Just One More Week Left To Enter Football Contest

The Plains Pride football contest has one week yet to go with Shane McMinn holding a comfortable lead. Guessing well again this week, he will chalk up another 18 points and a $10 check for first place.

Chris Blundell marked 16 games correctly and will receive $7.50, for second place earnings. Bob Blundell came up with 15 points, as did Brad McMinn. Tie-breaker left Brad McMinn without pay, because of a predicted 20-12 score in Plains favor. Blundell missed the home team's score by two points, and will get a third place win of $5.

With an average of 45 contestants each week, Shane McMinn has kept well ahead in the Season's Standings with 123 points tallied thus far. Runner-up is Wayne Davis with 107; and Janice McGill's 99 points comes in for a close third. Others are David McGill, 98; Gloria Covarrubias, 95; Michael Covarrubias, 94; Bobby Livengood, 91; and Chris Blundell, 90.

Cotton Module Builder Beats Gathering By Trailer

The development and rapid acceptance of the module builder is a vast improvement over the conventional cotton trailer for gathering and storing the harvested crop and provides potential benefits for both producers and ginners, says a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. But the system has to be used properly, he cautioned.

Properly, used, moduling systems complete the mechanization of seed cotton handling from the stalk to the bale, said Dr. James R. Supak, the Extension specialist. They help maintain the quantity and quality of the seed cotton, increase efficiency of handling and ultimately reduce costs, he explained.

"These factors play an important role indetermining the profitability of cotton production and ginning on the Texas High Plains," he said.

Supak stressed several considerations to help producers gain maximum benefit from their moduling systems.

The first is to make sure the plants are properly dried, either by a killing frost or use of desiccants, so that the cotton in the modules has only 8 to 12 percent moisture and less for four percent green leaf.

"Since the harvest season on the Plains is normally characterized by dry weather, many modules aren't covered with tarpaulins," the cotton agronomist said. Snow or rain on uncovered modules can endanger a larger volume of cotton than any given gin can handle before the moisture damages the lint and seed, he warned.

"For this reason, it is now recommended that all modules be tarped," he noted.

To prevent moisture from rain or snow from penetrating the module, seed cotton has to be compressed uniformly during the moduling, he said. He recommended placing the last dump of cotton in the middle of the module to form a slightly rounded top that will permit better drainage of rain or snow.

Extra compaction is needed at the ends of the module to reduce losses during transport, the Extension specialist said. "Forming a good module frequently takes more time that the machine operator is allowed when two or more strippers are assigned to a single module builder," he added.

Location and positioning of modules also is important. Modules should be on prepared sites that allow water to drain away from them and which are accessible to the truck-transporter.

Positioning with respect to existing roadways and adjacent modules should be in accordance with insurance requirements.

A north to south orientation of modules is generally preferred, as this reduces the amount of snow accumulations around the modules.

Child Welfare Board Meets Recently In Lubbock

Meeting recently in October, the Yoakum County Child Welfare Board elected new officers.

Tom Pass, Area Director DHS and Sammy DeLara of Levelland, Regional Council President met with the group. The program was on computer systems to help coordinate all staff and paper work.

Plans were also made to begin an Independent Living Program. This program prepares 16 and 17 year olds for the real world. A pilot program now underway in Amarillo is reported to be very successful.

Yoakum County members attending the meeting which was held at the 50 Yard Line Restaurant in Lubbock were Mrs. Peggy Squyres, Mrs. Toni Jones, Mrs. Anna Gonzales and Mrs. Candi Seaton, case worker.

Next meeting will again be held in Lubbock at the same location on Thursday, Jan. 9, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Recent Rains Interrupt Harvest

Yoakum County Farmers are faced with declining cotton quality and reduced yields in maize and cotton. Recent rains have prevented the harvesting of all crops within the county. Maize yields are being reduced to some degree by falling stalks which cannot be machine harvested.

Overall, cotton quality is decreasing every day after the boll opens. Late planted cotton due to heavy rains or hail in general will not have enough heat units to develop good fiber strength. In some instances, yield reduction is taking place in cotton due to cotton falling out of the boll itself, due to heavy rains.

Great-grandparents are Pete and Louise Smith of Tahoka, James and Minnie Reeves of O'Donnell and Mrs. Mires of Lubbock.

Roby and Rhonda Kelton wish to announce the arrival of their son, Corey Lyn. Making his arrival at 10:13 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 20, he was born in Brownfield Regional Medical Center. The little one weighed five pounds 14 ounces and measured 19 inches long. He has a brother, Jason, two and a half years old. Maternal grandparents are Billy and Marty Bagwell. Paternal grandparents are Dolores Harvey of Muleshoe and Richard Kelton of Lubbock. Great-grandparents are Alice Kelton of Muleshoe; Nell Jordan of Carlsbad and Roy Shoemaker of Ralls.

Indians Overpower Cowboys

By Randy Kennedy
The classic battle of "Cowboys and Indians" erupted on Friday night, Oct. 25, as the Plains Cowboys were pitted against the Morton Indians for the third game of the 1985 district action. After four explosive quarters, the outcome was a disappointing loss for the Cowboys as they fell to Morton by 33 points. With this game, the Cowboy's season record is now tied up at 4 wins - 4 losses as they prepare for next week's matchup against the New Deal Lions on Nov. 1.

Looking back at some of the game's highlights, the first quarter started out as a seesaw battle between the two teams. On the Cowboys' initial possession of the ball, they executed three plays and were then forced to punt on a fourth down and one situation. The Indians took over on the Cowboy 49 after a shanked punt and were also unable to move the ball. The rest of the quarter proceeded in much the same fashion as both teams put up an excellent defense. This trend was broken, however, on the last play of the first quarter as the Indians caught the Cowboys off guard and scored on a 32 yard pass completion. As the quarter ended, the Indians were up 7 - 0.

The second quarter marked the beginning of the end for the Cowboys as Morton embarked on a 20 point scoring spree. With 10:45 still remaining in the quarter, Keith Hawkins intercepted a Cowboy pass and then followed up on the next play with a touchdown reception from Morton quarterback Jimmy Moore. With a successful extra point, the Indians led 14-0. Soon after, the Cowboys again met with bad luck in the form of a fumble. The Indians recovered the ball on their own 41 and were all set for their next scoring drive. Receiver Ricky Patton did the honors with a 29 yard touchdown reception, upping the Morton lead by six. Finally, in the closing seconds of the first half, Morton scored once again as Anthony Hawkins toted the ball 44 yards for the score. So, after a difficult quarter, the Cowboys were trailing 27-0.

As the second half began, the Indians returned to the field with the same kind of scoring momentum they had displayed in the second quarter. Despite a stunning 50 yard run by senior Billy Curtis in the first minutes of the quarter, Morton managed to out-distance the Cowboys and put two more touchdowns on the board. With these, Morton had built up a distant 41-0 lead with 4:21 remaining in the third quarter. However, the Cowboys were not down for good. Rallying back to put a dent in the Morton lead, the Cowboys executed a successful drive all the way to the six yard line and sent quarterback Shane McMinn in for the score. Following up on this, completing a pass to junior Joe Rivera. And as the third quarter came to a close, the score stood Morton, 41 - Plains, 8.

In the fourth and final quarter, the two teams once again returned to seesaw action as neither team was able to penetrate. The Cowboy defense did an impressive job of holding the Morton scoring unit in place, but fell short in offense. Throughout the quarter, they were unable to bridge the 33 point scoring gap and, as the game concluded, the final score was Morton, 41 - Plains, 8.

The Cowboys now have two more games left in 1985 district action. They will meet up with the New Deal Lions on Friday, Nov. 1, and, in the final game, go up against the Eagles of Seagraves on Nov. 8.

FEAR NOT!

Les Carey
Hillside Church of Christ

It has been said that when the last chapter of history has been written for this, the twentieth century, the last line of the last paragraph will read: "This has been the age of anxiety". If this be true, along with that sentence another will have to be included: "This has also been the age of unmitigated fear." One could rightfully say that fear is the twin of anxiety. There are many things that contribute to the fears we all have today. The ever worsening world situation, centered in the pockets of armed conflict throughout the world. The catastrophic domestic unrest here at home. The brazen disregard for context, we see only one side of the subject of fear. It is something we simply would rather not experience in life.

There is another facet to this subject. Fear can truly be a great friend to man. The Bible tells us: "Fear God" (Ecc. 12:13) When man has this type fear which truly is awe and due respect, then he has a real friend working for him. Man needs to fear things that can endanger life and happiness. This type of fear truly is a friend of man and is something to be desired.

On the other hand, fear mistreated, misapplied, or misused soon becomes a grave enemy and can often cause irreparable damage. When we allow fear to become an element of panic in our lives we have let it stop out of its rightful bounds and become detrimental to our well-being. The man driving down the road who suddenly sees a car driving right at him in the wrong lane will surely be gripped with momentary fear. Such fear should be allowed to serve as a friend to cause the person to take immediate precautionary measures to miss the on-rushing vehicle. If panic fear takes over, the man might "freeze" at the wheel, doing nothing but hastening his own hurt. Morbid fear is another rascal. A healthy fear of automobile accidents surely could cause one to drive safely to avoid an accident. Morbid fear would keep one from even taking the car out of the garage.

The believer has an answer for fear-one that will keep it in its proper boundaries at all times. When Jesus was confronted with a tremendous problem, He answered the Tempter by saying: "It is written." We, too, should do the same thing. The Bible gives us an answer to fear. It is written that God is our shield. "Fear not I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward" (Gen. 15:1). God will deliver us from our fears. "I sought Jehovah, and He answered me, and delivered me from all my fears" (Psa 34:4). May we all remember that fear is one of the greatest weapons the enemy has to use against us. Why should we be fearful? Let us know with assurance that God keeps and protects us, if we will respect and reverence Him.

Frost Could Bring About Prussic Acid Poisoning

Frost will be hitting Yoakum County before long, and this could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock grazing certain pasture grasses and forage, points out David Kight, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The five year average frost date is Nov. 5.

Although many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning, those causing the highest mortality in livestock when grazing after they have been frozen and wilted are Johnson and Sudan grasses and sorghum or hybrids of these.

The most dangerous time as far as the grazing of these plants is concerned is following frost when the plant material begins to wilt, emphasizes Kight. Livestock should not be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely. This usually takes three or four days of good sunlight. New plant growth usually becomes nontoxic and can be grazed within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

As far as prussic acid poisoning is concerned, the poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes. Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues. This also causes the blood to appear bright red.

The overall key to prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then to keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period has passed. For more information on this subject or other relating to 4-H, Community Development, Agriculture or Home Economics, contact the local county Extension office.

Farm Computers Can Be An Aid

Yoakum County farmers and ranchers interested in the use of micro-computers in farm and ranch management will want to take note of some upcoming short courses.

These are three-day sessions conducted by Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and will be offered at the Stiles Farm Computer Training Center at Thrall, about six miles east of Taylor on US 79, says David Kight, county extension agent. Dates and topics of the short courses are as follows:

Nov. 5-7 - Crop management decision aids, machinery economics and financial analysis for farms.

Feb. 4-6 - Electronic spreadsheets and their use in agriculture.

Feb. 18-20 - Use of micro-computers by lenders involved in farm and ranch lending.

March 25-27 - Records and management decision aids for beef cattle producers (low rainfall areas)

April 8-10 - Beef cattle performance records and analysis, decision aids and nutrition.

April 22-24 - Farm and ranch accounting with micro-computers.

May 20-22 - Advanced electronic spreadsheet development and applications in agriculture.

The short courses will provide detailed information on various phases of micro-computer applications in farm and ranch management as well as updates on computer software and hardware, Kight points out. Participants will receive hands-on training with micro-computer software available in the private sector as well as developed by Texas A&M University.

Information regarding registration and cost of each training session is available from the county extension office.

Commissioners Court

Commissioners Court was held Oct. 28 with Paul Cobb, county judge, presiding. Commissioners present were John Avara, R.W. Thurston, Jim Barron and Johnnie Fitzgerald. Ruby Bruton, clerk, was also present.

Court approved a $50 a month raise for Melba Crutcher in the Justice of Peace office, effective Nov. 1, for a total salary of $1266.87 per month.

Commissioners amended the budget in order to cover charges by Thomas Picket for tax roll preparation.

Court approved the nine proposed road crossings requested by ARCO Oil and Gas in Precincts 1 and 2.

General Telephone Company's request to bury a cable along a county right-of-way was granted.

Commissioners adopted a resolution in opposition to tax proposals relating to municipal bonds.

A recent request from Texas Legislative Council for current voting precinct boundaries to be submitted on a map for use in the 1990 census was discussed. Because of problems experienced in using census data and maps, the U.S. Census Bureau has invited the states to participate in a project to suggest certain visible features to be used as block boundaries. Court voted to request that 1990 census blocks be made within commissioner precinct boundary lines.

A bid on a dump truck from Bruckner's Mack Trucks in Lubbock was accepted by the commissioners in the amount of $53,104. They also accepted a bid on an ambulance for Denver City from Cayel-Craft, Inc. in the amount of $28,500 trade difference to be paid Jan. 15, 1986.

Two additional Precinct ballot counters were approved by the commissioners to be paid for in 1986.

Christmas holidays were set to begin Tuesday, Dec. 24 after the Christmas party and extend through Dec. 27. New Year's holiday were set Wednesday, Jan. 1.
