When To Call An Ambulance Tips Given By Plains EMS

Plains Emergency Medical Services System workers are sharing guidelines to aid persons in knowing when to call an ambulance.

Important questions to be considered are:

- * Is the victim's condition life-threatening?
- * Could the victim's condition worsen and become life-threatening on the way to the hospital?
- * Could moving the victim cause further injury?
- * Does the victim need the skills or equipment of paramedics or emergency medical technicians?
- * Would distance or traffic conditions cause a delay in getting the victim to the hospital?

If the answers to any of these questions is "yes" or if one is unsure, it's best to call an ambulance. This is true even though you can sometimes get to the hospital faster by driving than by calling an ambulance, state EMS aides.

Paramedics and emergency medical technicians communicate with the physician in the emergency department by radio. They are trained to begin medical treatment on the way to the hospital. This prevents any delay that could occur if the patient is driven to the emergency department. Ambulance attendants can also alert the emergency department of the patient's condition in advance.

It is very important that the person calling for an ambulance speak calmly and clearly. Valuable information that should be reported is to give name, address, phone number, location of victim (such as upstairs in the bedroom) and nature of problem. DO NOT HANG UP until the dispatcher tells you to do so. They may need additional information or need to give you instructions.

It is also important to get pressure canner gauges checked each year for accuracy. This is extremely important for safe home canned foods. You can have the gauge checked at the Extension Office located in the Old Courthouse in Plains. This service is free.

For more information concerning home canning, call the office at 456-2263.

Mock Trial Held By Club

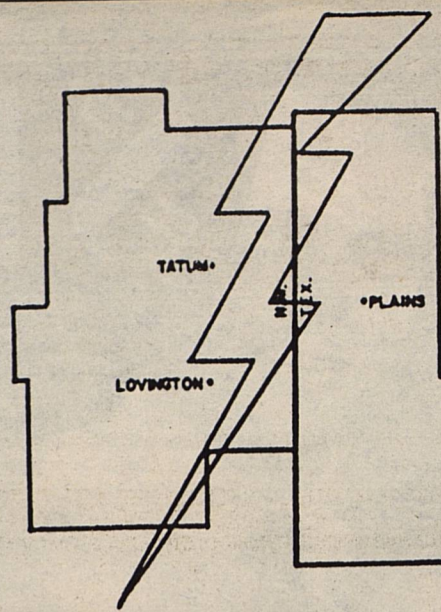

Members of the Tsa Mo Ga Study Club met in regular session on Monday, April 27, in the club house, with 17 members and three guests present. Hostesses for the meeting were Dolores Davis, Toni Jones and Sheri McGinty. Billie Blundell was the Program Director.

The program theme was Public Affairs. "For 200 years the Bill of Rights and subsequent amendments have secured our freedoms as Americans," states Mrs. Blundell. "These constitutional rights have become such a part of our everyday life that we tend to take them for granted."

To emphasize the rights of individuals, Mrs. Blundell staged a mock trial. During the trial, the lawyers and judge stressed the necessity of informing the individuals of their rights as a defendant. The role of the defendant was played by Barbara Brown. She was being charged with the crime of criminal mischief. Prosecuting attorney was Linda S. Lowrey and the defense attorney was Richard Clark. Dallas Brewer, Yoakum County Judge, assumed his usual position as the judge.

The business meeting followed the program, conducted by club president Louise Fitzgerald. Mary Jo St. Romain reported that April is Cancer Crusade Month and encouraged all club members to not forget to contribute.

New officers were to be installed Monday, May 11.

ALTERNATED ENERGY SOURCES

Synthetic fuels offer many potential advantages but there is still one major challenge to overcome - the huge initial expense of building commercial - size plants. This, coupled with the uncertainty of future prices for gas and oil, makes synthetic fuel plants a relatively risky investment.

4-H 'Something To Celebrate'

"As the 4-H program surpasses 80 years of existence in Texas, there are reasons to celebrate," says Terry J. Millican, Yoakum County Extension Agent - AG.

First, 4-H is the largest youth organization in America. There are 4.5 million 4-H memberships nationwide. As other youth organizations decline in membership, 4-H has continued to grow. There are 446,089 members in Texas. In the history of 4-H, 50,000,000 Americans have been members. This is one out of every six people.

Secondly, 4-H is youth and adults working together. The 4-H volunteer leader concept is one of the strengths. For every one hour of professional employee's time spent in the 4-H program, there are 10 hours contributed by volunteers.

4-H emphasizes families working together. Families are the strength of our country and our way of life and 4-H works to strengthen our families.

The third reason to celebrate 4-H, is its teaching of leadership and citizenship. Members participate in projects to benefit the community, and the international program extends 4-H pathways across our borders. 4-H's ultimate goal is youth leadership development.

The fifth reason to celebrate 4-H is that it has something for everyone. Through 4-H projects of beef to book-keeping, forestry to food and nutrition, safety to sewing, members experience "learning by doing". They can select projects and set their own goals. By the time projects are completed, youth have learned useful skills, the dignity of work, and the satisfaction of responsibility.

By comparing their accomplishments with others, 4-H'ers develop higher standards of excellence and the self-confidence to broaden their goals and interests. Many times one of those 4-H projects will lead to a career.

4-H is a way of life. Through 4-H, the member gains a positive attitude and a sense of values - moral and practical, that will remain through life. 4-H is a way of doing and thinking - a physical and mental way of making our "best better".

Contact your county Extension office at 456-2263 and join other 4-H'ers in "Making the Best Better".
