Wingate Man Gives Many Sound Reasons Why The Farmers Should Practice Diversification

All-Cotton Farmer Lives Out of Paper Sacks and Tin Cans 12 Months in Year Says W. G. Barnett

The reason why we should diversify is not because we do not like to grow cotton. Cotton is one of our most reliable money crops; but growing cotton can be easily overdone. About one of the best reasons we might state is that no one-crop country ever makes very much progress and he who plants all his acres to cotton, generally uses bad judgment and eventually heads his financial ship toward the rocks.

The all-cotton farmer lives out of many paper sacks and tin cans for twelve months each year, and if the many calamities that so often befall a cotton crop by chances of good luck, pass him up, he has something to sell about four months in the year. While the farmer who plants part of his crop in various kinds of feed stuff can have most of his living at home and can manage to have something to sell almost every month in the year.

We are not pretending that this is a truck grower's country to any great extent, but we do know it will grow maize abundantly and all other varieties of grain sorghums are not very far behind. Until the past few years many acres of wheat and oats have been planted in this country, which always come in with a reasonable yield. These crops come in very handy, as feed and as a recruit to farmer's bank accounts in the summer time, but King Cotton seems to have crowded them out.

How many all-cotton farmers have we seen who were not people who leased or rented the land they cultivated? Personally all I ever saw were renters and so far as I know they are still renting. Did you ever see a successful farmer, especially one who owned his own farm, ever plant an all cotton crop?

There is a tendency in our country among land owners to compel their tenants to plant their entire crops in cotton by charging them excessive money rent on the few acres they wish to plant to feed. If this is not discouraged it will soon gain such ground as to ruin every industry in our country, except the cotton industry and we will have so much of that we can't sell it.

Let's join our bankers and our merchants and all other business men who deal directly with the farmer and boost diversification. Let's keep more cows, raise more hogs and take better care of our hens. By doing this we are most likely to save ourselves a job going cotton picking sometime.

When we begin to diversify we will distribute our labor along through the year so we will not have to encourage negroes and Mexicans to come into pick cotton, thus enabling us to maintain a better class of citizenship, which goes to make better schools, better churches, better society and even a better country.

Here's for more feed and less cotton.—W. G. Barnett, Wingate, Texas.

J. M. Musser of Abilene, was in the city a day or so the first of the week, looking after business matters in connection with the Musser Lumber Co.

Winters State Bank Deposits, $1,300,000

In our issue of November 13, a mistake was made in the advertisement of the Winters State Bank. Reference was made to the fact that the deposits were well over the $1,300,000.00 mark and the advertising man, not use to handling such enormous figures, got "balled up" and it read $1,300,00, which made it a little bit hard to get the exact meaning.

We regret the error and are glad to make this correction.

Aged Man Dies As Result of Injuries

F. C. Adami died at the home of his son, Ernest Adami, Thursday November 27th, at two a. m. Death was due to injuries received last Saturday, when in attempting to cross the street he was struck by a car driven by two negro men. Another name is stricken from the ever lessening roll of our old settlers, and a lonely wife and three sons are left to attest how sadly they will miss him.

Deceased was eighty-five years old and had lived in the Winters country for the past twenty years. He was a kind and indulgent father, a loyal citizen and was ever eager to do what ever he could for the up-building of the community in which he lived and was a faithful member of the Catholic church.

Funeral services were conducted at the home at four o'clock by Rev. Sirois of Ballinger and interment was made in the Winters cemetery.

Surviving him are his wife and 3 sons all of whom are married, Charlie Adami of Winters, Ernest Adami, Winters and O. B. Adami of Tahoka and eleven grandchildren.

Tender sympathy is universally expressed for the bereaved wife and relatives.

Rev. Monk's Wife Killed In Auto Accident Thurs.

We learned late yesterday afternoon that parties in Winters received a telephone message from Abilene stating that Mrs. Alonzo Monk, Jr., was killed in an auto accident which happened between Fort Worth and Dallas.

Many of our people will remember Rev. Monk, as he held the revival meeting at the local Methodist church last spring, he being a brother of Mrs. Gid J. Bryan. Many local friends will deeply sympathize with Bro. Monk in this trying hour.

Returned Missionary Speaks at Pumphrey

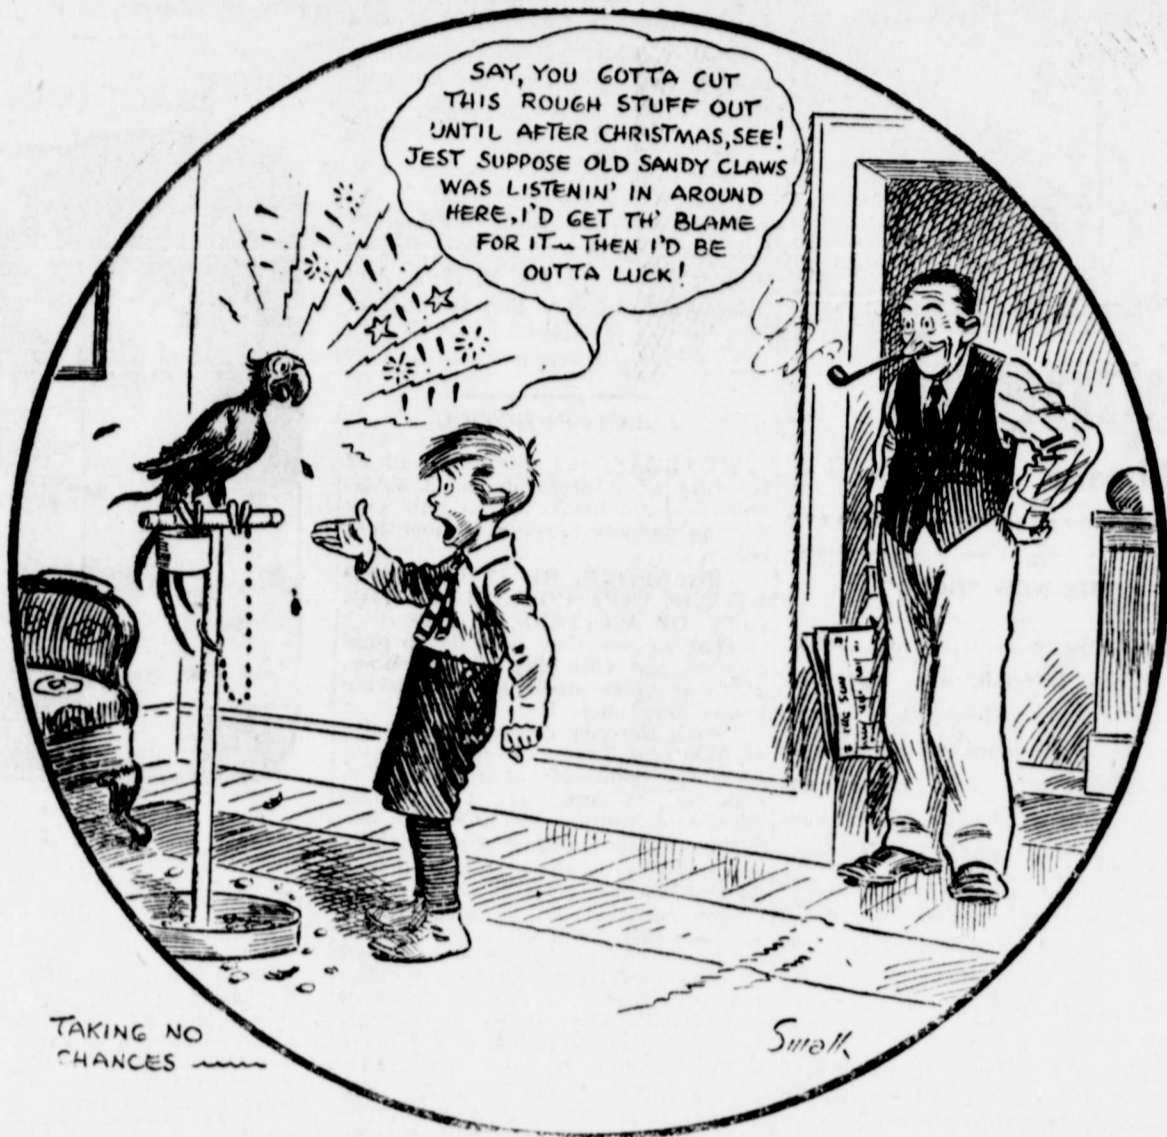

Miss Laura Coupland, one of our own Winters young ladies, still, a returned missionary from China, spoke at the Baptist church at Pumphrey, last Sunday.

Miss Coupland, said that she is not only a missionary to China, from America, but a missionary to America from China. The entire congregation was held in unbroken attention for the forty-five minutes of her speech, and spoke many complimentary words of the message and speaker when it was over.

The pastor, gives it as his opinion that of all the returned missionaries, he has heard speak, Miss Coupland, surpasses them, in arousing, missionary interest and zeal, for her particular field. She shows to have a good knowledge, not only of the Chinese people, but of conditions both past and present among these people. It is not only informing to listen to Miss Coupland, but inspiring.—J. E. Nicholson, Pastor.

WILL BARRETT STILL BUYING TURKEYS

Will Barrett, the grocery store "where every day is Saturday," is still buying turkeys. During five days last week he purchased 12,283 pounds. Mrs. D. W. Duncan sold $311.87 which was the largest amount he paid. Mrs. R. H. Bishop received $263.12. Numerous others who sold received checks that range over $100.

Our Traffic Laws Should Be More Rigidly Enforced

Recently during the busy days in Winters traffic has become unusually heavy and accidents are entirely too numerous, averaging some two or three each week, the last one occurring last Saturday afternoon when two negroes in a car ran over and injured Mr. Adami, resulting in his death yesterday morning at 2 o'clock.

Winters is just naturally getting to be too big to put up with such country ways in the matter of traffic regulations, jay walking, etc., and of course after the accidents happen we are all very sorry, etc., but that won't bring the dead to life nor mend the wounds inflicted, so we suggest that the streets be marked off for car parking and lines be drawn for pedestrians and a strict adherence to traffic regulations be enforced. It might probably be advisable to have an electric traffic signal installed at Main and Dale, between Owen's and City Drug Store, and possible cut out left hand turns at this place. Anyway, something should be done, and don't right away.

Secretary J. E. Farrow, according to information received at this office the first of the week, will return home Monday and take up his duties again after an illness of some two months. Mr. Farrow's many friends will be glad to welcome him home and hope he has completely regained his health.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK IS BOOSTING DIVERSIFICATION

In talking with Bert Low, cashier of the First National Bank, this week about the diversification question, he stated that it was the biggest problem confronting the people today, and that he and his institution would go their limit to further this worthy cause, saying, "I wish terprise that much interest has been shown in our effort to secure brood sows and Jersey cows. We are now ready to talk facts and prices. If you are interested in either, see us at once, for since we are doing this without profit we must know definitely just how many are wanted before placing our order. We believe we can secure for you an animal of which you will be proud and which will yield you dandy returns on the investment.

"More cows and calves, Cuts your living in half; More pigs and swine, Reduces expenses all the time. "Tell us your wants. Get on the dotted line and help us put 'it over."

M. Townsend, living on route 5, was a business visitor in Winters last Wednesday, and while here made a pleasant call at this office. Mr. Townsend says he is real proud of Winters, although, he doesn't live in town, yet, this is his town and he is proud of it. His loyalty to his home town is worthy of emulation.

WINTERS' NEEDS

In talking about the needs of the City of Winters, the first thing we would list is an adequate water supply—no makeshift—something we know is there when we want it.

Next is ample room and facilities for our public schools, which are now in too cramped quarters.

Third we would list a modern hotel for the accommodation of the traveling public.

If we will provide for these things, then we would be in position to go out after manufacturing plants—a cotton mill, etc.—which would provide a pay roll.

With these things and the farmers practicing diversification, you couldn't find a better place in the world in which to live and rear a family than Winters. She's a good town, anyway, but these things would make a paradise out of her.

Total Number of Bales Ginned Reaches 21,948

A report from the local gins at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon shows that Winters had ginned 21,948 bales of cotton, and prospects practically assure the total number of bales will pass the 25,000 mark when the season is finished. Here's the report from the seven gins of the city:

Kornegay, Round	13,858
Square	1,446
Farmers Gin No. 1	1,003
Farmers Gin No. 2	4,221
Reid & Hinds	3,190
Williams & Miller	2,835

Rev. Gid J. Bryan Is Returned to Winters Charge

The many friends of Rev. Gid J. Bryan and family will be pleased to learn that conference, which adjourned in Waxahachie last Sunday evening, returned this good man to the pastorate of the Winters Methodist church. Rev. Bryan is doing a great work here and is loved by our entire citizenship, regardless of denomination.

Ballinger and Winters Battle to a Scoreless Tie

Wednesday afternoon some two or three hundred football fans accompanied the local high school football team over to Ballinger to witness the annual battle between these two schools and we'll say it was some battle, resulting in a scoreless tie.

It was a hard-fought, clean contest, with the Blizzards holding the edge during practically the entire game, but they could not develop enough punch to put the old ball over the goal line.

Winters' goal line was never in danger, unless it was in the first few minutes of play, when a Ballinger boy got away for a considerable gain, being stopped by Winters' safety man, but the Ballinger goal was threatened time and again, several times it looked like Winters couldn't be stopped short of the goal, one time pushing the ball to Ballinger's one yard line—but, they couldn't put 'er over.

Prominent Couple Wed Last Thursday

A wedding of more than usual interest occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Davidson Thursday morning at eight o'clock when their daughter, Miss Bonnie, was married to Mr. Joe E. Childers.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. H. Stephens, pastor of the First Baptist church, in the presence of the immediate relatives and the pastor's wife.

The living room where the wedding were taken was beautifully decorated with ferns, rose and chrysanthemums artistically arranged to form a pretty setting for the home wedding.

Both the bride and groom are well known here and very popular in social circles. The bride has lived here since early childhood and is a graduate of Winters High school and a student of Simmons University. She is a musician and a talented singer, and has held a responsible position from time to time in the First National Bank. She is a faithful B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school worker.

The groom is a young lawyer of bright promises and a graduate of Baylor Law School. He taught school here for one year and held the important place of athletic coach. He is a fine and worthy young man and launches out on the matrimonial voyage with his fair bride, who is a favorite with everyone, with every prospect of a long and happy life.

Mr. and Mrs. Childers left immediately after the ceremony for Abilene and after a brief honeymoon will be at home in Hamilton, Texas.

Believe "Unknown Soldier" is Texan

According to a statement given out a few days ago by former Sgt. Hugh T. Ramsey; and published in a paper at Waxahachie, Texas, Sgt. Ramsey feels almost certain that the Unknown soldier buried at Arlington, near Washington, with unprecedented honors November 11, 1921, is Pvt. Seth S. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Shaw of Bangs, Texas. Ramsey said that the grave in which Sraw was placed at night by a detail sent out for burial purposes tallies exactly with the place from which Unknown Soldier U-3,900 was taken.

Shaw was just 21 years old when he was killed in the Meuse-Argonne offensive in October 1918. He enlisted at Bangs in Brown county, Texas and the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Shaw. His father died two years ago, but his mother, at Bangs and makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Earl Fife.

THE FLORIDA BOOM

The Florida boom—a paradise for the promoter just now—is a subject for national comment. The fortunes being made over night in the country where Ponce de Leon sought youth is the topic of conversation by everybody everywhere. Newspapers are sending staff correspondents to the state to investigate conditions. Preachers are preaching about "the American Madhouse," so some call it. Millions of dollars are being shipped to the state, and bankers all over the country are becoming alarmed.

Some of the state that have lost citizens to Florida are inclined to regard the Peninsular state as a public menace. From chamber of commerce and other sources come a flood of warnings against investing blindly in property in that state, and being caught in the inevitable deflation. The warnings do not come amiss, though it is probable that most of them do scant justice to the really worthwhile values Florida offers discriminating investors.

Financiers are staking large amounts of money on the future development of the state, but there's too much misrepresentation and wild-cat promotion going on. Many millions are being put into railroad building, into road building, into drainage, into fruit and vegetable development. Yet there are also stretches of land, unfit for cultivation or habitation, but it's being sold to suckers. People cannot forever buy land with the idea of selling it to someone else at a profit. For those who try to get something out of Florida without giving value in exchange, the boom will be short-lived.

Florida has a unique climate which is a permanent and increasing asset. But how long can a boom last where the idea is to consume and speculate? Dishonest real estate promoters and other fakers are robbing hundreds and hundreds of people through false advertising. Investors go down there and find swamp lands selling at enormous prices—too steep for them.

Over-night fortunes are dangerous things to grasp at. Investigate before you invest.

THE NEW "GOLD"

Today the world rides on rubber. Americans, through their tire industry and countless other issues, consume vastly more rubber than do the people of any other nation. Therefore they are deeply concerned because the price of crude rubber, which dropped to 17 cents a pound in 1924, is now 75 cents a pound. Stocks of rubber in London, which is the world market, have been reduced until they are less than one-third what they were a year ago.

Within a few years, there may be a different story to tell, as certain Americans—H. S. Firestone conspicuous among them—are embarking in the business of growing rubber on an enormous scale. Mr. Firestone some time ago leased a million acres in Liberia on which to grow rubber trees, and just recently he leased another large tract for the same purpose in Mexico. Rubber has become civilization's new "Gold."

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY

December 6 will be observed in the United States and in many foreign countries as Golden Rule Sunday. On that day people are asked by the Near East Relief to follow the Golden Rule with little war orphans of the Near East. International Golden Rule Sunday is intended to be a day of plain living and high thinking. The observance of the day will test our sincerity. It will prove a spiritual exercise for the prosperous. It will provide a vital food supply for the homeless and starving. It will be an expression of international fellowship and good will.

SAFE AND SOUND

The newspaper of greatest circulation in the world is printed in Paris and it never carries any glaring billboard headlines or salacious details of divorce and crime. It is printed with American machinery and conducted largely along American lines, but the lurid headlines and blood-curdling news features are deliberately forbidden. It is a mistake to assume that the mass of readers prefer this sort of an exhibition in their home paper.

Where is the Car that Equals It?

Before buying any automobile in the thousand dollar field, ask yourself these five questions—

- 1 Is it as beautiful and comfortable as the new Oakland Six?
- 2 Has it mechanical Four Wheel Brakes?

- 5 And can it equal Oakland's amazing value at the new prices—$70 to $350 lower?

Because no car in the field can answer these questions satisfactorily—because no car combines these features at anywhere near Oakland's new low prices—this is the car for you.

I Killed 'em By Proxy

By Joe Sappington

"Man's inhumanity to man has caused countless thousands to mourn." I have been the frequent victim of my fellowman's inhumanity. I once bought a county right to a patent gate from a heartless wretch that caused me to mourn and draw many deep sighs, and am still living in hopes of meeting him again eye to eye, that I may murder him in reality, and not by proxy.

No one will ever know the great number of times I have murdered that infernal cuss in cold blood. Of course all these murders have been committed in a purely figurative sense, without the shedding of blood; but that was no fault of mine, as my heart was in the work every time I murdered him. My most delightful method of slaying him was to meet him face to face and stick the loud end of my six-shooter between his eyes and make him throw up his hands, after which I would proceed to ask him if he remembered me. "Sir," I always began my remarks before killing him, "my name is Joe Sap, and I am the gentleman you sold a patent gate to back in the late nineties, for which you received for same one dark-red milk cow, one hog which my wife had fattened on scraps from our humble kitchen, one nag which said wife had inherited from her father's estate and $17.50 in cash. What have you to say, villain, before I begin shooting your carcass full of holes?"

No telling how many imaginary trials I have gone through for killing that patent gate vendor, but never failed to be discharged by a jury of my peers. I never wasted any money employing lawyers to defend me for slaying that grafter, but plead my own cases. I always managed to get a part of the jury whom I knew had dealt with patent right fakirs, knowing full well they would either clear me or hang the jury till it starved to death.

In these imaginary trials styled "The State of Texas vs. Joe Sap, in which the said Joe Sap with malice aforethought had shot various and sundry holes into the vitals of the corpus delictit. Thereby causing the death of said corpus delictit," I have seen the jury break down and cry like their hearts would break. In my pleadings, I never failed to tell that fellow had come to my town and exhibited his automatic gate with a trick model and finally how I had become interested and given him our cow, hog, family horse and $17.50 in spot cash for the sales right to a far distant county, and when I had gone thither I found that my territory had been sold to another victim, who had made quite a number of sales to farmers of said county, and how said farmers had been buncoed and on hearing I was back taking more orders for said gate and thinking I was the same fellow who had first arrived upon the scene, they tried to mob me. I told of my return trip on foot and to keep from starving was forced to eat bugs and grasshoppers. But my trump card was always held for the last, in which I drew a most tragic picture of a heart-broken wife sitting at a window mourning her husband as dead. I even had her dressed in mourning and looking out of said window with weeping eyes with no wish to live now that her dear husband was dead. Even the stern judge on the bench was wont to rest his chin upon his breast and heave sigh after sigh, when I told how my wife came meeting me with outstretched arms when I have in sigh more dead than alive and fell upon my bosom in a dead swoon.

Of course the reader will understand that these trials for killing that blame grafter were purely figurative. I never killed a man in my life, but that doesn't prove that I wouldn't kill that blame cuss if I should ever meet him.

Mr. Lee's Rhode Island Reds Give Satisfaction

A. D. Lee, who raised some of as fine chickens as can be found anywhere, received the following letter from one of his satisfied customers, the first of the week. Mr. Lee sold this customer some birds which were exhibited at the Rannels County Fair. They won first Old Pen and First Hen.

"Clifton, Texas, Nov. 11.—Mr. A. D. Lee, Winters, Texas. Dear Sr: Received birds all O. K. and am well pleased with them. Thanks for the extra bird. If I can, a little later on I want one of your good cockrels—not able to buy now. From what I have seen of Tompkins birds, I believe them better show birds than Owens. Seems their type and color are easier to hold. Best wishes, Oscar Winfield."

Mrs. Jim Eoff left Tuesday for Coleman where she will visit her sister, Mrs. S. T. Bird. She was accompanied by her father, W. L. James.

News Notes From Victory School

The first month of Victory school has just passed with an enrollment of more than two thirds the enrollment for the district, which is very good, considering the amount of cotton still unpicker in the neighborhood. But our school will not be at its best until every patron realizes that for seven months school must be his first consideration.

A few A and B Grades were made this month. Next month the names of all pupils making B or over will be placed on the Honor Roll which will be published.

The girls organized a basket ball team, with Miss Neola Adams, coach and have played one game this season. They played against the Wingate girls last Friday and lost the game, but proved themselves good sports, which is one object of ball-playing in school.

The boys have also organized a team, with Miss Frankie Pierce as coach, and no member of this team is more than fifteen years old. They have played two games, one with Harmony, which they won, but they lost the game to Wingate Friday.

Any member of the school who plays in a contest game of ball must make an average of 75 in all the subjects carried.

"Beggar On Horseback" Big Play

The new James Cruze-Paramount production, "Beggar on Horseback," which is the feature at the Queen Theatre, Wed. and Thurs. Dec. 2 - 3 is described as a story bigger than any cast, just as was "The Covered Wagon," in which the cast wasn't even a talking point. "The Covered Wagon" was essentially a story, and in the telling of the story names that were destined to become famous on the screen were created. So with "Beggar on Horseback," made by the same director.

"Beggar on Horseback" is the story of a young musical genius sought by two girls, one rich, one poor, and deals largely with a dream he has in which the ordinary affairs of life are magnified to ridiculous proportions. Some idea of the extent of the production is gained from the announcement that one complete stage at the Famous Players-Lasky studios in Hollywood was devoted to a single room.

Here is Some More Trouble for Autoists

It does not matter how recently you had your auto lights tested, or how often, the law says you must present a certificate that they have been tested within 30 days of the time you make your appearance to pay your license tax for the ensuing year. So you had better attend to this if you want your license. This means another 25c fee for the testing and the trouble incident thereto; and if it is found necessary to doctor the lights to make them conform to the new regulation, why then it will cost you more than the 25c fee.

The main thing is, you must have this certificate not over 30 days old when you appear to renew your license.

And incidentally it is known that there are a number of auto owners who have not had their auto lights tested the first time.

An officer reminds that if there is anyone who does not like this law they can have the privilege of just parking their old bus for the year 1926. If you use the car you are expected to comply with the law.

The Satisfaction of Being Debt Free

It is difficult for you to control a desire to buy some luxury whether or not you can afford it?

You realize the money you get should pay your creditors or buy necessities. Instead of putting the coveted purchase out of your mind, you think and think of it till you finally get it. Then when your bills come in, your are so filled with disgust at your foolishness that you do not enjoy these articles at full value.

Often you meet men whose financial resources are many times yours. You have heard them refuse to do things—they can not afford it. And you wonder what they get out of life anyway. Well, for one thing they get a certain satisfaction out of judicious management and they are not harassed with bills and debt. They are sensible and you are not.

We favored you to the last, and as long as we could. We owe sums that are staggering, that must be paid. Everyone who owe us, we insist that you come in and settle.

Farmers Mercantile Co.

Excursion to Rio Grande Valley OF TEXAS

Yes, we took eight people from Runnels County on our trip on the 22nd. We made connection with the main excursion out of Fort Worth and there were about 190 people on the Excursion.—a solid train of Pullmans and all going to see the Valley. Would you not like to make a similar trip? We intended making a trip each two weeks but the crowds are so large that we have decided to make it each week. We must know not later than Saturday noon of each week if you are going, so reservation can be made for you. The price is $25.00 per person, which covers transportation, meals and sleeper, from Winters and return and all accommodations while showing you over the Valley and the sight seeing trip in San Antonio. Be sure to take the wife with you.

The Valley Citrus Fruits, consisting of Oranges, Lemons and Grape Fruit are now beginning to move in quantities, also string beans and other kinds of truck. They have already gathered over 60,000 bales of cotton in Hidalgo County, where our lands are located, getting from 3 to 5c per pound more for it than our highest price this season, and they got it picked for less than half of what we paid here. But cotton is just a side line there. Cabbage is now bringing $65.00 per ton in the Valley and about 12 tons per acre is the average yield. They also harvest a large corn crop. The different kinds of truck which is now being marketed is coming off of lands which have already produced a crop of cotton or corn and it will soon be ready to be planted again. Dairying, hogs, alfalfa and poultry raising are other very profitable lines in the Valley. Hatch your chicks any month in the year and catch the early market with fryers.

Our lands are under the ditch and in cultivation and ready to be planted. Put out your orange and grape fruit trees and cultivate crops between the young trees till they get old enough to bear fruit and take care of your trees and make money out of the land all the while. The trees will begin bearing in commercial quantities the fourth year and then your earnings get larger and larger and you need nothing more to take care of you other than your Citrus Grove. For the man who does not want to move on his land now, he can have trees put out by a BONDED Nursery, right there in the Valley, and cared for each year until they come into bearing, for a nominal sum. This nursery will put out only pedigreed, healthy trees and will replace without cost, any which may die the first year. Very few trees die after the first year.

Why not go where there are no sand storms, or blizzards; where climate and health are ideal; where you can make a good and independent living while your orchard is coming in; where no crop failures are known and where you can have all the water you want and when you want it, at a price averaging around $5.00 per acre per year? Do you realize that orange and grape fruit groves in California and Florida sell from 8,000.00 to $10,000.00 per acre, which is beyond the reach of the average person, and yet, you can buy our lands and grow these orchards where they will be in commercial bearing within four years; and that Valley fruits are superior to California or Florida fruits? These orchards are actually within the reach of the average man, if he will grasp the opportunity which we are offering him. Perhaps the best schools, churches and roads in the state are right in the Valley. What more could you ask? And just think; all right here in our own Texas Land.

We will sell you any sized tract of land desired, with from 1-4 to 1-3 cash down and the remainder in two notes due in three and six years, payable on or before at 6 per cent interest. After you make your down payment, you will have three years before any principal is due, and then another three years before any more is due, with the privilege of paying off sooner, if desired. You may have your title examined by any one you may choose and pay the cash payment and sign the notes right here in our office after you have accepted the title.

We will leave next Saturday, November 28th, returning the next Thursday or Friday, and leave each Saturday thereafter. When you take this trip, you are our guests and will be treated royally and well entertained. We spend one day in San Antonio, that historic old City, showing you the Alamo, the old Spanish Missions and the greatest Aviation field in the world and many other sights worth seeing.

The only requirements are that you are able to buy land, if you should desire to do so after seeing the Valley. If the Valley does not sell itself to you, then that is our worry and not yours and you will be treated just as nicely as if you had bought. Remember that $25.00 paid us before leaving, furnishes you transportation from Winters and return; all meals, sleeper and all accommodations while being shown over the Valley. Come in and ask us about the Valley or trip. We will be glad to show you pictures of your future home. Make your reservation NOW!

SOCIETY

A Gay Pre-Nuptial Party For Miss Davidson

One of the loveliest social occasions of the week occurred at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert E. Low, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, when Mesdames E. Clements, Bert Low and Miss Loyle Kornegay were hostesses at a cleverly planned miscellaneous shower in compliment to Miss Bonnie Davidson, whose marriage to Mr. J. E. Childers is to take place Thursday.

The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated in pot plants, roses, chrysanthemums and autumn leaves artistically arranged to furnish a party gaiety.

When the guests had arrived the honoree was introduced and cards passed to each with the instructions to draw a picture of the bride ten years hence. Several guests showed wonderful ability as artists.

The gifts were hidden here and there and every where over the house and the bride-to-be was instructed to find one at a time.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented Miss Davidson, attesting the love and esteem in which she is held by the entire citizenship of Winters.

A pretty leather bound "Bride's Book" was completely filled with favorite recipes.

The color scheme of pink and white was reflected in the dainty refreshments of Bavarian cream and angel food cake served.

Those included in the guest list were: Mesdames D. E. Bartlett, Hal F. Smith, Alex Orr, Lyle Deffenbaugh, S. E. Hunt, W. E. Hickman, R. T. Thornton, H. H. Stephens, Walter Gardner, Joe Baker, W. W. Nance, T. V. Jennings, J. W. Dixon, Jas. W. Smith, W. I. Dunn, C. Kornegay, Floy Bell, A. H. Smith, J. M. Skaggs, Geo. C. Hill, J. W. Patterson, E. Clements, Misses Peggy Bartlett, Laura Kilgore, Mitchell, Carrie Flynt, Eunice Polk, Lela Mae Lloyd, Iva Modest, Josephine Pumphrey, Laura Coupland, Bonnie Davidson, and Loyle Kornegay.

Mrs. E. A. Shepperd and Miss Gladys Oliver Entertain Literary and Service Club

A most delightful party was given on Thursday afternoon, November 19th, at the home of Mrs. E. A. Shepperd.

The reception rooms were artistically decorated in autumn leaves and chrysanthemums.

The ever popular game of "Forty-two" was the diversion.

The score pads were very unique, the covers being made of a large hand-painted chrysanthemum with score cards to match.

After several games were completed an unusual refreshment plate was served, consisting of chicken, a king, frozen salad, pepper relish, cheese crackers and hot tea, a second course of angel parfait, and lady fingers.

In addition to the regular members, the invited guests were, Mrs. Wallace Oliver, Mrs. H. W. Lynn, Mrs. Hollis Graham and Miss Margaret Terry of San Antonio.

Miss Oliver and Mrs. Shepperd proved to be adept hostesses and made each guest feel a true ring of hospitality.

Mrs. T. V. Jennings Hostess At Dinner Party

On last Friday at her beautiful home on South Frisco Ave., Mrs. T. V. Jennings was hostess at a surprise dinner party given in honor of the birthday of Mr. Robertson.

Roses and chrysanthemums gave the floral adornment to the pretty reception rooms and the dining room was especially attractive. The table with its silver appointments and silver candlesticks and a lovely birthday cake in the center presented a pleasing picture. A delicious four course dinner was served.

After dinner tables were arranged and series of "42" games were enjoyed.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Jennings were: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith, Misses Willie Carter and Carrie Flynt, Dwight Mitchell, J. D. Robertson, Dr. Jennings and Mrs. Patterson and the honoree, C. R. Robertson.

The Methodist W. M. S. Enjoy Program

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church met Monday afternoon at the church at the regular hour. Mrs. Pace, chairman of the program committee, presided.

Mrs. T. B. Young conducted the devotional. The scripture reading was a call for more thorough consecration and more willing service to the Master.

A story of "Dorothy Wrong's Bracelet" by Mrs. Preston, "A Message from a New American," by Mrs. Mathews, a reading "The Drug Store Saloon," by Mrs. Walter Neely and "The World's Sisterhood of America" by Mrs. Strother were very in-

Mrs. J. M. Pyburn Hostess To Diversity Club

The Diversity club members had the pleasure of having Mrs. J. M. Pyburn as hostess in her beautiful new home last Friday afternoon.

The lovely reception rooms were adorned with ferns, roses and chrysanthemums, especially admired by the guests, as they were grown by the hostess and would make a show in any collection of rare blooms.

The meeting was called to order by the president and several business matters were discussed. Mrs. J. E. Farrow was elected to membership.

Mrs. C. S. Jackson was program leader for the meeting and roll call was answered by stating "What Thanksgiving Means to Me." Mrs. H. W. Robinson gave a very interesting paper on "The First Thanksgiving."

Mrs. Pyburn was assisted by Mrs. H. W. Lynn in serving a dainty refreshment plate of asparagus salad, cheese croquettes, hot rolls, tea and date kisses using a Thanksgiving motif as plate favor to the regular members and invited guest, Mrs. Jno. Q. McAdams.

President Mrs. Johnson led the devotional, prayer was led by Mrs. Smith, both being inspirational and helpful to all present.

The president gave us some interesting and instructive ideas as to how we might act as a big sister or brother to someone whom we might think needed some encouragement and help in any way to straighten their spiritual lives.

Each chairman of the executive committee was present, and gave a most favorable report. However, finding room for much improvement.

TOM'S COMEDIANS NEXT WEEK

Perhaps the greatest treat the show going people of Winters and vicinity will have this season is the coming of Tom's Comedians who will open a week engagement in Winters on Monday night, November 30th in their big new tent theatre. This company needs no introduction to the people of Winters, having shown here before, but they come back this time bigger and better than ever with a new $5,000 tent, the finest that was ever built for a tent theatre—the plays are all new and the big time vaudeville between the acts is the best money can buy—the big tent is well heated so don't let the weather interfere with your weeks amusement. Owing to the restriction of tents within the fire limits, the big tent will be located on the railroad right of way, opposite the depot. Don't forget the date.

Great Cast With Dix In "The Lucky Devil"

Every person in the supporting cast of Richard Dix's newest starring picture for Paramount, "The Lucky Devil," a Frank Tuttle production, which will be shown at the Queen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, November 27 and 28.

"The Lucky Devil" is an original screen story by Byron Morgan, who wrote "The Air Mail" and all the automobile stories which starred Wallace Reid. Esther Ralston (the mother in "Peter Pan") plays opposite the star.

Dix, "the luck devil," is a fellow who is not always so darned lucky. The picture shows him as a demonstrator of auto camping outfits. He wins a flashy speedster at a charity bazaar and starts out on a cross country tour.

The story follows him in his adventures. How he meets the girl, falls in love with her and trails her for days till he wins her. It also shows him staying two rounds with a "pug" at a fair and winning two hundred dollars which he uses to enter his machine in a $10,000 road race, said to be the fastest moving series of scenes the screen has ever seen.

We see that the mummy of King Tut-ankh-Amen has been examined under the X-rays. Well, this brings the ancient Pharaoh completely down to date.

Now that the Roosevelt boys have bagged the elusive ovis polii, what is there left for the world to worry about?

Cheer up! In a few days the edition of the Ladies' Birthday Album will be available at the drug store.

The Parent-Teacher Association met November 10, with the president in charge. The meeting was opened by prayer by Mrs. Jennings, followed by reading and approving of the minutes.

Mrs. Dixon who had been elected as delegate to attend the Texas Congress of Mothers and P. T. A. at El Paso, reported an impossibility to attend. A motion carried that no delegate be sent, and the money which was to have been used for that purpose be spent for equipment for the school. A motion carried that the P. T. A. buy a pair of Red Cross Scales for the school, and a slide for the playground, for which Supt. Smith had made a request.

In a report from the treasury, Mr. Robertson stated that expenses had been paid, and money cleared on the first Lyceum number. Lavera Neely won first prize in selling season tickets to the Lyceum, having sold about $175 worth.

Reports from the membership and financial chairman were given. Mrs. Lambreth reported 147 members to the P. T. A. Mrs. Gaston, financial chairman, explained a proposition that was made to the P. T. A. which was that of the Sun Set Coffee. Sun Set Coffee can be bought at several of the grocery stores in Winters and all who use it are requested to turn their coupons over to the P. T. A. or leave them at the stores for the P. T. A.

Winters Girl Wins High Honors at Tarleton

Miss Evelyn Floyd of Winters has recently been elected Sponsor of Company A of the Tarleton cadet corps. This is an honor that any girl should be proud to receive, for it implies that the girl is a good all-round student and very popular among her fellow students.

Miss Floyd is very popular with everyone. Last year she was elected the most popular girl in the junior class, and her election as company sponsor implies that her popularity has not declined this year.

Besides being company sponsor, Miss Floyd is kodak editor of the Grassburn—the college annual. Yet with all her other activities she does not neglect her scholastic duties. She is a senior this year, and we regret very much that she will not be with us again next year.

Up and at it.

OLIVER HORSE AND PONY DISC PLOW

Oliver disc plows do good, clean plowing. They cut an even depth furrow and cover all weeds and trash. Even in the hardest soils these plows stick to the ground and cut a full width furrow.

The disc scrapers pulverize the furrow slice so that the plowed surface is in ideal condition for the next step in seed bed preparation. The strong, well braced frame of heavy flat bar steel gives sufficient rigidity and strength to withstand the twisting stresses to which a disc plow is subjected.

The Power That Lights Your Home Will Also Do Your Work

Westinghouse Farm LIGHT & POWER Plant

THE joy, comfort, and safety of electric light and power is almost indescribable. Washing, ironing, cleaning, sewing, cooking—besides cream separating, churning, grinding, etc., are a few of the chores electricity will do for you. Let us explain. No obligation.

U. S. GOVERNMENT ADOPTS WESTINGHOUSE Light and Power Plants

The following letter is explanatory, and shows that the Westinghouse is always selected for dependability:

Bittick Farm Lighting Co., State Distributor for Westinghouse Light and Power Plants, Taylor, Texas.

Dear Mr. Bittick: No doubt you will be interested in knowing that we have been successful in supplying to the U. S. Government, Department of Commerce, Bureau of Lighthouse Service, a total of 44 type E-63 Westinghouse units for use in lighthouses. These plants operate in parallel with 56 cell type WG-13 batteries.

These plants supply current for the powerful searchlights and the radio fog signal transmitters. You can readily realize the extreme importance and the absolute necessity of satisfactory operation of these plants at all times, as in times of extreme danger due to fogs and storms it is imperative than an unfailling current be available.

Westinghouse plants were selected by the U. S. Government after very rigid inspection and test and even after specifications had been issued specifying a competitor's 2 1-2 Kw. unit. Therefore, this selection speaks very highly for the high quality of construction and design and satisfactory operation of Westinghouse Light and Power Plants. These plants were installed in the following places in quantities mentioned:

- 3—Galveston Jetty Lighthouse, Galveston, Texas.
- 3—Canal Point, Florida.
- 3—San Francisco Harbor, San Francisco, Calif.
- 3—Gulfport Lighthouse, New Orleans, La.
- 2—Buffalo Lighthouse, Buffalo, N. Y.
- 3—Detroit River Lighthouse, Michigan.
- 3—Manitou Lighthouse, Michigan.
- 3—Devils Island Lighthouse, Wisconsin.
- 3—Cape Spences Lighthouse, Alaska.
- 3—Ketchikan Lighthouse, Alaska.
- 3—Grays Harbor Lighthouse, Washington.
- 3—Point Arguello Lighthouse, California
- 3—Los Angeles Harbor Lighthouse, Calif.

Yours very truly,

Chevrolet Doubling Instruction Schools

The service promotion department of the Chevrolet Motor Company, in its work of establishing throughout the nation a uniform standard of service for Chevrolet owners, is doubling the number of Chevrolet service instruction schools.

Before the first of the year it is expected that 20 of these schools will be in operation. Through their instruction of mechanics, foremen and proprietors of Chevrolet service stations the schools are assuring to every Chevrolet owner the highest degree of continued driving satisfaction.

J. P. Little, manager of parts and service for the Chevrolet Motor Company, has joined and co-ordinated the field force of his service promotion division, with the service schools. Formerly the two were operated independently. Now 75 men are engaged in the joint work of school instruction and service promotion.

Separate courses of one week each are given at the service schools for Chevrolet mechanics, service foremen and service station owners. The mechanics work under skilled instructors in model shops. Using precision equipment, they are shown the quickest and most efficient manner of doing all servicing operations. The course for service foremen is slightly more comprehensive, while that for service station owners goes into such details as shop layouts, service department administration, maintenance of parts stocks, the flat rate system, accountant keeping, etc.

"The service schools and the service department work hand in hand," said Mr. Little. "A dealer, having seen a model Chevrolet shop in operation at the school, usually is already 'sold' when a service promotion representative later visits him and suggests that he rearrange his service department in accordance with one of the several Chevrolet model plans and install the latest specially designed Chevrolet precision tools. He knows that the move will reduce his costs and increase his business."

"If a dealer wants a model service department, the service promotion representative directs the work without charge and remains until it is installed and in satisfactory operation. So many dealers have entered requests for the model service stations that the department is several weeks behind in the work of installation."

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Jordan and daughter, Ora Louise and Miss Iva Jordan spent the past week-end in Sweetwater.

This is the season of the year when the unloaded gun is taking its annual toll.

Winters Teachers Are Attending State Convention

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 17.—Every county in Texas will have representatives at the Texas State Teachers Association convention in Dallas, November 26, 27 and 28. Brooks, Caldwell, Cherokee, Kleburg, Rockwall and Trinity counties have enrolled every teacher in the association. One hundred per cent enrollment is reported in one or more schools in 105 counties.

Railroad identification certificates have been issued to more than 9,500 teachers, the greater part of whom live at a considerable distance from Dallas. Railroads have granted the lowest rate in the history of the association, changing one and one-fifth fares for the round trip. Hundreds will go by automobile from nearby counties.

Lee Clark, president of the association, has planned a notable program. Meetings of groups for study of classroom problems will be a feature of the convention. Nationally recognized educators will be the principal speakers and will lead conferences. Colleges will hold reunions and organizations will have banquets.

A number of our teachers are attending the meeting referred to. We are 100 per cent in membership.

General Motors New Car to Come Out in January

Some indication of the price trend of automobiles during 1926 will be given early in January when the new Six-cylinder automobile to be introduced by the General Motors Corporation, as a comparison to the Oakland Six will be formally announced.

It is rumored that this will be the lowest priced six-cylinder car in the General Motors line. This is especially magnificent as it is to be built of the usual high-quality standards of all General Motors cars and of addition to and as comparison to the Oakland Six.

Officials of the company who are responsible for the production of the new General Motors automobile decline to say what the price range will be. They do say, however, that it will be such as to have a nationwide appeal indicating that the new car will be noteworthy of its quality, its size and its price.

Harold Lloyd In "The Freshman"

From the standpoint of effort and money expended "The Freshman" is Harold Lloyd's most ambitious feature. From the standpoint of laughs—well, the Queen Theatre will offer opportunity to make that discovery soon, when it will start and indefinite engagement.

The largest interiors Harold Lloyd has ever used were built for "The Freshman," and a large cast was required to put over its story, which was built to Lloyd's dramatic and comic dimensions by four highly trained and specialized comedy writers, namely; Sam Taylor, John Grey, Ted Wilde and Tim Whelan, and directed by Sam Taylor and Fred Newmeyer.

As the title indicates, "The Freshman" is a story of college life, and especially of those days during the college term when students' thoughts turn more lightly to the gridiron than the school room grind. The mammoth stadium of the University of California at Berkeley, jammed to the rim, with eighty thousand football fans, was the scene of the football scenes in "The Freshman"—scenes that are said to be as thrilling as the most exciting football game ever played, at the same time containing some of the biggest laughs Lloyd ever evoked, while the tears of pathos lurk near, for "The Freshman" is that rare thing in entertainment—a comedy in which the pathetic is always near the surface, and when the laugh is in sympathy rather than in derision.

The cast in support of Lloyd in "the Freshman" is topped by the ever charming Jobyna Ralston, who plays the part of a young girl who helps her mother run a college boarding house and, in her idle moments, is check room girl at the college town's leading hotel. Brooks Benedict plays the college cad and bully, James Anderson is the college hero and the Freshman aims to supplant in the bid for popularity, Hazel Keener is the college belle, Joseph Harrington the tailor whose fits of dizziness cause Harold lots of trouble, and Pat Harmon is the football coach. Hundreds of extras were required throughout the picture to portray that most important college atmosphere, "the student body."

"Pep the latest sport-model Freshman with the old-fashioned trimmings," observed an upper-class bully when Harold Lamb got off the train wearing a white turtle-neck sweater and loaded down with golf clubs, tennis racket, ukuleles and what not. "Let's ride him!"

And from that minute forth the life of the freshie who would the college hero be was a mad, merry whirl, as will be seen soon at the Queen Theatre

Miss Opal Cade Making Good at College Under Difficult Circumstances

WHEN IT WAS TOO WET TO PLOW—OPAL SAWED WOOD

OPAL CADE, WHO DISCARDED OVERALLS FOR A DRESS WHEN SHE ENTERED BAYLOR COLLEGE FOR WOMEN LAST FALL.

THE SMILE THAT DISHWASHING CANNOT WASH OFF

(By Lois A. Raaz)

When Opal Cade entered Baylor College for Women, Belton, Texas, last August, she discarded overalls for a dress for the first time in four years. For this length of time Opal has been the main bread-winner of a family of five children, a mother, and an invalid father. How this curly-haired, smiling girl wrested a living from seventy acres of stumped, gully-washed land and finally, defying prejudice, poverty and pride, entered College with nothing but her dauntless spirit to back her up, makes a story which has started all Texas talking.

Ten years ago Opal Cade's father, a Texas carpenter-contractor, suffered a serious physical breakdown. The four children, Opal, Mabel, Houston, and Felder, were all young. It seems that from the very start Opal was destined to be the mainstay of her family. Mrs. Cade was anxious that her children go to school, but when Opal was twelve it seemed that she could be spared no longer, so she went to work in the fields.

When Opal was thirteen her sister Hildy was born. The baby was ill a great deal and what little time the mother had now had to be devoted to Hildy, and the housework and the farmwork came to rest more and more upon Opal.

As Opal grew older, and learned to cope with the problems of life, the family came to lean upon her. The winter of 1918, when Mr. Cade's hip was broken and he was forced to lie helpless in plaster cast for several months, was a hard one for the family. The house in which they lived was none too comfortable. Often times the larder was almost empty, but by borrowing a little money from a friend the family managed.

For two years the living for the family was made by Opal and the boys who picked and chopped cotton for money to buy the necessities of life.

When Opal was only fourteen she undertook the cultivation of a whole seventy acre farm. Her father helped her as best he could, told her when to plant and what to plant, but Opal bore the brunt of the burden. The land was poor and full of stumps and gulleys. With one team of old, slow horses this dauntless slip of a girl flat-broke the whole seventy acres, planted it in corn and cotton, and that fall she and her brother picked six and one-half bales of their own cotton that she had planted, chopped and plowed, and picked seventeen bales for others—twenty-three and one-half bales in all!

With the money made that year Opal bought another team, an old cultivator, a single disc plow and prepared to farm in earnest. She planted seventy acres in cotton, forty in corn, ten in maize and cane, and made twelve bales of cotton and 600 bushels of corn. She hired the corn gathered, picking cotton for others to pay for the work that she herself could not do.

That was three years ago. Opal is now eighteen, and a student in Baylor Academy. Her entrance upon her life as a student was as dramatic as her experiences on the farm. Friends had told her that at Baylor College for Women, Belton, any girl with pluck and determination could win an education, even though without money.

"Then, that's where I am going," she said. Last August she appeared on the campus, announced unblushingly that she did not have enough money to buy a railroad ticket back home, only fifteen miles away, and put in her bid for the first job that presented itself. "When I left home for Baylor College I put on a dress for the first time in four years, with the exception of Sundays when I went to church," she said, "but now somebody must lend me an apron." She got the job. She got the apron.

"I have always wanted to go to school," she said recently. "Even when I was a little girl I used to cry because I couldn't go to public schools. How could I go to school when I had to put in every possible minute making a living for the family? Even in the winter time when it was wet and I could not plow, I sharpened my ax and went into the mountains and cut wood.

"Last Christmas I went to Nacogdoches to work in a candy factory. I wanted to get away from the farm for awhile. I did everything in that candy factory from shelling peanuts in the back to waiting on the trade in the front, but I wasn't satisfied. "I came home, and in a little while went to work for a friend of mine, the former Miss Kate Pledger, who is now Mrs. Ed. Norman, of Tyler. She is a Baylor girl and she persuaded me to come here."

It actually sounds as though the trick were easy to hear Opal tell it, and perhaps it was for her, schooled in facing tremendous odds since she was a little girl, but even in Baylor College where there are many girls who are earning a large part of their expenses, her case is regarded as to the last degree remarkable.

When Opal Cade came and explained her ambitions to the college authorities she was told that every place had been filled. Pausing long enough to thank the hostess for her courtesy, she hastened to Mrs. Ella Y. Ely, one of the committee in charge of the Cottage Home System. To Mrs. Ely she poured out her whole story.

Mrs. Ely gave her work between terms and told her to work hard and maybe something would turn up.

Opal did as she was bidden; did it was a vengeance.

Something did turn up. Mrs. Ely gave Opal a six-hour sweeping duty for the five weeks term, but she could not promise anything after that.

"Well, I am going to stay in Baylor College if I have to sleep on a bench," Opal told Mrs. Ely and went to work with a will.

At the end of the five-week term Opal was told that she would not be need any more. Mrs. Ely sent her to the house of a friend in Belton. Her spirits were at the lowest ebb and she was preparing to make the best of the situation when she received a message from the placement hostess to come to her office.

"One of the girls who was to wait tables in the Luther Hall dining room has found that she cannot come," the hostess said. "It is a six hour a day duty, two every morning, two at noon, and two at night. Do you want it?"

"Did I?" said Opal later with a smile. "Why, I wanted it so much I almost hugged the hostess. And now I am the happiest girl in Baylor College. Even with six hours a day to work besides my studies I have more time for recreation than I did back on the farm. For three years I saw only one picture show. I have not seen more than a dozen picture shows in my life.

"The only recreation I had was on Sundays, when my brothers and I walked two miles to church and Sunday school. When there was a meeting I walked that distance every night after coming in from the field. My oldest brother, Houston, is a preacher, one of the youngest in Texas, I guess. He was licensed when he was thirteen."

Opal is a familiar figure in the dining room now. She wears the same smile she must have worn when her corn was in tassel and everything was going well at the farm. Her fame as a good waitress and cheer-disseminator is constantly spreading.

She is particularly interested in mathematics, and her grades in this subject are exceptionally good, but she is taking everything required of one who expects to eventually receive the B. A. degree.

"I am going to have that degree some day," she will tell you smilingly, confidently. "I am going to do more than that. I am going to put my little sister through college, too."

Oscar Adami and family of Tahoka came in Monday to be with their father, F. C. Adami who is in the local sanitarium, suffering from painful injuries received last Saturday when he was run into by a car.

BILIOUSNESS

Retired Minister Tells How He Keeps in Good Form With the Assistance of Black-Draught.

West Graham, Va.—The Rev. Lewis Evans, a well-known retired minister, now past 80, living here, has a high opinion of Black-Draught, which he says he has taken when needed, for 25 years. "For years I had been suffering with my liver," he says. "Sometimes the pain would be very intense and my back would hurt all the time. Black-Draught was the first thing I found that would give me any relief."

"My liver has always been sluggish. Sometimes it gives me a lot of trouble. I have suffered a lot with it—pains in my side and back, and bad headache, caused from extreme biliousness.

"After I found Black-Draught, I would begin to take it as soon as I felt a spell coming on and it relieved the cause at once. I can recommend it to anybody suffering from liver trouble. A dose or two now and then keeps me in good form."

Made from selected medicinal roots and herbs, and containing no dangerous mineral drugs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for a tired, lazy liver. NC-166

Case is Stopped By Injunction

The case of the State of Texas vs. J. H. Craig, charged with practicing medicine without a license, was called off in county court at Ballinger Monday when a phone call from Dallas announced that an injunction was in the mails for the prosecuting attorney. Thereupon County Judge Paul Trimmier instructed the jury to return home and await a further summons and to not discuss the case with anyone until released from jury service. The presiding judge then set Wednesday, December 2nd, for hearing of this case provided the matter is not still tied up in the courts.

and six jurors were accepted by both sides and the defense and prosecution after calling the roll of their witnesses both announced ready for trial. Just as evidence was about to be introduced a phone call from Dallas announced that an injunction was in the mails for the prosecuting attorney. Thereupon County Judge Paul Trimmier instructed the jury to return home and await a further summons and to not discuss the case with anyone until released from jury service. The presiding judge then set Wednesday, December 2nd, for hearing of this case provided the matter is not still tied up in the courts.

county and district attorneys from prosecuting cases against chiropractors. Hearing on the injunction was set for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week before Federal Judge James C. Wilson in Fort Worth. If the federal court dissolves the temporary injunction the cases in this country against chiropractors will go ahead without further delay on the dates set, but in case the injunction is made permanent the cases will be tied up until the supreme court passes on the question.
