OUR 35TH YEAR THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1966 NUMBER 46

Cowboys Brand Dogs 17-6 For Share of 5A Crown

The Plains Cowboys fought off a determined pack of Tahoka Bulldogs to win Co-Champion honors for the District 5A title Friday night at Cowboy Stadium by a score of 17-6. Plains sputtered in the first quarter gaining only 16 yards and they gave up 81 yards to the Bulldogs. In the second quarter the Cowboy defense tightened and the Dogs were held on the Pokes' two yard line and had to give up the ball after running out of downs. This was one of the really big plays of the night. The Pokes then marched 103 yards (including a five yard penalty) to get on the score board with only seconds remaining in the half. On a tremendous effort, Gregg Jones bulldged his way across the goal line and Rickey Elmore converted to give the Pokes a 7-0 halftime lead.

Pigskin Banquet

Jack Hayes, president of the Plains Cowboys Booster Club announced that the annual Booster Club Football Banquet has been set for December 13th, pending the obtaining of a speaker for the program.

Acacia Cotton Market Best for Yoakum Farmer

Bankers, ginners, fertilizer dealers, Soil Conservationists, and agriculture experts have long studied what varieties of cotton planted in Yoakum County would help the economy and boost profits of the farmers to their greatest advantage.

Acacia Cotton field before the harvest. Long staple cotton means more money for farmer.

Acacia Cotton Market Best for Yoakum Farmer

One third of the county has a greater amount of water than the other two thirds. Draw an imaginary line on the Tatum Highway west from Plains to the state line and run south to the county line then come back east to the Alred road and draw a line northeast to Plains. This is the area that has more favorable water. This is also the area where long staple cotton is more adapted than other varieties because of several factors.

Plains Band Enters Contest

The Plains High School Band has been working for the past three weeks on their contest show. The marching contest will be held this Saturday at Big Spring. The band wishes to thank the following band directors who have come to the Tuesday night rehearsals and given a few pointers and criticism to help the band; George Riddell, Levelland Jr.

Neil Brownd Moves To Gulf Coast

Neil Brownd, former vice president of the Plains State Bank, has accepted a position with May Emblem Corporation of Houston. Brownd reported last Monday for work. His family will move to Houston at the end of the semester. Mrs. Brownd is the bookkeeper at the Romain Telephone Company.

Jr. High Report

Coach Bob Gross's 7th and 8th grade football squads closed their seasons on a good note with both teams routing O'Donnell at Eagle Field. While the 7th grade finished with a more impressive record than did the 8th grade, a lot has to be said for the effort the 8th grade put out considering that much of the season the team was crippled to the extent that several 7th graders were used to make 11 players on the field. With this in mind the 8th grade probably should not have won a game, but they did that and much more.

The 7th grade was only scored on one time this year. It is ironic, but that game where Tahoka scored its one touchdown went into the books as a loss for Plains.

Rep. Mahon Sets County Visit

U. S. Rep. George Mahon, Dem., Texas, has scheduled a trip to Yoakum County soon in order to visit with the people in his district. Plains residents who have a need to visit their congressman are urged to do so. Congressman George Mahon has scheduled a meeting in Denver City at 2:00 p.m., November 18. All interested persons are invited to attend. Mahon said that he was coming to the county for the purpose of getting a firsthand report on local problems and conditions. He wants to learn all he can about the needs of the people, getting their views as to what government actions they favor in regard to problems generally. He is especially interested in the views of farmers and businessmen as to the agricultural situation and actions which may be required.

Cagers Open at Eunice As Basketball Starts

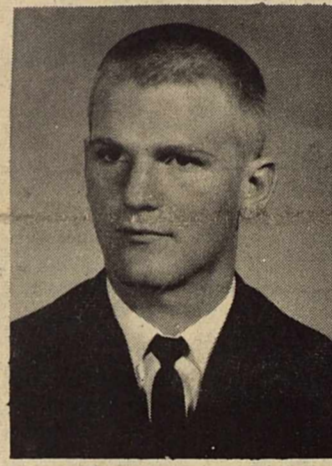

The Plains Cowboys open their 1966-67 basketball season when they invade the highly regarded Eunice Cardinals at Eunice, New Mexico Tuesday. Game time will be at 7:30, New Mexico time. Coach John Richey's Cowboy squad should be a potent threat to Plains foe this year with four returning first team members from a good squad last year. The returning cagers are Stanley Ashburn, Rickey Elmore, Lynn Rollins, and Calvin Smith. Coach Richey has 30 hopefuls who are out for the team. The round ball squad will have 12 juniors and seniors who bring in an impressive amount of experience and there are nine sophomores and nine freshmen on the team.

Plans have been made to include the first annual Cowboy Tournament in Plains the first week of January with the following teams that have entered: Morton, Denver City, Lubbock Christian, Seagraves, Tahoka, Threeway, Sundown, and Plains. Players who are out for the team include: Stanley Ashburn, Joe Beal, Mike DeVries, Rickey Elmore, Dan Field, Butch Gains, Gregg Jones, Jimmy Massey, Joe Pierce, Lynn Rollins, Calvin Smith, Billy Taylor, Mike Hughes, Billy Kennedy, Morris Rushing, Billy Spencer, Gary Lyles, Reg Trout, Bobby Hains, Hershel Smith, Don Todd, Tiny Lowe, Jimmy Taylor, Mike Nugent, Larry Massey, Clark Parrott, Jerry Heald, Bicenties Torres, Wayne Wauson, and Larry Felts.

The schedule for the year includes: Eunice, November 22, There; Morton, November 29, There; Denver City, December 3, There; Morton, Dec. 6, Here; Tournament, Dec. 8, 9, 10, There; Taum, Dec. 12, There; Denver City Tournament, Dec. 16-17, There; Eunice, Dec. 20, There; Taum, Dec. 19, Here; Denver City, Jan. 3, Here; Plains Tournament, Jan. 5, 6, 7, Here; Coahoma, Jan. 10, Here; O'Donnell, Jan. 13, There; Seagraves, Jan. 17, There; LCHS, Jan. 20, Here; Tahoka, Jan. 24, Here; Coahoma, Jan. 27, There; O'Donnell, Jan. 31, Here; Seagraves, Feb. 3, Here; LCHS, Feb. 7, There; Tahoka, Feb. 9, There. ASC Vote Set Producers of Upland Cotton will vote December 5 through 9th to determine whether a referendum and promotion order should be issued for Upland Cotton. The Referendum will be conducted by mail ballot through the ASCS Offices in conjunction with the Upland Cotton Marketing Quota Referendum but in a separate ballot. Approval by two-thirds of the producers voting or by a majority of producers voting if two-thirds of the cotton represented in the referendum, is necessary for the Order to become effective.

The proposed cotton research and promotion program would be administered by a cotton Board composed of members nominated by cotton producing organizations and selected by the Secretary of Agriculture. The program would be financed through assessments of $1 per bale from upland cotton producers to be collected by cotton handlers designated by the cotton board. Collection from any producer who did not wish to contribute would be refunded upon written application. The $1 per bale assessment would start at the beginning of the ginning season for the 1967 crop. Producers engaged in the production of 1966 upland cotton are eligible to vote, this includes both landlords and tenants. Each producer is entitled to only one yes or no vote in the Referendum. All eligible producers on the Yoakum County ASC mailing list will be mailed ballots and a summary of the proposed order will be enclosed with the ballot. Complete copies of the order will be available at the County ASCS Offices. All eligible cotton farmers are urged to familiarize themselves with the order and vote.

The spokesman for the ASCS Agency stated if anybody was overlooked or if anybody has not gotten his ballot to come by the ASC office and pick it up. The ASC office recently moved into the Don Hancock Building North of the Square. Mr. Overton invites everyone to come by and see their new office.

The business people of Plains join the editor of the Record in wishing those who travel a safe journey to their destination and on their return trip home.

CORNER

Alas, what will the domino players do since Bowers Gas has moved to their new building. While visiting Dan Houck this week I did see the bone yard put securely in a box just waiting for the old gang to dump them on the table and start shuffling; however the table was absent. I talked to Dan about the continued gaming, and he didn't say no, but I wasn't able to get a yes out of him either. My guess is that popular opinion will prevail and the good people at Bowers will continue letting us use the table.

Speaking of dominos...the senior citizens who belong to the '65 Club' really enjoy 42 on Friday night. My Granny Carter went last week and from her account the members can put up formidable opposition to any challengers. The '65 Club' is a wonderful thing for some of the older people. It gives an added activity that some of our older people need. Think of the enjoyment it affords to those people who have become widowed or to those who no longer are active in a civic club or a social organization. It gives the senior citizens a night out on the town and the people who organized the club have done a real service to their fellowman.

The Plains Cowboys won their share of the District 5A title Friday night, and we are really proud of their fine showing. The boys finished with a 7-3 record to tie Seagraves for first place. We were as proud of them as we were last year when we won the District 5A Championship outright. We are also proud of the fine showing the band has made this year. It is a big improvement over last year and it looks like the band boosters are as great in numbers as the Cowboys Boosters. This is fine and we encourage all people interested to join the band boosters.

We were somewhat amused at the excuse Waggoner Carr gave when Sen. Tower defeated him last week. He blamed it on liberal Sen. Ralph Yarbrough for allegedly supporting Sen. Tower. John Tower has been described as the most conservative member of the U.S. Senate and Ralph as one of the liberal liberals of the 100 Club. There just isn't any common meeting ground for a conservative and a liberal, and if the liberals didn't vote for Carr they must have surely stayed at home, because a dog would never vote for a cat, and that is about the sum of it. Mrs. Field Gives Book Review To Study Club

The Tsa Mo Ga Club met in regular session on November 14 at the clubhouse with Mrs. Bob Blundell presiding in the absence of Mrs. A. B. Carpenter, president.

Club was called to order at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Blundell leading the club collect and pledge to the United States and Texas flags.

Roll call was answered by 'My Favorite Bible Scripture'. After the business meeting the program was turned to Mrs. Darrell Lindsey, director. The program theme was 'Home Life and Religion'.

Mrs. Lindsey compared the Christian life to a rose. There is nothing on earth more beautiful, but we must accept some of life's thorns in order to harvest the flowers.

Mrs. Lindsey presented Mrs. Ty Field who reviewed 'When you have lost a loved one', by Charles L. Allen.

Mr. Allen is minister to one of the nation's largest congregations, The First Methodist Church of Houston. He is credited with several books among them are 'Gods Psychiatry', 'Healing Words', 'All Things Are Possible Through Prayer', 'The Touch of the Masters' Hand', and others.

Mr. Allen points out that everyone is afraid of death in fact we so fear death that it takes away our joy of living. Some refuse to acknowledge that death is a certainty. But we must realize that death is sometimes our death is sometimes our 'Best Friend'.

Many are preparing for a life hereafter, this a sure test of our faith, for we know if no one who has returned to tell us about it. Thomas Edison said when dying, 'It is Very beautiful over there'. Robert L. Stevenson came to his moment on earth and said 'If this is Death. It is easy'. Of course our best and surest testimony of what the future holds after-death is the records in our Bible.

John started out with Christ as a young man and remained faithful through the years. He was exiled on the Island of Patmos away from those he loved and God rolled away the curtain and permitted him to see the other side. We have but to Read Rev. 21-4 to find comfort when we lose a loved one.

Death is a doorway to a larger life. Mr. Allen said he thought of death as moving from one pastorate to another. One hates to leave familiar things and friends but new opportunities makes moving a thrilling experience.

Many people are walking the earth in a dead or partially dead state. Their hopes are dead, their dreams and ideals are dead. Some one wrote a poem about the wild duck who one day landed in the barnyard among the tame farm fowl. He grew fat and lazy and gradually he forgot how to fly. In spring and fall when the wild ducks flew over head something stirred him but he could not rise to join them. The poem ends with these lines 'He's a pretty good duck for the shape he is in, but he isn't the duck he might have been.' Many people have desecrated the high and holy things until there is little left on Gods side of the scales. But he said in these glorious words, I am the resurrection, and the life; He that believeth on me through he be dead, yet shall he live. The thing to remember is that there is another life with in our reach and that on the loss of a loved one God is there to help us if we can only say 'Thy Will Be Done'.

Mrs. Sid Wade sang 'I'll walk with God' by Webster-Bradszky. She was accompanied by Mrs. Dennis Black at the piano.

Mrs. Wayne Davis concluded the program with a scripture reading.

Mrs. Grace Clinton, Mrs. Robert Chambliss were hostesses for the social hour. A fall motif was carried out in the decorations.

We welcomed our new member, Mrs. Harry Cayce.

YF Meet

The Yoakum County Young Farmers met with the Plains Young Homemakers, Monday Nov. 14, at 7:30 p.m. for a delicious Thanksgiving meal prepared by the Young Homemakers.

They later departed for their monthly meeting at the Agriculture Building. Mr. Kent Welch, program chairman, introduced Mr. Levon L. Ray of the South Plains Research and Extension Center in Lubbock. Mr. Ray delivered an interesting and informative talk on the development of a cotton boll and how climatic and irrigation conditions effect it. Another subject was how cotton is graded. He also said a staple grading machine is in the developing stages. There were several experimental varieties of stripper cotton with staple lengths of 1 inch to 1 1/16 inches discussed; which the spinning mills would be interested in.

Before the meeting adjourned dues were paid and a program of work was approved for the coming year. Refreshments were served to 10 members and 4 guests.

The Long And Short Of Cotton

By M. C. Thompson
The kind of cotton a man grows effects the kind and amount of wind erosion you may have. Recently a refresher course in wind erosion control was held at Brownfield for S. C. S. personnel from Plains, Seminole, Tahoka, Lamesa and Brownfield work units.

One of the items of interest brought up was the amount of material (crop residue) that is needed to control wind erosion. In our discussion of course cotton stalks came up but no one seemed to have any facts as to just how much is left on the land following harvest of picker stripper type cotton.

The Plains work unit has been taking some clippings and converting it into lbs per acre. A fair test was made.

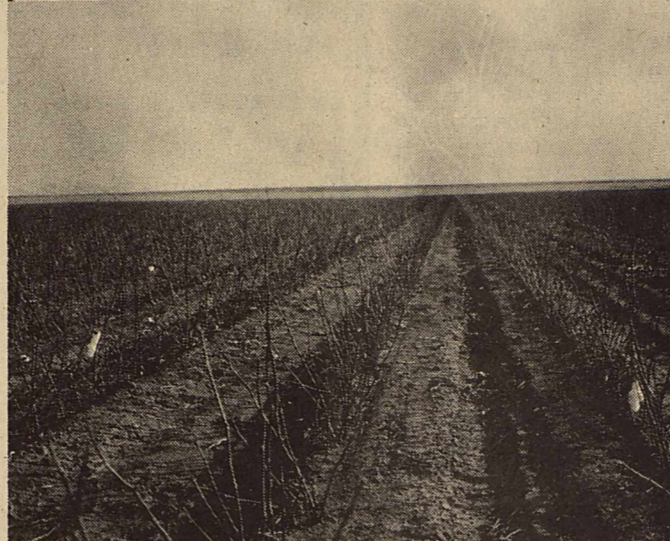

On five farms where picker type cotton had been grown and harvested it was found that an average of 5038 lbs per acre of residue was left while on stripper type cotton we found 1188 lbs per acre was left.

In a wind tunnel test at Brownfield and Big Spring we found that 2500 lbs per acre in 40 inch rows is needed to control wind erosion on sandy soil. When less than this amount is grown or left on the land supplemental tillage such as chisel plowing, bedding or listing leaving the stalks will increase the soil holding by about three fold. That is 1100 lbs of cotton stalks chisled at an angle is equal to 3300 lbs per acre.

Another item is the fertility and soil conditioning of the organic matter produced by the residue. Based on 25 years of research at Oklahoma State University cotton burs have proven to be worth $8.00 per ton. On this basis we have an additional value of about $16.00 per acre for stalks, burs, cotton and leaves from the picker type cotton. If because of the good amount of residue we do not have to do an expensive job of plowing to keep the soil from blowing and additional $3 or $4 per acre is saved. This means we should take a look at what we are actually making when we plant different kinds of cotton.

Howboy Corral

Football has gone to an end for '66' at Plains. All of the boys put out a great effort to bring us in with the title of 'Co-Champs'. I'm sure everyone is proud of our boys and all looking forward to a great team next year. Win or Lose, The Cowboys are 'No. 1'.

Basketball is just around the corner. The team is beginning to work hard for Morton's game, November 28. I know everyone is behind them so 'Team, let's go all the way!'

All of the students are beginning to prepare their folks for another 'Doomes Day', or as parents know it 'Report Card Day'. Again students are thinking of making new resolutions to make better grades. Will they come up to better grades? Well,.....Would you believe????

As everyone probably noticed a week ago Wednesday was 'Freshman Initiation'. All agreed there seemed to be a peculiar order coming from High School. Freshman, really, you are suppose to brush you teeth after eating onions. May be you ought to try 'Listerine!' We heard several strange things happened that day. Mr. Engle, how was your shoe shine first period? We would sio like to know how Mr. Black explained about the lipstick on his cheek. Freshmen girls, did you u say a Senior put you up to that, really, control yourselves! Well, all fun and nonsense must come to an end, but I think some actually missed the 'Air Raids' the next day.

Last minute preparation is under way in Band. As we all know contest is just a few short hours away. We all wish you luck, and bring back that 'No. 1' rating and trophy. Also we hear the Band Students and Band Booster's are selling fruit cakes. I know everyone wants to support our Band so 'Please'. Buy a fruit cake for Thanksgiving and order a couple for Christmas.

Speaking of Thanksgiving, it's that time of year again. The 'older' folks all agree that time does fly and the 'younger' set are yelling for joy for that vacation from school. Let's all be careful during the holidays and watch out for the other guy, he's the one that will kill you.

Here are a few things we have heard around school. Mrs. Johnson tell us why teachers get old. Mrs. Johnson: 'This essay on 'Our Dog' is word for word the same as your brothers!' English II Student: 'Yes, Ma'am, it's the same dog!' Mr. Miexner seems to agree with Mrs. Johnson. I wonder why? Bright Biology student: 'I hear the moon is going broke.' Mr. Miexner: 'How do you know?' Student: 'The paper said it's down to its last quarter!' All teachers deserve a big pat on the back, Don't you agree?

ACS News

A film narration by Dr. Joseph Shaffer was shown to the members of the Yoakum County unit of the American Cancer Society by Mr. Jim Glenn, district two field representative of the ACS, from Mikland, Texas, on November 8, 1966, in the home of Mrs. Harold Burton of Denver City.

Mr. Glenn gave the county unit a book entitled 'The Truth About Cancer' written by Charles S. Cannon, M.D. This book has many interesting facts on cancer and is available at the county library if anyone is interested in reading it.

A delicious lunch was served to Mr. Glenn, Mrs. Cecil Bickley of Denver City, and Mrs. Ed Hunter, Mrs. Roy Guetersloh, Mrs. Dan Houck, and Mrs. Murphy Luna all of Plains. (Con't. Above)

From The Field , To The Market

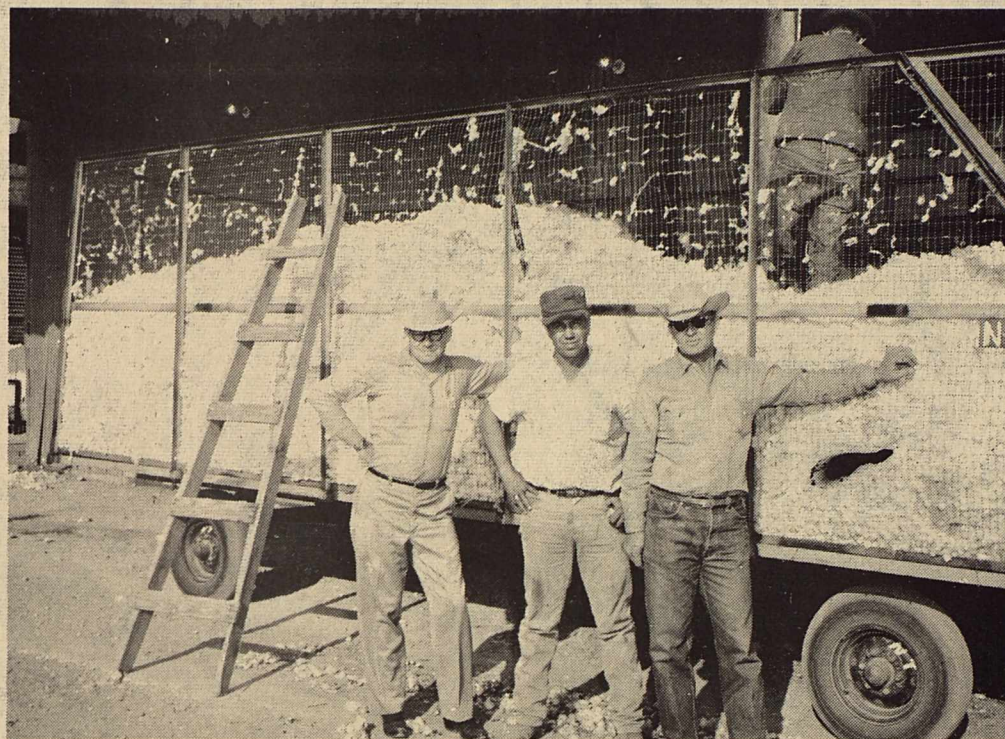

Acala Cotton field before the harvest. Long staple Cotton means more money for farmer.

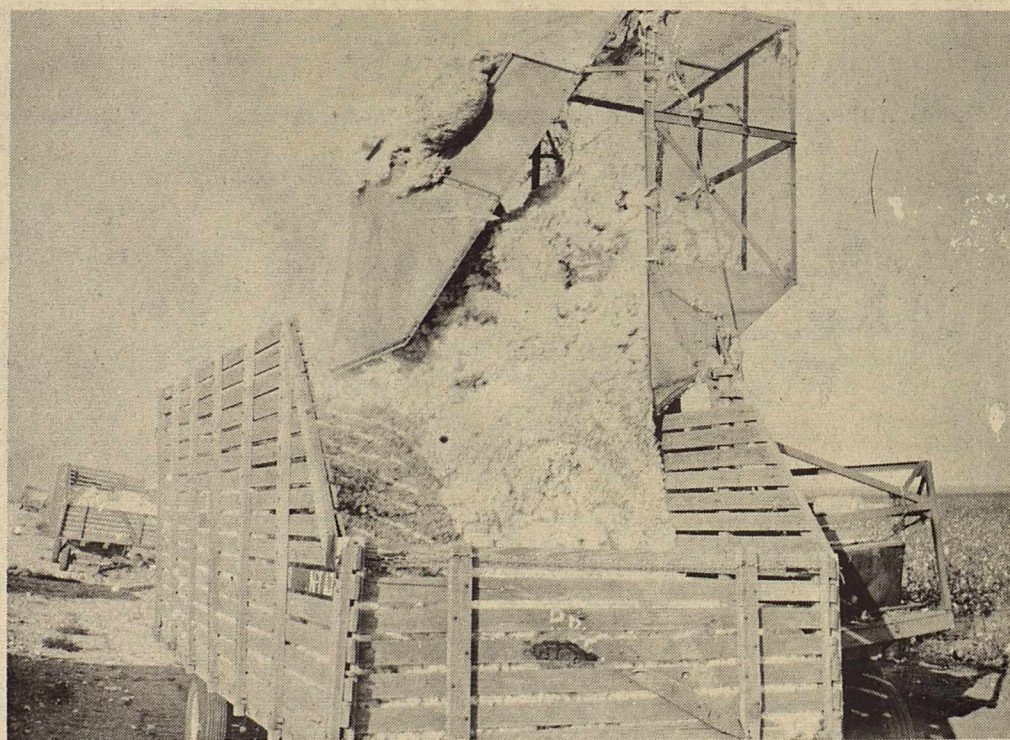

Cotton sits on yard ready to go in Gin.

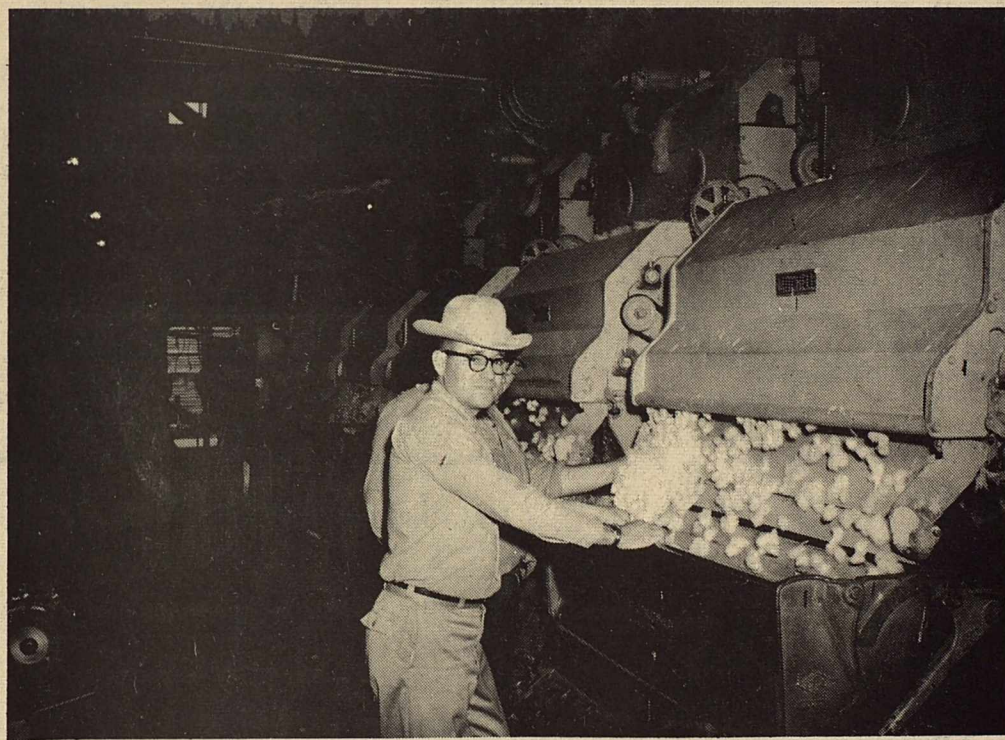

Modern machinery in the field .

The cotton is being taken from trailer and is received in the Gin.

The cotton is put in the trailer to start trip to the Gin.

Gayle Craft examines Acala Cotton being ginned.

The final product is the Acala Cotton in the bale on the way to market. Acala is in demand at the market this year.
