E.L. SHORT RUNS FOR REELECTION

I take this opportunity to thank you for permitting me to serve the unexpired term as your State Representative of this 73rd District. I solicit your continued interest and support for this high office. My wife, Dink, our daughters and I shall be forever indebted to you for this opportunity.

There have been many items of necessity presented to me since I have been your State Representative, and I am asking you, the people of the 73rd District, to reelect me so that I might initiate and present some of these problems before the Legislators and the 62nd legislative committees. They concern the important fields of insurance, financial assistance to the Counties, upgrading of our lower courts and a more balanced tax program.

The expenditures of the past legislative session were extremely high, but I was particularly happy with the progress made in the area of public health, creating one new dental school, two nursing schools and three medical schools. Also public education received its highest step for progress in the history of this state. Many accomplishments were made concerning civil disorders, dangerous drug laws and the "implied consent law" on drunk driving. I pledge to you once again my devotion to this office and shall be available within this district answering the requests of the people, their towns, counties and schools.

I feel that I made much progress toward everlasting friendships with Legislators from all over Texas, and especially those from rural areas such as ours. As I have stated many times while visiting through this district, it shall be my challenge to bring you, the people, closer to State government.

Many important offices and issues are to be voted on in 1970, and I urge you to encourage everyone to register to vote.

YOAKUM COUNTY ASCS NEWS

by W. M. Overton, Office Manager

NEW FARMS SIGN FOR COTTON PROJECTED YIELD: Yoakum County ASC Committee has received 43 applications for cotton projected yields to be established on farms that do not have a 1970 cotton allotment. The projected yield is needed for the purpose of purchasing or leasing or transferring of acreage allotment to the farm. 82 Texas Counties are approved to transfer cotton allotment by sale or lease to other Texas Counties. Farmers should keep in mind when buying, leasing or transferring cotton allotment by ownership that if the projected yield in the transferring County is higher than the projected yield for the Receiving farm, the transfer will be acre for acre. If the Transferring farm yield is less the receiving farm will receive a smaller acreage than on the transferring farm, except if the Receiving Farm projected yield does not exceed the Transferring Farm yield by more than 10 per cent the transfer will be acre for acre.

A few Yoakum County farmers have indicated they want to lease their cotton allotment and their names are posted on a Bulletin Board in the County Office for anyone to review. Transfer Documents must be signed in the Transferring County not later than December 31st. They must be signed by both owner and operator and any lien holders.

INCOME REPORTING TIME IS NEAR

by Leo L. White, CAA

There is one good reason why Christmas should be observed during the last of February rather than the last of December. Some farmers take a rather dim view of having to report their income each year and pay their internal revenue taxes. It would naturally be hard for them to enjoy the Christmas season knowing that the income reporting period was coming up. After all 1969 income and expenses gets reported and paid then there is a real cause for celebration. The last of February would be an ideal time to celebrate Christmas and have nothing ahead of you except the 1970 crop year.

Each year the county agricultural agent orders several copies of the current Farmers Tax Guide published by the Department of the Treasury. This guide is a rather large 47 page booklet designed to help farmers fill out their 1969 Federal income tax forms. In the past, very few farm families have made use of this booklet. Only five or six calls for them each year. Twenty five copies were ordered for this year and they arrived

MERRY CHRISTMAS

HAPPY NEW YEAR

LIGHTING CONTEST TO BE JUDGED TONIGHT

Home Christmas decorations are appearing all about the town of Plains. There are some very lovely and interesting lightings and the judges may be hard put to come to their decisions when they tour the city Thursday night, December 18th.

Everyone should remember that Thursday is the final day to put those last touches to their decorations and this before nightfall. The exact time for the observations to commence has not been announced but it is best to be early with the preparations.

The prizes for the lighting contest are worthy of anyone's efforts. The first place in the judging will be awarded $25.00; second place will receive $15.00; and third will draw $10.00.

Plains folks living outside the city limits, yet wishing to participate in the contest are again asked to contact Mr. Cordell Huddleston, either at the Plains State Bank or at his residence in Plains before night fall Thursday night. At the latest report, no out of town calls had been received.

JERRY BRIAN ELECTED TO DISTRICT 4-H COUNCIL

Jerry Brian, the 1969 Gold Star 4-H Boy of Yoakum County, served during the 1969 year as one of the delegates to the District 2 4-H Council. Sue Cleveland was the other delegate representing Yoakum County on this council made up of a boy and a girl from each of the twenty counties plus a slate of officers.

Jerry and Sue attended a meeting of the District Council on Saturday evening, December 13th, at the Red Raider Inn in Lubbock. This meeting was held for the purpose of electing officers for the 1970 year. Jerry Brian was elected to be the chairman of the council for 1970. His responsibilities will include the conducting of all council meetings and the appointment of the various committees used to carry out the annual work of the council.

The District Council plan such activities as the District 4-H Contests in May, the District 4-H Leadership Workshop in June, the District 4-H Electric Camp in July, the judging of District 4-H Record

Jerry Brian

Books in August, and the District Gold Star Banquet in November or December.

The 1970 year will be the time for Jerry to exhibit some of the leadership ability he has acquired by being active in school and church activities and in 4-H club work in the local community.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT OCCURS

A wreck which could have resulted in a catastrophe occurred 1 mile north of Bronco, Texas, shortly after 5 p. m. on Tuesday evening, when a construction company shooting rig, the property of the M. F. Machen Construction Company of Midland, overturned and scattered approximately forty pounds of dynamite and a box of dynamite caps for many yards along the highway. Fortunately, no explosion occurred though the rig equipment was badly damaged.

Deputy Sheriff Bob McDonnell had the driver of the pickup, Leonard Mayfield, of Midland, Texas taken to the Yoakum County Hospital by the Plains Fire Department ambulance where he was examined. No serious injury was discovered, and he was released.

The pickup was thrown out of control when the hitch on the trailer carrying the air compressor unit became disengaged. When the trailer swerved to the right and severed the safety chain, the pickup was forced into the left grade ditch, where it overturned, apparently rolling several times, passing through the fence at the roadside and coming up on its wheels. The trailer and compressor overturned in the grade ditch on the right side of the road. As the pickup rolled, it scattered its load of drills, air hammers and shooting equipment along the roadside.

A wrecker from the Tingle Auto Supply in Plains cleared the wreckage from the highway. Texas Highway Patrolman, Joe Cox, investigated the accident and after assisting in clearing the roadway removed the explosives from the scene.

TEXAS EDUCATION AGENCY

AUSTIN -- First draft of the new State Plan for Special Education was presented to Texas teachers, parents and other interested citizens at a series of regional meetings that started Thursday, December 4th. "We have developed this new plan to meet the requirements of the Comprehensive Special Education Bill passed by the 61st Legislature--and to implement them as fast as possible Dr. Robert Montgomery, assistant commissioner for special education and special schools at the Texas Education Agency, explains.

"Up to now, special education has focused on the disability of the child, on his physical

SANTA DAY WAS A BIG DAY FOR THE CHILDREN

Santa did not fail the children of Plains. He did arrive as predicted at 2:15 p. m. last Saturday with sirens blowing and passed out bags of fruits, candy and nuts to approximately 150 children who were anxiously waiting on the Courthouse lawn. Santa listened intently as the little ones told of their good deeds and fervently told of their needs and desires for the rewarding gifts he is to bring when he returns secretly Christmas Eve.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Though the attendance was anything but abundant the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday was a very interesting and progressive type of meeting. Those attending were enthusiastic in their interest in the vital needs of the local community.

The objective of a Chamber of Commerce should always be the welfare of the community it serves. There are times when progress seems impossible. However, it is through the persistent determination of dedicated and inspired individuals that progress eventually comes about.

Those attending the Wednesday morning meeting were definitely concerned about the need for additional small businesses, additional desira-

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I came uneasy to my country. My birth was shrouded by the clouds of war.

I was far too young to have had a hand in it--but I was, after all, born in one of the Axis nations. After living a year under Russian occupation, I had a chance of meeting the fighting men of America. And I knew that instead of bringing revenge they brought gum.

And they talked about home. They talked eternally about home.

They were strange men on a strange ground and while we, as children, looked up to them, they still scared us a little. But as the years passed, and the talk became deeds, the fear was replaced by respect. America put away bitterness, not to be forgotten, but so it wouldn't interfere with the main job of helping people.

Because of my experiences, the opportunity of living in the United States gives the words, "Peace on Earth Toward All Men of Good Will", a deeper meaning for me.

Now, as another Christmas approaches, it's my strange fighting men on another strange ground.

Now, as then, it's hard to be away from home at Christmas. Now, as then, there's a reason it has to be done.

Occupation by Chairman Mao is no different from occupation by the Russians. Czechoslovakia wants freedom as much as America but doesn't have the means to pursue and retain it. Whereas freedom is the right, at birth, of all men, we find it our duty to answer the call and come to the assistance of freedom seeking men.

We struggle for this principle in the emerging nations. We struggle for this principle in our own country.

And we struggle hardest for this principle in the unhappy swamps of Viet Nam.

So it can't be the happy Christmas it should be. Our young men are standing in another part of the world. Their seats at the dinner table are empty. Their graduation suits hang empty in our closets. Their cars sit empty in the sheds. But there is no emptiness in our hearts.

We haven't asked that he stand for liberty, only to take away our support in his struggle. We haven't joined with his enemy to defeat his aim. And we won't let him down by misinforming him about our feelings.

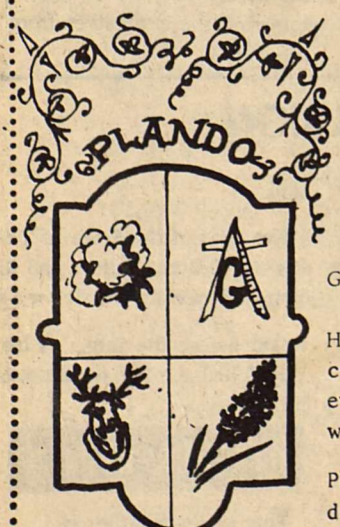

This Christmas it's time for a moratorium. A moratorium against doubt. A moratorium against failure to speak up. A moratorium to reassure our brothers and sons that we know why they can't be with us and that we're sharing the pain of their absence.

It didn't make headlines because it was done thoughtfully and quietly, but just a few weeks ago, in thousands of smaller communities across the nation, Americans stood in chill winds in parks and on court house lawns. They heard amateur speakers give voice on Veteran's Day to the real feelings in the land. Feelings which tend to be smothered by shouting antics in Chicago court rooms. The deeper feelings which must be conveyed to the Americans who stand for us in the defense of freedom.

May I call on you in asking our Commander in Chief, U. S. Forces, Republic of Viet Nam to pass on your feelings of support to our fighting men. Send a card to: General Creighton W. Abrams, Headquarters, U. S. Forces, Republic of Viet Nam, APO 96601

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Theologians and historians may have many interpretations of Christmas. But, in our own country, as in other lands, no matter how it is observed, the power of Christmas makes itself felt in every home. Even the most cynical must bow before the moving experience of Christmas. Perhaps this is the best evidence of the authenticity of the events of nearly 2000 years ago that introduced reverence and humility in the life of man. Christianity has given man a conscience, a sense of right and wrong and a determination to appear worthy in the eyes of his creator. The tenets of Christianity are the basis of modern civilization. They stand between man and the jungle from which he emerged so long ago. Much of the confusion, much of the strife and intellectual decay we see around us today but reflect a denial of the ancient truths that have guided Christian behavior for some twenty centuries.

As we approach another Christmas Season, we should try to analyze The Christmas Spirit. It is far more than good cheer, happy Christmas cards and presents under the Christmas tree. The Christmas spirit separates man from the beast. Christmas is a time of renewal of our faith in God, as well as rejoicing. It is the most important moment of the year.

Evidently some legislators in Washington are enough concerned about our older citizens attempting to live on social security to propose an increase of 15 per cent in benefits rather than the 10 per cent as proposed by the President. Perhaps some of the congressmen have a few guilty feelings about their... hike in pay which they generously bestowed upon themselves far in excess of 10 or even 15 per cent.

A man being interviewed for a job was asked by the personnel director, "Are you married?"

"No," replied the applicant, "but I can take orders if that's what you mean."

Many complain of their memory, but few of their judgment.

AROUND THE COUNTY WITH OUR SHERIFF

by Faye McConnell

The last two weeks for our police department have really been busy ones. It seems strange that so many people think they are celebrating Christmas by getting drunk. To me, Christmas season is the time for love, renewing our faith and giving thanks.

Six cases of Driving While Intoxicated have been before the County Judge, one aggravated assault, and other minor offenses. Three car wrecks, and one of them involving a cow being hit on the highways. Deputy Bob said no one was seriously hurt and we can be thankful for that even though the cars were fairly well damaged.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q--Would you explain the drawing?

A--On December 1, there was a drawing in Washington of 366 closed capsules in each of which was a slip of paper on which was written a month and day of the year, for example, May 2, June 1, etc. The order in which these capsules were drawn determines the relative position in the national random sequence of registrants born on all the dates of the year including February 29. As September 14 was drawn first, all men born on September 14 are No. 1 in the national random sequence. As June 8 was drawn last, all men with that birthday are No. 366 in the national random sequence.

Q--How will this sequence be used by local boards?

A--Each local board will assign numbers to its registrants who are in I-A or who become I-A in accord with the national sequence. Some local boards may not have at any one time men with birthdays on every day. In such case the local board would go to the next number. For instance, it might call numbers 1 through 5, then 7 and 8 because it had no men whose birthdays were on the day drawn sixth in the drawing.

Q--Why is there a drawing of the alphabet?

A--This drawing randomized the alphabet so that in case a local board had two or more men with the same birthday and was required to order one but not all of them for a call, it has a way to determine which comes first, second, etc. by applying the random alphabet to the names. In the drawing of December 1, 1969, the letter "J" was drawn first. So men whose names begin with "J" would be first called by the local board among men with the same number from the birthday drawing.

Q--Does everybody get a number out of the first lottery?

A--No - the first drawing will determine the random sequence number only for those men who prior to January 1, 1970, had attained age 19, and not 26. Besides that, the number in which his birthday is drawn will not mean anything until he is classified I-A or I-A-O. Some men in the group who eventually will get a number out of the first drawing may not become I-A until next year or later. In that case, his number will determine his order in the national sequence in use that year. For example, if his birthday is drawn No. 80, and he is now deferred for college, but loses his college deferment in June 1971, he will be No. 80 in the national random sequence in use that year.

Q--How do new 19-year-olds get a number?

A--Before the end of 1970, a drawing of the 366 days of the year will be held. This drawing will determine the national random sequence to be used in 1971. The only registrants who would look to that drawing to determine where they stand in the national random sequence are those who

WILDCATS' CHIP BENNETT... selected on elite squad

CHIP BENNETT NAMED ON ALL SOUTHLAND TEAM

The Southland Conference is made up of Arkansas State University, Conway, Arkansas, Abilene Christian College, University of Texas at Arlington, Trinity University at San Antonio, and Lamar Tech at Beaumont. Arkansas State landed 8 players on the All Star team; Abilene Christian College-6 players; University of Texas at Arlington 4 players; Lamar Tech-4 players; and Trinity University-2 players.

Earn their second All Star berths in as many years were Chip Bennett, middle linebacker for A. C. C.; Jack Smith, tackle, Arkansas S. U.; Dan Buckley, center, Arkansas S. U.; Jim Lindsey, formidable quarterback for A. C. C. & Pat Holder, flanker and ace pass catcher for A. C. C.

Arkansas State University has won the conference title for 2 years straight running.

where he stands in the national random selection sequence. If his birthday is drawn early he knows that when he is classified I-A and found acceptable, he is almost certain to be called.

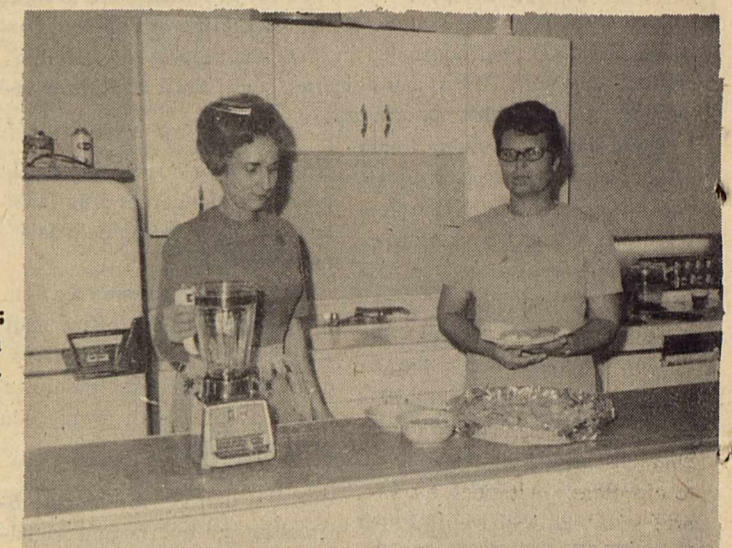

He can plan his career to accommodate that possibility. If his birthday is drawn near the end, he had relative certainty he may not be called short of unusual circumstances. He can plan accordingly. For the registrant whose birthday is drawn in the middle range it is not so clear, but in any event the system will give much greater certainty than is possible under the former system.

Q--Will registrants now postponed be in the random selection?

A--No. The postponed registrant has already been ordered for induction under the old system and will be inducted when the postponement ends.

Q--Can a man whose birthday is drawn early in the drawing still join the Reserve?

A--Yes. Just as now, he can join a Reserve Unit any time before the induction order is issued.

Mrs. Lois Greathouse of Lyntegar Electric and Mrs. Lee Roy Box are pictured at the Home Demonstration Club meeting in the clubroom Tuesday afternoon.

BLENDER DEMONSTRATION

Mrs. Lois Greathouse, Lyntegar Electric Cooperative home economist, was guest of the Yoakum County home demonstration clubs Tuesday when she demonstrated the use and purposes of the blender.

Mrs. Greathouse prepared several dishes during the demonstration. Those attending received "blender-quick" recipes.

Q--What about volunteering for active duty?

A--The policy is to authorize enlistment for active duty at any time up to the day of induction.

Sudie Thompson Says.....

One of the most dramatic elements of the current fashion scene is the "leather look." Everybody--from babes in bassinets to Golden Agers--is being offered leather-look garments made of anything from high-grade hides to ground-up leather leftovers to various blends of vinyls and plastics. All they have in common is the leather look; supple, lustrous, opulent, and rugged.

More than ever, the shopper must depend on informative hangtags and informed salespeople to indicate what she is buying and how she should care for it.

One type of fake leather is made entirely of nylon fibers knit into a medium-heavy tricot fabric, which is then embossed with a leather grain. It looks much like leather, and is used for trimming as well as for entire garments. It drapes smoothly, is exceptionally pliable, and has good breathing characteristics that allow air to circulate. Although the fabric itself can take machine laundering, the embossing will suffer from agitation so washing by hand in warm suds is recommended. The producer refrains from providing labels for consumer use, since washability will depend on its combination with other materials. Hangtags are presumably expected to be supplied by the garment maker.

A second type of fake leather is made of a 3-ply sandwich: cotton fabric with a thin foam center and vinyl topping for a total recipe of 64/36% cotton. This fabric has an unusually leather-like hand, comes in all shades of leather-browns with an antiquated, well-cured finish. Since the non-porous vinyl face does not breathe, it is not comfortable for garments such as slacks or jump suits, but looks handsome in skirts and coats. Suds-and-water is the cleaning treatment recommended; hand sponging for garments with detailing, or gentle machine washing for simple garments such as a little girl's A-line jumper. Spots and stains will naturally whisk off of non-porous surfaces easily. This producer provides hangtags that give specific washing instructions.

A third type of fake leather consists of a cotton base with polyurethane topping. It will respond to almost any keep-clean techniques, though the manufacturer recommends hand-sponging with a sudsy cloth. While vinyl is apt to crack or to loosen from its backing in extreme temperatures of heat or cold, the permanently-attached polyurethane is not affected by temperature changes. The spongy feeling of this material comes from the polyurethane itself, rather than from a separate foam layer, and this same sponginess gives it a degree of porosity so that it breathes almost as well as natural leather. It is relatively inexpensive, stain- and spot-resistant, very pliable--used for men's and women's outerwear, including rainwear, as well as for dresses and skirts. This material is being clearly labeled with characteristics and care instructions.

A fourth type of fake leather isn't fake at all; it's made of leftover scraps of real leather, pulverized to a fine powder, bonded to rayon or nylon fabric, dyed, coated with polyurethane, and then embossed to give a lifelike leather grain. Know tentatively as "genuine milled leather," it appears to have many good points: is less expensive than leather hides, can be handled in straight cuts like fabric, is supple and drapable, is porous, and responds to various cleaning methods such as hand-sponging with warm suds. Since this product contains real leather, it must conform to certain Government regulations so garments made of genuine milled leather will carry identifying hangtags.

Fake leather fashions even include the larger infant's sizes and some carriage robes are trimmed with fake leather. It goes from there into grade-school fashions such as weskits, rainwear, but is not yet available to the home sewer.

From the Cleanliness Bureau comes this advice: when buying a garment made of fake leather, be sure it has a hangtag and then exactly follow the instructions for its care. Until this industry-baby matures a little more, don't count on throwing all fake-leather garments in a washer and dryer. Play safe by stroking the surface with a sponge dipped into suds, rinse with a dampened cloth, and hang to air-dry.

But do wear at least some fake leather--and get it for your kids. It's tough and it's attractive, it's new and it's fun--and most of all, it's great fashion.

Mr. and Mrs. Emie Anderson

MALICK AND ANDERSON EXCHANGED WEDDING VOWS

In a candlelight ceremony at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Houston, on November 26, Miss Karen Melanie Malick daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dale Malick, became the bride of Mr. Emie Forest Anderson, son of Mrs. Travis Been and the late Forest Anderson of Plains.

For her wedding Miss Malick chose a period gown of ivory silk peau de soie, combined with hand-run A lecon lace. The Victorian bodice was fashioned of lace, and the court length train was attached at shoulder height. She carried a small rounded bouquet of Stephanotis and ivy foliage.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. Richard R. Hanson of St. Louis, Mo. and Mrs. Walter A. Rohlfing III of Houston were the matrons of Honor. The groom's sister Miss Kathy Anderson of Plains, Mrs. Frank Murchison of Austin, and Miss Sallye Sorenson of Houston were the bridesmaids. Wearing full length gowns designed of ivory silk crepe bodices, green velvet skirts, and hot pink velvet cummerbunds, the attendants carried silver baskets, gifts of the bride, with sprays of hot pink Dendrobium Orchids and ivy.

Stuffers Delight Children At Christmas

"Wow, just what I wanted!" and "Hey, what's this lump down in the toe?" are some of the comments bound to be heard this Christmas as youngsters empty their Christmas stockings. And, best of all, wise Santa's helpers know that stocking stuffers need not cost a fortune to delight boys and girls of all ages... the secret is in the selection.

For example, these stockings brimming over with goodies were under $3.00 each by the Western Publishing Co., Inc., of Racine, Wisconsin, makers of Whitman toys and games. Each contained more than ten "kid-tested" items ranging from a "Hot Wheels" press out book priced at 29c; Finger Friends Puppets (39c) paper hand puppets; Happy Hour Fun Book (59c) one of a collection of Whitman activity books; to a Zoo Paint by Number Book (59c); a can of Crazy Ikes, the snap action building toy priced at $1.00; and an assortment of Gold Key Comic

SCHOOL HAS FOREIGN SPEAKER

Recently, the Plains Student Council in conjunction with the Texas Tech Foreign Speakers program hosted an assembly program featuring a Tech graduate student, Mr. Aziz Ashraf, Mr. Ashraf, from Pakistan, is completing his doctoral degree at Texas Tech in geophysics.

Cotton linters provide cellulose for making rayon.

He provided some interesting information about his native country and the interests of its people including their educational system, socio-economic levels, and even recordings of popular music in Pakistan.

At an intense question and answer session following his presentation, subjects ranging from the political set-up in Pakistan, to dating customs, to their opinion of the United States were explored.

The student Council feels that closeness between nations begins on a "person-to-person" basis, and we hope to present other foreign speakers throughout the year.

SPC ELEMENTARY ART COEDS

Students of Mrs. Janet Guetersloh, elementary art instructor at South Plains College, have been doing student teaching in the field of art. "one of their projects is to work up a unit in art and go teach it in an elementary school," said Mrs. Guetersloh. "The public schools are cooperating and they have been real enthusiastic about this project and even the students have enjoyed it."

During the first semester of art, the students brought their art down to reality and studied various types of art, such as papier mache, taking crayolas and melting them down or slivering them, doing murals etc.

Mrs. Bemice Railsback set the program up at the four elementary schools, West, South, Cactus and Capitol, where the SPC coeds taught.

The number of elementary students that the girls taught ranged from 13 to 29.

Christmas spirit abounds in Plains High School this week, and pictured here are samples of the Student Council's handiwork in decorating.

In addition to a giant tree which boasts "real" artificial snow and red icicles, there is a very "in" gift list for Santa Claus to follow, and a timeless message of "Peace on Earth--Now and Forever!"--thanks to our astronauts we have a picture of the earth taken from the moon to further dramatize the importance of this Christmas wish.

MODERN SEWING TECHNIQUES

SPECIAL - For the millions of homemakers who sew at home, the many new fabrics and finishes are a mixed blessing. The new materials are beautiful to look at but may be difficult to work with for seamstresses not up on the latest sewing techniques.

However, nearly 7,000 adults who enrolled last year in a training course "Your Sewing Machine", for 4-H volunteer leaders, the new fabrics present no problem. They learned which needle, thread and stitch length setting to use for various fabrics -- just part of the training that prepared them to teach sewing skills to more than 36,000 4-H members last year.

Each of the past 15 years, The Singer Company in cooperation with the Cooperative Extension Service, has sponsored local training programs for volunteer adults. Women signing up for the course agree to pass on what they learn to girls participating in 4-H clothing and home improvement projects. The program is arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.

During a two-day training session the volunteers learn the mechanics of operating a sewing machine and its attachments as well as modern sewing techniques. They also learn methods of teaching sewing to young people of different ages and abilities, based on three teaching manuals provided by Singer -- "Know Your Sewing Machine," "Regulation and Care for Your Sewing Machine" and "Make the Most of Your Sewing Machine." Upon completing the course, each "graduate" receives a certificate of merit.

Both prospective and current 4-H project leaders may enroll in the course. Women interested in working and learning with enthusiastic 4-H'ers may obtain additional information about the training course from their County Extension office.

OUTLOOK IMPROVED

SPECIAL - Richard M. Nixon, President of the United States, accepted an invitation to serve as Honorary Chairman of the National 4-H Service Committee.

In a letter to the National Committee's President Chris L. Christensen, Mr. Nixon said, "It gives me the greatest of pleasure to say that I consider it a distinct privilege to accept your invitation. I will be delighted to associate myself with the Committee's highly praiseworthy and highly effective programs, which are contributing so much to the development of responsible citizenship among America's young people."

Acknowledging President Nixon's decision, Christensen pledged the National 4-H Service Committee's continued support of extension programs which strengthen the informal educational opportunities of youth everywhere. He pointed to increased 4-H programming being carried on in the inner-city and with the rural disadvantaged. And Christensen acknowledged.

Other suitable stuffers from Whitman are paper dolls -- from babies to Barbie, cut outs and press outs; coloring books; Tiny-Tot Tale books priced at 19¢ each; Tell-a-Tale books priced at 25¢ each; and jigsaw puzzles for all ages. Whitman products are available throughout the country wherever children's toys and games are sold.

James Lyle, Executive Vice President of Western's Consumer Products, offers these stocking suggestions to Santa's helpers:

Stocking stuffers should be small in size and flexible. Fruit, an apple or an orange, is just the right size for the toe. Tiny items, such as a child's favorite candy, nuts, or cookies, should be added next to little books, crayons, perhaps a package of paper money, a small puzzle. Finish filling the stocking with the largest items such as the color books, paper dolls, comics and punch-out books, rolling them over to fit the stocking opening. A gingerbread man peaking out on top adds a colorful finish.

Naturally, each stocking must be created with the specific youngster in mind. Items should be selected according to the child's interests and age level. For example, Whitman's collection of paper dolls in-

Designed originally for the mother of three loving daughters, The Mother's Ring was subsequently made available, at her request, to the mothers of America... who gathered it to their hearts.

Twin bands of 14 karat gold signifying mother and father are joined by lustrous synthetic stones marking the birth month of each child.

college students who will have completed at least two years of college work at the start of the summer period and have a grade point average of 3.5 or higher on a 4-point scale may qualify without taking the written test. Students majoring in engineering and physical science may qualify under this provision with a 3.0 average.

The Commission urged interested candidates to apply early, and emphasized that there will be fewer jobs than applicants. Last year, about 22,000 jobs were filled from more than 159,000 persons who qualified.

About 3000 summer employees were selected in 1969 for sub-professional jobs related to their studies, about 8,000 worked as clerks or carriers in the Post Office Department, and about 11,000 worked in clerical jobs such as typist, stenographer, clerk, and office machine operator. In 1970, the Office of Civil Defense plans to hire a limited number of summer employees as data collectors.

Applicants who qualified under the 1969 exam need not re-file for consideration in 1970. Complete details and instructions for filing are contained in Announcement No. 414 which may be obtained from the U. S. Civil Service Commission in Washington, any one of the 65 Interagency Boards of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, or any major Post Office.

program is that high quality marketing and promotion stimulates growth in the economy, and in this case it is Texas' farm economy that is being helped," White said.

Sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture, this highly successful promotional campaign spotlights a different Texas agricultural commodity every two months in an intensified and organized effort.

During this period, various agricultural products are brought to the attention of the consuming public by all communications media, from newspapers and television to highway billboards, plus in-store demonstrations and personal appearances by marketing specialists.

For each promotion the Texas Department of Agriculture displays full color posters and case strips in thousands of grocery stores and over a million billing inserts are mailed out by banks and utility companies.

Food seminars are held throughout the state and feature Texas grown and processed foods—effectively focusing attention on Texas products by housewives and home economists alike.

Campaigns for the near future are presently being planned to include beef, pork, poultry, dairy products, citrus, fresh fruits and vegetables, nuts, cereal grains and natural fibers, with Texas leading the nation and the world in production of many of these commodities.

"As the TAP symbol gains increasing recognition," White said, "more consumers will seek the high quality agricultural products of the Lone Star State."

knowledgeed the generosity of the private sector in assisting the publicly supported 4-H educational program.

The National 4-H Service Committee, a non-profit, educational corporation headquartered in Chicago, has supported the 4-H program for 48 years, Christensen said. Currently some 58 corporations, foundations and individuals financially support the Committee's work, he noted.

Fruitcake, a Holiday Favorite

Want to get a head start on holiday baking? Fruitcakes, those delightful, traditional holiday treats improve with age so it's not too early to start making them. A few extra cakes in pretty tins, or just wrapped in foil and red ribbon, also make charming gifts for friends.

A stand mixer will take much of the work out of making fruitcakes. A fruitcake has many ingredients so it takes a great deal of mixing. Because you don't have to hold it, a stand mixer will save tired arms and allow you to add ingredients with both hands.

The Sunbeam Mixmaster Mixer with 12 Governor Controlled speeds and bowl-fit beaters makes mixing fruitcakes a breeze. The governor control feature lets you thoroughly mix thick ingredients at slower speeds without reducing the power of the motor—a plus when you mix a heavy fruitcake.

LIGHT FRUITCAKE

- 1/2 cup candied citron pieces
- 1/2 cup candied orange peel pieces
- 1 cup candied cherries, cut in half
- 1/2 lb. dried apricots, cut in small pieces
- 1/2 lb. dried apricots, cut in small pieces
- 1/2 lb. light seedless raisins
- 1 cup chopped pecans

- 2 teasp. grated lemon rind
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teasp. baking powder
- 1/2 teasp. salt
- 1 cup soft shortening, butter or margarine
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 5 eggs, unbeaten
- 1 tbs. lemon juice

Pour boiling water over raisins and apricots. Let stand 5 minutes. Drain, then pat dry between a towel. Grate lemon rind, cut cherries and pecans. Combine citron, apricots, pecans, and lemon rind with 1/2 cup flour, coating ingredients evenly.

Preheat oven to 300° F. Grease and line with waxed paper bottom of 10x5x3 loaf pan.

Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt.

In large Mixmaster Mixer bowl, cream shortening and sugar on No. 7 speed for 2 min. Add eggs one at a time, while beating 2 1/2 min. longer. On No. 1 speed, beat in lemon juice and flour mixture for 1 min., scraping bowl as necessary. While beating on No. 1 speed add fruit and nut mixture continuously (only to blend), about 1 1/2 min. Turn into pan and bake about 2 hrs.

or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan.

Wrap the cooled cake in cellophane wrap and cover with foil. Store in refrigerator. Next day, when cake is completely cool, remove wrappings. Soak a clean cloth in sherry, wine, or brandy and wrap cake, completely covering it, in soaked cloth. Cover with foil. Resoak cloth periodically as it becomes dry, about once a week for 1 month. Keep stored in refrigerator in tightly covered container for as long as a year.

To glaze: Brush top of cake with hot corn syrup. Trim with nuts and candied fruit.

If you don't have a stand mixer, now's the time to drop a Christmas gift hint to your family. With the promise of baked goodies in the coming years, this is a gift they'll love giving.

just last week. This is one free booklet that every farm family should have and use.

The booklet explains farm income tax reporting in an easy to understand fashion. It has examples of all the schedules and forms that farmers use. It also stresses the importance of keeping good records of all reportable income, expenses and depreciation. A person can get some good ideas on record keeping from reading this booklet. Most farmers hire someone to do the job of filling out the forms for them, but the important thing is the information they take to the office. The job done by the income tax expert can be no better than the records furnished him by the farmer. A good record of all transactions along with all sales slips, invoices, receipts and cancelled checks helps to assure the farmer that an accurate return is being made.

Each year there are some changes made but a study of the 1969 bulletin would help to get a better bookkeeping job done for the 1970 crop year.

cal, mental, or emotional handicaps. Now specialists in this area will look at children with a quite different approach. They will concentrate on the learning needs of each student, not on the disability which formerly set him apart from the rest of his classmates.

"Our whole effort will be directed toward integrating the special education students into the regular public school framework as much as possible."

"Its success will, of course, depend on the local schools and the understanding of parents and others interested in special education. This is the reason we will banstorm the state in December, outlining the plan and asking for everyone's opinion about it. We want public reaction because this is the only way we can possibly incorporate the opinions of the people most affected into the overall design for the future of special education in Texas."

This effort will begin with 20 meetings to be held at the regional education service centers in December. Then a series of workshops with principals and superintendents will be held at the School Administrators Advisory Conference in Austin January 7-9, 1970. Final draft of the plan will be presented to the State Board of Education at its February 7 meeting in El Paso.

Dr. Montgomery began the series of meetings Thursday, December 4th, at Education Service Center Region VIII in Mt. Pleasant. Four traveling teams of Agency special education staff members will continue the meetings throughout December. They will brief local citizens on the plan at a series of half-day sessions.

The 7th grade Wranglers have played three games in the last two weeks and have managed to win all three. The Wranglers played Seminole twice last week and were able to beat them. They had to really hustle in order to beat them by 4 points each time. This week the Wranglers met Tatum. They have been the only team this year that has beaten them. The Wranglers were really looking forward to this game. They played a very good game and were able to beat them 31 to 28. Ricky Bearden has done a fine job for the Wranglers by being high-point man in the last three games, by scoring 19, 25, and 14.

The eighth grade Wranglers have also had a very good season this year. The Wranglers have only lost two games this year and only by 4 points, each time. They are an experienced team except that they could use more height. They have really hustled and have done their best each time.

The eighth grade results are: Plains 37, Tatum 18; Plains 55, Morton 59; Plains 53, Denver City 23; Plains 27, Denver City 23; Plains 52, Seminole 40; Plains 39, Seminole 43; and Plains 51, Tatum 26.

The Wranglers have played three good games these past two weeks. They met Seminole twice last week but were only able to win one of them. They hustled and did their best in each game and we are very proud of them. This week the Wranglers met Tatum. The Wranglers had beaten Tatum earlier this season and they felt like doing it again. The Wranglers went all the way and defeated them 51-26. The last three games Mike Blount has added a total of 45 points for the Wranglers. Mike has had a very good season this year and has been high
