CHRIS WINN, WINS GAINES COUNTY PLAY DAY

By Leo L. White, CAA
A very nice trophy was presented to Chris Winn last Saturday, September 6th, at the Gaines County Invitational Play Day. Chris was one of eight 4-H members representing Yoakum County at the annual event. The trophy was awarded to the high point winner and Chris earned over 120 points as he competed with 72 other contestants. His best event was the barrel race with a time of 21.7 which was not equaled during the entire contest. He placed first in the barrel race, second in pole bending, fourth in reining and fifth in goat tying. He failed to place in the western pleasure class and the potato race.

Other 4-H'ers attending from Yoakum County were Amanda Phillips, Kathleen McGinty, Denise Newsom, Melvin Dearing, Tim Bowers, Brady Phillips and Sam Bowers.

Kathleen McGinty placed fifth in the potato race and sixth in the reining class. Tim Bowers placed fourth in the barrel race.

In the eight-year-old and under division, Brady Phillips placed third in the barrel race, fifth in the reining class, seventh in pole bending and tenth in the western pleasure class. Sam Bowers placed third in the potato race, fourth in the reining class, fifth in the barrel race and sixth in pole bending. Yoakum County stood second in total points. Ector County won complete possession of the traveling trophy which they had won on two previous occasions. Other counties entered in the Play Day were Terry, Cochran and Gaines.

FARM TOUR FRIDAY

By Leo L. White, CAA
The annual Yoakum County Farm Tour gets under way at 9:00 a. m., Friday morning, September 12, with the north side of the old courthouse being used as the starting point. The tour route is mapped to cover about 80 miles and it is expected to take slightly less than three hours. Some of the sites to be viewed on the tour will show weed and brush control, improved irrigation systems, cotton and grain sorghum variety demonstrations, seeding row demonstrations, narrow row grain sorghum and mini mum tillage.

Along the tour route will be many crops that are in below average condition because of the hot and dry growing season.

DIRT GARDENERS TO HOLD FLOWER SHOW

Plains Dirt Gardeners Club held their annual work shop on September 4th in the clubroom at the Old Courthouse. There were 13 members and 3 visitors and 5 junior club members present.

Mrs. Therell Hodges, a national accredited flower show judge, from Lubbock was our speaker for the day. Mrs. Hodges gave an interesting program on "Texas--The Greatest" which is the theme of our Twelfth Annual Standard Flower Show, which will be held October 4th.

Our visitors were Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. Juanita Payne of Lubbock and Mrs. Joe Crump of Plains. A salad luncheon was enjoyed by everyone.

NFO SPEAKER TO BE IN PLAINS

Due to the revived interest in the Chamber of Commerce of Plains, an organized and concerted effort is being made to help the marketing situation in this locality. During a recent meeting it was pointed out that the farmers of Muleshoe had been organized under the national organization known as the "National Farmers Organization", and at the present time this organization is operating satisfactorily.

It being the intent of the Plains Chamber of Commerce to investigate all channels of assistance to marketing improvement, the Muleshoe chapter was contacted, and arrangements were made to have Mr. Leldon Phillips of Muleshoe to attend a meeting of the "agribusinessmen", of this community and describe and explain the aims and activities of this organization.

The Chamber of Commerce is a community organization for the total benefit of all types of businesses. Therefore, a great effort is being made to have as large attendance at this meeting as possible, in order to obtain a broad view of the needs and desires of the residents of this community.

This meeting will be held in the District Courtroom in the Courthouse in Plains at 8:00 p. m., Monday, September 15th. This will be an informative and educational meeting and all those interested in better marketing facilities for this area should attend.

Remember September 11th, 8:00 p. m. The Plains Cowboys meet the Morton Indians. Everyone be there and back your home team all the way.

PLAINS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MET AT ALMA'S RESTAURANT

Last week's Chamber of Commerce meeting was an informative and progressive session. With the reorganization a few weeks ago, the renewed interest and enthusiasm for these meetings definitely show that the Chamber of Commerce is again on the move. With new leadership and its dedication of purpose, the Chamber of Commerce is proving its importance and ability to serve the residents of this community.

Small but important problems are being attacked and a definite action on some matter has been taken in each meeting. Committees have been appointed and in each instance these committeemen have reported definite action. Some of the committeemen reporting were Hoss Newsom's report on the low-cost housing project for housing farm help. It was found that although building sites were available at reasonable prices, the cost of construction at the present high interest rates rendered it impractical for construction at this time.

David Stowe, in reporting on the cooperative movement in agriculture, stated that the two cooperatives, the Yoakum County Coop Gin and the Tokio Coop Gin, returned $100,000 to the farmers this year. Garland Swann of the agriculture committee reported that due to the drought, conditions followed by the rains at shipping time, the cantaloup crops have resulted in a mushy-type melon, causing shipping difficulties which will greatly restrict the income of this crop. Nevertheless, the sugar content of the melons is over 15 percent, which is greatly above the content of melons in many other localities. The watermelon crop is good and the market promises to be extended to a much later date than previous seasons. He also stated that in his investigation of feeding milo to hogs, a greater price per hundred for milo has resulted, in some instances as much as $6.30 per hundred for the milo.

Ray Bearden's report on diversified farming was very interesting. Ray is experimenting with both an okra and collard seed crop. He reports that the okra is looking good and harvest satisfactorily with a grain combine; needs to be watered every 5 days, and the yield is good. His collards were planted late and the present results cannot be estimated. The market for this seed is distant, being a buyer in the state of Georgia. Expected yields for these crops may be as much as 1000 pounds per acre at a price of 12 to 15 cents a pound.

The possibility of cattle feed lots for the purpose of disposing of grain crops locally was discussed. Dick Carrothers reporting on financial conditions for such enterprises reported that there was a saturation of cattle feed lots in this area and finance for this project was unavailable. But that there is still a good demand for butcher hogs and money is still available for this project throughout this area.

There was some discussion of time change for the meeting. Due to the great interest being taken in these discussions, more time is required than can be afforded at the 7 o'clock breakfast meeting.

All members should bear in mind that 7 o'clock a. m., September 18th at Alma's Restaurant, will be the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber of Commerce President Loyd Allsup and West Texas Chamber of Commerce representative Ralph Duncan.

RALPH DUNCAN WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MET WITH LOCAL BOARD

Ralph Duncan, membership director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, met with the board of directors and committeemen of the Plains Chamber of Commerce at the Plains State Bank, Tuesday, at 3:00 p. m., September 9th, for the purpose of advising and helping this board in their new organizational problems.

Mr. Duncan is a very affable and humorous character and very well informed in the operations of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, having been with the organization for many years. He is also very well informed of the problems and the needs of West Texas towns and communities, and their needs for local Chamber of Commerce organizations in effort to solve these problems. As Mr. Duncan took his seat behind the bank President's desk, he stated that although he had often sat on the 'asking side' of one of these desks, this fulfilled the long-time desire to sit in the authoritative position behind the desk.

The meeting which was a question- and answer session, was a highly informative meeting in which Mr. Duncan imparted much knowledge in regard to the responsibilities and functions of the office of board members and committeemen. He stressed the need for the selection of the most dedicated and most confident members of the organization for these positions.

Mr. Duncan stated that the Chamber of Commerce is entirely a voluntary organization, both from a standpoint of service and financial contributions. He also stated that one of the greatest troubles of the Chamber of Commerce is that it is either not understood or misunderstood. It naturally follows that the first responsibility of the Board of Directors is a work program, and that the number one task to be considered in this program is to educate the membership and the people of the community of the great service that the Chamber of Commerce can afford.

This being done, the problem of membership and finance will be largely solved as members of the community begin to flow to the local organization for the solution to the community problems. As Mr. Duncan stated, the Chamber of Commerce is one of, if not the most, important organizations in any community. Its sole purpose being to build the economic life of the community and its economic development. He stated the first failure as a work program was the lack of competent stu-

The Plains Cowboys had their second scrimmage practice last Friday when the Whiteface team visited Plains. Coach Warren stated that the Cowboys are shaping up nicely and made a good appearance. He reports that for a class B team the Whiteface boys are a good team and perhaps a little heavier team than the Cowboys.

In considering the statistics it should be taken into consideration that Plains is a class A team, having many more boys working out than a smaller school. This allows for a greater selectivity of players for each position. The following are the statistics for the Cowboy's last scrimmage:

Offense
Total yards gained running 140
Total yards gained passing 105
Net yards gained 245
On 37 running plays Avg. 3.7 yards per play

Passing 2, 3 for 105 yards 1 interception

Individual Status
Low
Simpson 5, 9 yards per carry 89 total
3.7 yards per carry 49 total
Defense
Total yards given up - 91
2, 27 per try
Coach Warren was quite well pleased with the local interest shown last week. In a statement to the Plains Review reporter he said that the attendance at the scrimmage was very good, the number of spectators equaling that of some of the games of last year. This interest can be expected to continue as the new coach carries his Cowboys into the '69 season. The first game of the season will be played Friday night at 8:00 p. m., at the Plains Stadium where the Plains Cowboys will meet the Morton Indians.

TRENT OPERATES OWN LAUNDROMAT

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Trent will now operate their laundromat and dry cleaning business at 1228 Brownfield Road. Due to changes in his employment in the oil field, Mr. Rubio was unable to move to Plains as he had planned, thus interrupting his operation of the business.

Mr. Trent reports that he will continue the gifts and turkey drawings as advertised in the Plains Review, as long as turkeys are available at the Plains markets.

Mr. Trent is well known in Plains, having recently campaigned for the office of state representative. He operates a laundromat at Denver City as well as Brownfield.

Mr. Trent is an advocate of the "TRADE AT HOME" Policy. Besides buying his turkeys at the local markets, Mr. Trent is operating a well equipped and modern laundry and dry cleaning establishment that can well serve the "Home" trade.

SLICK ROAD CAUSES WRECK

A new coating of plastic topping was given as the cause for a serious wreck when Ben Gibson, Plains resident, while traveling to Roswell drove on to the pavement during a rain storm.

As Ben drove onto the pavement at a speed of approximately 55 miles an hour, he became aware of the glassy condition, and attempted to slow his speed. As he applied his brakes, the camper-mounted pickup and stock trailer which he was pulling, jackknifed and slid to the right shoulder, where the pickup overturned, making a complete revolution and coming up on its wheels. No glasses were broken but both doors were jammed. The ball hitch on the trailer broke, severing the trailer from the pickup, allowing it to proceed over the grade ditch, through the fence and into the adjoining pasture undamaged.

Except for a bruised shoulder and neck, Mr. Gibson was uninjured, but was unable to extricate himself from the pickup until a passing motorist, Mack Davis of 3418 West Kansas, Midland, Texas, stopped to investigate the wreck, and assisted Ben in getting out of the pickup. Mr. Davis proceeded on to Plains where he notified Anderson Grain and Ben's family of the wreck. The New Mexico State Highway Patrol, who reported the pickup and camper as a total wreck, carried Ben on to Caprock where the accident was reported, and Mr. Gibson was met there by Herb Pickett of Anderson Grain, Plains, Texas, who was the owner of the pickup.

Mr. Gibson reports that his accident was the 9th to occur in the last eight days on this 30 mile stretch of road.

Persistent thunder showering has been the rule for the past ten days which has resulted in relatively cool and pleasing temperatures. While the shower activity had been scattered and varied, and in some areas very light, the entire county was treated to a thorough soaking Tuesday, when a general rain dumped from 1 to 4 inches over all parts of Yoakum County. The official report for the Plains Weather Station this week is as follows:

A STATESMAN LOST

"Today a great man has fallen" can well be said of Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen, and who can deny his greatness, for greatness is not always measured by a man's successes. Senator Dirksen did not succeed in all that he tried. He must be accredited the honor of the title of a "Great Statesman." Through his many controversial years in the U.S. Congress, and although we could not always agree with him, it must be said that against friend or foe, he conscientiously stood for that which he thought was to the best welfare of this nation.

For us to eulogize him would be impossible. We shall leave this to those who knew him closely. Although many did not appreciate his acting, he will be remembered as a great showman and a great orator, and no doubt a statesman of the highest order.

Many times in recent years the world has waited for his opinion. They will wait no more, but his record stands for all those who care to read.

A LOSER'S GAME

In the American experience, inflation has always been associated with booming business and general good times. Those who warned that continued deficit spending and debt accumulation by government, without regard to the taxpaying ability of the people, would lead to disaster were labeled reactionaries by new-style liberals who believed that government spending could open the door to attainment of the highest human aspirations. Now we are beginning to learn what other nations have learned throughout history—that beyond a certain point the progress of inflation is accompanied by hardship rather than good times. Economists are beginning to speak of the possibility of a recession and inflation at the same time. Time Magazine summarized a lengthy list of spectacular wage settlements—settlements that range as high as a 49% increase in 13 months for construction workers in one Ohio city. But far from bringing good times to workers, these dramatic wage increases are becoming increasingly illusory.

Top labor spokesmen are proposing a boost in the minimum wage to $2 per hour. Experience has shown that when the minimum wage is increased, wages and salaries escalate all along the line, thus adding to the fires of inflation, as well as increasing unemployment among the young and unskilled, and putting many small businesses out of business, thereby increasing unemployment. Small businesses just can't stand to pay such wages. Wages are outrunning output. Says Time: "During the last three years... the purchasing power of the average U.S. worker has done no better than hold steady." One union official, conscious of the trend, concedes: "Every time we get a raise, the prices increase and the hospitals go up as well. Somebody should stand still. If the others stopped, I think our men would be happy to stop too." The question is, are we ready to stop following the doctrine of false liberalism that has set the stage for a "recession" with inflation.

U.S. IS ASKED FOR MORE FOREIGN AID

I read in the newspaper where Martin, the chairman of the 16-Nation Development Committee, has asked the U.S. for more U.S. dollars for the development of less developed lands. Even though the U.S. is now sharing about one-half of the cost of this International Development, Martin stated that we are falling short of our share.

I sincerely hope that our government does not listen to him. The people of our country are being taxed now until a paycheck is not recognizable if you first have seen the gross amount. You would not recognize it as being the same salary.

With the U.S. paying one-half of the cost, and 15 other nations paying the other half, does that look as though we are failing to give our share?

TEXAS AVERAGE AMONG LOWEST IN U.S.

CHICAGO (AP) - Texas stands among the lowest states in the nation as far as the average amount of state and local taxes paid per person, according to a survey released Tuesday.

The study was made by Commerce Clearing House, a legislative research group. Americans paid $67.5 billion in state and local taxes in 1968 the survey said, with an average payment of $338 per person. In Texas, West Virginia, Georgia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Arkansas, the average amounted to around $200 per capita. Arkansas pays the lowest rates. After a tax raise from 1968, residents in that state pay $200 per person - a raise of $1. New York leads the way with an average of $503 - the first time in history people have had to pay more than $500.

There is a great difference between the right word and the word that is almost right. For instance, you can call a woman a kitten, but not a cat; a chicken, but not a hen; a duck, but not a goose; a vision, but not a sight.

I surely missed Marguerite Barron Monday. Even though she is on the third floor of the courthouse and I am on the first floor, just knowing she was not there made it seem lonesome. She was off Monday to attend the funeral of her daughter-in-law's father Mr. Durwood G. Mitchell.

One of our favorite tax assessor deputies, Sandra Lambert, has resigned her position with Mr. Craig and is now working for Willard & Lee Kidd in Denver City. Helen Beal was hired to replace Sandra. Welcome back again to the fold, Helen.

The rebels in our midst keep asking us to understand them. But I think it is time they did some understanding of their own. They would try to understand why the much maligned American system has produced the healthiest, richest, most charitable and—in many ways—the freest society on the face of the earth. If these strident, dissident groups would pay attention to why our system works and why the systems they espouse have invariably failed, they would perform a much more useful and beneficial service for all of mankind.

AROUND THE COUNTY WITH OUR SHERIFF

It has been extra quiet around the sheriff's department this last week. Only one case has been filed by the county attorney and that was the State of Texas Vs. Sandy Dolloff for giving a worthless check.

In fact, it has been so dull that our sheriff, Joe Deaton, and deputy, Bob McDonnell, had to try out the siren on the county car while sitting parked on the north side of the courthouse. It stopped almost as soon as it started, but isn't that just like two mischievous boys wanting to try out a new toy? **★ ★ ★ ★
 Bob McDonnell, deputy, was called to the Wallace Randolph farm to investigate a theft of 1 green tool box, 1 green tool box lid, and 1 gray tool box. Both boxes contained hand tools. Total loss was estimated at $300.00.

A car wreck near the Blackie Edwards farm west of Denver City on the Hobbs highway was reported to Bob McDonnell, deputy, at 4 a. m., September 9th. Sandy Dolloff who was returning from Hobbs turned her car over. Because of an injury Bob called the Highway Patrol and an ambulance was dispatched to the wreck. Sandy Dolloff was carried to the Yoakum County Hospital in Denver City, but the extent of her injuries is not known at this time.

Franchise Fraud On the Upswing

Government agencies like the Post Office and the Federal Trade Commission as well as Better Business Bureaus across the nation are on the receiving end of mounting complaints about franchise gyps. Grips are from people who put up money to "own their own business" but claim they were taken. Among the complaints: overpriced goods from franchisers, sub-quality merchandise, "exclusive" territories that were sold twice, inflated estimates of income potential, etc. Says Samuel Small, president of Pilot Books, which published the first guidebook on franchising in 1959 when the boom was just a whisper, "the people with just enough money to make that one-time business investment are being hurt—sometimes permanently, with no second chance."

Small's advice: "Forewarned is forearmed. Prospective franchisers should investigate all ads and claims carefully, keep a lawyer on tap, read widely on all phases of franchising and small business management."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

It has been reported that Senator Phillip Hart, of Michigan, is calling for an end to oil import quotas as a means of lowering the price of gasoline. Since a great portion of the cost of gasoline is tax, and since the oil industry pays a great amount of ad valorem tax, curtailment of oil production in the nation would deprive the nation, the oil-producing states and the oil-producing counties of a great source of tax revenue resulting in a state income tax and much higher tax on other real estate.

Another ill-effect of heavy imports of foreign oil would be higher Federal income tax to take care of the resulting unemployed in domestic oil and related industries. This added tax burden would wipe out any saving in the price of gasoline which might result from importing cheaply-produced foreign oil.

Still another and dangerous effect of dependency on foreign oil would be in placing this nation at the mercy of the oil-producing Arab nations who might decide to shut off our source of oil in retaliation for our arming Israel. It should not be forgotten that a similar situation did occur after the six-day war of 1967. With Russia backing the Arab nations, this nation would be in a prime position to be blackmailed by Rus-

STUDENT COUNCIL ORGANIZED

Initiating a morning break for Plains High School students and sponsoring a student concession stand has been only one of the many Student Council projects.

The Council provides student scholarships, arranges assembly programs, maintains a concession stand during basketball season, issues charters for school clubs and organizations--setting standards of excellence for these groups, promotes "Cowboy School Spirit," and is a channel whereby student and administrator may hear each other's viewpoint and share in the school's policy making.

During the year, Council members attend workshops throughout the state where they discuss new ideas and share problems with other students--all profiting from the experience.

The Council, under leadership of President Jerry Brian and sponsors, Miss Sue Parker and Mr. D. N. Taylor, has several new projects for the 1969-70 school year. These projects, involving the Plains High School student body, will be initiated during the year by the following Student Council members; Senior - Jana Strickland, Mike Nugent and Jerry Brian; Junior - Glenda Miller and David Gu-

Pears were once like rare jewels. The ancient kings of Persia gave them a special place in their courts.

When shopping for pears this month, look for pears that are firm ripe or ripe, but not hard; free from bruises and blemishes; and of the color for the variety (green, yellow, greenish yellow, or partially russeted.)

Try some of these taste-tempting ideas and you'll be in pear-a-dise!

Pear Egg Nog Pie
1 Bartlett pear
1 prepared vanilla pie filling
2 cups milk
2 tsp. rum flavoring
Pastry for one 8-inch pie crust
Bake pie crust and cool. Prepare vanilla filling by adding milk to prepared mix and cook to a thick consistency. Remove from heat and add rum flavoring. Stir to blend. Wash, peel and slice pear into eight or more slices. Arrange in bottom of pie crust. Pour pie filling over pears. Cool. Slightly sweetened whipped cream flavored with cinnamon or nutmeg makes an excellent topping for the pie.

Pear Sundae is an elegant favorite. Top halved, pared, fresh pears with a scoop of vanilla ice cream and a peanut butter fruit sauce. For the sauce: Mix 2 parts sugar, 2 parts dark corn syrup, 1 part water, and salt. Simmer 10 minutes, then cool. Slowly stir syrup into a mixture of 1 part peanut butter and 1 part raisins or chopped candied fruit.
Sweet Topped Pears are versatile fare. Fill the cavities of halved, cored, fresh with a blend of sweetened whipped cream and chopped peanuts for a fancy dessert fixin'. Or top with a mixture of sour cream and diced dates, and place pears atop crisp greens for salad-bound pear-fection.
Tingling Fruit Cup is a peppy perk-upper. Combine diced fresh pears, raising and sliced bananas. Top with a blend of 2 parts gingerale and 1 part orange juice, flavored with ho-

Those attending the funeral from Plains were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barron, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barron, Mrs. Leo Howell, and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Barron, ney and lemon juice.
USDA home economists recommend low-calorie pear salads for weight-watchers. Here's a Circus Salad—that's sure to please, a merry-go-round of red and yellow. First place a scoop of cottage cheese on a leaf of green lettuce. Wash and core, but don't peel, several fresh pears with clear yellow skin, and red apples. Cut the fruits into wedges and press alternating red and yellow slices in a striped canopy arrangement in the cottage cheese.
Pears also make wonderful accompaniments for meats. Pear Rings make a tasty baked ham garnish. Slice unpared pears crosswise and remove the core. Place rings in a buttered casserole. Sprinkle with a mixture of sugar, cinnamon and lemon juice. Bake alongside the ham until tender, about 30 minutes.

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

As yet there are no solid grounds on which to base predictions as to the kind of farm program Secretary of Agriculture Clifford B. Hardin will recommend, if in fact he does recommend a specific program, when he takes the stand September 24 before the House Committee on Agriculture.

A group of some 25 cotton industry people, including two representatives of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, met with Secretary Hardin and other Department officials in Washington September 2 for an "informal discussion" of future cotton programs. They returned "hopeful but by no means certain" their views will have a significant bearing on the Secretary's deliberations. Representing Plains Cotton Growers at the meeting were PCG President L. D. (Don) Anderson of Crosbyton and Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President. They report that the Department "threw out for comment" some alternative approaches to a cotton program, but was careful not to let anything in writing leave the discussion room.

However, two things emerged as dominant factors in the meeting.

First, the kind of cotton programs which seem to be getting the most serious consideration from the Department are programs which would involve eliminating acreage diversion payments, have non-recourse loans at about the same or below the current 20.25 cents basis Middling-inch, provide for a domestic allotment well below the present 65 percent of total allotment, permit some form of "open end" production above the cotton grown on domestic acres, and provide in some way for "land retirement" as a condition for program participation. One such approach being looked at by the Department would fix the domestic acreage allotment at about 50 percent of total allotment, set the loan at around 19 cents and the price support payment on domestic production at from 10 to 14 cents per pound.

Under this set-up there would be no penalty on cotton produced above the domestic allotment and the additional production might even be eligible for the loan. To incorporate the land retirement feature, the producer might be required as a condition to program participation to "set aside" somewhere on his farm an acreage equivalent to some percentage of his domestic allotment. This "set aside" acreage could not be used for the production of any crop according to present thinking, but this would be the only restriction on permissible cotton acreage.

Johnson commented "There was some support for the 'open end' feature of this approach from some areas, but the industry representatives present were predominantly in opposition to it, and we strongly urged that at the Department come up with something more nearly approaching the present program." The second point of the discussions which Johnson and Anderson felt to be of special significance, concerning a limitation of payments, was also disappointing to the cotton people who attended the meeting.

They came away with a fear that the Department is leaning toward a farm program which would limit the total government payments that could be made to an individual producer.

"And since a payment limit would cause such an upheaval in agriculture and so greatly reduce the effectiveness of any farm program," Anderson said, "we asked for and were granted another meeting with the Secretary and his people on September 11. And we hope at that time to be able to present a case against limitations that will be strong enough to turn the Secretary against them."

It has been suggested by some, including some USDA officials, that farmers should accept the inevitability of a payment limit and devise a "workable" program incorporating a limit on payments.

But Anderson points out that the PCG Board has a solid position against payment limitations, and says "in view of the inequity of a payment limit, the fundamental wrongness of a payment limit, and the certain chaos that such a limit would create in agriculture, we cannot bring ourselves to endorse them at all."

T. A. Elmore at a gathering system on the Lee Brownfield Farm south east of Plains.

CONSERVATION IRRIGATION

By Ben Day and Gilbert Pierce

"The efficiency of my irrigation system has improved since I installed my gathering tank," says Ray Bearden as he points to a good sixty pounds of pressure on his mainline. The gathering tank was built of concrete. All the underground pipeline was installed under the Great Plains Conservation Program (GPCP). Bearden considered that the low pressure he had before he installed the gathering tank gave him a poor distribution pattern. He said that with the wells tied together under pressure, it would take 10 to 12 minutes to pressure up his mechanical move system.

But this year with the gathering system he can pressure up the system in four minutes and maintain a pressure of about 50 pounds per square inch on his system. This represents a loss of 4300 gallons of water each time he moved or enough water to hold the cotton crop one day on 1.5 acres of land.

Another good example of conservation irrigation can be found on the T. A. Elmore farm Northeast of Plains. T. A. says there is just one word for his new gathering system, quote, "Fabulous". He really has quite a story to tell. He first had two irrigation wells on the 320 acres. Then he drilled more until he had a total of six, two were 6" turbine pumps, the others were submergeable pumps ranging in size from five to 7 1/2 horse power. He also installed 2460 feet of underground high pressure pipe which he had planned to use as two systems. The only trouble was he only had enough water to run one line quarter of a mile long with 9/64 nozzles.

This year T. A. installed a gathering system, pumping all wells into an open concrete tank 30 x 5 feet. Then another motor to build up pressure on the underground pipe and sprin-ed cost-share assistance through the GPCP or the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP). The Soil Conservation Service technician in Plains are glad to assist in the planning of gathering systems as a means of conserving water and conservation farming.

SAD FAREWELL
LONDON (AP) — Father Trevor Huddleston, who has just returned after 25 years in Africa to be Anglican Bishop of Stepney, says he is so sad at leaving Africa that he can hardly bear it. He handed over his diocese in Tanzania to an African bishop because "I felt the time had come to do this." But he adds: "I wanted to bury my bones there."

Other farmers who have improved their irrigation system by installing gathering systems are William Worsham on the J. J. Smallwood place, Lee Brownfield, Ed S. Turner and John Avery farms. Some have installed their gathering tanks at their own expense using oil field tanks, and others have received

RURAL ACCIDENTS INCREASE

Noting a significant increase in fatalities on Farm-to-Market roads in the past month, the Safety Association suggested folks driving in rural areas observe the following rules:

When traveling on an unpaved roadway, yield the right-of-way to vehicles traveling on a paved highway. Under Texas law, you may enter an intersecting paved roadway only when there is no chance of interference or collision with traffic on the highway.

Be prepared for animals grazing near the roadway. They may suddenly cross in front of your vehicle.

Look for narrow or rough shoulder areas and washed-out or rough spots in the highway that can cause you trouble in steering.

Keep on your side of the roadway, even if it's narrow. Slow down for sharp curves and when approaching or crossing narrow bridges.

The demand for spices was so great in the Middle Ages, the National Geographic Society reports, that rents and taxes were often paid with pepper, and a pound of ginger could buy a sheep.
