Babson Predicts Good '55 Business

BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL FORECAST FOR 1955

1. GENERAL BUSINESS. Despite wails from some quarters, 1954 saw a drop in the average Physical Volume of Business of only 5 percent from the record year 1953. 1955 could see a rise of about the same amount. Certainly, the direction of business until mid-1955 will be upward.

2. BUSINESSMEN WILL WAKE UP. During 1954 many businessmen rediscovered the meaning of the word "competition." Sales will continue to be made only with real effort in most lines.

3. CONSUMPTION OUTLOOK. Consumption in a number of lines has been proceeding at a more rapid rate than has production. I forecast a better record in early 1955 for both steel and automobiles.

4. TEXTILE INDUSTRY. Textile industry operated at extremely low levels throughout most of 1954. Coal and railroad equipment also exerted a strong downward pull. I forecast that the textile and coal industries will be in a recovery phase after their long stay in the doldrums.

5. PRIVATE CONSTRUCTION. I forecast that home building and general construction will be somewhat lower in 1955 than in 1954, but this important industry should still operate at high levels next year.

6. PUBLIC CONSTRUCTION. I forecast that public construction will increase during 1955. This should mean a rise in the output of cement.

7. AGRICULTURAL EQUIPMENT. This industry has been suffering from a decline in demand, but should now improve. Government sponsored planting curtailment and crop loans have reduced free supplies, and may lead to higher agricultural prices later in 1955.

8. ARMAMENT INDUSTRY. The armament industry will still be one of the main floors beneath the economy. The electrical and chemical industries will move at a rate closer to that of 1954.

9. OTHER INDUSTRIES. I am somewhat optimistic on clothing, aircraft manufacturing, air line transportation, office equipment, electricity output, petroleum production, natural gas, and shoes. I am also fairly bullish on rubber, paper, electrical equipment, certain types of building, and nonferrous metals.

10. WEATHER CONDITIONS. It is foolish for me to attempt to forecast rains, droughts, frosts, etc., for any special section. However, taking the nation as a whole, I look for better weather in 1955.

11. RETAIL SALES. I forecast that the outlook for retail sales is encouraging, at least through the first half of 1955.

12. PROFITS. Stiffening competition is chipping away at the profit margin. Return on invested capital is in a long-term downward trend. The first few years after World War II were the golden years for the novice in business and for the inefficient. Those days are gone for awhile.

13. SELECTIVITY. High labor and other costs, plus intensified competition, will continue during 1955. I forecast a high degree of selectivity in the effect of this trend on individual activities and companies. Victory will be for the nimble and for the strong!

vidents a higher percentage of earnings in 1955 than in recent years, notwithstanding a moderate profits shrinkage.

15. INVENTORIES. Inventories have been permitted to run down during 1954. As total business expands, there will be a tendency to replace reduced stocks, especially during the first half of 1955. Total manufacturers' inventories, however, may build up more rapidly than total business inventories. I forecast that total wholesale and total retail inventories will show little change from 1954 levels.

16. PRICES OF MANUFACTURED GOODS. Even with the expected pickup in demand, I see no sharp markup in industrial prices next year. Over-all supplies are generally ample. Hence, I forecast that industrial prices in 1955 will show little change from recent levels.

17. FOOD PRICES. Food prices may be firm later in 1955. The strong move into government crop loans this year has made free supplies of most agricultural items less burdensome. I forecast that new advertising programs by canners and other great food distributors will help farmers, stock raisers, and fruit growers.

18. CONSUMER INCOME. Consumer income will hold at satisfactory levels. Most goods should move rapidly into consuming channels.

19. LIVING COSTS. I forecast that during 1955 living costs will show little over-all change from present levels. There may be some firming during the first half, but the late months may again witness a minor softening.

20. RENTS, ETC. I forecast rental expenses may edge somewhat higher; clothing costs should be steady to moderately higher. (Continued on page 5)

Cattle And Sheep Show Advantages Of Grazing Together

COLLEGE STATION — Cattle and sheep grazing together at the Sonora Agricultural Experiment Station each have made consistently higher gains than when grazed separately.

Only small differences were noted in weight gains and mo-hair production when goats were pastured with cattle and sheep.

These are the findings of a series of combination grazing studies commenced in 1949 and recently concluded. The studies are reported by Leo B. Merrill, range management specialist at the station and Dr. Vernon A. Young, head of the department of range and forestry of the Texas A&M College system.

Tests were made in 12 80-acre native grass pastures with the following stocking rates; heavy 48, moderate 32 and light 16 animal unit.

Cattle made "significant" gains both per acre and per head during the five year test when grazed in combination with sheep and goats, regardless of stocking rate.

Under heavy grazing, average weight gain for each cow was 40 pounds, or a gain of 12.9 pounds per acre for cattle grazing alone. 14.6 pounds for cattle and goats together and 15.9 pounds for a combination of all three. Moderate and light grazing exhibited similar comparisons in the gain of cattle.

Average gain of the three stocking rates was 62.4 pounds for cattle in combination over those grazing alone. Sheep gave about the same results as cattle. When stocking rates for all years were averaged, sheep had a weight increase of 9.1 pounds per acre in combination and 6.2 pounds when grazed alone, or an advantage of nine pounds per animal.

A trend which favored the stocking of goats in combination was not established.

Complete results of the studies are given in Progress Report 1726. Copies are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Why hesitate?

Why hesitate, indeed, when colds attack your flock. Prompt treatment with Ar-Sulfa usually causes symptoms to disappear in 2 or 3 days. You'll find Ar-Sulfa easy to use—just add it to drinking water. Ar-Sulfa saves losses in egg production, helps birds shake off colds quickly. Treatment for 3 to 5 days is sufficient. Have Ar-Sulfa on hand when symptoms of infectious coryza (often called a cold) appears. Don't let colds ruin your profits.

175 counties reporting to the Texas Tuberculosis Association in a current study, "Searchlight on TB" show 6845 persons in their communities who are neither hospitalized nor have medical supervision at home.

Farm records each year are becoming more important. Accurate records of production reflects the year's activity and should be the basis for expanding or curtailing farm practices and cropping systems. They are easy to keep and will prove invaluable when it's time to evaluate each farm enterprise.

No Shortage Of Foods On January Plentiful List

COLLEGE STATION—For the third consecutive month, meats dominate the plentiful food list. Included are heavy turkeys, beef, pork, halibut, haddock, shrimp and canned tuna.

January features for this area, however, according to the USDA, are eggs, fresh and processed oranges, grapefruit and tangerines.

Dairy products and rice remain in good supply. So do walnuts, almonds and filberts, raisins, lard vegetable fats and oils.

The plentiful food list is based upon a survey made each month in the major trade areas of the state by the southwest food distribution division, Agricultural Marketing Service, Dallas. Foods shown to be in heavy enough

A new method of turkey slaughter is being tested. It calls for the gassing of the birds with carbon dioxide before they enter the processing line. Bruises, dislocated and broken bones as well as torn and abraded skin result from struggles of the birds during removal from the coops, shackling and slaughter. The new way renders the turkeys unconscious before processing and it is hoped will eliminate such losses.

Babson Predicts—

There is small chance that food expenses can be greatly reduced.
21. MONEY SUPPLIES. I forecast that money supplies will be ample for all legitimate business needs during 1955. With little likelihood of business getting out of hand on the upside, credit easing is more likely than credit curtailment in 1955.
22. INFLATION. Fears, or perhaps hopes, of an inflationary boom should be buried. Barring outbreak of war, our productive capacity is sufficiently large to meet all demands for goods. I forecast that no runaway inflation is probable, even if the money managers increase the supply of money or ease credit.
23. INTEREST RATES. Until the Treasury finds a way to balance the budget, hold business at high levels and unemployment at a minimum. I forecast little likelihood of higher interest rates.
24. BOND PRICES. With the possible exception of tax-free bonds, I see no reason for increased bond prices in 1955. I forecast an increase in the issuance of tax-free revenue bonds.
25. STOCK PRICES. After so sharp a rise, the market could have a reaction; but I am forecasting no crash in 1955 such as we had in 1929. In fact, the situation changed for the better October 11, 1954.
26. WAGES. I forecast that the wage trend in organized industry will continue to move higher at least in the first half of 1955. During the first half year, when business will be improving, the labor chieftains will also be quick to resort to the strike weapon.
27. OTHER LABOR GAINS. I forecast that the heavy guns of the labor bigwigs will be trained on the guaranteed annual wage, shorter work week, and more pensions. With a better congressional control of appointments to the National Labor Relations Board, the decisions of that body will swing more toward labor than toward management.
28. NEW INVENTIONS. These will mostly be a labor-saving type. I forecast a marked increase in automation and cybernetics, and other marvelous changes in production methods.
29. EMPLOYMENT. Unemployment outlook is brighter, since business will be on the upgrade during the first half. I forecast that local and seasonal unemployment will still prove a knotty problem.
30. FAILURES. The salient business characteristic of 1955 will be bitter competition. Many companies already weakened by competitive conditions will no longer be able to keep afloat. I forecast a rise in both the number and the total value of failures during 1955.

31. MERGERS. I forecast that mergers and consolidations will be encouraged by federal officials, if, by merging, a weak company can be saved. But while every effort will be made to prevent bankruptcies, Washington will frown on large mergers and consolidations.
32. GENERAL REAL ESTATE SALES. The time is already past due when real estate prices should have been falling. Only a fear of World War III and easy credit have prevented this. Therefore, I forecast that a downturn in prices cannot long be postponed.
33. URANIUM CRAZE. The greatest speculation will take place in the seeking and trading of land with uranium prospects. This is now centered in Colorado Utah and vicinity; but I forecast it will spread in a limited way to many other states and even to "offshore" property. It could exceed the gold rush of 1849. Another demand will be for woodlands which can be bought for a few dollars per acre.
34. COMMERCIAL FARMS. These have suffered a decline in price as a result of the slump in agricultural prices and farm incomes. Unless more will be done politically for the farmers next year, I forecast that the recent decline in commercial farm prices may continue during 1955. Subsistence farms on the fringe of larger cities should hold up well in price as migration toward the suburbs continues.
35. VACANT LAND IN CITY AREAS. With the exception of parking lots, city vacant land should experience a continued slow reduction in price during 1955, but no marked change in suburban vacant land, except for parking. I am very bullish on land anywhere suitable for parking.
36. BUSINESS PROPERTY. I foresee little hope for improvement for such property in the larger cities during 1955. Business property in the suburbs has not been so inflated, and therefore will not be so vulnerable to declines and high taxes.
37. INDUSTRIAL BUILDING. The construction of new industrial plants gives every indication of continuing to mark out a downward course during 1955. I forecast that the brightest spot on the construction horizon for next year is the prospect for increased municipal construction, schools, hospitals, etc.

38. RESIDENTIAL Construction. The building of new homes was held at very high levels during 1954. Although I expect the trend of new home prices to be downward during the year 1955, they will still persist and very high figures, at least during the first half of the year. New homes will continue to be the choice of purchasers, even though older homes give better values.
39. TAXES. The Eisenhower Administration has clearly recognized that expanding business and increased expenditures for plant and equipment are the true sources for rising employment and more jobs. I forecast a continued aim during 1955 will be to have taxes aid business—and thereby help employees to more and better jobs.
40. INCOME TAXES. I forecast there will be no further relief in 1955, of the double taxation feature on dividends or of the 25 per cent capital gains tax. Furthermore, corporation income taxes will not be permitted to decline as scheduled next spring. I forecast that, unless business slumps more than I anticipate during late 1955, there will be no reduction in personal income tax next year, except to correct some technical errors. Any relief for the individual "small" taxpayer will be saved until the election year, 1956.
41. POLITICS. The really big political news in 1955 will not be made by the laws that will be enacted, but by the tremendous preparations for the 1956 presidential campaign. Those who claim that President Eisenhower is at heart a liberal and will get along well with a Democratic Congress should remember the lessons of politics.
42. WORLD WAR III. In my opinion, the initiative in international affairs still rests with Russia. The Kremlin is not yet ready for an all-out attack and no one in the west wants World War III. Malenkov is now pushing a "Peace Offensive." I am referring here to the year 1955—over the long term, I still feel that a major holocaust is inevitable, but I forecast no World War III in 1955.
43. FOREIGN AID. Our foreign efforts during the year will continue to aim at plugging the leaks and building new dykes against the flooding tides from the East. I forecast we will work hard to build up Europe, with Germany as the core; but Russia will make spectacular gains in the Far East, particularly in India.
44. FOREIGN COMPETITION. As Germany rearms and the Brussels Treaty Organization goes into gear, I forecast further improvement in Europe. Competition from European manufacturers will, however, intensify. Reciprocal trade deals will be pushed. I would not be surprised to see a decline in our exports in 1955 and an increase in imports.

45. CHURCHES AND CHARITIES. I forecast that the spiritual awakening which started in 1954 will continue into 1955 with an increase in church members. This is a very important sign. Gifts to charities will also increase, due to the more liberal allowance on taxes, up to 30 percent, provided 10 percent goes to churches, schools, or hospitals.
46. TRAVEL AND SPORTS. I forecast more money will be spent on travel and sports in 1955. This is becoming an important new industry and should especially benefit Florida, California, Arizona, New Mexico, the Great Lakes Region, New England, and the Northwest.
47. NEW METALS AND ALLOYS. Next to air-conditioning, I expect great growth in the use of new metals and alloys. I forecast the rare-metals stocks will be sought in 1955 as were the oils in 1954.
48. ADVERTISING. I forecast business spending in this field will increase further in 1955. It not only is the salvation of individual businesses, but is the best stimulant for national prosperity.
49. POPULATION. I forecast the population will continue to increase during 1955, with a growing percentage of young people between 18 and 22. This means a greater demand for clothing, college education, and especially for new school buildings.
50. CONCLUSION. Develop Faith, Meditation, Health, and Good Works—with more attention to your family—to create reserves for real trouble which some day will come. GO TO CHURCH!

Presbyterian Aid Had Bible Study
Presbyterian Ladies Aid met at the church for a Bible study and business meeting Monday afternoon with Mrs. R. W. Balke in charge.
Mrs. R. W. Gannaway was leader for the study, taken from the book of Acts. The topic for discussion was "An Expanding Church." Scriptures were read from the first and second chapters. The meeting was closed with a prayer.
Others present were Mrs. Marion Conditt, Mrs. J. A. Davidson, Mrs. E. J. Barnes, Mrs. W. E. Jones, Mrs. Albert Spill and Mrs. Albert Sykes.

AUSTIN—No one envies the job of the Texas legislators who convene here on the 11th. They must solve the state's biggest financial problem in years.

Cut out for them is the task of: (1) providing more money for increased enrollment in public schools; (2) finding additional funds for public welfare; and (3) locating construction dollars to maintain and enlarge public highways.

A heavy load of students during the next two years will add $24 million to school expenditures. An estimated $50 million per year is needed for highway maintenance and construction.

Education, public welfare and highways already take 90 cents of each tax dollar. And there is pressure for more money from other quarters.

In the general fund is slightly more than $12 million.

WHAT TO DO?
 A two cents per gallon increase in the gasoline tax is one proposal. Present tax is four cents state, and two cents federal. That would meet highway needs.

Adding $2.75 per barrel to the present $2 per barrel beer tax is another proposal. This would bring in an estimated $10 million annual revenue.

Colleges may be asked to increase the present $24 per semester tuition fee to $50. That would bring in $3.5 million more per year.

Legislators are eyeing natural gas production. A 1954 tax law allowed a levy on the market value at the well, with a one per cent tax reduction each following year. They may vote to cancel the reduction. By so doing the state would keep $14 million per year of the tax money.

VETERANS LAND SALES
 Hearings will be resumed next week by a Senate Investigating Committee looking into "block" land sales made to the state under the Veterans Land Program.

Testimony during the first two-day session showed that individual land sellers had made as much as $200,000 on a single deal. Indicated by the committee were suits to cancel some block sales to veterans, criminal prosecution in other cases, and changes in the law.

Investigations were being held at the request of the Veterans Land Board itself. All its members, Lang Commissioner Bascom Giles, chairman; Governor Allan Shivers; and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, testified.

Complaints have been received in other land transactions, besides the 11 now under investigation.

These too will be investigated, say officials in the Department of Public Safety, the State Auditor's Office and the Attorney General.

Veterans to whom the land was re-sold by the state testified that they didn't know they were buying land. They thought they were getting a cash bonus, or prolonging their rights to buy land on credit, or "selling their signatures" and waiving their rights for $100 to $300 each.

DUVAL COUNTY
 Attorney General Shepperd is turning over the investigation of Duval county affairs to District Attorney-Elect Sam Burris.

Shepperd, who forecast recovery of some $500,000 in stolen public funds, said he was in complete agreement with Burris.

The transfer brought to an end a two-year personal investigation of the county's affairs by Shepperd.

MOTOR VEHICLE TAX
 A bill to abolish the ad valorem property tax on motor vehicles will be presented to the Legislature by State Rep. Douglas E. Bergman of Dallas.

His bill also would propose a one-third increase in the registration (license tag) fee.

Another Bergman bill would allow banks to close Saturdays. A third bill would permit judges to deny bail on second felony indictments when the accused is out on bond for a previous felony charge.

CROP INCOME UP
 A cheerful note from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The USDA office in Austin reports that the value of Texas crops for the year reached $1,036,000,000 despite the drought. That's $67 million higher than the preceding year.

CONSTRUCTION UP
 Brightest spot in an already bright 1954 business year was the construction industry.

Building permits issued during the first 11 months of the year ranked 26 per cent higher than a like period in 1953, reports the UT Bureau of Business Research.

Their findings were in line with a U. S. Department of Commerce estimate that new construction in the USA reached as all-time high in November—eight per cent above November, 1953.

INDUCTIONS DROP
 Texas' draft quota for February will be the smallest since

Danger of Soil Compaction Cited

COLLEGE STATION — Soil compaction someday may rank with erosion as a factor limiting crop production, says Jack H. Barton, extension soil and water conservationist.

Land used for intensive cultivation and grazing is in greatest danger.

Compaction of the soil, says Barton, begins to limit crop production when the soil particles are pushed together so closely the movement of air and water through the soil is restricted. Plant roots upon reaching the compacted layer—or hard pan—begin to grow in a lateral direction.

Soil compaction is often associated with clay and clay loam soils. The conservationist says they also form in sandy and medium organic type soils.

"Best remedy for this condition is to work with nature and not against her," says Barton. He urges farmers to simplify tillage operations to decrease the number of trips over a field with heavy equipment. Avoid working or grazing fields that are too wet.

A good rotation system will increase the organic content of the soil. Well-fertilized deep rooted crops will help crack the hard pan, Barton says.

A compacted soil holds less water and is more subject to erosion than a soil without this hard layer, he says.

Trouble with the crew haircut on an older guy is that too many of the crew have already bailed out.

Fear is a darkroom where "negatives" are developed.

June 1952.

Selective Service Headquarters has called for 587 men during the month.

No men will receive pre-induction physical and mental examinations during the month as draft boards have a nample backlog.

Winterize Farm Machinery, It Pays

COLLEGE STATION — Up to 30 percent can be added to the life of farm machinery by giving it proper winter protection. And too, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, time will be saved in getting the machinery back on the job when it is needed next spring.

Here are suggestions from the engineer for winter care. Keep machinery under shelter when it is not in use. Bright metal parts, such as plow wings, mower sickles, cultivator points and other working parts should be coated with grease or a rust preventative. Rubber tires should be blocked up to take the weight of the machine off of them while in storage.

Drain the gasoline from auxiliary motors. Remove the spark plugs and drop three or four ounces of cylinder oil in each cylinder and turn the motor over a few times.

The cooling system on all motors not used during the winter months should be drained. Place a cover over the engine exhaust pipe to keep out moisture. Lubricate all grease points on machinery when it goes into storage and charge all batteries. It's a good idea, says the engineer, to remove batteries from the motor and check them at regular intervals to see that they remain fully charged.

Proper winter care of farm machinery is a practice, concludes the specialist, which if carried out can make the farm operation more efficient.

Women should remember that it is easier to drive a man to drink than it is away from it.

MAYBE you didn't know that the price of this 1955 Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan has moved still closer to those of the so-called "low-price three."

And maybe you didn't know that now you can boss this broad and brawny new beauty for even fewer dollars than some models of those very same "three."

So we'll gladly show you the price tag to prove it.

But no dollar figures can ever tell you how much more sheer automobile you get for your money in this '55 Buick. You have to discover that firsthand.

You have to look into the record-high V8 power that puts the whip to this dazzler—and see by sampling what that means in the lift and life and joy you feel in driving.

You have to judge for yourself how much more luxury and comfort and stability so little more money buys here—more room, more visibility, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness.

And you have to learn by doing what a rich fine feeling it is to travel in the boldest new styling of the times—in beauty that's long and low and sports-car smart—and as definitely distinctive as the name on the hood.

Come in for a demonstration of Buick for '55. We promise you the thrill—and the buy—of the year.

SON DISCUSSES "WORTHLESS" STOCKS
 "WORTHLESS" STOCKS MAY BE VALUABLE
 I have just been asked by a Street banker to help him some so-called "worthless" securities away from the readers of this column for a few cents a share (not per share).
 I hear that for every fifty certificates which this broker buys, he finds that forty-nine are now worthless; but one is worth perhaps $1,000. This would be a certificate which some company is in order to dissolve or negotiate without any outstanding obligations or complications.
 Of course, it would be unfair to readers for me to advise what to do. But, I do urge to throw nothing away which is like a stock certificate even if your father or brother says it is "valueless and just cluttering up his desk or safe deposit box." Please do not send me any certificates to look at, but show them to your regular banker, if you wish.

URANIUM IS RECOVERING VALUES
 Most of these "worthless" certificates in your attic or desk drawers are of old mining companies. They may never have been any good, or are of mines which have completely "petered out." The company did not have the money to dissolve legally, but some rancher has paid the taxes for the privilege of using the land for pasture. Hence, the company was forgotten after the stockholders were told it was no good.
 The land is still useless for getting gold or silver, copper or lead; but uranium may have been found; As a result, the land could increase in value in one-week from 5.00 per acre to $50,000 per acre! Some old-timer who remembers the old company has found a list of the old stockholders and has written them a letter offering $10.00 a share. As the envelope containing these certificates was marked "valueless," the family sold them for $10.00 per share while today they are really worth $1,000 a share.

 When you move from one house to another and especially from one city to another, be sure to write the company in which you hold any stock of your new address. Don't ever look at a "valueless" certificate and say it is not worth a 3-cent postage stamp and the time required for writing such a letter. After too many changes of address, your envelope comes back marked "unknown" and the company marks you "dead."
 One of the companies in which my family has very large holdings (United Stores Common, selling on the American Stock Exchange for $3 to $4) has nearly 100 such stockholders who cannot be located. Perhaps you are one of these stockholders. This stock could easily double or triple in value.
NEVER SELL DEFAULTED BONDS
 When a stock stops paying dividends the price of the stock may gradually decline, but no one gets panicky. The stockholders hope for a resumption of dividends. When, however, a bond defaults—especially a foreign bond—most bondholders think this is the end. The price of the bond then suddenly drops around par to fifty cents on the dollar. Discouraged bondholders have rushed to sell their bonds and the price has dropped to twenty or even less. But in the course of years, many of these bonds returned in value to $1,000.
 Some of the hotels in the famous Sheraton Chain were built in the gay nineties. The bonds were sold for $1,000 each. Then they defaulted and kicked about at perhaps $200 for years. Finally, one of Boston's most courageous financiers, Ernest Henderson, had faith in the hotel business and bought up these bonds. They have since been paid off at par.
WHAT YOU SHOULD DO
 Before selling any "worthless stock" or defaulted bond, you can send $2.00 to the Information Center at New Boston, N. H. This gives no investment advice but has lists of 40,000 such stocks and will pass along to you what report it has on file. Floods, Epidemic And Polio Season Marred 1954 Health Picture

A flood, two epidemics, and a bad polio season marred the public health picture in Texas during 1954, a review of health department activity shows.
 In late June the Rio Grande, maddened by 10 to 20 inch rains, ran wild through five border counties. The highest flood crests in the river's history inundated vulnerable water treatment plants increasing the danger of water-borne disease outbreaks. Public health engineers put plants back into operation within nine days. This, an emergency vaccination program, forestalled a crisis.
 In August an epidemic of mosquito-borne encephalitis struck hundreds of victims in Hidalgo County. State Health Department laboratory experts identified the cause of Saint Louis virus, which had never before occurred in epidemic form in this area.
 Psittacosis in isolated flocks of turkeys plagued health officials all spring and summer. The first outbreak 48 employees of a Corsicana packing plant in May. Other cases cropped up in scattered areas, but the disease was finally smothered by a tight program of flock sanitation.
 The year just past was both disheartening and encouraging concerning polio. It was disheartening because 3107 cases made 1954 the second worst polio year in state history; encouraging because of the high hopes held for the success of the Salk vaccine field trials of last spring.
 Some 35,000 Texas second-graders took part in the field trials, and state and county health officials since then have been quietly collecting blood samples and recording data which must be analyzed before the true significance of the vaccine will be known. Results will be announced next spring.

C. L. GREEN MILLING AND GRAIN COMPANY

What's in it for you?

Every Texan profits in a large way from every barrel of crude oil and every cubic foot of natural gas produced in the State.

Directly. Taxes paid by the petroleum industry to support all agencies of the State Government, including schools, old age assistance, and welfare institutions, totaled $170 million in 1954, more than a third of all the taxes collected by the State. And, in addition, the industry pays millions in other taxes to counties, school districts, and municipalities.

Indirect profits are even greater. Industry employees receive and spend about $850 million a year; royalty and lease payments to landowners add up to $500 million. Most of this money passes promptly into trade channels.

As a result, you'll find oil dollars on every balance sheet in Texas and in every bank account, including your own.

...But you can't figure profits in money alone.

The chief profit from the production of oil and natural gas rests in what these fuels do: In the miles you cover with your car... in heat for your home... in the usefulness of articles made from petroleum hydrocarbons... in the power that moves long trains across the continent and turns the wheels of the large industrial plants.

This profit Texans share with all Americans. It is reflected in the American standard of living, which is the world's highest; and it provides a dividend of national security, because a well developed, efficiently operated petroleum industry is one of the major resources in the U. S. arsenal for national defense.

Truett Jones Joined The Staff At Spill Funeral Home In '52

Truett Jones, who has been associated with the Spill Bros. & Co. firm for the past three years, came to Winters from Cross Plains, and had been with an Abilene Mortuary prior to that time.

Since coming to Winters he has made a host of friends throughout this section of the county and has won the admiration of all those with whom he has come in contact. Like Mr. Afferbach with whom he works in conducting funerals he possesses that pleasing manner of speaking in a quiet tone of voice and a sympathetic understanding of the needs of families in their sorrow.

Mr. Jones is a graduate of the Dallas School of Mortuary Science having finished his training in 1934. He has been continuously in that line of work during the past twenty years. He is a member of the First Baptist Church and the Masonic Lodge.

His wife is a member of the Winters School faculty and their son, Jerry is a high school student. Mr. and Mrs. Jones originally came from Merkel.

SPILL MEMORIAL CHAPEL. . . Tribute to the memory of Albert J. Spill and Ben Spill.

Spill Bros., One of the First Business Firms in Winters, Was Established 50 Years Ago By The Late Albert Spill

With confidence in the future growth of the small town of Winters, the late Albert Spill ventured into business in 1905, and laid the foundation for the firm which was to become one of the town's largest and most important in point of service. For thirty years he endeared himself to the residents of this section of the county by his sympathetic understanding when families needed his services.

Soon after the business was begun, a brother the late Ben Spill became associated in 1906, with the firm which became known as Spill Bros. & Co. In 1919, Albert Afferbach of Ballinger, joined his uncles as a third member of the firm. Then a sister, Emma and her husband Ernest Adami, came into the business in 1921 to become the fourth member of the Spill family to operate the furniture and undertaking business in Winters.

At the death of the founders, Albert Spill in 1935, and Ben Spill in 1947, their interests were inherited by their heirs, keeping the business in the family. Mrs. Albert Spill retains her interest and her daughter, Mrs. John Gardner, is a member of the sales force and assists in time of funerals at the Funeral Home. Merrick, a son of Mrs. Albert Spill, though not actively employed in the store, often assists when he is needed.

Mrs. Bendena Deschamps, the daughter of the late Ben Spill, helps in an emergency and during busy seasons. She and her brother, C. B. Spill of Casa Grande, Ariz., retain the interest in the business their father helped to build.

Throughout the years the business has grown and the owners have improved and expanded the facilities, remodeling and adding more space as the necessity arose, until today Spill Bros. & Co. are operating one of the largest furniture stores in this section of West Texas.

BEN SPILL

Chapel in Spill Funeral Home Named In Memory of Founders of Business

Fitting tribute to the memory of Albert Spill, founder of one of the first business institutions in Winters in 1905, and his brother, Ben Spill who joined him one year later to organize the firm of Spill Bros. & Company, is the newly finished Spill Memorial Chapel.

From the small stock of furniture and the two coffins which composed the merchandise for the new business started 50 years ago, Mr. Spill could hardly have visualized the growth and expansion of the store as it is today. Like all our pioneer fathers he had confidence and faith in the town he had chosen for his home and business venture started in the small hamlet of Winters. During his thirty years as the senior partner and head of the growing concern he guided the destiny of the members of the family who so ably took over and continued his work begun so long ago.

At the age of 62, on May 8, 1935 Albert Spill died unexpectedly at Kileen, where he had gone to convey a body for burial. Thus he passed away as he filled the mission he had chosen for his life's work.

When Ben Spill joined the firm, he became active in the operation of the store and bookkeeper a position he held at the time of his death June 18, 1947. He was in the mercantile business before going into partnership with his brother in 1906. In addition to the furniture and undertaking business, Mr. Spill later became one of the owners of the City Drug Store on South Main Street and was one of the co-owners at the time of his death. He was also a prominent landowner in this section of Runnels County. "Uncle Ben" as he was affectionately called died at the age of 69.

Both brothers were born in Seguin, Texas and came to Runnels County with their parents in 1890, locating on a farm near Winters. Albert Spill was married to Claudia Hunter in 1908, who still retains her interest in Spill Bros. & Company. Ben Spill was married to Clara Voelker of Hatchel who preceded him in death, Jan. 10, 1918.

THIS OLD TIMER, the first funeral coach used in Winters by Spill Funeral Home, is a far cry from the modern vehicles used by the firm today. In the driver's seat is the late Robert Afflerbach who was killed in action in the Korean war. Most locals have seen this old hearse in parades here.

Beat The Spring Rush Get Soil Tests Now

COLLEGE STATION — The harvest season in Texas is nearly complete and that means a slackening of farm activities. But it is not too early, says M. K. Thorn, extension agricultural chemist, to begin planning for next year's operations.

A first, according to Thornton is to take and submit soil samples for analysis. Knowing what the soil needs in the way of plant food and organic matter is an important part of any soil building program says the specialist, and a sure answer to "sick" soil is a complete analysis.

He cites the outstanding corn yields made this year by farmers who followed soil treatment recommendations as examples of the value of soil testing. The top yield in the State was made by Doyce Turner of Lamb county who posted an all-time record high of 204.3 bushels of corn an acre. It was grown on land which had been tested. Organic matter was supplied by the application of three tons of cotton bur compost an acre. An application of 200 pounds of 16-20-0 fertilizer was recommended at planting time and a side dressing of nitrate later but the corn grew so fast by side dressing time it was too tall to make the application.

If soil samples are submitted now ahead of the spring rush, Thornton says the recommended fertilizers can be purchased and stored. They'll be on hand when needed and there'll be no question about getting the kinds and amounts needed, he adds.

Doing the job now is insurance against not doing it when the rush of farm work begins with spring operations and too, results will be available for planning next year's cropping program.

Local county agricultural agents can supply information and the blanks which should be sent to the soil testing laboratory with each sample.

Odd isn't it, that a feller can reach a greater height if he has more depth.

The average man can't understand why others can't see him as he sees himself.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK

SHORTFED CATTLE IN BIG SUPPLY

Ft. Worth — Livestock trade on the first marketing day of the new year was featured by above normal numbers of short-fed cattle, especially yearlings and heifers. Also, a larger than normal offering of sheep and lambs, plus some additional weakness in hog prices as supplies in the corn belt were again large.

At Ft. Worth well finished mature steers, cows and bulls drew firm prices Monday, but the large percentage of the run which was yearlings and heifers showing signs of light feeding or short-feeding periods sold around 50 cents or more lower.

The numerous lots of heifers in the run indicated that again this week there were likely to be larger numbers of the offered. This bears out estimates made earlier this fall that more heifers were on feed in the Southwest than earlier estimates had indicated.

Very good demand for highly fitted slaughter cattle developed and most observers at Ft. Worth feel that mature heavy steers are going to grow increasingly scarce in this region as the season progressed, and that more and more young cattle will make up the beef supply.

Stocking and feeder trade was brisk on the kinds with quality, and the plainer sorts were inclined to drift along with the lower grade slaughter kinds.

Choice fat calves were steady, and the plain and medium butcher sorts were weaker.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings bulked at $19 to $24, and the common, plain and medium butcher kinds cashed at $12 to $18.50, with some ratty kinds of yearlings around the $10 marker.

Fat cows sold mostly from $10 to $11.50, a few heiferish kinds above that figure. Cannery and cutters sold mainly from $6 to $9.50, some high yielding cutters of western type, or of brahman extraction, to $10. Virtually no merchantable kinds sold under $6.

Best weighty bulls again cashed at $12 to 13, individuals above that figure. Lighter weights and commoner kinds sold mostly from $9 to $11.50, except some activity on stocker bulls of the lighter weights was noted. Some stocker bulls sold from $10 to $13.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $15 to $19, with best creeped heavies to $20. Common and medium slaughter kinds sold from $11 to $15, and culls cashed around the $10 marker.

Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $17 to $20, and were quotable at $21. Yearling stockers sold mostly from $19 down, but were quotable above that when choice, with straight loads quotable to $20 and better. Replacement cows cleared at $8 to $12.

HOGS WEAK TO 25c LOWER ON MONDAY

The hog market again felt the impact of large runs in the middle west, and prices at Ft. Worth were 25 cents lower. Top hogs scored $18.25, and the lighter and heavier kinds, as well as fat backs, unfinished kinds, etc., sold from $17 to $18.

Sows were weak to 50 cents lower to mostly $15.50 downward, a few lightweights above that range.

Texas hog prices were again well ahead of most Corn Belt averages at the start of this week, and despite the estimate that 1955's Texas pig crop will be 15 percent above last year observers at Ft. Worth feel that hog growers will still be in a relatively advantageous position. Reason for this is that despite the increase in Texas production, it will still be some 37 per cent behind the ten-year average.

This leaves Texas pork production still far short of Texas pork consumption. In fact, packers at Ft. Worth estimate that more than 75 percent of the pork eaten in Texas last year was shipped in from out-of-state either as live hogs or pork products.

Health Letter

AUSTIN — Chances of today's school age children—5 through 19-dying of disease have been cut two-thirds in the past 15 years, a State Health Department statistical summary shows.

Thus, excluding accidents, the readin' writin' rithmic set has three times as much chance of living to collect high school diplomas than had the class of '38.

State Health Officer Henry A. Holle attributes healthier school life in 1955 to improved environment at home and school, immunization and vaccination programs, improved drug therapy, and education of the lay public on the importance of disease prevention.

One of every 594 school-age children in 1938 died of disease. By 1953 the ratio had been cut to one in 1785.

Parents of Texas one and three-quarter million scholastics can breathe easier knowing that 1953 diphtheria death rates have been reduced to one-tenth of the 1938 rate, influenza and pneumonia to one-sixth, scarlet fever to one-third, and malaria and typhoid fever to a flat zero.

Fifteen years ago, the summary shows, school child deaths from all causes reached 3389, compared with 1698 deaths last year. And enrollment in public schools last year was greater by 70,000 than enrollment in 1938.

"Typhoid fever and malaria are excellent examples of what can be accomplished by simply cleaning up mosquito and fly breeding areas, improving sewage and garbage disposal, and improving housing conditions," Dr. Holle said.

Malaria caused the death of 39 school children in 1938, and typhoid killed 144. Neither disease claimed a single life last year.

Significantly, it was in 1938 that the State Department of Health began operating on its present scale.

The figures concerning accidental deaths aren't as bright as these on disease-produced fatalities. Accidents accounted for only 22.3 percent of all school age deaths in 1938, compared with 46.7 percent in 1953.

Accident prevention programs probably represent the most urgent field for student health education, Dr. Holle believes.

Stock Rooms, Storage Space, Business Office, Year Round Air Conditioning Are Features In New Funeral Home

Necessary equipment for a funeral home would be a stock of clothing as well as supplies and adequate storage space. Spill Bros. did not overlook this important item in planning the remodeling of the building which will be open to the public on Jan. 12, from 2 to 6 p. m.

The clothing room, located just off the lobby is stocked with a varied supply of suits, and dresses and beyond this a spacious display room. It is built in an "L" shape and done in green and shell pink with rose beige carpet.

Through a hallway containing linen and supply cabinets, doors lead to the emergency garage and to the preparation rooms. These rooms have green tile wainscoting and white walls and cabinet. Cleanliness and privacy are stressed throughout the entire building.

On the east side of the lobby is the office where preliminary matters are discussed with the family and arrangement of details for the final service is completed. A large mist green desk is the chief piece of furniture. Chairs are in saddle tan and mist green. Fling cabinets complete the ensemble.

Drapes at the windows are of modern design in green, peach and brown. The liberal use of glass in the walls permits wide view from the office.

Comfort is assured during the warm months of the year by a modern cooling system to all parts of the building and wall type heating units, thermostatically controlled, are provided for the winter season.

General contractor for the rebuilding program was O. C. McDermott of Abilene and W. R. Griffith of Sweetwater was the architect
