Plains Talk

By Harry W. Cayce

We received the most enjoyable letter from Eva Tubb this week. She keeps up with the people of Plains through her Plains Record, and writes that she enjoys Plains Talk. We were delighted to hear from Eva, who offered some interesting leads for future columns. In fact Eva volunteered to writing some reflections of her own from by gone years, and the column will be called 'Scrapbook Memories'. This should be of tremendous interest to the people of the area.

I followed up on Eva's advice this week, and interviewed a good friend, and one of the most interesting persons that I have met in a blue moon. I called Mrs. John Robertson and asked to interview her concerning events which have been forgotten by most. She was indeed cooperative, and came to the office and we had a real chat. Mrs. John told me about the time that a young lady came to the area from the Emerald Isle. In fact Mrs. John was the first person to meet Miss Annie Armstrong of Sligo, who came to West Texas from Ireland. Miss Annie arrived in Stanton and was met by Mrs. John and some of Mrs. Robertson's family. They spent the night at the home of the late John Richards, who was a brother to Mrs. John. The next day via a wagon Miss Annie arrived in what is now Sligo. I asked Mrs. John if she remembered what Miss Annie said upon seeing her West Texas land for the first time, and she said that Miss Annie said it was wild and wooley.

Mrs. John Robertson has the distinction of having been the first elected county clerk of Cochran County. This is truly unique, because Cochran County was the last county in the state of Texas to achieve county status. I asked Mrs. John when this was, and she said, it has been a long long time...

I asked Mrs. Robertson to tell me about her favorite horse, and immediately she beamed and said, Oh that was Old Dan. He came from Ft. Worth where my husband bought him. He was trained and was the fastest horse anywhere around. She added that her Dan had equaled the fabulous time of the immortal horse of all ages, Dan Patch. I know that I am not from the horse and buggy days, but I remember my grandparents telling wild tales dear to their hearts of old Dan Patch. I even remember reading about him in primary readers when I was in the lower grades three decades ago. She stuck to her guns and was most convincing that her Dan could have matched the great Dan Patch.

Mrs. John Robertson is indeed an interesting person to talk to, because she can tell us about riding old Dan for years, and then she told us about having owned the second car in Stanton. It was an E. M. F., and she said they traded it for a Ford when they bought their second car.

Mrs. Robertson said that after she lost her husband when he died in 1950 that she was lonely and wanted to be active in something, so she decided to go to school. She went to Houston and studied under Buddy Benz, and became a florist. She is still active in her shop and is helped by her granddaughter, Linda.

Mrs. Robertson says her favorite president has been Teddy Roosevelt, and that she has lived under a lot of them. She won't tell how many she has lived under, but she is certain that Teddy was her favorite.

Mrs. Robertson and her late husband John bought the old Cotton Ranch in 1928 and moved here from Sudan.

In talking to Mrs. Robertson, I asked her if she knew that her old friend, Miss Annie, has the oldest Lillac bush in the area at her home. She said that she didn't, but that she was glad that her friend who came to this wonderful country so long ago from Ireland still has her Lillac bush. As a lover of flowers, Mrs. John will probably pay a visit to her dear friend, Miss Annie, and get a clipping from the tree when Lillacs first in the springtime bloom. I imagine if she cuts a sprig from the old tree which has stood since 1890, that a lifetime of wonderful thoughts will flash with electric force through the mind of this remarkable lady who chose to settle out on the Plains in West Texas so very long ago.

Jana Strickland FFA Sweetheart

At a recent meeting of the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America Jana Strickland was elected Chapter Sweetheart for the 1967-68 school year. Miss Strickland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Strickland of Plains. Mr. and Mrs. Strickland own the Cowboy Grill and are active in their farming interests.

Jana is a Plains High School Freshman. Each year the Future Farmers elect a Chapter Sweetheart. The Sweetheart last year was Carolyn Crutcher.

The High School freshman is also the cheerleader for her class. She is a member of the Plains High School Band. Miss Strickland was also nominated for Carnival Queen in past years.

Among the Chapter Sweetheart's hobbies are playing the piano and riding horseback. She is also interested in farm activities, since her parents have been in farming for some time.

Miss Strickland extended her appreciation to the Plains Chapter of the Future Farmers of America for electing her to serve as their queen during this school year. She said it is one of the highest honors that a student can receive. The Plains freshman thanked the boys, and assured them that she will represent the Chapter to the best of her ability.

The Sweetheart is named each year by the members of the chapter who nominate and vote on the candidate.

Officers for the Aggies this year include Corky Coke, president; John Preston Robertson, vice president; Alton Earl McGinty, secretary; Billy Taylor, treasurer; Gregg Jones, sentinel; Wayne Box, reporter; and Milton Romans, chaplain.

ASCS News On Crop Loans

GRAZING DATE: Information has been received that the starting date for fall grazing on diverted acres under the 1967 cotton and feed grain programs will be October 1st, 1967. This will permit a seven months grazing period. This is a change from the November 1st starting date previously announced and is due to the farmer's need for grazing in many parts of the state.

ACP COVER CROPS: Farmers that did not receive ACP cost share assistance for establishing a cover of forage sorghum or summer legumes may obtain cost share assistance for establishing a cover of small grain: rye, oats or barley (not wheat) if they have land that needs a cover for protection and file a request before the practice is started.

COTTON LOANS: To be eligible for a CCC loan, cotton must be wrapped in specification bagging or the bagging identified with an exemption tag. It is the farmer's responsibility to see that their cotton is wrapped in approved bagging in their want

City of Plains Aids Industry

Members of the Plains City Council unanimously voted to commit $5000.00 to the proposed plan of the Chamber of Commerce to gain industry for Plains. The action was taken after the Chamber took steps to form a non profit corporation to raise funds to aid efforts for an industry for the city. The council took the action at the meeting last week. The motion was made by Roy Edwards and received the support of all members of the council. The money would be used to purchase stock.

Those serving on the council are Roy Edwards, Frank Whitlock, James Warren, Ed Hunter, Bill Loyd, and Mayor Billie Ray Kennedy.

A resolution was also passed without opposition by the Chamber of Commerce commending the city officials for taking the steps to make the funds available.

As quickly as the paper work is complete on forming the corporation, a drive will be launched to sell stock to businessmen, property owners, farmers, ranchers, and interested people in Plains.

Directors of the new corporation for industrial development include Bill Loyd, president of the Plains State Bank, Alf Carpenter, Bank director, farmer and business man, and Doyle Newsom, Plains cotton ginner.

Chamber officials and members were optimistic this week about chances to acquire industry for the county seat town. An industrial expert told the chamber last week that factories are seeking locations in small West Texas cities because of labor problems being at a minimum, and because of lower tax structures.

Most cities have such a corporation. In surrounding cities, Morton and Denver City both have Industrial Corporations. Such corporations are recommended by the Texas Industrial Commission, and by industry consultants.

Experts point out that with such a corporation set up that contact can be made easier, and that funds are easier raised.

Nobody will be asked to donate to the plan, but an appeal will be made to urge local citizens to invest in their town.

Vernon Townes is working on the papers to file in order to gain corporate status.

2nd Farm Tour Set Sept. 28

The second annual Farm Tour is slated to leave from the old courthouse next Thursday at 2:00 p.m. The tour was scheduled again this year after the successful one which was conducted last year. A school bus was used last year to take the farmers and businessmen on the tour of the county, and probably will be used this year.

Supporters of the tour believe that it is a fine educational means to help those attending to learn new methods and to let them see how their neighbors meet problems which arise in the farming practices of the area.

Two tours have been planned for showing the 1967 field crops in Yoakum County. The first is slated to begin from the Old Courthouse at 2:00 p.m., Thursday, September 28. The second tour is tentatively scheduled for October 5 and begins from Denver City.

The Plains tour will cover approximately 45 miles and tour the area to the east, north and west of Plains. Some of the points of interest will be established grass plantings, narrow row grain sorghum, cotton varieties, fertilizer demonstrations, and grain sorghum varieties. Six stops will be made on the two and one half hour tour and everyone should be back in Plains by 4:30 p.m.

The plans are not yet complete on the Denver City tour, but it will be approximately the same length and have similar points of interest but in different locations. There will be no exact duplications for those attending both tours.

These tours are planned and sponsored by the various agricultural agencies, farmer groups, and business people of Yoakum County. Everyone is invited and urged to attend one or both of these field tours.

Wranglers Smash Tahoka Pups

The Wranglers of Plains junior High invaded Bulldog Stadium in Tahoka Tuesday and overpowered the Puppies in both the seventh and eighth grade games to start their campaign for the year with a pair of wins.

In the seventh grade game, the score deadlocked at 0-0 for almost three quarters when quarterback Joey Lowe raced around right end on a sweep play and charged to pay dirt. The two point conversion was good, made by Tony Chandler and Plains took an eight point lead. The battle seasawed for the rest of the game, but the Plains team was able to out last the Pup challenges.

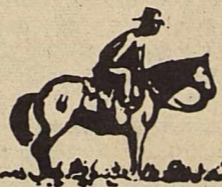

The second game found the eighth grade team with their backs to the wall in the first period, but they dug in with a goal line stand and the Tahoka team was held on downs. Early in the second quarter, fullback Mike Cayce charged 25 yards for the first touchdown, and the two point conversion was made by Shelly Simpson to give the team an 8-0 lead. Randy Fitzhugh scored the second Plains touchdown, after Shelly Simpson had made a long gain to get the ball into position to score. Fitzhugh scored two more touchdowns in the game and Mike Cayce scored a two point conversion and Shelly Simpson kicked another extra point to give Plains a 29-0 victory over the only team that scored on them last year.

Coach Bob Gross's practice efforts paid off with a powerful attack with the threat of the power sweep or the off tackle trap plays. It was due to a team effort that the Wranglers won both games with extra efforts being made by the defense and the offense was able to go due to a line that worked all evening to set up

A. K. Gilliam

Newsom Gins County 1st Bale on Monday

A. K. Gilliam took the first load of cotton for the 1967 season to the D. C. Newsom and Son Gin at about 3:30 p.m. Monday afternoon, and Yoakum County's first bale for the year was ginned. The bale weighed 600 pounds and veteran ginner D. C. Newsom said the grade will be good, and will probably be Midland grade. The bale brought a premium of 50 cents per pound, and a total of $300.00 was paid for the bale. Last year the first bale was taken to the Tokio Co-op Gin by Herman Locke of Tokio.

The cotton in the first trailer load weighed 2600 pounds, said Hoss Newsom. The bale was ginned and taken to the courthouse square Tuesday.

The rain storm was so severe Monday that conditions did not permit Newsom to take the first bale to the courthouse square.

D. C. Newsom said that he has been a cotton ginner for over 50 years, but that this was the first time that rain interfered with the ginning of the first bale.

Gilliam is married and has three children, and 10 grandchildren. The Gilliams farm eight miles East of Plains and two miles North. The cotton was planted in the middle of April.

The Plains farmer is a former cotton ginner himself, having worked at the Newsom Gin and at the C. G. S. Gin.

The Gilliams are members of the Church of the Nazarine, and attend services in Brownfield. Their youngest son is a graduate of Plains High School in the class of 1958.

On Tuesday morning, Gilliam was a guest at the Chamber of Commerce breakfast, and was presented with a $50 bonus check from the local Chamber. It is traditional in Plains for the first farmer to gin a bale of cotton to receive the bonus.

The first bale was completed at about 5:20 p.m. during the worst part of the cloudburst which sent three inches of rain pouring down.

Revenge was the story Friday night, as the Plains Cowboys out fought a determined Sundown Roughneck squad to gain an impressive 26 - 6 victory over a rugged team that upended the Pokes last year.

Coach Rip Sewell's Cowboys scored in the final minutes of the first quarter when Billy Spencer went eight yards off a trap play to pay dirt. The two point conversion failed, and Plains led 6 - 0 at the end of the quarter.

In the second quarter Billy Spencer broke free on a perfect trap play and dashed 75 yards for the second Plains touchdown of the night. The conversion attempt failed and the Cowboys were in command 12 - 0. It was a whole team effort that set Spencer loose on his 75 yard race to pay dirt, as the entire team executed the play to perfection.

Sundown still showed fight and closed the gap with a one yard plunge for a touchdown. The Roughnecks failed in their attempt for points after touchdown and the half ended with the Cowboys out in front 12 - 6.

Plains received the kick off in the third quarter and Gregg Jones made a 38 yard return to put the ball on the Roughnecks 43 yard line. Three plays later, Gregg Jones sped 40 yards on a pitch play to increase the Cowboy advantage. Tennie Lowe kicked the extra point and the Cowboys were out ahead by 19 - 6.

Gregg Jones out paced all challengers late in the third quarter on an identical play to make the last Cowboy touchdown of the night. Tennie Lowe booted the point and the score was 26 - 6, which is what it was when time ran out.

Dan Field punted twice, and what punts they were. The Plains senior booted for 56 and 59 yards to give him a season average of 54 yards per punt. This kept Sundown in the hole and a stout defense did the rest.

Plains made 7 first downs and Sundown made 6, while in the passing department the Pokes had 3 for 7, and intercepted two Roughneck passes, while the Roughnecks completed 6 of 10 attempts.

In total yards rushing, Plains had 263 and 64 via the air ways. Sundown rushed for

CAYCE'S CORNER

D. C. Newsom has ginned cotton for over 50 years, but when I was at the gin Monday afternoon watching him and his son Hoss send the first bale through the works, he looked at me and said, son I have ginned cotton for a long time but this is the first time that I have seen a cloud-burst when the first bale comes in to the extent that a fellow can't even take the first bale to the courthouse square and crow about it. I was quick to ask Newsom if he claimed credit for the big rain that came down on the gin like machine gun bullets at Omaha Beach, and sure enough, the veteran ginner was hasty in replying, 'Certainly Boy, I sure do claim credit for the rain, because if A. K. Gilliam had not brought the cotton it wouldn't have rained a drop.' I asked Newsom if he intended to take the blame for Hail if any fell, and he said what are you saying anyway, you know very well that an old ginner with a half of century in this business couldn't possibly lay any claim to a stake like that. We finally just stood back and enjoyed the rain and took the pictures on the inside of the gin, but I could see that the senior ginner of the area cast an occasional glance towards the courthouse, and I got the impression that it just wasn't fair for a ginner to be unable to take the first bale to the square and brag just a little; however I would make book that he made up for lost time when the bale was taken to the courthouse on Tuesday.

Talk about a surgeon operating without a scalpel, what would Mr. Newsom look like ginning a bale of cotton without his stick in his right hand back pocket. Newsom didn't say, but I would bet that a doctor without a white jacket would look more in keeping that a ginner without his stick.

While we were talking, D. C. told me about a recent trip to East Texas, where he put out the feeler to get a sewing industry in Plains. Mr. Newsom has worked hard to help build our economy with crops other than cotton, and he has worked equally as hard to bring industry to Plains. Men with less will power would have given up long ago, but not D. C.

He has had a few teeth kicked in for trying to make the community a better place for us all to live in by working to maintain the clinic and to help business, and he always manages to come back when it looks like he is down for the long count. Newsom wants no credit for himself, but he wants the younger people to get off their cans, as he says, and do something for themselves. He is an ardent advocate of the Free Enterprise System, and much could be learned by the generation his junior from the gentleman ginner from Plains.

On another subject in Plains, the big question is 'What happened to Sen. Doc Blanchard the other day when he was scheduled to appear as a featured speaker on the program of the District Soil and Water meet?' The solon wrote and confirmed that he would be here, but when the time came, he didn't show, and didn't even send an excuse, a greeting, or make a call. In fact, the local chairman of the meeting tried to contact the senator, but he was unavailable for comment. I know some local voters who may be unavailable at the next election, unless a rabbit is pulled out of the hat. There were 35 delegates from throughout the senatorial district and West Texas who were left holding the bag in the District Courtroom the other day, and a few were, in simple language, just plain irate at the Lubbock senator. If anybody has a fence mending chore ahead of them in the art of politics it is Doc Blanchard. As an editor and a former government teacher, my conclusion is that people will often forgive, but they never forget. I do trust that Doc has some explanation, but far be it from me to ask what it is, because it is up to him to mend his fences where they happen to collapse. He could start by paying a visit to the good people of Plains, and call on the local editor. I have owned the local news rag for about 33 months and the senator has never been to Plains. Rep. George Mahon, who is chairman of the Appropriations Committee in the U. S. Congress, and is one of the top 12 men in U. S. government, takes time out of a really killing schedule to visit his district and talk to his constituents each year, so it could be that if Doc has any future political expectations that he should take a good look at the way George Mahon operates in such an effective way. Some of us may get sore at George, but we can't stay mad for long, because he makes us believe that he really enjoys an off the cuff chat with us, and for a fact, I believe he actually does. Senator Blanchard has a fine reputation in the statehouse as an able senator, and no doubt gives us sound representation, but the fact still remains, it would be nice to at least know what our state senator looks like.

Young Farmers-Homemakers Go To Area Two Conclave

The Area II Association of Young Farmers and Young Homemakers held their Annual Convention in Seminole, September 16. The joint session began at 1:00 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. Following the invocation, a color guard from Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock, presented the flag.

A young Farmer led the assembly in the pledge of Allegiance and a Young Homemaker led in the singing of the National Anthem. Jo Ann Barron, Area II Vice President, co-ordinated the program for the day and introduced the guests. The Young Homemakers program began with a book review by Mrs. Casey Jones of Plains. Mrs. Jones, well known in this area for her public speaking, reviewed the book, 'Everything But Money,' by Sam Levinson. The approximate 150 Young Women in attendance enjoyed meeting the Plains woman and expressed their appreciation of the review.

xieland Band, of Seminole entertaining before the presentation of awards. Rev. Kenneth Wyatt, of Morton, was key speaker for the evening. He is one of the most popular after dinner speakers in this area.

Plains was well represented at the Convention. Those attending were, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGehee, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barron, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Head, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rucker, Linda Huddleston, Kala Hawkins, and Inez Chambliss.

Attend Flower School

Florists from West Texas and New Mexico attended a school at the Ko Ko Palace in Lubbock last week-end, and from Plains the following people attended:

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nokes, Thelma Keck, Kay Green, and Marcene Phillips from Bill and Mary's Flower Shop, and Mrs. John Robertson and Linda Robertson from the Plains Floral.

Designers were at the school from Houston and Odessa appearing on the special Christmas program. Vance Greenfield from Houston, and Mark Knox from Odessa were the designers on the program.

The group in attendance were treated to a buffet Saturday night, and the local people who attended reported that it was an interesting and entertaining meeting.

Club Installs

The Plains Young Homemakers met recently in the Home Economics building and held their installation of officers.

Jeanette Head, past president, narrated a very impressive installation service. The following officers were installed to serve for the 1967-68 year as follows: Judy Fitzgerald, president; Martha Palmer, vice-president; Jeanette Head, secretary-treasurer; Sheila Stephens, Reporter; Beverly Cross, program chairman; Linda Huddleston, parliamentarian; and Inez Chambliss advisor.

The officers are planning a noon luncheon for September 25th, to plan the programs for the year.

The Plains Chapter was very fortunate this past year in having an area officer to serve this past year. Jo Ann Barron served our area as Vice President.

Refreshments of chips and dips, tea and coffee, cake and cookies were enjoyed by all.

We would like to urge anyone that is interested in joining our club to join us on the second Monday of each month at 8:00 p.m. in the Home Ec Room at the High School.

State President Plans Tsa Mo Ga Visit Soon

Tsa Mo Ga Study Club will open their 1967-68 year on Monday, September 25, with Mrs. B. F. Seay, President of Texas Federation Clubs, as the guest speaker for the evening. Mrs. Seay's address will be 'Quo Vadis', (Where Are You Going?)

Mrs. Seay is truly an outstanding clubwoman. She is a charter member of the Andrews Study Club. She has served as Third Vice President, Second Vice President, and as President of the Western District of Texas Federation. She was chosen outstanding clubwoman in Western District in 1956. She has served on the District and State Board of T. F. W. C. since 1948.

She was elected President of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs at the May Convention in Lubbock, Texas in May of 1966. Prior to this appointment, she served as Third, Second, and First Vice President of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Seay has been Executive Secretary of the American Red Cross for 16 years. She has been secretary of the United Fund, March of Dimes, for 4 years. She is a charter member of the Andrews School Advisory Council; Andrews Youth Center Council; and Hospital Auxiliary. She has been activity chairman of U. S. Savings Bonds for 15 years. She is presently on the Board of Directors of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Texans for Traffic Safety; Texans Safety Association, and Texas Partners for Alliance for Progress.

Mrs. Seay was educated in Lubbock High School; attended

MRS. B. F. SEAY

Texas Tech in Lubbock and received her B. S. Degree from Abilene Christian College.

Program Director for the evening will be Mrs. R. B. Jones. Mrs. R. K. Field will give the invocation.

Dinner will be served at 8:00 p.m. by the hostesses, Mrs. P. W. St. Romain, Mrs. Carl Stroup, Mrs. Jack Hayes, Mrs. Dickie Green, and Mrs. Bob Blundell.

A welcome address will be given by Mrs. A. B. Carpenter, President of the Tsa Mo Ga Study Club. Mrs. M. W. Luna will conclude the program with a scripture reading. All members are urged to attend.

The junior High teams will meet O'Donnell at Cowboy Field next Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. The public is urged to attend and support the wranglers.

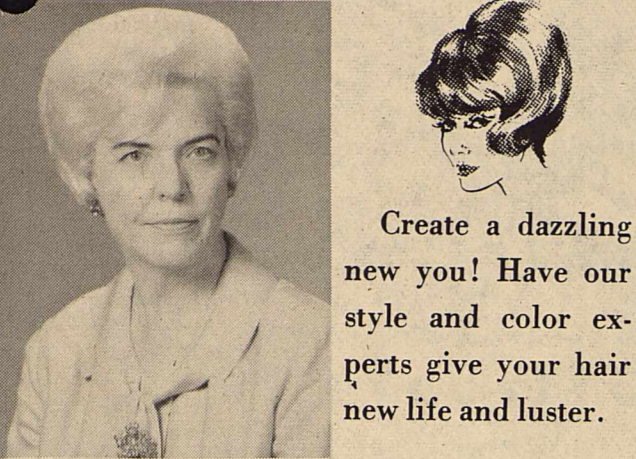

The junior High Cheer Leaders and Twirlers were in Tahoka at the game, and a large group from Plains were reported to have been there.

Who's Who

Mrs. John Robertson reports that the Plains Flower Shop has been selected to appear in the publication of Who's Who in the Flowerworld. The following reasons were given for the selection of the local shop:

Your shop has been chosen after careful consideration of several factors important to the Floral Industry - the quality of your work, your ethical standards in dealing with both the public and fellow florists, the promptness with which you pay all bills, etc.

We are pleased to advise you that your shop has gained an excellent rating on these and the many other factors under consideration.

Create a dazzling new you! Have our style and color experts give your hair new life and luster.

WHERE IN THE WORLD

will our school students go to build careers for themselves?

(WHAT PART CAN YOU PLAY IN ANSWERING THIS QUESTION?)

Right now it's back-to-school for the book-toters of our town. Before you know it, they'll be graduating! Many will go on to higher learning. Ultimately all of them will have a decision to make, as to WHERE they can best build their careers.

You have a definite stake in the future of these young people. Your taxes help pay for their education. The more of them who stay HERE to contribute to the progress of THIS community, the better for all of us!

It takes a GROWING community to provide adequate scope for the rightful ambitions of young people. What can YOU do about this? One very important thing: You can spend MORE of your shopping dollars at home, where they will stimulate local trade and business, spark expansion, help create more employment opportunities, help maintain first class schools and other civic services that will attract new residents and new industries. You help our young people, our town, and YOURSELF, when you...

How many will be able to USE their education where they are getting it... here at HOME?

John Kendrick Seeks Seat

Brownfield, Texas ... John J. Kendrick, a 48 year old banker of Brownfield, has announced his candidacy for State Representative from District 75, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jesse T. George of Levelland. The 75th District includes Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum Counties in the Southern High Plains area of West Texas.

John Kendrick

In filing for the office, Kendrick said, "Having the knowledge gained from many years working with and for the financial, agricultural, industrial and cultural development of our area, I sincerely believe that I can be an effective representative. And, with the assistance of the people of this district and the West Texas area, plans can be developed to assure the continued expansion of the economy, with particular emphasis on the importation of adequate water for all purposes to the High Plains as an early objective."

President of the First National Bank of Brownfield, where he started as a bookkeeper in September, 1938, Kendrick was born in Lubbock, Texas, May 12, 1919, son of West Texas pioneers J. J. and Mattie S. Kendrick. He graduated from Lubbock High School and attended Texas Technological College. He is a graduate of various American Banking Institute and U. S. Air Force Institute courses. He enlisted in the U. S. Air Force in February, 1942, and served in the China, Burma and India actions as a fighter pilot. Separated from the Air Force in 1946 as a Captain, encer, Jesse Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis. They went to Lovington.

David and Wayne Box Reg Trout, and Mike Hughes went to Denver City Sunday afternoon to the roping arena.

Terry Bacon, manager of the Bronco Farmers Co-op Gin wishes to extend an invitation to each an everyone to the fish fry at the gin, Saturday night, September 23, for a fish fry from 5:30 until 7:30. He said there would be a representative from the Oil Mill in Loving, New Mexico, one from the Plains Co-op in Lubbock, and Cotton Marketing Co-op in Lubbock to answer any questions that might be asked. All families of the area are invited to attend.

he now holds a rating of Major in the USAF Reserve. Kendrick, long active in civic affairs, currently is President of Water, Inc., a recently organized nonprofit corporation that is working to bring additional water supplies to West Texas, Eastern New Mexico and Western Oklahoma. He is also President of the South Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 4, a political subdivision in the Terry, Yoakum and Gaines County areas. In making the decision to enter the race for State Representative, Kendrick stated that he would resign from this job if elected. "I will resign this latter office," Kendrick said "Prior to qualifying for the new office to avoid conflict of interest but will continue to work for conservation of water resources."

Kendrick is also President of the Terry County United Fund, a Director of the Plains State Bank of Plains, Texas, a National Council Member of the Boy Scouts of America. He has served as President of the South Plains Bankers Association, President of the Brownfield Rotary Club, President of the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce, Commander of Howard-Henson Post #269 of the American Legion, and as a Director of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

He and his wife, Irma, make their home at 1609 East Buckley Street in Brownfield. They have three children: John J. Jr., a senior law student at SMU in Dallas; Jean now Mrs. Jerry K. Phillips of Dallas; and Jimmy, a freshman in Brownfield High School. The Kendricks have two grandchildren. He and his wife are members of the First Methodist Church of Brownfield.

100,000 Mathematicians

Sandra Nelson, Judy McCure, and Carolyn Gindele are responsible for more calculations in a minute than Pythagoras made in a lifetime.

These ladies are mathematicians for El Paso Natural Gas Company. They design "programs" to make maximum use of the high potentials of modern electronic computers. Their programs make it possible for the computers, in a few minutes, to complete the mathematics of designing a new pipeline system or calculate the taxes to be paid to communities, states, and the federal government or to predict the volumes of gas to be needed in the future. By using these computers to the fullest, Sandra, Judy, and Carolyn become the equivalent of, say, 100,000 mathematicians of a generation ago.

These ladies supply the brainpower; the computers do the mechanical work. Sandra, Judy, and Carolyn's great competence — along with that of the other 5,400 employees of El Paso Natural Gas Company whose skills range from accounting through geology to mathematics — are among the reasons that the West has assured supplies of natural gas.

Cowboy Corral

In last weeks game the Plains Cowboys beat the Sundown Roughnecks. There was great excitement throughout the game which was shown by the score, 26 to 6, when the clock stopped. This makes two games down and eight to go. Plains will play Farwell this Friday night at 8:30 p.m. when the Cowboys plan to bring home a Steer.

There has been talk around school about having an extra pep rally right before the boys leave for the game. This will help the Cowboys play even better than before with the 'Spirit' aroused by the Cowboy Fans! THINK STATE!!!

This week clubs have been getting organized for the new year and class officers have been elected. The Science Club has asked that all students of PHS who are interested in joining the Science Club to sign up in the office on Friday. Out of all the persons that are interested in the Science Club membership, five students will be chosen to be members. These members must be at least a Sophomore and they must also maintain a 'B' average.

The Student Council has elected Gregg Jones as their president for the coming year. Good Luck Gregg!

On Monday of next week the Plains Cowboy Band will leave for Lubbock to march in the South Plains Fair parade and they will spend the afternoon at the Fair. Good Luck Gang!!!

In the halls of P. H. S. this week we overheard Calvin talking to Sadie, remarking, 'I got up so early this morning I was nearly on time for school.'

Homecoming Set Here Oct. 13th

Homecoming for Plains High School Alumni has been set for October 13, 1967, announced Dwane McDonnell, Alumni President. October 13, will be the date for the Homecoming Football game between the Plains Cowboys and Coahoma Bulldogs in Cowboy Stadium.

This year there will be a Homecoming Parade, and the Ex-Students Association urges all merchants, clubs, school organizations and women's clubs to enter a float. This is the first time we have had a Homecoming Parade, so lets make it a good one.

The Alumni Association is working hard to set up some special activities for all ex-students this year so let's all start making plans now to attend. Homecoming is for ALL ex-students, whether you graduated or not. If you ever went to school at PHS you are an ex-student, so come on - let's make this the biggest and best Homecoming ever.

The junior Class will be taking orders for mums this year, so if you want one, contact anyone in the junior class and place your order early enough for them to get them in.

There will be announcements concerning all Homecoming activities in this paper at a later date. Start making plans now to attend!

Band Trip

The Plains High School Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Coy Cook, will leave Monday morning to participate in the South Plains Fair parade, which will open the Fair in Lubbock this week.

The Cowboy marching band will be competing against 27 other bands from the area. Awards will be given to first, second and third place winners in each class.

The new officers for the band for the coming year include: Robert Field, president; Jackie McDonnell, vice president; Jana Strickland, Secretary, and Phyllis Kreig as Treasurer.

'68s Top Secrets are here

1968 Chevrolets

The 1968 Chevrolets are the very essence of modern design. Every line, every curve is in close harmony. It's a smooth, uncluttered look with roof lines compatible with body lines, grilles and bumpers that blend gracefully into long, rounded fenders. Clean, flowing, beautiful in their simplicity, these '68 Chevrolets are rich and advanced in styling beyond any you've ever seen.

A MORE SILENT RIDE

And for 1968, we've gone to every length to give you more peace and quiet inside. The most sophisticated computers have been used to strategically place body mounts and successfully isolate noise and vibration. Shock absorbers have been improved. The wheel stance on many models is wider for greater smoothness. Exhaust systems have been redesigned to make them whisper-quiet. Even the clocks tick more softly. A sound car is a silent car. The '68 Chevrolets are the most silent, highest quality cars we've ever built.

BETTER PERFORMANCE

There are new engines, a bigger standard Six and V8. There's a new 250-hp V8 you can order that runs on regular fuel. Many new engine components increase dependability and keep your new Chevrolet running stronger. There's a new rear axle ratio you can add for greater economy. On most engines equipped with automatic transmissions, there's a special heater for the carburetor which gives you more efficient performance in cold weather. And with every engine, you get the new GM exhaust emission control.

UNIQUE ASTRO VENTILATION

There's a whole new idea in ventilation, called Astro Ventilation, for Camaro, Corvette and the elegant Caprice Coupe. It's also available on many other models. By opening two new vent-ports on the instrument panel, you bring in outside air that can be directed where you want it. This way, you can leave your windows rolled up and add still more to your peace and quiet.

PROVED SAFETY FEATURES

You get the proved GM-developed energy absorbing steering column, folding front seat back latches, dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, plus many more new features. Among them: energy absorbing front seat backs, and safety armrests that shield the door handles.

MUCH MORE THAT'S NEW

There are new roof lines, some formal and graceful, others sporty and quick. There are new instrument panels, richly designed and all controls within easy reach. There are new interiors, new vinyls, new fabrics, new colors. There are models with Hide-A-Way windshield wipers and headlights that disappear behind grilles. There are new side marker lamps, new recessed taillights. There's even a new ignition alarm buzzer that reminds you not to walk away and leave your keys in the car.

These are the newest, the most different, the most dramatically changed Chevrolets ever. And they're at your Chevrolet dealer's now. You'll thoroughly enjoy slipping behind the wheel, experiencing the smooth new handling and library-quiet ride and, more than anything, seeing and feeling the even greater quality built into every new Chevrolet for 1968.

Be smart! Be sure! Buy now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

There's more quality and value built into Chevrolets than ever before, making every new 1968 model an even better buy!

GOODPASTURE GRAIN INC.

Roy Guetersloh is pictured in 30 inch row grain sorghum on dry land that will harvest 2000 lbs per acre.

New 30'' Rows

By C. Murrell Thompson

Cover crops of forage sorghum planted in July and August are making good growth due to the late rains. Many acres of small grain such as wheat, rye, barley and oats will be planted on land not now covered. This is the last chance for land owners and operators to prepare for what is sure to come next spring—WIND.

There was a time when much of our cropland was laid bare to the wind and some time the water in the spring. Not so anymore, Conservation Farmers now plan and plant some kind of cover and prepare to do some kind of tillage like deep breaking on land that does not have a cover, like cotton, soybeans and watermelon land.

One good way to protect your soil is to plant grain sorghum in narrow rows—30 inch—this is a new kind of farming that is catching on. As an example this year over 10 sections, 6400 acres were planted in narrow rows. Roy Guetersloh led the way planting some seven sections of his own, his fathers, Chris Guetersloh, Alf Carpenters and Paul Cobb and T. J. Beardens. Roy says that next year all of his crop will be in 30 inch rows and many others are planning to convert their equipment to 30 inch rows. Some others who have farmed narrow rows are Charles L. Williams, Bruce and Bobby White, Robert and Bobby Chambliss, Jess and Carter Snodgrass, Henry May and Jack Carothers.

This type of planting produces as much grain as the regular 40 inch rows and cuts down on evaporation due to lower soil temperature, thus making the moisture go further. It produces a residue or stubble that is twice as effective in controlling both wind and water erosion. It takes 2500 lbs. per acre in 40 inch rows and only 1500 lbs in narrow rows to do a good job of holding our soil. This crop can be cultivated with knifing rigs or sweeps or chemicals for weed control. Why not talk this over with your neighbor and give it a try next year.

FFA Boys Class Work

Vocational Agriculture teacher Randy Lehmberg and members of the Ag one class visited a class project of Jimmy and Billy Taylor's to look at some six week old pigs which were brought to Plains last week-end from the Fritz Lehmberg farm in Mason.

The pigs will be fattened and will be entered in the Yoakum County Fat Stock Show in February, and will be shown at the El Paso Fat Stock Show.

The Taylor boys, who are sons of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Taylor, also have two other pigs which were gotten from Carl Lowery of the Plains vicinity.

The Taylors also have 14 ewes and will get some rams for the show. Their projects are diversified and Mr. Lehmberg said that their projects will be carried out over a long period of time.

Lehmberg plans field trips to each student's project during the year, and it has been planned to take as many pictures of the Ag projects this year as possible.

Members of the F. F. A. chapter who were on the field trip Tuesday include Mike Loe, Gary Livesay, Ronnie Brad-dock, Clevey Kerby, and Jimmy Taylor.

Mr. Lehmberg also stated that he hopes to take chapter members on the Annual Farm Tour scheduled later this month.

with not less than 115 H.P., to be equipped as follows: oil clutch, chrome 14 Ft. hydraulic shiftable mouldboard. Cab with tinted glass, heater, defroster, 24 volt electric start, with heavy duty batteries, 1400 x 24 - 10 ply tires, front and rear, scarifier, and lights. The above to weigh not less than 26,000 pounds.

The Commissioners' Court reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Tower Speaks on Space Program Taylor Named to Who's Who Rehab Meet

By Senator John G. Tower
This year has seen considerable discussion about the objectives and management of our Space Program. The tragic accident, in late January, in which Astronauts Grissom, White and Chaffee died in an Apollo ground test, coupled with the deficit-spending situation brought on by irresponsible federal fiscal managers, has served to rekindle vocal opposition to our space efforts.

I am not in sympathy with these space skeptics, because I believe very strongly in the value of space exploration to the continued growth and survival of the United States. And, although I have long advocated a close look at government spending with the aim of eliminating all non-essential expenditures, I have not felt—as some of my colleagues have—that our space programs should be a primary target for drastic cuts. Not only would abandonment or curtailment of our space program make a mockery of individual sacrifices made by men like Grissom, White and Chaffee; but it would also shortchange this nation scientifically and militarily.

As you know, we have a two-sided space program—with military uses developed by the Department of Defense and peaceful uses developed by NASA. Of course, there is much overlap because equipment—a camera, for example, developed by NASA may turn out to be valuable in satisfying Defense requirements. In addition, and equally important, there is free interchange of technical information, management methods, and even people between NASA and the Defense Department.

As a member of the Armed Services Committee here in the Senate, and being concerned about the military posture of the United States, I am especially interested in assuring that the United States has the ability to operate effective defense units in outer space.

As a matter of fact, there is strong reason for believing that observation from space is the most significant development in man's space experience. Historians may look back and agree that observation satellites are among the most important machines ever created by man.

Not only can these satellites help us watch crop and forest growth, to forecast weather, to improve our maps, and to assist navigation; but they can also tell us how many missiles an enemy has. They can see, from orbital altitudes of some 200 miles, objects as small as garbage-can lids. By 1970 we can expect to be able to literally 'look into' the ocean, obviously a big advantage to the fishing industry—and to the detection of enemy submarines. In fact, it is difficult to imagine a technical development with more military importance than the ability to see into the oceans.

One of the more significant space surprises of recent years is that a comparison of 'photographs' made in several different parts of the electromagnetic spectrum yields far more information about the situation on the ground than any single camera ever would. The ordinary camera shows small objects, but other sensors, such as infrared, complement our knowledge by showing temperature, reflectivity, and color of the objects. Altogether these photos reveal a truly astounding amount of information; the type of construction materials in buildings and water content of soils, location of missile silos with grass growing over the top, the health of plants, the po-rosity of rock, and the contamination of water.

Another key development for tomorrow is the ability to transmit large quantities of information rapidly to the ground. In military operations today, film must be ejected from the satellite in a small reentry vehicle which in turn must be retrieved by aircraft. An obvious objective is to drastically shorten this operation by putting equipment in the satellite to transmit the photos to the ground as soon as they are taken. The Air Force's first attempts at such a system will probably be made with the Manned Orbiting Laboratory which has received a substantial increase in support this year, but will still not fly until 1969.

Orbital space stations, such as the Manned Laboratory, will provide far more information about the earth and man's activities on earth than we have ever known before. The basic value of this mass of satellite information is that it will take the guesswork out of many of man's most important activities. This capability will be worth billions of dollars, as it stimulates more efficient use of resources everywhere on earth.

Militarily, equally ambitious hopes seem to be in order. Within a decade, it should be possible to keep an accurate record of not only the inventory, but the disposition of all the military forces

D. N. Taylor, principal of Plains High School, has been selected to appear in the 1967 edition of Outstanding Personalities of the South.

Taylor, a graduate of Hardin Simmons University, is married and has three children. Two of his sons are students in High School and his eldest son is a student at the University of Texas.

Taylor is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce, the Plains Lions Club, and served as a long time member of the City Council until recently. He is a veteran of World War Two, and is a member of the American Legion. He is an active member of the Baptist Church.

Other recipients of this honor include Governors, United States Senators and Congressmen of the various southern states. The publication includes many citizens such as educators, leading businessmen, members of state legislative bodies, civic and political leaders, elected leaders of various political subdivisions, farmers, ministers, officers and officials of various trade organizations, leading sports figures, and many other individuals who, because of past achievements and service to their community, state, and nation, are recognized as outstanding personalities of the South.

Through the benefits I have just outlined, both military and commercial, our expenditures for space exploration are paying off. I will continue to strongly support our nation's space program.

Thanks for the Help

I wish to thank all of the people who helped me in making the program a success for the recent Area II Young Homemakers Convention. I would like to say a special thank you to all of the members of the Plains Young Homemakers. I would also like to thank June Hamm, Nell Botenhamer of Hobbs, New Mexico and Merle Hopkins of Lubbock, all representing the Viviane Woodard Corporation, Marguerite Wofford of Briar-croft Pants Salon, Ann Linley, Melba Briant, and Judy Hanslik all of Lubbock. Special thanks should also go to Mrs. Casey Jones, Inez Chambliss and Martha McGehee.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 14, Art York, Jr., Veterans County Service Officer for Yoakum County is now attending the 20th Annual Statewide Rehabilitation Conference for Veterans Service Officers, which was held at the Austin Hotel in Austin, Texas, September 11-14, 1967.

This Conference is being conducted by the Veterans Affairs Commission of Texas, in cooperation with the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Veterans of World War I, and the Veterans County Service Officers Association of Texas. The purpose of the meeting is to offer Service Officers from the entire State of Texas an opportunity to gain first-hand knowledge of recently enacted legislation dealing with benefits to veterans and their dependents and survivors. Topics to be discussed during the four-day Conference include disability compensation and pension, Government insurance, GILoans, Education and training for veterans and children, hospitalization and medical treatment, and veterans employment and reemployment rights.

Conducted annually, this Conference serves as an in-service course of training for all National, State, County, Post and Chapter Veterans Service Officers.
