Dependent Care Credit Requires New IRS Form

Beginning with the 1989 returns filed next year, taxpayers claiming child or dependent care credit must identify the care provider. Form 2441 (and Schedule 1 for those filing the short form) will have space for the care provider's name, address, and identification number. If a tax-exempt organization, such as a church or charity, provides the care, you need not include an identification number. You must provide, in any case, the care provider's name and address.

Taxpayers not including this information on their returns will not be allowed to claim the dependent care credit. If you cannot provide the required information, you must show you made every effort in attempting to obtain it.

The IRS developed Form W-10 for use in obtaining dependent care provider information. You will have met your responsibility once you have obtained the form, properly completed and signed, from your care provider. There are other ways to show that you have made every effort; Form W-10 is, however, the simplest.

Taxpayers would be wise to obtain their completed Form W-10s as soon as possible. That way you protect your insurability for the dependent care credit even if your care provider moves to another location between now and the time you file your 1989 return. If your care provider does not have copies of Form W-10, your local H&R Block office, located at 314 West Main Street in Brownfield can provide them for you and answer any questions you may have about the child care credit. The office phone number is (806) 637-6467.

Center Pivots To Be Examined At Conference

Use of center pivot irrigation equipment and its effects on the land and water supply, as well as on the farmer's pocketbook, will be explored in Seminole January 16 during a multi-county conference, says Kirk Lewis, Yoakum County Extension Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The program, conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be at 10 a.m. at the Seminole Civic Center. Lunch will be provided.

Two More File For Office

Dyer Announces Candidacy For Justice Of Peace

Gary Dyer, resident of Plains and Yoakum County more than 20 years, has authorized The Plains Pride to announce his candidacy for the office of Justice of Peace, Place One, on the Democratic ballot.

Currently managing Goodpasture Incorporated's grain and fertilizer facility in Plains, he was formerly associated with Plains Farm Supply, serving seven years as salesman before transferring to manage the Denver City store. He also holds a sales license with Texas Real Estate Commission.

Dyer's wife, Holly, is employed with First National Bank of Denver City.

A four-year veteran of the U.S. Navy during the Korean War, he attended Texas Tech, East Texas State and University of Texas at El Paso, studying business administration and earning dean's honors.

Dyer states that he feels his broad business experience, maturity, education and long association with the citizens of Plains and Yoakum County will enable him to effectively and fairly serve the voters of the area. He urges all citizens to exercise the constitutional right to vote March 13.

Macky McWhirter Seeks Post For Commissioner, Precinct 4

Macky McWhirter has announced his candidacy for the position of County Commissioner, Precinct Four, in the upcoming election, March 13.

"After several years of consideration for my family and the people of Yoakum County, I have made the decision to announce as a candidate for County Commissioner, Precinct Four," he states.

"Having lived and worked in Precinct Four for some 20 years, I feel I am familiar with the needs of all the people in this precinct as well as Yoakum County. I will strive to represent them fairly."

McWhirter adds, "I can honestly assure you that I will work to serve the people in Precinct Four and of Yoakum County to the best of my ability should you decide to support me in the upcoming elections."

Gospel Meeting Begins Jan. 21

Hillside Church of Christ invites the public to attend a gospel meeting Jan. 21-24. Theme of the meeting is "Restoring a High View of God".

Ken Young of Lubbock, former minister of Brownfield Church of Christ, will be guest speaker. Chip Bennett of Denver City will lead the song services.

Special services are set for 9 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 21 with regular worship at 10 a.m. and congregational singing at 6 p.m. Services Monday through Wednesday will be at 7:30 p.m.

Wesley Stults, minister, and the congregation of Hillside extend a welcome to all.

Residents Invited To Join Chamber

Plains Chamber of Commerce will meet on Wednesday, Jan. 17, 1990 at 7 a.m. at Johnnie's Restaurant.

A membership drive is underway. Dues for 1990 are now due and payable. Business memberships are $5 per month or $60 annually. Individual fees are $1 each month or $12 annually.

Anyone interested is invited to attend the meetings.

Brandy Lester To Seek Title For Livestock Show Queen

Brandon McGinty, president, shared information about the upcoming stock show activities at the regular meeting of Plains 4-H Club Tuesday evening.

A quiz on county government was enjoyed by the 40 members and parents attending.

Announcement was made that Linda and Jo Lena Powell have begun a citizenship project. Interested members are asked to call 456-3171 for more information.

Shawna and Maranda Box were recognized as first place winners in the food show held in Lubbock in November.

Kevin Lowrey has offered to coach an entomology team for competition. Team members are also needed for a grass judging team. Several young persons have indicated an interest in a horse judging team.

Brandy Lester, daughter of Bruce and Jan Lester, was selected to run for Livestock Show Queen. She will be selling memberships for Yoakum County Livestock Show in February.

Pat McNabb, veterinarian assistant, presented a program on Pet Care. "Key areas of concern for the pet owner are vaccinations, observation, sanitation and common sense," she said.

Various illness of dogs and cats were described. "Prevention through shots is a lot less expensive," stated Mrs. McNabb. She does not recommend flea collars, but suggests sprays, powders or dipping for pets.

"Respecting your pet and keeping the living area clean and food and water fresh will show your responsibility and love," she said.

Refreshments were furnished by the Mike Blount, Tommy Box and Bubba Bryan families.

Granddaughter Marches In Parade

Tera Choate, great-granddaughter of Bill and Burve Overton, participated with Cooper High School Cougar Marching Band of Abilene in the New Year's Day Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, Ca.

The 460-member band is the largest high school marching band in the state of Texas and has received sweepstakes awards in its competitions the past 22 years. It is directed by Jack Nall. Miss Choate, daughter of Mark and Daleta Choate of Abilene, plays trumpet.

The Overtons saw the band perform at a Cowboys football game in Texas Stadium in September 1988.

'Home of the Cowboys & Cowgirls'

"IT'S THE PRINCIPAL OF THE THING"

Jim Conner, Principal Junior High

In January, 1987, the State Board of Education handed down a decision making it compulsory that keyboarding be offered at the elementary level. Prior to this time, computer use by the younger students in our system was scheduled, but with no particular curriculum in place. A well defined curriculum has been developed and is being followed starting this school year.

Sixth graders will spend one semester learning keyboarding in our computer lab. Our goal is for all students to be able to type twenty words per minute. This should prepare them for computer literacy which will be taught for a full year to seventh graders in our junior high lab which is equipped with twenty Apple computers and printers.

During the year, students will learn the history of computers and the role they play in our lives. They will be introduced to basic programming, word processing, filing, spread sheets, and learn basic commands and operations.

Computer technology and applications is offered as an elective for eighth graders. This course is a continuation of computer literacy. Application of software such as word processing, data base management, spread sheet operations, and a more in depth study of basic computer language will be studied. Pascal programming language will be introduced. After completing this course, the student should be ready to perform well in any of the business related courses taught in high school.

The basic knowledge taught in the sixth and seventh grades should prepare the students to function very well in our computer oriented society today.

Macky McWhirter Gives Resignation

Board of trustees of Plains ISD met Monday evening in regular session.

Routine business was transacted including reports from the business manager for general operating, cafeteria and tax areas and a report from Larry Devitt for transportation costs, comparison of utility costs and review of various projects.

Principals' reports covered enrollment, attendance and activities. Superintendent Andrews presented information concerning TEA monitoring.

Convening in executive session, the board considered employee recommendations. Resuming open session, resignation of Macky McWhirter effective at the end of the current school year was accepted. A motion to extend Superintendent Dean Andrews' contract through June 30, 1992 was defeated. Voting in favor were Palmer, Parrish and Earnest; opposed were Winn, Ashburn, Livengood and Lowrey.

Meeting was adjourned by President Melvin Lowrey.
