

Sen. Tower On Jew-Arab War

By Senator John G. Tower

June has proved a tension-filled and exciting month thus far as all of us have worried about the Middle East war between Israel and the Arabs. It's probably too soon for us to relax, too, but I do think we need to take stock of the changes made and of their possible future impact.

It would be nice if the world could learn a few lasting lessons from the Middle East war, but perhaps that's too much to ask. Nevertheless, the smashing Israeli victory has changed the world, and we will have to live with the new situation.

For one thing, the United Nations showed early in the crisis that it could do nothing to prevent the fighting. In fact, withdrawal of U. N. buffer forces at exactly the wrong moment allowed the belligerent armies to come face to face. Then, suddenly—when Israel won—there was hyperactivity at the United Nations; no less than three cease-fire resolutions; and great strivings for peace.

What happened in the United Nations and in the world cannot be explained solely in terms of Israel and the Arabs. It can only be explained by the activities of the Communist Union.

What we must always remember about the Soviet Union is that its declared foreign policy is one of agitation. The Soviets are engaged all over the world in stirring up trouble between other nations. They are dedicated to destruction of world order. They want chaos so that communism may triumph among the rubble of peace and trust.

So, the Soviets armed the Egyptians and egged them on toward aggression by constantly promising them full support and backing. Eventually, President Nasser took the Soviet-furnished bit in his teeth and blockaded Israel's only Red Sea seaport.

This brings us to the thing we must always remember about the United Nations—which is that the U. N. Security Council can only do what the Soviets will allow it to do. That's because all the major powers, including Russia, can veto any proposed Council action.

So, with Nasser's blockade in force, the United Nations was totally unable to prevent increasing tensions—because the Soviet Union wanted increasing tensions.

But—both the Soviets and Nasser miscalculated the strength of Israel and the speed with which Israel acting alone could and would strike to protect her trade interests and national security.

With the collapse of Arab resistance to Israeli forces, the time quickly changed at the United Nations. It changed because the Soviet Union now wanted a cease fire fast to prevent total collapse of the Arab nations to which so much Red aid had been sent.

So, the United Nations acted to help end the war it had been powerless to prevent.

From the American point of view, it should be obvious from this Middle East exercise that we cannot count on United Nations help in any situation in which U. S. and Soviet interests and intentions are in opposition. Therefore, we never can rely on the United Nations as a substitute for a strong American foreign policy.

However, it is equally obvious that on those rare occasions when both the United States and the Soviet Union wish to end a brushfire war—for whatever separate reasons—the United Nations is a useful tool for proclamation of cease fire orders and for provision of truce observer teams.

Thus, this crisis has served they cannot count on the United Nations for everything, neither is the U. N. totally useless. If we can thus view the U. N. in perspective, it still can be meaningful in complementing U. S. foreign policy.

Right now, we must look to the future and toward some long and perhaps bitter negotiations between the Arabs and Israel. Having watched its agitation goals drowned in Arab military defeat the Soviet Union likely will seek to recover its position at the conference table.

I doubt very much that we can reasonably expect Israel to trust again a U. N. peace-keeping force or to settle for anything that does not guarantee her national right to exist and to enjoy free trade routes.

It seems desirable that the United States do what we can to help achieve a new stability in the Middle East. That requires us to take a fresh look at our policies in light of current events. The United States must base its policy not on the inflexibilities of a past rocked by three wars, but on the demands of the future for a new order of peace and stability in the Middle East.

Stability in the Middle East is in America's national interest. If new treaties and even new borders appear necessary to achieve lasting stability, we must approach such suggestions with an open mind.

The peace and security of the world will remain under constant threat until lasting solutions can be found to the vexing problems of the Middle East.

OUR 36TH YEAR THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1967 NUMBER 25

300 at Gladiola Bar BQ

Over 300 people were served at the Gladiola Youth Center recently when they hosted their annual barbecue fund raising dinner.

Fifteen door prizes were given away. The barbecue was cooked by Les Estep of McDonald and assisted by Joe Price and Pat Patterson of Tatum and Clark Jones of Gladiola.

Zack Taylor donated a quarter of the beef.

Tony and Scott Chandler and Robin Walker of Plains played the drums and guitars throughout the afternoon. Mrs. Greathouse of Bronco, Foy Stewart of Roswell, Mrs. Maurine Collins of Lovington, and Mrs. Carrie Belle Smith and Escala Travis of Gladiola played and sang also.

The members of the center wish to express their appreciation to each and everyone who helped make this barbecue such a success. The next regular meeting will be held July 8. All families of the area are invited to attend.

Ask for Loyalty Boost

Brownfield will be the scene July 4th of a Loyalty Day Parade. The parade to start at 10:00 a.m., will be staged in order that citizens, club groups, and organizations may demonstrate their patriotism to their country, their faith in, and support of, America's service men and women, and their honor for the stars and stripes.

The parade through downtown Brownfield will end at the courthouse where the public will join with a choir from Brownfield High School in singing several patriotic songs. State Representative Jesse T. George and Dr. F.W. Mattox, President of Lubbock Christian College, will address the crowd with Mattox delivering the keynote address. Brownfield's Mayor C.E. Ross will introduce the speakers.

A flyover of jet aircraft from Reese Air Force Base has been scheduled to coincide with the parade.

All service personnel present will be given places of honor in the parade. First, second, and third place trophies will be awarded to the individual, group, or float entering the parade which most effectively demonstrates a patriotic theme.

All individuals, bands, service or civic clubs, church groups, fraternal or sorority groups, clubs or organizations, girl scouts, boy scouts, cub scouts, Brownies, riding clubs, school clubs or groups, and Little League teams in Brownfield and surrounding areas, are urged to take part in the parade. Everyone entering the parade is encouraged to carry an American flag or a sign bearing patriotic slogans.

Anyone wishing to enter a group or a float in the parade is requested to contact the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce office on or before Monday, July 3rd so that parade positions may be planned.

Softball Anyone?

All men in the community who are interested in playing softball and all boys to old to play Little League are requested to meet at the Pony League Park tonight at 8:00 p.m. for the purpose of organizing a softball league.

All games would be local ones and games will be slated one night a week. Rip Sewell is acting as spokesman for those interested in forming a softball league.

Coach Sewell urged men and boys in the community to take advantage of the opportunity to play softball this summer. More news will be carried as soon as organization is complete.

Bug War

Roy McGehee, City manager and secretary for the City of Plains announced that the city sprayer is converging on all parts of Plains to kill the insects.

The spraying machine is slated to cover the town two to three times a week. Mosquitoes were reported to have been bad in town and McGehee said he has ordered the spraying operation to get underway.

Rep. George in Plains Area And Makes Plans for Future

State Representative Jesse T. George was in Yoakum County this week discussing measures enacted by the 60th session of the legislature. Rep. George announced his intentions for re-election during the last election campaign in Yoakum County and paid his first visit in the district to the people of Yoakum county with the end of the session.

The Yoakum County solon visited the office of The Plains Record and discussed legislation with the editor, city manager, local ministers, and interested parties in Plains.

Rep. George then left for Denver City where he addressed the Lions Club at a noon luncheon. He planned to visit in Brownfield and Hockley Counties later in the day.

Rep. George plans to return to Yoakum County next week to visit more people in the area. He is concerned about representation of rural areas since recent reapportionment in the Texas House of Representatives.

Rep. George will continue as the representative of this district for one more year, and then will be forced to run in Lubbock. He intends to continue a close relationship with the county in order to keep advised on rural needs in the House.

The state representative is a close personal friend of House Speaker Ben Barnes and is considered one of the best friends of the farmers and ranchers in the house.

43 Pets Get Shots

It was reported by Roy McGehee, City manager, that about 43 pets received vaccine for rabies last Saturday at the Fire Station in the city hall building when the vet was in town.

McGehee urged those people who were not able to receive a vaccination for their pets to have it done at once, because the rabies danger period is here.

The city plans to have a vet in Plains for the purpose of vaccinating pets two times a year.

Wrecks On Roads

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated one accident on rural highways in Yoakum County during the month of May, according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no deaths, one person injured and an estimated property damage of $2,100.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1967 shows a total of eight accidents resulting in one persons killed, four persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $5,150.00.

The vacation season is now in full swing. This means more traffic and many drivers going for long hours without sleep.

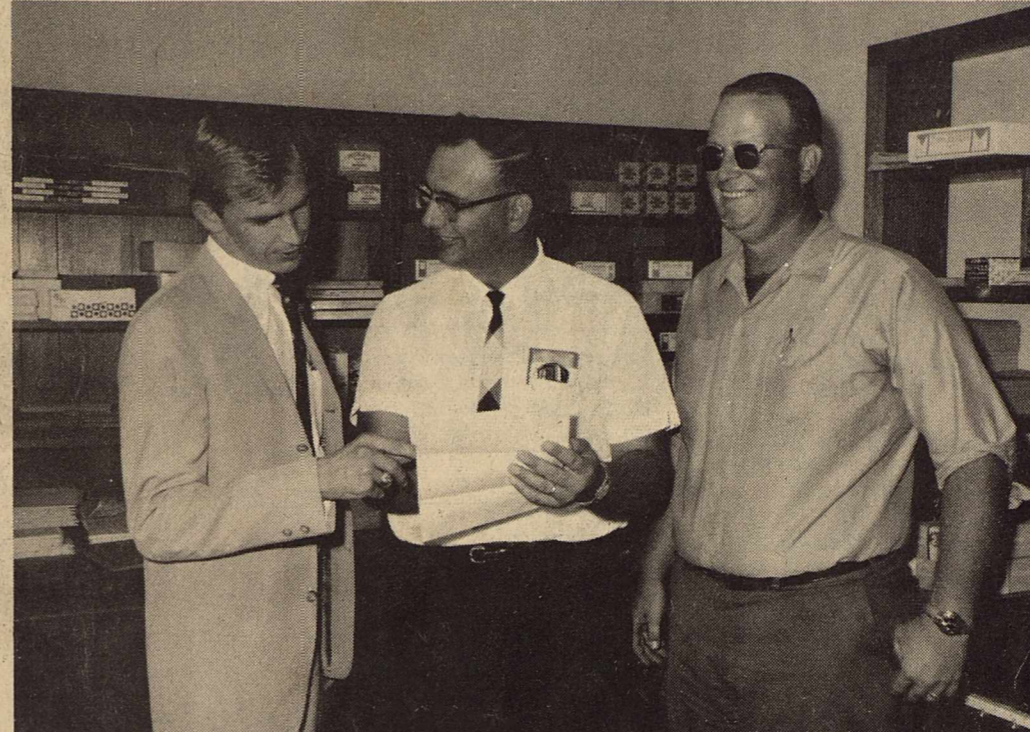

In many areas harvest is in progress which means slow-moving farm machinery on the highway, oftentimes poorly lighted or not lighted at all.

The Patrol Sergeant cautioned motorists to watch for the dozing driver and to be alert for slow-moving vehicles. If you are traveling this summer, allow plenty of time for your trip, and rest often.

Eggs Go Splat on Cars, Autos Race in the Park

Reports were made to the Plains Record that a series of acts involving throwing eggs on homes and cars has occurred in Plains this week.

Other reports have been made to the newspaper about teenagers racing through Stanford Park at high rates of speed. A reliable source reported that a family reunion was being held in the park last Sunday and cars were driven at high rates of speed through the park creating a hazzard for the small children who were playing in the park.

The public's cooperation was urged by Sheriff Heath concerning speeding in the park. No disturbances were reported, but it was pointed out that at a 15 mile speed limit exists in Stanford Park in order to safe guard small children who are playing there.

The City of Plains has been without a policeman for the past week since Bonner Havard resigned. A new officer will be retained soon, said a city spokesman.

Parents were once more urged to cooperate in keeping their children out of mischief during the hours of darkness. Even though egg throwing is not as bad as breaking glass or destroying property, it is extremely hard to clean up a spokesman said.

A civic leader in Plains pointed out that these things cause others to lose respect for law and order and asked young adults to respect the laws that were made to maintain a decent civilization.

In Plains Little League action this week the Yankees took a commanding lead in team standings by out clubbing the Indians Saturday to the tune of 20 to 5, and shelled the Giants Tuesday night 6 - 5 in a thriller to hold down undisputed first place.

The Cubs moved into second place with a win over the Giants Saturday by a 12-7 score and stood off the Tribe Tuesday night with an 8 - 8 tie. It was the third tie game for the defending champions and the game broke a losing streak for the Indians.

In the Cub - Brave game the Tribe came up with a series of double plays to end Cub rallies.

In Saturday action the Yanks were relentless in bombing the Tribe 20-5, but the Tribe was short of Braves and had to

Special

L. L. officials announced at press time:

The umpires made an error in calling both games Tuesday night and a no contest has been declared in both games. The games will be made up.

Bob Kinsey Gets City Police Job

Members of the Plains City Council met Tuesday evening in a special meeting at the City Hall and named Bobby Kinsey as City Policeman. Kinsey will assume his new duties July 1st.

A vacancy had been created when Bonner Havard submitted his resignation last week. The council accepted Havard's resignation.

Kinsey is presently employed by the City of Plains and was a former employee borrow a member of the Yank team to have a game. It was a tight contest the first three innings before the game blew wide open. The Indians took a first inning lead by three runs but fell apart in the third.

In the Cub - Giant match both teams played good ball with the Giants coming up with some fine defense. The game was put out of reach when Mike Cayce knocked a home run to increase the lead.

The Ynaks appeared to be faltering Tuesday night as the Giants tied the score in the 5th 5 - 5 and had a man called out on a slide at home plate in a close call. The hard pressed Yanks came back and scored to garner a win by one point.

Friday night will have on the card the Giants vs. the Cubs and the Indians vs. the Yanks. If the Tribe fails to stop the Yankees Friday night the pennant will be uncomfortable near for the Yanks.

The Yanks are expected to start Tony Chandler on the mound the Tribe will probably go with Jeff Gentry. The Cubs are expected to pitch Ricky Liles and the Giants Bobby Blundell.

The City of Plains has been without a policeman with the exception constable and the county sheriffs staff since Havard resigned.

Kinsey is a married man with a family and is well known in Plains.

He has been an active supporter of athletics for the area, including baseball and golf.

Mr. & Mrs. Elmore Head Plains Eastern Star

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Elmore were selected to head the Order of the Eastern Star in Plains this year. They will serve as Worthy Patron and Worthy Matron of the Star for 1967-68. Installation of officers was conducted at the Masonic Temple Monday night.

The chapter was called to order by Blanche Spencer, outgoing Worthy Matron. Serena was the candlelighter. The Holy Bible was presented by Tommy Elmore, next the Square and Compasses by Rickey Elmore and Randy Suddarth. Then the Lord's Prayer was given in unison.

Alton Elmore led the pledge of allegiance after which the national anthem was sung. Mrs. Spencer gave the welcome of the evening to guests and members. She presented each of her officers gifts of appreciation and expressed her gratitude to members for helping make her past year a most successful and enjoyable one.

She introduced the installing officer, Mrs. Louise Goehry, who in turn introduced the other installing officers. They were Mable Camp, marshal; Ruth O'Neal, chaplain; Florene Hayes, organist, and Lucretia Cheek, secretary.

A brief recess was called and the installing officer invited to preside.

Officers installed to serve this year with Romalee and Alton Elmore are June Anderson, associate matron; Albert Anderson, Associate patron; Blanche Spencer, secretary; Shirley Suddarth, treasurer; Nita Taunton, conductress; Sue Jones, associate conductress; Edna Wade, chaplain; Lillian Luna, marshal; Rita Mae Snodgrass, Adah; Jerry Warren, Esther; Louise Cobb, Martha; Mary Lou Parks, Electa; Lois Pierce, warden; Homer Suddarth, sentinel. Later Viva Hale, organist and Nell Brian, Ruth; will be installed.

After installation, Mrs. Goehry presented the gavel to Mrs. Elmore and invited her to assume her station. The new worthy matron and worthy patron then brought greetings to the chapter, officers and visitors.

Other parts of the program included Mrs. Sid Wade singing 'I'll Walk With God'. She was accompanied by Mrs. Jack Hayes.

Also the presentation of the Past Matron's jewel was given by June Anderson.

Mrs. Elmore has chosen 'Faith-Hope-Love' as her theme for the year. The scripture reading is found in 1 Corinthians 13:13 - And now abedeth FAITH, HOPE, LOVE, these three, but the greatest of these is LOVE. Her flowers will be flowers in season. Her colors are pink, gold and green. She expressed to the chapter that her thoughts, wishes and aims for the year could only be fulfilled by faith, trust in each other, and working together.

CAYCE'S CORNER

Last Friday I parked my old junker pick-up in front of the Plains Insurance Agency and left for the farm with Buster Graham. Returning to town I found it was late and I rushed to the Little League Park only to be rained out. I left my machine parked until Sunday morning on the square. Of course people in Plains are honest so I left my keys in the truck.

When I finally started for the farm on Sunday in the old Green Hornet I noticed it didn't run like it should. I looked underneath the hood and somebody had swiped the breather pan that goes on the carburetor. Like I said, Plains people are too honest to snatch a vehicle, which is alleged to have had the keys in it, but not too honest to take an old beat up pan for the carburetor. I hope it doesn't run a bit better for the new owner than it did for me.

We are off today for the press convention in Galveston on the Texas Gulf of Mexico. None of us have ever been to the coast in Texas so we are looking forward to the trip. It isn't enough to put out 52 issues a year but then the news hounds have to assemble to tell each other how they survived the past year. I guess news paper people get printers ink in their blood because it all seems worthwhile to hear how other did the same job that you did and quite often a little better.

A press convention isn't like many other conventions. We in the news field all belong to a big mythical family so we take our own families with us, and activity is planned for the junior news hounds. Most of the journalists would like to hope that at least one of their children would get printers ink in the blood, but we ones have been too impressed by that other news media (Ug1 T. V.) and want to grow up to be the Matt Dillon or Bat Man. Clark Kent has even lost appeal since Bat Man came along. Die hard editors still try to compete with the one eyed monster by telling junior how interesting Major Hoople is, or how much they would enjoy reading Little Orphan Annie.

All we hear in return is silly giggles. That's okay, the public still turns to the paper to get the schedule of the idiot machine even if they don't read Little Orphan Annie as often as they did.

Home Hints

A new fabric of which you might be interested in is Malimo. It is not a new fake fur or an exotic bird foliage. It is neither woven nor knit, nor is it commonly considered a non-woven fabric.

As in woven fabrics, two layers of yarn are normally used to make malimo cloth. A sheet of warp, or lengthwise yarns, and a sheet of filling, or crosswise yarns, are used. But rather than being woven together, the two layers are placed one on top of the other and pressed beneath a needle bar. The needle bar contains hundreds of needles which simply stitch or tricort knit stitch.

In this way, malimo can be made to look like a knit or woven fabric. Variations of the malimo machine can also make pile or terry-like cloth.

The speed of the malimo machine is so great that it has been estimated that three of these machines can replace ninety conventional looms with respect to the number of yards of fabric produced. Malimo fabrics may provide a real cost savings to consumers.

In general, malimo fabrics have good launderability, strength, and wrinkle resistance. There are no limitations on the fiber content of malimo fabrics.

The malimo machine is still in its infancy in the United States. A great deal of developmental work and testing is presently being done before these fabrics are placed on the market in huge quantities.

Because of the possible cost savings and the desirable characteristics of these fabrics, they are likely to be readily available in the near future. Watch your local fabric shops for them.

My sincere appreciation and thanks are extended to the friends and relatives who were so kind and thoughtful during my recent hospitalization and illness.

TRADE AT HOME

Plant the Seed where you expect to Reap

IT'S what you might call a commonly recognized agricultural principle that if you want to do your harvesting on a particular piece of ground, that's the place to sow your seed.

Using the same general type of reasoning, it is obvious that if you want to harvest a nice crop of prosperity... in the form of better business, a better job, a better community in which to live... it's advisable to plant your trade dollars where they will produce growth for you, rather than for somebody else.

The homes we live in... the jobs and businesses which support us... the schools and churches that teach our children and enrich our lives... the convenient stores and service establishments that supply our everyday and emergency needs... none of these were built, nor are they supported by the dollars that are spent in some other community or city.

Pearl Barbour Ditmore

A city grows and prospers by reason of the public-spirited men and women who take an active interest in its development. Lovington has its share of these progressive and civic-minded people, and one who is deserving of recognition is friendly, likeable, Pearl Barbour Ditmore of Pearl's Boarding House.

Her business ability, coupled with a sense of obligation to the public, have been major factors in maintaining Pearl's Boarding House in a position of leadership throughout this area. She not only in her business activities, but also in her attention to civic duty, assumed an active part in community affairs.

Mrs. Ditmore has always been ready and willing to contribute her time and energy to the promotion of any project promising to benefit the community as a whole. She has often sacrificed personal interests to be of assistance to the city, and her efforts are deserving of commendation and support.

We congratulate Pearl Barbour Ditmore on her past achievements which, in our opinion, indicate a similar successful career in the years ahead.

Ralph E. French

Our issue today proposes to call the attention of our readers to some of those progressive and civic-minded men who have contributed their share of time and energy to the building up of Lovington and the surrounding territory to the position of prominence which it now enjoys.

One of those whom we wish to present to our readers is Ralph E. French of French's Radio & Television Service, whose success can equally be attributed to his business acumen, and his knowledge of electronics, with special emphasis on radio and television.

He has never spared himself in his aggressive march forward in both business and technical fields, and is a qualified expert in the service and installation of all types of television sets and antennas.

Ralph French's record of achievement is one of which he may well be proud. His value to the city and this district is an established fact, and we are pleased to give him the credit which is his just due.

Gillis S. and 'Link' Marks

When a city like Lovington has gained recognition for being the trading center for many miles of the surrounding country, it is because of the foresight of those men of earlier days who had the vision to realize the possibilities of the city, and who also had the ability and courage to work for the fulfillment of that vision.

Lovington owes much to those men of earlier days, but each succeeding generation must produce its share of business and civic leaders to assure the continued growth and prosperity of the city.

It is also the purpose of this review to call the attention of our readers to some of these present day leaders, and in this instance, we particularly wish to point out and pay tribute to E. L. 'Link' Marks who is associated with

Lewie Akin

Lewie Akin has proved his progressiveness by constantly adding to, and increasing the service which Lewie's Phillips 66 Service has extended to the people. The large volume of business handled by his Phillips 66 station proves that 'service' to him, is not just a word, but something to be rendered to the motoring public to the fullest extent of his ability.

In addition to his close attention to his business affairs, Mr. Akin was never a man to dodge his civic responsibilities, and help in those matters has always been cheerfully given.

He fully appreciates the value of good will, and has more than his share of that intangible commodity because of the manner in which he meets all business and civic obligations. He is a credit to the community, and is thoroughly established in the forefront of the business life of the city.

Lewie Akin has many friends throughout this region, and it is a pleasure to bring him before our readers in this review of dependable Lovington business men.

PROGRESSIVE AND CIVIC-MINDED PEOPLE OF LOVINGTON AND VICINITY

This department has been worked up largely as a reflection of public opinion. No person has written of themselves or their business. All articles have been compiled by a representative of the Plains Record as he saw conditions. These people are all leaders in their various lines of endeavor and the co-operation of those citizens in Lovington who helped make this department possible is sincerely appreciated.

The Plains Record PLAINS, TEXAS

Leonard Charles L. 'Charley' T.J. Carr Campbell 'Jimmie'

Lovington has attained a prominent position in the business and industrial life of this section of Southeastern New Mexico because of the foresight of those men who had the ability to envision the possibilities of the community, and the trade area it serves. And a wide awake progressive man who justly should be included in this category is Leonard Carr of Lovington Sand & Gravel Transit-Mixed Concrete.

Such men have, many times over, proven their worth to the community, both as business executives, and as active workers in the civic betterment and progress of the city. And Mr. Carr has earned the good will and respect of his fellow citizens for contributing his bit to the general welfare of the city, and the people as a whole.

It is our duty to include Leonard Carr in that group of dependable and civic-minded men who have done so much for Lovington, and to express the wish that he will continue for many years to forge ahead with the success which he has enjoyed in the past.

J.C. and M.L. Noack

The progress of any community hinges to a great extent upon the activities of the more progressive men in the world of business. This is as true in this locality as in any other sector, and local leaders

Charles L. 'Charlie' Campbell, manager of the Farmers Fertilizer Company Incorporated, has won the universal respect and good will of the people of Lovington and the surrounding country, for the progressive manner in which he has kept this reliable company in the forefront of the business and rural life of this entire district. Also for the efficient and friendly willingness he has displayed in accepting his share of responsibility in aiding civic projects.

Mr. Campbell is not the kind of man who makes himself conspicuous by the manner in which he conducts himself, either in business or other matters. Yet, his quiet reserve and air of confidence mark him as a person of sound judgment, whose opinions and advice are sought after, and listened to with respect.

We compliment 'Charlie' Campbell for the successful operation and management of the Farmers Fertilizer Company, and also for his constructive advice and help on those civic affairs in which are thus to be congratulated for their part in the general advancement of the area's status. And two conscientious individuals who should thus be congratulated are J. C. and M. L. Noack of Noack Shamrock Service Station, and Pa-ymaster Feed, and who also specialize in livestock hauling.

Few men have so clearly shown the success possible through the tireless effort and fine contact with the public. They fully deserve that success for which they have worked so hard.

The attainments of the Noack Brothers clearly illustrate the merits of ability, grounded in experience, and coupled with the added assets of pleasing and sincere personalities.

We compliment M. L. and J. C. Noack for the successful management of their business, and trust they shall have many more years of continued success.

Kenneth Gaskill

In editing this review of progressive Lovington business men, it is fitting that we should include some of those who, by their aggressiveness, have definitely established themselves in the business life of the city.

Such a man is Kenneth Gaskill, distributor for Borden's Dairy Products, who also deserves an additional word of praise for being more than just successful. He is a consistent and enthusiastic booster of the community, and in his way has done much to advertise the city.

Mr. Gaskill has pursued the progressive policy of stepping up his business ahead of the times, thus setting a pace for which he has earned the reputation of being a go-getter, who does not sit back and wait for the business to come to him.

We are glad to pay tribute to Kenneth Gaskill, and to point out to our readers that his sincere desire to be of service, coupled with his determined methods, are largely responsible for the standing of Borden's throughout this area.

William M. 'Bill' Hughes

In critical times such as these, it takes business men of more than average ability to carry on their operations successfully. In making this statement, the one we have in mind is one of the region's more dependable automobile dealers, William M. 'Bill' Hughes of Bill Hughes Dodge, who has a wide circle of personal friends and satisfied customers throughout this entire district—many of whom reside in our own community.

His contagious optimism, and freely expressed belief in the assured future prosperity of the people of Lovington and its metropolitan trading area, are characteristics which are to be appreciated in a progressive business man. He has always taken an interest in community affairs, and has shown a willingness to shoulder his found time to interest himself. He is a man whom many are proud to call friend.

Ted Hester

In singling out some of the more progressive business men of Lovington, we would be censored should we fail to include Ted Hester of Ted's Repair & Steel Supply, who specializes in the transportation of Mobil Homes, for he is a man who has never spared himself in his participation in both the business and commercial activities of this region.

Mr. Hester has always been conscious of his civic responsibilities, and is ever ready and willing to meet in every detail, those opportunities which come to his attention to further civic enterprise. He may well be proud of his achievements along these lines.

Ted Hester deserves a great deal of credit for the honest and successful manner in which he has conducted his business affairs. He is a friendly and likeable personality, whose sincere desire to be of service has gained for him a host of friends and acquaintances in and around Lovington who would, if given the opportunity, join us in wishing him many more years of continued success.

Two restaurant operators who have based their success upon the belief that the public will appreciate good food, well prepared and appetizingly served, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnson of the Shamrock Cafe, located on the Tatum Highway, whose many friends and customers by their daily patronage of their popular eating place, attest to the soundness of their policy.

It is not only because of the successful operation and management of their cafe that the Johnsons have come to be recognized as assets to their community; but it is also because of their policy of 'looking ahead', and endeavoring

H.N. 'Porter' and Ruth McDaniel

Good motels and tourist courts, are indispensable to the progress and development of a growing city such as Lovington. And Mack's Motel, combining the best features of both, has accommodated a great many tourists and business men in a manner that assures them of the continued patronage and good will of the motoring public.

The management of Mack's Motel has maintained an ideal of service which is thoroughly exemplified by the manner in which every need of the traveling motorist has been anticipated and prepared for. Nothing is taken for granted; nothing is forgotten, and hospitality and service is always their first and last consideration.

Much of the credit for this popular motel is due to the executive ability of H. N. 'Porter' and Ruth McDaniel, whose untiring efforts, foresight and careful attention to detail, have maintained a standard of hospitality and service which would be difficult to surpass. It is a pleasure to publish these few words of praise about Mack's Motel, and its friendly and capable operators, 'Porter' and Ruth McDaniel.

The McDaniels have not only demonstrated their sound business ability in the Lovington vicinity, but due to their fine character and willingness to help the area grow, they have contributed greatly to their profession.

We take pleasure in this Lovington review to call the attention of our readers to one of the more dependable oil well service men in this district. That personality is T. J. 'Jimmie' Hollis of Campbell Oil Services Inc., and the Southwestern Oil Well Service, who is rendering a valuable service to the oil producers of this section.

The production of petroleum in this area has been one of the greatest single factors in the growth and progress of Lovington. And Mr. Hollis is a man who has taken an important part in many phases of oil field activities. He is a resident of Lovington, and has a large circle of personal friends throughout this entire region. He is also a man who has considered his civic responsibilities in a serious manner, and is always ready and willing to help in the promotion of any project which promises to benefit the city.

We congratulate 'Jimmie' Hollis for the part he is playing in the development of the petroleum resources in this district, and we wish him many more years of successful operations.

to sponsor or take part in those community activities which will, in some manner, benefit the people as a whole. They are two citizens who have shown their appreciation for their success by their willingness to contribute of their time and energy to the promotion of worth-while civic projects.

It is such people as Mr. and Mrs. Johnson whom we are privileged to include in this review, and to publicly give them due credit for their success in business and civic affairs.

H.L. and J.D. North

When a man gains recognition for the progressive and straightforward manner in which he has managed his business affairs, and also for his generous contributions to civic projects, he is to be complimented for his achievements. And one belonging to this category is H. L. North, a business man of Lovington who is regarded with respect and admiration by a great many residents of the city and the surrounding country.

Marshall Griffin

Successful business and professional men as a rule, show their appreciation for their success by their often repeated demonstrations of civic pride. This is a fortunate fact. Otherwise a city would be lacking in that progressive element which advocates and develops various projects of a civic nature that are indicative of a progressive community.

And Marshall Griffin of Griffin Welding, is a man who has never failed to lend a hand when it comes his turn to help on some worthy project promoted for the general betterment of Lovington and the adjacent territory.

Mr. Griffin takes a genuine pleasure of this method of showing his appreciation for this success, and in so doing, recognizes his civic responsibilities to the community.

It is such men as Marshall Griffin who become acknowledged leaders in both business and civic enterprise, and we compliment him on having attained that position in his city.

Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Fort Jr.

It is gratifying to include Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fort Jr. of Johnnie's Floral in this review of progressive and civic-minded people of Lovington. Aside from their success in business they have always evinced a willingness to take part in some manner in those activities which will, in some manner, promote the growth and progress of the city and the surrounding metropolitan trade area.

The Fort's are florists who literally and figuratively, know their business from the ground up. This knowledge, plus their artistic abilities, and their ideals of service, have made them two of the more creative florists in this region. All of which combined with their sound and upright business principles are sure to keep them in the public favor.

Joe F. Collier

In all business and professional pursuits, there are men who have met with success because they have honestly deserved it. And such a man in his particular vocation is Joe F. Collier of Collier Construction, who well deserves the reputation he has earned for being one of Lovington's more conscientious business men. His thorough knowledge of everything to the grading contracting business is exemplified by the manner in which he fulfills each and every demand made upon him in line with his business.

Furthermore, such experience as Mr. Collier has gained in the successful management of his contracting activities, has been turned to the advantage of his fellow citizens by applying the same principles to the promotion of those civic projects to which he has been called upon to lend his able assistance. Thus his success in business has further enhanced his value to the city.

We appreciate the opportunity of including Joe Collier in this group of progressive and civic-minded men who are actively taking part in the business life of Lovington.

Wayne S. Crawford

Generally speaking, civic pride is one of those things that goes hand-in-hand with success, because a man must have been successful to fully appreciate the advantages that were afforded him by the community in which he lives.

We also think it appropriate in this review to give credit to some of the younger generation who are carrying on so ably in the footsteps of their fathers. And one who certainly deserves such credit is J. D. North who shoulders his full share of responsibility in the operation and management of the South Main Fina Service. It is because of the efforts of such men that year after year, Lovington continues to grow and prosper, and to become an even better place in which to live. It is such men as Mr. North and his son who have a distinct value to the city, and we take pleasure in paying them this brief, but sincere tribute.

Bill and Janie Sanders

Bill and Janie Sanders of Abbott & Oliver Incorporated, authorized General Electric Sales & Service, are two of those progressive type of citizens upon whom the community depends a great deal for leadership in business or other matters. They are also civic-minded, and have, in the past, and no doubt will continue in the future to give more of their time and energy for the welfare of others than themselves.

They are the kind of people who make friends, and friendships once formed by them are never broken by an unfriendly act on their part, and

Mr. and Mrs. Fort's integrity, responsibility, and a thorough knowledge of the floral business gained through long experience, will always keep them in the forefront of their line of endeavor. It is a pleasure to compliment them for their many successes.

A.T. Bintz

It is fitting in this Lovington review of conscientious business men, that we acquaint our readers with the one to be credited with having maintained Southwestern Builders Incorporated in the enviable position it holds in the business and industrial life of this area. That personality is A. T. Bintz, whose genius for organization, and for converting new ideas into actual deeds, has played a vital part in the distinctive reputation which this reliable firm now enjoys throughout this entire district.

Mr. Bintz has found time, in addition to his business interests, to give thought and energy to community projects. He is a citizen whose talents have been steadfastly devoted to the best interests of the city. He has been successful in his own business, and in the promotion of the general welfare of the community.

We are glad to pay this brief tribute to him, and to say that this district owes much to the many benefits which A. T. Bintz and Southwestern Builders Incorporated have rendered to the people.

Bill Irwin

It is not always the kind of business which determines its importance to the community. But, more or less, the methods used in its management. The services rendered to the public, and the manner in which it meets both business and civic obligations.

The cheerfulness of the entire personnel of the C. R. Anthony Company, in their contacts with the public, and the ready acceptance of all business responsibilities by Bill Irwin, proves conclusively that he is a man who is well-versed in the principles of successful business management.

As most people know, this company is a leader in their industry.

Wayne S. Crawford

And Wayne S. Crawford of the Crawford & Sons Tile Company, is one of those progressive business men of Lovington who has shown his appreciation for his success by his attention to civic matters. His willingness to become a cog in the wheels of community progress whenever united effort is needed to put over some movement or project advanced for the good of the city has always been taken for granted.

Mr. Crawford's quiet assumption of responsibility, not only in connection with his own business, but in regard to other matters as well, has often lent a feeling of confidence to others interested in the same movements.

In complimenting Wayne Crawford upon his high standing in the community, we do no more than express the admiration and respect of his many friends and associates.

Bill and Janie Sanders

they spare no efforts in order that their services to the surrounding area shall be more dependable.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders have never been known to inject themselves into a situation for the mere purpose of gaining publicity. However, they proceed in a calm and unostentatious manner, and accomplish their objectives with a quiet dignity.

We do not hesitate to recommend Bill and Janie Sanders to our readers as excellent examples of the more progressive type of business people who are aiding in the growth and development of Lovington and the surrounding country.

David Box Gets TCU Diploma

David Box of Route 1, Plains, Texas, was among the 18 students honored at the May 26 banquet and graduation program of Texas Christian University's Ranch Training Program.

The event, presided over by Director John Merrill, was held in the ballroom of Brown-Lupton Student Center. Guest speaker was Leon Locke, an owner of the well known J. D. Hudgins, Inc., Ranch at Hungerford and current professional men who participate in the nine month course. In addition to intensive classroom study, which accounts for about 60 per cent of the program, the participants and directors have traveled 9,700 miles in three states to visit 40 ranches, 9 feedlots, 8 marketing and ranching facilities and 7 experiment stations this year. More than 100 non-TCU related persons assisted as hosts and consultants.

To become generally accepted as one of those progressive business men who can always be counted upon to recognize his duty to the community, and one who will readily back up his sense of duty by active participation in, or the support of worth-while civic movements is an honor that can be proudly borne.

Such a man is J. M. Keeth of the Keeth Gas Company, who a great many times in the past has neglected his own private affairs to lend a helping hand to the successful promotion of worth-while civic projects.

Mr. Keeth's friends are always more than glad to have his assistance, because of his constant cheerfulness, and the enthusiasm and optimism in which he instills in his fellow men.

These same estimable attributes have also been applied by J. M. Keeth in the operation and management of the Keeth Gas Company, with the outstanding success which is known to us all. It is our pleasure to give him all of the credit which is his just due, and to include him in this review of conscientious Lovington business executives.

PROGRESSIVE AND CIVIC-MINDED PEOPLE OF LOVINGTON AND VICINITY

This department has been worked up largely as a reflection of public opinion. No person has written of themselves or their business. All articles have been compiled by a representative of the Plains Record as he saw conditions. These people are all leaders in their various lines of endeavor and the co-operation of those citizens in Lovington who helped make this department possible is sincerely appreciated.

Joe L. Freeman

At the head of one of the district's more prominent meat packing plants, and as a leader of recognized ability in community life, Joe L. Freeman stands out today as one of the best liked men on the panorama of Lovington activity.

His friends are numbered by the hundreds, and all of them are of the lasting fibre which comes of worth-while associations, both in the world of business, and in the realms of neighborhood life.

Joe's Packing Company has been a strong factor in the growth and progress of Lovington; and Mr. Freeman's own efforts in many instances, have been the stimuli behind the outstanding accomplishments of this reliable company. The case if a fine example of a man weaving his own personal prominence into an executive's life, with lasting benefits to both organization and individual.

We take pleasure in expressing these few words of commendation to a man who is doing so much to promote the growth and progress of this entire district.

Floyd P. Green

The city of Lovington has assumed its place of importance in this section of the Southwest because of the efforts of far-seeing business men who have helped in developing its industry, or in some manner extended the trade advantages of the locality. One of those who has taken an important part in many progressive movements is Floyd P. Green of General Welding Supply.

Mr. Green has devoted his share of time and energy to the growth and development of Lovington and this district, and it is fitting at this time that we attempt to express in a small way our appreciation for his unselfish contributions to the general welfare of the community.

He is a man of wide acquaintance, whose many friends admire and respect in him, those virtues which inspire confidence and promote good feeling. His upright business methods are but an outward reflection of his inherent appreciation for fair practices. We congratulate Floyd Green on his splendid record of service, and wish him continued success.

Damon Spears

One of the more progressive business men of Lovington, and one who deserves the respect and good will of a great many residents of the city is capable, friendly, Damon Spears of Damon's Auto Service, whose wide knowledge and long experience in the automotive repair and maintenance business has raised him into a position of prominence in his line.

It is because of this that Damon's Auto Service has earned a reputation for reliability—second to none.

Mr. Spears is also civic-minded, and has always been ready to contribute his time and energy to any plan which promises to benefit this entire district. And the people of Lovington may regard with particular satisfaction the many services which he has performed in the interest of progress and civic betterment.

We urge our readers to look to Damon Spears as a dependable business man of whom we may well be proud. His devotion to the city has been constant, and his achievements well merited. We wish for him further success.

Don E. Parsons

Having a well-earned reputation for honesty, dependable judgment, and a complete knowledge of the insurance business far above the average, Don E. Parsons, local agent for Farmers Insurance Group, merits a brief tribute in this Lovington review.

Without assumption, or seeking public acclaim, he has filled his place in the community as one of its solid citizens, performing his duties of citizenship quietly, yet efficiently.

As a leading and progressive business man, Mr. Parsons holds a high position in the esteem of the public generally.

It is not only as a practical executive, whose sound judgment and far-sighted planning have brought such fine things to himself, but it is because of his inspiring optimism and loyal friendship that Don Parsons is held in such high regard by the people of this district.

We gladly praise the successful record of this dependable Lovington insurance counselor.

line of business. This is partly so because of their long experience, but also because of a never ending policy of keeping abreast of the times in their particular field.

It is a pleasure to compliment Bill Irwin for the successful management of the C. R. Anthony Company, and for his many contributions to those civic projects aiding in the growth and development of Lovington and the adjacent territory.

Jake C. Lister

Jake C. Lister of Jake's Pharmacy & Drug Store, has a well-earned reputation for dependability because he has consistently forged ahead in his business. Never letting up in his efforts to make the service he renders to the people more valuable. This invariable policy has made Jake's Pharmacy & Drug Store outstanding in its field, a fact that is well known to the public throughout the Lovington area.

But Mr. Lister has accomplished much more than just making a success of his business and private affairs, and we take this opportunity to pay tribute to him for devoting what time he could spare to the general welfare, not only to the city, but this entire district as well.

It is such men as he, who are both successful in business, and appreciative of their civic obligations that are deserving of recognition. We take pleasure in publicly giving Jake Lister the credit for his accomplishments which his many friends and customers have so long accorded him.

Clyde Adams

In paying tribute to some of the more dependable business men of Lovington, we would be remiss in our duty should we fail to include Clyde Adams of Adams Electric, whose business ability is no greater than the 'know-how' and professional skill which has contributed to his well-earned success in the electrical contracting business.

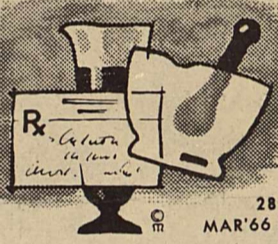

He has also contributed generously to the welfare of the city and the community for many miles around. And his civic spirit is evidenced by the many services which he has performed, and will continue to perform in the interest of the people as a whole.

Mr. Adams is a man of wide acquaintance, whose many friends admire and respect in him, those virtues which inspire confidence and promote good feeling. And his upright business methods are a credit to his inherent sense of fair play.

We congratulate Clyde Adams on his splendid record of service, and trust he shall continue to assist us for many years to come.
