POSITIVE THINGS ABOUT MULESHOE

Special Olympians

Compete In Regional

(Editor's Note: Each year, the Muleshoe Schools send students, dedicated teachers and trained, certified coaches to Special Olympics Activities in Lubbock. Also, each year, the youngsters who participate in the tournament unflinchingly bring home several gold medals. Their accomplishments are undoubtedly one of the positive things about Muleshoe -- encompassing love, training and dedication)

Students from Muleshoe Independent School District participated in the Special Olympics Regional Track and Field Events held at Estacado High School, Lubbock on Saturday, April 25.

Muleshoe Special Olympians were Mina Garcia from Watson Junior High and Lisa Martinez, Leticia Garcia and Frank Garcia from Muleshoe High School. Lisa served as a student assistant this year, having been an active participant in the past years.

Sponsors from MISD included coach Mary Nell Bleeker and assistant coach Kay Griswold; and Terri Fortenberry. Griswold and Bleeker participated in special training and are certified by Special Olympics as coaches. Fortenberry is the regional secretary for Special Olympics. Again this year, the Muleshoe Lions Club sponsored the Special Olympians.

Leticia, Frank and Mina all ran 50 meter races, and all three won gold medals for their runs. Leticia ran the 50 meter at 10:54; Frank at 8:40. He had the fastest time in the meet for his division. Mina ran the 50 meter at 8:85, which was the fastest time in the Youth Female division.

All three of the contestants competed in the Softball Throw competitions. Mina and Frank both took first place in this event for the individual division, and Leticia took a second place.

These students have been in training since February in preparation for these events. Times were recorded during the training sessions for the events and sent to headquarters, where they were placed in a computer

HS Youth Fire Rockets At City Park

During the past two weeks, the Physical Sciences Classes from Muleshoe High School, instructed by Robert Dinwiddie, along with some students from the class of Mary Nell Bleeker, have been building rockets.

They had to go through the process of learning about force and other factors that affect the launching of rockets.

During the study periods, the students all worked extremely hard on their rockets. And, the reason for this was because there was an ongoing contest with the categories as follows:

Best Stock Design and Best Original Design.

Winners of the Best Stock Design were first place to Mark Underwood with the Comanche 3; second place to Scotty Armstrong, Shawn Branscum, Jason Newsom, with Geo Sat IV; and third place going to Armando Hernandez, and Thelma Ford, with SR-71 Blackbird.

In the Best Original Design portion, first place went to Darryl McCamish and Gary Skaggs with the Comanche IV Payloader; second place went to John Killingsworth with Silver Streak and third place was won by James Foster, with the Silver Bullet.

Most all day Tuesday, the rockets were launched at the new city park.

Awards for best recovery went to John Killingsworth and his Silver Streak, first place; second place to Eloy Macias, Rocky Flores, Efran Herrera and Hector Reyes with the Blue and Gold; and third place

More than 60 Muleshoe Independent School District educators, administrators and special guests attended the annual TSTA-CTA banquet at the Bailey County Civic Center Friday night, and heard special guest speaker State Senator Bill Sarpaulis present a legislative update.

Guests introduced included Assistant Superintendent Elizabeth Watson, School Board President Julie Cage and her husband, J. D.; Dillman Elementary Principal Barbara Finney; School Board member Howard Watson and Cleta Williams.

Also recognized were retired teachers present, Bea Miller, Mabel Wolfe, Fred Mardis, Lois Witherspoon, Carrie Lee Bishop, Catherine Sanders, Pauline Gwyn and Josephine Mitchell.

Also introduced were the 1987-88 CTA officers including Mary Helen Perez, president; Alice Liles, president-elect; Lindy Schuster, vice president; Betty Chamberlin, secretary; Margaret Gleason, treasurer and Dickie Reedy, parliamentarian.

Reedy also introduced Senator Sarpaulis, who received his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech University and his master's from West Texas State University. He also formerly taught at Boys Ranch, where he grew up.

Sen. Sarpaulis gave special recognition to Misty Richardson who provided the dinner music, and to a 'special friend' who went back to when he was a boy at Boy's Ranch - Cleta Williams.

The Senator said the biggest issue for the legislature is the Budget, and said problems of financing have been with Texas since the very beginning of the state.

However, he said legislators at that time realized the tremendous value in the future of land in the state, and although the first settlements were along the coast and in the valley, the state decided to claim all the land in the state.

Texas kept the lands, he said, and did not deed land to the federal government.

In the 1880's, when the capitol building was completed, it was the seventh largest building in the world, and the legislators paid for the building by selling land which was used to form the XIT Ranch.

Sen. Sarpaulis said that when he was elected State Senator six years ago, the state had a $3 billion surplus, and with the current legislature underway, the state is $3 billion in the red now.

Creative Living

by Sheryl Borden

Information on making soft toys and ways to handle personal stress will be presented on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, May 5 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, May 9 at 2:00 pm on KENW-TV. (All times are Mountain).

Jean Benson is from Pasco, WA, and she makes all sizes, all kinds and all colors of soft, furry toys to stitch and stuff--in fact, she's written a book by that name. It's a Farm Journal Craft Book, and it features more than 40 furry critters to delight children and adults. Jean's business is called "Crittter Crafts". She makes all of her own patterns and will show several examples of projects from this book.

How do you handle personal stress? The first guest on the show will be Mary Ellen Payne, the State Coordinator for the Family / Community / Leadership Project with the New Mexico Cooperative Extension Service in Las Cruces. She will talk about ways to handle personal stress, demonstrate a very simple exercise that can be done to relieve tight muscles, and discuss what stress does to us.

On Tuesday, May 5 at 9:30 pm, "Creative Living" will feature Laura Varney, president and founder of Clothing Design Concepts, Inc. Laura has developed a technique for making customized patterns through the use of a computer. She will show how customized pants patterns are created, and also show variations to the basic pattern.

Barbara Miller, manager of Quality Thrift Fabrics, Portales, NM will show how to use Gosling Tapes for shirring, smocking, pleating and folding when making draperies or curtains. Gosling Tapes are polyester tapes from Europe, and they take much of the guess work out of drapery making.

Information on the McGruff Pupper Program for school children and a demonstration on the 7-day dress will be presented on the show on Thursday, May 7 at 12 noon.

Most adults and children recognize McGruff as the Crime Prevention Dog and the symbol of the National Crime Prevention Council. He's well known for his campaign to "take a bite out of crime". She, with the assistance of McGruff, will tell about the McGruff Elementary School Puppet Program, which helps teach children about safety and is available for grades 1-5. Ms. Stewart is from New York.

Another guest will be Joanne Wallace, the founder of Image Improvement, Inc. in Salem, OR. She will do a demonstration she calls "The 7-Day Dress Demonstration". Elizabeth Gauna Lazbuddie Girl Wins Trip

Wins Trip

Elizabeth Gauna, a sophomore student at Lazbuddie High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Gauna, was the winner in the School's Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Leadership Seminar contest.

Miss Gauna won the award by writing an essay citing her leadership qualities and her future goals. As the school's winner, she was entitled to attend the seminar in Dallas in March.

She returned from the HOBY Leadership Seminar with a positive message for young people. In a presentation to the freshman class, she said "You can accomplish whatever you want to accomplish if you are willing to work for it."

"The speakers were very successful people who had started with nothing," she said. "They stressed that each individual has the potential to do great things".

Miss Gauna encouraged the freshman class to enter the competition next year. She said "If you win, and you go to the seminar, it will change your life."

She was impressed by the inspiring speakers and by the comradery that develops among the students who attend the seminar.

Country Singer, Entertainer Spends Week In Muleshoe

When it comes right down to it, you never forget your roots -- even if those were just 'part-time' roots while you were growing up.

Dennis Smith, who spent quite a bit of time rambling around this area as a small child, returned to Bailey County during the past week, and has spent a week getting acquainted with new friends, and renewing acquaintances with old friends and relatives.

A nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Randolph, who live on the Friona highway, Smith went on to other things in his young life.

Sixteen years ago, at the age of nine, Dennis Smith performed professionally for the first time.

The nine year old really took to the stage, and with his guitar, performed country and gospel music.

This all led to the Louisiana Hayride, a widely known weekly country and western show originating in Shreveport, LA.

After several years with the Louisiana Hayride, on March 11, 1979, Dennis Smith walked onstage at a Lawrence Welk Show and told the 'Maestro' himself that he wanted to sing for him.

His bravado led to two and a half years on the Lawrence Welk Show, beginning July 16, 1979.

While with the show, he continued to perform his very favorite country music.

In the meantime, his voice was adapting to his own style, and although he sings many songs recorded by other artists, he definitely has his own style.

As a 16 year old, he released an album titled simply, 'Cowboy,' and has recently re-released the album.

In approximately a month, he will have all the details worked out with a new record company for him, Gold Star Productions, home-based in Shreveport, LA.

In the next week or two, he will be going to Nashville where he will be recording four singles and another album, all on the 'Gold Star' label.

He lists among his favorite singers, Larry Gatlin, Marty Robbins and George Strait, and does in fact, sing their songs, just his own way.

He says he has the same dreams as anyone else, and that is headed by the dream of having a 'Number One' record.

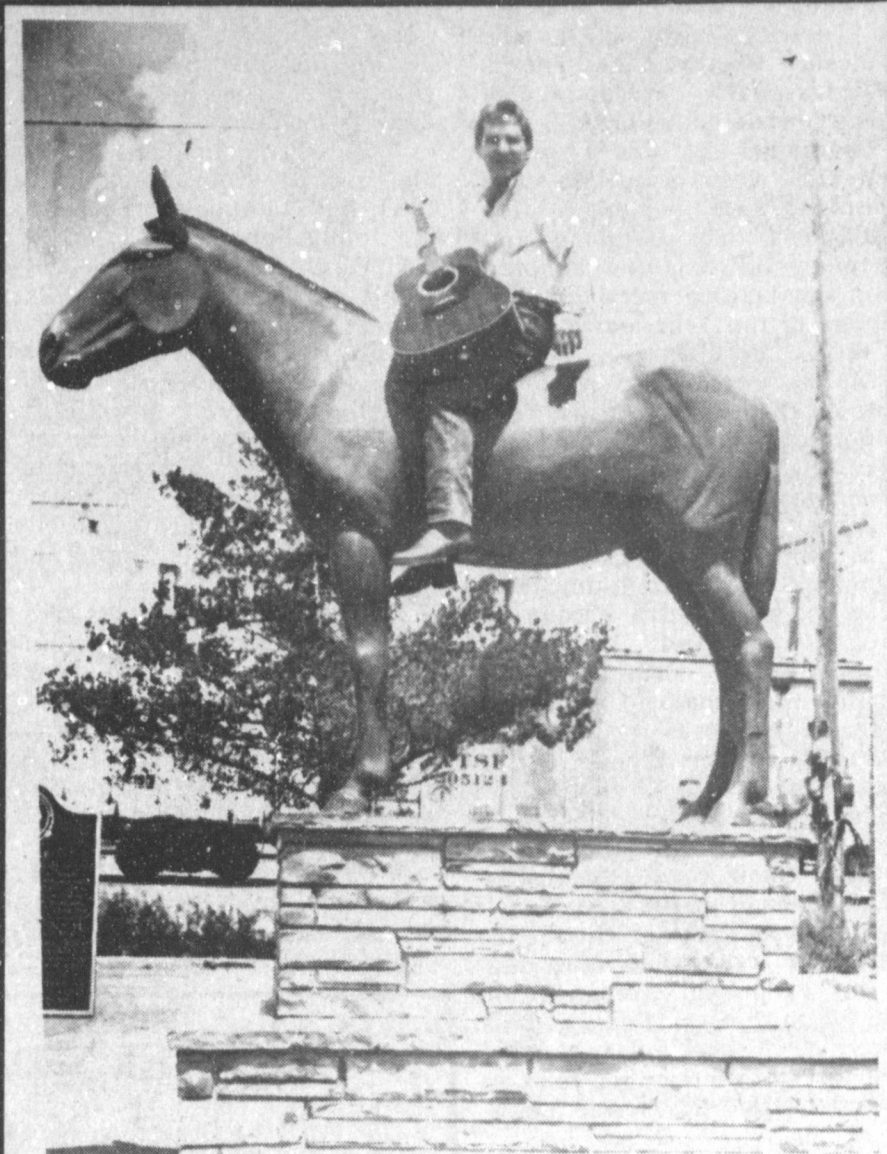

He was joined in Muleshoe this week by the President and Producer of Gold Star Productions, Greg Mills; and has been accompanied on his rounds by his father, Buddy Roach, who also spent a lot of time in and around Muleshoe as a youth.

In fact, Roach is fond of telling of one 'very special young girl' he remembered when he was around 16 years old.

On Saturday, at 5 p.m. Smith performed a solo at the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation Annual Celebrity Auction, and has scheduled a concert here on Saturday, June 13. For his June concert, he will have his new band together and they will accompany him to Muleshoe.

In the meantime, if you get a chance to hear Dennis Smith sing some of the old traditional country music, as well as some of the new music, by all means, do so -- it's worth it.

A 'REAL' SINGING COWBOY--Dennis Smith, who has performed for several years with the Louisiana Hayride and the Lawrence Welk Show, performed at 5 p.m. Saturday at the Bailey County Civic Center during the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation Celebrity Auction. He will be returning to Muleshoe for a concert, with his band, on Saturday, June 13.

Our Mail Cars

In this country rural mail carriers usually drive cars with conventional left-side steering. They find themselves forced to move across the seat to the right window to insert mail in boxes along their routes.

The same career-long inconvenience is forced on city carriers who drive.

Surely carriers could be allowed to use vehicles with right-side steering. In some places that sensible change has already been allowed. But in most cases left-side steering, with mail boxes on the right, is still the norm. Change is overdue.

TPA

Some 1.5 million Americans suffer heart attacks each year. A third of these victims die. Thus heart attack is the nation's worst killer.

The cause of most heart attacks is a clot in the blood. Until now there has been no easy way to quickly dissolve the clot, thus restoring normal heart function.

The good news is that several drugs now seem capable of quickly dissolving blood clots. The most promising, not yet available to the public, is known as TPA. The available drug, less potent but available, is streptokinase.

Initial study indicates TPA will reopen clogged arteries in three-fourths of heart attack victims within an hour. All Americans should know about streptokinase and TPA—expected to be available next year.

Heard that one before?

You probably have. First of all, it takes people a long time to realize they have a hearing problem. It happens gradually. Then they think they can compensate for it. You know the signs...the loud television, the cupped ear and, oh yes, the unending "What'd you say?"

It's difficult to live with a hearing loss. Whether it's yours or a loved one's. You don't have to. Most hearing losses can be helped.

Muleshoe Hospital Auxiliary Votes To Dissolve

At a called meeting, the Muleshoe Hospital Auxiliary voted to dissolve due to the closing of the hospital and being dropped from membership of the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries (T.A.H.A.). The hospital has to be a member of the Texas Hospital Association in order for the Auxiliary's membership in T.A.H.A.

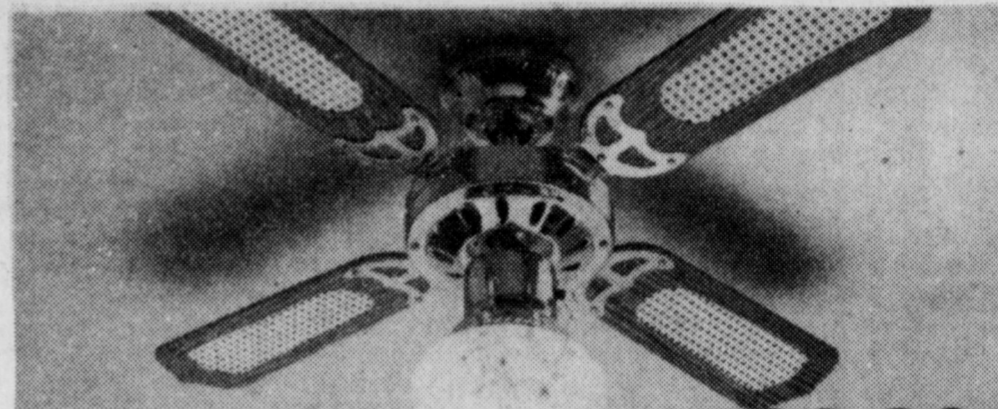

Since there is no hospital, there is no membership. It was voted to give all monies to the Muleshoe Nursing Home under the supervision of the Administration. The members will continue to render the same services as always under the Nursing Home Administration, working strictly as volunteers. All future memorials will be made to the Muleshoe Nursing Home Memorial Fund and

He cited 90 percent of the budget as being education, the highway system, mental health, rental retardation, the prison system and the Department of Public Safety.

He also predicted that in the near future, with the new laws mandating that children of illegal aliens can attend school, that there will be more Hispanics than Anglos in the school system statewide. At this time, there are more Hispanics than Anglos in kindergarten.

However, that is not a 'rosy' picture. For instance, from grades seven to nine in Dallas, there is a 50 percent drop-out ratio and San Antonio has a 47 percent drop-out rate in grades 9-12.

The Senator also said Texas has the third largest prison system in the world, and it has been proven that 80 percent of the prison inmates are school drop-outs.

According to his figures, the Texas Youth Council sees an average stay of seven months for young people who have committed murder, rape, abuse of senior citizens and other serious and major crimes.

He voted for the increases in taxes, he said, to help with education and highways.

The current budget 'crunch' is hurting with county agents, the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse; state parks funds have been cut in half and child abuse programs are hurting, he added.

The senator also spoke on the Tort Reform proposal, the open container bill that was signed on Tuesday, vocational education, which he strongly supports, teacher retirement and the 22-1 ratio for students, which is expected to be expanded to the entire school, instead of just elementary grades as it is now.

Five Week Summer School Slated Here

H. John Fuller, superintendent of Muleshoe I.S.D., announces that there will be a five week summer school for students in grades K-12 beginning June 1 and ending July 3. This summer program is designed to help students who did not meet State minimum requirements, or who need some more time on certain concepts or for students who would like enrichment or extension activities in math, language arts.

Math and language arts will be offered in grades K-12 and a health course will be offered for high school students if enough students enroll for the courses.

Enrollment will be based on three priorities namely, (1) students who did not meet State minimum requirements (2) students who are recommended by their teachers to attend (3) students whose parents request they attend for enrichment or extension of concepts.

K-12 classes will be held on the individual campuses. Classes will begin at 8:00 A.M. and continue until 12: NOON. There will be no tuition fee and transportation will not be provided.

If a student attends the required five weeks and passes a mastery test, it is possible for him to make up one course (math or language arts).

Applications are available in the four principals' offices for parents to complete if they want their child to attend summer school. The deadline for returning the application to the principals is May 15.

"This is a great opportunity for students to catch up or extend their basic skills in math or language arts and to receive one semester credit for Health in High School," concluded Fuller.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

In the view of an increasing number of financial advisors, interest rates may be heading higher. Some still believe rates will turn downward again, but banks and mortgage institutions apparently don't think so.

The Reagan Administration wants rates to move even lower. Policy at the Federal Reserve Board has had this goal in mind. But even the Fed might not be able to push rates down if the dollar's value continues to fall.

That's because too much decline in the dollar threatens a massive pullout from dollar investments by foreign investors. That would add pressure to the dollar and almost certainly force the Fed to act to increase interest rates.

If the Fed joins the act, along with banks and other institutions now raising rates, that might signal a historic turn upward, after years of decline. The Fed, it's believed, will only raise rates if the dollar's decline is reaching crisis stage.

Thus a key signal in weeks and months to come is whether the Fed acts to hike interest rates by restricting the money supply, as a form of protection for the dollar—to attract and keep foreign investments in the U.S. currency.

and the participants were then placed in the appropriate heats for their age and speed. Some of the events were: 10 and 25 meters assisted walk; 10 and 25 meters wheelchair dash; 25, 50, 100 and 200 meter run, 400 meter relay, shot put, and standing long jump.

A picnic lunch was served by the Saddle Tramps and sponsors of the Muleshoe group. After lunch, the group boarded the bus and returned home.

Sponsors and others attending from Muleshoe were Mrs. Irene Garcia, Tony Garcia, Mrs. Kay Griswold, Mrs. Terry Fortenberry, and Mrs. Mary Nell Bleeker.

Special Olympics is composed of competitive games designed for children with special needs, mental and/or physical. The mission of Special Olympics is to provide sports training and athletic competition in a variety of olympic-type sports, giving the participants continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, express courage, experience joy, and participate in a sharing of gifts, skills, and friendship with their families, other special olympians and the community. The goal of Special Olympics is not to win, but to try; to experience, not to conquer.

Everyone has a chance to win, since competition is grouped not only by age and sex division, but also by ability. The only records broken in Special Olympics are those of courage, determination, and sportsmanship.

"Special Olympics does not receive state appropriations from the legislature, nor does it receive any grants. Texas Special Olympics depends upon the generous support of concerned citizens, businesses, and organizations. The Muleshoe Lions Club sponsored the Muleshoe Special Olympics again this year as in previous years. They purchased personalized T-shirts and caps for each coach and participant."

Students, teachers, principals, and other personnel in Muleshoe schools have all joined together in a cooperative effort in helping to make this event a very special one. Hubert and Nancy Kidd have also worked closely with school personnel for the Special Olympics," said Betty Jennings, Special Ed Coordinator.

"The generous support and backing from the citizens in the community and the Muleshoe Lions Club, combined with the efforts of school personnel and interested parents, have helped to make this a very special time in the lives of these young people," she concluded.

Garden Time

Now is the time for early planting of your 1987 garden. With much emphasis on frozen foods these days (often with chemicals or preservers added), it's still true that garden-fresh fruits and vegetables are more healthful and usually better tasting.

Gardening is good exercise. It saves money—if prudently pursued. It promotes family health and cooperation. It brings satisfaction in the eating.

A TOUCH OF HISTORY

Determined Men Stay To Farm Fertile Soil

Editor's Note: The following information was taken from a thesis written by Thelma Walker Stevens.

From 1906 until 1912 real estate men in the middle-western states with home offices in Kansas and Iowa brought land excursions to Bailey County and began selling the land for farms.

Many of the agents were men of character and fully believed in the territory they were trying to sell. Others were willing to use any scheme in order to sell the land. The two companies that did colonization work in Bailey County were the Coldren Land Company and the Vaughn Land Company.

COLDREN LAND COMPANY
The first settlement other than just the cow ranches began in Bailey County in 1907. The principal part of the settlement came in the spring of 1908. The Coldren Land Company was responsible for this first settlement.

Seeing the possibilities of Bailey County as an agricultural land, Stevens A. Coldren bought the tillable land in Block Y and A. Franklin Peddie bought the tillable acres in Blocks X and Z from the Bovina Cattle Company. This land was originally a part of the XIT Ranch. The Bovina Company had bought it from the Freehold Land and Investment Company. The Coldren Land Company was in active charge of selling the acreage. XIT had its home office in Kansas City. However, its operations spread over several states.

Farmers in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Indiana, and other middle-western states were worrying about high land prices. They had seen land rise from $25 to $90 an acre. Steven A. Coldren saw the wonderful possibilities of selling the land in Bailey County to these farmers who wanted cheaper land and a place to build their homes.

Before the land was put on the market, the company spent three or four years making a detailed study of it, testing irrigation, preparing propaganda, making maps, and contacting real estate men in town in several states. It was not uncommon in the midwestern for a real estate man to advise a person to go on to Texas South Plains where bananas could be raised. The land was advertised extensively in newspapers and periodicals.

The Santa Fe Railroad Company ran excursion trains for the Coldren Land Company twice a month in 1907, 1908, and 1909. The company would furnish two cars for the excursionists, a pullman and a dining car. The trains originated in Kansas City and picked up individual home-seekers all along the line. They ran on their own schedule, the trips from Kansas City to the Plains usually taking about two days. Two days normally were spent in inspecting land. All the excursionists' expenses were paid from the time they left Kansas City until they had returned.

From the time they boarded the trains until the time they were back in Kansas City, the prospective buyers listened to the stories of the land agents proclaiming the wonders of Texas. As they listened, they could see the wonderful possibilities that awaited them in a country where they had never been.

Many of the landseekers who came on the excursion trains bought homes. Some never came to the county to live; but the ones who did chartered cars and brought their household goods, teams, wagons, chickens, and cows with them. They would leave the train at Bovina, hitch their teams to their wagons and go to their new homes. In many cases the men came before their families and built houses. The lumber was hauled from Bovina.

When the drought of 1909-1912 came, the landseekers were, as a rule, of the highest type-farmer, and many outstanding citizens of Bailey County today are these Coldren Land Company excursionists and their families.

VAUGHN LAND COMPANY
In 1909 M.C. Vaughn of Waterloo, Iowa, bought a tract of land that originally had been patented to Melvin, Blum and Blum in 1883. The Vaughn Land Company sold their land for farms. The company's home office was in Iowa. Plans were carefully worked out before the land excursions were begun. Real estate men in small towns were contacted to solicit prospects.

A townsite knows a Virginia City was plotted on section 52 in Block B of Melvin, Blum and Blum surveys. In the plans for a town a lot was reserved for the future court house of Bailey County and trees were set out around it. Twelve lots were reserved for church sites, two and one-fourth blocks for schools, and one block for a city park. Several houses were built. A hotel was constructed to take care of the company's excursion parties.

The Denver-San Antonio Railroad Company was organized to build a railroad from Texico, New Mexico, to Virginia City. A town, which was to be named Montezuma, was to be established between the two places. The company employed a man to promote the railroad scheme.

CITY SLICKER
When the promoter arrived in Farwell driving a large car, he was quite a curiosity to the cowboys and farmers. He wore a "stove-pipe hat," carried a cane, wore a beard, and some described him as resembling an English-man.

A working crew with 50 teams was employed to do the grading of the road bed. The promoter furnished the feed for the teams and would tell the crew he would pay them as soon as he could. After the man had worked about 90 days, he ran off with all the money that had been raised.

The Vaughn Land Company took its excursionists to Portales, N.M., Buggies, automobiles, and hacks were used to take them to Virginia City. The company paid all expenses from the time the prospect left his home in Iowa until he returned.

When the inspection was completed, the prospective buyers were taken back to Portales just in time to catch the train. They were not allowed to talk to a cowboy, or to a native. At one time when a prospect managed to talk to a cowboy, he asked what the principal crop was. The cowboy replied it was "suckers."

Most of the land has been filed along the state line in New Mexico and had been put into cultivation by 1906. During the years 1907-1909 the crops were pretty because there had been so much rain. The agents showed these fields to prospective buyers. The lakes were full of water, and the pastures were green. Everything looked prosperous.

Many town lots in Virginia City and farms were sold to the excursionists and also to people who never saw Bailey County because of the "dream" that was placed before them. The promoter's road caused many people to lose everything they had.

The northerners, who came to work the farms they had bought, brought large steam tractors to break the land. Before a year had passed, they realized that the principal crop was "suckers." Many of them had to send to their old homes for money so that they might return. None of these landseekers, who came with the Wright Land Company, are in the county today. The only things they left to remind us of them are the old tractors, two large corner posts that a Mr. Keyser erected on his land, the old railroad bed, and the hotel building at Virginia City.

Cotton Can Be Used As Wheat Replacement

BY JAMES R. SUPAK
Extension Agronomist-Cotton
The wet, cool conditions experienced during the fall of 1986 convinced many High Plains cotton producers that earlier plantings are essential in attaining acceptable yields of good quality cotton.

Certainly, earlier planting can be advantageous in some years. Any additional heat units accumulated by the crop in the early spring lessens the dependence on acceptable growing conditions in the fall. Typically, an early crop is somewhat easier to manage with regard to such factors as insect control, irrigation and crop termination.

On the other hand, ill-timed early plantings can result in poor stands of weather and disease-damaged plants or in replanting, often after the optimum planting period is past. In either case, both yield and fiber quality are apt to be adversely affected.

Factors which should be considered in establishing a planting date include calendar date, soil temperature, seed quality and extended weather forecasts. Hopefully, the rains in coming days will be adequate and sufficiently widespread to allow even dryland producers the opportunity to plant in the next one to three weeks.

Is this too early? A planting date study conducted by Dr. J.D. Bilbro, research agronomist with U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agriculture and Research Service, provides some indication of what can be expected. His results, in the accompanying table, showed the crops planted at Lubbock on April 10, April 20 and May 1 all reached the bloom stage on approximately the same date.

This study shows that in most years no advantage in earlier fruit set is realized from plantings prior to early May because of limited heat unit availability.

The next factor to consider is soil temperature. Research studies have shown that acceptable stands of cotton are likely to be obtained from good quality seed after the minimum soil temperature at the eight-inch depth averages 60 degrees Fahrenheit or more. The minimum soil temperatures at this depth normally occur around 9 a.m. and can be determined daily with a thermometer placed in the seedbed at the prescribed depth.

Normally, the 10-day, 60-degree Fahrenheit average minimum soil temperature is reached in late April. This year, attainment of this temperature is reached in late April. This year, attainment of this temperature level is likely to be delayed until early May because of the cool conditions and the recent rains.

The next consideration, and probably the most important is planting seed quality. Establishing planting seed quality is essential especially for the early planter. The use of the Cool-Warm Vigor Index (CWVI) test for cottonseed is strongly recommended as this test allows sorting of seed lots into poor, fair, good and excellent categories.

Early plantings with poor quality seed (CWVI's less than 120) are discouraged. With such seed it would be advisable to wait until the 10-day average for the minimum soil temperature reached 63 to 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

Seed with CWVI's of 120 to 140 (fair category) can usually be expected to produce acceptable stand if planted in accordance with the soil temperature guidelines. With good to excellent quality seed (CWVI's 140 to 200) one is in a better position to consider even earlier plantings.

Finally, consideration should be given to extended weather forecasts prior to planting. Dr. Brad Waddle, cotton breeder at the Arkansas Experiment Station, observed that cotton seed needs to be exposed to temperatures above 70 degrees Fahrenheit for at least 100 hours for germination and emergence.

"Caravan's" performance is being sponsored by The Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Country Caravan Schedules Free Concert In Muleshoe

Like a country patchwork quilt carefully stitched together, country music fans will find a warm blend of their favorite music in this season's edition of "Country Caravan."

"Country Caravan," a 90-minute country music entertainment program designed for the entire family, comes to Muleshoe on Saturday, May 30th for a performance at 8:30 in the New City Park. Admission is free, and the show is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Produced annually by South Plains College in Levelland, Texas, this special music celebration has delighted country music fans for 11 summers, bringing a down-home country music theme to communities in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

The central thread running through the entire fabric of "Country Caravan" this season is entertainment, and lots of it.

"We are here to entertain," says John Hartin, general director of "Caravan" and instructional coordinator of SPC's country and bluegrass music department. "With music, singing, dancing, costumes, lighting and sound, "Country Caravan" is a memorable entertainment experience for our audiences--one they will talk about for days."

To achieve just that, Hartin and the directors of "Country Caravan" have put together a show that features powerful country tunes which touch the heart and bring to life the spirit of country music. This year's show incorporates all the colorful nuances which have influenced country music throughout the years.

"Each of these influences is like a different square on a patchwork quilt," says Hartin. "One square may be made of fabric that is a little older than another; or one square may be a little more colorful than another. But all the squares fit together to form a wonderful piece of handiwork. Country music is just like a quilt. It has been influenced by so many people."

As a result, the more than 35 songs and instrumentals featured in "Country Caravan" run the gamut of contemporary country music hits--songs like Reba McEntire's "Whoever's in New England," Alabama's "Deep River Woman," Holly Dunn's "Daddy's Hands," Dwight Yoakum's "Guitars and Cadillacs," and Ricky Skaggs' "Country Boy."

But the show would not be complete with just contemporary country music influences. The grass roots of country music are found in the western swing of Bob Wills; the rockabilly sounds of Elvis Presley and Jerry Lee Lewis; and the lamenting love songs of Patsy Cline. You'll find traditional country music tunes in a Merle Haggard Medley, fiddle and banjo licks in Appalachian bluegrass music, plus some country yodeling. Country gospels and a touch of patriotism round out the two-act program.

Audiences will also be set to enjoy the music of the Caravan Brass featured with Big Band arrangement of "I Can't Stop Lovin' You" and some Nashville brass-style arrangements. Authentic Appalachian-style clogging is featured on two instrumental numbers.

The instrumental and vocal talent found in "Country Caravan" is exceptional, says Hartin. The cast consists of 11 students from the College's unique country and bluegrass music program and seven faculty members from the music program and other segments of the College.

Backing up the vocalists is the Caravan Band which is featured on several solo acts. The band's student members include Ricky Turpin, a nationally-known young fiddler from Lubbock, Texas, who is on his way to becoming another Johnny Gimble. Shelby Hines from Levelland, Texas, is a versatile musician who is featured on guitar and vocals. Other members include Mike Huffman of Seminole, Texas, who plays drums; Toby McWilliams of Levelland who is featured on pedal steel guitar; and Scott Schmitz of Lubbock who plays electric bass guitar.

Faculty members in the band include Hartin, who plays guitar with a passion and sings the classic country style. Joe Carr serves as the show's master of ceremonies and also picks the guitar and mandolin. Tim McCasland is a gifted multi-instrumentalist and will be featured on pedal steel, guitar and vocals. Ed Marsh is featured on fiddle vocals. Banjo licks will be provided by Steve Loveless.

The Caravan Brass features Jacky Howard, music student from Levelland on saxophone. Bruce Keeling, instructor in music, is featured on trombone, and Marsh doubles on trumpet. Much of the Brass's music has been arranged by both Marsh and Keeling.

The vocal talent in this season's edition breathes new life into your country music favorites. Marcia Miller of Duncanville, Texas, and Judi Wilson of Vero Beach, Florida, headline a list of cast members who will charm audiences.

Other vocal performers include Eli Cardona of Levelland, Crystal Finley of Hereford, Texas, and Paula Horton of Perrin, Texas.

The instrumental and vocal talent would fizzle if it weren't for McCasland and Marsh, who orchestrate the show's musical arrangements. The show's stage appearance is the product of Leann Ellis, SPC assistant professor of speech, who serves as "Caravan's" stage director. Mrs. Ellis also coordinates the costuming and delivery of the show's script. Jennifer McCasland, student activities director, has choreographed the two clogging numbers which feature Ms. Miller, Ms. Wilson, Ms. Finley and Mrs. McCasland.

The sum total of everyone's efforts is a memorable entertainment experience, says Hartin. "It's a family outing that is a lot of fun," he said.

By the time the 1987 season closes, "Country Caravan" will have logged more than 9,000 miles and will have played to more than 20,000 country music lovers in 33 cities. Not only will "Caravan" tour the South Plains of Texas and Eastern New Mexico, but it will take a jaunt to East Texas and Central Texas.

Sudan Churches Hold Joint Revival Services

Beginning today, Sunday, May 3 and continuing nightly through Friday, May 8, the churches of Sudan will be joining together to hold a joint revival meeting.

Services will be held nightly at the high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. A different Sudan minister will bring the message of the night with other ministers carrying out the other parts of the service.

Ministers of the Sudan churches are: Greg Newton, Assembly of God; Mike McDonald, Church of Christ; Mrs. Bales, Church of God of Prophecy; Jerry Dodson, First Baptist Church; Pitts Davis, First United Methodist Church; and H.K. Thomas, Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

Everyone in the community is encouraged to attend each service and take advantage of the opportunity to hear each of the ministers of the community.

The schedule for preaching is as follows: Sunday night, Mt. Olive; Monday, First Baptist; Tuesday, Church of God of Prophecy; Wednesday, Methodist; Thursday, Assembly of God; and Friday, Church of Christ.

"It is the hope of each of the ministers that members of the community will attend and support this season of unity and renewal" said Evelyn Ritchie. "The theme for the revival is 'Unified In Christ'. It is the aim of the churches to show that in Christ's love all differences can be set aside and we can share 'God's love with each other.'"

There will be an offering taken nightly to go towards supporting the new youth center.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Friend and Neighbor,

On behalf of the City of Muleshoe and the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, we would like to ask for your assistance in the cleaning and beautification of Muleshoe.

Soon Muleshoe will have thousands of tourist passing through it's city limits. And that is exactly what they will do, PASS THROUGH, unless we make a genuine effort to clean and beautify our town. To get the tourist to spend time or money here, we first must get them to stop. A nice well kept town is the first important step in that endeavor.

The Chamber, with the help of the City and State, has taken on the job of trying to clean and beautify Muleshoe. We have had good response, but this is an extremely large job.

This is a job for everyone, not just one small group of people. It will take all of us working and doing our part to complete this task. I, as Chairman of the Clean-up Campaign, am asking you to take a part. Please do what you and your group can to help make Muleshoe a cleaner and more beautiful place to work and live or even visit.

Would you or your group adopt a spot, a block or a lot to clean and beautify? Could you spare time to help clean your home town? Please call the Chamber office or myself and let us know of your group's plans.

WE NEED EVERYONE WORKING TOGETHER WE CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN MULESHOE!!!!

Hoping to hear from you soon, Fred Clements, Chairman Clean up & Beautification Committee

City, County Get Liquor Tax Rebates

State Comptroller Bob Bullock late last week sent checks totaling $10.9 million to the 220 counties and 418 cities as their share of the state's 12 percent mixed drink tax collected during the first quarter of 1987.

The Texas Legislature raised the tax from 10 percent to 12 percent in 1984.

Bullock said the state collected $45.5 million in mixed drink taxes for the same quarter, compared to $48.9 million collected during the same period in 1986. The first quarter of 1987 was the second full quarter since the minimum drinking age was raised from 19 to 21.

Bailey County's share of the rebate was $690.09 on a reported tax revenue of $5,520.74; while the City of Muleshoe received $492.17, on reported taxes of $3,937.38.

In Cochran County, the expected check was in the amount of $74.95, on tax revenues of $599.63, reported to the Comptroller's office.

Littlefield received a check for $519.24 on taxes reported as being $4,153.93 and Lamb County's check was for $840.09 on their tax revenue of $6,720.73.

For Parmer County, reported tax revenue was $245.64, with the county to receive a rebate check in the amount of $30.71.

Texas cities and counties now each receive a 12.5 percent share of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries under the law that legalized the sale of mixed drinks in the state. Cities and counties received 15 percent rebates until the rate was changed in 1984.

Of the total $45.5 million in state collections, counties received $5.6 million, down from the $6.1 million received first quarter in 1986. Cities received $5.2 million, down from the $5.6 million rebated to cities last year during the first quarter. The state's general revenue fund received the balance.

Bullock said the $34.5 million was deposited in the state's general revenue fund from first quarter collections, compared to $37.1 million collected in first quarter 1986.

The mixed drink tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and city-county rebates are sent out quarterly by Bullock's office.

Roundup® herbicide is your best choice for killing a broad-spectrum of weeds and cover crops on all your Conservation Reserve Program acres. Make one fast pass with Roundup before planting forage grass seed or after planting, but before emergence. Either way, Roundup will kill weeds and any cover crop-roots and all. It's better than tillage because Roundup conserves soil moisture, reduces regrowth, and lets you plant into a firm, undisturbed seedbed for best grass establishment. A spray pass with Roundup leaves the stubble intact too, for better erosion protection.

Come and see us today for full details and your free copy of the Roundup Herbicide Conservation Reserve Program Local Use Guide. We've got everything you need to get with the program.

Lions Club Hosts TT Agricultural Ambassador Here

On Wednesday, members of the Muleshoe Lions Club hosted guest speaker Brad Bass, an Ambassador for Agriculture from Texas Tech university, Lubbock. He was a national vice president for the Western Region FFA in 1984-85 and is a native of Mount Vernon. Bass is a member of the student Senate and the TT FFA.

Basing his talk on the Lions on humor, Bass urged the Lions to use their talents and abilities to improve the community, and this is especially important where the economy is generated through agriculture, he said.

According to Bass' figures, 22 percent of America's workforce is employed in some agriculturally related business-making agriculture the nation's largest employer.

"Be secure with yourself," added Bass, "use your talents and abilities to improve your community, using the challenge - Be Your Best. You can make Muleshoe one of the best places in the world."

The speaker also took experts from Dr. Robert Conwell's 'Acres of Diamonds' speech, and closed out with "The Guy In The Glass" poem.

New officers for the Muleshoe Lions Club were announced, including Phil Kent, president; L.T. Johnson, first vice president; Ronnie Holt, second vice president; Barry Bradley, third vice president; Carroll Precure, secretary / treasurer;

Tim McCormick and Bary Moynihan, one year directors and Leon Watson, two year director.

President Troy Stegemoeller discussed a proposed golf scramble tournament for May 23, however, following some discussion and a tie vote, it was determined to table the final decision to next meeting.

A thank you was received from Patricia Angeley, for allowing her students to perform for the Lions Club; and the recent Special Olympics, involving Special Education youth from Muleshoe, was discussed.

The president asked for a director's meeting on Friday.

Plastic-Wrapped Cages Make June Tomatoes

By Roland E. Roberts
Extension Vegetable Specialist

Tomato growers and gardeners who want to protect their early tomatoes from cold, wind and viruses must build cages and wrap them with plastic now to be ready for planting time shortly after the average date of last spring frost. Spring winds, cold nights and the Curly Top Virus and Spotted Wilt Virus diseases are major threats to tomatoes on the Texas Plains. Every year many thousands of home gardeners and commercial growers allow their tomato plants to suffer wind and cold stress. What is worse, many must stand by and watch helplessly as their precious tomato plants sicken and die from these lethal diseases. In 1986, Spotted Wilt Virus reached epidemic proportions in south central Texas where it destroyed entire fields of tomatoes.

Curly Top Virus is transmitted from diseased weeds and sugar beets to healthy tomato plants by the best leafhopper. Spotted Wilt is transmitted from diseased plants to tomato plants by thrips insect. These insects inject the virus into tomato plants as they puncture the leaves to suck out plant juices.

The relatively mild winter weather has allowed many thrips to survive. Spotted Wilt Virus could be more severe than in previous years. Curly Top Virus will usually infect thirty to fifty percent of uncaged plants, sometimes even more.

Fortunately there is an answer to this dilemma provided by a unit known as the plastic wrapped cage. The plastic wrapped cage improves the environment around the young tomato plant. It keeps the air calmer all the time and warmer at night, increases the relative humidity around the blossoms making it easier for them to set fruit, sets up a barrier so that the insects can not find the plants. Plastic wrapped caged tomato plants generally do not have any insects on them while the plastic is in place.

You can build your own cage from concrete reinforcing wire. The best size for the tomato varieties Spring Giant, Big Set, Jackpot and Celebrity is a cage that is eighteen inches in diameter and five feet high. You can also buy these cages ready made at some nurseries and farm stores.

The cage can be wrapped with four to six mil clear polyethylene film and secured by making several folds and securing this seam with a stapler. It is much easier to make the cage and wrap the plastic around it when two people work together.

Clear plastic sleeve material that can easily be slid down over an eighteen-inch diameter cage is available in 100 foot rolls from Bowers Plastics Distributors, 1110-1114 North Avenue U in Lubbock 79415, telephone 806-763-5925 and in cage size lengths at Farmers Depot at University Avenue and FM 1294.

Complete details on tomato caging are available at your County Extension Agents office.

EATING OUT
by Rose Hughes

ONE of life's mysteries is why barbecue outlets don't always offer guests a choice of sauces for their plates or sandwiches.
IN steak houses one can have ketchup, plus two or three sauces.
IN many barbecue outlets there's only one sauce available. Often it's a ketchup-based sauce, the sauce preferred in Texas and the West.
OTHER outlets offer hot and mild sauces, both ketchup-based.
THE best-managed outlets have at least three sauces, ketchup-based mild and hot, and a mustard-based sauce.
