Santa Claus To Make Personal Appearance Here on Morning of December 12th at 10 o'Clock

SCHOOLS TO HAVE FLOATS IN PARADE COMPETING FOR $30.00 IN CASH PRIZES; XMAS WINDOWS TO BE OPEN

Tuesday's Lions club luncheon was given over to a discussion of plans for the Christmas season, which turned out to be a round table on the subject.

Plans have been completed to have Santa Claus, in his specially decorated float with reindeers and eight story book characters greet the children of Winters and territory on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, at which time he will distribute several bushels of candy to the crowd of children which will be in attendance.

At the same time several of the schools in this section will have floats in the parade, competing for cash prizes of $15.00, $10.00 and $5.00. Each school entering a float or decorated car will be given $5 in cash, whether they win a prize or not, and children of the different schools will form a long parade following Santa's decorated float and the floats of the different schools.

A committee was also appointed, with John W. Norman as chairman, to visit all merchants of the city and insist that stores and show windows be decorated and ready for the gala affair before the morning of the 12th of December.

The committee assigned the task of raising funds to pay for the Christmas activities and also to bring Christmas cheer to the poor families of the city, reported fine collections had been made and that sufficient funds would be raised.

A. Krauss, in a short talk, expressed his thankfulness for the privilege of being a citizen of the greatest nation in the world today, as well as being a citizen of one of the best small towns in the nation. During his talk he told of the hatred existing among the European nations, a knowledge which he gained during his visit to the old countries shortly after the close of the World War. The passport used by Mr. Krauss on that visit to the old countries, was presented to Supt. E. D. Stringer for the Winters Public Schools.

SENIOR CLASS TO PRESENT LITTLE WOMEN DEC. 11

FRANCES LYLE TO PLAY THE LEADING ROLE OF THE CAST

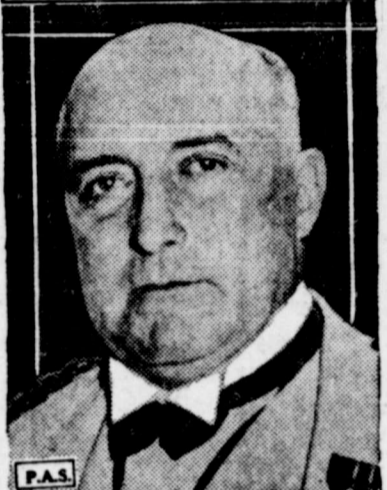

"Little Women," John Ravid's dramatization of Louise M. Alcott's famous novel, will be presented by members of the senior class of Winters High school on the night of December 11 at 7:30 o'clock at the high school auditorium. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Phil Davidson, head of the Speech Arts Department.

The play is written in three acts and is a Samuel French production. All of the best parts of the story are used and some of the parts are taken directly from the book. The cast is unusually good; each, having studied under Mrs. Davidson for four years. "The cast is the most talented group that I have ever had to work with," stated Mrs. Davidson.

Included are: Frances Lyle, playing the part of Jo; Margaret Verbus as Meg; Eva Lou Poe as Beth; Lohma Hoover as Amy; Clois Mapes as Laurie; Charles Gardner as John Brooke; and the character parts are taken by Selma Chammond as Mamie; Truett Nance in the role of Father; Nancy Pyburn as Aunt March and Lawrence Jennings as Professor Bhaer.

Miss Sara Lu Stevens left Tuesday afternoon for her home in Coleman to spend the holidays with her parents.

Faces Murder Charge

NEW CASTLE, Ky. . . . Brig-Gen. Henry H. Denhardt (above) 60, of the Kentucky National Guard and former Lieut.-General of the state, is facing a murder charge here for the death of his fiancée, Mrs. Vera Taylor, 40, whose body was found shot to death in a ditch after going for a ride with him.

FUNERAL RITES FOR C. H. MORRIS HELD HERE WEDNESDAY

HE HAD RESIDED IN WINTERS SEVENTEEN YEARS

C. H. Morris, 66, resident of Winters for the past seventeen years, passed away at the family home Tuesday night at 6:15. He had been in gradual declining health for the past year but critically ill only a short time.

Funeral services held from the Church of Christ Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, were conducted by the pastor, Elder Kermit Upshaw. Interment was made in Main Street Cemetery.

Native of Georgia, Mr. Morris was born at Carnesville September 12, 1870. He came to Texas with his parents when an infant and lived in East Texas near Livingston until his coming to West Texas in 1919 locating in Winters. The family has lived here continuously since. He was married to Margaret Ann Roberts in 1894 and to them were born six children, all of whom are living and were at his bedside when death came.

Mr. Morris had been a member of the Church of Christ for a number of years and was also a member of the Winters I. O. O. F. lodge. He had operated an independent oil business in Winters until recently.

Surviving besides his wife are three daughters, Mrs. C. V. McElyea, Brownwood; Mrs. M. M. Snelling, Abilene; Mrs. Crockett Hodges of Winters; three sons, Jake Morris, McCombs; Jim Morris, Houston; Robert Morris, Sweetwater; five sisters, Mrs. H. A. Still, Livingston; Mrs. Lena Chadwick, Henderson; Mrs. Harrison C. Corder, Nacogdoches; Mrs. L. C. Fitch, Dallas and Mrs. R. T. Weese, Winters; two brothers, E. J. Morris, Abilene; R. R. Morris, Livingston. There are also ten grandchildren surviving.

Pallbearers were the following nephews of the deceased: Pete Morris, Scott Morris, Togy Morris, Paul Morris, Huda Morris, Earl King.

Ladies assisting with the flowers were the nieces, Mrs. Pete Morris, Mrs. Earl King, Mrs. Scott Morris, Mrs. Paul Morris, Mrs. Johnnie Morris, and Mrs. Babston.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Edwards of Tahoka spent the past weekend in the home of his mother, Mrs. E. F. Edwards, and other relatives here.

Misses Dorothy Jean Stewart, Lucile Galloway and Imogene Grady left Tuesday for Brownwood where they will spend the holidays in the homes of their parents.

CRIMINAL DOCKET IS SET TO START MONDAY MORNING

INDICTMENTS FOUND BY THE GRAND JURY LISTED

The grand jury of the 119th District Court, in making its report to Judge O. L. Parish late Thursday afternoon of last week, reported twenty true indictments, including two misdemeanors. The body was dismissed by the judge subject to recall during this term, which runs two more weeks after this one.

According to the docket of District Clerk John B. Rayburn, the following bills were found by the grand jury:

L. O. Scroggins, charged with burglary.

Buford Pennington, charged with drunken driving.

J. B. Lucky, charged with theft of automobile.

Gosnito Gonzales, charged with drunken driving.

Willie Hugley, charged with forgery.

Chas. Gonzales, charged with rape; bond set at $3,000 which defendant failed to make, and was remanded to jail.

Edward Lewallen, charged with burglary.

Ernest Corsey and Donald Davis, charged with burglary.

Sam Lesley, charged with drunken driving.

R. L. Montgomery, Pedro Prince and Maurice Hartgrove, charged with burglary.

Ralph Routh, charged with drunken driving.

C. A. Ashby, charged with drunken driving.

C. M. Liverman, charged with drunken driving.

Lewis Hoes, charged with drunken driving.

Kumu Parker, charged with drunken driving.

B. H. Garrett, charged with drunken driving.

The two misdemeanor cases found by the grand jury were against Leola Clayburn, charged with assault and battery, and Lee White, charged with simple assault.

In the two other bills found by the grand jury, it was stated that the defendants in the cases were already in the penitentiary.

The report related that 83 witnesses were examined by the grand jury through its investigations started Monday morning. They stated, through their foreman, R. I. Collinsworth of Winters: "We found the jail well kept. The prisoners in jail were well treated and satisfied with treatment." Recommendations for a

AUSTIN CONCERN OFFERS TO BUILD CITY HOSPITAL

COUNCIL DISCUSSED SITUATION LAST NIGHT

The City Council was offered the proposition by a contractor and bond buyer of Austin last week to take the recently voted municipal hospital bonds and build the hospital, without the aid of the federal government grant and Jno. J. Becker, San Angelo architect, was instructed to redraft plans for the building.

Thirty-five thousand dollars was voted in a recent bond issue for building the hospital, at which time it was understood a government grant of 45 per cent of the cost of the project was to be furnished by the Federal government, however, it is planned now to build the hospital without the aid of the Federal government.

It is understood, however, that plans are not definite as yet, and the whole situation was to have been taken up by the city council last evening, according to Mayor J. W. Copeland.

Friends Present Ill Man With Radio Set

Friends of T. J. (Tom) Jennings, who has been ill for several months and bed-ridden for the past eight weeks, presented him with a radio set the first of the week.

Mr. Jennings, unable to see and thank the donors of the set personally, wishes all to know he greatly appreciates their kindness, shown him during his long illness.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Baxter Wednesday, a boy weighing 9 3-4 pounds. He has been given the name of Ronald David. The mother and little son are doing nicely.

few minor repairs on the courthouse were made.

The criminal docket of the 119th District Court has been set by Judge Parish for the week of Nov. 30. Including seven old cases, 25 are scheduled for trial at this term.

Bringing the total number of divorces granted so far this week by Judge Parish to 14, four were given last Thursday and Friday. These were Katy Alexander from James Alexander; Samuel Jackson from Eddie Jackson; DeLeon Wooten from Elice Wooten; and Virginia Davidson from John Prentice Davidson.

INVESTIGATORS OF OLD AGE PENSIONS CHECKING ROLLS

NO PERSON TO BE REMOVED UNTIL RE-INVESTIGATED

Austin, Nov. 26.—Investigators were busy this week throughout the 254 Texas counties re-investigating present old age assistance recipients granted aid under the old pension law, reported Acting Director Orville S. Carpenter, of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission, today.

"No one will be removed from the rolls until a thorough re-investigation of his case has been made," he declared.

Last week Carpenter explained that there would be no arbitrary or mechanical cut in the rolls but that each case would be studied and re-investigated upon its own merits before any action were taken. Rumor that 36,000 aged would automatically be dropped from the assistance lists was declared unfounded.

"Re-investigations are now being made in each district of all people on the rolls who possess income or property. Their cases are being re-investigated to determine whether they are eligible under the new law. But until they are found ineligible, they will continue receiving monthly checks," Carpenter stated.

FIRE CHIEF INJURED

L. E. Hamilton, fire chief of the local volunteer fire department, is carrying his right arm in a sling, it having been broken when he was thrown from one of the trucks last Sunday morning.

Chief Hamilton was riding on the back platform of the truck when the accident happened at the rear of the Smith Drug Co.

FIRE BOYS RECEIVE CHECK

Members of the Winters Volunteer Fire Department wish to express their thanks to Hinds & Carlisle for a $10 check, given them in appreciation of services rendered recently at a fire at the gin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hutton are the parents of a new daughter, born Saturday, November 21.

World's Largest Bridge SAN FRANCISCO . . . Above is pictured the first flow of traffic across the world's largest bridge, the new structure which spans the bay between San Francisco and Oakland. It was opened Nov. 12, with elaborate ceremonies, President Roosevelt at Washington pressing a golden key which turned "go" lights starting traffic.

STATE INSPECTOR CHECKING FARMS IN '36 PROGRAM

CROPS MUST BE LEFT ON LAND AFTER OCT. 31

State Inspector Mosley was here Tuesday checking up on land listed in the soil conservation program for this year. He explained that farmers could leave grain sorghum, sudan, peas and soy beans or other soil conserving crops on the land and get the $1.00 per acre.

Mr. Mosley also stated that these crops that were left on the land in compliance must be left on the land after October 31. He also stated that a further checkup would be made by his department and probably others to see if these crops had been left on the land.

GRAMERS INJURED IN CAR WRECK; REPORTED RECOVERING

ACCIDENT OCCURS RETURNING FROM GAME

Mrs. R. A. Cramer, in a Ballinger hospital following a car wreck while returning to Winters from the Winters-Ballinger football game last Friday evening, is reported to be slowly recovering, however, she may be confined to the hospital some two or three weeks. The most serious injury to Mrs. Cramer was to her back, it being reported that small bones at the base of the spine being broken. Her small daughter, Bobby Lou, suffered severe cuts and bruises, however, she is convalescing nicely and was returned to her home here Monday.

The accident occurred when the Cramer car, driven by Mr. Cramer, crashed into a bridge end about three miles this side of Ballinger. Besides those mentioned above, others in the car were Mrs. John Prentiss Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cramer, and Mrs. Carl Davis, however, their injuries were negligible. The car was completely wrecked on one side.

Mrs. Allen Adams of Arp is visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cramer. She came to be at the bedside of her mother who is a patient in a Ballinger hospital, suffering from injuries received in a car accident last Friday night.

STEPHENVILLE TO BE OPPONENT IN BI-DISTRICT PLAY

GATE RECEIPTS TOTAL OVER THOUSAND DOLLARS.

After a week's rest, Winters High School Blizzards proved that old adage, "they never come back" to be taboo and soundly trounced the Ballinger Bearcats, 18 to 6. Today's win gives the locals undisputed claim to the district championship and they will meet the Stephenville high school team in bi-district play. The date and place has not been decided.

A total of $1,007.95, probably the largest gate for a grid game in this section, was taken in.

The Bearcats scored in the first quarter on a long end run by their shifty back, Sheffy, to take the lead. But with the beginning of the second quarter

Officials from the Stephenville schools scouted the game and offered the local athletic association $400.00 for the bi-district game to be played in Stephenville. The offer was turned down and the place will be decided today in Fort Worth by Supt. Stringer and officials from Stephenville.

The Blizzards came to life and played in the shadow of the Ballinger goal line all during that period and finally pushed a counter over just before the half, to tie the score at 6 all.

In the third quarter the Blizzards kept up their drive and succeeded in making two more touchdowns which ended the scoring for the day.

Too much praise could not be given to the Winters linemen who successfully broke up the interference of the Bearcats which dealt them plenty of misery in the game last Friday. The ends, Baker and Rogers, played their usual fine game but it would be hard to name them as the most outstanding linemen for the whole crew was "on their toes" from the opening kickoff to the final whistle.

Pertain was the standout of the Blue and White backfield. On play after play he made substantial gains and it was this swift little back that carried the ball over on all of the locals' counters. Ramsel, Lee, and Gardner also played excellent football and although Pertain made the scores, they deserve plenty of praise for their fine play.

First downs were fourteen for Winters and four for Ballinger. The Blizzards made a total of 289 yards gained from scrimmage to 178 for the visitors.

Starting line-up for Winters was Rogers, Wood, Jackson, Jennings, Chavarría, Baker, Gardner, Oliver, Ramsel, Mills, Belitz. Ballinger: Barrett, Holt, Carter, Wiesepape, Fritz, Sheffy, Waddell, Stokes, Richardson, May and Ashenhurst.

E. D. Stringer, wife, and little daughter, Mary Elaine, left yesterday for Fort Worth where he will attend the State Teachers' association.

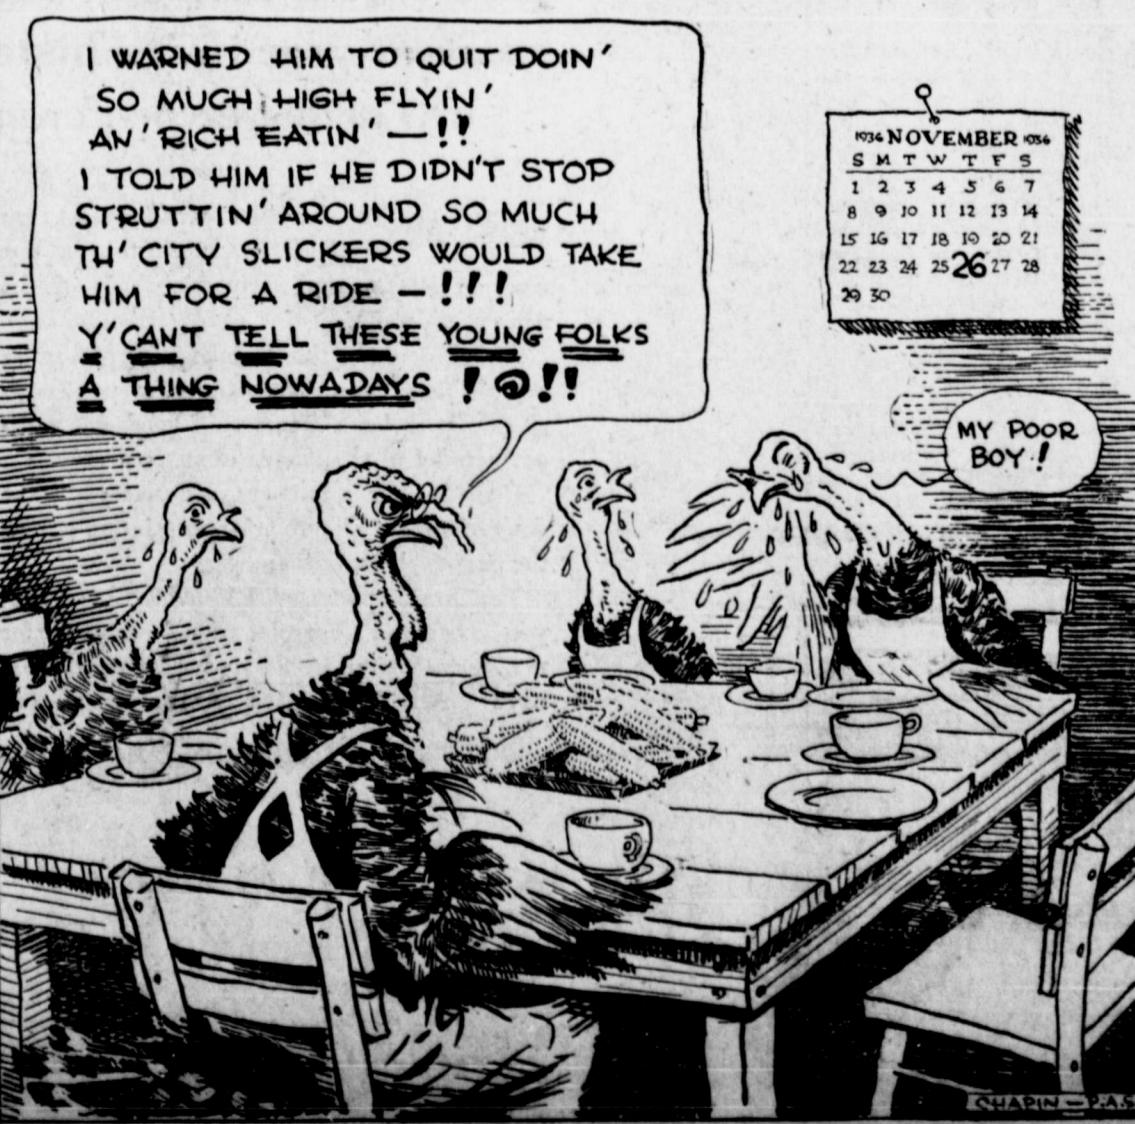

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Sharbutt and daughter, Miss Volva, are spending Thanksgiving with relatives at Altus, Oklahoma.

COOPERATIVE GIN CO. TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Stockholders of The Winters Cooperative Gin Co., will hold its regular annual stockholders meeting in Winters next Wednesday, December 2, at 2:30 o'clock, J. W. Stehle, secretary of the organization, announced yesterday.

The meeting is called for the purpose of electing officers and transacting any other business which may properly come before said meeting, it was announced.

AT THE QUEEN

Today and Saturday "Stage Struck"
Saturday Midnight, Sunday and Monday "The Big Broadcast of 1937"
Tuesday and Wednesday "Captain Blood"
Thursday Only "Walking On Air"

AT THE LYRIC

Today and Saturday "The Law Rides"
Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "The Singing Cowboy"
Wednesday and Thursday "Don't Turn 'Em Loose"

"Stage Struck"

Dick Powell in the leading role has the part of a dance director who is driven to distraction by his star, whom he can not discharge because her money backs the show. Joan Blondell plays the role of the actress, who has gained notoriety and riches through many marriages and the shooting of her latest mate. Jeanne Madden plays the part of a newcomer to Broadway who is trying to crash into the show business but is discouraged by Powell because he loves her and doesn't want her in that kind of life. Warren William has the role of a cagey producer who resorts to psychology to control his temperamental star and angel, though he tears out most of his hair in going through the ordeal. Frank McHugh plays the part of a comic assistant to Powell and Craig Reynolds is the leading man whom Miss Blondell sends to the hospital with a bullet wound in his scalp, she is using a gun for her sweethearts as well as her husbands.

"The Big Broadcast of 1937"

The story is a comic treatment of the broadcasting business. Jack Benny, as station master, has the unenviable job of keeping Gracie Allen, sponsor of an important program, happy. He is also responsible for keeping Shirley Ross off the air so that she won't annoy Forest, an orchestra leader. But Miss Ross gets on the air—teaming with Forest, to the good fortune of the audience. Shirley and Ray Milland carry the love interest. The cast is headed by the popular Jack Benny and includes George Burns and Gracie Allen, Bob Burns, Benny Fields, Martha Raye, Benny Goodmand and his Swing Orchestra, Leopold Stokowski and his Symphony Orchestra, Frank Forest, Sam Hearn and many others. Heading the celebrities from the stage is Stan Kavanagh, internationally famous comedy juggler. Kavy, as he has been known by a generation of vaudeville and circus patrons, never speaks but he gets a bit part on a radio program in the picture. This program is arranged by Gracie however, so anything can happen.

"Captain Blood"

The story opens during the period when the Duke of Monmouth was leading an abortive rebellion against King James II. Dr. Peter Blood runs afoul of the soldiery and soon thereafter finds himself a slave in the West Indies and later the captain of a pirate ship. His calm effrontery wins the attention, then the hatred and finally the love of a beautiful young noblewoman. The vigorous young dave-devil puts down mutinies and scuttles ships with desperate coolness, saving his warmth for the ardor of his love. Errol Flynn, a newcomer, plays the role of Captain Blood, Olivia de Havilland, the leading lady. Lionel Atwill has the role of a plantation and slave owner who later becomes the governor of Jamaica. Ross Alexander, Basil Rathbone, Guy Kibbee, Robert Barrat and many others are fellow slaves of Captain Blood who escape with him and form part of his pirate crew.

"Walking On Air"

Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern co-star in this piquant comedy of a beautiful Beverly Hills heiress, with the temperament of a package of firecrackers, and two engaging college graduates who decide to hire themselves out as companion-adventurer and body guard respectively. The girl engages Raymond to pose as an obnoxious French count after her hand, and to insult her father to such an extent that the man with whom she fancies she is in love, and of whom her father violently disapproves, will look like an excellent catch in comparison. At the same time, the father hires the other boy as a secret body-guard to his daughter in order to prevent her eloping. A merry mix-up follows.

"The Singing Cowboy"

Gene Autry, composer of scores of the finest cowboy ballads and romantic songs, sings and plays seven new ones of his own making. But he does it with the delightful aid of a cowboy troupe of radio entertainers who devise the very effective and novel idea of installing a broadcasting outfit in a covered wagon, making up a caravan and touring the west as they broadcast. Smiley Burnette, popular cowboy comedian, singer and musician, provides the laughs with two very funny comedy songs and scenes. Lois Wilde, a screen newcomer, is quite the loveliest and most talented actress seen in western pictures in many a moon.

"Don't Turn 'Em Loose"

Striking bitterly at the relentless parole boards which allow habitual criminals to drift easily from behind bars, "Don't Turn 'Em Loose" is a highly dramatic chronicle of present-day life. The story, adapted from the Thomas Walsh yarn "Homecoming," has to do with Bruce Cabot as an underworld rat who kills and loots for the thrill that's in it. His paroles come easy. Preying on the sympathies of a parole board he gets out of jail through various plots. He leads a Jekyll and Hyde existence with his family, seeing them only when he is not allegedly in South America on business.

"The Law Rides"

The thrilling plot of "The Law Rides" hinges on the discovery of gold made by Jack Lewis, a young prospector, in the heart of the desert. He returns to the ranch where he lives with his invalid mother and sister and tells how fortune has favored him. He is killed by an outlaw, Davis, so that the latter can obtain the secret of the gold site. Besides its thrills of gunplay, hard riding and fistic combats, the picture offers in generous quantity, romance, heart-interest and soul-stirring pathos seldom found in the average Western.

Mr. and Mrs. Vidal Colley and little son of Mineral Wells spent the past week-end visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bourne. They attended Abilene Christian College Homecoming during the week-end. Mr. Colley returned home Sunday and Mrs. Colley and little son remained for a longer visit.

J. G. Nix returned home the first of the week from a hunting trip in the Davis Mountains with members of the Western Reserve Insurance Company of San Angelo, of which he is a representative. Mr. Nix killed a 12-point buck on the trip.

Misses Melba Read and Katherine Hill left Tuesday for Dallas where they will spend the Thanksgiving holidays in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Read.

Mrs. O. L. Hick, Bud and Pete, and Travis Barnett attended the show Sunday evening.

Mrs. Ab Foster visited Mrs. Neal Dinston Friday.

Mrs. Lela Parrish is very much improved after a long illness. Mr. Charlie Allmand has sold his business at Happy Valley; Mrs. Roberson has taken charge of it now, and would be glad for all of her friends to come in and see her.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson of Tuscola visited their daughter, Mrs. Charlie Allmand, recently.

U. S. ARMY OFFERS MANY OPPORTUNITIES

Ambitious young men should consider very seriously the wonderful opportunities the army has to offer in training, schools and all kinds of sports. The famous baseball star, "Jerome (Dizzy) Dean," received his baseball training in the army at Fort Sam Houston. The scouts of world sports watch, with interest, all army stars for prospective rookies for the big leagues. Others have received their training in the army where all ambitious young men that so desire may start on their career through an enlistment in the U. S. army.

It appears that the majority of young men are under the impression that it requires several weeks or even months to obtain an enlistment in the army. It is just the opposite, as the time required for the average applicant to secure his application is from one to three days, depending upon the distance he lives from Abilene. It is requested that only young men without dependents, are single and of high standing in their communities need apply for enlistment. All applications from the following counties are being accepted at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 301 Federal Building, Abilene: Brown, Callahan, Eastland, Haskell, Jones, Runnels, Shackelford, Stephens, Taylor and Throckmorton.

FIRST TENANT HELPED TO FARM OWNERSHIP

T. H. Scarff family, first of 200 in Texas to be accepted by the Resettlement Administration for its "farm tenant security project." The Scarff's are being helped to buy a farm in Grayson County with annual installments no greater than they were paying as rent on the same farm. In addition, the farm is to be terraced and fenced, a new house to be built with modern conveniences, surrounded with trees and shrubs. This is made possible by three percent interest and forty years in which to pay. Extension of this plan to a large percent of tenant farmers would be provided under the Bankhead Jones Farm Tenancy Bill, scheduled for action at the coming session of Congress.

Mrs. Phil Davidson left Tuesday for Valley View where she will spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her husband who is a member of the Valley View school faculty.

"YOU MUST BE PLEASED"

"THANKS A MILLION" FOR MORE THAN A MILLION

America has bought 1,130,000 Chevrolets during the past twelve months, thereby giving Chevrolet the greatest year in its history and the greatest measure of buyer preference it has ever enjoyed.

CHEVROLET The builders of Chevrolet are thankful for many things, but most of all for the warm friendship of the American people.

And so again at this Thanksgiving season we say, "Thank you, America," for you have given Chevrolet a measure of good-will without parallel in the annals of modern industry. Consider, for a moment, all that you have done to inspire Chevrolet's appreciation during the past twelve months:

You have purchased 1,130,000 Chevrolets; you have made Chevrolet your favorite car for the seventh time in the past ten years; you have given Chevrolet strong preference in every section of the country; you have conferred this same high honor upon Chevrolet trucks by purchasing more than 205,000 commercial units; you have made 1936 the most successful year in all Chevrolet history.

And now, to climax these expressions of friendship, you are displaying even more marked preference for the new Chevrolet for 1937.

It is difficult to express adequate appreciation for gifts so great and so generous as these.

All we can say is, "Thanks a million" for more than a million cars in 1936; and all we can do is offer you the still finer Chevrolet of 1937 in return for the finest friendship ever bestowed upon any motor car manufacturer.

On Texas Farms

Spur.—Dickens county 4-H Club girls have gone a long way toward achieving the goals set in orchard demonstrations at the beginning of the year, according to Miss Clara Pratt, home demonstration agent, who states that 64 of the 67 girls enrolled have achieved or surpassed their goal.

The girls have 64 orchard plans, 110 berry vines, 97 grape vines, 81 plum trees, and 675 containers of preserves, jams, and jelly to show for their year's work.

Wheeler.—The kitchens of 137 farm women of Wheeler county are more pleasant and efficient work shops as the result of remodeling during 1936, according to Miss Viola Jones, home demonstration agent. At a total expense of $1,800.48, or less than $14.00 for the average kitchen, the walls and woodwork of 51 kitchens have been refinished, 22 kitchen stoves have been replaced, 17 storage closets built, 28 working surfaces adjusted to height, 35 floors have been improved, six ice boxes installed, and a great number of other improvements made.

Decatur.—The shoemaker's children may go without shoes, but some wool growers' families will not sleep under cotton quilts this winter. The Newton family of the Greenwood community of Wise county boast two light weight tacked comforts made from home grown wool at a cost of $2.00 each, according to Miss Ora Stone, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Newton attended a wool washing demonstration in the spring and went home to make her comforts, as well as to pass on the art to her neighbors.

Quitman.—The Roberts family of Cartwright, Wood county, can face the winter without fear since Mrs. Roberts completed her goals as club demonstrator in home food supply plans. The 12 shelves in her pantry are filled with containers of fruit, vegetables, pickles, relishes, and jellies, all from her three-quarter acre garden and quarter acre orchard; in addition she has dried beans, peas, peaches, apples, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, and onions sufficient for the family needs.

One beef and five hogs will fill the meat requirements of the family of six, according to Miss Katherine Kelly, home demonstration agent. An average of six cows and a flock of hens not only furnish the Roberts with milk and eggs, but provide a surplus for sale, which between January and October of this year brought in $407.01.

Floydada.—D. W. Burke of the Harmony community contour-listed 30 acres of pasture last February and found that the listing saved enough moisture to permit him an additional 40 days grazing during the summer, according to D. F. Bredthauer, county agricultural agent of Floyd county.

Glen Rose.—"Terraces kept a mortgage off my farm," Joe Smith of the Oden community told J. R. Surovik, agricultural agent of Somervell county, as he harvested a field which averaged 26 bushels of corn to the acre. Before the field was terraced five years ago it was a barren hillside full of gullies and washes and yielded no more than a few nubbins.

Junction.—A demonstration in treating goats with sulphur dip for control of the several species of goat lice was recently given at the Lee Pfeuffer ranch in Kimble county in the course of which 1,559 head were treated in three hours and 15 minutes. Specialists of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Extension Service conducted the demonstration, according to R. E. Homann, county agricultural agent.

The use of 300 mesh wettable sulphur, long in the experimental state, is now being recommended and many Kimble county ranchmen hail it as a practical method of exterminating goat lice.

Liberty.—An average of 241 pounds of lint cotton per acre on 28 acres is the record made by 21 Liberty county 4-H club boys. Meanwhile the average crop in that section did not greatly exceed 100 pounds per acre. Insect control, careful cultivation, and the application of 200 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate per acre accounts for the increased yield, according to W. L. David, agricultural agent.

Centerville.—When an overflow destroyed his bottomland cotton field, Clyde Robeson of the Middleton community replanted with hegari, according to J. B. Short, agricultural agent of Leon county. When frost threatened the feed crop, Robeson dug a trench silo and filled it with hegari bundles.

Nancy Hart's HOME NEWS

Every woman who appreciates the importance of charm and good appearance should make it her business to find ways and means to play up her nicest features. For instance, if you have beautiful eyes, never let side ringlets or fussy hair arrangements detract from their loveliness. Cosmetics can be relied upon to dramatize eyes, mouth, cheek-bones or chin. A touch of mascara on the lashes, and a very little rouge high on the cheek bone will help to focus attention on the eyes. Or if you have a handsome mouth, you can be more generous with your lipstick and less lavish with rouge and eye make-up. In this way others will be more impressed with the beauty of your mouth and not notice that eyes, nose and forehead aren't especially attractive. If you have a lovely forehead and a widow's peak, plan a coiffure that sweeps back and emphasizes both.

If your hair is really your crowning glory, make the most of it by centering your attention upon it. Brush it vigorously and regularly and secure the help of a beauty specialist in working out the most attractive hair style.

If you are one who changes your purse every time you change your costume, and most women do match or harmonize accessories these days, the new cosmetic purse kit is a swell little organizer. The very name tells the story. There's room for all the necessities very conveniently and compactly, and if you're one of the forgetful ones, there's likelihood of forgetting the entire purse kit than a single comb or compact.

The beauty disc is a handy little accessory to keep the face, arms and legs free of stubble without benefit of razor or depilatory. A few minutes of rubbing once a week and you can wear the sheers of silk stockings. It is entirely harmless.

An easy way to marinate the fruits for your fall cakes and puddings so they will not dry out and get hard in baking is to put about half a teaspoonful of glycerine into a bowl and toss the pieces of fruit lightly, one piece rubbing the other. By doing this, not only the fruit is given a brighter appearance and retains its identity better in the baked cake but the cake itself keeps fresh for a much longer period.

A recent tour of fifteen model kitchens in New York operated for testing and demonstration purposes, reveals the fact that twelve are using monel metal equipment. Sinks, cabinet and table tops, stove tops, hot water heaters and washing machines tubs are all included in this equipment.

Enthusiastic rooters at a football game held at an eastern stadium were stopped short for a moment by the arrival of a

One of the town's illustrious tells of taking her three-year-old daughter to an exclusively advanced practice nursery school. "And what do they do," she asked. "Play with blocks and such?" The teacher drew herself up to a prodigious dignity and replied, "But Madame, we don't call it playing."

The story goes that Harlem's street of well-to-do apartment houses that shelter such notables as Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington and Joe Louis—well, it's just called "Sugar Row"—that's all.

Plans for New York's World's Fair in 1939 will have to include transportation. The site is an hour away from town, and subways are taxed to the limit at rush hours now!

Over the stage door entrance of Earl Carroll's theater where the Vanities used to play, is inscribed the legend, "Through these portals pass the most beautiful girls in the world." Billy Rose has a variation in huge letters at the stage entrance to the "Jumbo" theater stage entrance: "Through these portals pass the most beautiful horses in the world."

Watching the important money being spent in the fashionable night clubs, the more exclusive jewelers' and furriers' shops, and the fancy new automobiles that roll out of the salesrooms every day in New York, it looks like the beginning of a genuine boom. A recent order being talked about, was for a $100,000 chinchilla coat. The furriers reported the market simply couldn't supply the skins!

Penthouses in New York are always a subject of interest, because a separate house in the city carries a rental cut to the measure of a millionaire's pocket, and the pent house on the roof has the advantage of light,

HERRING

There were forty-eight present for Sunday school Sunday. A piano fund was started. Each turkey raiser is to donate a turkey and several of the others have given money. The members of the young people's class will probably get up a play to further the fund. Money is also to be raised to pay for replacing the window panes in the north side of our church. We hope that the next time any young gent decide to shoot that they choose another target besides the north part of the church. There has recently been 26 holes shot in that side of the church.

Science finds BREAD A GOOD MUSCLE-BUILDING FOOD

SCIENTIFIC research proves that Bread ranks with meat as a source of muscle-repair food!

A group of leading doctors and scientists recently completed a series of tests to find out the true facts about Bread. They found that good Bread, when eaten with milk, supplies even better muscle-building food than meat. In fact, for just a few cents a day, Bread can supply at least 25% of all the muscle-building food children need.

Be sure your children get plenty of good Bread, your best and cheapest energy food.

16,600 Acres Land to Be Terraced In Farm Program to Start Soon in Runnels County By County Agent

THOS. B. HILL GAVE REPORT OF THREE-YEAR PROGRAM IN COUNTY SHOWING FARMERS RECEIVED $2,150,914.46

Runnels County Farm Council in session at Ballinger Saturday discussed the terracing program which is to begin soon as 109 farmers have requested terracing for 16,600 acres of land. At the meeting it was brought out that there were already 3,333 acres of land in the county terraced and these farmers having terraced land are requesting more.

Thos. B. Hill, agricultural conservation assistant of the county, gave a brief report up to the present date of the farm program for the three-year period beginning in 1933 with the plow-up program. Co-operating with the government that year were 1800 farmers, out of 2500, who plowed up 72,000 acres for which they received $663,000, in addition to the raise of the price of cotton from 5c to 9c per bale.

In 1934 there were 49 more farmers cooperating than in the previous year, renting 64,000 acres cotton in addition to corn, hog, beef, sheep, Bankhead certificate pool, all of which returned a total to farmers and ranchmen of the county $749,458.49.

In the 1935 program 2,198 farmers cooperated with 63,000 acres out of production. With the payments on cotton, wheat, corn, hogs, subsidy and pool tags, the total received in the county amounted to $738,455.97.

For the three years farmers and ranchmen in the county have received a grand total of $2,150,914.46.

The estimated total acres in the soil conservation program for 1936 includes 40,000 acres and will bring around $340,000 to cooperating farmers.

Mr. Hill also reported that all farms had been measured and are being calculated and sent to headquarters as rapidly as possible. Farmers will probably begin receiving payments around January 1.

It will be necessary for landlords and tenants to sign form FR9, showing the exact division to each interested party in the 1936 program, according to county agent, J. A. Barton. This form will be returned to headquarters where it will be audited and checks issued to all interested parties on this form.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and deepest appreciation to the friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful of us during the illness and at the death of our husband and father, C. H. Morris.

Especially do we want to thank those who ministered to his needs and cared for him during his illness, for the beautiful floral offering and the food that was sent.

Your spiritual consolation, sympathy and kindness has helped to make our sorrow seem easier to bear and we have learned more fully the true meaning of friendship. May God bless each of you in our prayer.

Mrs. C. H. Morris and children.

FARM FAMILIES DESIGNATED AS MASTER FARMERS

W. J. GARDNER AND HIS FAMILY ARE AMONG THE NUMBER

At a joint meeting of the Farm Council and the Home Demonstration Council at Ballinger Saturday ten farm families in Runnels county were nominated to be scored according to plans submitted by the Southern Ruralist and Progressive Farmer to select a Master Farmer for extension district No. 7. W. J. Gardner and his family were among those selected.

A Master Farmer is to be selected from each of the twelve extension districts in Texas. A number of accomplishments will be taken into consideration in scoring the farm families in addition to their success as farmers, their relations to the community in which they live, the county and their progressiveness as citizens and all-round ideal farmers.

The ten farm families were I. M. Turner, Hogan; Bert Fletcher, Maverick; W. J. Gardner, Winters; G. H. Dierschke, Bethel; Frank Gully, Rowena; P. R. Dietz, Crews; D. W. Turner, Norton; W. J. Halfman, Olfen; Clarence Routh, Ballinger, and B. M. Batts, Ballinger.

John T. Curry of Winters was elected as a representative from Runnels county to the Texas Agricultural Association, which will meet in Fort Worth December 2, 3 and 4. N. S. Wright of Miles was selected as alternate.

BEARCATS UPSET DOPE AND DEFEAT BLIZZARDS 13-6

CRIPPLED BLIZZARDS WERE OUTPLAYED MOST OF GAME

Suffering from illness and wounds of former battles, the Winters Blizzards dropped their first conference game since 1934 to the Ballinger Bearcats last Friday evening at Ballinger, before one of the largest crowds ever to witness the annual football classic of Runnels county, the final score being Ballinger 13, Winters 6.

Captain Gardner, of the Blizzards, was eliminated from the game before it started, when in practice he and Fullback Lee collided. Gardner did not recover fully from the blow received on the head until the following Monday.

Ballinger started their offensive show of sweeping the ends in the second quarter. Sheffy skirted the Blizzard ends a couple of times after starting from his own 20-yard line to place the ball on the 50-yard marker. A series of runs by Fritz, Sheffy, and May advanced the oval to the 10, where Sheffy took period a Winters back fumbled it over. May's kick was no good.

In the latter part of the third a lateral behind the line and Ballinger recovered on their own 14-yard line. Sheffy broke into the open to go to the Winters 23. No gain was tabbed on the next play as the quarter ended. On the first play of the fourth period, May found an opening in the center of the line and scored the second touchdown. May attempted to place two kicks, but an offside each time gave the Cats another try but Ashenhurst's plunge from scrimmage was good on the third trial.

Near the close of the fourth period the Blizzards tried the airlines after covering Sheffy's fumbled punt at the safety position on the 44-yard line. Phelps failed to gain on the first play. Hodge pitched a long pass to Baker on the 20-yard line where Baker took it and scored standing up. Baker's kick was good for the extra point.

Each team tabbed 8 first downs and penetrations were also tied at two each.

Friday's evening's defeat placed the Blizzards and Bearcats in a tie for the district crown, each team having lost one conference game.

Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Rives left Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with Dr. and Mrs. Harold D. Parks at Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hill made a business trip to Lamesa Tuesday and visited in the home of his brother.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hill and daughter, Mrs. Albert Douglas of Miles, spent several days the latter part of last week in Dallas visiting the Centennial Exposition. They also visited relatives near Sherman while away.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Mitchell and son of Lockney are visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. D. Mitchell, and other relatives.

To be jealous of another is an admission that you think he is smarter than you are.

Marriage Vows Are Repeated Sunday In Home Setting Uniting Miss Joyce Henslee and W. J. Morgan of Dallas

THE COUPLE LEFT IMMEDIATELY FOR WEDDING TRIP TO MONTERREY, MEXICO; WILL MAKE THEIR HOME IN DALLAS

Marriage vows, uniting Miss Joyce Henslee and Mr. W. J. Morgan of Dallas, were repeated Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henslee, Rev. W. T. Hamor, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated for the service, reading the impressive single ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends of both families.

The setting, beautiful in its simplicity, gave emphasis to the charm and solemnity of the sacred home wedding. Tall vases of mammoth white chrysanthemums were on either side of the wedding party as they stood at the entrance of the living room where the vows were repeated. Vases and bowls of white and orchid chrysanthemums adorned the rooms.

Nuptial music was given by Miss Katherine Hill, who played the accompaniment for Miss Marie Hill to sing "All For You" by Bertrand-Brown and for the entrance of the bridal party, softly played "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin.

Roy F. Morgan of Dallas, brother of the groom, served as best man and Miss Carolee Henslee attended her sister as maid of honor. She was becomingly dressed in a rust-colored frock with harmonizing accessories and carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a brown tailored costume frock, green trimmed, with green and brown accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. For her wedding trip the bride wore a brown fur Russian Pony coat over her wedding frock.

Miss Henslee, who is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henslee, was reared in Winters and received her high school education from the local schools, graduating with the class of 1931 as salutatorian. She was signally honored as making the greatest individual development during her senior year and was presented the Jackson-Holcomb loving cup. For the past three years she has been employed in the insurance office of W. G. Bedford.

The groom is the youngest son of W. F. Morgan of this city. He was graduated from the Lockhart High school with the class of '31 and attended Southern Methodist University, moving here with his parents about 4 years ago. For a time he was employed in the bookkeeping department of the Winters State Bank and is now associated with the Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Insurance company of Dallas.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan left for a wedding trip to Monterrey, Mexico. They will return here for Thanksgiving with their parents and will be at home at 3948 McKinney Avenue, Dallas, after November 27.

Out-of-town guests here for wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan and children of Dallas; Mrs. M. T. Butcher, Mrs. Ed Billberry, James Billberry and Mrs. Verna Edmiston, all of Buffalo Gap.

Other guests were Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Sharbutt, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Henslee, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. McAdams, Misses Nadine Smith, Louise Burton, Venita Davidson, Volva Sharbutt, Loyle Kornegay, Mildred Spill, Melba Read, Bendena Spill, Frances Hodge, Ann Catherine Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mack, Mr. and Mrs. George Rosson, W. F. Morgan, Kenneth Henslee, George R. Hill, Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Hamor.

Mrs. L. T. Smith presented her pupils in a Thanksgiving Recital at her home Saturday afternoon with the parents and a few friends of the pupils present.

The program included readings, piano solos and songs. Loretta and Floretta White, Venita Thornton, Carlene Ballinger, Clara Nell Hightower and Novell Bedford sang two numbers.

Pupils who were presented were Earline Rogers, Novelle Bedford, Clara Nell Hightower, Mary Evelyn Perkins, Maxine Ballinger, Thelda Clark, Jerome Robertson, Jerry Gambill, Jane Hodges, Clifton Ueckert, Venita Thornton, Loretta and Floretta White, Helen Hamor, Carlene Ballinger.

Winters Couple Married Saturday At Ballinger

Marriage of Miss Marie Lambert, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lambert, to Mr. Bernice Gardner, was solemnized Saturday evening at Ballinger with County Judge Paul Trimmer reading the sacred ceremony. The only attendants of the couple were Miss Maurine Orsborn and Ladell Davis.

The bride is a member of a pioneer Kaufman County family. She was reared in Kaufman and is a graduate of Ballinger high school with the class of 1930. During her senior year she made an outstanding record and since moving to Winters six years ago she has made many friends in church and social circles. She has been employed at various times as saleslady in local stores.

Mr. Gardner is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gardner, prominent landowners and stock farmers. He was reared near here and received his high school education from Winters High school. For three years he was engaged in the automobile business in California and is now associated with his father on their stock farm.

The couple will make their home in the home place on the Gardner farm.

Osborne-Davis Marriage Vows Repeated Wed.

Marriage Wednesday morning of Miss Maurine Osborne and Ladell Davis united members of two prominent Runnels County families. The ceremony was performed at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. W. Sharbutt, Methodist pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Gardner attended the couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Osborne, who reside a few miles north of Winters. She was reared here and is a graduate of Winters high school. For the past several months she has been employed as a saleslady at Higginbotham Bros. & Company.

The groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Davis, is a member of one of the early families which settled in this section of Runnels county. He was graduated from Winters high school and attended Texas Wesleyan college at Fort Worth. He secured employment in the hardware department of Higginbotham Bros. for several months and is now associated with his father on the farm east of Winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will make their home on the Davis farm after a wedding trip to San Antonio and South Texas points.

Thanksgiving Is Party Theme At Gaston Home Wed.

A Thanksgiving motif was featured in decorations and game appointments when Mesdames L. R. Gaston, Dewey Marshall and Wm. Stevens entertained last week at the home of Mrs. Gaston, with an afternoon bridge and forty-two party.

A profusion of pink chrysanthemums were used attractively in decorating the rooms throughout the home. Game appointments were in keeping with the Thanksgiving theme.

High score in the bridge games was made by Mrs. W. A. Pace and Mrs. J. A. Huffines made high in games of forty-two, with Mrs. Roy Mack cutting for high.

At the tea hour the hostesses, assisted by Misses June Marshall and Marie Gaston, served a delectable refreshment plate consisting of congealed turkey, cranberry jelly, icebox cookies, Ritzy potato chips and spiced tea with small red chrysanthemums as plate favors.

Invited guests were Mesdames I. N. Wilkinson, W. G. Bedford, T. E. Caskey, Gordon Wright, A. J. Smith, W. A. Pace, E. D. Stringer, Walter Brian, Jack Wilkinson, C. S. Jackson, R. C. Maddox, C. N. Kornegay, R. H. Henslee, A. J. McDaniel, Jess Wetzel, Lyle Leffebach, Frank Williams, A. Bourne, L. T. Smith, R. K. Russell, H. O. Jones, H. C. Campbell, T. A. Smith, C. L. Chapman, V. B. ## Housekeepers S. S. Class Has Social Thursday

Mrs. Ella Ritch honored the Housekeepers class of the Methodist Sunday School with a Thanksgiving social at her home Thursday of last week.

The rooms were decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Bessie Taylor gave a very interesting paper on the history of Thanksgiving and a Bible and several other contests were enjoyed.

Following the social hour the hostess served pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, and coffee. Plate favors were small baskets of candy decorated with turkeys.

Members present were Mesdames W. W. Poe, T. B. Young, L. A. Bruton, Stewart, Ella Ritch, Bessie Taylor and little son of Fort Worth and Mrs. Wm. Stevens.

Hatchel Bride Honor Guest At Shower Nov. 19

As a courtesy to Miss Jewel Hinkle, bride-elect of Garland Barmore, the ladies Home Demonstration club of Hatchel entertained in the home of Mrs. Haywood Tierce Thursday evening, November 19, with a surprise shower.

As the bride-elect entered, after all guests had assembled, she was met by little Jo Albert Vancil dressed as Dan Cupid and pulling a small wagon decorated with green crepe paper, filled with yellow and orchid chrysanthemums, and carrying a double heart with "Jewel and Garland" printed in black and gold letters. Little Freda Ann Nichols and Maxine Knight representing love and carrying gift baskets followed, while Miss Serena Stoecker softly sang "I Love You Truly."

Chrysanthemums were used, with gold and orchid colors predominating throughout the color scheme. A table was artistically arranged with harmonizing color and Thanksgiving motifs.

Sandwiches, cookies and hot chocolate were served with small Thanksgiving baskets filled with mints given to each guest as favors. Mrs. H. Tierce, Miss Ruby Bailey and Mrs. Jack Walker acted as hostesses. Mrs. Thelma Barnhill presided at the register.

Invited for the occasion were Mesdames Nolan Barmore, J. C. Bloom, Troy Nichols, Newt Stoecker, Vernon Bryan, Durward Barmore, Archie Wiley, S. A. Mathis, Press Reams, Artie Vinson, Albert Jackson, Burley Parker, A. B. Davis, Ralph Vancil, W. F. Minzenmayer, W. M. Jones, Alta Knight, Joe Harrell, Judell Phillips, Henry Goetz, Wesley Woods, A. Campbell, Otis Bargett, Misses Lorene Albright, Emma Heninger, Allie Reams, Lola Heninger, Ruby Guin, Estelle Barmore, Leona Hoppe, Lena Spill, Anna Henniger, Serena Stoecker, Bille Nell Hinkle, Marjorie Barnhill, Nelma Williams, Ruby Bailey, Ruth Bailey, Gracie Hendricks, and Mrs. Haywood Tierce.

Power in Reserve

A power plant has extra generators which may be put into service when there is an exceptional demand for current. Provision must be made for the normal load, and also for the excess demands of darker days.

Your Checking Account is your financial power house. Keep a good reserve so you may pay all bills when due . . . and have enough left to meet extra demands, which are sure to come.

You will then be able to keep your financial affairs running smoothly. You will always have power in reserve.

Methodist W. M. S. Elects Officers At Meeting Mon.

Business meeting and election of officers was held by the Methodist W. M. S. at the church Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. J. M. Skaggs presided.

The meeting opened by the group singing followed by scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. R. J. Marshall. A duet, "A Wonderful Savior," was sung by Mesdames Chas. Chapman and J. W. Sharbutt with Mrs. M. E. Leeman at the piano. Mrs. Leeman also gave two violin solos "In the Gloaming" and "Lead Kindly Light," with Mrs. Charlie Chapman playing the accompaniment.

Good reports were heard from the officers, with Mrs. T. V. Jennings, treasurer, reporting all obligations paid and a nice surplus in the bank. From all reports the W. M. S. is in line for the Efficiency Aim.

Officers elected were president, Mrs. J. M. Skaggs; vice president, Mrs. Lula White; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. E. Leeman; recording secretary, Mrs. Guy Mullins; treasurer, Mrs. T. V. Jennings; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Walter White; secretary of Children's Work, Mrs. A. D. Lee; superintendent of baby specials, Mrs. A. B. Carter; superintendent of study, Mrs. Charley Chapman; literature and publicity, Mrs. W. A. Pace; World Outlook, Mrs. W. M. Stevens; reporter, Mrs. Wm. Stevens; Christian Social Relations, Mrs. Ella Ritch; supplies and local work, Mrs. W. W. Poe.

The president and vice president surprised the group by serving a delicious salad plate and coffee to the following: Mesdames R. J. Marshall, Homer Marshall, Ella Fitch, M. E. Leeman and Ann, M. L. Patterson, Charlie Chapman, T. V. Jennings, Harris Mullin, Walter White, Frank Williams, J. M. Skaggs, J. W. Sharbutt, Wm. Stevens, Lula White, L. A. Bruton and W. A. Pace.

HEALTH SAFEGUARDS CAUSE FOR THANKS

Austin, Nov. 24.—"A high standard of community health is the best asset that a state can possess," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health officer, in speaking of the progress being made in public health education since the first Thanksgiving Day was observed by our forefathers.

"The State of Texas has much to be thankful for in this Centennial Year," he said, "in the steadily increasing interest and cooperation of the people of the State in matters pertaining to sanitation and control of communicable diseases.

"The control of the water and milk supplies, sewage disposal, vaccination against smallpox, immunization against diphtheria, food inspection, housing regulations, and many other measures have been spectacularly successful in reducing the killing power of a number of maladies that formerly took a terrific annual toll.

"Responsibility for success and advancement of a public health program lies not with the health department primarily, but with the people who support and encourage the community effort put forth and who apply in their own individual lives the knowledge which they have acquired.

"It follows that the individual citizen, to reap the benefits of public health administration, must be more concerned about his well-being than he is today. His program should involve a conscientious effort to abide by the living rules prescribed by nature, as well as a clearer conception of the value of a physician's services from a disease prevention standpoint.

"In short, when the private citizen fully appreciates the benefit of public health administration and shows that appreciation by a reasonable personal concern for his own welfare, medicine, surgery, and science generally will be able to do their wonderful work with utmost efficiency."

MACHINERY AND UNEMPLOYMENT

It was only three or four years ago that the whole country was talking about something called "technocracy." That was a new economic philosophy based upon the theory that the causes of all of our unemployment and other troubles was that machines were replacing man power in industry, and that if that tendency kept on it would not be long before there would be no work for anybody to do.

The technocracy idea was an echo of the outcry which has been raised whenever a new invention has been brought out to do work which was formerly done by hand. When the first cotton spinning machinery was invented, the first power looms set up, there was a tremendous outcry about the bread being taken out of the mouths of the working class. That was more than 150 years ago, and it is only necessary to look back into history to realize how foolish the opposition to those early machines was. For, instead of making less work, they made more work. By producing cotton cloth more cheaply and more speedily than it had ever been made by hand, the machine production multiplied the demand and the market for cotton cloth, so that within a few years ten persons were employed on the spinning and weaving machines for every one who had been employed at hand labor in the same industry.

To a generation which knows nothing of industrial history the revival of this outcry against the machines seemed convincing. The evidence to the contrary, however, is right in front of the eyes of anybody who will look for it. The best example is in the automobile industry. More automobiles have been made and sold in the past year than in any one of the previous five years. Very much more of the work of building automobiles is done by machinery than at any time in the past. It is no uncommon thing for an automobile manufacturer to scrap $10,000,000 worth of heavy machinery to replace it with new and more efficient equipment. But has the machine thrown automobile workers out of jobs? Quite the opposite is true. In one great factory alone, which formerly employed 60,000 workers to produce a million and a half of automobiles in a year, last year 90,000 workers were employed to produce a smaller number of cars. There was no reduction in wages; on the contrary, wages went up. Yet the price of the car came down.

Precisely the same experience has followed the introduction of modern machinery in every line of industry. There are temporary readjustments and shifts of employment, but in the long run the enlarged market created by offering better goods at lower prices results in the employment of more people than could find jobs before the new machines were put in.

DIRIGIBLES

It is good news that the chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the United States Navy, Admiral A. B. Cook, in his annual report, has recommended the inclusion of several large dirigibles as a part of the American naval program. There is a better prospect now that Congress will be willing to make appropriations for dirigibles than there was a year or two ago. The disasters to the two largest American-built dirigibles, the "Akron" and the "Macon," gave a set-back to the plans for a great American fleet of lighter-than-air craft, and many persons both in and out of Congress leaped to the hasty conclusion that dirigibles were impractical and unsafe.

The demonstrations made during the past summer and fall by the German zeppelin "Hindenburg," which made ten round trips between Germany and the United States without the slightest accident or discomfort to any of its passengers, and the realization that for several years another German dirigible, the "Graf Zeppelin," has been flying regular voyages between Germany and South America, has changed public opinion about this type of airship.

There does not seem to be any sound reason why America cannot build dirigibles as well as Germany. It is understood that the Zeppelin Company has again offered to place its plans and specifications and its engineering talent at the disposal of the American Government. It would certainly be the part of wisdom

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

While the air of Washington is full of predictions and rumors as to the policies of the second administration of President Roosevelt, a great deal of this kind of talk is in the nature of trial balloons. Suggestions are made that the President is considering this, that or the other line of action, but that does not by any means prove that the particular policy has been decided upon. The public reaction to such tentative suggestions is expected to be more influential now than it has been in the past. So far there is no program sufficiently crystallized to warrant the prediction that it will even be presented to Congress.

That does not mean that there are not numerous persons in high positions in the Administration who have pet plans which they will try to get Congressional sanction for; it is simply that the President is believed to have refrained from committing himself to any of these individual plans.

Berry and Labor

A figure who will probably be heard of more within the next few months is Major George L. Berry, who has the title of Coordinator for Industrial Co-operation. Major Berry is president of the International Printing Pressman's Union, but in addition to that has large business interests and is regarded as a wealthy man.

Berry's pet idea is to bring business organizations into cooperation with the labor organizations, looking toward a voluntary set-up much along the lines of the NRA. Major Berry is a man of great force and an able public speaker, and probably can do as much in this field as anyone else who could be named. He is close in the President's confidence and enthusiastic over the project of bringing about better teamwork between employees.

Washington is speculating over the probable consequences of a split in the ranks of organized labor as this may affect the Administration's labor program. John Lewis, President of the Miners' Union and leader of the revolt in the labor ranks, is regarded as having Presidential ambitions. A great many persons of influence, who would be glad to go along with his program for labor organization by industries instead of by crafts, hesitate to throw in with Lewis, it is said, because they don't like the idea of mixing up in what may turn out later to be a political movement.

Winant On Job Again

There is gratification in Washington that John G. Winant, former Republican Governor of New Hampshire, who was the first chairman of the Social Security Board, has been recalled to that post. Gov. Winant resigned last summer in order to take the stump for President Roosevelt to reply to the attacks being made upon the Social Security Act.

Washington regards Governor Winant as a conscientious and able administrator and probably the best informed man in America on social security laws of other countries and the way they operate. It is regarded here as reasonably certain that some improvements in the Social Security Act will have to be made, and Governor Winant's leadership and counsel will be needed.

That staunch friend and supporter of President Roosevelt, Frank C. Walker, who was one of the first Roosevelt-for-President men away back in 1930, is being talked about here as the probable successor to Postmaster General Farley. The belief grows that Mr. Farley will resign on or about inauguration day, January 20, and Mr. Walker is regarded as the logical choice.

Walker has demonstrated his well as the railroads.

The Rockefeller Letter
When John D. Rockefeller, Jr., a staunch lifelong Republican and a heavy contributor to the Republican campaign fund, wrote a letter to Chairman Farley of the Democratic National Committee complimenting him upon his statesmanlike utterances after the election, people in Washington began to realize that the political hatchet has been buried, at least temporarily.

It would be hardly accurate to say that the signs point to another such "era of good feeling" as characterized President Monroe's second administration, but there are many evidences that political differences are being submerged in the effort of all sorts and conditions of men to lend a hand in the complete restoration of prosperity.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has officially called upon its members to cooperate with the Administration and Congress for recovery. The Chamber of Commerce has for three years past been the most outspoken and vigorous critic of Mr. Roosevelt's policies. It is the feeling here that the tendency is more to constructive criticism and co-operation than to denunciation and opposition, on the part of many of the important interests which were violently opposing the President before election.

As a result of that Canadian "stork derby" the Dominion may establish an open hunting season for storks.

Mrs. H. K. Reid left the first of the week for Dallas where she will spend Thanksgiving with her daughters.

THRID INSTALLMENT

SYNOPSIS: Maris Trevor is discouraged because Rod O'Rourke spends all his money developing an invention which he hopes will provide an income so that they can marry. Maris thinks they should enjoy the present rather than deny themselves for the future. She becomes uncertain of her love for Rod. Perhaps there would be more happiness with someone else . . .

Carefully she fixed herself before the mirror. Then quickly picking up her gloves and bag, she hurried down the passage to the elevator. Maybe Stanley would still be in the hall. Maybe his snappy sport roadster would be at the curb.

But as she stepped from the elevator, Rod O'Rourke came swiftly to her side.

"Say, honey, I guess I was a fool leaving you like that yesterday," he said. "Tell me you still love me, Maris darling," he added impulsively as he drew her away from the throngs that were sweeping along the halls. Maris' eyebrows derw swiftly together. Why had Rod appeared just when there was a chance that she might see Stanley? And yet how her heart had leaped when she caught sight of him, looking so eagerly for her! She knew in spite of any vagrant thoughts about Stanley that she still loved Rod. Well, there was no use making a scene, so quickly banishing her frown, she smiled and said, "Oh Rod, what a scare you gave me! I thought something terrible had happened when I saw you standing there."

"Well, marvourneen, I've been having a terrible time thinking maybe I'd lost you."

"You couldn't do that so easily," answered Maris, while she glanced swiftly about the wide halls of the office building. But Stanley Fayson was nowhere to be seen.

"Oh, Maris, darling, you've made me so happy!" Rod's blue eyes glowed as they rested on the girl at his side.

"Don't look at me like that," she whispered. "People will think you crazy!" But even though she took a step away from his side, her heart was fluttering because she realized that Rod was so handsome. No wonder the girls hurrying past turned to look at him, envy in their eyes.

"I don't care if they do, sweetheart, I am so happy. Let's go somewhere and have dinner and then take in a show or something," he begged, falling into step with her when they joined the multitude hurrying from the building.

"Oh, but, Rod, I'm afraid I can't," Maris explained, suddenly remembering that she was going to discipline the man she loved. It would never do, she knew, to give in the moment he started to make up.

"You can't shake me as easily as that," declared Rod, his blue eyes smiling into hers as he laid his hand lightly on her arm. Then, stooping down, he whispered softly in her ear, "You really don't want to, do you, sweetheart?"

"Oh, Rod, you're impossible!" And Maris raised her dark eyes to his, feeling strangely satisfied that she should yield so readily to his mastery. There was a smile on her face. It was out of the question to get annoyed with Rod—his Irish good-nature laughed off all rebuffs. Even his temper, about which Patsy had warned her, was, she believed, non-existent. She had never seen the smile fade altogether from his eyes, nor his lips tighten in a ruthless line—as they could do—when he uncovered some monkey-business in the course of his work! That time was yet to come, for her.

"There, honey, I guess you were just stringing me about someone else last night." Again his blue eyes flashed at her.

"Don't be too sure," she answered, but in her smiling reply he failed to read a warning.

"Och, mavourneen, now don't be getting all excited again. But of course it's only a joke. Now, what would you like to do?" he asked as they reached the sidewalk, heading north. "Well, if you insist on spending money on me and taking me to dinner—wouldn't you rather come up to the apartment and have me fix something? Pat made a grand dinner for you last night, with chocolate cake and—"

"Not tonight, honey," he interrupted. "I want you all to myself."

"Well, that's strange, isn't it?" she banded, suddenly noticing a serious look in Rod's eyes.

Ignoring her remark, he said, "Let's step into the subway. I know a pretty decent place uptown. It's quiet and the food's good."

"No orchestra?" questioned Maris, disappointment in her voice.

"Nothing like that," he answered. "Did you want to dance?"

"Did I?" she asked. "Oh, Rod, don't you know I love it? Couldn't we go somewhere else?"

Rod seemed to be seeing things for a moment, then he said, "Maybe, but let's eat here, at least." Before Maris realized it, he had piloted her down the subway stairs, shielding her against the seething masses of humanity that swayed like a smelly barrage against them as they struggled to get into the train.

"There, that's over," Rod remarked, one arm hanging to a strap and the other around Maris, his elbow jutting outward as though to protect her from the swaying creatures who were jammed around them.

"That's the only thing that makes me feel I'd be glad to leave New York," she said. Then she remembered, and a swift flush deepened the color in her cheeks. Rod would love to hear that for he was crazy to live in the country. Well, she had said it was the only thing she'd be glad to leave New York for, but that was a trifle compared with all she would miss—the movies, the stores, the cute apartments.

Rod smiled. "The only thing?" he questioned. "I'd give up everything just to get away from this city. Well, I reckon it won't see me much longer."

But as Maris started to question him, the car came to a sudden stop, and again there was a mad rush for the doors. Rod suddenly saw two empty seats and dragged her to them.

"This is better," he said, "if these greasy old workmen don't fall in our laps." Right in front of them stood a couple of swarthy-skinned men, with mud-stained clothes. They looked as though they had been working in the subway or digging some cellar.

Maris and Rod got out at the next station. Now, beyond a few casual remarks as they passed various landmarks, Rod said little to Maris. For her part, something seemed to warn her that she had better not refer to Rod's rather cryptic remark about the city not seeing him very much longer.

But after they entered the "Hidden Inn" and found a table in a secluded corner of the room, Maris had a swift presentment as Rod looked at her that something momentous was about to happen. This thought was swiftly dispelled, however, when he took up the menu and said, "Well, Maris, what will you have?"

"I don't know. What's good here? When did you find this place? I've never been here before." A sudden twinge of jealously shot through her. It was an adorable place with a raftered ceiling, and fixtures that suggested an old English inn with its jugs of frothing ale, and, in winter, a roaring fire on the hearth. Yet with it all there was an air about it that suggested it was a place where many important affairs had been settled—and not merely between men, for there was a hint of romance in the atmosphere.

Even as she waited for Rod's answer, she found herself wondering if he'd often been here before and who his companion had been. As she glanced across the table at him, she realized once more what a presentable man he was, with that virile air about him, that fine clear look in his eyes—so different from so many of the men around. Somehow he always seemed to speak of the great out-doors, of clean living and wholesome thinking, as if he had some purpose in life instead of gratifying all his desires. Yes, she was proud of him.

Raising his head, his eyes met hers. "Oh, Charley Grant brought me here so we could talk about the gadget undisturbed. They don't hurry you. If you want to, you can spend the whole evening at one of the tables without a single black look from any of the waitresses or manager."

"Well, that's rather nice when you've business to discuss."

"It sure is." A twinkle danced in Rod's blue eyes. "But you haven't decided what you want. What do you say to some real English beefsteak pie and a nice mug of ale?"

"Oh, but I'm not terribly hungry, Rod. "I don't believe I could tackle that."

"Sure you can. I wish you'd try it. It's the finest thing they have here, and I bet you'll eat every particle. What say, sweetheart?"

"All right. It does look rather good," and Maris glanced with appraising eyes at one that a waitress was just bringing in.

"Good, Maris; you'll say you never tasted better. Giving the order, Rod laid the menu to one side. Then, gazing across the table, said, "Say, honey, I've just been thinking I've had a darned lot of gall making you ride in Lucie all this time, but you won't have to much longer. Looks as though the gadget's going to pay all right, and then—"

Just at that moment the waitress appeared with their order and Rod said no more. Then as she left the table Maris cried excitedly, "You've sold it, Rod! It's really a success? Her lark eyes were sparkling.

"No, sweetheart, not yet, but I'm going out of town tomorrow—to Cleveland—where they're going to give it a try-out. Then, if everything's okay, won't we celebrate! But now, let's eat. I'm hungry as a hawk. You little witch, you had me so worried. I was right off my eats."

"Go on, Rod. I'd like to see the girl who'd bring you to that state." But deep in Maris' heart she felt a thrill of pride in her power over this handsome man who sat across the table from her.

That was the one thing in which Staley disappointed her—he was only a little over five-foot-four, and in spite of all his fine clothes, he would never have the presence of Rod.

Again Rod spoke. "It's the truth I'm telling you, dearest. I thought I'd lost you, that maybe I'd never hold you in my arms again. You don't know what a wretched night I put in. But now, honey, I guess there's only one thing to do—tell me you'll marry me, Maris darling; that you'll be mine."

A swift tumult rose in Maris' heart. This was her first proposal. But why had Rod chosen to ask her at the dinner table? All her life she had dreamed of this wonderful moment, when the man she loved would ask her to marry him, would take her in his arms. . . . His lips would meet hers and the age-old question would once again be settled. For, even if she could not answer in so many words, with her lips on his and her head pillowed on his heart, he would surely know her answer.

But even as something urged her to say, "Yes," a shadowy form rose like a silhouette in her memory—a slender, dark-eyed young man. He was not particularly impressive from a physical standpoint, but he had money, limitless money behind him, and social position. Yet as thoughts of Stanley Fayson flashed before her, Pat's words of warning came swiftly to her mind. Well, she didn't need any advice—she could take care of herself. But as she raised her eyes to Rod's she whispered, "Please, Rod, don't ask me that here." There was a little quaver in her voice.

"But you haven't said, "No," he cried triumphantly, as he slipped his firm hand across the table and imprisoned her fingers.

"And I haven't said, "Yes,"" he answered, as she withdrew her hand from his clasp. "Let's eat now."

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Ethel du Pont to Wed F. D. R., Jr., President's Son

GREENVILLE, Del. . . Ethel du Pont and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (above), are going to be married next June. Their engagement was announced in late November by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene du Pont, parents of the bride-to-be. The President's son and the du Pont heiress good-humoredly posed for news photographers, striding up and down the sun room and seated side by side before the fireplace. They laughed each time they were told to look at each other . . . but refused to hold hands. "It is to be a small church wedding," says Miss du Pont.

RETURN OF BOOKS TO STATE LIBRARY EXTENDED TO JAN. 20

For the benefit of the out of town patrons of the Winters Free Library we wish to remind them about the law passed about postage on books which they will save considerable postage when they return books to the library by mail. If the book weighs only a pound or less it need cost only three cents, and only one cent for every additional pound. Thus a big book weighing three pounds will not cost but five cents.

This information was sent us by the State Commission, when they sent this library a few stickers with the words below printed on them:

"Contents—Books. Mailed Under Section 444T P. L. and R. Special Rate with this state 3 cents for first pound or fraction, 1 cent additional for each additional pound or fraction thereof."

In the last letter from the State Librarian the time for reading the fifty books loaned to this library has been extended to January the 20th. As these books are the best selection we have ever received this extension of the time on the books will give many an opportunity to read them.

The magazines in the library offer a wide range of choice to readers as they have been replenished by recent donations from Mrs. Gladden Bedford and Mrs. Claud Tatum.

The earnings of college students and alumnae placed by the college, have increased, is the encouraging statement by Miss Katherine S. Doty, head of the Occupation Bureau of Bernard College, New York. She says that the teaching field is still over crowded but that certain types of work, such as statistical and mathematical, are picking up. There has also been a greater demand for librarians, and department stores are asking for more saleswomen and graduates who can be developed into good executives.

One of the stories about Margaret Mitchell, author of that popular novel, "Gone With the Wind," a story of the South, is that when she got her first check and was asked what she intended to do with it, she replied that she thought she would paint her old car. To her, that seemed the height of luxury. I wonder how she felt when she received her check for the motion picture rights which I hear was a very high sum in five figures.

Youth Looks Ahead

The Advertising Club of a certain city decided to offer a course of lectures in the Choice of a Vocation. It was planned to have a leading doctor speak on medicine, an eminent lawyer on the law, a railroad man on transportation, and so forth.

With the idea of finding out which subjects would be of most interest to the young men and women of the city, a questionnaire was mailed to current graduates of the city's high schools, asking them to indicate a first and second choice of life work. Now, gentle reader, how do you think this ballot came out?

One occupation over-shadowed all others. Not medicine, law, chemistry, or advertising—none of these. By an overwhelming majority, those boys and girls, looking over the whole field and seeing what goes on, announced as their first choice of a life work government service.

I do not blame them for this vote; there are many opportunities for good work in the government employ. None the less, this is a straw which shows a great change in our national psychology. In the old days no boy chose a government job, at least until he had tried something else first. He wanted to jump into the competitive game of business; win or lose, he would measure his wits and strength against his fellows. One day he might hope to have a business of his own.

England, a much older nation, long ago reached the stage where a large majority of its people start their lives thinking of their old age. All they ask for is security, and a small salary, and a pension at the end. Is this something that happens inevitably as nations grow old? Is the United States growing old?

Beware of Typhoid Marys

The papers have reported that Typhoid Mary is seriously ill, and before my humble tribute sees the light of day the old lady may have passed on to her reward. I recall dimly the excitement she caused more than thirty years ago. She was a cook and for a number of years she went her way from one employer to another, giving general satisfaction. But a tragic fate pursued every family she served. One or more members invariably developed typhoid fever. Doctors examined the food and the milk and the plumbing without success.

Finally one curious individual, Dr. George A. Soper, sanitary engineer, caused an examination of Mary, and a startling discovery was made. Mary was not sick; she never had been sick; but she was a huge boarding house and picnic ground for typhoid fever germs. She was what is known as a "carrier"—a walking distributor of death.

Well, the world is full of Typhoid Marys. I remember one who was a merchant in a country town. Always properous, he was always pessimistic. Go into his store and ask him how business was, and he would reply: "Not good, not good. And if you want my pinion, it'll get a whole lot worse before it's any better."

His pessimism did not prevent him from making a snug annual profit and accumulating a considerable estate. But for fifty years he dropped a germ of pessimism into the soul of every customer. Another man has spoiled ten thousand sunny days. He has a deep seated conviction that every bright moment in human life has to be paid for by an equivalent moment of darkness. Say to him: "It's a beautiful day, Mr. Jones," and his invariable answer is: "Yes, but it's a weather-maker." We're laying up some tough storms for the future, mark my word."

They locked up Typhoid Mary, but the spiritual Typhoid Marys roam the world unchecked. Not sick themselves, they instill a germ of gloom and foreboding into everyone they meet.

The Chinese Women's Association of New York is five years old and is the outgrowth of an idea of Mrs. Theodora Chen Wang, chairman of the Executive Committee. The organization has raised money for Chinese men wounded in battle, for food relief and for war relief. The Club gives out food tickets and aids in many local and home charities. Mrs. Jessie Young, a modern Chinese business woman is the Club's social committee chairman.
