OUR 36TH YEAR FEBRUARY 3, 1966 NUMBER 5

Junior Livestock Show & Sale

The 1966 Junior Fat Stock Show will be judged by Mr. L. M. Hargrave, Professor of Agricultural Education at Texas Tech. Mr. Hargrave has been working with county, district and state shows for many years. He has served as superintendent of the barrow show at such shows as the State Fair of Texas and the San Antonio Livestock Exposition. During the past years we have not been able to get him to judge the local show because of a conflict in dates with the San Antonio Show.

Mr. Clarence "Hank" Matthews, formerly of Anton but now living in Levelland, will be here again to auction the animals for the fourteenth consecutive year. He missed the first part of one sale a few years ago but he agreed to be on time this year and stated in his recent letter to the directors that he considered the Yoakum County Show as a homecoming event for him.

The Young Farmers Organization in Yoakum County have been very active in helping with the show and sale. Members of that organization serve as superintendents of the show and some of them are serving as directors of the sponsoring association. Tommy Barron will serve as the general superintendent again this year. Alex Cross is the beef calf superintendent, Jerome Head is superintendent of the barrow division and Roy McGehee is the lamb superintendent.

Plains Cagers Trounce Wink And Seagraves To Hold Lead

The Seagraves Eagles and the Wink Wildcats fell victim to a strong Plains Cowboy basketball team in the past two games to extend the Poke's winning streak to five games. The Cowboys remained on the top of the District 5 A standings by a percentage point and more and more the interest is building for the second encounter with the Stanton Buffs February 11 at Stanton. The Cowboys defeated the Stanton team for their only district loss, but were defeated themselves by Seagraves in the first meeting with the Eagles.

Water Hearing Held in Lamesa

A public hearing was conducted yesterday in Lamesa by the Water Rights Commission for the state of Texas for the proposed formation of the South Plains Water Conservation District No. 4, which includes parts of Yoakum, Gaines, Terry, Lynn, Cochran, Dawson, and Andrews Counties.

Counties have also supported the plan. The proposed water district would come under local control, and would be governed by a board of directors which would be elected.

Mayor Tells Police Policy

Bonner Havard, the City Night watchman is called upon to perform more than just a Watchman's chores, said Kenneth Hale, Plains Mayor. He not only makes continuous rounds of all business places both within and outside of the city limits but he makes periodic runs throughout the residential sections of our city. He checks business places to see that they are properly locked and that strange cars are not cruising around in the unlighted sections of town.

down vandalism which we seldom have. On top of the above mentioned duties Mr. Havard has been authorized by the City Council to perform all duties as a City Policeman or Law Officer. This was brought about because during the hours that Mr. Havard is on duty there is no other officer available or on duty. There are many laws broken such as speeding, running stop signs, stopping wanted automobiles or persons and many other crimes that comes under the jurisdiction or authority of a Law Enforcement Officer.

Drag Races Set

The auto races are scheduled to get underway at 1:00 p. m., M. S. T. at Chiroteers Drag Way at Air Base City, Hobbs, New Mexico, next Sunday afternoon. Top performers are slated to be in the event, said Cotton Rayburn, president of the association.

State Officer Explains New Draft Rule Changes

Men who receive orders from draft boards to report for armed forces service will no longer have their orders cancelled if they subsequently join reserve or national guard units. This change in draft policy was announced Tuesday by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director.

"I recommend that you revise your Selective Service procedures to restrict cancellation of induction orders by your draft boards to individuals who have been accepted for regular enlistments."

The February quota for induction will be filled with single and childless married men, 19 through 25 years old, and volunteers who have not attained the age of 26. No married man with children or an expected child, will be selected to fill the February call.

Tax Man Sam

A few years ago Internal Revenue reported that taxpayers were not paying several billion dollars in income taxes they owed on interest and dividend income. Most of us are reporting our dividend and interest income nowadays. It's a good idea to check your interest and dividend income before you file that 1965 federal tax return. Even the Savings & Loan Association dividends are taxable. A payment on time could keep the tax man from your door.

Fireman Banquet Set Saturday

Plains Volunteer Firemen and their ladies will meet at eight p. m. Saturday night at Alma's for their annual firemen awards banquet. At the annual banquet the outstanding fireman of the year will be named and presented with a plaque. The results of the Fireman of the year will remain secret until the presentation at the banquet. Bear Paw Watson was named the outstanding fireman last year.

Buddy Wade

Buddy Wade Gets Appointment

Buddy Wade, son of Mr. & Mrs. Sid Wade, Plains, has been accepted as a candidate to attend State Police School in Austin. Wade will leave Plains within the next few days to commence his training.

Buddy received word last week that he had been accepted and that the school will start this month. He has completed his examinations and interviews and will be enrolled directly into the State Police School.

Farmer Union Prexy to Speak

Jay Naman, President of The Texas Farmers Union will speak at a breakfast for all members of Yoakum County Farmer's Union, Friday, February 4, at 8:00 A. M. in Alma's Restaurant.

Due to inclement weather and illness of members, the turnout was less than expected at the meeting, Monday, January 24. However, many current topics were discussed and games of 42 were enjoyed by all in attendance.

Editor Interviews U.S. Senator

U. S. Senator John Tower in an interview with the editor of The Plains Record last Friday stated that he is hopeful that the forces behind the opposition to block legislation which would prohibit Right to Work Laws in the several states will be victorious in their legislative battle. Sen. Tower presented the main speech in congress yesterday concerning the matter. The Texas solon stated that he believes that Union membership should be optional and not a requirement.

Senator Tower was extended an invitation to speak at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet in Plains and said that he would enjoy speaking here if his schedule is clear. Correspondence is now in the process of issuing a formal invitation for the Texas senator to be the principal speaker.

Sheriff Reports Capture of Forger

Sheriff Olan Heath reported that the number one wanted criminal from Yoakum County has been arrested and is being lodged in an Alabama jail awaiting transportation to Yoakum County. The accused felon is Robert Lee Nokes.

The Sheriff said that the prisoner will be brought to Yoakum County in custody to await trial. Nokes was indicted by a county grand jury in June of 1964 and has been on the wanted list since that time. Sheriff Heath said that he or one of the deputies would go to Birmingham and bring the man to Plains to await trial on the felony charges.

Sen. Tower Reports Legislative Plans for Congressional Session

This wild, inflationary spending spree must be stopped. In just five years our government has gone in the RED by more than the TOTAL of government expenses during World War I or during the entire "New Deal" of 1933-38. Americans are paying at their supermarkets and banks every day for the fiscal folly of the federal government. If we don't call a halt immediately, our already 85-cent dollar will soon be a 50-cent dollar.

Freedom to work as long as he satisfies his employer through honest effort; Freedom from the agony of being called upon the carpet by union bosses and told how he is to perform off his job as well as on his job; Freedom from assessments for dues and political activities in support of candidates and issues he does not desire to support; Freedom to select his own representation in dealing with management; Freedom to work for a promotion without being hamstrung by arbitrarily set standards that breed mediocrity, stifle initiative, and delay promotion; This is what right to work means. It is the freedom to work as rapidly or as slowly as one wishes and to go the extra mile if desired in an effort to advance. It means the freedom to choose one's employer to secure a job, and to hold that job by virtue of one's own ability.

City Beautiful

Not long ago an eastern city banned the use of clotheslines in the front of houses. Although a rebellious home owner challenged the validity of the law, it was upheld in court.

Legal experts reacted vehemently, both pro and con. For the clothesline case touched on a sensitive issue: may a city restrict the use of private property for the purpose of beautifying the community?

The issue arises in countless ways. May the owners of roadside property be forbidden to erect billboards? May the owner of an unsightly junk yard be forced to enclose it with a fence? May a home owner be required to keep his premises from becoming an eyesore to the neighborhood?

Clearly the city may act for reasons of safety or health. It may insist, out of regard for your neighbors' welfare, that your home must not become a firetrap or a source of disease.

But the law long looked askance at regulations that were even partly motivated by considerations of beauty. Safety and health were considered matters of necessity, but beauty only a matter of luxury—not urgent enough to justify government tampering with private property rights.

Besides, it is relatively easy to agree on what is safe and what is healthful. But what is beautiful? If the city could regulate in the name of beauty, couldn't it—for example—tell a home owner what color to paint his house? Where to plant his shrubbery? As one judge put it:

"Individual taste, good or bad, should ordinarily be let alone by government."

Nevertheless, there has been a gradual trend toward letting aesthetics play a larger role in municipal regulation. Beauty, if not yet as necessary as safety or health, is at least considered more necessary than it used to be.

"Our sensibilities have become more refined and our ideals more exacting," wrote one court. And "an eyesore in a neighborhood of residences might be as ruinous to property values as a disagreeable noise, or odor, or a menace to safety or health."

States differ as to just how large the role of beautification may be. But they do agree that it may carry some weight.

"Beauty may not be queen," a judge observed, "but at least it is no longer an outcast, beyond the pale of protection."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Plains Record
% General Delivery
Plains, Texas
Dear Sir:

I would like to express my thanks to you for putting my name in the paper on the Christmas Card address for Plains Service Men. I was coming from Vietnam. We had been to DeNag and the South China Sea delivering food and stores to the fleet. I received the cards in Sasebo and Tokio Japan. I would appreciate it very much if you would put a card of thanks to all of the people who did this. They do not realize how much it means to know the people are behind you while you are trying to serve your country for the freedom of mankind.

From myself and the other thousands of Service men serving overseas, especially around Vietnam, we thank you very much for the cards and support you have given us.

I know the people of Plains have always taken an interest and tried to help the young people who come from there.

Burton L. Tingle
Seaman U. S. Navy

Dear Editor:
I wish to express my appreciation to you and the fine people of Plains who took time out of their busy Christmas Season to think of all of the Service men serving in out Armed Forces with a card at Christmas.

It lifted our moral to know that the people at home had not forgotten about us.

I want to thank everyone who was so kind and thought to send me all the nice cards and letters.

Thank you,
Willie Don Hinkle

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

In many areas of these United States the first of the year becomes a time of caution.

This is due to the fact that sometime in the first quarter of the year there falls a date on which the inventory of a business is valued for inventory tax purposes. Therefore, to keep this tax low, the idea is to avoid purchasing anything not absolutely necessary to keep the doors open during this period.

C. W. Harder

The nation's independent business proprietors, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have asked for elimination of this tax which keeps salesmen idle, reduces the use of transportation facilities, disrupts a normal marketing pattern.

In addition, of recent years, this sort of tax has become even more disruptive because so much of the goods in stock are not owned, but are owed for either through some floor plan of financing, or through loans. Thus, the tax is levied on liabilities.

Perhaps the principle can best be illustrated by the local independent hardware.

To properly serve the community, the hardware store must carry a heavy stock of items that move slowly. Many of the big chain operations handling hardware items will let the stock diminish merely shrug shoulders if out of certain National Federation of Independent Business

PLAINS LODGE NO. 1261

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

The pleasures of winter camping are manifold, and the technique is a bit different from that of warm-weather camping. But not too different. Just different enough to be interesting. There are many long weekends and holiday periods during the colder season! A few advantages (over summer) are that pests such as insects and reptiles are no bother. There is little competition for camping space — which is something to consider these days, particularly at the height of the season.

The family tent, no matter what kind it is — provided it's large enough — is suitable for family camping in winter. The umbrella type, and that general category, should be commodious — and it should be enhanced with a couple of the new, safe catalytic heaters. "The petroleum-fueled lanterns and stoves should not be used inside an unventilated tent," stresses John Jobson, Camping Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. There are those who prefer a tent especially suitable for cold-weather camping. One of the best is the ancient, reliable A-wall. Many old-timers like this type with about a 10- or 12-inch sod cloth sewn around the lower inside perimeter. This folds out flat on the ground inside the tent. A tarp is spread inside, running over the sod strip. Thus the tent is draft-free. A removable tarp is ever so much easier to keep clean and dry than is a sewn-in floor. The A-wall should have a wood-burning shepherd stove, with metal-ash-traps to ring for the stovepipe. You can cook with it, but other advantages are: a clean, non-toxic warmth; meals without grease congealing before your very eyes; the fact that clothing and bedding can be dried in inclement weather.

A person must have a warm place to eat—whether it's inside a tent or near a cheery campfire. Scarcely anything is more miserable afield than eating cold food when you want it hot. Campfires, by the way, should be a bit larger in winter than in summer, for obvious reasons.

CAYCE'S CORNER

It was most encouraging indeed to receive letters from some of the service men who had received Christmas cards as a result of their names being run in the local Headache at Christmas time. The response was exceptional and we want to thank our readers for sending the boys a Christmas card. Having spent two Christmas seasons in Korea, I know what it means to realize that people back home really do care what happens and that they are still thinking of the boys who are in the armed forces. We sent each serviceman a free subscription to The Record.

When I talked to Sen. Tower the other day, I told him that the last time I saw him was in Dallas at the Sheraton-Dallas coffee shop eating a bowl of chili. Sure enough, he was eating his chili this time. When in northern New Mexico my Mexican amigos used to tell me that chili was good for the stomach, and that few chili eaters ever had ulcers. Do you suppose that the reason Senator Tower spoons down the chili is because it is an election year? If my Mexican friends are right, then the price of chili should go up with all of the politicians running pell mell before the primary. Do you suppose we could float a small business loan from the government to put in a chili parlor under the health and welfare clause in the law.

Last week after the big man hunt, I asked Sheriff Heath if he used blood hounds to track down the fugitive, and he replied that the only blood hounds used were himself and a deputy.

Berl Snider has sold her interest in the Denver City Press to her late husband's brother and will no longer write "Over the Coffee Cup." We will miss Berl's column and want to thank her for the fine cooperation and friendly attitude that she showed to the gang at The Record. We also want to extend our welcome to the new publisher of the Denver City Press and to tell him that we are looking forward to a good association with him like we enjoyed with Berl.

Alf Carpenter recently returned from Old Mexico where he said that he caught the big ones on his fishing trip. When asked how many pounds he brought home, Alf gave out with a well rehearsed answer that friends took the fish to keep in a deep freeze for him. It looks like he could have said that the big ones all got away. If you want to hear a good fish story, just ask Alf if he already hasn't told you, and I'll bet he can tell a whopper.

Yesterday was Groundhog Day. Do you really suppose that we will get six more weeks of weather?

Note: What would you add to the above description of a "Recet for Yeater-Year's Washday"? Send to Uncle Zeb, care of this paper.

Uncle Fudge says his pastor realizes his responsibility to minister to his members who become dead enough to bury. . . . The ones that has him up a gum tree are the dead ones still up walking around.

The other day one of the news commentators said that if all the money in the United States were divided up equally to all its citizens we would each have one hundred and seventy six dollars. Just enough for one month's payment on the house and car. . . . This shocked me, but when a few days later someone claimed that all poverty could be wiped out in the United States and even to the four corners of the earth, we were really flabber-gasted. . . . We read someplace that—"The poor ye will have with you always." I guess that was meant for the poor countries that didn't act nice and pay lots of taxes.

Some folks spend so much time just looking for a chance to help others that they don't have any time left to help others.

A go-getter is a fellow who can get someone else to do what he ought to be doing.

Being poor may not be so bad after all. . . . This may be the one thing that keeps many of us from acting like rich folks. . . .

"An army travels on its stomach," according to an old saying. During the Civil War, soldiers of many army battalions filled their stomachs with sweet potatoes when other food supplies were lacking. They found these vegetables completely satisfactory so far as flavor was concerned. And sweet potatoes provided plenty of energy for marching and fighting.

Sweetpotatoes are very well balanced so far as nourishments is concerned, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They provide an abundance of energy, protein and minerals. Sweetpotatoes are unusually rich in vitamin A and contain important amounts of vitamin C.

Sweetpotato production during 1965 amounted to around 1.8 billion pounds, about a 17 percent increase over the previous year. The large crop is the reason sweetpotatoes are in such abundant supply at markets now.

Try Scalloped Sweetpotatoes and Oranges. Oranges are another plentiful food reported by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. You'll need 2 medium-sized, cooked sweetpotatoes, peeled and sliced; 1 large peeled and sliced orange, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, salt, 2 tablespoons fat and 1/3 cup orange juice.

Place a layer of sweetpotatoes in a greased baking dish, add a layer of orange slices, sprinkle with orange rind, salt and sugar, and dot with fat. Repeat until all ingredients are used. Pour orange juice over the top. Cover dish, and bake at 350° for 45 minutes to 1 hour. Makes 4 servings.

For Fried Sweetpotatoes, Country Style, pare and slice enough raw sweetpotatoes to make 1 quart. Put in a hot frying pan with 2 tablespoons of melted fat. Cover closely, and cook over low heat 10 to 15 minutes, or until browned on the bottom.

Turn and brown on the other side. If desired, brown a little chopped onion in the fat before adding the sweetpotatoes. Makes six servings.

Nelda Loyd hosted a "Come as You Are" coffee Tuesday morning in her home. As the picture tells the story no more need be said.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER DEATH?

In a few score years, all who read our lives on this earth. these lines will have vanished from the earth. Death does not bring merely long, unconscious slumber, but Every day, almost a hundred rather a quick awakening to the thousand human beings finish their irrevocable judgment of our earthly span and pass off into the hereafter. Nor does it bring us a second vast beyond. Our turn will come we chance to prove ourselves or to all know, but when, where and how amend our erring ways. In our own we cannot be sure. hands rests the opportunity... and

No merely human being ever has upon our own heads the responsibility to look into eternity and ability... to determine if death tell us what it is like. No scientific shall be the threshold to everlasting knowledge or instruments can life among the blessed, or among pierce the curtain that divides this the lost.

Men blessed by youth and good health often feel that death for them is far away—something to be worried about only in the twilight years. Some scoff at the suggestion that an everlasting hell could be permitted by a merciful God. Others seem to think that God will treat them kindly if they live reasonably moral lives, even though they pay Him no special honor which is His due.

If you would like more information on Heaven, Hell, Purgatory, the end of the world and the resurrection and judgment of all men to the important questions raised... we shall be happy to send you an interesting pamphlet, in a plain wrapper. And nobody will call on you. Write today for your copy of Pamphlet No. KC-14.

Man's life in this world, the Church tells us, is a preparation for the world to come... a testing-time which ends with our death. What happens "after that depends" on whether death finds us loyal to God, or opposed to Him and the way He expects us to live. "... it is appointed unto men once to die and after this the judgment" (Heb. 9:27).

Christ gave us (Matt. 25:31-46) a description of God's judgment which leaves no room for doubt that our worthiness of everlasting reward will be judged solely according to the way we have lived!

Something New This Year?

Go On A Wintertime Baking Spree!

Let's start the year off with something different from Mom's kitchen, a "winter bread baking spree."

What could be a better answer than the taste-tempting aroma of fresh home-baked coffee breads to bring Dad and the youngsters indoors and make your kitchen the center of family activity?

The KitchenAid test kitchens have developed a basic recipe for coffee breads for their K-45 food preparer that will delight the entire family — Dad and youngsters alike.

Here, for the answer to the perfect treat after an afternoon of outdoor activity, or for evening when company comes, is that special and different family treat.

Once you have your sweet dough, you can use your imagination and develop a number of special coffee breads with the addition of jams, marmalades, preserves, dried fruits or nuts. Make the entire recipe at one time for a large crowd, or bake a portion and freeze the rest for use later. From here on you create your own recipe.

SWEET DOUGH
1/4 cups milk, scalded
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup sugar
2 packages active dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water (not hot 110°-115°F)
2 eggs
6 1/2 cups sifted flour

Combine milk, butter or margarine, salt and sugar in mixer bowl; cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in warm water. Add yeast mixture, eggs and 3 cups of flour to bowl. Attach bowl and dough hook. Beat at speed "2" 1 minute, increase speed to "4" and beat 3 minutes. Stop motor, add remaining flour. Beat at speed "4" 2 minutes. Shape into a ball on a lightly floured board. Place in buttered bowl; cover dough and set in warm draftless area to double in size. Turn dough onto lightly floured board; cut into 3 equal portions. Make one into Pecan Raisin Whirls, another into Kolache and a third into any variety of coffee cakes.

Our Soil, Our Land!

YOAKUM SCD NEWS BY C. MURRELL THOMPSON

Cropresidue management, cover crops and mulching with cotton burs is now showing up through out the district. It seemed a little early and really many thought it was a longtime before the dust would be blowing but we know now it can happen here.

How much does a dust storm cost and who is damaged from it? Most of us think first of the land but we must also remember what happens to livestock, equipment, buildings, lots and people. There is always an increase in the sale of medication for respiratory ailments following a dust storm, some times as much as 100 to 150% increase.

What can we do about dust storms, well not much if we wait until they start but we can plan now to provide cover, residue or supplement these with tillage and mulching to release a large part of the erosion. Of course we will not completely stop all dust but we can reduce the effect on thousands of acres and lessen the cost, suffering and discomforts.

Some of the latest to use cotton burs as a means of erosion control and water conservation are Earl Kiser, Garland Swann, T. J. Bearden, Cisco Farm, R. S. Faulkenberry, A. N. Norman, Jr., A. O. Bearden, Bill Gray, T. A. Elmore and R. C. Trout just to name a few.

New Conservation plans were completed this week and mailed to the area office on the A. O. Bearden farm, East of Plains, revision on W. R.

CRIED ALICE'S QUEEN.

The King, the Queen and the executioner were present. Alice and the prisoners, too, of course, but these were all. No jury, no public, no publicity.

No newspaper reporters.

In Alice's Wonderland even applause was "immediately suppressed by the officers of the court."

Not so in America.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right of a public trial, says Article the Sixth of the Bill of Rights of the Constitution of the United States.

So people may know, newspapers must report these trials.

This is not freedom of the press. This is responsibility of the press.

Newspapers have no extraordinary rights.

People do.

Men have the right to a public trial and the right to know what happens in courtrooms. These are rights written into the Constitution and affirmed by the Supreme Court in 1829 when Mr. Justice Bagley wrote: "It is one of the essential qualities of a court of justice that its proceedings should be public."

If people are to know the truth the newspaper must report the news.

Mrs. Foy Cogburn reported the Club's participation in "Operation Santa Clause" and also the erection of a Christmas tree for residents at the Plains Memorial Convalescent Center.

Announcement was made that the Annual Arbor Day observance would be postponed to a later date of more suitable weather for planting.

Sen Blanchard Announces Home Club For Re-Election

DOC BLANCHARD

Senator H. J. "Doc" Blanchard of Lubbock, recently announced for re-election as State Senator from the 28th Senatorial District.

The newly enlarged district is made up of Andrews, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Gaines, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Terry, Yoakum, Ward and Winkler Counties.

Senator Blanchard served as a member of the House of Representatives in 1957-1960 where he served on all major house committees and received recognition for his service on House Investigating Committees that exposed Ben Jack Cage, Crime and Official Misconduct in Amarillo and Randall County and later the Crime and Vice in Port Arthur and Jefferson County.

Senator Blanchard was elected to the Senate in 1962 and was thereafter the first freshman Senator to be appointed Chairman of a major Senate Committee. He was also appointed to 13 major committees, the largest number in history for a freshman Senator. Re-elected in 1964, Blanchard served as Chairman of the powerful Insurance Committee and served on Finance, Jurisprudence, Oil and Gas, Transportation and Labor.

Senator Blanchard was chief proponent of numerous major pieces of legislation, including:

- (A) A School for the mentally retarded in West Texas.
- (B) Tuberculosis Eradication Act.
- (C) Law School at Texas Tech.
- (D) Medical School at Texas Tech.
- (E) New District Court in Lubbock.
- (F) A hospital district for Terry County.

Blanchard was active in securing funds for all colleges and universities, teacher's salaries, public employees, cotton research, boll weevil control and the construction of the new school for mentally retarded.

Senator Blanchard and his wife, Mary, have one daughter and four sons, and live at 4903 W. 17th Place in Lubbock. He is active in several civic and fraternal organizations. He is a graduate of Texas Tech and SMU and is a practicing lawyer in Lubbock.

In announcing for re-election, Blanchard made the following statement:

"I have been privileged to serve the people of the 28th Senatorial District for the past four years, and have enjoyed working with the fine people in our area to solve some of our problems. Reapportionment has given me the additional responsibility and privilege of also serving the people of Ward and Winkler Counties. This adds strength to our district because I have found these counties to be very progressive and full of fine people who are willing to work with the other counties to improve all of West Texas.

During the past four years, I have attempted to represent you in a manner that would bring credit to our district and our State. I have tried to vigorously represent our area and yet be mindful of the needs of other areas of our State.

I shall continue to represent West Texas and to make decisions in a manner that I feel you would make if you were called upon to make them. I sincerely hope that those decisions made in the past on matter of importance meet with your approval.

I turn often to the people for advice and guidance when a decision is far reaching and important, and the people have been generous with their advice and wise in their counsel, and for this, I am grateful.

I shall continue to be available to work with anyone in this district on matters which affect West Texas and its people. I shall be grateful for your continued support and for your vote on May 7, 1966."

We would like to take this means to express our sincere appreciation to our friends for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness and death of our loved one, Sherm Henard, and pray God's richest blessings upon each of you.

refrain from joining, or to resign my membership, should I believe the union was failing to represent my best interests."

"The real issues before us include personal freedom, the dignity of the individual, the diffusion of power within our federal-state system and the matter of who is better able to properly represent the people on personal issues of this issue, the state legislatures that are close to and readily accessible to the people, or the federal Congress."

"We should protect, not destroy, the principle of diffusion of power between the federal and state governments so carefully established by our forefathers in an effort to protect themselves and their descendants against the abuses, the miscarriages of justice, and the dangers that emanate from excessive powers in the central government. These founders of our nation had experienced harsh dealings at the hand of autocratic power and were determined through the diffusion approach to protect the American people against it. We must not destroy those safeguards."

"Any student of our government knows that great care was exercised by its creators to provide protection for the minorities, to protect their freedoms, their dignity, and their rights. We in this Congress have recently taken action to further implement this purpose. We should not now say to minorities of whatever nature that we will protect your freedoms, all except the right to work at your chosen skills in a plant of your choice. We should not say that you must join or pay tribute to a private organization selected to represent you by someone else, if you hope to exercise the inalienable right of earning a living for yourself and your family."

"Our government should not change from one base upon the principle of government 'of the people, by the people and for the people' to one based on the concept of government 'of favored few, by the favored few and for the favored few.' This proposed forcing of minorities to support private organizations created by majorities certainly would be a move in that direction."

up game during the last three minutes with a successful stall to put the frosting on the cake. The Cats are a respectable team having held Stanton to a one point victory earlier in the season.

Danny Smith garnered 24 points to lead Plains in the scoring column followed by Ronnie Elmore with 14, and Calvin Smith with 11 points. But it was team work which spelled a Poke victory as all but one team member scored. The Cowboys got 63 rebounds and 21 steals in the game. Ronnie Elmore made 51 rebounds followed by Jimmy Smith with 13 for his total.

The Cowboys shot a sound 44 percent from the floor and at half time had a 53 percent average.

The Plains B team downed the Cats 35-26 with Danny Field netting 13 points.
