We have completed seventy-seven days of the one hundred and seventy-five day school year at this point. When we return to school after the holidays there will be eleven days until the end of the first semester.

Court

Commissioner's Court met in regular session Monday morning with all members present.

Cecil Bickley and Carroll Vernon, representing the hospital board, and hospital administrator Ed Rodgers met to discuss the possibility of having a feasibility study conducted on the construction of a new hospital. The court decided more information should be gathered before taking action on the proposal.

A resolution was adopted re-defining justice of the peace and constable precincts. Justice of the peace and constable precincts One will consist of voting precincts 303 and 404; Justice of the peace and constable precincts Two will include voting precincts 105, 106, 202, 207, 308 and 401.

The Court also approved a motion to advertise for bids for seven 7-blade reel mowers for precinct One and the golf course with bids to be received Jan. 20, 1986.

Also adopted was an addition to the county personell policy stating "Yoakum County will not discriminate in its hiring policies and practices with regard to race, creed, color, sex, national origin, religion or the handicapped."

When you have a lot of field work to do, the last thing you need is engine trouble.

Make sure your engine is in top-notch condition before your work load really piles up.

Remember, if you want the performance you paid for, don't trust your tractor engine to off-brand parts. Insist on genuine John Deere engine parts, quality-built to keep your engine running like new.

MR. & MRS. JAMES WILLIAMS

50th Anniversary Party To Fete Williams Couple

Mr. and Mrs. James Williams will be feted with a golden wedding anniversary reception Sunday, Jan. 5 in the community room of the old courthouse. Calling hours are 3 to 5 p.m.

Friends and relatives are invited. The couple requests, "No gifts, please." Hosting the event are the couple's children and grandchildren.

The former Jaunita Curry and Williams were married Jan. 1, 1936 in Hillsboro in Hill County.

'A Search For The Good' Les Carey, Church of Christ minister

Someone through the years, handed the following recipe to this writer. One cannot read it without being impressed by the great truths that are expressed therein. "If I sought just the good in you and you the good in me, perhaps within a day or two we'd find a remedy for distrust-suspicion too, and we'd quite friendly be, if I sought just the good in you, and you the good in me." If this recipe were followed, then the art of communication so desperately needed today would be accomplished.

Today in our frustrated, mixed-up world it becomes easy for us to see only the problems and troubles, rather than some of the better things in life in general and about people in particular. In college a few years ago an experiment was tried on each new incoming class. It was not an original experiment, probably had been used by many others through the years, but it still revealed the same story. The chalkboard was cleaned meticulously and then, right in the middle of the board was placed a small chalk dot. The students were asked to put down on a piece of paper what they saw before them. With almost no exceptions each student put down "I see a spot in the middle of the chalkboard." Hardly anyone mentioned in the clean, green expanse of board surrounding the small dot, just the mar in the middle of the board. Interesting, wouldn't you say?

In our day-to-day relations with people we often see those imperfections in their lives, rather than the good qualities that might exist in that same life. When Jesus called His apostles it would have been easy for Him to zero in on their problems and shortcomings, rather than see the potential of good in their lives. The Lord could have dwelled on Peter's coarseness, strong language, ect., without ever seeing the great leadership qualities in him. Thomas could have been singled out as a critic, a cynic, rather than a great man to carry a message on his heart and lips for God. Jesus looked for the good in the individual. He magnified this good and as a result, He helped bring out the very best in those people. The same principle is true in life today. We need to learn the art of searching for the best in individuals. When we have learned to dig down beyond the imperfections and find those good characteristics, and magnify them rather than the existing, obvious weaknesses, then we will help improve people and consequently will improve our association with them. It would do us all much good to pray to God for strength to do this very thing in life today. Look for that good in your fellowman!

Happy '13th' Birthday
