OUR 36TH YEAR FEBRUARY 10, 1966 NUMBER 6

Murphy W. Luna Is Dead; County Mourns Pioneer

Murphy W. Luna, perhaps the best known and most respected citizen of Yoakum County died suddenly in Methodist Hospital Tuesday, February 8, in Lubbock after undergoing surgery recently. Mr. Luna's death shocked all of West Texas and the City of Plains was in a state of mourning upon learning of the pioneer rancher's death.

Mr. Luna was one of the most beloved citizens in the area and many people stated that the vacancy of the elder statesman of Yoakum County could never be filled. Mr. Luna was considered to be the leading authority on pioneer history of the county. Two old friends tearfully described Mr. Luna as the kindest man that they had ever known.

The prominent rancher is survived by his widow, the former Lillian Hurst, three children, Mrs. P. W. St. Romain; Mrs. Sherm Henard, and Mrs. Dallas Earl Powell. He had four grandchildren and two granddaughters.

Murphy W. Luna was born on the fourth of January, 1890, in Hunt County, Texas. At the time of his death he was 76 years old. His parents were W. J. and Mary S. Driver Luna, pioneer West Texas ranchers who first settled in the Panhandle near what is now Canyon, Texas. The Luna family moved to "Sulphur Draw" in 1905 and the elder Mr. Luna donated the townsite of Plains, and gave each voter a lot in the townsite. When Murphy Luna's mother died, she was the first person buried in the Plains Cemetery. Mr. Luna, senior, donated the land for the Yoakum County Cemetery. Mr. Luna served as the first Postmaster at Plains. Mr. Luna attended the schools of Canyon and Amarillo, Texas, and at an early age was in the saddle filling a man's job. He hauled lumber to build his ranch house from Plain view. He also traveled Sulphur Draw with his supplies and food in wagons drawn by teams from Big Spring, Texas. Mr. Luna built up his holdings and improved his land, becoming a large operator and extensive land owner. At the time of his death, Mr. Luna lived on his ranch west of Plains. He was active in ranching and his famous Flying L brand was an active symbol in cattle country.

Mr. Luna married Miss Lillian Hurst of Plains on May 5, 1909. They were the parents of three children; Icilla, the wife of Sherman Henard; Wilma, who married Dallas Earl Powell and has two children, Murphy Dallas and Ty Earl Powell; and Mary Jo, the wife of Pierre W. St. Romain, and they have four children, Jeanine, Sam Luna, Suzahn, and Joe St. Romain.

Murphy W. Luna was elected and served as Tax Assessor of Yoakum County for a period of six years and during World War Two he was a member of the Yoakum, Hockley, and Terry Counties draft board and served until his death. Mr. Luna, through his membership in the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn. took an active part in the progress of the livestock industry in the Southwest. He was also a member of the Plains Roping Club. The Plains rancher had been the treasurer of the Masonic Lodge for the past 25 years. He was active in the Lions Club, and was a member of the Plains Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Luna was a member of the Methodist Church. The local rancher was a Director of the Plains State Bank since the bank was founded. Mr. Luna was a Charter member of the Yoakum County Cemetery Association and was one of its most active members.

Barrett's Funeral Home of Plains, will be in charge of final arrangements.

The family of the late Mr. Luna has requested that if friends do not want to send flowers, that they would appreciate memorial donations for the Cemetery Association.

Luna Funeral Set Today

Funeral services have been set for Mr. M. W. Luna at 2:30 p. m. today in the Plains High School Auditorium. Rev. Walter Driver, pastor of The First Methodist Church, will conduct the services. Graveside rites will be conducted by members of the Masonic Lodge. Pallbearers will include: Johnny Kendrick, Lee York, Bill Loyd, Glen Moorehouse, Glen Cleveland, H. B. Horn, Homer Sudderth, Tom Warren, Garland Swann, and C. S. "Doc" McCargo. Honorary pallbearers include all friends of the late Mr. Luna, and all Master Masons of the Plains Lodge. Interment will follow the funeral services at the Yoakum County Cemetery in Plains. Barrett's Funeral Home of Plains is in charge of the final arrangements.

Gov. Sets Farm Bureau Week

Governor John Connally has designated February 7-12 as "Farm Bureau Membership Week" in Texas--the special period when thousands of voluntary membership workers will call on their neighbors asking them to enroll in Farm Bureau.

"Farming and ranching are essential to the economy of our state and nation," the Governor said in his official proclamation. "About 40 percent of all Texans receive their livelihood either directly or indirectly from agriculture," he added.

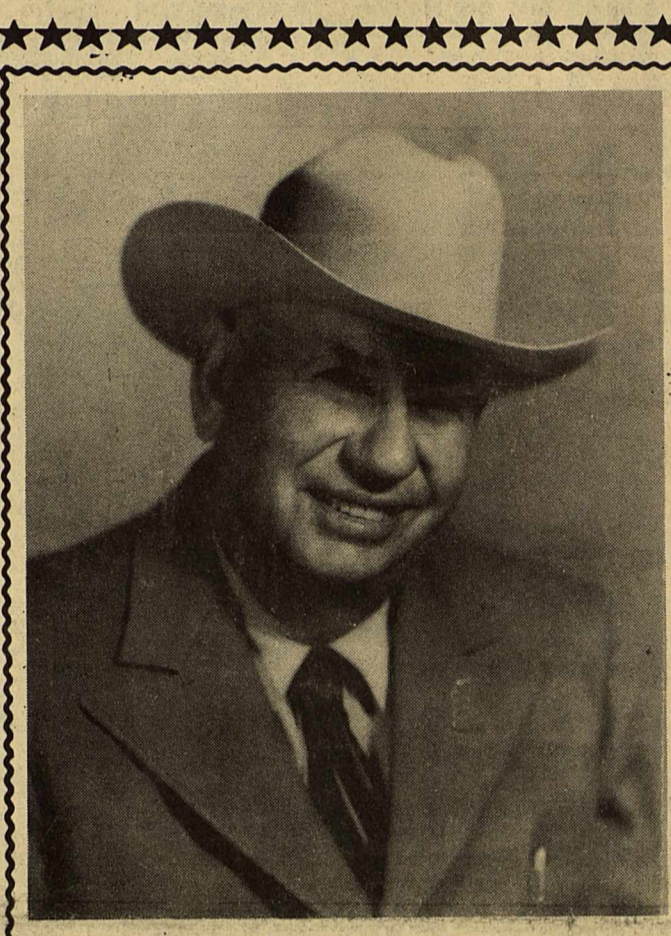

The Governor said the abundance of food and fiber, produced ever more efficiently, helps assure our citizens of the highest living standard in the world.

efforts and by democratic procedures," the Governor pointed out, "the farmers and ranchers of Texas have sought a voice in state affairs and have campaigned for improvements in the economy and government of Texas."

He said these organized groups recognize the necessity of having an informed, prosperous and organized agriculture in our state.

After designating the special week, the Governor, in his proclamation, urged "our citizens to cooperate in the recognition and observance of this week in an effort to publicize this important phase of our Texas life."

The Texas Farm Bureau now has a membership of 95,204 and has a goal of 100,500 by October 31, end of the organization's membership year.

Murphy W. Luna

Call In The Saddle An Editorial

Murphy Luna is gone, but his thoughts and deeds will live for many years in West Texas. In his own quiet way, Mr. Luna contributed more to the community than he could have ever realized. He was truly our County's elder statesman.

His old friends and young ones alike will miss his wisdom and guiding hand. When times were hard Mr. Luna did not complain, instead he took the necessary action to make things better. This is what he would have wanted others to do.

Mr. Luna left a legacy for each person with whom he had come in contact with. He taught them a lesson in American Heritage and the free enterprise system. He was a self-made man and people who knew him can use the pioneer rancher's life as an example of how a person can carve a notch in history in the land of the free.

Those who knew Murphy Luna will never regret it for a moment. Those who did not know him missed more than they will ever realize, because he was one of the last of that generation of Americans who loved the land and the people on it, and a man who rode high in the saddle with that pioneer spirit which makes the bells of freedom ring.

We will miss Mr. Luna since he is gone, and the community is far poorer because of it. The Plains Record lowers its colors to half staff in honor of Murphy W. Luna, a person who cared about his fellow man.

Stock Show Junior Livestock

The total cash premiums to be awarded in the 1966 Yoakum County Junior Fat Stock Show is estimated at $692.50. It may be higher if it becomes necessary to have five classes of barrows. This amount is figured on three classes of calves. There will be an additional class of barrows if more than eighty barrows are in the show. There is a small percent that fail to meet the weight requirements and there may be some that fail to have enough quality to pass the sifting committee.

The total number of animals in the show will be determined after the weighing and sifting which begins at 1:30 Thursday, February 17. Most of the lambs and barrows will be brought into the barns before the official weighing begins. The calves will be weighed Friday morning and the actual showing gets underway at 1:30 p. m. Friday afternoon.

Over half of the cash premiums will be paid to the barrow exhibitors this year. With eighty barrows in the show there will be $350.00 to be given to the exhibitors. It will take $255.00 to furnish the prize money for twenty one calves and $87.50 of the total will go to the fat lamb exhibitors.

This prize money is furnished by the sponsoring organization, the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Association. This organization has other expenses to bear in connection with the show and they usually have to spend $850.00 to $900.00 each year to keep the show operating. The sponsoring organization has one main source of income which is from the sale of membership dues. The dues to the organization are $5.00 per year so 160 to 180 memberships per year are required in order to maintain the present standards of the show. There will be some directors at the show selling memberships for the ensuing year. The general membership meeting is held in March. Everyone interested in livestock, youth and the progress of the community are invited to become active members of the association.

Directors of the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Association are: Johnnie Fitzgerald, Chairman, Pat Henard, Vice Chairman, Jim Barron, Secretary-Treasurer, Gene Bennett, Bob Loe, Ty Field, Bob

Cotton Quota Increase

A preliminary tabulation by the local ASCS Office indicates that the Yoakum County Cotton allotment will be increased by 5,246.6 acres due to the sale, lease and transfer program. W. M. Overton, local ASCS office manager stated that the operators of 86 farms had purchased, leased or transferred by ownership, 13,846.0 acres cotton allotment from other parts of the state. However, due to low projected yields in other parts of the state the adjusted acres which may be planted in Yoakum County total 5,246.6 acres. The allotments were transferred from 456 farms to our 86 Yoakum County farms. It is expected that some few transfers will be received at a later date which required lien holders signatures.

The sale, lease and transfer by ownership came from 31 counties with Wilson, San Saba, Panola, Hopkins, Limestone and Freestone being the counties with the largest transfers. According to the office manager, the cotton transferred in will make a total allotment of slightly more than 38,000 acres for the county. Under the new cotton program farmers must reduce their cotton acreage allotments by 12 1/2, 25, or 35 percent to be eligible for price support loans on cotton produced and diverted acre payments. Farmers have through April 1st to sign up under the cotton program. Farmers that do not reduce their allotments by as much as 12 1/2 percent but do not exceed their allotment will not be eligible for loans on cotton or diversion payments but may sell all the cotton produced on the farm without a penalty. Farmers that exceed their allotment a penalty will be due, on the excess as it has been in the past.

By Harry W. Cayce

Yoakum County residents can sharpen their pencils and get ready to scratch in the primary election which is slated for May 7th.

Some tough races have shaped up with the scene looking something like a real horse race. Every incumbent is faced with a battle for political survival, while the only office which is being vacated is being sought for like a kid would beg for chocolate candy.

In the judges race, incumbent Judge Stanley Duval faces a severe test in fighting off the bid of the popular Plains lawyer Cleatus Phelan; prominent rancher and life long resident Gene Bennett; and the well known Denver City Chiropractor Bruce Boyd, Phelan, Bennett, and Dr. Boyd are all well known in Yoakum County. Incumbent treasurer Vicie Hinkle faces opposition from Wilda Hancock, of Denver City.

Perhaps the biggest scramble in the primary election is in precinct four where veteran County Commissioner Pearl Loe is fighting for reelection, is drawing strong opposition from Johnnie L. Fitzgerald, well known rancher and stock farmer, T. J. Bearden, widely known farmer, and from J. S. Wagley, Plains contractor and businessman.

In the County Clerk's race, long time clerk J. W. O. Aldridge is retiring and Ruby Herald, Wanda McCrary, Margarette Barron, and Buford Dulin are all vying for the nod of the voters.

Its the same story in the District Clerk's office, where incumbent Clerk Blanche Dyer is opposed by Ray Trent and Art York.

In precinct Two, Glen Hennington is challenging long time political leader and commissioner H. C. "Doc" Cotton in Mr. Cotton's run for re-election.

State Representative Jesse T. George is running unopposed for re-election, and State Senator Doc Blanchard has announced for another term.

News Due Soon On FHA Office

The vacancy which was created in the County office of the F. H. A. should be filled soon, according to a reliable source. The vacancy was created when Eddie Taylor, Yoakum County Director suddenly resigned to accept a position with a Denver City Bank.

A temporary officer, Mr. Goodwin of Plainview will serve until tomorrow and then a permanent manager will probably be appointed.

It was learned that Art Fowler, District manager has gone to Temple this week to the state office of Director Cappleman and that details will probably be announced by him next week. Meanwhile farmers of Yoakum County have been inquiring as to the status of the office and many are waiting to conclude their business for the year.

Local business men have reported that many farmers have not been able to secure their farming needs because they are waiting to work out their problems and program with the new manager when he is appointed.

Several farmers stated that Mr. Goodwin has been most helpful to them and that they appreciated the time that he has spent in the Plains office after Taylor's resignation.

Editor of The Record Wins Anson Jones Award

Harry Cayce, editor of The Plains Record has been named as the winner of the Anson Jones Award for Weekly newspapers in the state of Texas for 1966. The Anson Jones Award is given by the Texas Medical Association for medical and health news coverage for the year. The coveted award was won by newspapers in Houston, San Antonio, Austin and Plains. The Record won in the weekly newspaper group and editor Cayce will receive a plaque and a check for $100.00 which will be presented by the president of the five county medical association in this area.

The award has been given for the past 10 years for excellence in conveying health information to the public. Entries were judged on the basis of accuracy, presentation, subject matter, public interest, and over-all quality.

The award was named for Dr. Anson Jones, physician, statesman, writer, and the last president of the Republic of Texas. It was created by the Texas Medical Association in 1956.

The Plains Record was selected on the merit of news coverage and editorial comment in its crusade to obtain a physician for Plains. In winning the award the editor won over the other weekly newspapers in the state.

The other winners were selected on the following basis:

Miss Marjorie Clapp of the San Antonio Light and Blair Justice of The Houston Post were named co-winners in the award category for daily newspapers in cities with 300,000 population or more. Both entries consisted of news and feature coverage of medical topics. Miss Clapp and Justice are previous winners of the award.

A five-part series on alcoholism won top honors for Jim Langdon of The Austin American-Statesman in the category for daily newspapers in cities under 300,000.

Humble News, edited by Gene D. Legler, was named the winning magazine entry for its regular coverage of health and safety information. Also a previous winner, Legler's magazine is published monthly for employees of Humble Oil & Refining Company.

"Ask the Doctor," a weekly series of KRLL in Dallas, won the award in the radio category, on page 4

Record Starts New Building

The Publisher of The Plains Record announces that work began this week on a new building which will be the future home of The Record. The new building for the local newspaper will be built just west of the Plains State Bank. Southwestern Builders of Lovington, New Mexico will build the building. A. T. Binz is president of Southwestern Builders.

It was announced that the new home for the paper will be 25 feet by 60 feet and will be constructed from concrete blocks and will have a brick front.

Completion of the project is expected to be about March 10, and the paper will be moved to its new home at that time.

An office will be built in the new Record building to house the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber is now housed with the Plains Record, having been moved to the Edwards building when the Record moved last summer.

A sales room will be provided in the new building to handle a complete line of office supplies, stated the publisher.

The building will include the sales room, an office for the editor, a reception area, an office for the Chamber of Commerce, and the backshop.

Crocker Award

Ellen Ruth Devries is this year's Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow for Plains High School. She scored highest here in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken December 7. She is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards ranging from $500 to $5,000.

More than 570,000 senior girls in 14,714 of the nation's high schools were enrolled for the examination.

Test papers of all school winners in the state are being judged competitively. From them, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named. She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker Search. In addition, her school will be awarded a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. The second ranking girl will receive a $500 educational grant.

Following her selection, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow, together with a school advisor, will join winners and advisors from each of the 49 other states and the District of Columbia in an expense-paid Educational tour of Colonial

Scout Council Meets in Plains

The executive committees of the South Plains Council of the Boy Scouts of America held their monthly district business and training meeting at Alma's Restaurant, Monday night, February 7, said Cleatus Phelan, scout official.

Representatives from Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa, Denver City, and Plains were in attendance.

Those attending and representing Plains were Cleatus

Phelan, Dick McGinty, Murrell Thompson, and Leo White.

A training film was shown and the various committees held business sessions. There were about 40 scout people at the Plains meeting. Phelan stated that the meeting was informative and educational, and said that it was successful in getting the scouting message to workers in West Texas.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"I Forgot!"

A motorist, hurt in a collision with a freight train, sued the railroad for damages. But in court, the railroad retorted that the motorist himself was guilty of negligence.

"He crossed those tracks twice a day for months," noted the railroad. "Yet he admits he failed to look out for a train."

"On this particular occasion," explained the motorist, "I just happened to forget about the tracks. But that isn't negligence. Everyone has a lapse of memory once in a while."

However, the court ruled that his excuse was no excuse at all and that he was indeed guilty of negligence.

If you should ever seek damages for an injury, your own conduct is likely to come under careful scrutiny. Were you partly to blame for the accident? If you knew that danger lay ahead, is it an excuse to say "I forgot about it?"

The general rule is: no. On the contrary, forgetfulness itself is one of the commonest forms of negligence. Said one court:

"Though we may regard with amused tolerance the proverbial abstraction of middle age hunting for the thimble on its finger, and of old age troubled that it cannot find the glasses on its nose, absent-mindedness is not a satisfactory standard of care in the modern world."

Nevertheless, the law does not expect you to have instant and total recall of everything you have ever known. Mitigating circumstances may make your forgetfulness forgivable.

One such circumstance is the mere passage of time. Thus:

A schoolteacher who stumbled in a hallway won damages from the school board, even though she had known the floor was defective. Because the defect was hard to see, and because three weeks had gone by since she noticed it, the court decided she bore no blame for the accident.

Another possible excuse for forgetting is that something suddenly and forcefully diverted your attention.

In one case an elderly woman, walking home alongside a lonely road, heard men's voices in the darkness ahead. Terrified, she crossed the road—momentarily forgetting, in her panic, that there was a sharp dip on that side.

She fell, suffered assorted injuries, and sued the county. And the court, in upholding her claim, found no negligence in her impulsive action.

"There is a clear distinction," a judge commented, "between forgetfulness which is one phase of negligence, and a sudden arising of conditions which throw one off his guard."

For the hundredth time — this warning to the elderly; don't buy any kind of insurance from a fly by night salesman without a thorough check both on him and his policy. This latest gyp came to our attention last week; in one policy the big print read: "The premium on this policy will never be raised," and then continued in fine print; "and after age 65 will pay one-half the stated benefits." I don't see how they have the nerve to prey on our old folks.

Recently his foot doctor asked Uncle Jay Bob how he was getting along. He replied; "Well, I get along just fine sitting down, but when I try to get along my get alongs don't get along so well."

To a small boy the saddest sight in this cruel old world of sin; Is a sad little lost puppy dog With his worried tail tucked in.

Some folks say we should work eight hours, sleep eight hours and rest eight hours — but not at the same time.

Experience is what we have after we have lost everything.

Motto seen on a certain cookbook; "What food these morsels be."

All that argument ever proves is that there are people present.

Making excuses is about as profitable as watering last year's crop.

Prosperity is that short skip between the last payment and the first.

Poverty is the feeling we get when our neighbor comes home with a new car.

A woman don't have to be a good cook to roast her neighbors.

Captain Frank believes that; "What lies behind us, and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."

Also, "We can never be too big to be kind and courteous, but many men are too little."

Jesse T. George Announces Re-Election

JESSE T. GEORGE

State Representative Jesse T. George of Brownfield has authorized the Plains Record to announce his candidacy for re-election, subject to the Democratic Primary, May 7, 1966. George represents District 90, which consists of Yoakum, Terry, Hockley, and Cochran Counties. Under provisions of the Legislative Reapportionment Act of the 59th Legislature, District 90 becomes District 75 and includes the addition of Bailey County to the above mentioned four counties.

Rep. George, a graduate of Brownfield High School and Sul Ross State College, has taught history and government in Midland and South Plains College, Levelland, and has served as an Administrative Assistant at Texas Technological College. George was one of 36 Texans nominated for one of the Five Outstanding Young Texans of 1965 Awards. His statement for re-election as submitted to the Plains Record follows:

"Two years ago, you, the citizens of this district, honored me with an overwhelming vote of confidence when you elected me as your State Representative to Austin. During those two years, I have made every effort of which I am capable to honor that vote of confidence by striving to be the kind of representative of which you can be justly proud, both on a personal and a legislative basis.

Your interest and co-operation have invaluable qualities which I relied on in serving you during the productive and historic 59th Legislature. Our hopes for better communication and understanding on the local level of governmental issues became a reality through the efforts of the Yoakum County Legislative Community Council, which I organized for the purpose of grass roots interpretation and opinion on issues facing our Great State. Should I be re-elected as your State Representative, these councils will be continued and expanded.

As an ardent supporter of education for our Texas youth, I will continue to work toward upgrading our entire educational structure. During the 59th Session, as a member of the important Education Committee, I served as Assistant Floor Leader for junior college legislation, worked successfully for a teacher pay raise, and was a co-author of the Texas Student Loan Program.

As a member of the House Bill 11, which raised the gross load limit for cotton trailers, a measure vital to our West Texas farmers.

Though the 59th Legislature was in session for only 140 days, I have continued to offer my services to you during the Interim Period. I have traveled some 30,000 miles in this five-county area and have delivered over 250 speeches in my attempt to bring the issues directly to you. Through this travel-speaking effort, I believe all of us have become more aware of the great tasks which continue to lie ahead.

Words do not adequately express my deep appreciation for the knowledge and enjoyment which have come to me from you during the past two years. Though I have met most of the 65,000 people in our district, I know there are many of you whom I have not had the privilege of meeting. But each time I meet a new citizen in our area, I feel that I am a better person by having made a new acquaintance and a new friend. There is an old saying that no man is a failure who has friends, and I am deeply grateful for my host of friends. I appreciate the fact that many of you have come to me with your problems, both large and small, and I hope that in some small way my efforts to serve you were efforts with which you were pleased.

My campaign for re-election will be conducted as it was two years ago, on a personal door-to-door basis. If I don't find you in your business, your home, in the field or on the street please know that I am at your service and want to continue in that capacity. I repeat a statement I used two years ago, and after having served a term in the Texas Legislature, I am more firmly convinced that it is true. "Let us begin to assume our responsibilities both individually and collectively in order that we might find equitable solutions to our existing problems."

Truly Your Friend
s/Jesse T. George

Dogs Nip Pokes

The Bulldogs of Tahoka removed the Plains Cowboys from the topnotch on the District ladder Tuesday night in defeating the Pokes 71-69 at Cowboy land. If Plains wins the rest of their games they can still gain a tie for district honors. The showdown will be in Stanton Friday night as the second place Pokes tangle with the first place Buffs for honors of District 5A.

The Cowboys shot a cold 28 percent from the floor against the Bulldogs in Tuesday's game. Ronnie Elmore led the Pokes with 21 points followed by Jimmy Smith with 12. Mitchell Williams from Tahoka sunk 30 points to take home top scoring position. The Cowboys made 53 rebounds and Elmore also led in that column with 19.

The Cowboys crushed the O'Donnell Eagles in a conference game last week 82-43 with every man on the team getting into the scoring act. Plains had five players to hit the two figure board. Ronnie Elmore led with 17, Rickie Elmore had 13, Calvin Smith 13, Jimmy Smith 11, and Danie Smith 10 points. The Pokes made 61 rebounds against O'Donnell.

Coach Richey rages the fans to journey to Stanton for the big game Friday night, and is hopeful that his squad will bounce back and spank Stanton for the second time this season. The buff's only loss is to Plains, while the Pokes dropped one to Seagraves and to Tahoka.

Sen. Tower Reports Legislative Plans for Congressional Session

I fully support our president in his determination that it was necessary to resume bombing of North Vietnam. I hope all Texans will support him as our military commander in chief.

The decision to resume the bombing was eminently correct, in my judgment as a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Many voices were raised, some of them from the President's own party in the Senate, urging him to continue the bombing pause.

Had we continued the pause we would have been committed to a long-term war of attrition and statecraft with no end in sight. I'm glad such advice did not prevail with the President.

We now face the task of having to go back over military targets in North Vietnam which previously had been destroyed and which now have been rebuilt and repaired during the bombing breather we granted in an effort to achieve peace.

It is known here in Washington that North Vietnam never made any move toward acceptance to our peace offers. Even though we walked the extra mile, turned the other cheek and bent over backwards to achieve an end to the war, North Vietnam's communist regime continued her terrorism and aggression. Even worse, the Reds took advantage of the bombing lull to prepare for an even greater war effort against us and our Allies.

Before the bombing pause began, North Vietnam had built some 50 surface-to-air missile sites. During the lull she added some ten more. These will complicate our bombing efforts and further endanger the lives of our pilots.

In addition, during the "grace" period we allowed them, the communists worked night and day to reopen communications lines, roads and railways, to improve bypass routes around downed bridges to infiltrate men and arms in to South Vietnam, and to increase training of their limited air force.

We could not continue these advantages to an enemy. We could not so endanger the lives of the American men committed to battle there.

We must now do what is necessary militarily to bring a speedy end to the war. There is no substitute for victory.

Senator John Tower today expressed satisfaction that 13 other Senators have joined in bi-partisan co-sponsorship of his bill to grant special privileges to servicemen in Vietnam who wish to mail gift packages back to the United States.

These are the co-sponsoring Senators: Prouty of Vermont, Fannin of Arizona, Fong of Hawaii, Cotton of New Hampshire, Kuchel and Murphy of California, Thurmond and Russell of South Carolina, Allott and Dominick of Colorado, McCarthy of Minnesota, Saltonstall of Massachusetts, and Bible of Nevada.

In joining as a co-sponsor Senator Murphy wrote this to Tower: "I would be remiss if I did not take this opportunity to thank you for your legislative leadership in appreciation and recognition of the efforts of our fighting men. Your interest and expertise have produced many needed benefits for our servicemen."

Servicemen overseas now are allowed only a $10 duty free exemption on gifts sent into the United States. Tower's bill would increase the exemption for servicemen to $50. Many servicemen told Tower during his recent trip to South Vietnam that often suitable gifts selling for less than $10 are impossible to find in overseas areas.

SENATE DEBATE:

Taft Hartley Act, Section 14b

Following is the text of Senator Tower's weekly report to Texans in which he and Senator Dirksen discuss the current Senate debate on Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Act.

TOWER:

"This week the Senate continued its debate on the repeal of Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Act, which authorizes our Texas Right-to-Work law. One of the leaders in this fight indeed, the principal leader in the fight, has been the distinguished Minority Leader, Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois. We're fortunate to have Senator Dirksen to discuss the debate on Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Act.

"Senator Dirksen, what do you think the outcome of this debate will be?"

DIRKSEN:

"Well, it will depend, Senator Tower, upon our stamina and our vitality and our ability through the use of the rules and what I call attenuated discussion, to keep this motion to consider from coming before the Senate.

"Now, they think this is obstructionist and that we ought to let it go to a vote. But let me say to you that in July of last year this matter was up in the House. It squeaked through by only 18 votes out of a total of 424; and as everybody knows, there was a lot of pressure and a lot of arm twisting. That's not a new thing in Washington, and it continues to prevail.

"Now the amazing thing is that the Gallup Poll indicates that 64 percent of the people of this country want to retain that section in the Taft-Hartley Act so that a man as a condition for getting and holding a job does not have to join a union if he does not desire to do so. In other words, it's the issue of compulsory unionism."

"The question is 'shall the states have the right to legislate in this field?' and the State of Texas has been on record on this matter with its own Right-to-Work law for quite a long time. So now we're in the second week of debate, and we mean to continue this discussion just as long as we have stamina and breath left to do so."

TOWER:

"Don't you think, Senator, that the maintenance of the right of states to pass Right-to-Work laws is important even to the current non-Right-to-Work states? Shouldn't they be able to retain the authority to pass such laws if they feel it necessary?"

DIRKSEN:

"Very definitely. And this is just one piece of that whole concept of deeper and deeper intrusion by the federal government into the affairs of the state. We'll have the same thing in connection with legislative reapportionment. We will probably have the same thing if they undertake to take certain cases out of the hands of the state and the state judiciary and make them federal cases.

"There are many things that involve this whole matter of invasion of the sovereignty of

Ruby Heald Runs For County Clerk

Mrs. Ruby Heald filed Monday as a candidate for the position of County Clerk in Yoakum County, subject to the Democratic Primary May 7.

Ruby was born in Seminole, Oklahoma, and has lived in Lea County, New Mexico and Yoakum County since 1944. Mrs. Heald and her husband, Leonard, have three children, Mrs. Louise Newberry, Lamessa, Sherry and Jerry, both students in Plains School. Mr. Heald has been with Texaco, Inc. for 18 years. They reside in their home at 702 East Second Street in Plains.

Since living in Yoakum County, Mrs. Heald has served on the Yoakum County Welfare Board and on the Civil Defense Operational Survival Plan under the Department of Health and Welfare and is now serving the Yoakum County Federal Credit Union as their Supervisory Chairman.

Mrs. Heald is employed at Elliott & Waldron Abstract Company as office manager under the management of Vernon Townes and Paul New. She has worked there since March 1959.

She states her work these past years has enabled her to become acquainted with the duties of the Clerk. Since abstracts are compiled from instruments photostated in the County Clerks Office and the many lien and record searches made over the years have given her a thorough knowledge of all the records kept, as abstracters work in conjunction with the County Clerks office.

In announcing as a candidate for County Clerk, Mrs. Heald made the following statement:

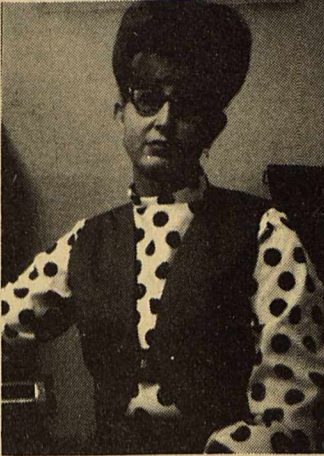

"I shall base my campaign on honesty, integrity and will run on my own merits and qualifications and try to vigorously represent all of Yoakum County.

I enjoy working with the public and if elected, I shall be able to serve a greater number of people as your County Clerk and will serve in a fair and impartial manner.

I plan to meet as many people as time will permit and will welcome your advise and guidance, as I respect intellectual honesty, whether you agree or disagree with me.

My campaign will be active and clean. I shall be grateful for your support and for your vote on May 7.

TOWER: "Thank you very much, Senator Dirksen, for those words on the significance of the current debate on 14b of the Taft-Hartley Act. Texans can be assured that members of the Senate who oppose repeal of 14b will continue to work to preserve the Right-to-Work law of our state."

the states, and it becomes so important that it has been labeled as a crisis in the constitutional history of this Republic and probably one of the history of our times. Consequently, we think that in this debate we are doing battle for the people of the United States of America; and we mean to continue to do so in order that we can preserve our government, the sovereignty of the states, and a sense of decency
