TEXAS HOSPITALS NEED NURSES

Texas today begins celebration of National Hospital Week with but one shadow darkening medicine's shining future in the state — the shortage of nurses.

Texas needs 3,800 more registered nurses now. And within five years, the 11,000 RN's working in the state's 556 hospitals must be upped more than 60 per cent.

These are the findings of a survey conducted by a leading medical equipment producer.

The Texas situation is far from unique and its causes follow a familiar pattern:

Increasing population creating a steady demand for more nurses.

High School graduates discouraged from entering the profession by low salaries.

Shortage of physicians forcing new duties on nurses, cutting down time spent with patients.

Texas — along with the rest of the country — is apparently losing the battle to produce the increasing number of nurses needed. Inadequate nursing, a cause for concern today, could be disastrous in the event of a major civil defense emergency, experts have compensated with practical nurses. The NCG survey shows that the hospitals want to add 1,800 more to the 7,900 now employed. And in five years more than 11,900 practical nurses will be needed in these institutions.

Steps aimed at correcting the situation include higher pay, creation of programs to interest students in nursing, possible federal nursing scholarships, winning "retired" students.

Says Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.), "Our national supply of doctors and nurses — especially the latter — must be strengthened if we are to meet the demands of the times, if we are to be adequately prepared for the possible needs of a civil defense emergency, if we are to meet the health needs of an ever-growing nation."

75 per cent of all hurricane deaths are drowning.

PUBLIC INVITED TO ANNUAL MEETING OF CANCER SOCIETY

The public has been invited to hear Dr. James W. Finney speak on cancer at the annual meeting and election of officers Thursday, May 17, at 7:30 p. m. in the annex of the Eastland First Christian Church.

Dr. Finney, assistant chief of cancer research for Baylor University Medical Center, Dallas, will present a 25-minute report on research, demonstrating the procedure from the inception of the program leading to the ultimate application to the cancer patient. Color slides will be used as illustrations.

He received a BA degree in Bacteriology and a minor in organic chemistry from the University of Texas in 1955 and a MA in Microbiology and minor in Physiology with training in immuno-chemistry and radiation, 1955-57. He has done Microbiologist research at the VA Hospitals in McKinney and Dallas, and at present he is an instructor in Microbiology, Baylor University Dental School, Dallas.

Dr. Finney has worked with teams on the studies in tumor auto-immunity; research in host resistance to tumors; methods of induction and demonstration of auto-immunity in cancer patients.

Dr. Finney is one in a team of three men doing research with hydrogen peroxide as a cure for certain cancers. The hydrogen peroxide used in the treatment is the same sort of solution women use to bleach their hair. For the cancer therapy, it is "infused" in the tumor for about 40 minutes, and during the last five minutes, radiation

National Guard Unit Is First To Fire Honest John

FORT POLK, La.—West Texas' 3rd Rocket Howitzer Battalion of the 49th Armored Division, now on duty at Fort Polk, has become the first National Guard outfit to fire the nuclear-capable Honest John rocket without regular Army supervision.

The firing unit from the battalion, Battery D of San Angelo, Texas, recently sent the training missile straight into the target area from a distance of 16,000 meters, or approximately 10 miles.

Lt. Col. Otto Scherz, battalion commander who was given the honor of pressing the firing button, praised the entire battalion for the project. The battalion, part of the 132nd Artillery, has units in Big Spring, Breckenridge, Cisco and Ranger in addition to San Angelo.

Battery D is considered the "nuclear arm" of the 49th and it furnishes the firing crew for the 762 mm Honest John. The missile is a short-range field artillery general support weapon, according to Capt. Herman N. Wisenteiner, Battery D commander.

Warheads that can be used with the Honest John include nuclear, fragmentation, chemical, as well as practice types. The missile is a free-flight, solid propellant missile fired from a rail-type launcher against ground targets.
