ARMISTICE SERVICE TO BE HELD AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Armistice Day

Nine years ago on November 11, in those wee, weird hours that precede the dawn, sleepy copy chiefs in hundreds of American newspaper offices leaped into wakefulness as the clattering instruments flashed upon a war-sick world the news that Peace was at hand.

Plain, terse and simple in its verbiage, the paragraphs that fell from the buzzing Morses in the moments that followed, wrote one of the most momentous and eventful chapters in the annals of time.

The State Department's announcement simply said: "The Armistice has been signed."

It was a graphic story that greeted a waking world on November 11, 1918.

Armistice Day should have more sparkle and more significance this year than at any time in the last nine years. The boys have come back from the great Paris convention, with the exaltation that immense gathering and parade must have given them. The thoughts of the people this year will be closer than ever to what they were on that Armistice day of 1918, when the boys had mostly come home. And there will not be so many broken hearts as then, for time has done eight years of healing in the interim.

The man who yields up his life or follows his country's flag is worthy of the laurel wreath and the shouts of the multitude. So let us one and all bestow honor where honor is due, hoping and praying that never again will it become necessary for this country to take up arms.

"The Finest Monument"

Armistice Day services will be held at the First Baptist church tomorrow, from ten to eleven o'clock a. m. As has been the custom in the past, we understand that practically all business houses of the city will be closed throughout the day. The entire citizenship is cordially invited and urged to attend this service, at which the following program will be rendered:

Dr. LeGear May Visit Here in Jan.

Several of our citizens went to Bradshaw yesterday to hear Dr. L. D. LeGear, noted poultry expert, in the afternoon. Dr. LeGear is making a tour of Texas, holding clinics and delivering addresses on the care and development of poultry. His address at Bradshaw was principally upon points relative to making the "Farm Flock Pay."

In speaking of the possibilities, it was indicated that Texas had only made a beginning of what may be a real poultry state. Dr. LeGear said that in a small town in California which he had visited last summer he found that the industry was poultry, and that according to the population this was the richest town per capita in the United States. He said that poultry did it. The poultry industry according to Dr. LeGear is now offering the greatest opportunity for profit on a small investment than any other possible undertaking. He said that this country was well adapted to poultry raising for the reason that the drainage, soil and climate are all favorable.

Quite a number of chickens were brought to the building and Dr. LeGear gave a very interesting lecture on poultry care—dissecting the various specimens and explaining the troubles in each case. He also held an open discussion and answered questions, not only on poultry, but other stock. He indicated that he would be in Winters in January and would visit a number of farms and deliver a lecture and hold clinics for the benefit of the people.

The poultry industry is one of our biggest assets and we should use every opportunity to develop and increase the interest, for the "chicken" is a producer every month in the year, if properly cared for, and will mean more to this community than probably any other phase of our farm activity.

Thanksgiving Service

Announcement is made that the union Thanksgiving service will be held at the Presbyterian church on Thursday, November 24th. A special program is being arranged for this service which will appear in next week's paper.

Police Control Crowds at Sale

The real merits of Enterprise advertising has been demonstrated a number of times, but never more fully than at the Krauss Dry Goods sale last Saturday—the opening day of the firm's Merchandise Selling Campaign. It was the first sale, to our knowledge, ever held in Winters that the aid of the police was sought to control the huge crowds, that overran the store. Yes, sir, Chief Neal's presence was requested—and he was on hand, and in a measure kept the crowds somewhat orderly.

Advertising has been associated with the selling of merchandise for more than two centuries, and yet there are some who take the stand that it is something new and experimental, and even contend that no results are forthcoming from the printed word in newspaper advertising. True, there are different kinds of advertisers, but sound, truthful advertising—where bargains are listed as bargains—bring home the bacon every time. The other kind fails—and it should. Krauss Dry Goods sale is but one more proof that advertising in the columns of The Enterprise reaches the people and gets results.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Skaggs spent the first of the week in San Antonio.

Miss Ouida Pentecost visited with friends in Ballinger the past week end.

Blizzards Beat San Angelo 14 to 6 In Thrilling Game

Thrilling is right! For the game last Friday between the Blizzards and San Angelo was just that. An alleged second string team from the Tom Green capital, with just enough of the first string where the battle was thickest, gave Winters one of its hardest tussles to date, and the fans a real run for their money.

Withholding a big reserve strength the Blizzards took advantage of several breaks and reached striking distance several times, but were unable to put over a counter. In the second quarter with the ball on Angelo's thirty yard line, Coach Smith hustled in the reserve, and in two or three plays the ball was over for the first counter, with Bedford doing most of the gaining. A perfect goal from placement make it seven for the Blizzards. Once again the Blizzards crossed the goal line and added the extra point. A freak play popped up about this time. Phillips, carrying the ball for Winters, bucked over but fumbled, the ball being recovered by an Angelo player. It was ruled a touchback, and the ball was placed on Winters' 20-yard line in Angelo's possession.

In the third quarter slow defensive work on the part of the Blizzards permitted the blocking of a punt, recovered by an Angelo end, who ran for a touchdown without interference. Try for goal failed.

In the last quarter an air attack by Angelo that looked bad was luckily stopped by the final gun.

To Donate 10 Per Cent of Sales to Poor for Christmas

Announcement is made in this issue of The Enterprise by Jno. G. Key & Sons that they are going to make it possible for old Santa Claus to visit all the children of this city on Christmas who might otherwise be overlooked. In studying over this proposition Mr. Key states he has hit upon the plan of giving 10 per cent of his gross cash sales from the 15th of this month until December 21st, to be used in bringing Christmas cheer to the children of Winters whom old Santa Claus sometimes overlooks.

The plan is to place a box under key at his retail filling station and out of every cash dollar or part thereof taken in during the specified time, ten per cent will be placed in the box, the key to which will be turned over to one of the pastors of the city who, the first week, will take out the money and turn the key over to another pastor of the city, thus one week being given to each church of the city during the five weeks before Christmas. The plan is for the churches of the city to appoint three women from each whose duty it will be to gather the names of the children of the city who Santa Claus might overlook, and use the money thus contributed to make this one of the biggest and happiest times of their lives.

This is a very liberal proposition Mr. Key is making and if the people of this section support the plan quite a sum of money will be available for the purpose of bringing Christmas cheer to the youngsters of the community who otherwise might be overlooked.

New Ford Will Exceed Seventy

(From the Dallas News)
 The new Ford has a speed of more than seventy miles an hour, can exceed fifty miles an hour in second gear and in appearance is a smaller edition of the Lincoln, says John E. Morris, Dallas dealer, who returned last week from Detroit, where he rode in the car and talked to Henry Ford about it.

Additional information on the new Ford was gleaned from Raymond Hatton, moving picture star, who flew to Dallas from Detroit last week in a Ford plane, by James L. Price, vice president of the John E. Morriss Co. The new Ford has a wheelbase of 104 inches, with body much lower and roomier, Mr. Morris reported. An average size man can almost look over the top of the car, which has flowing lines characteristic of the Lincoln and other large cars. Five wire wheels are said to be standard equipment, while the crown fenders are wider and heavier.

New Name Plate

The radiator is rounded and nickeled like a Lincoln and is decorated with a new name plate. Within a blue outlined circle is the white name "Ford" written in the familiar Ford script. A new design radiator cap is topped by a quail, which was chosen to symbolize the fast getaway of the new car. Nickeled bullet-type lamps are standard.

A variety of tones of gray, green, and blue, with some two-tones effects, is offered in the new Ford. Upholstery is marked by beauty and serviceability, said Mr. Morris.

The new motor is of a much faster type than the old, he declared. The

Brownwood Man Takes Over Local Dodge Agency

A. D. Jones, of Brownwood, arrived in the city the latter part of the past week and made arrangements for a display room in the City Garage on North Main street, where he is now showing a line of Dodge automobiles, having taken over the agency for this line of cars in the northern portion of Runnels county.

Mr. Jones says he is well pleased with Winters and its trade territory, and is making arrangements to move his family here to make his future home. He informed us that he had his choice of the southern or northern portion of the county, and selected the northern part, and that since arriving in the city he had already sold two cars and that he was sure he had made no mistake in selecting the northern portion of the county for the distribution of the famous Dodge line. Mr. Jones has an announcement elsewhere in this paper, to which we direct the attention of our readers.

MINISTERS ENDORSE MOVE TO CLOSE STORES SUNDAYS

We, the ministers of the respective churches of Winters, fully endorse the petition requesting the stores to close on Sundays. Signed: Hal F. Smith, Gid. J. Bryan, H. C. Wehmyer, and R. L. Colley.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gardner of Santa Anna spent the past week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gardner.

May the dove of peace ever reign over us, and may the tragedies of past days never again be thrust upon us.

All honor to those who have in any way brought about these peaceful happy days.

STANDARDIZATION OF COTTON

The agricultural committee of the American Bankers Association invited Mr. Charles H. Alvord, director of Extension Service of the A. & M. College of Texas, to appear before them at their meeting in Houston on October 28 for the purpose of discussing before the committee the subject of cotton grades and standards, and methods of marketing. Mr. Alvord is chairman of a statewide committee which has as its purpose the standardization of cotton by communities, and was in position to give the latest information on this subject to the committee representing the banking interests.

"The Extension Service of the A. and M. college," said Mr. Alvord, "has been for many years interested in the improvement of cotton, and has been instrumental, through the county agents, in introducing improved cotton seed on hundreds of thousands of acres of land in all parts of Texas. We have found, however, that the results of our work are practically futile so far as any increased price to the farmer is concerned on account of the present system of marketing, under which plan buyers insist on paying an average price for all the cotton produced in any community. We desire the assistance of the bankers and merchants," said Mr. Alvord, "in breaking up this system and encouraging the buyers to pay a premium for a good quality of cotton, and penalize the man who insists on producing a short cotton such as half-and-half or a similar type. We have interested the Buyers Association," continued Mr. Alvord, "and they have pledged to cooperate with us in effecting a change in the system of buying and paying for the cotton according to its length and its strength of fiber as well as its class with reference to middling basis. We know that the spinner pays a premium for a better staple cotton, and we want the man who grows this cotton to receive this premium. If they don't receive it, no one can blame them from growing short staple and if present conditions of marketing continues, Texas will continue to lose its prestige in the cotton markets of the world, and when once lost it will never be regained."

The purpose of the Cotton Standardization Committee, of which Mr. Alvord is chairman, is to assist the Extension Service and County Agents in helping the farmers to standardize their community on one type of cotton. This can be done where the gins will cooperate and devote their gin exclusively to the ginning of this kind of cotton, or devote certain days to the ginning of this cotton so that the seed will be kept pure, and the bales will all represent the same type of cotton.

After the cotton has been ginned, then the cooperation of the bankers is desired to see that the cotton is properly financed, until such time as it can be graded and stapled and sold on a basis of its quality. Mr. Alvord states that it is expected that these projects will be put on a county-wide basis in several counties in Texas next year.

NOT MONEY MAD

Henry Ford tells an interviewer that riches don't count. He intimates that money doesn't mean anything to him and that he has no expectation or desire to be known as the country's richest man. Having something to do is all that counts and that is all that concerns him. Henry Ford is one of the few men in the world who can afford to talk this way.

LAND, SEA AND AIR

To the accidents on the land and sea are added those in the air. Man has acquired another method of being killed. While people are in motion they are in danger, regardless of the mode of transportation. While they are still, there is also danger. There is no safety, for while life lasts it is ever threatened. Well to remember that. But that does not mean on with the dance, let joy be unconfined, because tomorrow may never dawn. It calls for precautions in order that life may be prolonged; thoughts so that it may be enriched; decent pleasures and conduct that it may be happy.

A WISE FARMER

It's a wise and thoughtful farmer who does not permit billboards and signs to deface property, says an exchange, but who preserves its natural beauty. His place is more attractive and will command a better sale price without this ugly advertising. The man on the road will more likely patronize the farmer with produce for sale if his place is neat and orderly

NO SAFETY ZONE

Take the country over there is some kind of traffic accident every 30 seconds. Somebody gets hurt or maybe sent to the hospital or morgue. There is no getting away from it and all safety suggestions are as naught. We are growing worse instead of better, and it is merely a question of whose turn it is next?

ONLY TWELVE

DOGWOOD COAL

—costs slightly more per ton, but much less per season. It is conceded to be the finest coal mined.

By turning on draft you can get a quick fire. By turning it off you can hold fire 24 hours.

With ordinary coal you must keep draft open to prevent fire going out, which wastes coal.

A DOGWOOD FIRE CAN BE REGULATED TO SUIT WEATHER CONDITIONS, materially reducing amount of coal used. Save the difference.

DOGWOOD COAL is not only economical, but you get real satisfaction in burning it. No soot, clinker or unpleasant odor. Very little smoke or ashes.

When you burn DOGWOOD COAL you eliminate damage caused your health and home from impurities in ordinary coal.

Cheap coal usually proves very expensive in the end. Dogwood is THE IDEAL HOUSEHOLD FUEL.

THOMAS DAVIS LAID TO REST AT ROSCOE

Mrs. J. W. Adams, who was called to the bedside of her father, Thomas Davis, at Loraine, Monday of last week, returned home Sunday night. Mr. Davis died Friday evening at 10:55, and was laid to rest at Roscoe Sunday afternoon.

There are some of our readers who will remember deceased as being one of the first settlers of the Baldwin community, and helped to build the first school house there. Besides his aged wife he leaves eight children, three sons and five daughters, all being present when the end came. They are Mrs. R. R. Richardson, of Frisco; Mrs. E. J. Evans, Whitney; Mrs. J. W. LITTLE THEATRE GROUP TO GIVE THREE 1-ACT PLAYS

Three one-act plays with the casts have been selected by the Little Theatre organization and definite arrangements have been made for their presentation at an early date.

The plays to be given are representative of different types. "What Would You Do?" is a two-character farce comedy. "Judge Lynch" is a heavy drama with four characters and is the play given by the Dallas Little Theatre, winning first place in the New York tournament, and "Suppressed Desires" is a clever comedy picturing human nature in a truly peculiar way, composed of three characters.

The leads in all the casts have previously proven their ability and the patrons of the Little Theatre have something to look forward to.

Building Quality into Used Cars

Unusual facilities for reconditioning automobiles make possible the high value found in our dependable used cars.

In the first place, we can tell exactly what needs to be done to a car without long and expensive experimenting. Our mechanics are thoroughly competent — and, working with special tools, they accomplish a given task in the minimum time. Furthermore, we use only genuine parts for replacement purposes.

As a result, our reconditioned cars simply cannot be matched for value.

The meeting convened Monday morning at the American Legion auditorium at Ballinger with Dr. J. W. Tottenham of Brownwood, president of the organization, in the chair.

Ballinger Ladies Entertain

At ten o'clock Monday morning a luncheon was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Douglas, honoring the wives of the visiting doctors, with the wives of the doctors and druggists, and a four-course luncheon.

The lovely home was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers and ferns, making a pretty setting for the seven tables, where chrysanthemum place cards marked places for the guests, and a four-course luncheon was served. Clever plate favors were pill boxes filled with jelly beans with the directions to take before and after meals.

A special feature of the entertainment was a very interesting program consisting of a solo by Mrs. Harry Thompson, a solo by Mrs. Alec McGregor, accompanied by Miss Maggie Underwood, and a reading by Miss Luck Bell Taylor.

Six tables were arranged for progressive forty-two with hand-painted autumn leaves score pads. Talley's were miniature ever night bags, and as the players progressed they were presented samples of toilet articles, medicines and drugs.

After a series of interesting games the guests visited the high school, and then assembled at Hotel Winters where a three-course luncheon was attractively served. A program of interest was rendered, consisting of a violin solo, by Miss Ethel Bob Montague; a reading by Miss Naomi Hunt; solo by Mrs. Ruth Ramsel, accompanied by Mrs. B. G. SOCIETY

Literary and Service Club Entertained Last Thursday

Members of the Literary and Service Club and guests were delightfully entertained on last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John McAdams, with Mrs. McAdams and Mrs. A. H. Smith as hostesses. Upon arriving a beautiful rose bud was presented to each guest by Mrs. Smith.

The autumn motif prevailed in the house decorations, graceful yellow chrysanthemums and LaFrance roses nodding from tall vases and baskets about the room; and the tally cards and score pads, used during a series of games of forty-two, also were reminders of the fall season.

At the close of the games, the hostesses were assisted by Misses Clara Nell McAdams and Margaret Nicholson in serving a delectable two-course menu, consisting of chicken salad with cheese straws, almond stuffed olives, dainty bread and butter sandwiches, and hot tea; and angel food cake with caramel ice cream. The following guests were present: Mesdames F. J. Brophy, Chas. Chapman, Marshall Chapman, L. R. Gaston, T. V. Jennings, L. E. Low, Harris Mullin, G. E. Nicholson, Luther Owens, Will Pace, J. H. Rhoden, E. A. Shepperd, J. M. Skaggs, J. Floyd Smith, R. T. Thornton, Jr., L. T. Smith, Geo. Hill, Carl Davis, J. W. Dixon, R. A. Cramer, C. S. Jackson, A. T. Lindley, Fred Tinkle, Frank Williams, W. Mesdames Dunn and Vanzandt Entertain Friendly Class

On Monday evening, Nov. 7th at 7:30, the Friendly Class of the Presbyterian Sunday School held its regular business and social meeting in its class room.

Much interest was manifested in the business session. At the close of this, the ladies were invited by Mesdames Dunn and Vanzandt into the dimly-lighted assembly room where they were greeted with groans by a row of white figures, which later proved to be their husbands. Much amusement was had in guessing who was who.

After the lights were turned on in full, the guests found they were in a beautifully decorated room with autumn leaves and vases and baskets of flowers.

Joyce Hensley gave a piano solo. Geraldine Gaston a reading. Both little ladies were received enthusiastically by those present. A contest followed.

Delicious refreshments of hot chocolate, wafers, chicken salad, potato chips, olives and angel food cake were served.

All this came as a complete surprise to the other members of the class due to the cleverness of the hostesses, Mesdames Dunn and Vanzandt. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames McAdams, Leonard Wilson, V. Vanzandt, R. T. Thornton, Jr., Jim Davidson, Wm. Clift, Hal F. Smith and Mesdames Clara Callan, W. R. Johnson, M. V. Davis, John Dry, W. R. Gannaway, T. D. Dunn and Hays.

Dorcas Class Holds Regular Monthly Social

At the home of Mrs. G. E. Nicholson the Dorcas class of the First Baptist Sunday school held their monthly social meeting with Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. D. B. Thornton as joint hostesses. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Thornton. When the business matters were disposed of a social hour followed. Games were played which caused a great deal of laughter. Miss Mary Helen Nicholson gave two readings which were very much enjoyed. The hostesses served sandwiches, cake and hot tea to the following: Mesdames J. B. Phelps, Elton Cooke, G. C. Davis, B. L. Mesdames Henslee and Davis Hostesses at Luncheon

Charm and detail marked the hospitality of Mesdames R. H. Henslee and Carl Davis on Tuesday of the past week when they were hostesses at a one o'clock luncheon, given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Henslee, entertaining the members of the Adversity Club and other guests.

Vases of roses and chrysanthemums of exquisite beauty were in graceful arrangement, lending their floral charm to the rooms where ten tables were laid with lovely Maderia linens with vases of chrysanthemums as center decorations. Pretty little Thanksgiving place cards marked the places for forty guests and a two-course luncheon was served, consisting of chicken a la King, fruit salad, creamed asparagus, cranberry sauce, stuffed celery, saratoga flakes, olives, individual pumpkin pies with whipped cream and coffee. Favors were turkey shaped cups filled with mints.

After the lunch hour the tables were arranged for a series of forty-two games which held the interest of the players for more than an hour.

At the conclusion of the games the hostesses served delicious punch.

The guest list included Mesdames A. L. Barlow, Frank Williams, Walter Bryan, T. D. Dunn, P. G. Garrett, W. W. McKissack, J. W. Dixon, J. W. Wetzel, H. Tompkins, W. P. Gardner, B. G. Dwens, R. C. LITTLE BILLY DENSON BURIED AT WILMETH

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tell Denson at Roscoe, Texas, at nine o'clock Saturday November 5th, and claimed their only child, little Billy Denson. Had he lived until November 12, he would have been six years of age.

The body was brought to Wilmeth where he had lived until about three years ago, when his parents moved to Roscoe.

Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ, conducted by Elder R. L. Colley of Winters, and the remains were tenderly laid to rest in the Wilmeth cemetery.

The entire community extends sympathy in this sorrow.

Bereaved ones, you cannot tell To what sweet dell The angels may have borne him. But this you know, he cannot go Where thy heart will fail to find him. Press on, then, to the City of God, Where all tears shall be wiped away. And mourning shall be turned into joy. A Friend.

NEW FORD WILL--

bore has been decreased slightly and the stroke lengthened, he said he had been informed. The engine easily develops thirty-five horsepower.

Crankshaft Counterbalancer
Use of counterbalancers and an increase in the number of bearings on the crankshaft, were said to have practically eliminated vibration. Mr. Morriss, who drove the car at a speed of from one to fifty-two miles an hour, declared that at no speed was there any vibration noticeable.

Four-wheel mechanical brakes are standard equipment, with an emergency brake at the left side of the driver's seat. The gear shift is standard and the steering gear has been changed to the indirect type. Mr. Morriss was given a demonstration in sand, through which the car was steered with one hand. Cooling is by water pump and ignition by storage battery, as on most standard cars the magneto having been discontinued. Gasoline feed is by gravity.

Change of drive from torque rod to tubular shaft was reported by Mr. Morris. The rear axle was said to be semi-floating. He did not have an opportunity to inspect the type of springs used on the new car.

New Kind of Horn

Two bumpers are standard equipment on the cars. A speedometer, oil gauge and ammeter were said to be members of the dash assembly, while a foot feed and a motor driven horn are standard equipment. Locks were found on some of the cars, although not known whether they will be regular equipment.

Raymond Hatton, movie star, who came to Dallas from Detroit last week, was given one of the new Fords to test as he pleased at the Ford Motor Company testing ground. He drove the car sixty-eight miles an hour, and reported to H. M. Bruton, of the Dallas assembly plant of the Ford company that the car could have easily made seventy miles. He made fifty-one miles an hour in second gear. After driving it over the roughest roads he could find and trying it as severely as he could, he gave an order for two new Fords to replace his present cars.

Samples of the new car are expected in Dallas this month. The price will be practically the same as for the old models, Mr. Morriss reported.

Unusual production as soon as the Ford factories are really started turning out the new car is expected. The departments of the factories have been rearranged for a greater efficiency and the output is due to be unprecedented, said Mr. Morriss.

Let's Solve the House Problem

Last week a traveling man and his wife came to Winters with the view of locating here. They were shown a number of prospective homes, and after looking at a certain house the lady remarked to her husband: "Did you notice the arrangement made for lighting?" There was not a convenient outlet in any room and only one light controlled by a switch. She said she would have to detach a light globe in order to make toast, iron or operate a sweeper. She further said that if this house was the best the town had to offer they would have to locate elsewhere.

These people had the money to pay the price for these conveniences, provided they could have found one. This lady was accustomed to a convenient electrical outlet in each room, as well as two or three way switches to control the lighting system. Can you blame her for not being satisfied with a lamp cord dangling from the center of the room? This goes to prove people are no longer satisfied with inadequate lighting, than they would be with just half enough water. We are doing everything in our power to get these homes wired properly while under construction. At the same time if your home is not properly lighted it can be easily done with little expense and this will pay you bigger dividends on the investment than any other item put into the house. Show us a home properly illuminated and we will show you one occupied.—West Texas Utilities Co.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our thanks to the many friends in this county and at Big Spring for their kind ministrations and tender sympathy during the illness and at the death of our dear father, A. W. Nix. Especially do we appreciate the beautiful floral offering. Such kindness helped in a measure to assuage our grief and will ever be cherished by his children.—Julius W. Nix, Mrs. Ora Daniel, Addison W. Nix, Geneva McCuiston, and Gordon Nix.

Bringing Old Santa to the Children

From the 15th of November until December 21st, we are going to give

10 Per Cent of Our Cash Sales

—to be used in bringing Christmas cheer to the children of Winters who might otherwise be overlooked. This proposition applies to all cash sales of Gas, Lub Oil, Tires, Tubes and Accessories.

The money derived from this plan will be expended by a committee of ladies selected from the different churches of the city.

You Can't Get This Man's Number

It would be pretty hard to "get the number" of Albert H. Libby, a farmer of near Forestville N. Y., because he has nine tons of them. Recently he purchased the unused plates from the county license bureaus and is using them as weather-boarding.

WHAT'S DOING

In West Texas

Stinnett—A big free barbecue, which will be attended by U. S. Senator Earle B. Mayfield and other men of prominence will celebrate the arrival of the Rock Island railroad into Stinnett here November 15th. This road is now being built from Amarillo to Liberal, Kansas; rails reached the city limits of Stinnett on October 23. All towns and communities in the North Panhandle will send delegates. Excursions are already being arranged by Amarillo and Liberal, Kansas.

Burkburnett—Formal opening of the new Inter-State free bridge over the Red river, between Texas and Oklahoma, was celebrated here Nov. 5th. Officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce participated in the affair. The bridge was erected at a cost of $380,000.

Thalia—This Foard county town has joined the ranks of affiliated West Texas Chamber of Commerce towns. Substantial memberships were subscribed on a recent visit of the regional organization's field man, who was accompanied by Mac Boswell of the Crowell chamber of commerce.

Shallowater—This farming community of some 250 people claims the ginning record for the plains country this season. One thousand four hundred bales have been ginned here, more than any other town on the plains. Affiliation was made recently with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Pampa—Work on the proposed railway from Pampa to Cheyenne, Okla., is expected to start early in 1928. The line was offered thru a proposal made by Frank Kell, Wichita Falls capitalist and president of the Clinton & Oklahoma Western railroad.

Memphis—Business interests of Memphis, Childress, Quanah and Chillicothe have employed an expert to conduct rural organization work in Hall, Hardeman and Childress counties, with special stress on dairying.

Hamlin—Hamlin now has four rural mail routes, which cover an area of 228.59 miles.

Weatherford—The local feed manufacturing mill here is having a record business. Demand for corn has been so great that earloads have been ordered from northeast Texas. The mill grinds corn and grains into feed for cattle feeders, dairymen, and poultry raisers of the section.

Ovalo—A harmonica band has been organized here and will feature community entertainment programs.

Bradshaw—Farmers from this territory, including those from Lawn, Ovalo, Oak Lawn, Guion, Moro, Cedar Gap, Cedar Creek, Iberis, and other communities south of Abilene, were given opportunity to attend a terracing school at Tuscola the first week of November. The school was conducted by J. R. Masterson, Taylor county agent. A similar meeting was held in Merkel at an earlier date.

Quanah—This city was the scene of one of the most unique celebrations ever held in this section on November 4th and 5th, when a tribe of Comanche Indians came from their Oklahoma reservation to re-bless Quanah which was named in honor of their chief's father, Quanah Parker. President R. W. Haynie of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was initiated into the tribe and made a white chief. Manager Homer D. Wade and Publicity Manager E. H. Whitehead were also in attendance at the Harvest Moon fete.

E. W. Patterson and family, after a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Woodfin, of the Pumphrey community, returned to their home at Plainview last Monday. Before leaving, Mr. Patterson called at this office to place an advertisement in the classified column, relative to some land on the Plains which he is offering for sale.

NEW METHOD "Dissolves Dandruff"

Science gives us new facts every day. A chemist has found a solution to dissolve the scurf and scales of dandruff. His instructions are: Apply RID-O-DANDER each night and massage scalp well with finger tips. Apply RID-O-DANDER just before shampooing. Then apply RID-O-DANDER after shampooing to kill germs. The first application stops the itching, a few applications will stop your falling hair. This remedy never fails. Secure it at your druggist, or

STAGG AND JONES AREN'T SO "THROUGH" AS COACHES AS THE WISEACRES PROPHESED—THE HAGEN-JONES ARGUMENT

BY PHILIP MARTIN

NO matter what else happens during the remaining half of the current, not to mention turbulent, football season two well-beloved gents are sitting pretty.

A football coach is considered to be sitting pretty when he has knocked off a couple of unexpected victories and brought the fan climax to a glorious close.

We are referring to Alonzo Stagg at Chicago and Tad Jones at Yale.

Both men heard a lot of nasty cracks passed at their shell-pink ears early in autumn. Especially after Oklahoma came to the Windy City and bumped over the Maroons and Georgia came to New Haven and made the Blue feel that way.

STAGG was kicked around something scandalously and Tad Jones was forced to "resign" one year in advance in order for the critics to be certain he'd be out when the doomed season ended.

Then came the Brown game, the Army game and the Dartmouth game. Wham, wham, wham. Tad's boys knocked 'em over just like that. Beating Brown! Well, thought the critics, that's pretty darn classy that is. Then the Army! Whoe, three cheers and some nice bouquets for Mr. Jones. Dartmouth—undefeated, strong, odds on favorite romped into town. Nineteen to nothing! That floored everybody. Fire Mr. Jones? Hummm. Just TRY IT.

THE same holds good for old Dr. Stagg. Oklahoma put over a victory. How or why nobody since has been able to figure out. Just one of those Saturdays when the gang fall to "click." But when Purdue marched into town, all chesty over a Harvard victory it was just too much to expect anything but a rout.

The Stagg corpse just simply refuses to be laid. Penn was very niftily taken care of and Ohio State won on a 50-yard pass and a one-point margin.

Yes, siree, you can take a tip from yours truly—all things being equal and events taking a natural course you're going to see an aged gent named Stagg and another crafty old boy named Jones back on the old payroll again next September.

And somehow we, and a couple thousand other friends of the two old codgers, are tickled silly.

WHAT is the toughest job on a football team? Chick Mehan, the Knute

Rockne of the east, Joe Schwarzer, All-America and quite a nifty coach himself, Frank Revolt, Bill Workman, "Buzz" McAdam, Dan Divodi, Dale Beronius, Buck Markey and Jimmy Reilly, a few gentlemen who really know their grid onens, were discussing that in a fan fest. They all agreed on the quarterback.

"Not because he takes the most punishment," summed up Mehan, "because all men share that. He's only a 26-year-old kid and he usually has to take all the abuse for the defeat."

PROMOTERS are smoking up a winter match between Hagen and Jones. And the funny part of it all is, most of the pill slugs this writer has talked to are willing to bet dough AGAINST the Atlanta wizard.

Either way, with Jones' English and recent American triumphs behind him it will be a great attraction to liven up the southern winter golf season.

HOCKEY practice adds into the wire news these days. And if you don't think the ice sport has a following you're crazy. Even Dallas, Fort Worth, San Francisco, Kansas City and Milwaukee are taking up the sport. Promotion for new teams are starting in those cities with other southern loops expected to join as soon as artificial indoor ice palaces are completed.

AND hockey isn't the only new (comparatively) sport to catch on with thousands of converts. America is certainly becoming sport conscious.

Jimmy Smith, world champion boxer, told this writer in a recent interview that the old days are gone when a single 200 average was found but seldom in a city kreggling league.

"I'll wager there are more than 1000 men in the United States today who average 190 to 200. And that," he added, "is some shooting. I can remember when there weren't 100. Everybody and his brother shoots a mean pill down the alley now. It's a great sport, clean, stimulating and fine for winter nights."

Dick Barthelmess Coming in a Big Football Picture

The football season in Winters will be ushered in next week at the Queen Theatre, on Monday and Tuesday, when First National's college picture, "The Drop Kick," starring Richard Barthelmess, will be shown.

"The Drop Kick" is a story typical of college life today, with its joys and tragedies, its thrills and its romance. It is true to life in every way, and the football scenes are thrilling and realistic, as they were made by experienced gridiron heroes from the University of Southern California and Stanford.

Having mastered the boxing game for "The Patent Leather Kid," which he recently made, Barthelmess now turns his attention to football for this picture, and again proves an adept at this branch of sport.

Coming for the fall season, this rollicking college story will, no doubt prove ideal entertainment for picture fans of this city, and Barthelmess will be seen in a role that fits him like a glove.

The Secret of COLDS

Well, about all I have to say about them is that they are unwelcome visitors to me.

Then there's another objection, too, but I kind of sorter hate to mention it just now, but if you must hear it you must, and there isn't any way of getting around it since you insist. I will now bring out the idea. I guess you've been in church when the preacher was closing his sermon and everybody was as quiet as anything, and here comes that old tickling sensation up in your nose somewhere that's gonna call for a sneeze above all you can do to hold it. But KA-CHEW!!! and out it comes. Everybody looks around at you and you know your face is gonna turn red for the same reason you had to sneeze. Just because you had to. But still this idea of "havin' to" didn't keep people from lookin' at you like you were an escaped convict or a burglar or something like that.

But, now, you were to blame. And those people knew it all the time, which was the reason they looked at you like they did. They knew a secret. They told me not to tell you about it, but I just can't help tellin'. If you won't tell anyone I'll tell you. They always go to Smith's on their way to church and spend 50c for a box of these Smith Drug Company's cold capsules and take one or two of them and then they won't sneeze in church that way.

Now, that's the secret, but don't tell it, 'cause they told me not to tell.

Victories

Yesterday, in the past, brought another triumph to our kingdom and another sun set over a victorious but hard-fought battlefield. A great and glorious victory for the Blue and White.

The echoes of an enthusiastic pep squad could be heard far and near and then after the last fifteen raps, things were quieter and the throng of carefree school boys and girls began to move away from the scene of battle. Yesterday is in history as a day of the past, but memories are recalled and again the result of yesterday's game is once more discussed. Hurrah, Blizzards! Let's keep it up and establish a new record for Winters High.

If you ask me what it is all about I answer: The Winters High School Blizzards won over San Angelo with a score of 14 to 6 last Friday afternoon. Just watch our boys!

And just a word to the pep squad: We've got to step high and lively and holler plenty loud if we expect to make our pep squad the best. We must win county-wide recognition with our pep and rooting demonstration, and we must do better than our best if we want to succeed.

Glacier Staff Starts Work

The Glacier staff has been elected and work on the annual is now in progress. Eighty per cent of the Seniors have already had their pictures made. We are expecting the Senior class to have 100 per cent of their pictures made.

The contract with the engraving company has already been signed, and instructions from the company received. We hope to have the Senior panels ready to be engraved by next week.

The business manager and his helpers are beginning to work to raise funds for the annual and they want the cooperation of the business men and the town as a whole to put over the annual for 1928.

With the increased enrollment in high school it is expected that the best annual in the history of the high school will be published, and at an earlier date than ever before.

We solicit the cooperation of every loyal Winters High School booster in publishing the 1928 "Glacier."

System of Culling For Year Around

Culling in a nutshell was the topic of last week's discussion. Oftentimes a nut shell is larger than we ordinarily think. There is more to learn about culling than feeding. However, both are essential and dependent upon each other. Just a few more pointers to pave the way to success in the poultry game.

Culling four times a year is a better plan, culling in the fall winter, spring and summer. Leg banding the layers with different color leg bands each time they are culled will enable one to know which are the all-season layers. The culls are not leg banded but may have a band from one of the previous cullings.

The layers are always banded, each time with different color band. Do not remove any of the old bands from previous cullings, as they are a record of performance. In this way each time a hen shows to be a good layer, she gets a good mark in the form of a leg band. Those earning four bands may well be put in the breeding pen.

Some hens do not lay because they are not fed. Such things as improper feeding, poor housing, mites, lice and intestinal worms, or a lack of abundant shade and water may keep good hens from being good producers. If low production is the owner's fault, the flock should be given a chance.

When To Cull—November or December. To select good hens, those producing in the fall, early pullets; hold for observation non-layers, slow maturing pullets and other culls.

January or February—To select the winter layers, leg banding again, the fall layers and now the winter layers. Hold for further observation the same birds held before.

May or June—Cull the flock to sell the culls. That is, leg band the layers, and sell the non-layers, broody hens, excessively fat hens, and other undesirables.

July or August—Cull the flock to sell the culls. For the fourth time leg band the layers and cull out all non-layers, early slow moulters, short season layers, excessively fat hens, and others of poor type.

The Vocational Agriculture Class will cull several flocks if they are close in, and the owner is prepared to have the work done. For further information see your Vocational Agricultural teacher, at high school.

The Birthday of Universal Peace

Nine years of peace and prosperity —yet still fresh in the minds of all remain solemn, reverent thoughts of those bitter years before the Armistice, when lives were sacrificed in the cause of world democracy and lasting peace. We have not forgotten —nor shall we easily forget—the debt we owe to those who have made the last nine years of peace possible—and in grateful acknowledgement to those who gave their lives, we dedicate this day.

In this spirit we commemorate the occasion by closing our place of business on Armistice Day in profound respect of our brave sons who sleep in Flanders fields. May we join wholeheartedly with the State and Nation in observance of this, the birthday of universal peace.

Former Citizen is Buried at Abilene

H. A. Snively, 66, passed away at Abilene November 1, after an illness of several months duration.

Deceased was a resident of Winters several years ago, and moved to Midland from this place, and later to Clyde, where he resided until the past year when he went to Abilene in the interest of his health. Though he had suffered painfully during the last few months, he was patient to the end, and death came suddenly to relieve his sufferings.

Surviving him besides his wife are five children, Mrs. Lee Irvin, Clyde; Mrs. J. Harvey Clark, Abilene; Mrs. Geo. T. Rosson, Winters; Harvey and Marjorie Snively of Abilene.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, and the body was laid to rest in the Abilene cemetery.

Tenderest sympathy is extended to the bereaved relatives in the loss of their loved one.

Morgan Shows Are Big Drawing Card

The J. Doug Morgan show, which opened a week's engagement here Monday evening, are playing to capacity audiences each evening in the big tent near the A. & S. depot. They are presenting fresh new plays, and clean entertainment, and the members of the troupe are pleasant, congenial folks and are making many friends here.

This is the first appearance of this troupe in Winters, but judging from the patronage they are receiving, they will make the town on future tours. Besides presenting good plays each evening, the vaudeville between acts and the orchestra are drawing much favorable comment.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hall were called to Paint Rock Monday to be at the bedside of her father, Judge Broyles, who is seriously ill.
