VOLUME XXI

An Ajax touring car of six cylinders was selected and a demonstration was given the prospective purchaser and also a garage employee from Crews by the name of White.

Following the demonstration the stranger, a young man, introduced himself as L. H. Pace and offered to pay $1,000 for the car, which set for $1050. This offer was refused and after considerable bargaining Mr. Pace came to the garage's terms and gave a check for the $1050 of the Winters State Bank, stating that he had $1600 on deposit in that institution. He then took the car with him to secure his bill of sale and drove it to Crews to spend the night, saying he would come back the next morning for the papers and to get the lights tested, etc.

The young man appeared on the scene the next morning and showed Mr. Patrick a letter from his father who lives at Rising Star, which stated that he (the father) had drawn a check on the young man's account in the Winters bank for $950. Young Pace then took back his check and told Mr. Patrick that he would call his father and arrange matters. He was in and out of the garage all the day, waiting for his call from his father, and late Wednesday afternoon he appeared at the garage and gave two checks, one for $650 which he represented was what he had left on deposit and another for $400, saying that he would deposit money to take care of it.

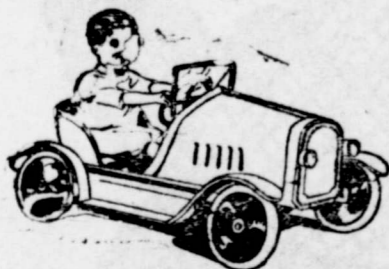

The young man then took the car and departed and when Mr. Patrick presented the $650 check at the bank he learned that there was nothing on deposit in the name given, nor had ever been.

Mr. Patrick went to Ballinger, got Sheriff McWilliams, and the two went to Coleman and started for Rising Star, but when they reached Cross Plains they learned that Pace's father lived there, and upon going to the house they found the young man and car. The young man was arrested by the sheriff, and the car was driven back to Winters. The defendant was lodged in the Runnels county jail.

John W. Young, the Delco-Light dealer in this territory, unloaded a full car load of these plants in San Angelo the first of this week and he informed us the latter part of last week while in the city that out of the entire car load all of them were sold except eight plants, and that eleven of the plants were sold to Runnels county farmers.

Crest Store to Open Saturday

The Crest Store, one of a chain of stores operating in various cities in Texas and the north will open here Saturday on N. Main. T. E. Hanshaw, the manager is busily engaged in making arrangements to open on this date. This firm will devote their store to holiday goods until after Christmas, after which they will stock with their regular line of merchandise.

Last Home Game With Putnam Today

The last home game of the football season will be played this afternoon when the Winters High eleven meets the Putnam High eleven on our home ground.

From all the teams which Winters have met this year this one seems to be the only one which has the same percentage of wins and losses which the home boys have and for that reason this game offers one of the most evenly matched contests that the Blizzards have entered so far. Neither are doped to win. Both have won the same number of games and lost the same number of games.

The Blizzards are being whipped into shape for the Ballinger game which is on November 25th and with this game as an experiment Coach

Sells Load of Turkeys Here Monday for $262.12

Monday we met our good friend, R. A. Bishop, who lives a few miles east of town, and he told us he had just brought a load of turkeys to town and sold them for 23c per pound, the load bringing $262.12.

Mr. Bishop said that turkeys were not hard to raise, that you can gather them ready for market a much easier than lots of other crops he knew of and besides he didn't believe in putting "all your eggs in one basket." A few loads like this one will enable Mr. Bishop to keep his cotton money in the bank through the entire summer, when too many people are borrowing.

P. T. A. SOCIAL MEET TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 24

The Parent-Teachers Association will have a social meeting at the High school next Tuesday, November 24 at 4 p. m. when the following program will be rendered:

"Can Extravagance at Home teach a Child Dishonesty?" Miss Mitchell: Vocal Solo, Auburn Neely; Moral Taring in the Home," Rev. Stephens; Piano Solo, Mrs. Chas. Chapman; Hostesses, Mesdames Loftin, Frank Williams, H. O. Jones and Deffenbach.

Smith hopes to have a line up perfected to A-1 conditions with the remaining practices before the big game of the season comes off.

The game this afternoon will be played on the new ground just west of the High School Building on Main Street.

Union Thanksgiving Service to Be Held at Baptist Church Thursday Morning

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving and, in accordance with the custom of having the union service held at the different churches of the city, it falls this year to hold the service at the Baptist church, so this service, which is to last one hour, will start promptly at 10 a. m.

At this time a collection will be taken to reimburse the United Charity Fund, a fund which is used in helping the unfortunates along life's pathway. The proper building and disbursement of this fund, in our judgment, is the only business-like way of helping the needy and if strictly adhered to will serve as a protection to the people of the community, so we say attend this Union Thanksgiving service and "Give Until You're Happy."

Help to fill the Community Chest! You men who are prosperous whom Adversity has edged away from only to jostle rudely your less fortunate brother.

Even through the cries and moans of cold and hungry children may never reach your sheltered ears; even through the wails of penniless and pain stricken old women and old men may never disturb your comfort and complaisance, still they are among us and this winter will add more and more to our Community's roster of dependents, impoverished, afflicted, unemployed and incompetent charges.

Help organize the municipal charities with a common fund that can be intelligently distributed and justly apportioned. It's a duty you owe to your Community. A responsibility the Community owes to its unfortunates.

R. Q. Lee, President of West Texas C. of C., To Make Talk on Advantages of Diversified Farming Here Tuesday Evening, Dec. 8th

LIONS CLUB ARRANGING FOR THE BIGGEST DIVERSIFICATION BANQUET EVER HELD IN THIS SECTION

Through the committees appointed by the Lions club, arrangements are being made for one of the biggest banquets ever held in this city when some 200 plates will be laid for farmers of this section, on Tuesday evening, December 8, at the Methodist church.

President R. Q. Lee, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has already been secured to make his Diversification speech here on that evening, and the committee is still working to secure other notable advocates of diversification for this occasion.

It is the plan of the committee to have a number of talks from our own farmers along this line, and invitations will be sent out some time in the next few days. The organization sponsoring this movement believes it has tackled one of the most vital questions to the welfare of this section of Texas and this banquet is staged in order to make the start as all progressive movements must have a starting place.

The entire program for this banquet will appear in this paper as soon as completed.

medical treatment and after a thorough examination it was found she was not seriously injured.

The accident would probably have proven seriously or possibly fatal, had it not been for the presence of mind of the driver of the car who, when he saw what had happened released the brakes which let the car roll over the body, instead of throwing on the brakes which would have caused the body to be dragged and would have resulted in a very serious accident.

Barring a few bruises and the terrible shock, Miss Stella Mae is getting along nicely and we understand is able to be back in school.

Mr. Arthur Moore of Austin, has associated himself with G. A. Keith, and will work in this territory with the Westinghouse Farm Light and Power Plants company. Mr. Moore comes to us bearing the highest of recommendations and will act as sales manager for the Westinghouse Tinkle's office where she received company in this territory.

Well, fellows, the big game of the season comes next Wednesday when Coach Smith takes his Blizzards down to Ballinger to tame the Hi school squad of that city. The home boys have been going through some strenuous practice work with the sole intention of taking the Ballinger boys into camp next Wednesday and we are confidently looking forward to victory on this day.

It is expected that quite a number of loyal rooters will accompany the team to Ballinger for the game, and right here we want to remind the over-zealous that we admire their loyalty, but it takes a real man to accept defeat gracefully, so let's go down and win the game if possible, using only fair and honorable means, but if defeat comes to us let's accept it like ladies and gentlemen. Anybody can smile in victory, but it takes a man to smile in defeat.

Miss Stella Mae Graham in Automobile Accident

STORES ARE ASKED TO CLOSE THANKSGIVING DAY

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High."—Psalm 92:1

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving—a legal holiday, and a day set apart by the President and by the executives of each state, for rendering unto God the thanks of individuals and groups—a Nation's thanks—for the manifold blessings the year has brought to one and all.

It is a beautiful spirit, distinctive American, that a nation, officially, shall so recognize the force of prayer to a Divine Power that it shall bring 125 million souls to a pause for the reverential purpose of publicly expressing our dependence upon that Divine Power, and our acknowledgment and appreciation for the blessings that are so bountifully bestowed upon the people.

Now, therefore, we, as presidents of the different civic organizations of the city and as mayor of said city, do hereby call upon the business men of Winters to close their various places of business and give thanks unto the Ruler of the Universe, who has so bounteously blessed our community and people.

COTTON EXCHANGE MOVES TO NEW LOCATION

The Cotton Exchange, formerly in the Jordan building on N. Main, has moved from that location to the office of R. A. Cramer over Owens Drug Store. The Cotton Exchange has proven to be a valuable asset to the cotton buyers of Winters since its opening day, and all those interested may be advised of its new location. The office is under the management of Mr. Bird.

THE RED CROSS

Too few people understand the great work being carried on by the Red Cross to appreciate the great value of this institution to America. Frequently we associate the Red Cross nurse only with the sanguine fields of battle, and the horror and the chaos war, losing sight of the same nurse as she makes her way through the tenements, the refugee camp and wherever and whenever disaster spreads a path of havoc and devastation in its wake.

Red Cross membership is both a duty and a privilege. The membership fee is one dollar. This organization represents the people of the United States. Upon its funds depend the promptness and thoroughness of relief work.

THE FALL OF PRIDE

"A man with a new automobile is just like a child with a toy," said a Winters man who has owned automobiles for several years. "I didn't notice it in myself when I bought my first one, but I've noticed it since. At first the new owner is a little bit awed by his expensive plaything, and very careful. He drives slowly until he is certain the motor is well broken in; he keeps it oiled and full of water; he washes the body and keeps it polished. Then the novelty begins to wear off, and his vigilance slackens, with the result that the car becomes a convenience like a vacuum cleaner, except that it demands more attention."

BEWARE

Beware of the stranger who offers you a check in settlement of a purchase. Better lose the sale than to take a long chance. If he cannot furnish proper identification, do not accept his check, even though the amount is small. Many of the check artist criminals write only checks for

Speaks in Interest of Howard Payne Endowment

The Rev. R. E. Milam, a director in the Howard-Payne $25,000.00 endowment campaign in Runnels county association has been busy on his itinerary of the Baptist church for the past two weeks. He reports that everywhere he is met with great deal of interest as his messages are of a nature to stimulate christian education everywhere.

This last week he has spoken to the following churches: Norton, New Joy, Poe's Chapel, Wilmeth, New Hope, and Drasco.

Rev. Milam is pointing out that a failure in this campaign will mean ruin to a school that means much to all this great section of country. He says that Runnels association is now enjoying the benefit of many Howard Payne students and ex-students as leading preachers, teachers and business men and women.

Industry is Doing the World's Work

—The people who know most about industry are those who are in industry. In addition to knowing about industry people who are in the public service industry know about the interest that all the rest of the people have in that industry.

—The public utility industry—for instance the service of West Texas Telephone Co., is peculiar in that it can do well only as the people served by it do well. It is an essential service, and experience has shown that an industry which is affected with a public interest serves well only through co-operation between the service and the people served.

—The spirit of co-operation for the benefit of both the service and those served is the spirit that inspires this company to look always to the welfare of its customers and of the community it serves.

Disillusionment follows when he discovers that the passing years have changed Greta from a lovable, unaffected personality to a wealthy and snobbish beauty, whose social ambitions are centered on marrying a title. Tempted at first to leave, he finally decided to stay and win her love back.

Needless to say he does that very thing, and it is the means he uses to accomplish his object—by masquerading as the Prince of Como—that provide most of the thrills and laughs in the picture.

The advantage of quaint backgrounds, lavish settings and the dazzle and splendor of gorgeous gowns and royal trapping help to make "In the Name of Love" one of the most colorful and entertaining photoplays of the season.

was selected and a demonstration was given the prospective purchaser and also a garage employee from Crews by the name of White. Following the demonstration the stranger, a young man, introduced himself as L. H. Pace and offered to pay $1,000 for the car, which sells for $1050. This offer was refused and after considerable bargaining Mr. Pace came to the garage's terms and gave a check for the $1050 on the Winters State Bank, stating that he had $1600 on deposit in that institution. He then took the car without securing his bill of sale and drove it to Crews to spend the night, saying he would come back the next morning for the papers and to get the lights tested, etc.

The young man appeared on the scene the next morning and showed Mr. Patrick a letter from his father who lives at Rising Star, which stated that he (the father) had drawn a check on the young man's account in the Winters bank for $950. Young Pace then took back his check and told Mr. Patrick that he would call his father and arrange matters. He was in and out of the garage all the day, waiting for his call from his father, and late Wednesday afternoon he appeared at the garage and gave two checks, one for $650 which he represented was what he had left on deposit and another for $400, saying that he would deposit money to take care of it.

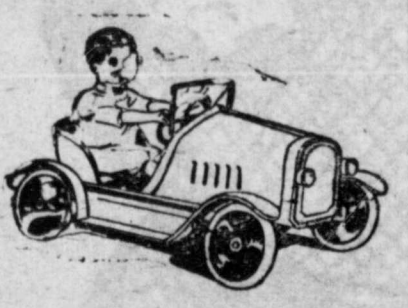

The young man then took the car and departed and when Mr. Patrick presented the $650 check at the bank he learned that there was nothing on deposit in the name given, nor had ever been.

Mr. Patrick went to Ballinger, got Sheriff McWilliams, and the two went to Coleman and started for Rising Star, but when they reached Cross Plains they learned that Pace's father lived there, and upon going to the house they found the young man and car. The young man was arrested by the sheriff, and the car was driven back to Winters. The defendant was lodged in the Runnels county jail.

John W. Young, the Delco-Light dealer in this territory, unloaded a full car load of these plants in San Angelo the first of this week and he informed us the latter part of last week while in the city that out of the entire car load all of them were sold except eight plants, and that eleven of the plants were sold to Runnels county farmers.

Business Meeting

Euzelian Sunday school class of First Baptist church met in regular session Thursday November 18 at the church. The first session was of the Love-Mate plan. The day morning was set for the day for drawing new Love-Mates, on account of new members of the class not being included in the present drawing.

Each member of the class realized her responsibility to keep the record of the class at a high average. Next Sunday was set as a day for the class to be one hundred per cent. and cards are to be sent to each member, urging them to come.

SOCIAL CALL ON CHINA

The Y. W. A. had their first social and industrial meeting Tuesday evening, November 17, when Miss Laura Coupland entertained with a very charming Chinese party. As the guests were received, they were ushered into the dressing room where they dressed themselves in Shaams. After this novel attire was secured, the young ladies were then introduced into Chinese Society. They were taken into a room, which was very beautifully decorated with Chinese draperies, pictures, hanging lanterns, and the little "Pagan God" found his seat of honor on the top-most pedestal, the piano where he was arranged beside a very beautiful peacock fan.

The Chinese program of hospitality was carried out by serving Cha and Kwachi. The picture was complete when Miss Velma Jeffries entered, dressed as a "Chinese Flapper." The most interesting game of the evening was the "Talking Price," conducted with a Chinese puzzle, the prize being awarded to Mrs. H. H. Stephens.

The girls were introduced to their chop sticks and the following menu was served: Bird nest soup, roast pig, mountain turtle, honorless prophet, egg padding and cha.

A delightful musical program was rendered by Miss Coupland on the Chinese instrument, Yeung Kam. The selections played were: Jade Beautiful Lady, and Chan Shai Mei Divorces his Wife.

The following young ladies bid their hostess good-night, and went home and dreamed they had really been so China: Misses Laura Killgore, Eugenia Mitchell, Ella and Estelle Gilmore, Velma Jeffries, and Mrs. H. H. Stephens.

Harold and Gerald Dixon Celebrate Fourth Birthday

The many little friends of Harold and Gerald Dixon, twin sons of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Dixon, were eager with anticipated joy when they were bidden to this hospitable home on Saturday, November 14, in honor of the fourth birthday of the fine little fellows, who are favorites with everyone.

The lovely home was beautifully decorated in ferns and cut flowers and the dining room was especially attractive in its party decorations of festoons of pink and white crepe paper with the twin birthday cakes of white with four tiny candles of pink on each cake, forming the center of the table, and white chrysanthemums and pink rose buds artistically arranged to add the floral adornment.

Several games especially enjoyed by little folks were played and an "animal hunt" was the feature diversion in which little Johnnie Lee Huntsman won the prize for finding the greatest number of animals.

Harold and Gerald were the recipients of many lovely gifts, and with Little Misses Mildred Polk and Ruth Patterson to assist in entertaining the guests, a delightful afternoon was spent.

Mrs. Watson, a special friend and admirer of the twins was a specially invited guest.

Mrs. Dixon was assisted by Mesdames Byers and Wilbanks in serving strawberry cream and angel food cake to Mary Maddox, Wilma Louise Whigham, Nancy Pyburn, Mary Paxton, Marie Gaston, Sony Smith, Jerry Dry, A. J. Poe, Jr., Eula Byers, Truett Nance, Billy Nance, Donald Lindley, Mamedel Mapes, Roy Loftin, Nellie Grimes, Donald Gregg Chapman, Ray Hood Wilbanks, Emmett Huntsman, Jr., Bertie Faye Strother, Elizabeth Huntsman, Eva Lorane Ashly, Ruth Patterson, Mildred Polk, Paul Cook, Lawrence, Jennings, Douglas Roberts, Johnnie Lee Huntsman, Kenneth Henslee, Harold and Gerald Dixon.

G. A. MEETS

The Girls Auxiliary of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. L. Green.

Fourteen girls were present to hear the devotional and the first chapter of the mission course, "Livingston, the Pathfinder."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Green and Mrs. Z. V. Dry.

Baptist W. M. U. Had Mission Program

The Baptist Woman's Missionary Union met at the church Monday, November 16, at 2 o'clock and enjoyed a mission program. The devotional was led by Mother Gregory and Circle B. had charge of the program with Mrs. H. A. Bradley leader of the subject, "The Child and the Future of America."

The following program was rendered:

"In the Beginning," Mrs. Farmer; "The Child's Conception of Life," Mrs. Faulkenberry "Play's Power," Mrs. Bert Low; "Policeman's Problems," Mrs. Bradley; "Teacher's Task," Mrs. Sorrels; "The Parent's Purpose," Mrs. Stephens; "Religious Responsibility" Mrs. J. N. Key.

Following the program a social hour was spent and Circle D. served a salad course and a box for Buckners Orphan's Home was packed.

Wesley Workers S. S. Class Entertained

Mesdames Chas Chapman and Windham were hostesses to the Wesley Workers Sunday school class of the Methodist church last Friday evening at the lovely rural home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chapman.

A hint of autumn was employed in the lovely decorations of chrysanthemums, autumn leaves and pot plants which were attractively arranged to add a party gaiety to the pretty reception rooms.

After a much appreciated and well rendered song by Mrs. Morgan Callan, a series of "42" games were enjoyed.

A dainty refreshment plate of sandwiches, potato chips, stuffed olives and hot chocolate with whipped cream was served to Mesdames J. H. Rhoden, Hal Cryer, Carl Davis, Morgan Callan, L. R. Ables, I. M. Preston, Ferris Callan, Walter Oliver, J. F. Brophy, A. H. Smith, Osborne, J. S. Neely, Gid J. Bryan, Ashburn, Frank Williams, Lee Johnson, Dewey Speer, J. E. Miss Willie Carter Hostess Ego Amo Te Club

The members of the Ego Amo Te Club and invited guests enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Willie Carter Thursday, November 12. A delightful social hour was spent embroidering and "hemstitching gossip."

Popecorn was served during the time. A very clever contest was conducted by Miss Carter. The prize was awarded to Miss Vera Wilson, who was a visitor to the club.

Refreshments consisted of hot chocolate, sandwiches, olives and potato chips, with miniature statues of Liberty employed as favors.

Those enjoying the party were Misses Vera Wilson, Lela Mae Lloyd, Carrie Flynt, Mc Elroy, Willie Carter and Mesdames Dewey Speer, O. C. Williams, Hart Phillips, George Lloyd and P. G. Garrett.

Methodist W. M. U. Enjoy Bible Study

The Methodist Woman's Missionary Society met Monday, November 16, at 3 o'clock with good attendance.

Mrs. Bryan, Bible teacher was in charge of the lesson subject, "Mary, the Mother of Jesus and her Cousin, Elizabeth," and in her usual way made the lesson intensely interesting.

After a short business session the meeting was dismissed with prayer.

Paul Douglas and Charles Rufus Graham Celebrate Birthdays

On last Friday, November 13, from four till six, Mrs. Paul Graham entertained a number of little folks in honor of the birthdays of her little sons, Paul Douglas and Charles Rufus, who were three and five years old.

Quite a number of interesting games were played and then delicious refreshments were served to the following:

Jr. Bobo, Ilda Bobo, Loma Hoover, J. A. Smith, Wanda Faye Smith, Claudia Freeman, Freddie Baker, Clovis Bradley, Maxine Bradley, Dollie Humphries, Mary Humphries, Paul Douglas Graham, Charles Rufus Graham. Each little guest departed for home after enjoying such pleasures as only little folks can.

Fourth Birthday Celebrated at a Party

Little Billy Joe Nance, son of Mr. Mrs. W. W. Nance, celebrated his fourth birthday, Monday afternoon, from 3:30 to 5:30, by giving a lovely party at the home of his parents.

The color scheme of pink and white was employed as decorations with ferns and white chrysanthemums artistically arranged to give the floral adornment to the pretty rooms.

Many favorite games were enjoyed and a peanut contest was the chief entertainment in which Howard Dixon won the prize.

The best time of the afternoon came when the children gathered around the birthday cake with its four tiny pink candles in dainty pink holders.

Many dainty little gifts were received by the honoree. Mrs. Nance was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Alex Orr in entertaining the following little guests: Eual Byers, Rita Louise and Wallace Hawkins, Harold and Gerald Dixon, Ralph Grimes, Jerry and Cherry Dry, Carl Esther Davis, Willene Smith and Gilbert Adams.

Ray Krauss Celebrates Eleventh Birthday

November 11th, Mrs. Krauss entertained a number of little folks with a party at her pretty new home in honor of her daughter Ray's eleventh birthday.

The children gathered on the lawn where different games were enjoyed. Later they formed in line and while Katherine Dry played a march, they marched into the living room, where they were met by Mrs. Krauss. A

Stage Fright

By Joe Sappington

I have been the victim of stage fright more times than I have fingers and toes and know all the sensations that go with it. Stage fright affects my knees more than any other part of my system and when they begin to shake and wobble I know what's coming. The first attack of stage fright I ever had was at the close of the Cave Creek school when I was but six years old. It started when the teacher announced, "We will now have a poem by little Joe Sappington." No one, not even my own folks ever realized the terrible ordeal I underwent that night while wrestling with the masterpiece in McGuffies first reader, the first two lines of which ran something like this: "The lark is up to meet the sun, The bees is on the wing." In my fright I got the lark and the bee and the sun hopelessly jumbled up and the more I tried to straighten them out the worse they were jumbled. I started out by saying: The sun is up to meet the lark, the wing is on the bee. The crowd giggled and I started all over again with The bee is up to meet the lark, the sun is on the wing, and the giggling grew louder and louder. The teacher stepped to my side and called for order and tried to shame the crowd for laughing at a little frightened boy. After order was restored I tackled that poem again from a new angle and began: The wing is up to meet the sun, the lark is on the bee. That was too much for the already over wrought nerves of the audience and the giggling turned to roars of laughter as I was led back to my seat in a condition bordering on hysteria. Another severe attack of stage fright that I shall never forget, was the time I called on Sallie Hopkins and tried to start a conversation. Sallie was tongue-tied and I stuttered so badly that I was at a loss to keep the drift of my own thoughts. However, I felt that it was my duty to begin the conversation and started in on the weather in the following bold manner: "It's sho-sho-sho-shore a pur-pur-pur-purty day Sallie," to all of which she replied, "Yeth!" I sat motionless for some ten or fifteen minutes after my weather observations, not knowing how to proceed further along conversational lines. Sallie added to the general embarrassment of the occasion by hiding her head behind a window curtain. While I was studying hard to think of something else to say, a hen laid an egg under the house and came out cackling. That gave me inspiration for more talk and I said: "Aint hens fun-fun-fun-funny things with feath-feath-feath-feathers all over their back and legs and stomachs?" And again Sallie said "Yeth," and gave the curtain another twist around her silly head. Not knowing what else to do or say I followed up the hen subject in the following brilliant manner: "I sho-sho-sho-shore would hate to be a hen and have to lay egg-eg-eggs and hatch chic-chic-chickens, wouldn't you Sallie." But I didn't wait for her to say "yeth" as I had become panicky and grabbed my hat and ran out and leaped on my pony and left Sallie's house under whip and spur.

Probably the worse stage fright ever to assail me was the time I went out in the field where old Pete Dennis was plowing to ask for the hand of his daughter, Mary, in marriage. I had my speech all made up and knew just what I was going to say, but just as I started to speak to him and spring the glad tidings of love he began to cuss his old mule and right then I forgot at least 95 per cent of my speech. Old Pete was an Irishman with chin-whiskers and a broad brogue and the first thing he said to me was, "What brings ya here lad; spake up if ya have anything on yer mind and be in a hurry about it." But I had a bad case of stage fright and instead of asking for the hand of his daughter I asked if he had seen a bob-tailed, brindle cow with a crumpled horn, in the last few days and left greatly relieved when he shook his head and resumed his plowing.

I never reported to Mary the result of my interview with her sire. I didn't have the courage. When I have more time will relate other experiences I have had with stage fright.

Blanche Sweet in New Film Here Soon

Blanche Sweet never requires the services of a double in scenes where she is called upon to execute difficult solo dances.

Miss Sweet learned to dance as most as soon as she learned to walk, mastering the difficult technique of the terpsichorean art under the direction of her mother, Pearl Alexander, a former stage dancer.

In "His Supreme Moment," the George Fitzmaurice production in which she is featured with Ronald Coleman, Miss Sweet plays the role of a Broadway actress and dancer. Two of her dance numbers, an Original and a wild Spanish dance, are presented on the screen in natural color by the Technicolor Process, by which the picture was photographed. The picture is an adaptation of Mary's new novel, and will be shown at the Queen Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, November 23 and 24.

The Famous Winter Gardens of Texas

On every Monday and Thursday at 6 o'clock a. m., we leave Winters in our brand new cars for San Antonio, arriving there about 4 o'clock p. m. the same day, to show the Famous Winter Gardens of Dimmitt County, Texas, located 110 miles southwest of San Antonio, in the beautiful Nueces Valley, where artesian wells can be had at a depth of from 500 to 600 feet, furnishing 600 gallons per minute, the water chemically pure for irrigation. We are selling these lands for a small payment down, with long time on balance at 6 per cent interest. The round trip can be made in three days, insuring you not only ample time to look over the property, but also to visit in San Antonio. The trip is offered to prospectors without any cost or obligation whatever.

The public school is an institution owned and supported by all the people. The public school in any community will sooner or later become just what the people of the community want it to be. If liberal support is given and the proper room and equipment provided the school must prosper.

The people of Winters and surrounding communities are especially invited to familiarize themselves with their school and see what results are being obtained with the money invested. Yours to serve,—A. H. Smith, Supt.

WITH THE METHODISTS

Sunday school will be held at the usual hour, 9:45 a. m.

The Epworth Leagues meet at 6:30 p. m. Sunday because of the absence of the pastor.

Bro. Bryan, with Mrs. Bryan, left Tuesday morning for the meeting of the annual conference which convenes in Waxahachie Wednesday and lasts through Sunday. Mrs. Bryan will visit in Mart this week and they will both visit in Fort Worth next week, returning to Winters the latter part of the week. We are trusting that they will be with us again next year.

Delegate to go to Convention in Memphis

From December 31 to Jan 3, there will be held in Memphis, Tenn., a convention of Methodist young people. This is the first meeting of its kind to be held and its purpose is to draw the young people closer to the Christ and to cause them to realize the responsibility that is placed upon them and to give them a better understanding of the conditions and needs of the world. There are to be present only 5,000 delegates among whom will be quite a number of missionaries and ministers, and well known leaders of Christianity. No delegates will be admitted unless he carries his credentials.

The Methodist church at Winters has been asked to send one delegate and Mr. Clifford Rhoden, the president of the Epworth League, has been selected. Mr. Rhoden is one of the finest young men, not only of the Methodist church, but of our city as well and we do congratulate him on the wonderful opportunity before him. It is a great privilege that the church has been asked to send a delegate and we know that Mr. Rhoden will be "all eyes and ears" while there and will bring us some great messages.

SANTA ANNA GIRL MARRIES SAN SABA BOY

Miss Jewell Harris, accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Harris of this city, was married to Mr. Frank Edwards, Jr., of San Saba, Saturday, October 24, the marriage taking place in Brownwood.

Friendship started between Mr. Edwards and Miss Harris while the latter was working as a saleslady in one of the leading stores of San Saba, some two years ago, and grew into a love that culminated in their marriage as stated above.

Miss Jewell is a splendid young lady, full of energy, friendship and ambition, and will make her husband a real partner for life.

WHERE HISTORY WAS MADE

The little Swiss town of Locarno has written its name large on the sheafs of immortality. The recognition comes not as being a great battleground, but as a trysting place for the angle of peace. It looks like the dawn of a new era of peace and good will in Europe.

RATTLING GOOD MONARCH

Newspapers are having a lot of fun joking about the rumor that Poland wants Henry Ford as King. All the Poles want him to do is to make their country as prosperous as Detroit is. Hail King Ford, the royal flivver awaits.

OLIVER HORSE AND PONY DISC PLOW

Oliver disc plows do good, clean plowing. They cut an even depth furrow and cover all weeds and trash. Even in the hardest soils these plows stick to the ground and cut a full width furrow.

The disc scrapers pulverize the furrow slice so that the plowed surface is in ideal condition for the next step in seed bed preparation. The strong, well braced frame of heavy flat bar steel gives sufficient rigidity and strength to withstand the twisting stresses to which a disc plow is subjected.

Farmer Finds Hog Raising Is Profitable Side Line For West Texas Cotton Growers

Hogs as a sideline to cotton are proving profitable to W. I. Mauldin who lives ten miles northwest of Abilene. Now there are no dark secrets connected with his success and there are no "ifs" or guess work about what can be done provided you start right and keep going right, according to Mr. Mauldin.

Blood counts in hogs the same as it does in men, declares Mr. Mauldin and he started right by buying a $75 pig which was the grand daughter of a world's grand champion and he is taking care to keep up the blood line.

Two types of Poland Chinas are being crossed by Mr. Mauldin with the idea of developing a breed that will supply better pork for West Texas tables. The Buster and the Liberator, two types of big bone Poland China are being bred. The original mother is from the Edwards stock and is a direct descendant of the world's grand champion. She was purchased from Wilson and Apple of McKinney. The sire of the first litter of pigs was "Long Liberator," Texas Grand Champion and grand champion at the West Texas Fair last year. He is owned by Manly Bros. of Shackelford county. Mr. Mauldin is now running a Buster bore which is from the son of the world's grand champion, and was bought from J. F. Tidwell.

Mr. Mauldin now has 21 head of fine hogs, including six brood sows, backed by eight years of careful selecting and breeding. The two older sows have made him $200 this year, clear profit over and above meat hogs and breeding stock. He has no trouble selling the pigs, in fact, they are usually contracted for at weaning time. The original mother raised sixteen pigs this year. Though blood is the most important item to be considered, feeding and care enter into the making of the best hogs, this breeder finds. He feeds corn, maize, and barley chops, tankage and milk. He also has a ten acre block which he is cutting up into patches to be planted to small grain, sweet clover and sudan for grazing.

Mr. Mauldin is a native West Texan, having been reared in Callahan county. He became interested in hog raising while just a boy by keeping a pig. He has had his blooded stock for two years and plans to give a good deal of attention to them in the future. He finds them a very profitable sideline to cotton and they do not interfere with his other work as they are very easy to handle.

The Salary Raise That Never Came

Cecilia Schroeder was tired. She had worked all day in the bindery of a great printing plant. It was but one of hundreds of similar drab, dreary, eventless days that awaited her in the future.

She was tired of waiting for promotions; tired of waiting for salary raises that meant comfort and happiness—salary raises that never came.

Discontented she began to think. The girls in the office were better paid. Their work was much easier, and their hours were not so long. Yet, not one of them came from better families than she. The girls in the office were better paid because they were trained—they were indispensable. If one of them were to leave it would be difficult to fill her place, but anyone of the thousands of girls could step right in and take her place in the bindery. It was her lack of training that was keeping her in the grind.

One morning, a few months ago, Miss Schroeder visited the Commercial School that has the equipment to give the young people the training needed for the business world. She told them that she wanted the "best course they had." When she completed the course, not so very long ago, she was competent for Stenographic and Bookkeeping, or for private secretary. She had an assurance of success.

A whole new avenue of happiness was open to her. And greater success ahead. Her salary had been increased three fold. She was glad that the training she had received has caused her to step into a bigger, better, higher-paid position.

There are thousands of Cecilia Schroeders throughout the world today—toiling, working their lives away, tired of waiting for promotions and raises in pay that never come.

But they can get the right start by taking one of the courses that Miss Schroeder did and the same special training; such as, the Private Secretarial, General Business, General Railroad, General Western Union, General Banking, Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Civil Service, Cotton Classing, Radio, Business Administration, Penmanship or Telegraphy.

Mailing a coupon like the one below has been the means of helping hundreds of young men and young women to earn bigger incomes. No matter what your circumstances, there is a step in the ladder of success for you. It is within easy reach of you—get the training and fill your place on the ladder of success.

During the Christmas holidays, the students may leave for ten days if they so desire. Regular classes will be conducted for those who wish to stay.

Lady Says She Took Cardui and Never Saw Such Improvement—Was So Weak Couldn't Stand.

Weathersby, Miss.—Mrs. James M. Hall, of this place, writes that she was "getting weaker all the time" when Cardui, the woman's tonic, was first brought to her attention. After she had taken Cardui a while, she writes that she "never did see such an improvement."

"I suffered all the time and had pains all over," says Mrs. Hall. "I was so weak I could not stand. My skin was cold and flabby. I did not have any color. I had always been a very active woman—used to outdoor exercise, walking and going where I pleased, and to get down, not able to get myself a drink, was indeed a hardship."

"Nothing seemed to help me, till I began on Cardui. The first bottle seemed to strengthen me, and I sent for five more. By the time I had taken these, I was on my feet, going around, doing my work, gained in health and strength."

"I took two more bottles, and I am well and strong. Can work my garden. I haven't had any more sickness."

Fisher Body Co. Enlarges Plant to Care for Oakland

Pontiac, Mich., November 16.—In order to meet the demand for an increasing number of bodies for the Oakland Motor Company and to provide adequate facilities for producing bodies for the new six cylinder car to be introduced early next year as a companion to the Oakland Six, the Fisher Body Corporation is expanding approximately a half million dollars in additional building equipment at its Pontiac plant.

The present Fisher Body Corporation's $2,000,000 plant has been devoted exclusively, beginning two months ago, to building Oakland bodies, due to the tremendous demand that followed the appearance of the new Oakland and the monthly breaking of sales records since that time. The building additions will add 60,000 more feet of floor space.

This enlargement for body building requirements follows closely the Issues New Book On "Ford Service"

The first move by an automobile manufacturer to establish complete standardization of methods employed in repair service has been made by the Ford Motor Company in a text entitled "Ford Service" which is for distribution to authorized Ford dealers and service stations. The book, which includes about 300 pages is the culmination of several years of research by Ford engineers. It covers in minute details, with numerous illustrations, every operation in assembling and repairing Ford cars.

Authorized engineers all over the country have long urged that a system of repair methods, standardized by the manufacturer, be worked out in the interest of car owners. Practically no two mechanics follow the same method even on the same operation, they assert. Efficiency may also vary, it is pointed out, and it is an assurance of the highest type of service if in every shop the method conducive to highest efficiency are employed.

For years the company has maintained a direct and close service supervision over its dealers and service stations and with the new text this is strengthened by giving mechanics in simple form the approved methods for servicing Ford cars. Publication of the book, a statement says, is "in line with the company policy of improving service of Ford owners in every way proven practical."

Excursion to the Rio Grande Valley

of Texas

Everything is all set for the excursion to Rio Grande Valley, leaving Winters on Sunday the 22nd of November and returning the following Saturday. We pick you up in Winters and return you here for $25.00 per person and this includes transportation, sleeper, meals and all accommodations while showing you the Valley.

Come and take the wife on this trip and see all kinds of crops growing in the winter and the farmers making money while we are having to wait till another spring season comes.

Would you not like to own a home where the terrors of winter never come and where you never hear folks complaining of dry weather and sand storms, where you can have water on your crops any time you want it and where you can plant and have you an orange, grape fruit and lemon orchard all your own? You can have all this and the most beautiful flowers and fruits and crops right during the winter where the summer climate is delightful and health is excellent. Come in and ask us about it. Our excursion runs every two weeks and we take you from Winters and return you to Winters for $25.00. You are under no obligations to buy. If the Valley does not sell itself to you, then that is our hard luck, not yours. Come to our office and see the fruits grown in the Valley. All aboard! Let's go!

red, white and blue streamer was pinned on each boy and girl and a miniature American flag for a souvenir was given each one. They were then ushered into the prettily decorated dining room. The decorations being used were the colors red, white and blue suggesting Armistice Day. Streamers were caught at the chandelier and hung gracefully to the four corners of the room. While the table was beautifully appointed in a red, white and blue cloth, centered with a lovely boquet of roses in the center of which was placed a large American flag. After the little guests had gathered around the table, Mrs. Krauss called on Ray to give thanks. In a gracious and reverent manner, the little girl thanked God for having restored and preserved peace throughout our country, and for her eleven years of health and happiness.

Mrs. Lee Davis assisted Mrs. Krauss in serving hot chocolate, cake, fruits and candles to the following little guests: Mary Strother, Rita Louise Hawkins, Catherine Dry, Virgie Mae Ellison, Louise Burton, Margarette Poe, Virginia Cramer, John Q. McAdams, J. D. Davis, Wallace Hawkins and Mrs. J. H. Seay.

After being served, the children were entertained by Ray with some pretty numbers on the piano.

The little honoree received many beautiful gifts from her little friends. Her mother and father gave her a handsome ring bearing the masonic emblem engraved in gold on a ruby.

Mrs. Luther Owens and Horace Hawkins Hostesses to Literary and Service Club

One of the most interesting meetings for this year of the Literary and Service club, was staged at the home of Mrs. Luther Owens, on the evening of November 10th.

Each guest, after being greeted by Mrs. Owens, was invited into the living room where they deposited a gift, to be sent to Miss Josephine Heavenhill, a much beloved member, who for the present is making her home in Houston.

The following appropriate program was rendered:

"PEACE"

Leader—Mrs. Horace Hawkins. Roll Call—Quotations from each member, written by some prominent statesman, of the past or present time on Peace. Also the "Peace Pledge" in unison.

1. Song—Joy to the World.
2. Scripture Reading—Luke 2:8-14.
4. Reading—Preamble of the Constitution of the U. S.—Mrs. F. J. Brophy.
5. Paper—"What Effort Has the World Made to Establish Peace?"—Mrs. Luther Owens.
6. Five Minute Talks.

- (1.) The League of Nations—Mrs. Hawkins.
- (2.) The International Court—Mrs. A. H. Smith.
- (3.) How May the Club Women Help to Establish World Peace—Mrs. J. Q. McAdams.

Each number was rendered efficiently, and showed how interested our women are in this great cause.

One of the most efficient incidents of the evening, was the reading of a motto, written by Bishop, G. Ashton Oldham of Washington, D. C. upon the subject of Democracy. This poster was hung in a prominent place and draped with the United States flag.

During the social hour a refreshment plate of hot chocolate and fruit cake was served.

The invited guests, in addition to the regular members were, Mrs. Ed P. Eason and Mrs. C. Korngay.

Thanksgiving

President Coolidge has set aside Thursday, November 26, as a national holiday for Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving day has come to be as much of an institution with the people of this country as Christmas or the Fourth of July. All of us have occasion to be particularly thankful in this year of 1925.

To the many customers and friends whose liberal patronage of the past year has enabled us to maintain a steady growth in our business, we are grateful.

It is our desire to give such service as will continue to deserve the public response.

PATRONS VISIT THE SCHOOL THURSDAY

In carrying out the observance of Educational Week in our schools, Thursday, November 19, was designated as school visiting day and in response to this invitation to visit the schools and see our children in their regular work, a large number of parents visited the schools during the day.

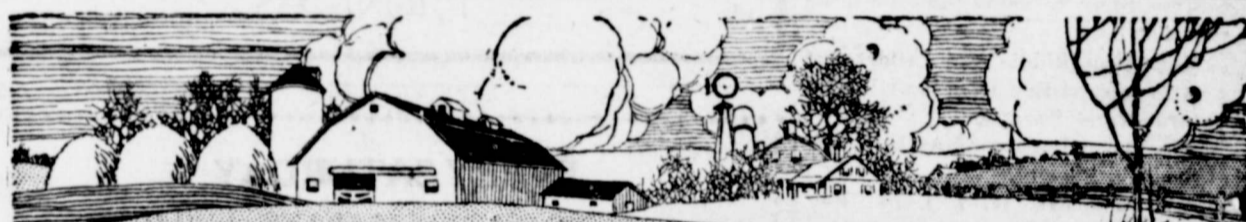

Hot coffee and wafers were served by several of the high school girls who acted as ushers and welcomed each visitor.

A thirty minute period is used every morning for a program of some kind by the different classes or societies and on this special morning the American History class gave a very interesting program of Historical Tableaux. Uncle Sam and Columbia were impersonated and tableaux of "The Spirit of '76," "Betsy Ross and her Three Friends," "Statue of Liberty," "Red Cross and World War Veteran," "Farmeretts," and the Thirteen States were cleverly portrayed followed by an oration by Bennie McAdams.

At the conclusion of the program a very enthusiastic "pep meeting" was held and we predict a great victory for our team at the greatest game of the season with such a "peppy pep squad" on the side lines. During the entire day there were some seventy-five to a hundred visitors at the school and we feel sure each one left with a strong determination to co-operate with the teachers more fully than ever before and with a more sympathetic understanding of the teacher and her problems.

GREETINGS

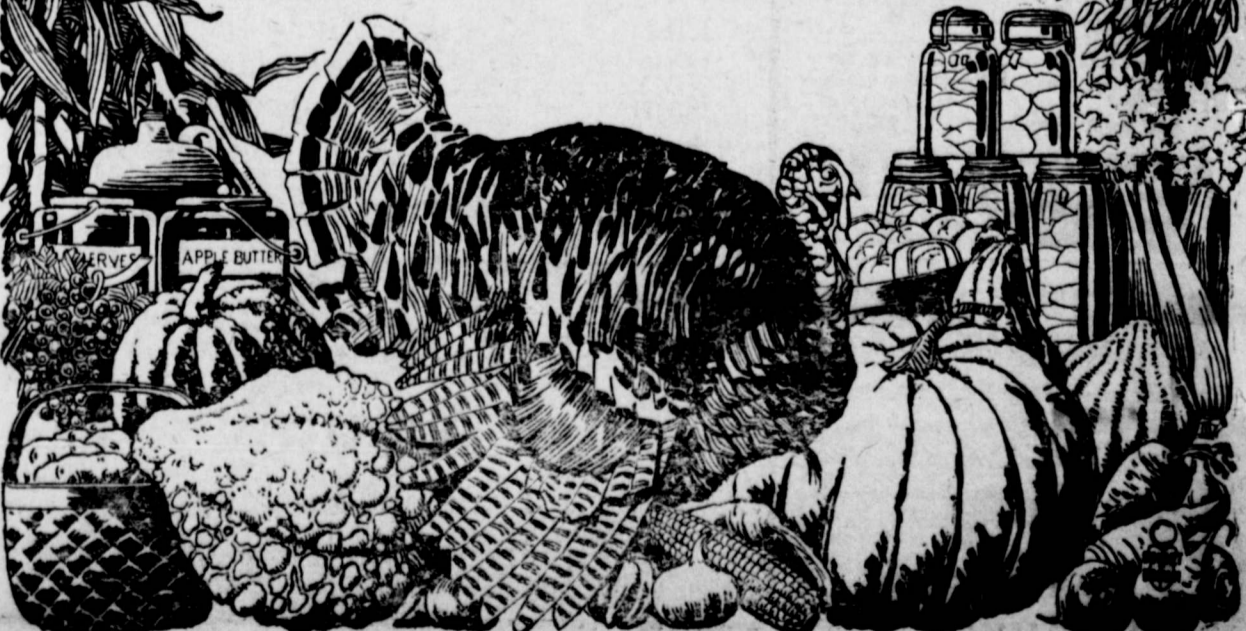

Thanksgiving is almost upon us. How happy we look forward to its coming.

For in every home in this community, the spirit of thankfulness and rejoicing for prosperity and countless other blessings that have come to us in the past year, will once again prevail.

We want to thank you for your splendid patronage and trust we may have the pleasure of serving you in the future.

That yours should be a real happy Thanksgiving is the sincere hope of
