop planted on their diverted acres land to insure a cover this next spring during the critical wind erosion period.

Irrigated Crops

Irrigated crops in the county are coming along good at the present, the time of decision for many farmers is here, whether to keep stretching the water over more acres than the well will properly water and hope for rain, or cut back and do a good job on what the well will water properly.

The Soil Conservation Service believes in proper irrigation water management, this is to pre-water all the land you can from your well based on three gallons per acre, and when the peak growing seasons arrive (July and August) cut back and water only the acres that you can supply enough water to meet the crops needs, 8 to 10 GPM per acre.

Skiprow planting has been proven to increase yields where you don't have enough water to meet the needs of the crop, it has also been proven where you have plenty of water to do irrigation water management that skip row crops does not pay, the extra acres you have to water, plus the extra labor and time involved may cost at harvest time, and also resulting in more wind erosion, due to the rows without any cover. The evaporation loss on bare land is very high in July and August. Why waste water on bare ground when you could be watering crops such as grass or alfalfa.

Irrigation water management can be easily obtained if you have a properly designed irrigation system and you know how much water it will supply and how much water that it takes to grow a good crop. We believe Irrigation Water Management pays.

According to research information the amount of water during peak use per day is:

Given in inches
Cotton . 25 per day
Bermuda Grass . 30
Alfalfa . 30
Grain sorghum . 30 (high Yield)
