ANOTHER VERSION—The onion-domed towers on those massive walls give an appearance of ancient Russia to the Soviet city of Rostov-Yaroslavl, which is 1,100 years old. This is the town's Kremlin, following restoration of its architecture dating back to the 16th and 17th Centuries. Kremlin means "fortification," and there is a Kremlin in most old Russian towns, as well as the famed one in Moscow.

49th Division Is Making Plans For Intensive Summer Training

DALLAS — The 49th Armored Division is getting its tanks, Planes and heavy artillery ready for use at North Fort Hood, July 2, for two weeks of intensive summer training.

The citizen soldiers — about 10,000 of them — of the Texas Army National Guard will trade their air conditioners for heat, dust, and a tent city to sharpen their readiness for emergency.

"Testing company-sized units under simulated combat conditions, including extensive night tactics, will make up much of the training," Maj Gen John L. Thompson, Jr., the Forty-Ninth's commander, said at the division's headquarters in Dallas.

Firing weapons, ranging from pistols to big tank cannons, and Army training tests also will be a part of the training.

The division will make two marches to "fight" in the cedar brakes and rocky terrain of the sprawling Central Texas armor center. One will be in darkness.

Gen George H. Decker, Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army, will pay the 49th a visit during the two week period to observe training and to participate in the annual Governor's Day Review of the division, July 8.

A team of evaluators from the Active Army will keep a watchful eye on the Lone Star Division.
