

ASC Says File Now

According to W. M. Overton, local ASCS office manager, Yoakum County cotton farmers that are prevented from planting cotton until after June 10th, due to natural disaster, such as drought, may file a request with their ASCS County Committee to have the land that would have been planted to cotton, released to be planted to other crops, such as soy beans, sweet sorghums, etc. If approved the other crops may be harvested, cotton price support payment made and cotton history preserved.

In the above case the land that would have been planted to cotton cannot be planted to feed grains and payments made and history credit preserved.

Cotton farmers that have their cotton planted and it is destroyed by hail or other disaster and they cannot re-plant until after June 10th may request that the cotton land be released for other uses and if approved the land planted to cotton may be planted to soy beans, sweet sorghums, etc., including feed grains and the cotton price support payment will be made and history preserved.

Cotton farmers that find themselves in either of the above situations and do not want to plant cotton after June 10th should file a release request soon after the June 10th date and before other crops are planted.

Rain, Hail Hit Area Farmers

Heavy rains and hail continued to pelt the area east of Plains and the city of Brownfield was near flood conditions over the week-end. Water was standing in the fields near Tokio. The area of western Yoakum County received spotted rain on the week-end while some of the Western part of the county received only traces of rain.

Over the South Plains experts said that the cotton picture was similar to that which existed in 1959 when the crops were threatened. In 1959 the farmers recovered in what seemed to be a year of disaster to go on to make good crops. Agricultural people are hoping this would be the case in 1967.

Many farmers were reported to be in the fields planting crops after the rains. Ranchers west of Plains still termed the condition of pasture land as being poor. Prospects for more thunderstorms continued to exist at press time.

Calvin Smith To Boys State

Calvin Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith of Plains, is preparing to leave for Austin as the Plains delegate to Boys State. Calvin is an outstanding athlete at P. H. S. where he lettered in basketball and track. He also plays baseball in the summer. Young Smith is a member of the Assembly of God Church in Plains.

Smith will be with seven hundred and fifty other high school boys who will be representing their schools from throughout the state when American Legion Boys State commences its annual activities June 10, 1967, Jack W. Flynn, Department Commander has announced.

The popular Legion program will be in session on the Campus of the University of Texas from June 10 to June 17, Commander Flynn said. Sessions will move to the State Capitol on Friday, June 16, where the newly elected officials will govern for the day.

The first Boys State program was held in Austin, June 10, 1940, with 108 boys attending. The program has steadily grown in size until the present ceiling was reached in 1965.

Boys State in Texas can be thought of as a mythical 51st state, where each citizen participates in the program of 'learning by doing.' When a boy arrives at Boys State, knowing no one and little more about Boys State itself, and works himself up to holding a state office, he can truthfully and honestly say he has learned by doing.

The American Legion in forty-nine states will sponsor Boys States where boys who have just completed their junior year in high school will study the organization, operation, and political processes of state government. Youths will participate in the organization of political parties, campaigns, elections, and the enactment and enforcement of their own laws within the mythical state.

'Boys State is one of the outstanding youth training programs of the Americanism Commission of The American Legion,' Commander Flynn stated. 'Not only do the youths learn more about the functions of government but also they see the importance of the role played by each citizen in discharging his basic citizenship responsibilities.'

John Nance, Plains Junior High Principal, received his Master of Science degree in Education at Texas Technological College in Lubbock on June 3rd at the 1967 commencement exercises.

Nance majored in Secondary Administration and received a minor in Mathematics while working on his Master of Science Degree.

The local school administrator was named to head the Plains Junior High grades next fall in recent action of the Board of Trustees. He had been a class room teacher in Mathematics.

Nance is married and has one child. Mr. and Mrs. Nance are members of the First Baptist Church in Plains.

Last summer the Plains principal was awarded a fellowship in math for his outstanding academic work. Nance has been highly recommended as a student and as a teacher since coming to Plains and entering the school system.

The Yankees downed the Giants Friday night and managed to stave the Cubs off in a 2 - 2 tie Tuesday night to take over first place in the Little League standings in Plains this week.

The Giants managed to outslug the Indians 15-13 Tuesday night to get into the win column for the first time this year, and to spoil the Tribe's first place standing.

Friday saw the Tribe down the Cubs 4-0 in a game which reflected a host of Cub errors. The Cubs outhit the Tribe, but were unable to score and set the Tribe win up with their own errors.

In Tuesday night action between the Yanks and the Cubs Mike Blount drove in the first Cub run in a game that saw few hits. The Yanks tied it up when Tony Chandler drove in a run in the third. In the fifth a Cub error put a man on first and then saw him travel the distance for a big score on continued wild throws and errors.

In the last inning Mike Cayce clubbed a double and managed to tie up the score at 2 - 2 which is the way the game ended after 6 full innings of play. Mike Cayce pitched for the Cubs and gave up only one hit and walked two. Another Yank got on in the fifth with an error. Tony Chandler pitched the first three innings for the Yanks and gave up only three hits. Joey Lowe took over pitching duties for the Yanks in the fourth and gave up one hit. It was one of the best defensive duels of the year.

In the Giant and Tribe free-for-all Bobby Blundell started for the Giants but left the game trailing 7 - 3 and was replaced by Mike McRae who was credited with the win. The Giants rallied and went ahead 8 - 7, but the Tribe came back and took the lead 10 - 8. The Giants slugged back into a 15-10 lead and the final Tribe rally failed after three runs scored to make the score 15-13. David Sewell started for the Indians but Weldon Nelms took over in the sixth inning. Sewell hit four for four in the game which saw a score of hits on both teams. Other highlights of the high scoring game were the home run hit by Randy Tidwell and the home run made on errors by Barry Fisher of the Giants and last minute stops of what looked like homers by the Tribe center fielder.

Friday night will see the Yanks against the Tribe and the Cubs meeting the Giants.

BB Vandals Strike

Sheriff Olan Heath reported to the editor of The Record that B. B. guns have been used in the past several days to shoot out windows in buildings in Plains.

The Sheriff warned that any offenders will be taken before judge Gene Bennett if they are apprehended. The sheriff said there is a state law against shooting a B. B. gun in the city limits of a township.

Among the buildings that received damage was the D. C. Newsom Gin office. The office window had been pelted with B. B. shot.

Gene Bennett stated recently that he will deal harshly with those committing acts of vandalism when they are brought before him.

Parents were urged by Sheriff Heath to keep a closer watch on their children and to make them have a better respect for law and order.

The sheriff also warned that parents are liable up to $5,000.00 for any damage their children may inflict

CAYCE'S CORNER

I promised not to tell on Dorothy Lowe but this is to good to let pass. At the race track in Ruidosa last weekend Dorothy decided to bet her end in the daily double and did so, but she had to reverse the figures. We won't dare print what the lady's age is because like all women, Dorothy isn't cooperative on that subject, so we will use an example:

Dorothy bought tickets on 2 and 3 and sure enough in they came in that order and immediately an inquiry was filed. I told her that is what you get for giving your age as 23, Dorothy, because anybody that has eyes should know it should have been a 2 and 2 (ha), and race judges and camera lenses have good eyes.

The inquiry failed and Dorothy won, so I guess that shows that whatever a woman gives as her age must be accepted by a man.

If I gave my reverse age as 53 everybody in town would believe it too, so that is the way the old ball bounces.

Mother participation at Little League is becoming intent. Joan McCann, Tommy Brown, Charollette Kennedy, and Ann Cayce ran their blood pressure up to a liquid state Tuesday night assisted by fan Helen Beal. We are sure glad that cokes are served in paper cups at the games, because they don't come down as hard as bottles, but even at that it got rather wet at the game Tuesday.

As a coach I am going to recommend that a higher fence be built around the playing field in order to afford more protection for coaches, ump's and players from excited Mothers. We might even need re-enforced planks in the bleachers if the crowd gets bigger. (Now ladies we are referring to numbers and not to size.)

The pressure is already telling on the coaches. Earl Kreig and Cayce have ulcers. Cecil Williams is rummored to have said Egad! (This is severe for a minister.) Jerry Hale is losing weight! Dub Neims bought Phillips Gasoline when he went to the races. Bob Blundell says he has a hernia, and Tom Willis missed the game Tuesday night. What will another week bring? I don't know, but my team plays the Giants Friday and Joan McCann is our next door neighbor and her son Barry plays for the Giants. My two are Cubs. Who will speak on Saturday morning seems to be our big question.

Daisies Don't Tell...

... but this recipe does! Crispy Party Chews have two secrets. They are the dessert squares you serve your bridge club; they are cookies for after-school lunches. Kellogg's Special K, now fortified with eight essential vitamins, provides extra nutritious goodness. Now that the secret is out, be sure to bake some!

CRISPY PARTY CHEWS

- 1/4 cup soft butter
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 cup sifted regular all-purpose flour
- 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup shredded coconut
- 1 cup Kellogg's Special K
- 1 cup chopped nutmeats

Beat together butter and sugar until fluffy. Add flour and blend well with fork or pastry blender. Press mixture evenly and firmly in bottom of 13 x 9-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 15 minutes or until delicately browned. Meanwhile, gradually add sugar to eggs, beating until light and fluffy. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Spread evenly over top of baked crust. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 25 minutes. Cut into squares while warm. Serve as cookies or as dessert, topped with ice cream.

Yield: 40 1 1/2-inch square cookies or 6 4x4-inch dessert squares.

Its Cookout Time Again For Outdoor Chefs

By Sudie M. Thompson
Home Demonstration Agent

Conjure up a picture of an outdoor barbecue grill with glowing red coals. Add a thick juicy steak, or tempting pork chops—chicken, turkey or roast, even shish kebab. The choice is yours, but the eating is bound to be delectable.

Outdoor barbecuing has fast become an American favorite. There's nothing quite like the delicious charcoal flavor. It's generally a cooking job the man of the household takes over. With the advent of warm weather, it's quite appropriate that June is designated National Barbecue Month. For it's the perfect time of the year for outdoor cookery.

Meat preparation for the grill can be either elaborate or simple—depending on personal preference. For instance, about all that is necessary for delicious steaks are salt, pepper, and maybe butter, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. If you prefer, though, you can marinate the meat to add special taste and tenderness.

When barbecuing pork, the important thing is to make sure the meat is done clear through. Pork should have not a trace of pink when it is ready to eat.

Chicken usually is at its tender best when plenty of cooking time is allowed. Keep the pieces well above the fire for best flavor and tenderness.

Don't overlook fish in outdoor barbecue enjoyment. This type of cooking gives fish a flavor that can't be equalled. Just about all kinds of fish can be prepared this way.

Steak is one of the most popular beef items. When broiling steaks, you'll find it's only necessary to turn them once. Broil until brown on first side, turn, and continue cooking the other side. Use tongs to turn the steaks without piercing it. Jabbing a steak with a fork causes an undue loss in juices. To keep a steak from curling during cooking, slash the fat edges. Always salt each side of the steak after grilling. If salted before, it may draw the flavorful juices to the surface and slow the browning process. To tell if a steak is done, cut a slit in the steak with a sharp knife; cut near the bone, if there is one. Look at the color inside. If it's red, the steak's rare; pink is medium, and brown is well done.

Meat should be carved against the grain to give uniform slices for attractive service. Also, slicing across the grain or fibers makes the meat easier to eat.

Because of its natural tenderness, lamb makes an ideal meat for cooking outside. Rolled leg or shoulder roasts, spareribs, shanks, kebabs, loin or shoulder chops, riblets and lamburgers are favorites for the grill or rotisserie. Here is a recipe you will enjoy trying:

- 6 loin lamb chops, cut double thick
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon chopped fresh tarragon
- 1/2 teaspoon chopped dill
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice
- salt and pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon chopped rosemary

Remove the excess fat from lamb chops and secure ends with toothpick. Place them over a medium fire and grill, turning several times until they are nicely brown. Centers should be pink; 2-inch chops will take about 7 minutes on each side. Combine butter, herbs, and vinegar in a small pan and heat and simmer for a few minutes at one side of the grill. Sprinkle the chops well with salt and pepper and pour a spoonful or two of herb butter over each chop.

The Yoakum County ASCS Committee and W. M. Overton, office Mgr. are strong supporters of a good cover on diverted acres. Last year over 50,000 acres had this protection.

W. F. Upton is a strong believer in planting Sorghum on diverted acres for cover and soil improvement.

Conservation Plans Given

By C. Murrell Thompson
New conservation plans, grass planting and plans to plant dead litter cover in which to plant grass next year keep the Soil Conservation Service personal busy.

Some of the latest conservation plans are El Paso Nat. Gas, Tommy Holyfield, operator, Wheeler Robertson, B. J. Smith, Ty Field, A. L. Reynolds, operator, Ben Gibson, Robinson place, Cecil Clem and Holland Estate, Darwin Hobbs, operator. New plans being prepared are C. R. Addison, Graham Estate, Terrel Bobbs, Clarence Hester, C. R. Cellers. These Conservation plans prepared by the S.C.S. personal with the land owners and operators are a written plan or blue print for Conservation work that is needed and planned to be done by the producer. They include such items as conservation cropping systems, crop residue management, pasture planting and management, hayland planting and management, range management, cover crops and conservation irrigation including irrigation systems, and irrigation water management. Water being as important as soil here in West Texas.

Grass planting to-date has been completed or about, 1,986 acres on 18 cooperators and several plantings are yet to be made. Good stands of grass is noted since the rains on both C. R. and C. W. Addison's switch grass planting. Alex Cross, Bert Anderson, Jerome Head and Mrs. D. C. McDaniels are planning to plant grass soon. This grass will have many uses, cover on diverted acres, cropland adjustment program, livestock grazing and seed and hay production. With seed at about $1.00 per lb. and possible production from 50 lbs to 400 lbs per acre this could be a good cash crop for our area.

Dead litter cover, sorghum or Sudan drilled this year and allowed to produce a full growth to be left on the land for the purpose of protecting the young grass plants next year and holding moisture near the surface along with wind erosion control is a fine way to get a good uniform stand of grass on the land weather it be for grazing or other uses.

W. M. Taylor, Polly Rushing, R. C. Wells, Robert B. White, J. M. Dearing, Roy Keller on two places, are a few who are making plans to plant a sorghum cover on their land soon.

NOTICE

The Soil Conservation District Board headed by R. M. Jones, the F. H. A. committee and Homer P. Cole along with county agent Leo White all wish to encourage every one to plant a sorghum cover on any land that other wise might be bare. Our Soil needs protection, organic matter and we need to keep our soil instead of letting it blow away.
