Furhman Draws 10 Year Pen Rap

After more than 17 hours of deliberation a Yoakum County Jury convicted James A. Furhman, 17 year old Seminole youth, of rape, and he was sentenced to serve 10 years in the state penitentiary. Furhman already was facing a three year prison sentence which he had received for burglary last year. That sentence had been suspended, but was invoked after the youth was charged with raping an 18 year old Denver City girl last May 14.

The Seminole youth was found guilty on the rape charge and the 10 year sentence was set by the jury. The two sentences will run consecutively making a total of 13 years for young Furhman.

The trial was described as very emotional, and after the verdict was returned the family of the assault victim was reported to be enraged and almost were engaged in scuffle with the defense council, Cleatus Phelan, Plains attorney.

The sheriff managed to settle the members of the family down without violence, a spokesman said.

District Attorney Bill Bodeker, Levelland and County Attorney Vernon Townes presented the case for the prosecution.

Cleatus Phelan, defense lawyer, based the defense on the accused contention that consent was evident in the case.

The victim of the assault took the stand and stated that she was forced to submit to Furhman, after the Seminole youth used force and threats.

Members of the jury in this case were:

W. M. Overton, Ronnie Dunn, Bobby W. New, Kenneth Hale, Troy L. Mason, Monroe Schmitz, Foye Powell, Paul Cobb, Amos Smith, Olen Edwards, Wilson Duke, and Duane McDonnell.

Judge Ledbetter presided at the District Court trial.

Virgil Wade Resigns

Virgil Wade has resigned his position in the Plains Public School system to accept a teaching spot on the faculty of Tarleton State College at Stephenville, Texas. The resignation was effective this week, and the Wades will move before the first of September.

Mr. Wade has taught in the local school system for the past six years. His students have consistently taken top honors at district, regional, and state meets. One of his main projects was to take his students on an annual tour each year, this year the students went to Northern New Mexico, and on to the White Sands area.

Wade is married and has two children. The Wades belong to the Methodist Church.

Wade is the official photographer for The Plains Record. He will teach biology at Tarleton State. He received his B. A. at McMurry, and his M. S. degree at Texas Tech.

Last week Mr. Gene Young and Mr. Foy Flood resigned their positions at the school. With Wade's resignation, 15 teachers have resigned this year. This is 37.5 per cent of the total teachers in the system.

Many left to enter private business or to advancement, and some to marry. Mr. G. D. Kennedy, superintendent, has been out of town on a recruiting drive to get all of the teachers for the coming semester.

Marie's Fashion and Fabric Shop Won First Place In The Contest During The Parade. On The Float Are Marie Tidwell, Her Grandson, Mrs. Eldridge Tidwell, and Oma McCargo.

Sheriff Nabs Two D.C. Men

Sheriff Olan Heath cracked an oil field robbery ring with the arrest of two Denver City men at 6:00 a. m. Sunday morning just north of Denver City. Kenneth Ray Raglin, 24, and Robert Joseph Wesson, 23, were taken in custody by the Yoakum County Sheriff when he had received a tip that thieves who had taken wallets from an oil rig dog house were driving a car with only one headlight.

The Sheriff reported that besides the wallets stolen in this robbery, that about a dozen were in the possession of the two accused thieves.

Sheriff Heath said that this solves the ring which has been robbing rigs in Lea County, New Mexico, Gaines County, Andrews County, and Yoakum County.

The ring has been stealing wallets, watches, and other valuables for the past year, and the Sheriff has been watching for the accused robbers.

The two men were charged with theft of over $50.00, and are being held in the county jail in lieu of bond. Sheriff Heath said that he has been working hard to catch the thieves, along with the law officers of the other counties.

The Sheriff reported that the other actions of his office during the past week, were routine.

The Above Float Won Second Place. It was Entered By The Young Homemakers of Plains.

THE CHEER LEADERS OF PLAINS HIGH WON THIRD PLACE IN THE PARADE.

Sue Cooke Rodeo Queen

HER MAJESTY, QUEEN SUE FROM THE HOUSE OF COOKE

Sue Cooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cooke, was crowned Queen of the 12th Annual Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo during the performance Saturday night. Pam Parrot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tex Parrot, was the reigning Queen and bestowed the honors on the new Queen.

The highlight of the Rodeo came midway through the final performance when Miss Cooke was named Queen. In what was described as one of the closest races in years, the new Queen defeated the other three candidates. Miss Cooke was sponsored by the Plains Chamber of Commerce.

First runner up for Queen was Miss Suzhan St. Romain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. St. Romain. She was presented with a lovely buckle for being first runner up. It was donated by Moore & Oden, Inc. of Plains.

The Queen's buckle was donated by The Plains Record. It was presented to her from Miss Pam Parrot, the reigning Queen.

The other contestants in the race for Queen were Miss Marilyn Goehry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Goehry; and Miss Rheanell Strickland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Strickland.

All of the Queen contestants were in the parade and were dressed in western riding attire. Their costumes were bright and colorful, and they rode their horses through the parade with beautiful banners draped across them with the names of their sponsors on them.

Miss Cooke was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce; Miss St. Romain by the Roping Club of Plains; Miss Goehry by the Lions Club; and Miss Strickland by the Young Farmers.

Water Petition

G. W. Cleveland, local rancher and secretary of the Yoakum County Water Conservation Association stated this week that a petition is being drawn for the election of a set of directors to be appointed by the Texas Water Commission.

Mr. Cleveland stated that funds must be raised to hold such an election. One representative from Yoakum, Terry, and Dawson Counties will be selected and two from Gaines, Yoakum County's part will cost about $2500.00, said Cleveland.

George McCleskey, well known Lubbock attorney, is drawing the petition stated Cleveland.

Members of the County Water Conservation Association besides Cleveland are Bob Loe, President, J. E. Ashborn, Russell Faulkenberry, Gene Bennett, Henry May, and J. E. Herring.

Cleveland further stated that maps of the areas involved are being prepared and will be available for publication soon.

Elect New Officers

The Rough Riders of Plains met Monday for a business meeting in order to elect officers for the coming year.

The new officers are as follows: President - Johnny Robertson Vice President - Jim Cooke Secretary - Juanita Cooke Reporter - Billie McDonnell

The Rough Rider drill team has accepted an invitation to ride in the parade at Morton on Thursday, August 12. They will do their quadrill on Saturday night August 14. They have also accepted an invitation to attend the parade at Lovington, New Mexico.

The Rough Riders voted to become a member of the American Association of Sheriff posse and Riding Clubs.

Hundreds of people lined the streets of Plains to watch the big parade which kicked off the 12th Annual Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo last week-end.

The parade was described as one of the largest in the history of the event. Many floats and mounted groups were in the parade and the judges awarded Marie's Fashion and Fabric Shop first prize. The float depicted a 19th century fashion store and was awarded first prize because of originality and top design.

The Young Homemakers captured second place in the float competition with a scene from the past composed of cowboys, settlers and Indians with a desert scene. A buffalo head was also on the float.

The Cowboy Cheer Leaders of Plains High School won third place with their decorated auto picturing the Cowboys as the number one team.

The Ladies of Tsa Mo Ga Club won honorable mention with their interesting float based on the turn of the century with five generations from the Luna clan riding on the float. The Lunas were one of the first families to settle in the county.

The Future Homemakers also won honorable mention in the float contest with their giant map of the United States. Morton's mounted group took first place in the contest for that category. Their brilliant costumes and decorated horses were considered to be excellent in the parade.

The four Queen contestants rode in the parade on their horses, led by Pam Parrot, the reigning Queen of the Rodeo. Members of the Plains Rough Riders also participated in the big event.

State Representative Jesse T. George was the only state official present for the event. He spoke to members of the Lions Club before the parade and assisted local people and parade officials in putting on the parade. Jesse also helped decorate the Chamber of Commerce entry, and put out posters for the pancake supper in town.

The Rodeo itself was described as possibly the best in the history of the Reunion. The crowds were large and the contestants reported that the stock was excellent.

People turned out in large numbers for the Bar-B-Q, with over 600 eating the noon meal in Stanford park.

Five lines were run through at the Bar-B-Q, this year in order for the event to go faster. The high light of the Rodeo came Saturday night when Sue Cooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cooke was crowned the new Queen by Pam Parrot, the outgoing Queen.

The saddle was won by Joe Dan Cooke, brother of the Queen. It was bought on the Cowboy Store in Levelland.

The actual Rodeo had people from far and near participating in the events.

The McGehee baby is still undergoing treatments for the severe burns. The child's mother reported him to be in satisfactory condition. The baby is now at home, but must be taken to Denver City each day to have the bandages changed.

The older sister of the baby has just recently been discharged from the hospital, where she was a medical patient being treated for pneumonia. The family suffered more bad luck last week when Roy Senior broke his foot and some ribs in an accident on their farm.

WASHINGTON AND 'SMALL BUSINESS' By C. WILSON HARDER

UP until fairly recently, the taxing objective of the American government was to secure revenue. But now there has been grafted onto the taxing system the principle of using taxes to regulate the economy.

Recent experience shows that when government seeks to adjust economic conditions by tax policies, there is a constant conflict between common sense and political expediency.

In addition, for several years, men such as Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, Rep. Charles Chamberlain of Michigan, Rep. Abraham Multer of New York have sought to get passed the so-called 'plow-back' allowance.

Briefly, this would permit any business to plow back into the business tax free up to 20% of a year's profit, to a maximum of $30,000 to expand.

Now it is recognized that a main cause of poverty is a sufficient lack of jobs, and this situation is being aggravated by the automation programs in huge industry which releases men to unemployment.

On the other hand, nationwide surveys being conducted by the Federation show clearly that independent business, given a chance, will expand, and create more jobs.

The best example of this fact is shown by the data gathered by this survey. Many independent business firms were able to utilize the small business tax reform act passed in 1958.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor: I am for a city and community and especially interested in our youth, and therefore feel it's my duty as a minister and father to voice my opinion on the vulgar and profanity being used by the clowns at the rodeo...

I know the clowns do a great job and save cowboy's lives on numerous occasions but I do not feel it gives them permission to use the jokes and language they do that will help destroy our girls and boys.

There's too many clean, decent things to say and do that will build up instead of wrecking the morals of our community.

I cannot, and will not sponsor and be a part of anything that is so vulgar and suggestive to immorality as the above mentioned, and stand ready to face any criticism offered by any or all that's backing such ungodliness.

It isn't often that a State Representative will go through his district in an off year advising the public of legislation which is no longer news. Rep. Jesse T. George has been doing this constantly since the session ended.

Far too often it is said that the only time that we see our public officials is when it is time to hold another election. We are happy to see that our State Representative has gone to the trouble to come to us and advise us of what he did in his first session in the legislature.

The tip of the hat from The Record is extended to Rep. Jesse T. George for these things and we want you to know that you are always welcome in Plains, Jesse. We appreciate the time and money which our Representative has so willingly given to the electorate in Yoakum County.

FASHION CHANGES

The waist has been hidden by loose jackets and shifts for sometime now, but designer, Christian Dior, puts the waistline firmly back in business, with his most recent Paris showings, with belts, cummerbunds and more fitted suits.

Dior's designer, Marc Bohan, features medium wide belts on coats, on suits with long jackets and even on cocktail dresses.

Many cocktail dresses shown, have wide cummerbunds that show more waist than has been seen for several seasons.

Bohan kept hemlines where they were last season - just grazing top of the knee.

Feathers are used voluminously and models paraded in ostrich cowl hoods and tricky feathered hats.

Two jackets were made of brown guinea hen feathers and viewers of the show applauded a floor length black feather coat.

Shown also by these leading designers were tunic dresses and a lot of back drapery on cocktail and evening dresses.

Short two-third length coats had full sleeves and billowing backs and though suit skirts had straight lines they were softly gathered in the front and in the back.

Not one daring neckline was shown in the 174 fashion items.

Skinny models wore heavy bangs to the eyebrows in other fashion shows.

Two of the girls had weird looking "cat's eyes" make-up, with bright red lipstick, white powder and heavily outlined eyes.

A local teacher of Sunday School told me this one. She had asked her students to list their favorite hymns. One little girl looked up in surprise, blushed and then scribbled, "Peter and Tom."

THIS IS FOR GRANDMAS

A little lean boy with a freckled nose and a fishing pole and two bandaged toes.

With his tousled hair looking like ripened wheat, "tippy-toed" through the back door on kitten-quick feet

And made a beeline for the cookie jar, in each of his blue eyes a little blue star.

For he knew so exactly what waited for him when he poked craw-fish fingers across the jar's rim.

Round cookies crusted with raisins and spice where his favorite kind, and Grandma was nice.

For she left the jar filled for a boy going fishing, and low on the shelf so he needn't stand wishing!

TRUTH IN PACKAGING

A bill has again been introduced before the Senate Committee for hearing, which is called the "Truth in Packaging" bill.

The bill is being actively supported by Chairman Paul Rand Dixon and may get somewhere with his interest.

Dixon said "There is no doubt that consumers want to be furnished with sufficient information in packaging and labeling so that they can make reasonably intelligent comparisons between competing products. . . how much is in the package, and the price in terms understandable to the consumer."

As consumers we feel that we should also be protected against packages which contain inordinate amounts of air or other non-functional material.

We should not be lured by fake bargains, cents off, free deals or combination offers, nor should we be confused by goods packaged in such miscellaneous sizes as to defy rational price comparisons.

Should the bill pass it would only hurt those who depend on fakery to sell their goods and very few food industry people aim to use trickery in their selling.

"For the last time," shouted the sergeant, "I ask you a simple question, "What is a fortification."

The recruits remained silent.

In desperation the NCO glared at what he thought the most intelligent looking man and demanded an answer. But the answer slowed up the works.

"A fortification is two twentifications."

It is felt that it is a great honor for these young people to have this privilege and a compliment to the organization sponsoring them.

Young Homemakers

The August 9th meeting of the Yoakum County Young Homemakers was held in the club room with eight members attending.

The program, concerning cake decorating was given by Mrs. Kent Welch and Mrs. Venuum Fitzgerald. They had prepared two lovely cakes for display and they explained how each was decorated. One cake was in the form of a butterfly and the other carried out a Halloween theme. Each club member was given a small cake with which to try her hand at decorating. Everyone enjoyed the fun.

A more serious note to the meeting was given by the president, Mrs. Jim Barron. She presented a reading entitled "Let Freedom Ring." This inspiring reading concerned our need for spiritual faith in maintaining freedom.

As members enjoyed cake and iced tea, a business session was held. Two voting delegates were elected to represent the club at the area convention to be held in Brownfield September 11. Plant the Seed where you expect to Reap

IT'S what you might call a commonly recognized agricultural principle that if you want to do your harvesting on a particular piece of ground, that's the place to sow your seed.

Using the same general type of reasoning, it is obvious that if you want to harvest a nice crop of prosperity . . . in the form of better business, a better job, a better community in which to live . . . it's advisable to plant your trade dollars where they will produce growth for you, rather than for somebody else.

The homes we live in . . . the jobs and businesses which support us . . . the schools and churches that teach our children and enrich our lives . . . the convenient stores and service establishments that supply our everyday and emergency needs . . . none of these were built, nor are they supported by the dollars that are spent in some other community or city.

Report From Sen. Tower

An issue most basic to the principles of American democracy is being debated in the Senate and throughout the country in dozens of state legislatures. It involves the "check-and-balance" concept.

That principle was established by the Founding Fathers in their Constitutional provision for a two-house Congress. They set up a House of Representatives for which membership was divided upon nationwide population. Then, as a check, they set up a Senate which gave equal membership to each state.

The framers of our Constitution viewed the system as a "tea and saucer" with the House the cup and the Senate the saucer. They said, "The heated legislation from the House will be poured into the Senate saucer to cool so that it can be safely digested without burning the body politic."

In this way they guaranteed that wide agreement and acceptance would exist before laws finally were enacted. They guaranteed that every minority group in our complex social system would have full opportunity to protect its interests.

Because of the success of this two-house system, which has enabled our nation to become the most free and most strong in world's history, nearly every state has copied it. Our own legislature was set up as two houses, one with membership based on population and the other with membership taking into account other factors such as geography.

However, last year a U. S. Supreme Court ruling invalidated the check-and-balance system for state governments, saying BOTH legislative houses must base membership on population alone. I regard this an incorrect and unwise decision.

Last week 59 senators voted for a proposed constitutional amendment to reverse this High Court decision. Unfortunately, a two-thirds vote of 67 was required. However, a constitutional amendment also can be proposed by petition of 34 states. Our legislature has so petitioned Congress, as have 25 others.

I hope a constitutional amendment can be achieved that will protect the traditional American principle of "check and balance government."

Our Soil, Our Land!

YOAKUM S C D NEWS
BY
C. MURRELL THOMPSON

Much interest and actual work is being shown by cooperators of the District in cover crops. Plans now, are the purchasing of seed arrangements for planting and planting of some cover crops. We all remember how it was about five months ago when it was too dry to plow and there was very little or no cover on some of our precious top soil. The Board of Supervisors mailed a cover crop newsletter this week to every land owner or operator in our District encouraging and reminding them of the need for planting cover crops.

There are hundreds of acres in our District that already have a cover of forage sorghum, sudan or some crop that will provide a good cover next spring. Hundreds of operators are looking to their grain sorghum saying "If it doesn't make grain at least I will have a good stubble for a cover next spring."

J. M. Deering, Tom Warren, E. C. Hutton, K. O. Hendricks, Truett Jones, T. A. Elmore, Wallace Randolph, James Williams, Bob Loe and many many others are leading the way to more good land with a cover of either green (on irrigated) or dead on dry land such as millet. Cover crops can add as much as 4 tons per acre of organic matter and cost as little as $2.00 per acre to plant. This is a real bargain and too we hold our precious top soil while improving our land. Cover crops not only hold our soil but they make the country side more beautiful and the farmstead more livable. Take care of your soil and it will take care of us.

September 8, 1965 has been selected as the 1966 ASCS Committee Election date. The election, as in the past will be by mail. Ballots will be mailed to all persons on the ASCS mailing list and may be returned by mail or in person.

For the past several years almost 100% of the farmers eligible to vote have cast their ballot for the men of their choice. Both husband and wife are eligible to vote. Five men will be elected which will be elected which will include the regular committee and two alternates. Those elected last fall for the 1965 program year were T. A. Elmore, Ray Beard-en, J. B. Ashburn, Dallas Powell and T. J. Murphey.

Nominations may be made by petition. To be considered petitions must be signed by at least six eligible voters and received at the county office by twenty days before Sept. 8, 1965. Petitions are limited to one nominee each. Persons nominated by petition will be placed on the ballot if found eligible and willing to serve.

Program administered by the ASCS Committee include the ACP Program, voluntary wheat program, wool program farm storage facility loans and others assigned by the Secretary of Agriculture. Farmers eligible to cast ballots in the election will be all those who are eligible to participate in one or more of the national farm programs which the committeemen help to administer locally. The major activities administered under the supervision of the ASCS Committee in Yoakum County are cotton allotments, feed grain program, ACP, and the voluntary wheat program.

Farmers will be given additional information including the slate of nominees, eligibility to vote and eligibility to hold office prior to the election date. For several years now we have had a approximately 500 ballots cast in the committee election and it is expected that almost 100% of the eligible voters will again vote.

Views From County Agent

BY LEO WHITE

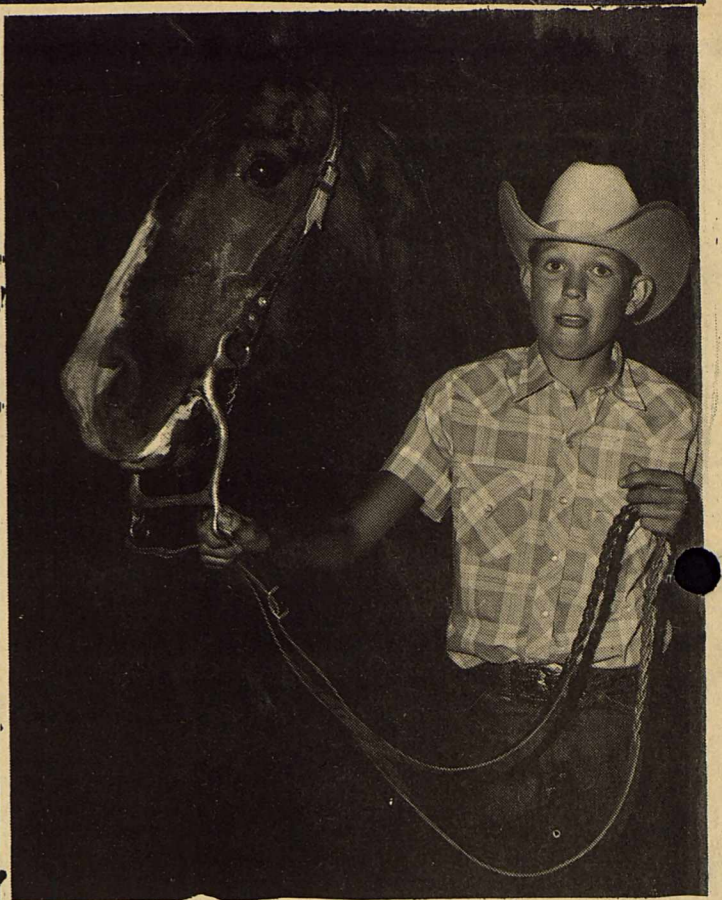

Four - H Club boys and girls from all points over the State of Texas are in Dallas this week for the State 4 - H Club Horse Show. About 250 entries are expected in this contest. Yoakum County will be represented by Jimmy Gray and Alton McGinty. These boys won the right to participate in the State Show by placing high in the District 4 - H Horse Show held at Levelland on June 26th. Jimmy placed second and Alton placed seventeenth among the eighty eight entries at Levelland. The fifteen top rating horses and five alternates were selected at the Levelland meet so two entries had to drop out for Alton McGinty to be a member of the District 2 team.

Alton was not notified that he would be one of the team members until Tuesday morning of this week. He and his family had to make some rapid preparations for this trip. Mr. Dick McGinty is attending the show with Alton and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gray and John are attending with Jimmy. Mr. and Mrs. Leo White are also attending the State Show which begins Thursday morning and continues until Friday night.

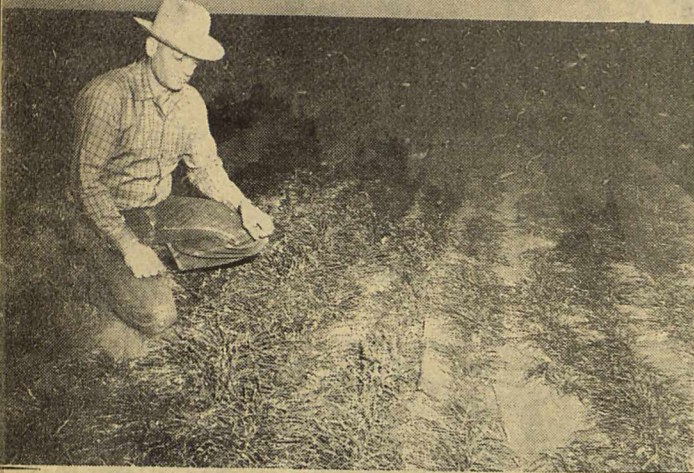

Each horse in the State Show will be exhibited in a halter class and they can enter one or all of the performance classes. The Yoakum County boys will enter all of the performance classes which include Western Pleasure, Reining, Pole Bending and and the Barrel race.

This is a part of the 4 - H Club program where the individual Club member gets the recognition for work of his horse. Actually, the horse and rider are entered together. Jimmy is riding a sorrel gelding named Keno and Alton is riding a black gelding named Tar Baby. Keno is a fairly new horse because Jimmy is using him this year for the first time in 4 - H competition. Tar Baby is well known to local fans for he has been making a good showing for himself in the Kida and Kayuses 4 - H Round-Up events for several years.

Other horses in the 4 - H Play Days are showing much improvement and will be ready for the District Show in 1966. One of the purposes of the 4 - H Horse Program is to give boys and girls an opportunity to properly train a horse. When a 4 - H Club Member takes a young horse and trains him for all the performance events, he has not only increased the value of the animal but he has received a great deal of self satisfaction and knowledge which will be of value to him in later life.

JIMMY GRAY IS PICTURED WITH HIS HORSE THAT HE QUALIFIED ON TO ATTEND STATE MEET IN DALLAS. HE LEFT TODAY AND WILL RETURN THIS WEEK-END.

Wallace Randolph who farms South West of Plains used wheat on fallow land last year. Wallace liked the result and plans to increase the acreage this year.

James L. Williams farms South West of Plains and uses rye as a cover for his field and to protect the farmstead and as a cash crop. James also uses cow peas and plants his maize in 30 inch rows to produce a more effective cover.

Hard to say 'till an expert checks it over. He'll know what's needed to get the job done.

Same is true for fire insurance. Nobody knows how much you need 'till everything's checked by a man who knows both farming and insurance. Your home and furniture, farm buildings, farm equipment, and even your business, will all have different requirements.

Your Farm Bureau Agent is that kind of guy. His farming knowledge and insurance training make him hard to beat. Let him check everything over for you. You'll be glad you did.
