

SBA Has Disaster Loan

To give relief to businessmen who have suffered economic injury as a result of the adverse weather and to aid those businesses to continue in operation, the Small Business Administration is permitted to make economic injury disaster loans in these counties: Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Hale, Hall, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Parmer, Swisher, Terry, Yoakum.

This action was taken because of substantial damage to 1969 crops as a result of various adverse weather conditions during the entire crop year, including hailstorms, prolonged drought, and unseasonal freezes.

The Small Business Administration has authority to make either direct loans or loans in participation with banks or other lending institutions. Any small business concern located in these designated counties should apply to the Lubbock Small Business Administration's Regional Office at 1616 - 19th Street, Phone Area Code 806, 765-8541, Extension 262.

Gail Carothers Wins Award

B. Gail Carothers has been named Plains High School's 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaker of tomorrow. Selected on the basis of her score in a December 2nd homemaking knowledge and attitudes examination for which a record 646, 041 senior girls in 15, 040 of the nation's high schools were enrolled, she is now eligible for state and national honors. She will also receive a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the annual educational program.

Test papers of all school winners in the state are currently undergoing additional judging, and a State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named in March. She will be awarded a $1,500 college scholarship; the second-ranking girl in the state receives a $500 educational grant. Additionally, first-place winners from the 51 states and the District of Columbia--together with advisors from their schools--will receive an expense-paid educational tour of Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va., this spring.

Climax of the tour will be naming of the 1970 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, whose scholarship will be increased to $5,000. Three runners-up will also be selected and will be awarded $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships. National judging will center on personal observation and interviews during the tour.

Begun by General Mills in the 1954-55 school year, the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow is designed to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. During its 16-year history, more than seven million young women have been enrolled in the program and scholarship grants total approximately $1-3/4 million.

The test which forms the basis for selection of winners is prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Chicago. Schools of state winners are awarded sets of Encyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc.

Bill Aids Doctor

Washington, D. C.--A bill authorizing 425 million dollars in federal funds to support training programs for family doctors and others in the field of family medicine was introduced in the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives simultaneously today (Monday, February 9) by Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.) and Rep. Fred Rooney (D-Pa.)

The bill, whose funds would be appropriated through 1975, provides for grants to be made by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to (1) medical schools; (2) teaching hospitals, and (3) interns and residents who plan to make family medicine their specialty. The proposed legislation was introduced on the first anniversary of the announcement of the approval of family medicine as a medical specialty. The specialty became a fact when the Council on Medical Education of the American Medical Association and the Advisory Board for Medical Specialties approved a certifying board in family medicine in 1969 just prior to the annual Congress on Medical Education in Chicago.

Since that time the AMA and the American Academy of General Practice, the national association of family physicians and a sponsor of the new certifying board, have placed major emphasis on educational programs at the residency level to begin preparing young doctors for specialty certification in this field. Meanwhile, the American Medical Association is sponsoring a workshop Feb. 12 at the Region XVII Education Service Center, to hear a noted Denver, Colo. special education consultant speak on problems dealing with all levels of instruction, elementary through high school.

Attending from Plains was Cleo Wemken of Plains Elementary. Dr. R. William Happ, director of education and research, Laradon Hall School for Exceptional Children in Denver, directed the workshop. Dr. G. Woodie Coleman, director of programs and coordinator of Special Education for the ESC, said, "Dr. Happ is an extremely knowledgeable person in the field of Special Education."

Laradon Hall is nationally recognized for its academic and work-study programs for mentally retarded children with an IQ range of from 25 to 70. Only 20 teachers in the region work with TMR pupils. This workshop was another in a series designed to meet the needs of teachers who work with children in all handicapping areas.

The final cotton yield notices will be mailed this week and the sign-up will begin anytime after notices are mailed. The final date for signing under the 1970 cotton, feed grain and wheat programs will be March 20th, 1970.

The County Office will be closed Monday, February 23rd for George Washington's birthday.

Area Sorghum Growers Given Awards

More than 200 leading Texas sorghum growers - including L. D. Hamm, Jr., of Plains and Mont Hamm of Brownfield have received Trainload and Carload Sorghum Grower awards from Northrup, King & Co., as part of a new national program sponsored by the Minneapolis-based seed firm to honor an exclusive group of 300 large volume grain sorghum producers.

The Texas winners produced nearly 169 million pounds of grain using Northrup King Hybrids--the equivalent of about 845 giant hopper carloads, or a train nearly 13 miles long. To qualify for the awards, each trainload grower produced more than a million pounds from one or more NK hybrid.

Two Texas winners received their awards--handsomely mounted miniature traincars and plaques--at a series of award luncheons this week (Feb. 11-13) at Amarillo, Lubbock, Richardson and Corpus Christi.

This is the first year that the trainload and carload grower awards have been offered. Purpose of the program, according to Northrup King officials, is to call attention to the fact that the new grain sorghum hybrids are rapidly becoming one of the nation's major grain crops.

In addition, the Northrup King officials say, the honored growers demonstrate by their on-the-farm results that NK hybrid sorghums are meeting the requirements of the nation's most demanding grain farmers.

This year's 300 winners produced a grand total of more than 260 million pounds of grain. Enough to fill 1,300 giant carloads, or to make a train about 20 miles long. The largest producer, West Coast Land & Cattle Co., Casa Grande, Arizona produced 6,750,000 pounds of grain from 1,830 acres of NK3D and NK280. The grain will be fed in the company's extensive feeding yards.

The Trainload and Carload Growers hailed from 13 states. Seeding rates for their award-winning grain production ranged from 2 to 20 pounds of seed per acre, depending upon the area and whether planted in dryland or irrigated land.

EDITORIALS

On the news pages the responsible newspaper is obligated to present as unbiased a version of the news as humanly possible. Where an issue is in dispute, the responsible newspaper will present both sides of the argument to the best of its ability. BUT in its editorials the honest newspaper will present only its own viewpoint on a given subject. It would be dishonest for the newspaper to argue the other side, the side it believes is wrong. The editorial is the newspaper's opinion. Subtract the paper's opinion and, obviously, you have a newspaper without a heart.

Tomorrows Farmers

Agriculture, while still basic to survival, has become far removed from the knowledge of most of us. The nation depends upon today's agri-businessmen, who have made a science of farming. Like any science, farming requires an early start in life for those who wish to become successful agriculturists.

Between February 21 and 28, the country will be observing FFA Week. During this week the Future Farmers of America, a national organization with 450,000 students studying vocational agriculture in 9,000 public schools, will conduct special events expressly designed to emphasize agriculture and the role it will play in our future. FFA Week is traditionally celebrated beginning the Saturday before George Washington's Birthday and ending the following Saturday.

George Washington made significant contributions to American agriculture, in addition to his military and patriotic contributions. The FFA recognizes him in their ceremonies, and especially during FFA Week.

One farmer now feeds scores of people. Thus, the responsibility of those who turn to agriculture as a business is heavy, and the young people of the FFA and other farm organizations who have elected to devote their lives to the production of food and fiber need every bit of support we can give them.

As our 4-H boys and girls and our FFA boys show their work in the past YEAR this week at the Junior Fat Stock Show, everyone including the merchants and citizens of our county should back our boys and girls to the fullest degree.

The Original Weatherman

Among the more pleasing of ancient legends is that of Groundhog Day. Many of us have trouble remembering just what the legend says of the Groundhog's shadow, as well as the exact day on which the event is said to occur. For those who have trouble with their legends, here are the "facts." Groundhog Day falls on February 2nd. On this day, so the tale goes, a Groundhog comes out of hibernation. If he sees his shadow, he will supposedly return to his hole for another six weeks of winter weather. No one knows whether the Groundhog is aided by such devices as weather satellites or exotic electronic equipment. But one thing is certain. The Groundhog has been in the weather forecasting business longer than anyone else. For that reason if no other, he deserves a certain degree of respect.

Friendly Chats with Faye McConnell

"The measure of a man is the size of his thoughts."

Now that it is the year that politicians will be working for votes, let's remember the old saying: "There is so much good in the worst of us, and so much bad in the best of us, that it hardly behooves any of us, to talk about the rest of us."

Gossip is perhaps the most fascinating of all subjects for conversation, for "the best of women and the wisest of men enjoy their gossip now and again." And who of us doesn't, but let us take care to be thoughtful gossipers. Whenever we talk about our neighbors, let us remember the words of James Whitcomb Riley: "Let something good be said."

The very meaning of the word "gossip" denotes something good. It is derived from two words, "God sibb," a gossip was originally a God-relation, a person spiritually akin to another person - a sponsor at a baptism, for example. Later on, a gossip came to mean a friend. But a friend is likely to be a frequent visitor, and a frequent visitor is a possible bringer of news. And thus, little by little, the word "Gossip" acquired the unsavory meaning of a carrier of tales, an idle tattler, a scandalmonger.

There is nothing so vicious as evil gossip. Evil gossip assassinates the character of any person, and therefore, is one of the worst wrongs that can be committed against another. There are so many people in this world who have only negative thoughts, there is nothing uplifting in their conversation. There is a continual griping about first one thing and then another.

But on the other hand, there is nothing so delightful as good gossip. A kind word, a kind deed, can work miracles. If you must gossip about your friends, do it in a friendly way, and when and if we hear evil gossip about friends or someone we know let's turn our backs upon such negative thoughts, and remember there is always something good in the worst of us. Especially let's watch ourselves about carrying evil gossip during the coming campaign and remember to say kind words.

Would you go to a store and pay $1.16 for a one dollar bill? Does the very thought sound insane? Well, hold onto your chair because you are already paying that much and more for dollar bills, reports the (New York) Citizens Public Expenditure Survey Incorporated.

Proponents of new government spending programs who cry, "It won't cost local taxpayers anything - federal aid will pay for it" are merely deluding themselves and the public.

Our thought is that if economy at home is good for the country, it should be even better and at least consistent to foreign aid, consistent with our security and commitments to our allies. What is sauce for the American goose should be sauce for the foreign gander. And we think if we do some pruning on the foreign spending, it might lighten the load for the American Eagle and the hard-pressed taxpayers.

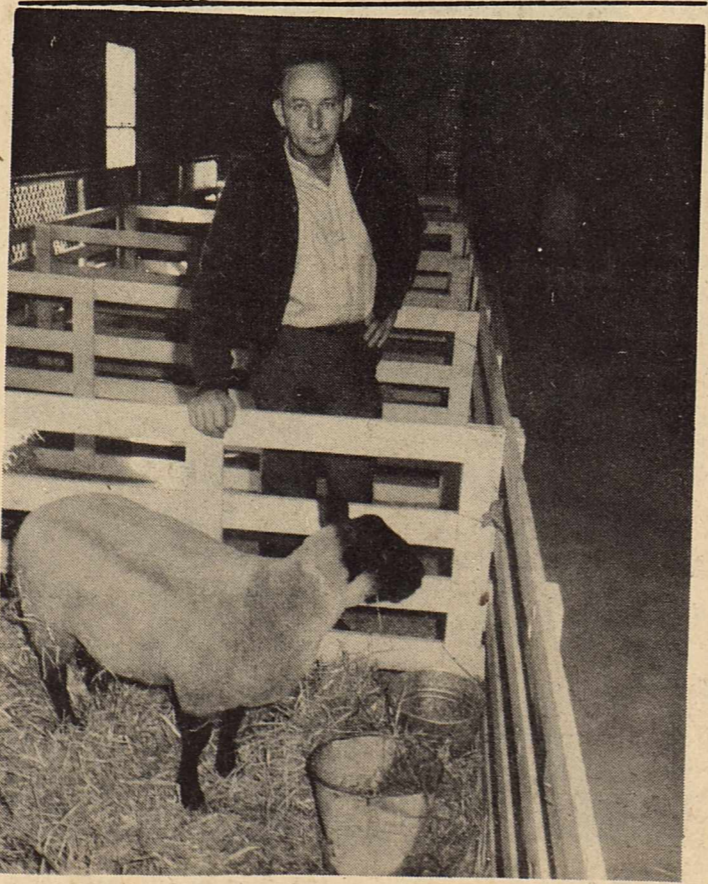

Sister Louise tells this about her granddaughter, Christy: Not long after Christy's baby brother had been born and Louise was there helping take care of the little one, Christy had almost driven her mother and grandmother to distraction by a continuous prattle all day long. (She seems to be one of those loquacious persons who talk all the time.)

After supper, she talked until her mother told her to go to her room, put on her pajamas and go to bed. Christy obeyed, but soon they looked around and there she stood in the kitchen door ready for bed, and her mother said: "Christy, I told you to go to your room and to bed!"

Christy, placing her little hands upon her hips, replied: "Well I came in to tell you something, but I see now that it is utterly impossible to talk with anyone that is in such a gripy mood." Then she whirled and walked back to her room.

"It is a funny thing about life - if you refuse to accept anything but the very best, you very often get it."

Friend John:
Wasn't that you on NATIONAL TV I saw Sunday afternoon?

I was just sitting there on my log and I saw this guy come into the cafe and it was you!! I hollered at my wife and kids but they cut you off before I could corral the rest of my crew to admire you!

Congratulations - and if it wasn't you, then you have a twin brother!
Best regards to you and the wife.

UNCLE SAM'S

SELECTIVE SERVICE

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q-- My son was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary when he was 17 years of age. Consequently he has not registered for the draft. Upon release he will be more than 26, with a criminal record. Will he have to register?

A-- Yes. He is required to register the date he leaves the institution.

Q-- I'm presently in class I-A. I'm opposed to war, but would like to volunteer for induction if I could be assigned to noncombatant duty. May I?

A-- Not while you're I-A. The only way you may be assigned to noncombatant duty is for your board to determine that you're a conscientious objector available for noncombatant military service only. If the board gives you the I-A-O classification, you may volunteer for induction and be assigned to a noncombatant unit.

Q-- Who is authorized to classify men under the draft law?

A-- Local boards and appeal boards are authorized to classify; however, the Director of Selective Service, notwithstanding any other provisions of the classification rules and principles, may direct the classification or reclassification of any man without regard to his eligibility for a particular classification.

Important Elections

Apparently the state and county elections for this year have completely overshadowed the City election and the County School board election. Both of these elections are of importance to everyone and should be given proper consideration.

The final filing date for both elections will be March 4th, which is not far in the future.

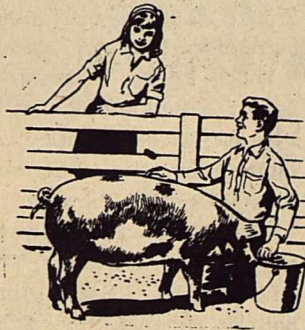

In the School election these up for re-election are; Dickie Green who at present is secretary of the board, Ray Bearden, Billin Winn and LeeRoy McCravey. At Press time all had filed for re-election except Ray Bearden.

The city election to be held will be for the offices of Mayor, two councilmen, and city Marshall. The office of Mayor is presently held by Roy Edwards. The two council positions up for election are those held by T. J. Bearden and T. J. Miller. The office of city marshal is now held by Gene Scheonrock.

At press time no one had filed for any of these city offices.

While all of these offices carry a heavy responsibility they are virtually non-remunerative. To operate efficiently these offices require responsible and dedicated office-holders.

Visitors From Mineral Wells

By
J. Loyd Rice

The J. Loyd Rice family was honored Monday night with a visit by his sister and her husband, Mr. R.W. Stewart. They had been visiting his sisters in El Paso and was on their way home, and came by Plains. They left about 10 A. M. Tuesday. It was a real pleasure to have them.

Mr. Stewart worked with the missile development in program under NASA in Huntsville, Alabama until his retirement about five years ago.

Good Telephone Service

I was sitting in my office at the church building busy typing, when I heard a little whistle of some kind. It sounded like it was coming from outside the building. I got up and looked outside all around. Then I checked the class rooms, and even went up in the attic. I was flabbergasted. Where was that sound coming from? About that time Mrs. Emogene Smith walked into the office and discovered the phone was off the hook! Whew! The whistling stopped.

That is a good service. It sure will put a fellow to looking for something, but I was so dumb I could not tell where the sound was coming from.

In Case of Fire

If you smell smoke at night, don't rush from your bedroom to investigate, warns the Texas Safety Association.

Place your palm high against the bedroom door. If it's hot, don't open it. The hall outside is a deadly trap of superheated air and gas and can kill almost instantly.

If the door doesn't feel hot, brace your body against the door and open it a crack, ready to shut it if there's air pressure or the draft feels hot.

Get members of the family to safety quickly and don't waste time getting dressed or picking up valuables, urges TSA.

Sudie Thompson Says.....

Hints on Pecans

by
Sudie M. Thompson, CHDA

Pecans can become rancid. The high oil content which lends their characteristic rich flavor makes pecans very perishable.

The store pecans for year around use, the cooler the place the better.

At room temperature (70 to 80 degrees) pecans meats keep fresh only two months. In the home freezer at zero-degrees, pecans will be in good condition for two years.

Before cracking pecans, soak them in water to increase the number of whole kernels obtained. Pour boiling water over the nuts and let them soak 15 to 30 minutes depending on the thickness of the shell.

Soaking makes the kernels more pliable so they hold together better during the shelling operation. Crack the pecans when the shells are dry.

Like meat, pecans supply protein, fat and B vitamins. One cup pecan halves has 740 calories.

Pecan flavor blends well with many foods; waffles for breakfast, soup or bread for luncheon, salads, pastries and desserts for dinner.

Other ideas for using pecans: add chopped nuts to bread crumbs for casserole topping, use chopped nut to top pumpkin pie in the last few minutes of baking, or roll cheese balls in chopped nuts before serving.

Making nut-bread fingers to serve with salads by rolling fingers of buttered bread in chopped pecans. Or try mixing equal amounts of chopped pecans and chopped olives with mayonnaise to moisten. Spread this on whole wheat bread for extra special sandwiches.

ORANGE PECAN BREAD

- 1 egg
- 1 cup orange juice
- 1 cup raisins, finely cut
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- 2 tablespoons shortening melted and cooled slightly
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup pecans, chopped.

Beat egg; stir in orange juice, raisins, orange rind, shortening and vanilla. Sift flour, baking powder, soda, salt and sugar into liquid mixture. Mix well. Stir in pecans. Pour into well greased 6x9x2 1/4-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350 F. for 1 hour.

Texas Department

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated five accidents on rural highways in Yoakum County during the month of January, according to Sergeant Hal E. Pirtle, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person injured and an estimated property damage of $4,790.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock DPS Region for January, 1970 shows a total of 460 accidents resulting in 15 persons killed, 188 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $648,408 as compared to January, 1969 of 447 accidents resulting in 26 persons killed, 260 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $424,881.

The Sergeant reminded all motor vehicle owners that still have their inspection stickers on the lower right-hand side of their windshields that April 15th is the deadline for having the new sticker placed on the lower left-hand side of their windshields. The Sergeant also stated only about 33 per cent of the registered vehicles in the surrounding area have been inspected.

Worlds Richest Horserace

Ruidoso Downs, N.M.

Mrs. Liz Devin, Nomination Secretary at Ruidoso Downs has completed the final count of original nominators for the 1971 All American Futurity.

Texas again dominated the list with 161 nominators, Oklahoma followed with 79 the same as last year and New Mexico with 30 the same as last year. 415 different owners from 31 States and Canada nominated 876 Horses for this 1971 All American Futurity. This surpasses last years record number of nominees (705) by 171 entries of a phenomenal increase of over 24%.

General Manager and Predictor Richard Thompson said that the 1971 All American Futurity will gross well over $700,000, he has studied the past payments and percentage of drop outs to arrive at this gross figure.

Next subscription payment is March 15th.

BEST OF LUCK THIS YEAR.

Accent on Health

Theres a lot of talk about protecting our rivers and streams our air and our land resources.

But how about wastewater control? Is that a matter of concern in Texas? It is to the Texas State Department of Health for maintaining good public health. For more than 50 years the TSDH has been responsible for the prevention or control of water-borne diseases through the administration of programs designed to assure proper means of treating and disposing of wastes. In addition, programs were established to protect public water systems from contaminants and to encourage owners to provide adequate treatment plants operated and maintained under the supervision of "Certified Operators" in order to assure safe drinking or domestic-use water. In Texas today more than a thousand sewage or domestic wastewater treatment plants are in operation and more that 3,000 populated areas are served by public water systems. Though water-borne disease outbreaks (typhoid, amoebic or bacillary dysentery, hepatitis, and others) have not been traceable to improperly designed or operated sewage systems or inadequately protected public water systems for more than 30 years, vigilance is needed. The Departments activities in the field of water pollution control or water quality managment were oriented more toward public health by the creation of the Texas

Water Quality Board. Many public health activities are currently being exercised. Briefly the purposes of these activities are: to assist in establishing domestic wastewater collection and treatment facilities to produce effluents meeting state quality requirements through reviewing plans and specifications and visiting plants under construction; to abate mosquito and fly-breeding at such installations; and to protect quality of water at public recreational areas. The Department is on the alert to prevent possible use of hazardous wastewater plant effluents on food crops which may be consumed raw and to prevent exposure of the public to poor quality effluents through irrigation of public-use areas. Other objectives are: to evaluate threats of wastewater discharges into sources of drinking water systems; to coordinate activities with the Texas Water Quality Board; to obtain current public health data as to the bacteriological quality at various stations located along our major water resources; to carry out plant operational research on new processes; and to review plans and specifications of new plants. The staff of the Departments Division of Wastewater Technology constantly reviews reports of plant inspection and correspondence made available to it by the Board in order that your State Health Department can be kept informed on current conditions.

Do you have a pre-schooler at home? The Texas Safety Association urges parents to teach little ones how to dial the operator in case of an emergency.

While children can't be expected to remember phone numbers, they can be taught to "dial zero, tell the lady what is wrong, and she will help you."

Be sure they know their home address. Telephone operators, trained to handle emergencies, may save your child's life.

Yoakum SWCD News

C. M. Thompson

This year plan to grow grain sorghum in narrow rows to cut down on cost of operation and provide more soil protection in 1971. The time to start is right now. We have been lucky this winter so far not to have much wind erosion. We will not always be so lucky, so if you plan now and plant this spring you can have soil protection when you need it. Soil protection and water conservation are important, more important each year as the cost of production goes up and the selling price stays about the same year in and year out. Every time you eliminate one costly operation, save an inch of moisture or some top soil you increase your profit. If you don't think so figure what you would be making if you were farming with a team of horses or mules, or even two row tractors. It is just as important to change your way of farming to-day as it was in the 1930's. Agriculture is changing at an even faster pace and if we don't change we are lost all too soon. The idea of narrow row is not new but has been with us for a long time. The difference now is we have chemicals to help us make the narrow rows work, better and easier equipment to use thus making it possible for a farmer to operate just about as he wishes. There is no set width that is best, there are several widths that are being used, 27, 28, 30 inch row width are all considered narrow rows just as 20 inch rows are. With the larger tractors and tires you may need to go to one of the more wider rows than 20 inch. If you do just be sure you have the seeding rate correct for setting down on the row width and leaving the seeding rate the same is a good way to get in trouble. Total seeding rate should remain the same regardless of width of rows. There are several conservation farmers that have used the more narrow row width and will be using it again this year. They are Roy Guetersloh, Billy Guetersloh, Harry S. May, W. B. White, Robert B. White, Robert Chambliss, Bobby Chambliss and many others. Regardless of your row width plan now to manage the residue for soil and moisture conservation.

Easter Seal Appeal

The 1970 Easter Seal Appeal will open in Yoakum County on Monday Feb. 23, according to Gene Snyder, who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the county. Mr. Snyder said that Easter Seal Appeal letters would begin arriving at homes in the county about March 1. As Easter Seal Representative, he is the local contact to request rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy speech and hearing program and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by the families of handicapped children and adults. Last year 20, 378 handicapped people received help from the Texas Society, Snyder explained.

ned. But the costs of providing expert professional care are rising, and more money than ever will be needed, he said.

Funds help support 20 centers in Texas, where crippled children and adults are treated, regardless of their ability to pay. Walkers, wheelchairs and related services are provided to those who cannot provide for themselves. "Since 1929 the people of Texas have always responded to our needs, and I feel certain they will make it possible to increase Easter Seal serviced to crippled Texans throughout the coming year," Snyder said.

Last Minute News

An ambulance was called to Atlantic-Richfield lease North of the Barron Blair home Wednesday morning to pick up Paul Scott who apparently had a stroke and was carried to the Yoakum County Hospital in Denver City. Mr. Scott lives at 804 W. Street in Denver City.

By the time the ambulance had arrived at the hospital, Mr. Scott was feeling better and it is hoped before long he will be well again.

Veterans Administration

The Veterans Administration recently completed interviews with some 450 Civil War widows on its rolls to see if they might not be eligible for the $50 extra monthly pension provided those who require the regular aid and attendance of another person.

A total of 437 such widows now receive the VA's "aid and attendance" allowance compared to 110 before the interviews.

The United States provided for payments to disabled Union veterans and widows in 1861-62. Confederates were added to VA rolls are from the South.

Widows of Union and Confederate soldiers range in age up to 107.

The last Confederate veteran, Walter W. Williams, Houston, died December 19, 1959, at the age of 117. The last Union veteran, Albert Woolson, Duluth, died August 2, 1956, at the age of 109.

When you're not like yourself, Lydia Pinkham understands

All of a sudden you might feel you're changing - not a good feeling. You're tired, edgy, out of sorts and that's not you. Lydia Pinkham understands.

A long time ago, when ladies couldn't be as frank as we can today, Lydia Pinkham recognized the problem and set about finding a remedy. She knew it was not natural for women to have to suffer with what was obviously a natural process.

So she turned to nature for a remedy. She developed a marvelous compound of medicinal roots and herbs that turned the trick for the women she knew. Because it is a natural answer to your natural problems, it can turn the trick for you, too.

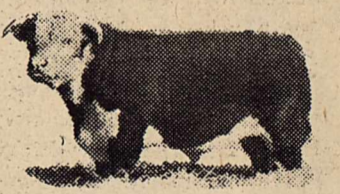

Try Lydia Pinkham's root and herb remedy to help you feel better, more like yourself.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS

4-H CREED

I believe in 4-H Club work for the opportunity it gives me to become a useful citizen.
 I believe in the training of my HEAD for the power it will give me to think, to plan and to reason.
 I believe in the training of my HEART for the nobleness it will give me to be kind, sympathetic and true.
 I believe in the training of my HANDS for the dignity it will give me to be helpful, useful and skillful.
 I believe in the training of my HEALTH for the strength it will give me to enjoy life, resist disease and to work efficiently.
 I believe in my country, my state and my community and in my responsibility for their development.
 In all of these things I believe, and I am willing to dedicate my efforts to their fulfillment.

Future Farmers of America

We're in back of the Future Farmers of America 100%! We have a sincere sense of appreciation for the development these young men of FFA are undergoing to take their place as leaders in a growing community!

Since it was founded in 1928, the FFA has dedicated itself to the development of agricultural leadership, team spirit, and citizenship. Future Farmers of America's youth program develops competent, aggressive, rural and agricultural leadership; promotes a love of country life; strengthens the confidence of farm boys and young men in themselves and their work; creates more interest in the intelligent choice of farming occupations; encourages members in the development of individual farming programs, encourages its members to improve farm living; participates in worthy undertakings for the improvement of agriculture; develops character, trains for useful citizenship, and fosters patriotism; participates in co-operative effort; encourages good scholarship to improve the nation's farm industry!
