ANNUAL STAFF TAKES TRIP

Members of the Cowboy Annual Staff visited Fort Worth, Texas on February 26th, for the purpose of touring the Anchor Publishing Plant, where the Cowboy yearbook is published. The members making the trip were Beth Hale, Susan Simpson, Rojanna Harvey-1971 Assistant Editor, Scotty Bayer, Glenda Miller-1971 Editor and Mr. Bob Graham, yearbook sponsor. The tour followed the line of production procedure for the entire yearbook. Processes viewed included color printing on printing presses, the cutting of pages to exact proportion, plant employees laying out pages according to plans submitted by the annual staff, the making of negatives from photos submitted, the process of burning the image of the page into metal plates, the alignment of copy, cover production and assembly, and binding. A yearbook proceeds through a series of departments at the publishing plant before it ever begins to take the shape of the finished product. The process is not automated to a large degree due to the need for personal attention to each page, and every item on the page. The tour was very worthwhile and should help next year's staff increase their efficiency in the technical part of year-book production for which they are responsible. The tour will be a valuable aid when plans are drawn up for the 1972 Cowboy yearbook.

PLAINS STORE BURGLARIZED

Sometime during the night of February 28th, the Streetman Clothing Store in Plains was burglarized. Entrance was made by breaking the glass from the door in the front entrance. Jimmy marks indicated that an attempt to enter from the back door was made but foiled by a bar across the door on the inside. Exit was from the rear door when opened from the inside.

The burglary was investigated by the County Sheriff and his deputies. It was the opinion of the Sheriff's Department that the merchandise consisting of ladies ready-to-wear and jewelry was carried through the back door to a vehicle a half block east and across the street from the store. Materials dropped in the process of moving the goods, marked the trail.

It is estimated that between $4,000 and $5,000, worth of merchandise was stolen. The break-in was discovered when employees arrived to open the store Monday morning. The glass was broken from the lower half of the east entrance door. Broken glass was on the sidewalk and strewn far into the store indicating that the glass was broken from the outside.

Due to severe and inclement weather in the Las Vegas, New Mexico area difficulty was encountered in contacting Mr. Foye Streetman who was enjoying the weekend with his family, at a mountain retreat in the high mountain country.

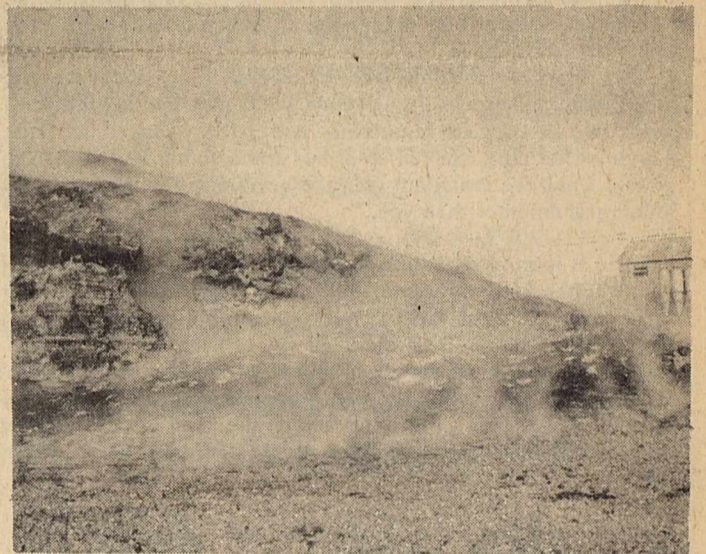

The Sheriff has stated that a report to his office or to Mr. Streetman of any suspicious individuals or vehicles seen in the vicinity of the store Sunday and Sunday night would be appreciated.

DIRT GARDENERS MEET

The Plains Dirt Gardeners held their regular monthly meeting in the Clubroom of the Old Courthouse, Thursday February 18, 1971. The President, Mrs. H.A. Richardson, called the meeting to order. After a short business meeting, Mrs. Foy Cogburn gave a report from the Lone Star Gardener, the State bi-monthly publication for the Federation of Garden Clubs in America. She called our attention to several important meetings scheduled in the near future. Mrs. Robert Young gave an interesting program on Iris. She told of their use, types, colors, blooming periods and areas of growth. Also included in her program was hints on how and when to plant Iris. She stated that the Iris was named after the "Greek Goddess of the Rainbow."

Following Mrs. Young's part on the program, Mrs. Bobby Lester gave an informative talk on Border Plants and Annuals for color and cutting. She gave each member a copy of suggested arrangements for the use of border planting, which had been prepared by Mrs. Joe H. T. Thompson. She also gave several hints on the plantings of annuals. "If seeds are placed in the refrigerator for a couple of days before planting they will sprout sooner". Mrs. Lester quoted the following proverb that seems so appropriate at times, "SEED SOWING--- One for the raven, one for the crow, two to die and one to grow"

Meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. J.M. Dearing and Mrs. H.A. Richardson to the following members: Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. Bobby Lester, Mrs. Glen Morehouse, Mrs. Foy Cogburn, Mrs. W.M. Overton, Mrs. Leon Lewis and Mrs. Wilson Duke.

FIRE AT PLAINS GIN

The D. C. Newsom Gin in Plains has been plagued by a series of fires since the burr pile, accumulated from last fall's ginning, caught fire a week ago. The fire which was attributed to spontaneous combustion, started on Tuesday of last week. It was thought to have been extinguished then but during the high winds on Thursday, the fire erupted again from deep in the pile. The entire pile was enveloped in flames. The high wind carried the burning burrs to the nearby grassland. Before the fire department arrived the grass fire had extended to the highway #214 and a couple of blocks. The fire department and a city maintainer succeeded in containing the fire to the west side of 214, but two hours later, the firefighters were a gain called when fire was carried across the highway. This was quickly extinguished along the road side.

No serious damage was incurred to any property other than the loss of the burr pile which was furnishing winter feed for a small herd of cattle and was being hauled to farms for fertilizer.

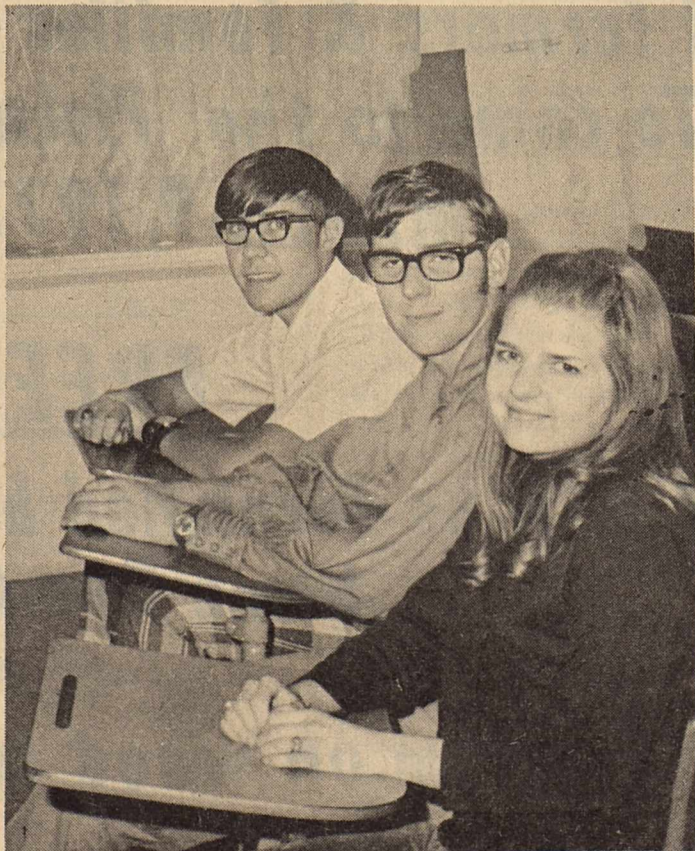

Mr. Newsom has been thoroughly occupied with keeping the fire under control. Though he has had it extinguished on the outer surface, the internal heat causes renewed eruptions. At present, the fire has been reduced to smoldering embers and should soon burn its self out.

Meanwhile, Mr. Newsom is keeping a constant vigil and keeping the outer surface watered down to prevent any outer flames.

"A sharp tongue is the only edged tool that grows sharper with constant use."

Charlene Hatfield really had some excitement in her office early last Thursday morning. She arrived sometime before 8:00 a. m., and was in her office by herself. Soon in rushed a woman wanting to get the sheriff. Deputy Sheriff Bob McDonnell was called but before Bob arrived, the husband, a very large man, came rushing in and among some other things, told the woman she had two children to tend to and for her to get herself back home.

Charlene was very frightened and declares that she will never again arrive at the courthouse before 8:00 a. m.

The McConnell home received a great surprise this weekend. It was one of the most wonderful surprises that we have had in two years when Editor John's two childhood friends visited us from Kansas for the first time.

This time, the people were from Wisconsin, Mr. & Mrs. Emil O. Plockelman. Their daughter Nancy married my John's son John, and they have as a common interest, the same grandchildren.

We had never met Nancy's parents, and had never expected to as we live in Texas and they in Wisconsin. But many strange coincidences happen in this world. They had sold their home and business in Wisconsin where they have lived for these many many years, and were on their way to California to live near their two children. The trip to Plains took them a number of miles out of the way.

The wonderful surprise was not only in meeting them, but it seemed, even from the first moment, that we had known each other all of our lives.

Mrs. Plockelman told a number of cute things about the grandchildren and especially Hilliary. She said one day that she corrected Hilliary for something, and Hilliary placed her little hands on her hips, looked up at her grandmother and said: "You know, I believe that I am going to get along better with my other grandmother than you."

Here is more consolation for Kerby. Last weekend we received a letter from our niece, Sally Yarborough Snow, (sister Ruth's daughter) and she was telling about her youngest son, Jerry. His birthday is on the 22nd day of February and all of these years, he has been proud that he had the same birthday as George Washington. So when George's birthday fell on the 15th of this year in some states and on the 22nd in other states, Jerry couldn't understand why he should not have two birthdays also.

On the sick list this week was Commissioner Raymond Book-out, who was too ill to attend Commissioners' Court meeting Monday morning. Even Annie Laurie's voice was hoarse when she called our office.

G. W. Cleveland reported that while Dr. A. J. Mabry and wife, June Moreland Mabry of Seminole were on a visit to see their son, June fell down the stairs and broke her arm.

WHAT KIND OF AN EXAMPLE ARE WE SETTING BEFORE OUR CHILDREN? A few days ago, a man who lives in a neighboring county came through our county and was arrested by the State Highway Patrolmen for driving on the wrong side of the road. He had been drinking also, but not enough to be charged with "driving while intoxicated." This man, and a group of Boy Scouts, were on their way home from a skiing trip in Ruidoso.

He admitted that he had been drinking a number of hours before, but still he had an excuse for driving on the wrong side of the road, and naturally it was not the whisky. It is my opinion that this type of man should not be allowed to sponsor a group of boy scouts, or at least, be man enough to keep from drinking while he was sponsoring a group of Boy Scouts.

Life does give some very unusual quirks. Monday, Judge Gene Bennett had his car washed, and he made the statement that it would rain or something. Sure enough, when Tuesday morning arrived, the ground was covered in snow. You hear quite often of rain makers, but this one appears to give more assurance than any other.

"If you were brought to trial for being a Mason, would there be enough evidence to convict you?"

My brother-in-law, Harold McConnell of Kansas, who is a 32nd degree Mason, sent this to me. Since I know nothing whatsoever about Masonry, I prefer it written this way: "If you were brought to trial for being a Christian, would there be enough evidence to convict you?"

I will be in favor of the support of an ambulance service and a fine dependable Fire Department, with No. 1, first class equipment at ALL TIMES. I believe in an active City Police Dept. Farmers Sign In New Program

by W.M. Overton, CED

Monday, March 1, was the first day of the 1971 new farm program sign-up. The sign-up ends April 9.

Mr. Robert Box was the first to sign intentions to participate in the program. Others signing on the first day were R. W. Adcock, Homer Sudderth, Melvin Garrett, Royce Trout, Chris Guetersloh, Leon Thompson, Clarence Hester, O'Neal Spencer, and W. M. Nelson.

The programs are voluntarily. Farmers are free to participate in any or all of the programs. To be eligible to participate in the cotton or feed grain programs, to earn price-support payments, producers must set aside eligible cropland equal to 20 percent of the cotton allotment and 20 percent of the feed grain base. The wheat allotment set-aside is 75 percent of the wheat allotment.

Farmers may, if they wish, comply with one of the programs and not the others or they may comply with the program on one farm and not on another they may operate. This year, for the first time, there is no cross compliance, which we have had under past program.

Price support payments are made on all the cotton allotment if as much as 90 percent of the allotment is planted, X the approved yield, X not less than 15 cents per pound, if eligible cropland is set aside and the normal conserving base on the farm, if any, is maintained. If the set-aside is substantially below average or if dry land is used for set-aside where an irrigated yield is produced, a reduction payment may be required. It will be required. It will be required unless some changes are made in regulations.

Price-support payments made on 50 percent of the feed grain base X approved yield, if eligible cropland is set aside. The wheat price support payment has not been determined at this time.

A farmer with both cotton allotment and feed grain base that sets aside the required eligible cropland and maintains his normal conserving base, if any, plants not less than 90 percent of the cotton allotment and not less than 45 percent of the feed grain base, will have earned cotton and feed grain payments and preserved his cotton allotment and feed grain base for 1972.

The balance of the farm cropland may be planted to cotton feed grains, or any other crop except peanuts.

Farmers are urged to sign their intentions at their earliest convenience. However, farmers that are transferring cotton acreage need not sign until the transfers are completed. April 1 is the final date for transferring to and within the county.

SUDIE THOMPSON CHDA★ Says

Sausage is a "natural" the year around. You can serve it for a hearty breakfast an appetizing lunch or a light summer dinner. From the mildest flavored pork sausage to the highly seasoned pepperoni----- there's a sausage for every taste.

With more than 200 varieties of sausage on the market, however, many homemakers pass up these delicious meats because they don't know which ones to choose or how to serve them. The average American homemaker is familiar with only 9 or 10 varieties of sausage. Yet we can enjoy more varieties of sausage than any other nationality, principally because we have inherited the tastiest recipes from each group of immigrants who settled here.

Our mixed ancestry accounts for the exotic names by which these meats are known. Even the common ones like frankfurter, bologna and goteborg still carry the name of the city or region from which they originated.

Fresh sausage and uncooked smoked sausage are the most perishable of all the sausage products. Fresh sausage is made of meat which has not been cured or smoked. It should be refrigerated and used within two to four days after purchase, or it may begin to turn rancid. Uncooked smoked sausage is made from either fresh or cured meat which has been smoked but not cooked. It can be stored under refrigeration for up to one week before using.

You'll find sausage and apples a real eating treat. BULK PORK SAUSAGE AND CINNAMON APPLE SLICES enhance waffles. Prepare waffle batter for four large waffles, then stir in one cup crumbled pork sausage. Meanwhile, melt shorten in fry pan, add peeled apple slices and generously sprinkle with brown sugar and water. Cover pan and simmer apples until tender. Remove cover, and cook apples until glazed and browned. Sprinkle with powdered cinnamon. Bake sausage waffles until golden brown, and serve with hot cinnamon apple slices, lots of butter and maple syrup.

Parents Know the Drug Threat The Child You Save May Be Your Own

By Vernon Townes
County Attorney

Today's Subject: Marijuana—The "Innocent" Drug

Marijuana is probably the best known drug to most parents because for years we have been hearing about it. Marijuana has long been in use in what we now term minority groups, but now it has spread across the land like cancer. Its manufacture and distribution is, of course, prohibited by law except for approved research purposes.

Marijuana is the dried flowering or fruiting top of the plant Cannabis Sativa, L., commonly called Indian Hemp. Usually it looks like fine, green tobacco. It is smoked in pipes or cigarette form. Hashish, also a preparation from Cannabis, is taken orally in many forms, and infrequently it is made into candy, sniffed in powder form, mixed with honey for drinking or with butter to spread on bread. The primary effect is a feeling of great perceptiveness and pleasure and an exaggerated sense of ability, resulting from even small doses. Erratic behavior, loss of memory, distortion of time and spatial perceptions, and hilarity without apparent cause occur. There is a marked unpredictability of effect.

Of course, these reactions are usual in the user of alcohol, too, but with the drug user there is no alcoholic breath odor. Breath odor though is most always unpleasant.

Because of the visions and exhilaration which result from the use of Marijuana, abusers may lose all restraint and act in a manner dangerous to themselves and others. User is usually accident prone because of his time and space sense upheaval. Dependence leads to anti-social behavior and could be the forerunner to use of other, far more deadly drugs.

Street terms (names) for Marijuana are: joints, sticks, reefer, weed, grass, pot, muggles, mooters, Indian hay, locoweed, Mu, giggle-smoke, Griff, Mohasky and Mary Jane.

By the millions, and rightfully so, parents are more and more concerned or even panicked about drug use. Most disturbing is that drugs, especially Marijuana, are becoming popular even among junior high and high school students. One 37-year-old father said in a recent interview, "My seven-year-old daughter can spell Marijuana. I never heard of it until I was in college."

On and near by high school and college grounds, raids and arrests for possession of Marijuana and other drugs are increasing across the country. Simple possession of Marijuana is a felony — rightly or wrongly — that can be punished by jail terms of 2 to 10 years or more. Drug use is, without doubt, becoming a way of life for some young people — and, for an untold but large, if not larger number of adults also. And so, think about these things, my friends — we are all in this together. As adults, it is up to US to head this thing off in our community. To do this we must all know more about drugs, their use and misuse. Will you be with me next week? I hope so. What we are studying is for a very worthwhile cause!

Farmers Meeting March 11

By Leo White
 Yoakum County farmers should mark their calendar for the afternoon of March 11 and plan to be in the District Court Room at 2:30 P.M. Three area specialists will be here to present an educational program on the production of field crops in Yoakum County. Mr. James H. Valentine, the Area Soil Chemist, has appeared before farm groups in Yoakum County on several occasions. He will be one of the speakers on Thursday afternoon of next week and his topic will be on the use of commercial fertilizers. The cost of fertilizer is a major expense item in the production of field crops in Yoakum County. Much of the fertilizer used during the past several years has not given the added returns that it should. When crops producers learn to get the most efficient returns from their fertilizer dollar, they will be able to decrease the cost of producing a crop. Farmers are urged to attend this meeting and get the latest information available about the use of commercial fertilizers.
 Dr. Robert B. Metzger, Extension Service Agronomist, will be on the program Thursday afternoon

Dr. Metzger works closely with researchers at the Lubbock Research Center and he has a host of information about the production of cotton in narrow rows, broadcast cotton, commonly called narrow-row cotton appears to be one of the major break-throughs in modern cotton production. Yoakum County farmers are urged to hear Dr. Metzger and avoid some of the future mistakes that are so easy to make when a new practice comes along.
 The third speaker of the afternoon will be Dr. Robert W. Berry, our Area Plant Pathologist. Dr. Berry was in Yoakum County last September when we held our annual tour of field crops. At each of the various stops of the tour he found evidence of some kind of crop disease. He will be talking about verticillium wilt in cotton, rootknot nematodes and other diseases that cause a reduction yield of crops. Some of the new varieties of cotton and grain sorghums have some built-in resistance to some of the most common diseases.
 All these speakers will be showing some slide pictures along with the discussion of their various topics and the program should be very interesting for anyone who is interested in improving his production methods.

The meeting is open to the general public but we would be especially interested in seeing our crops producers and our agricultural business people in attendance at this meeting.

KEEP IT CLEAN

By Virginia M. White
DEAR VIRGINIA WHITE: Because I am very pollution-conscious, I have been using one of the new phosphate-free detergents. However, these detergents have NTA listed as one of the ingredients and I have heard news reports that NTA has caused birth defects in rats and mice. Now what do I do? MRS. A. L.

DEAR MRS. A. L.: The research on rats and mice showed that NTA, when administered in doses considerably higher than amounts to which people are ordinarily exposed, was dangerous. At this time we have no evidence that anyone has been harmed by the use of NTA. However, detergent manufacturers are phasing out this chemical and their research laboratories are in search of replacements for phosphates and NTA which will be safe yet effective.
 There is a detergent on the market that contains neither phosphates nor NTA—Miracle White Non-Polluting Detergent. This product will give you a clean, bright wash without adding to pollution.

Minimum Tillage
 BY WILSON DUKE SOIL CONSERVATIONIST
 For the last two to three years the term, "minimum tillage" continues to appear more and more especially in farm journals and farm magazines. Some people may ask what is minimum tillage? Generally the term means reducing the number of tillage operations performed before planting the succeeding crop, or possibly just one operation performed before planting the following crop. The management of crop residue ties in with minimum tillage, and the combination of the two practices lead to another definition of minimum tillage: To limit the number of tillage operations to those that are essential in leaving the maximum amount of residue on the surface of the soil. Studies conducted by research organizations have come up with ten or more reasons why minimum tillage is becoming more popular each year. Here are a few of the findings. Saves time, lowers production cost, controls water erosion, reduces wind erosion, helps to conserve soil moisture, improves soil structure, increases land use, increases yields and offers higher profits. There are probably many other reasons for practicing minimum tillage, at any rate the term is catching on and more and more farmers are beginning to use this type of farming operation
