Mid-Way Playday Report

Friends Help Tokio Farmer

Friends and neighbors of Windord Belle, Tokio farmer who has been in the hospital in Lubbock as a medical patient, pitched in and helped with the working of his land again recently. The Co-op Station in Brownfield furnished the butane for the tractors. Those helping were Reg Martin, Carl Cabe, D. W. Hustis, Lee Martin, Regil Mar and Fat Locke. Those who helped with the expense at the Cafe in Tokio for the meals served were: Amos Smith, A. J. Crutcher, Wayne Sherrin, Tony Hernandez, Carl Rain, James Warren, Homer Sudderth, Jimmy Sherrin, Luciano Reyna, Jim Garza, A. F. Kelly, Jimmy Wood, L. Clannahan, O. D. Pippin, Jake Anderson, Martin Herreia, Mike Francerto, Ray Saiz, J. W. Barly, John Curtis, Mr. Natio, John J. Jones, and Leslie McGee. All of these people assisted in helping Mr. Belle with the work on his farm.

Club Room Rules Set

The rooms in the Old Courthouse that serves Plains and the surrounding area as Community Activity Rooms are in the process of being cleaned and waxed this week in preparation for the busy month ahead when local organizations will again resume their regular meetings.

For the information of residents moving recently to Plains and a courteous reminder to others the regulations for use of rooms are as follows: The reservation calendar is in the care of Mrs. W. M. (Bill) Overton. The key is available immediately preceding the meeting to the person responsible at the home of Mrs. Overton and is to be returned there directly following the meeting. If the Overton's are away from home the key will be left in an envelope with your name written on it and is to be returned to the same place. This practice has worked better than any that has been tried over the years, because the key is available only to the person with the reservation.

THESE ARE YOUR ROOMS These are your rules. Abide by them or forfeit your rights to the rooms for a prescribed period of time. The room is available to any responsible person or group of persons, so long as the activity meets with the maintenance rules as follows:

1. Civic and Social organizations regularly using the building may schedule such use six months in advance. Others may schedule use a maximum of 30 days in advance.
2. No decorations are to be placed on walls, ceiling, woodwork, light fixtures, stoves, or in any other manner that will mar the building.
3. No activity will be permitted in the rooms that will permanently mar floors, walls, ceiling, furniture or any other part of the rooms.
4. Any damage must be reported when the key is returned and arrangements made to replace dishes and etc. provided they were broken or destroyed.
5. All young people's groups must be sponsored by adults at all times. A panel of lights must be left on at all times during an activity at night. No one is to leave the building only in case of necessity or with permission of the sponsors in charge.
6. The building is not to be used for personal gain.

Report From Sen. Tower

An amazing and reprehensible situation has come to light in our state in recent weeks, and all Texans must be advised about it so that all of us can help combat it.

Racketeers posing as representatives of the Social Security Administration have defrauded several elderly Americans by pretending to sign them up for Medicare coverage. At least two of these frauds were in our state.

Two elderly Texas ladies have been cheated by swindlers pretending to sell them Medicare insurance. One lady lost $100 to the con-man.

Of course, Medicare coverage is not for sale, and neither is any other portion of Social Security coverage.

Here is how the racket has been working. The crook shows up at the home of an elderly person and introduces himself as a Social Security field agent. He says he is there to explain the new Medicare program.

After giving the intended victim some authentic information about the law and showing him some official brochures, which anyone can get at a Social Security office, the fast talking crook says he will be glad to take care of the "enrollment paper work."

He then says that a special discount on Medicare insurance "premiums" can be had by paying in advance to him right then. If he succeeds in getting any money, he simply pockets it and disappears quickly.

This is an unspeakably vicious racket. All Texans must join in felling these swindlers. No bona fide Social Security worker ever will try to collect cash for Medicare enrollment.

No Texan should make any cash payment to anybody who claims to be "selling" Medicare.

If you see or hear of one of these crooks, call your police or sheriff's office and, if possible, the nearest FBI office. Posing as a Social Security official is a Federal crime punishable by up to three years in jail.

County Oil & Gas Big Money Factor

Yokum County's producers and royalty owners are marketing some $42.2 million in crude oil and natural gas a year, according to statistics released by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association this week.

Ranking 26th among Texas oil and gas producing counties, Yokum County in 1963 received some $39.6 million from wellhead sales of oil and an estimated $2.6 million from natural gas. County production of oil was approximately 13.3 million barrels; natural gas, 21.2 billion cubic feet.

Farmers, ranchers and other mineral owners share in a $5.3 million distribution of oil and gas royalty payments annually. The Association based its annual study of this county's oil and gas output on statistics compiled by the U. S. Bureau of Mines for 1963. Production data for 1964 would be approximately the same.

Statewide, Texas oil and wells produced an estimated $3.6 billion in income; $2.9 billion from oil, $730 million from gas.

Data from the Texas Employment Commission indicate direct employment in oil and gas industry jobs for more than 650 Yokum County citizens with a payroll of approximately $3.8 million a year. Because oil operations require such a large number of service contractors and supply firms, which are not included in this figure, direct employment figures are only part of the story of local economic impact.

An important indicator of activity is the amount expended on drilling of wildcat wells seeking new fields and those wells drilled to develop fields already located. The association estimates that in 1964 approximately $14.2 million was risked by Texas oil and gas operators on drilling ventures in Yokum County. About 11.6 per cent of this expenditure, or $1.6 million, went into dry holes.

A tabulation by the Oil and Gas Journal shows 155 wells were drilled in the county in 1964: 137 oil and 18 dry holes. See oil, page 4

COWBOYS PRACTICE PERFECT HAND OFF IN SCRIMMAGE.

Pigskin Forecast

The Plains Cowboys met the Friendship football team in a scrimmage Tuesday night in Cowboy Stadium. The Pokes came out on top in the encounter scoring three early touchdowns from scrimmage before the Friendship team could make any consistent gains. The Cowboys showed an explosive attack and a rugged defense.

Hard hitting and practice in timing was the main thing practiced in drills by the Plains Cowboys this week. The Pokes worked hard on their running and passing attack as well as plugging up the gaps in the line.

The team also practiced on kicking extra points and worked on the field goal as a threat to would be spoilers of a promising Plains season.

The team looked well conditioned and executed their power and fast breaking plays well. The Pokes also showed a strong passing attack in practice during the week.

The Cowboys open their season next week and our guess is that the hard practice and condition of the squad will be in their favor when the final gun sounds.

The Cowboys are a big squad this year and boast a 175 pound average on the line. Their defense should be solid. The line is an aggressive one which charges hard. This type of defense is hard to beat.

It is often said that the best defense is a good offense, and if this is true the Cowboys should be loaded, because there is a lot of depth in the backfield. The quarterbacks have shown good ball handling and capable passing in practice. The half backs are fast and deceptive and the full back has the steam to put out the power. In all, we consider the Pokes to be a strong contender for the District Championship. Wink is the team to beat in our books, and if anybody stops them this year, we believe it will be the Cowboys from Plains.

Ticket Sale Starts

Season tickets for the Plains Cowboys home football games go on sale today, stated Neil Taylor, principal. Taylor said that the tickets cover the seats between the 40 yard lines and that 650 tickets will be sold.

The seats are numbered and will be sold on a first come first serve basis. Taylor said that the home schedule is a strong one this year and that he urges the Cowboy boosters to purchase the tickets and attend and support the Pokes in their games this year.

Coach Sewell has stated that he expects a strong squad to represent Plains this year and that the Cowboys will fight to bring the District crown to Plains. The head football mentor called on local residents to support the home team by attending all of the games. The home games and the dates are:

- FRIONA - SEPTEMBER 10
- POST - OCTOBER 1
- SUNDOWN - OCTOBER 8
- O'DONNELL - OCTOBER 22
- STANTON - NOVEMBER 12

Plan Friday Cub Party

A watermelon feast is planned in Stanford park Friday evening at 7:00 p. m. for the Cub Scouts and their parents, said Bob Loe this week.

All Cub Scouts and boys interested in becoming Cubs are invited to come to the watermelon party, Loe said.

The Yokum County Commissioners' Court met Monday morning and reviewed the proposed budget for the year. They postponed action until today on the budget. The proposed budget shows a marked increase over last year's budget. Because of the recent re-districting of the precincts Commissioner Loe and Commissioner Bookout will receive more funds this year. When asked if they will receive some of the equipment from Commissioner Brown and Commissioner Cotton, the two Northern Commissioners said that they would not receive any equipment, and would probably have to buy some new equipment because of the added amount of roads to maintain. At the time of the re-districting Commissioners Brown and Cotton and Judge Duval stated it was for economy reasons that the boundries were moved. No money is being saved in the new budget.

In other action of the Commissioners' Court, $5,000.00 was transferred from the general fund to the hospital fund. A County official reported that the hospital is still operating in the red.

Another $10,000.00 transfer was made from the county general fund to officers' salaries.

The County Court went on record as favoring that the local Farm Home administration continue the emergency aid program for drought stricken farmers in the county. A letter will be sent to that agency.

In a recent meeting of the County Court, Art York, Denver City, was named to succeed Charles Gillis as service officer. Judge Stanley Duval made the motion to name York, and Vance Brown seconded the motion. The motion carried with a 3-2 vote with Duval voting with Brown and Cotton and Mrs. Loe and Bookout voting no. Mrs. Loe and Mr. Bookout stated that they favored a Plains man who had applied for the position.

Mr. Bookout stated that A. E. "Dick" McGinty, prominent Plains rancher and business man had applied and that he favored McGinty because he is the adjutant of the local American Legion Post and handles service work for veterans. Mrs. Loe agreed with Mr. Bookout on her support for Mr. McGinty. McGinty is the immediate past commander of the Plains Legion Post.

McGinty was contacted by the editor of The Record, and stated that he appreciated Mr. Bookout and Mrs. Loe supporting him, but was disappointed that the County Judge placed York's name in nomination, since he felt that the Judge should only vote in case of a tie, and should refrain from making such nominations.

McGinty congratulated Mr. York and wished him well in his new job in the interview.

Tokio Gin Feeds 600

Over 600 people attended the annual meeting of the Tokio Co-op Gin Saturday at noon and were served Bar-B-Q beef and ham with all of the trimmings. The gin had recently been re-painted and readied for the feast. Ladies from the Pleasant Hill and Turner Home Demonstration Clubs prepared and served the meal, which included home made cherry cobbler and all of the salads and beans you could eat.

Drawings were held and prizes were given away at the meeting. Guests were introduced and speakers participated on the program. Amos Smith, manager of the gin acted as official host. Cigars and favors were given at the registration table and holders in the Co-op Gin received their dividend checks at the meeting.

The crowd was described as one of the largest to ever assemble for such an occasion in the area.

Snake Killed at Gibson Home

Mrs. Ben Gibson reported that a three foot rattlesnake was killed in front of her home two blocks north of the park last Friday. The snake had nine rattles and was discovered by Mrs. Gibson when her little dog kept barking. Mr. Gibson came home from work and shot the reptile. Residents are urged to be alert for snakes in their yards because recent studies show that more people are bitten in their yards than in any other place.

Texas Solon Backs Cold War G.I. Bill

The Cold War GI Bill has passed the United States Senate. On July 19 the Senate voted by an overwhelming four to one vote to give five million forgotten veterans of the Cold War a chance in life.

The bill had 41 co-sponsors in the Senate and received considerable support from other Senators.

As author and floor manager of the bill, I am very happy that we were able to get the bill passed without any crippling amendments.

The final bill follows the principles of the World War II and Korean GI Bills by making every Cold War veteran eligible for the benefits, instead of being limited to a certain group or those who serve in a special geographical area. The World War II and Korean GI Bills made all veterans eligible, no matter where they served, as our defense system is a team effort. The Cold War GI Bill recognizes the same principle that all veterans should be afforded the opportunities to readjust to civilian life no matter where they served in defending freedom.

Only 40% of our draft-eligible young men ever see military service, and this bill gives them the chance to have the same opportunities as those 60% of young men who never serve in uniform, but further their careers and educations. It is a simple act of justice to provide the Cold War veteran with the same opportunity in life that we have provided our previous veterans.

The GI Bill provides readjustment benefits for any veteran who has served more than 180 days on active duty between January 31, 1965 the end of the Korean Conflict GI Bill, and July 1, 1965, the end of the draft. It entitles a veteran to 1 1/2 days educational benefits for each day of active military service with a maximum of 36 months of training. A single veteran would $110 a month; a veteran with one dependent would get $135; and with two or more dependents, $160 a month. There will also be guaranteed and direct loans for homes and farms purchased by these veterans. A veteran may use his educational allowance for college education, high school training, or on the job training on a farm in a factory, or in a business.

The Cold War GI Bill will now go to the House of Representatives where it will be referred to Texan Congressman Olin Teague's Veterans Affairs Committee.

Three identical bills have been introduced by other Congressmen and hearings on the bill should begin soon. I am hopeful that the House and other government agencies will follow the lead of the Senate and urge enactment of this proposal. It will benefit our Nation and our Cold War Veterans, 250,000 of whom are in Texas.

One Hurt; One Jailed After Car Wreck

Frank Crump was injured in a two car collision Saturday evening just west of the city limits of Plains on the Lovington highway when his automobile was struck by a car driven by Basillio Bazen. Both automobiles were considered to be total losses. Crump was taken to the Yokum County Hospital in Denver City where he was reported to be in serious condition. At press time Crump's condition was reported as satisfactory.

Bazen was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Don Rogers and has been charged with D. W. L. He was being held in the Yokum County jail in lieu of bond.

Crump was thrown through the windshield of his Chevrolet auto and received head injuries. He was taken to the hospital following the accident.

Officer Rogers said that Bazen was intoxicated and that a bottle of gin was found in Bazen's car. Rogers said that the Bazen car struck the side of the Crump car. Both cars were demolished.

The accident occurred about 150 yards from the Guetersloh-Anderson Grain Company just west of the city limits of Plains.

Mr. Bazen is employed at a local Gin. Crump farms west of Plains near the Yokum County Co-op Gin on the Lovington Highway.

Advertising can really be colossal. After all, just think of all of those kids who put that greasy kid stuff on their hair to make Vivalis look good.

Some feed ads make the pigs look so fat that we often wonder if we should start eating the feed itself rather than eating the ham.

Some of us are so deodorant conscious that we use two brands before going to work, let alone out on a social. So many leading companies advertise a deodorant for the whole family that we just can't afford to miss out on a good thing.

Just think what a boost it would be if somebody in the pest control business came up with a repellent to safeguard a person from door to door salesmen or from the politicians. A person could make a million plus if he came up with something for the latter before next spring, because it is an election year. I'll bet a real good rate would be available for the advertising in almost any paper in the country.

Just think about the kids demanding that we put a tiger in our tank. Pop may grow like the tiger, but Enco stock goes up, up, up.

I'd rather fight than switch has sold billions of weeds in spite of "The Report." Before mom lost her figure she beamed at the ad "Just a Smile and a Janzen." Of course the Moo Moos and the shift caught moms eye when middle age started to set in. Playtex Living Girdles have changed the shape of the world.

We could go on an on, but we are sure that the point is well taken. It pays to advertise!!!!

In another case, a large crowd jammed the entrance of a department store on the opening day of a sale. The management let only a few shoppers in at a time, allowing the rest to surge impatiently against the glass show windows. There were no guards, no barricades, no warnings of danger.

Finally the glass cracked, and a woman was badly cut. Here, too, a court held the store liable for failing to prevent an accident that it could reasonably have averted.

However, the mere presence of a crowd does not necessarily make the store liable for mishaps. Not only must there be negligence on the part of the management but also there must be a sufficient cause-and-effect connection between the crowding and the injury.

For example: A woman was seated at the hoisery counter of a department store that was swarming with bargain hunters. Suddenly she was bumped off her chair by another shopper, going past in a hurry. The woman sued the store, but to no avail. The court noted that the injury was not really caused by the crowd at all, but by the recklessness of one particular individual.

Besides, some discomforts must be tolerated as part of the shopping process. As one court put it: "Crowds are often found in large stores at the time of special sales, and during holiday seasons. They are an unavoidable feature of mercantile life in large cities."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Bargain Day Crowds

Just after World War II, in the heyday of scarcities, a grocery store received a shipment of hard-to-get margarine. The manager dropped a carton in a narrow aisle and sang out:

"Ole! Come and get it!" In the ensuing stampede, a woman shopper was injured. In due course she sued the market, pointing out that the manager should have known—from two previous stampedes—what to expect. And the court granted her substantial damages.

A store does not guarantee each customer absolute protection from the actions of other shoppers. But a store may be held liable if, by its own negligence, it permits a crowd to become dangerous.

Editorial

Once there was a town that prospered. The economy was good, and it was a thriving community which boasted that it was self sufficient. Agriculture was the primary source of revenue for the little city. It was a county seat and proudly could state with certainty that it was the largest and most prosperous town in the county. No industry or new businesses were wanted or solicited to come into the village.

Then with the speed of striking lightning black gold was discovered and developed in the county. Oil companies tried to buy land to build plants and to build camps for the employees. The price of land which was available was quoted out of reason, therefore the giant corporations developed their own city which grew by leaps and bounds.

Gradually the business places began to close their doors in this stalwart little town which because of drought and no enterprises the young men could not find employment. The young men went to war and few returned to their home town because there were no jobs available for them. Practically no payroll existed in the community.

Inflation hit and costs soared. The drought caused ranchers to sell off their herds, and the dry land farmers found that with no rain there would be no crops. More business houses folded. People in the community rejected new ideas and stuck to the stand pat philosophy of good times will come with the rains. Some years the rains came and a false economy was pumped into the veins of the community giving a new lease on life. But the same old problem prevailed. The majority of the residents just didn't want to see change. Few people in the community realized that this is the 20th century where more progress has been made in the past 10 years than in the 5000 years of recorded history before this decade. Few people realized that one last gamble must be made to create incentive for industry and business to locate in the sleepy little village where the economy hurt. Oil continued to be developed in the direction in the county where there was no towns, but the companies were still not invited to come to the county seat.

Many people still were of the opinion that a large payroll from the courthouse would circulate in the community, but few stopped to realize that the majority of the employees did not live in the home town.

No contractor was encouraged to build modern economical dwellings to encourage new faces to move into the community. Many people said there is adequate housing for the people who live here and just think, a half a dozen new homes have been built in the past six months. Our city is growing again.

The politics in the county became a cess pool which needed to be met with all the vigor that could be amassed. Sectionalism divided the county, and this needed to be overcome, and the people in the agricultural area needed to work closely with the sagging economy of the newer industrial community in order to help the whole county. The tax payers supported larger budgets, and dug deeper into their pockets for money which was not there.

The final chapter to this story has not been written. We are hopeful that history will be a lesson to that community, and that the residents will work in harmony and will cure the ills of their community. We hope that it will be realized that any community is measured by the people who inhabit it. What is the name of this community? What is the name of this town and where is it located? The name doesn't really matter, because if the story is true and the people realize it, change is certain to come and the residents can look at each other square in the eye and proudly say with that certainty of their forefathers that good times are here to stay.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The question is often asked as to just how deeply dyed in socialism is the present leadership of unions.

This question was discussed in depth recently in an article in one of the nation's most respected and erudite magazines.

It was pointed out that the failure of many of the major transportation unions quite frequently advocated nationalization of transportation, principally the railroads.

Every time the unions fail to secure concessions from railroad management for higher pay, requirements to keep on the payroll unneeded workers, or some other point, pronouncements are issued that the only solution to the problem is for government ownership of transportation. Of course the problem is merely the problem of the union leaders.

Thus, the article leaves as a question mark clarification of intent. Are these labor leaders actually committed to national socialism, or do they talk in this manner attempting to blackmail management.

If it is the former, there then needs to be a widespread public recognition of the fact that leadership of American labor has veered away from the principles of Samuel Gompers and have become instead the leadership of an American socialistic party, well financed by compulsory payment of dues.

On the other hand, if the advocacy of nationalization is merely an attempt to blackmail the labor leaders are playing a dangerous game which can bring the whole structure tumbling down.

Recently in the current investigation of food prices and the spread between the price the farmer receives and the consumer pays, some interesting facts came out. Among them was testimony by Western potato growers that it cost practically as much freight to the east coast as it does to grow, harvest and pack potatoes.

This can promote any question. Why does it cost so much to ship food?

Over the years, both by strike action, and also getting special laws passed, labor has pretty much put transportation management in handcuffs.

It is difficult to tell any management how to operate, then expect efficient management. When either labor, or government, or both, assume in any industry, management prerogatives, there is bound to be chaos. Too many cooks spoiling the broth perhaps is even more true when two of the cooks are not cooks but inexperienced bureaucrats from labor and government.

If the public is dissatisfied with transportation, and there is room for dissatisfaction, the public should stand up on its hind legs and demand that management be completely unshackled and given the opportunity to prove that it can, without interference, deliver a more efficient service. After all, one doesn't hobble a horse to win the Kentucky derby.

Just Thinking

Mary Faulkner Payne

A local woman who just completed a driver's test told me that she did so poorly that she's even barred from using a shopping cart.

JAMA says: "It wouldn't be bad if civilization were only at the cross-roads, but this is one of those cloverleaf jobs."

Education is something that comes from the home as well as from the school. If sometimes and at certain points there is a lack of interest or apathy in the school, it is unfair to lay the entire blame on the school for the attitude of the child toward learning and things of the mind, is conditioned by the atmosphere of the home and the parents.

Sleep is something that always assumes much more importance in morning after than it did the night before.

July 9th, 47,500 workers in the giant Volkswagen factory in Wolfsburg Germany, took off on a three weeks paid vacation. The plant shut down and the town took on the appearance of a ghost town. Joining the workers from Wolfsburg were 45,000 employees of VW's other factories in 4 other towns in Germany.

Needless to say these factories will not have strikes pestering them, since they suspend their entire operations to allow their workers three weeks to play and to vacation with their salaries going on as they always do.

VW plants in Germany produce at the present time 6,400 vehicles daily and the Wolfsburg plant produces nearly 5000 a day.

Of the many fine doctors, whose work with my health problem, has contributed to solving it and whose skill called forth my profound admiration at Anderson, one was most outstanding and that one was Dr. Fuller, Canadian and Canadian educated Medic.

Because Dr. Fuller is a woman, my pride in my sex was intensely gratified, due to her outstanding skill and achievements.

She wears her white coat of a medico with authority and dignity and even contributes to this symbol by giving it additional dignity and authority with her evident knowledge and skill in the profession, and her attitude of interest and dedication.

With her manifold duties and heavy responsibilities she loses not a whit of her feminine identity.

It was always a pleasure to see this beautiful and charming lady doctor with her white coat covering neatly attractive dresses or suits, always with a fine touch of style and enough frill and softness to make you know that she is proud of her sex.

In paying a tribute to this fine lady doctor I must also mention the wonderful operators and aides of the super-voltage department, for each one was not only highly skilled but treated the patients to this rather frightening experience with all kindness and interest.

And of course a joke must be included regarding doctors, following the above tribute to one of the best.

The story goes that my friend Caledonia says she has finally figured out what the doctor's scribbling on the prescription blank means.

She says it is a message for the druggist saying: "I got my five dollars, now he's all yours."

THIS IS AN OLD ONE BUT WORTH REPEATING.

Two frogs fell into a deep cream bowl, one was an optimistic soul, but the other took the gloomy view, "We shall drown," he cried without more ado!

So with a last despairing cry, he flung up his legs and he said, "Goodby."

Quoth the other frog with a merry grin, "I can't get out, but I won't give in."

"I'll just swim around till my strength is spent, then I will die the more content!"

Bravely he swam till it would seem, his struggles began to churn the cream!

On the top of the butter at last he stopped, and out of the bowl he gaily hopped!

What is the moral? 'Tis easily found: If you can't hop out, keep swimming round!

Author Unknown.

"The tradition of the Kookie (or Kooks) respecting their origin is that they and the Mugs are offsprings of the same progenitor, who had two sons by different mothers.

The Mugs, it is said, are the descendants of the eldest and the Kookies of the youngest son.

The tradition of their origin receives much support from the great similarity of the Mugs and Kookie languages, many words of which are exactly the same, and their resemblance is such that a Mug and a Kookie can make themselves understood to each other.

McGinty - Cayce Vows Read

A double ring ceremony read at 7:00 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church of Plains united in marriage Miss Sylvia Louise McGinty and Richard R. Cayce, The Rev. Johnnie Moore of the First Christian Church, in Slaton, Texas, officiated at the vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McGinty of Plains, Texas, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cayce of Sweetwater, Texas.

The double ring ceremony was read before an altar decorated with white and blue flowers. Candelabras were on each side of the archway and were entwined with white flowers and greenery. The pews of the center section of the church were marked with white ribbons.

Wedding music was provided by Mr. Gene Young. He accompanied Mrs. Johnnie Moore who sang "Whither Thou Goest", and Mrs. Sid Wade who sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory satin and Chantilly lace. The bodice of lace over satin featured sheer petal point sleeves and a scalloped neckline. The skirt was designed with a controlled flat front and bouffant back. The dress was made with a wide lace chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a crown tiara of pearls and rhinestones.

Mrs. Cayce carried a bouquet of French Carnations centered with a white orchid on a bible. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls.

Miss Brenda Blair was her Maid of Honor. She wore a street length blue brocade satin dress which featured a bell skirt and scoop neckline. Her headpiece was of blue brocade with a short veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of carnations.

Candlelighters were Alton Earl McGinty, brother of the bride and Mike Cayce nephew of the groom. The ring bearer was Miss Paris Ann Cayce, niece of the groom. Kathleen McGinty, sister of the bride, was flower girl. The girls wore identical dresses of blue crepe trimmed with lace. Their circular headpieces were trimmed with short veils of French illusion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cayce were hosts for a reception immediately following the ceremony. The reception table carried out the blue and white colors of the bride. Registering guests for the wedding and the reception was Miss Sarah Kay Field. Assisting in the serving of the reception were Mrs. Marsha Hyde of Midland, and Miss Linda Blair of Plains.

The bride wore a blue knit dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage when the couple departed for their wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico.

The couple will reside in Dallas, Texas where Mr. Cayce will attend the Gumpton Jones College of Mortuary.

TRADE AT HOME

Plant the Seed where you expect to Reap

IT'S what you might call a commonly recognized agricultural principle that if you want to do your harvesting on a particular piece of ground, that's the place to sow your seed.

Using the same general type of reasoning, it is obvious that if you want to harvest a nice crop of prosperity . . . in the form of better business, a better job, a better community in which to live . . . it's advisable to plant your trade dollars where they will produce growth for you, rather than for somebody else.

The homes we live in . . . the jobs and businesses which support us . . . the schools and churches that teach our children and enrich our lives . . . the convenient stores and service establishments that supply our everyday and emergency needs . . . none of these were built, nor are they supported by the dollars that are spent in some other community or city.

OIL (cont. from page 1)

A total of 1,057,000 feet of hole were drilled -- 909,000 for development wells and 148,000 for wildcats.

In addition to local school and county property taxes by oil and gas operators, taxes on production from Yoakum County flowed into the State Treasury at the rate of about $2 million a year.

An upgrading of the county's gross economic output is contributed by the operation of 2 plants which can process some 171 million cubic feet of natural gas a day to remove liquids such as butane and propane.

Garden News

Plains Garden Club members, along with 400,000 other garden club members over the nation, are spending long hours this summer of 1965 working in the many activities garden club members have pledged to support.

To name a few: Preservation of our many natural resources, protection of our endowed beauty; human rehabilitation through garden therapy; investment in the future through work with our youth; and education and scientific research to keep abreast of horticultural developments.

A necessity that enables these activities to function is a well planned yearbook that meets the needs of an individual club.

The yearbook committee of the Plains Garden Club proudly presents to the members of the 1965-66 yearbook with a theme entitled "Know Your Garden". It includes a major study with 5 programs devoted to landscaping for home grounds with additional programs on conservation of a natural resource, Christmas lighting, community service, civic beautification and flower arranging.

The years work is scheduled to begin on September 11th with Mrs. John Banta and Mrs. Charnell Jobe of Lamesa, Nationally Accredited Amateur Flower Show Judges conducting a flower arranging workshop that will stress "Design".

Other interesting features planned include the Annual Flower Show in October, pilgrimages to inspect well planned gardens, a 5 minute report each meeting of national or state information and 5 minute period each meeting on some phase of flower arranging.

Some other activities scheduled include assisting Texas Lighthouse for the Blind with Christmas Wrap Project, sponsoring "Operation Christmas Card" (money usually spent for local Christmas Greetings to be used to improve local Cemetery plantings; Decorate local Convalescent Home for Christmas Holidays; Observance of Texas Arbor Day by planting a tree in a public place; Plant flowers and shrubs at local convalescent home and Cemetery; Sponsor Spring Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Week; Assist with community Annual "Operation Santa Clause" Parade and Annual Old Settler's Reunion and Rodeo Parade in summer.

Any resident interested in the improvement of their home, family, community, state and nation or adding to their personal education and improvement should contact some garden club member, or better still, make it a point to attend this first meeting on September 11th.

Members of the 1965-1966 Yearbook Committee are Mrs. Robert White, Chr., Mrs. Eddie Taylor and Mrs. Bill Overton.

★★★★ YOAKUM S C D NEWS ★★★★★

BY SONIA PIPPIN

Cover crops seem to be the main topic of conversation in the Yoakum SCD this week.

Local farmers fortunate enough to get the good rains the last two weeks have planted their cover crops or will be planting between now and the first of September.

Rye, wheat and millet seem to be very popular small grains that are being planted on diverted acres especially on dry land.

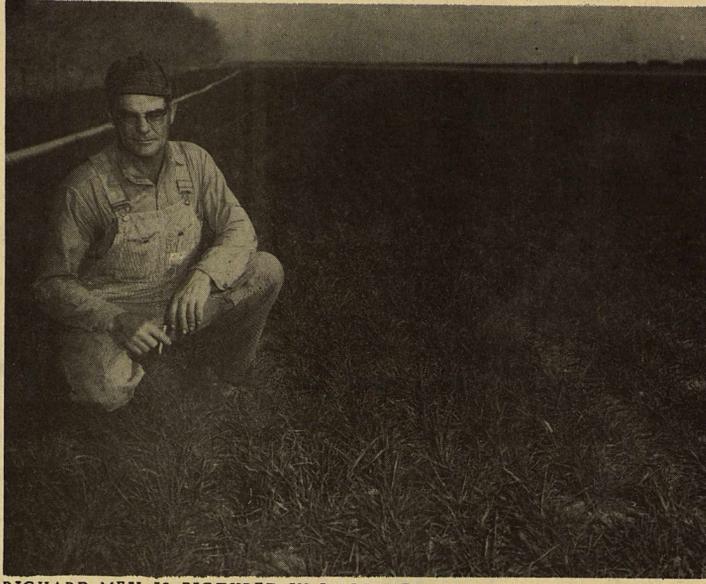

Some local farmers that have planted or are in the process of planting small grain for cover are: Alex Cross, Tom Warren, Wallace Randolph, E. C. Hatton, J. B. Ashburn, Truett Jones and Foye Powell. Many others will be planting between now and the first of September.

Generally the earlier that we get the cover crops planted the more growth they will make before the cold weather retards their growth. A good cover next spring, living or dead, will be one of the determining factors of the amount of wind erosion that we will have next spring during the critical wind erosion period.

Carolyn and Andy, children of Mr. & Mrs. Harry Richardson, are spending two weeks with their grandparents, Mr. & Mrs. C. D. Andrews of Lorenzo. They will accompany their grandparents on their vacation. Plans are to go to points of interest in Texas.

Mr. Johnny Beck, of Palestine, Texas, visited in the O. A. Pippin home, Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Beck is Mrs. Pippin's brother.

Mr. & Mrs. Joe Richardson and children visited in the Harry Richardson home last Thursday afternoon. Harry and Joe are brothers.
