Yoakum County Cotton Vote Carries $1 Bale Election

By W. M. Overton

Yoakum County cotton farmers voting in the 1967 cotton marketing quota referendum voted 375 for and 33 against quotas. The $1 per bale research and promotion order referendum carried in Yoakum County by 327 for and 60 against. 92 percent of the Yoakum County votes were for cotton marketing quotas and 84.5 percent voted for the $1 per bale research and promotion order.

For marketing quotas to be in effect for 1967 at least two-thirds of the farmers voting over the nation must approve quotas. For the research and promotion order to be in effect at least two-thirds of the voters over the nation must vote yes or if a majority vote yes and the vest vote represents two-thirds of the cotton production, based on 1966 planted acres and projected yield, the order will be in effect.

The Yoakum County Ballots were tabulated by the Yoakum County ASCS Committee. They are: T. A. Elmore, J. B. Ashburn and R. G. Hartman. Counting of the ballots took place yesterday at the local ASCS Office.

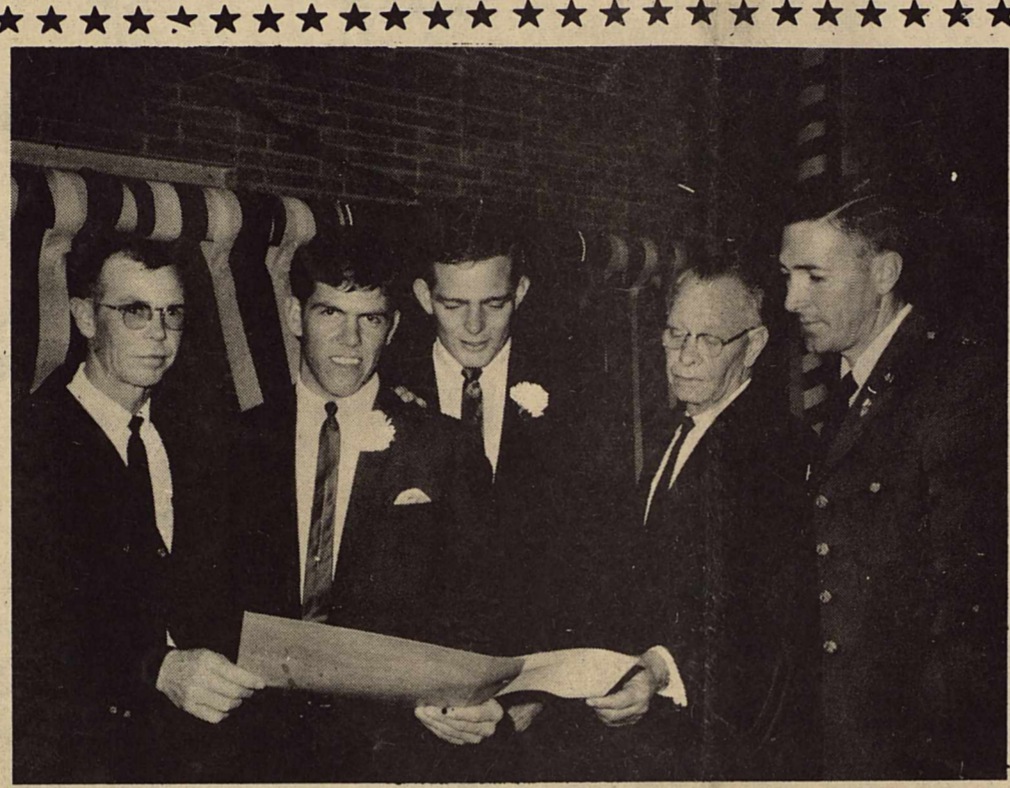

One year ago Yoakum County farmers approved marketing quotas on 1966 crop by 77 percent to 23 percent against.

This vote for the 1967 crop was by far the largest vote ever cast in Yoakum County in the cotton referendums. The Yoakum County ASCS Committee wants to express their appreciation for the large vote.

The announced cotton program depends on the outcome of the cotton marketing quota referendum if more than 1/3 of the producers voting in the referendum vote 'No', the announced cotton program will not be in effect. If 2/3 or more of the farmers voting approve quotas by a 'Yes' vote the announced cotton program will be in effect and farmers may reduce their planting of cotton by 12 1/2 to 35% and diversion and price support payments will be made. The program is similar to the 1966 program except the diversion and price support payments will be some higher 10.78 for the diversion as compared to 10.50 in 66 and 11.53 for price support compared to 9.42 in 66.

According to Overton the ASC has been given the responsibility of holding the $1 per bale Research and Promotion referendum, therefore, the two are being held at the same time but the two referendums are entirely separate and unrelated matters.

Coach Rip Sewell, Ricky Elmore, N. C. Clanahan, Jack Hayes, and Major Wilson Knapp are pictured at the Booster Club Football Banquet.

Lea County Mails $289,000 .00

There was no tinsel and ribbons on the outside of the envelopes, but the contents of over 7,000 mailings from the Lea County Electric Cooperative several days ago contained plenty of unbounded Christmas joy.

Over $289,000 in cash patronage refunds, to be specific.

This was the third and biggest refund made by the Cooperative since it was established March 5, 1949, following the purchase of a small privately owned utility company.

Two years ago about $176,000 was returned to consumers in this manner, and the first refund, paid in 1962, amounted to $226,000.

These large amounts represent operating margins (or earnings) that accrue to the cooperative over and above expenses. They are made possible by increasingly efficient generation and distribution of power from the co-op's facilities.

R. B. Moore, Lea County Electric Cooperative manager, points out that their average load factor has increased from a level of 29 percent shortly after the cooperative began operation, to more than 75 percent at the present time. This means that the generating facilities of the co-op are used more, with a resultant lowering of unit costs of kilowatt power output.

'Last year (1965)', he says, 'we thought we had about reached the limit, but so far the figures for 1966 still show an improved load factor.' He said that the 75 percent plus figure achieved by the Lea County Cooperative is far above average for the industry.

'It literally is true,' he says, 'that our customers are being sold power at cost,' as these refunds are returned to users. Adequate reserves are maintained for contingencies and to retire the cost of equipment, which defers the return of capital several years.

Checks issued by the cooperative to users varied all the way from less than $1 denomination to several thousand. The largest was in excess of $7,800.

Wins Honor At Pigskin Banquet

Rickey Elmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Elmore, won the coveted 'Fighting Heart Award' at the Annual Booster Club Banquet at the Plains High School Cafeteria Tuesday night. Elmore was presented the special certificate by former team mate Joe Dan Cooke, who won the award last year himself when he made All State Fullback. Elmore was named All-District Running Back last week. The players themselves select the recipient of the 'Fighting Heart Award' in a secret ballot.

Major Wilson Knapp, head football coach at New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, was the principal speaker. Coach Knapp, himself a two time All-State player from Carlisbad and a double winner of All Border Conference honors at New Mexico University, stressed determination and the belief in ones own abilities and a firm belief in teammates and in God as assets to success on and off the gridiron. Knapp has a successful record as coach. He won three state championships while coaching at Lovington before going to N.M.M.I. Knapp spoke to a crowd of about 175 people, said Jack Hayes, Booster president. Hayes thanked the cowboy team for their fine record this year. The Cowboys finished as Co-champs of District 5A with a 7-3 record.

Head football coach Rip Sewell recognized the four players who made All District Honors and the five who received Honorable Mention. The All District Players included Rickey Elmore, N.C. Clanahan, tackle, Dan Field, tackle, and Mokey McCrary, center.

All of the seniors were given special recognition by Coach Sewell and were introduced.

Coach Knapp requested some game films to review at a later date of the Cowboy team. He said he is impressed with the tough Plains schedule.

Cage Team Meets Lamesa At D.C.

The Plains Cowboy Cage squad meets Lamesa at the Denver City Tournament at 7:00 p.m. tonight. Coach John Richy's Five are expected to be strong contenders for the fees which they will meet in what has been described as one of the finest tournaments on the South Plains.

Other teams in the area playing are Morton vs Level land at 4 p.m.; Denver City vs Seagraves at 2:30 p.m.; Kermit vs Crane at 5:30 p.m.; and Seminole vs Brownfield at 8:30 p.m.

Morton, Seminole, and Lamesa along with Plains will be fielding stronger teams, but any team which is entered could go all the way. Many observers believe the champ could be decided in the Plains and Lamesa tilt.

Its A Big Ox !

Truett Jones and Lloyd Allsup demonstrate the Big Ox plow.

New Plowing Device Introduced In Plains

Truett Jones, Plains area farmer, purchased the first Big Ox plow to be sold in Yoakum County, and he demonstrated the new equipment on his farm Northeast of Plains Tuesday. Jones plans to continue demonstrations with his Big Ox throughout the week. The new scientific designed plow averages plowing 16 inches deep and leaves all residue on the surface for wind and water erosion protection and moisture conservation.

It was pointed out by local soil conservationist C. M. Thompson that plows such as this allows the farmer to use the residue for soil and water conservation to the maximum extent. This plow will allow fine particles to sift downward while bringing clods to the surface to supplement the residue, said Thompson. Thompson continued in saying that this type of plow helps to eliminate the hard pan condition that stops the downward growth of top roots as shown by E. O. Winkles in the photo on another page in this issue.

Truett Jones pointed out that this type of plowing is not only a good soil and water conservation practice, but it costs about 1/3 to 1/2 as much as regular breaking of the land, and is about twice as fast, which is very important in controlling wind erosion such as cotton stalk or low residue grain sorghum land.

Six years ago tests at Spur experiment station showed that cotton burrs or grain sorghum residue can conserve as much as 2.55 inches of rainfall and increase the water penetration by 17 inches. Any plow that will till the soil and leave the residue on the surface of the soil will contribute to both moisture and soil conservation.

Wind Tunnel test made at Brownfield show that supplemental tillage will increase the soil holding capacity of crop residue about two fold. An example is 1250 lbs of residue plus tillage is equal to 2500 lbs of residue. It was also learned that from 8 to 30 tons of soil per acre can be saved when adequate residue or tillage and residue is used. Research has proven that we can continue to farm for an indefinite period of time with 8 tons or less of soil loss per acre per year.

Yoakum soil conservation district supervisors have long realized and continued to urge land owners and operators to use crop residue whether it be cane, cotton, or grain sorghum residue and supplemental tillage to control wind and water erosion and to hold our precious top soil. Top soil held in place on our fields means less dust and silt in our machinery and homes.

Lloyd Allsup is the dealer for the Big Ox in Plains. Besides the Big Ox on the Jones farm, Allsup has one which he will be showing at the Plains Farm Supply. Allsup is the John Deere and Big Ox dealer in Yoakum County.

No Parking Rule To Be Enforced

Roy McGehee, City Secretary, announced that yellow stripes have been painted on the curb in front of the Post Office and that the City Council has voted that no parking will be permitted in the no parking zone. McGehee said a no parking sign has been ordered and as soon as it is installed citations will be given to violators.

The action by the City Council was brought about after a request was made by officials of the State Highway Department. The corner at the post office was considered to be an extremely dangerous one, and the action was taken to prevent a serious accident from occurring.

McGehee, in speaking for the council said the sign will be here in the near future and that the law will be enforced when it is installed. He urged the public's cooperation in the matter and added that if an accident can be prevented it is well worth our efforts. The curb was painted yellow this week.

The following action was taken by the Yoakum County Grand Jury at the County seat this week announced Blanche Dyer, District Clerk; Willie Austin, Bribery, Pass. Pat Hendricks, Removal of mortgaged property, No Bill. Allen Wagley, jr., Hot Check, True Bill. Clarence Lowe, D W I 2nd, True. W. O. McDonnell, Removal of mortgaged property, No Bill. Dillard O. Mills, Theft by false pretenses, No Bill. Charles Nathan Cox, D W I 2nd, Pass. Dale Morgan, Burglary, True Bill. Doroteo Perez, Rape, True Bill.

Ronnie Dossey, Jon Blann, Duane Nelson and Sammy Spights, Burglarly, Pass. Eutimio Gonzales, Murder, with motor vehicle, True Bill. Doyal E. Snead, Removal of mortgaged property, No Bill. Gene Cameron Ray, Removal of mortgaged property, True Bill. Mac McNailey, Forgery, Pass.

Jo Ann Petirk, Leaving scene of accident, No Bill. David Glines, Auto Theft, No Bill. J. C. Griffin, Hot check and theft by false pretense, True Bill. B. L. Lewis, Hot Check, No Bill.

Civil court is now in session and will probably continue through next week.

Christmas Program

The music department of the Plains Schools will present its annual Christmas Program at 8:00 p.m., Tuesday, December 20, in the High School Auditorium. The public is cordially invited to attend this program. There will be no admission charge.

Christmas selections will be presented by different groups from grades 3 to 12. The Plains High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Dennis Black, will present a musical program of Christmas Carols.

The fifth graders will give a group of Christmas selections on their Flutophones. The third and fourth graders of Plains Elementary School will sing a Christmas Cantata entitled 'Lo! A Star'. The Junior High Choir will sing a Christmas song entitled 'Christmas Tide'.

All choirs will be under the direction of Miss Judy Allbright and Mrs. Dennis Black will be the accompanist. The public is urged to attend the program.

Band Member Wins Honor

Donna Dian Williams, Drum major for the Plains Cowboy Band, won a position in the AAA District Region 6 Band in Midland, Texas last Saturday December 10.

Donna, who played her Eb Clarinet was the only Plains Bandsman to go.

In concert season this year she plays the Bass Clarinet, but in Stage Band she plays the Eb Clarinet.

Donna Williams

Donna moved here from Tucumcari, New Mexico last February. She is the 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams. Donna is a sophomore this year.

Her other activities at school include Drama Club and Annual Staff. Music is her first love, and her plans are for a major in band and choir when college comes around.

Donna's father, Cecil Williams is the minister of the Hillside Church of Christ.

Santa Claus Comes Soon

Santa Claus is coming to town! The Plains Volunteer Firemen will bring Santa to the south entrance of the courthouse Saturday morning at 11:00 a. m. Will there be candy? Sure enough there will be candy for all of the wees ones, therefore the public is urged to bring the children to town to put in their order to Santa Claus.

There will be no Santa Day parade this year. Instead, there will be the arrival of St. Nick at the courthouse in the firetruck, and he will pass out candy to the children and listen to their requests.

Residents who bring their children to see Santa are invited to shop in Plains with the local merchants who have a fine selection of Christmas items. Many places plan free drawings, so shoppers are invited to stop in and register. Plains Frozen Food plans to give a 15 pound turkey; White's Auto will give a bicycle; Bowers Liquefied Gas will give a 12 volt battery and a heater; Streetman's will give two five dollar gift certificates away.

Other Christmas news includes the Lighting contest. Residents are urged to enter and compete for cash prizes which will be offered. There will also be a rural lighting contest this year.

The community Christmas card is also being sold and will be run next week in the paper. Those desiring to have their name placed on the card should make the arrangements this week in order that the list can be finalized.

A greeting will also appear in the paper to all service men. The Plains Record is sent free of charge to any service man. If anyone knows of a boy who is not receiving a paper, it is requested that his address and name be brought to the paper office.

Many service men, including several who are stationed in Vietnam, have written to the editor of The Plains Record telling of their appreciation for receiving their home town newspaper.

CAYCE'S CORNER

The tip of the hat in the Corner goes to Postmaster Jack Hayes this week for his hard work and fine planning which he devoted to the Football Banquet. Jack decorated the cafeteria and arranged for most of the details himself. The program was one of the best ever presented in Plains. Major Wilson Knapp brought a message which was received with warmest feelings. Its a pity that about 25,000 students at a place called Cal didn't hear it out Berkeley way.

Pete St.Romain has some real fine advice about using the telephone in his as which appears just below this column. Instead of me giving it to my kids, I intend to clip it out and hand it to Ann. If there is a hospital bill in store for me, I will send it to Pete.

Bowers Liquefied Gas is planning their formal opening Saturday in their new building. The domino table will be ready and Dan Houck and Wally Teaf want to have one of Joe Curry's washer games in the back shop, so plan to stop off and say hello to Dan and Wally and get some refreshments Saturday. I intend to pitch a few washers down there myself.

Preston Barrett has been named to fill the vacancy at the First Christian Church in Plains. Preston lives in Lubbock and is taking a leave of absence from the ministry but will preach on Sunday mornings and will be in Plains two Sunday nights a month. Wednesday night services are again scheduled regularly at the Christian Church. Many people in Plains know Preston. He represented the Christian Church at the Easter services in the park this year.

Most people in town were glad to hear about the dog ordinance, but I wonder what Buck Price thought. Because he is the one who not only catches the dogs, but a few cussings and might even be in danger from buck-shot or a rolling pin. Good Luck Buck!

Please cut this notice out, paste it to a piece of card board of the same size and place it visibly near the telephones.

NOTICE

This telephone is not a toy. It is vital and important to this whole family. No one under 21 shall talk longer than 5 minutes at any one time. No dialing back. If you hear someone else trying to get the line, you will finish your conversation and hang up immediately.

Pursuit of Happiness

George liked opium. When police arrested him on a narcotics charge, George showed up in court with an unusual defense:

"I stand on my constitutional rights. I am entitled to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. This happens to be my way of pursuing happiness."

But the court found him guilty anyhow, because the protection of his health—whether he liked it or not—was a legitimate concern of the government.

Actually, the phrase "pursuit of happiness" does not appear in the federal constitution at all. It was used by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence.

Nevertheless, by judicial interpretation (and by the constitutional provisions of many states), it is now included among the basic rights of us all. So George was correct in claiming that the right existed.

But George was not correct in thinking that it had no limits. Letting people break windows, rob banks, or set fires, just because it made them happy, would surely turn organized society into chaos.

Furthermore, all too often, one man's pleasure is another man's woe. As an old legal adage puts it: "Your right to swing your fist ends where my nose begins."

For this reason, the courts have always held that the pursuit of happiness cannot override the proper functions of government. Not only matters of health but also of safety, public order, and general welfare are within the government's realm.

But by no means is "pursuit of happiness" merely an empty phrase. It symbolizes the principle that, unless there are good grounds for governmental interference, the individual may indeed choose his own path.

For example: A state law was passed, setting up burdensome licensing requirements for a person to become a professional photographer. But in a test case, the court held the law invalid as an unconstitutional roadblock to the pursuit of happiness.

"The happiness referred to," said one judge, "may consist in many things or depend on many circumstances, but it unquestionably includes the right of the citizen to follow his individual preference in the choice of an occupation."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

This is the story of the house that Jack tried to build but couldn't because he lacked jack.

It seems Jack the builder made the annual trip to the bank for a construction loan, but was given the brush. He couldn't believe his ears. The bankers actually told him they didn't have enough cash to lend him this week, but to try again next Monday.

The bankers blamed the shortage on the Federal Reserve System. Seems the Federal Reserve had decided the best way to guard against inflation was by making borrowing plenty tough—and expensive.

Next week Jack tried again, and this time was assured by the bankers that he could get his loan—but interest rates had been slightly elevated. The new rate, he was informed, had been raised to umpteen percent! Angriily, Jack grabbed for his blueprints and fled the money-changers.

Down the block, Jack encountered fellow home-builders Bill and Jeff. They related similar tales of woe: of how plans for constructing dream houses were really dreams this year what with the astronomical bank interest rates for borrowing in effect. They told Jack about poor Ralph the lumberman who was stuck with all his cut timber that would only be utilized by woodpeckers.

"The bank doesn't even offer the highest interest rate on savings any more," lamented Jack. "Their top is 5 1/2%."

I hear X Fund offers higher interest rates than the banks, and is growing like crazy," exclaimed Jeff.

So the three builders rushed to the bank, withdrew their savings, and invested in shares of X Company.

But the big problem still remained: what would they do with their now-non-existent careers in construction?

"Well," sighed Bill, "the Federal Government is expanding like Gargantua with lots of Great Society programs being carried out nationally, and overseas..."

"Spending money like a drunken sailor on a spree," agreed Jeff.

"I guess we might as well join the Feds, it's no use trying to fight 'em," said Jack resignedly. So, regretfully, Jack and his pals joined hands with the Great Society. Jack was assigned to the Peace Corps and shipped to Honduras where he is constructing grass huts for the natives. He doesn't have to worry about bank loans or interest any more since Uncle Sam is footing the bill.

I'm sure the towns people would like to thank the F.H.A. Girls and F.F.A. Boys for their caroling last Saturday night. They all seemed to have an enjoyable time caroling and then to the Home Ec Department for refreshments. Gang, it was kind of cold, wasn't it?

The band is busy working on their music for the Christmas Concert. The concert is December 20 and then the Band is to go out to the Jones's for their Christmas Dance. I want to encourage all to come to the concert. I think it will be very enjoyable.

We have a bandmen that went to Midland last Saturday for 'All District' try outs, Donna Williams. Donna came home with a position in the AAA Band. We want to congratulate her on her good work.

Every morning at 7:45 about 16 High School kids meet in the band room for 'Stage Band' rehearsal. The Stage Band will play at all home basketball games starting the 19th. I think the 'Stage Band' will prove to boost 'School Spirit'.

The Cowboys Basketball Team came home with consolation from the tournament at Cohoma last week. Come on Cowboy's let's be 'No 1'. Think State!!!

The Football Banquet was last Tuesday night, December 13. All present seemed to have an enjoyable time.

Another deadline is due Friday, so the annual staff has been busy as beavers trying to get out the amount of pages due. The question is, 'will we make it?'

Some of the clubs have expressed their thanks to the following students for presenting the programs for Christmas, Suzanne St.Romain, Cathy Anderson, Donna Williams, and Robert Fields. It is always good for High School students to use their talents.

Well in just a few days 'Jolly of St.Nick' will be here. Everyone, teachers included, are counting the days till Christmas vacation starts. All look forward to this time of the year. We want to ask everyone to please, be careful during the holidays. 'Safety is the best policy.'

"Pity The Poor Editor"
 'Twas the night before deadline,
 and way through my head
 I hunted in vain
 For bits I had read.
 Not a thought was stirring.....
 My brain was off duty,
 Quite cold for the night.
 Backward, turn backward,
 A time in the flight,
 And make deadline sometime
 A week from tonight.

Dear Readers,

I have heard several people mention some needed more manners and such. To be sure they aren't talking about you lets 'Sound off with Gratitude'. Here are ten simple ways with the words 'thank you' with a smile with a charming note, honestly expressed with returned hospitality with a toy for the younger sister or brother with a tiny gift....amusing, clever or useful with a short message delivered in person or by mail with words of appreciation to the parents or person who invited you with flowers after....or before.. a dinner or visit with attention and your best manners.

Two Holiday Flavors - One Lovely Pie

The rich, dark colors of cranberries and mince blend under this flaky, lattice crust for a visual dessert treat. Simply combine prepared, whole cranberry sauce and mince-meat with brown sugar and grated orange rind to make this sweet-tart filling with a holiday air. If you want to gild the lily, serve with a hard sauce. Easy, quick, but memorably delicious!

CRANBERRY-MINCE PIE

2 cups sifted enriched flour* 4 to 6 tablespoons cold water
 1 teaspoon salt
 2/3 cup shortening

Sift together flour and salt into mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until pieces are size of small peas. Sprinkle with water, a little at a time, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out onto lightly floured board or pastry cloth and press together; divide in half. Roll out half of dough to circle 1/2-inch thick; fit gently into 9-inch pie pan. Trim pastry even with rim of pan. Roll out remaining dough for top crust. Pour Cranberry-Mince Filling into pastry shell; moisten edge of pastry. Arrange top pastry over filling; seal edge. Bake in preheated 425° oven, 35 to 40 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool on wire rack.

CRANBERRY-MINCE FILLING

1 1-pound can whole cranberry sauce 1/4 cup brown sugar
 1 1/2 cups mince-meat 1 1/2 teaspoons grated orange rind

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly.
 *If you don't sift and in absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one-cup dry measure, level off, then remove two tablespoonfuls according to USDA recommendations.
 NOTE: If self-rising flour is used, omit salt.

Pearls, Pearls

Did you ever see a crown worth $100,000.00? Jim Bayless has the famous Imperial Cultured Pearl Crown on display at Bayless jewelry Store in Brownfield this week. The crown has 329 diamonds and 171 pearls in it, and the largest pearl weighs 56 grains. The crown is on loan from Imperial Pearl Syndicate of Chicago, and armed guards are the store where it is being shown to insure the safety of the crown.
Bayless is celebrating their 20th anniversary this month and pearls are their theme. The largest selection of pearls in any West Texas town is on display at Bayless during the week.
In showing the crown and the other pearls to the editor of the Record, Bayless explained that to his knowledge his pearl show is the biggest one in the history of the area. The Brownfield jeweler invited his Plains friends to come to see the crown and the pearl selection this week. The picture of the crown is found on another page in this issue of The Record.
