Firemen Banquet Honors Go to Bob McDonnell

H.G. Bob McDonnell was named fireman of the year at the annual Fireman's Banquet held at Alma's Cafe Monday night. About 50 people attended the banquet and saw the special award presented to McDonnell who recently received his 30 year pin for working with the state highway department. Jim Barnett, last year's Fireman of the Year, presented the award to McDonnell, who in turn extended his appreciation to his fellow firemen for extending the honor to him. The annual presentation is considered one of the top honors that a resident of Plains can receive.

Those attending the program heard Fire Chief Lee Dent, Hale Center, present the program for the banquet. Chief Dent showed films of the destructive tornado which hit that west Texas town last year. After the tornado destroyed Hale Center Plains sent a fire truck to be used by the Hale Center Department. Since that time a warm friendship has developed between the two fire departments. This is the second program that Chief Dent has given in Plains within the past year. McDonnell expressed his appreciation for the Fireman of the Year Award, and said he will strive to continue to be a better fireman.

Plains Pickle Patch To Pump $150,000 Into Area Economy

Doyle Newsom, president of the Plains Chamber of Commerce, announced that 600 acres of cucumbers have been secured in the area by Morton Food Company for this year which will pump an additional $150,000.00 into the economy of the county. The Chamber spokesman said last year we had 200 acres and it meant $55,000.00 to our economy, and with our experience the crops should be considerably better this year.

The Chamber president and Bill Loyd, president of the Plains State Bank, went to Dallas last week to meet with Morton Company officials for the cucumbers.

Nelson Parkhill, Morton representative for the area met with farmers in Plains at the D.C. Newsom Gin last week and seemed encouraged with the interest shown by the farmers present.

Newsom seemed happy over the amount of acreage which was secured for cucumbers. It is three times the amount which was given local farmers last year.

If there are any questions on the cucumbers the Chamber president said he would be happy to try to answer them.

A total of 15 farmers agreed to take the 600 acres of cucumbers this year. The following people signed for the 600 acres:

E.O. Winkles, 70; M.E. Welch, 80; Alex Cross, 50; Bob Loe, 80; D.M. Taylor, 25; Jack Spears, 30; Carl Spears, 20; Alfred Reynolds, 50; Dickie Green, 60;

Jim Barron, 30; J.M. Deering, 20; Roy McGehee, 25; Jack Palmer, 30; Kenneth Hale, 15, and Harry Cayce, 10.

The Chamber spokesman hailed the cucumber crop as a boost in the arm to our economy which has been sick. He continued in saying that this is a good money crop and shows that we can have diversified crops in our county.

Bill Loyd, Plains banker, was also optimistic about the boost that the cucumbers will give to the community.

Other Chambers members expressed their appreciation to Newsom and Loyd for taking the time and putting out the effort to get the cucumbers for Plains.

Bank To Pay Entries

The Plains State Bank will make a cash contribution to each exhibitor in the 1967 junior Fat Stock Show. They will pay $5.00 to beef calf exhibitors, $3.00 to barrow exhibitors and $2.50 to lamb exhibitors. Each exhibitor will receive a cash award on the one animal which pays the largest amount. This total has been figured and the amount of cash premiums paid by the Plains State bank will amount to $232.50. Chicks for these premiums will be handed out at the Annual Meeting of the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Association in March. The bank has been doing this for several years in order to help each exhibitor rather than buying animals at the sale and being able to help only a few.

The cash premiums paid by the association will amount to $700.00 and this award will be added to the check when the association pays for the animals.

Plains Woman Forgery Victim

A Plains woman says she was victimized by a forger at stores in Lubbock. Mrs. Wendell Norman reported to the editor of The Plains Record that she was confronted by authorities last week-end and was served papers charging her with issuing two worthless checks.

Mrs. Norman said she surrendered at the sheriff's office in Lubbock and was told that she could post $500.00 bond or that he would be forced to put her in jail until her trail.

Mrs. Norman said her baby was with her and that she did not have $500.00, so she called a lawyer.

She said that she had lost her billfold last spring and it had her identification papers in it. Mrs. Norman reported she asked to see the checks that she was alleged to have written after her hearing last Monday where she pled not guilty and that the county attorney in Lubbock showed her the two hot checks that Mrs. Norman was alleged to have written. Mrs. Norman said she discovered that the checks were on a bank where she does not do business, and that another address other than her own was given and the signature was forged. Mrs. Norman said her drivers license number was

Sen. Tower

More Effort in Viet Nam

Fellow Texans, this is your United States Senator, John Tower, bringing you the first of my regular reports for this 1967 session of Congress.

I have delayed the beginning of this series of reports until today because, as you probably know, I've been overseas in Southeast Asia for the better part of February on another inspection trip for the Armed Services Committee. I wanted this first report to be an assessment for you of just what the situation is now in Vietnam.

I visited with our officers and men, not just in South Vietnam but throughout South east Asia, including Thailand, Taiwan and South Korea. I purposely went to Hong Kong where we maintain our best listening post on the internal happenings of Red China. And, I found clear evidence that our over-all American policy of helping develop and persevere viable, free buffer states on Red China's borders is meeting with success. We are severely inhibiting Red China's aggressive tendencies. She is now far less able than years past to interfere in the affairs of smaller Asian nations.

On the basis of what I saw and learned last month, I believe this is a perfect time for us to intensify our efforts for victory against the North Vietnamese without fear of serious Red Chinese action. We are winning the struggle in Vietnam.

But, we can win much more rapidly by an intensification of our military pressure. I firmly believe that we must apply unrelenting pressure on the Viet Cong and on North Vietnam. As one officer bluntly told me, 'We are winning the war, the question is how fast do we do it.'

Now, when the advantages ours, certainly is not the time to relax the pressure on the communist North.

Letting up of allied military pressure now would be dangerously tragic. I hope all Texans will understand that every step in our military effort during a truce period must eventually be paid for with American lives.

A five-day truce may mean that our boys are not being shot at for five days, but let every American understand that it also means our boys will for months after that truce face a stronger enemy who is shooting bullets and living on supplies brought in during the truce.

I stood with one grim Marine officer near the border between North and South Vietnam as we looked at air photos of a steady stream of trucks, safe from our air attack because of the truce, bringing arms, ammunition and equipment to the North Vietnamese soldiers stationed opposite the Marine's camp.

'Take a good look, senator,' he said, 'those trucks mean more dead Marines.'

During the 'TET' truce our enemy brought to his forces between 35,000 and 70,000 tons of supplies. He wiped out 30 days of interdiction bombing effort on our part. An American pilot told me the roadways toward South Vietnam looked like U.S. turnpikes on a holiday weekend.

By granting this 'holiday' despite clear evidence all along that he did not intend to honor the truce by seeking peace, we prolonged the war.

We should have no more such truces until the North shows a prior willingness to use the

CAYCE'S CORNER

Modern day living causes us to take much in the stride, and last week when the water was turned off for a few minutes Plains residents reacted in different ways with out the time tested necessity of water running out of the little tap in almost every home in Plains.

One of the best ones goes something like this:

A certain lady, and we won't call her name because everybody in town knows her and the editor still would like to keep his scalp for a few days, so he will keep her name a military secret. So for the record let us call her Mrs. Concerned. It seems like Mrs. Concerned had just put a rinse on her hair and the instructions stated the hair conditioning could only stay on for three minutes. Mrs. Concerned turned that tap, and sure enough, no water. She became desperate and finally resorted to improvisations which were indeed impressive. She used the water from the tank on the commode to get the rinse out of her hair. There is one thing about it, she probably didn't need any cologne because toilet water is indeed sweet to the smell.

Let us take the case of Needmore Showerwater. He had just soaped himself up befitting a fine soap commercial when the water gave a mighty spurt, and then a trickle, and then a gurggle before going off. The irate bather phoned the city hall wanting to know about the water. We are still waiting to hear the results of the conversation. I am sure this was one of the days when Roy McGehee and Betty Livesay were hoping it was all a bad dream. Roy and Betty earn their pay checks and on days like these they probably feel like they should have taken annual leave.

Back to the lathered brother .... We don't know how long it took to wash the soap off, but our suggestion is for him to use a bubble bath instead of the shower. Then he could play the old record called 'I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles'.

There were no doubt scores of other incidents worth relating, but alas, perhaps we have told enough.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Through the Loophole

No doubt about it: the case was a shocker. A city alderman had been caught taking a bribe. But when he was brought to trial, it turned out that there was a loophole in the state's criminal code. By mistake, the code failed to make this particular action a crime.

So the alderman went free. As speedily as possible, the state legislature passed a new law closing the loophole. But as far as the alderman was concerned, it was too late. He had slipped safely through the law's clutches.

Does that make sense? Should the court let a man "get away with it" just because of a loophole in the law?

We have to start with one blunt fact: no law is perfect, with no loopholes at all. Human wisdom cannot foresee all the possible variations of conduct that may arise in the course of time.

Still, when a mistake in the law is so obvious, shouldn't the court stretch a point in the interest of justice? For example, in the alderman's case the court might have said:

"Loophole or no loophole, this fellow has done a wrong thing and must be punished."

The trouble is, a court simply does not have that power under our constitutional system. Judges may interpret laws, but not make them. In the words of the United States Supreme Court:

"It is the legislature, not the court, which is to define a crime and ordain its punishment."

To be sure, there is harm in letting a wrongdoer escape the punishment he deserves. But in the process, he gives society vital information—just as the escaping fish shows the fisherman where his net needs patching.

And closing even a single loophole in the law may have far-reaching consequences. Thus:

A flour company in New York once used a society girl's picture in its ads without asking for her permission. When she sued, the court could find nothing in the law that forbade such unwanted publicity. The girl's suit was dismissed.

In short order, the state legislature closed the loophole with a new law. And, as it turned out, this law was the cornerstone of one of the most significant legal developments of our times.

It was, in fact, the first "right of privacy" law in history.

Along Foggy Bottom the debate rages over whether the nation can afford both guns and butter.

But probably Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa is wondering whether or not first of all there should be considered if the nation can afford guns for Vietnam and also afford buttering up the butter.

He points out that during the recent Christmas holidays, War on Poverty Generalissimo Sargeant Shriver arranged for some 8,000 Job Corps to spend the holidays at home.

This was done, the Congressmen reports, by furnishing these school drop-outs with all expense paid trips home from all over the nation. Some went by regular airliner, and in addition 20 luxury airliners were chartered for the purpose. When the airplane could not get close to the home community, the War on Poverty just furnished bus transportation.

The tab for this little gesture, he reports, was a mere $1,200,000, which is only equal to somewhere around the entire income taxes paid by 1200 families whose taxable income runs around $5,000 per year. Thus, it is quite simple to see why

Guns and butter, are one thing. But guns, butter and whipped cream, too, becomes another matter.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Along Foggy Bottom the debate rages over whether the nation can afford both guns and butter.

But probably Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa is wondering whether or not first of all there should be considered if the nation can afford guns for Vietnam and also afford buttering up the butter.

He points out that during the recent Christmas holidays, War on Poverty Generalissimo Sargeant Shriver arranged for some 8,000 Job Corps to spend the holidays at home.

This was done, the Congressmen reports, by furnishing these school drop-outs with all expense paid trips home from all over the nation. Some went by regular airliner, and in addition 20 luxury airliners were chartered for the purpose. When the airplane could not get close to the home community, the War on Poverty just furnished bus transportation.

The tab for this little gesture, he reports, was a mere $1,200,000, which is only equal to somewhere around the entire income taxes paid by 1200 families whose taxable income runs around $5,000 per year. Thus, it is quite simple to see why

Guns and butter, are one thing. But guns, butter and whipped cream, too, becomes another matter.

Savor The Flavor

Bell Boy is a new sweet pepper with uniform fruits on vigorous, disease-resistant plants.

Count the fruits on this plant of Spring Giant tomato, an All-American Selections winner.

The chief reason for growing vegetables in the home garden is the difference in flavor between fresh-picked, fully-ripe produce you have grown and that which you buy in the market — picked days before, ripened (or not) en route to be sold.

Another reason is the improved flavor of the newer varieties. Thus the two new vegetables which won All-American Selections awards for 1967 are of special interest to gardeners for the judges' decisions to honor them were based partly on superior flavor.

Spring Giant tomato is considered of excellent eating quality. The walls of the 7 to 8 ounce fruits are thick, the flesh meaty and bright deep red. Bell Boy pepper not only has good eating qualities but also colors red earlier than many other peppers, thus pleasing the cook of the family.

Both new varieties are first generation hybrids with the vigorous growth and heavy production that their breeding produces. Spring Giant is exceptionally heavy yielding with scarlet, globular fruits maturing early in the tomato season. It is resistant to both of the common "wilt" diseases of tomatoes, verticillium and fusarium.

Bell Boy forms plants from 18 to 24 inches tall; is a sweet bell pepper with uniform fruits concentrated at the crown of the plant. It, too, is disease-resistant — to the tobacco mosaic virus.

These new vegetables can be grown among your flowers if you do not have a vegetable garden. They are beautiful to look at and a few plants of each occupy but little space. Order seeds early if you wish to grow these varieties this year for seeds of All-American Selections award winners always are in short supply because of heavy demand from home gardeners.

Assembly of God Holds Revival

Rev. and Mrs. David Watson of San Antonio, Texas will be the Evangelist for a week long revival at the Assembly of God Church, starting Wednesday night, March 1st and continuing through March 8.

This young couple are talented musician's and singers, having wonderful success as ### Evangelists.

David was an outstanding Basketball player and sought by several colleges, but feeling the call of God upon his life, chose full time ministerial work.

Services each evening at 7:30 p.m. Pastor H.A. Tarkington gives all a special invitation to attend.

Texas traffic will kill some 3,500 persons in 1967, unless something is done about it, according to "Texans for Traffic Safety." One thing that can be done is to update the driver license law which was written in 1941, as proposed by Governor Connally. The present law contains "loopholes" through which flagrant and dangerous law violators can retain a legal license to drive.

Texas should have three times as many Highway Patrolmen as it does to patrol the vast network of state highways, according to nationwide standards. Governor Connally is going to ask the Legislature to make a substantial increase in the Highway Patrol force and provide adequate salaries to attract and keep qualified men--and "Texans for Traffic Safety" is actively supporting the proposal.

Tsa Mo Ga Sponsors Good Will Store

The Tso Mo Ga Club of Plains feels there is a real need in our community for used clothing, household accessories, discarded furnishings, bedding, sewing scraps or yardage, etc. that could be made available to our families of low income. Our club is interested in sponsoring such a project as a community service and is soliciting the cooperation of all thevarious civic, service, social, church groups, or individuals not associated with any particular organization to participate on a community wide basis.

We feel that almost every household in our community has many items of useable clothing and other household goods, for which they have no further use and would be glad to donate.

There is a room available for this purpose at the Spanish mission. The Spanish pastor and his wife are willing to assume the responsibility of dispensing the clothing, of keeping the room open certain hours, possibly one day a week. This day and time will be publicized for those having need of such a service.

In contacting these people we are also sending out a questionnaire in Spanish, making inquiry as to how many mothers would be interested in learning simple sewing, altering and remaking used clothing, meal planning and other ways of taking better care of their families in exchange for use of the resources of the clothing room. If enough interest is shown, our County Home Demonstration agent will conduct this type of workshop. The Spanish mission will cooperate by operating a nursery for the small children while the mothers are thus occupied. Many details will need to be worked out as we progress but these will be done under the supervision of responsible people.

Will you give this matter your serious consideration and agree to participate in this community service by donating to this cause? If you have any suggestions we would be glad to have them. We feel it will take the combined effort of everyone in the community to make this project a success. Donations are needed immediately. Call the committee chairman or any club member and we will make arrangements to pick up your donations or they may be left at the Elementary principal's office in Plains.

truce in good faith to seek settlement.

I am firmly convinced that our Administration is strongly and faithfully seeking peace. But, I think continual, unformed, public calls for peace, by Americans both of official and private, damage our cause. Our determined peace efforts must proceed secretly if there is to be any hope of success.

Continued calls here at home for such things as an end to U.S. bombing, without a Communist end to anything, do nothing but convince the enemy that, if he will just fight a little longer, we will quit, surrender Asia to him, and go home to wait until he chooses to attack us again someplace closer to Hawaii.

I believe we are close to convincing this enemy that he cannot win. Therefore, I hope we will intensify our efforts against him. We should bomb all military targets, wherever located. We should close his Haiphong supply port to cut off his sea supply land just as we are seeking to close off his rail supplies by bombings.

The enemy is determinedly trying to close the harbor at Saigon by attacking our ships there and putting mines in the channels. We should do the same to him at Haiphong. If we can stop-up that source of his supply, we will have gone a long way to ward compelling early peace talks.

Odd Story Told

Often editors receive stories of historical or local color significance. This week Frank Upton brought such a story to the editor of The Record. Upton said that his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lena Upton, had always wondered what had happened to her grandfather, who served with the Confederate Army during the Civil War. A few years ago she found a book in Colorado which carried stories of Western Bad Men and Civil War incidents in Texas. In this book she discovered the fate of her grandfather.

Frank Upton visited the grave which will be told in detail in the story, because 7 men are buried at the spot. The grave is in Bandera Co., Texas and Upton said that it is in excellent condition with a new fence and a marker which he recognized to be an L.O.O.F. Tombstone.

The Story as told to the editor follows:

In 1863, eight men and a boy left Williamson County, Texas to go to Mexico. They were Confederate soldiers at home on a forty day furlough, and decided that they had had enough of the Civil War strife. They passed through Bandera, the small County seat of Bandera County, and stopped long enough to buy some supplies. Confederate troops at Camp Verde, twelve miles north of Bandera, followed these men to a point below Hondo, where they were overtaken and arrested, and brought back to the Julian Creek, two miles southeast of Bandera, where they were hanged, one man at a time, with a horsehair rope. A major Alexander directed the hanging of these men. It is said they possessed $900.00 in money and several good horses, which Alexander and his party appropriated. The next day a group of Bandera citizens went out and buried the bodies of the eight men in one grave. The boy's life was spared. The lonely grave is now in a dense thicket in what is known as the Frank Pyka pasture. It is marked by a marble headstone which bears the names of the murdered men, as follows: C.J. Sawyer; W. M. Sawyer; George Thayer; William Shumate; Jack Whitmire; Jake Kyle; John Smart; Mr. Vanwinkle. Died July 25, 1863.' This inscription appears below the names. 'Remember, friends, as you pass by, as you are now so once was I. As I am now you soon will be; prepare for death and follow me'. After the civil war ended, and courts were again functioning some of the men engaged in the hanging of these unfortunate men were indicted by a Bandera County Grand jury, but none were ever brought to trial.

Stock Show Record Report

The 1967 junior Fat Stock Show and Sale, the fifteenth since the organization of the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Association, was another great success. The total sales was the lowest since 1954 when 62 animals sold for $9,700.62. The total sales, however, is not the best figure to use when comparing one sale with another. The average price paid per pound does not reveal the whole truth because market values go up and down. The floor price or market value of the animals has not been recorded but average prices have been kept and are available for fourteen of the fifteen sales. The average price of $39.34 paid for calves in 1967 was higher than ten previous sales and lower than three. The 1967 average of $32.35 for barrows was higher than three and lower than ten. Lambs averaged selling for $60.39 in 1967 which was higher than five and lower than seven.

Two records were set at the fifteenth annual event. The thirty eight lambs exceeded the previous record by one. There were thirty seven lambs in 1959, 1964 and 1965. The 88 barrows exceeded the previous record of seventyseven set in 1961. The total number of one hundred forty one animals is the second largest exceeded only by 1961 when one hundred forty six head passed through the show and sale. Total sales go up rapidly when more calves are in the show and the 1967 show set a new record low with only fifteen calves. The highest number of calves on record was in 1956 when fifty head of beef steers were in the competition. All available records of average prices and total sales are listed below.

'You and Conservation'

By C.M. Thompson
 What are your conservation plans for 1967? Do you have any? I bet you have made some economic or money plans if you haven't you soon will. Plans for land use, cropland or grassland it makes no difference can mean profit or loss to you your family, the community and to future generations. Conservation Plans they are important, they should be written and carried out with pride. They are blue prints for what cost the lives of our forefathers who in many cases made the supreme sacrifice for what we take for granted so often today. Well that may sound a little strong to some but did you know we are only 6 inches from a desert? Soil Scientist tell us that on the average if 6 inches of top soil were removed from the surface of all of our great state it would become a great desert with fine highways leading all over but producing very little. We need to protect and conserve our greater heritage not for conservation's sake or because some one says so but because it makes good sense. From our soil will come our food and fiber at least for the next several generations that is provided we are good stewards. Crop Residue Management is something we can do, we don't have to buy it or wait for a rain to come. We must plan ahead if we are to have ample amounts, that is we cannot plant too late or over graze after we harvest a grain crop and have all the land needs for protection. We can manage for maximum protection or we can miss manage by shredding and plowing and grazing thus creating a blow hazard and moisture loss. If we have a conservation crop rotation established on our farm we will have a large part of our total acreage covered with sufficient crop residue to get the job done.

Salmon Showmanship

by Betty Crocker

Whether you're serving salmon for party fare or everyday ways — go on pretty it up. With Alaskan steaks or filets, lemon butter is fancy: 1/4 cup of hot, melted butter with 2 tablespoons lemon juice and 1 teaspoon grated peel. For red salmon, cold from the can — garnish with parsley or lemon wedges. Or lemon slices sprinkled with minced pimiento or green pepper. To dress up a salmon loaf — surround with grapefruit sections or thick slices of cuke. For salmon sandwich filling — add sweet pickle, chopped celery and mayonnaise. And to convert canned salmon into winter's main dishes, see my recipes below. Easy, nutritious, low in calories.

DEEP DISH SALMON-CHEESE PIE

- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup Bisquick
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese (4 ounces)
- 1 can (1 pound) salmon, drained and broken into large pieces
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- Biscuit Topping (below)

Heat oven to 450°. Cook and stir onion in butter until tender. Remove from heat; blend in Bisquick. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture is bubbly. Remove from heat. Stir in milk. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute.

Stir in cheese, salmon, salt and pepper. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole; heat in oven until mixture bubbles. Top with Biscuit Topping. Bake about 15 minutes or until topping is brown. 4 to 6 servings.

Biscuit Topping: Add 1/4 cup milk to 1 cup Bisquick all at once; stir with fork into a soft dough. Beat dough vigorously 20 strokes, until stiff and slightly sticky. Roll dough around on cloth-covered board lightly dusted with flour to prevent sticking. Pat or roll to fit top of baking dish. Cut 2 or 3 slits in center.

For a Salmon Bake that's quick, try this. Heat oven to 400°. Empty 1 can (1 pound) salmon into greased baking dish. Break apart, removing skin and bones. Sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter. Cut 1 lemon in-

Green Thumb Tips

Winter is the time to prepare for spring — and summer. One thing the gardener can do to help make his work easier is to get together all the hand tools, clean and sharpen those that need it and then paint the handles of all yellow or orange. Why these colors? They've been proven most likely to be seen.

Sharpen your pencil, put on your thinking cap and prepare to spend a few winter evenings looking over the current crop of seed catalogs. But do restrain your enthusiasm and remember the space available for planting. No one can grow every beautiful flower, every luscious vegetable in a single garden.

Do you know how to examine a seed catalog? The novelties are in the front of almost every book. Then come the older varieties, both flowers and vegetables, then the accessories if the firm carries them. Somewhere in the catalog is an order form. Be sure to fill it out completely.

to thin slices; place on salmon. Cover; bake 20 minutes. 4 to 6 servings.

Add a green vegetable. Fruit salad for dessert (banana slices, canned apricot halves). And there you are — a string of good ideas for simple salmon suppers.
