FFA Livestock Show Has Been Planned For January 10

Date for the Winters FFA Stock Show has been set for January 10, and new officers and directors have been named. This will be the second consecutive year that the show has been presented under the direction of the Winters FFA Stock Show Association.

The membership drive of the FFA Stock Show Association is now under way and members of the Winters FFA are actively soliciting the support of former members as well as new members in the association. The membership cards are $5.00 and may be purchased from any one of the 85 members who are selling them.

Jimmy Smith was elected president of the Show Association at a meeting held Monday night in the agriculture building. Approximately 70 FFA members were present.

Other officers elected were Junior Guy, vice-president, Connie Gibbs, secretary and Mike Priddy, treasurer. Student directors who were selected were Jerry Kraatz, Roeneal Boles, Sammy Albro, Jerry Dunnam, Bill Moore, John Jackson, Jeryl Priddy and Jerry Dunn.

The parent directors were Ernest Smith, E. F. Albro, Alfred Wessels, Robert Kraatz, Monroe Boles, Milton Jackson, J. F. Priddy, Pat Pritchard, Clarence Carpenter and Dude Dunn. The advisory committee is composed of the two vocational agriculture teachers and Jim Nevins, superintendent of the Winters schools.

The boys this year are trying to top all previous membership quotas and plans are being made for the best show ever held in Winters. There are about 200 head of wether lambs on feed including fine wool, Hampshire, Dorsets, Corriedales, Southdowns, Shropshires, Crossbreds and Suffolks.

In the swine show there will be about 175 head of top barrows which will include Berkshire, Duroc, Hampshire, Poland China, Spotted Poland China, Yorkshire and Chester White.

There will be 10 top steers with both Herefords and Aberdeen-Angus breeds shown.

The show will be for all FFA and 4-H members in the North end of Runnels County. Judges of top quality have been secured with Monte Griffin, young sire breeder of Lamesa to judge the barrows and John Jones of the Animal Husbandry staff to judge the steers and wethers. Both men are well known in their field and all the boys are looking forward to having them judge the show here in Winters.

The show barn will be readied for the occasion and proceeds from the membership drive will be used to finance the show. Those in charge of the show would like for every one to have a part in the best Junior Livestock Show ever held in Winters.

High Cost of Labor Reason For Inflation - Cong. Fisher

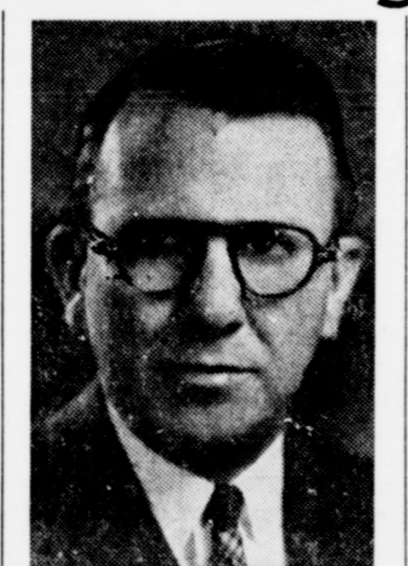

The spiraling cost of labor is one cause for inflation, and the second major contributor to inflation is the government policy in the field of finance, Congressman O. C. Fisher told 50 members and guests of the Winters Lions Club Tuesday. Because, said Fisher, when the government "spends more it borrows more and builds up pressure."

Congressman Fisher spoke to the Lions on "The Many Big Problems, Domestic and Foreign, That Confront Us." He also announced the appointment of Harvey Edward Little to West Point.

"I do not wave flags or come up with Utopian ideas, but my views are the composite judgment of the many people whom I represent," the congressman said.

Of the total budget of $80 billion a year, more than one-half is for defense, foreign aid and aid to veterans, Fisher said, and added that it takes 10 percent in interest alone to service the $280 billion public debt.

Fisher went on to say, "Part of the deficit is essential, since it was caused by the missile age. With the launching of Sputnik, it was necessary to close the gap between this country and Russia in missile development."

CONG. O. C. FISHER

missile research and development costs $7 billions per year, he said. However, "some of the cost is attributed to the pioneer phase of developing missiles since by the time they become operational some are obsolete," he pointed out.

Fisher said that through the scientists and the inventiveness of the American people we are meeting the challenge, as was done in World Wars I and II.

Soil Meet Set for Wingate Nov. 9

Kirby Robinson, Secretary of the Runnels Soil Conservation District, announced that a meeting on the Valley Creek Watershed Project will be held at the Wingate School, Tuesday, December 9, at 7:30 p.m.

Robinson said that the purpose of this meeting is to coordinate the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention efforts of the three counties and Soil Conservation Districts concerned with this project.

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Come Saturday, the city of Winters will be visited by enough people to about double the population. This seldom happens in any city, but with band members, twirlers, their parents, teachers, and other visitors from schools entered in the Area II Marching Band Contests, all coming to Winters, there'll be about 4,000 additional people in town.

This is the second year these contests have been held in Winters, and those responsible for bringing the events here for the second time are to be commended for their efforts. Winters High School Band Director Robert Gans is chairman of the band contests, and as such had a lot to say about where they would be held. The entire administration of the Winters school system has worked hard to bring these contests here, and are working to ready the gymnasium, stadium and other parts of the school campus for the crowds of musicians and visitors who will be here. They'll be on hand throughout the day, in their role as hosts to the visiting schools.

Officially, the City of Winters has extended a hand of welcome to all band members and visitors and local people who will be here to participate in or watch the band contests. All parking meters will be covered throughout the day Saturday.

In fact, the entire population of Winters has joined hands in an expression of welcome to our West Texas friends.

Besides defeating the San Angelo "B" team 32-21 in the new Central High gymnasium in San Angelo the other evening, Winters High School basketballers set some kind of record over there. Jerry Dunnam, who saw a lot of action during the football season, was the first man to sink a field goal in the new gymnasium during a game.

Winters' "A" team lost to San Angelo 61-48 the same evening, but Ricky Grissom was the first individual cager to score more than 20 points in San Angelo's new gym; Ricky potted 22 points in that game.

Winters Lions Club recently completed a membership drive, adding eight new members, and has received commendations from the District 2A governor. Of the more than 125 clubs in the district, the Winters club was one of 12 gaining in membership during the drive.

Commenting on non-essential versus essential Federal spending, Congressman O. C. Fisher told the Lions Club in his talk before them Tuesday, "We have a battle going on all the time to avoid new Federal programs, new spending programs that are really non-essential, as everyone knows. They are good things; they placate a certain group; they help out in some localities; but they are non-essential."

"The question of what constitutes essentiality and non-essentiality, of course, is a debatable question in many instances. Some of them are a little bit borderline, I suppose, but I have always felt that the established programs of the government such as water conservation, soil conservation, and some of those things that we have been engaged in through the years, are generally accepted by the American people as essential types of spending, provided they are placed on a sound, engineeringly feasible basis. . . . Because they contribute something to the permanent wealth and economic stability of the nation."

Roger Babson Discusses:

Inflation and Its Effect Upon You

Babson Park, Mass. — Are you one who finds yourself constantly worrying about your financial future? Do you never seem to have quite enough money to make both ends meet? Perhaps, while successful in many ways, you are a very poor manager of your own finances. You are, if you are a young married couple with children and if you have not cash reserves, available for emergencies, equal to your annual earnings, or if you are not building solidly in that direction!

Inflation Wave Ahead

I ended last week's column by forecasting that we will find the Democratic cure for inflation worse than the Republican disease of taxation. This week let me expand this thought. Both the war and peacetime demands of our economy have increased the federal debt nearly $260 billions since 1932 to a figure now pegged by law at $288 billions. This is an average debt of some $6,000 per family. I suspect that by the early 1960's our federal debt limit may well be lifted to $300 billions.

A first important reason for the climbing federal debt is that our government is fighting an extremely active cold war. America's concern over what goes on in the rest of the world increases the national debt. Stepped-up nuclear weapons research and production, and the very expensive probing of outer space, also add to the national debt. And if Russia dumps onto world markets still more raw materials produced by slave labor, the U. S. Government will undoubtedly have to undertake financial operations to help protect American agriculture and industry. As the debt limit goes up and government activity expands, you can be sure costs will go up and nobody's dollars will go even as far as they go today. A second important reason for inflation is the "easy-buck" attitude of both labor and management toward government work. We all know that if productivity increases faster than wages, prices decline. On the other hand, if wages go up faster than productivity, prices rise. In the interest of national well-being we must fight a vigorous cold war. In so doing, however, it is obvious that unless we give our government a full measure of productivity, we

Give Stereophonic Sound Equipment For Music Lovers

The Christmas holiday brings with it a wealth of stately religious hymns and heart-warming carols! Even pop tunes add notes of listening pleasure. And, gift recordings can extend that pleasure through the whole year.

Music lovers this Christmas have a special treat awaiting them in stereophonic sound, the new tonal magic now available for home high fidelity music systems.

With stereophonic sound, the concert hall is literally brought right into the living room. For the first time, music lovers can enjoy most faithful reproduction...actually listening in depth!

Without being technical, this new dimension in recorded sound is achieved through the calculated placement of performers and equipment in the recording studio. Two microphones are used, resulting in two independent sound tracks impressed on a single record groove. For play-back on your hi-fi system, a special stereo cartridge designed to pickup both tracks is used.

Up to now, home music systems have been designed to play a single track record, disc or tape. Opposed to this monaural or "one eared" system, stereophonic recording is binaural or "two-eared."

It is simple to adapt existing home music systems to stereophonic. The main requirement is a stereo cartridge. Other components needed are an auxiliary amplifier and speaker easily incorporated into any existing system.

Anyone of these pieces offer a gift opportunity to delight the music-lover and his entire family.

TO COLLEGE STATION

only cheapen our own dollars in the long run.

Plan Now Your Own Hedges Against Inflation

To be prosperous, a nation must be productive. Productivity comes from two sources: government spending and consumer spending. It is both government spending and the tremendous rise in consumer spending that have increased our standard of living so markedly. The American spirit of "the opportunity is there if you want to make something of it" has driven our standard of living to startlingly high levels in recent years.

This example of Americans consuming their way to prosperity has perhaps done as much as anything to combat Soviet ideology. But there has been serious danger inherent in consumer spending. Adequate personal, as well as corporate, standards of financial conduct have been lacking. Like the prodigal son, many have awakened during this past year to find they have spent all their resources and are right back where they started a dozen or fifteen years ago.

I, therefore, urge a carefully considered program of finances for all. I conclude that oldsters will have profited from experience. Here, then, is a program for the young people. First, build up your cash reserves to a point where they equal a year's earnings (Savings Banks, Federal Savings Association, Postal Savings, Government Bonds); second, start an expensive straight life insurance program; third, purchase a good noncancellable health insurance policy as a protection while you are getting established in the early years of your work and while your earnings are but modest; fourth, buy a home of the type and in an area that will appreciate in value; fifth, with the help of a good financial counselor commence an investment program, preferable of good common stocks to help offset the inflationary spiral. Keep your holdings well diversified. Remember the clue to financial well-being is saving and investing part of every pay check before spending any of it for the necessities of living.

You "Auto Buy" Gift Items for the Family Motorist

The person who's proud of his auto will be delighted to receive a gift along the motoring line. And the array of items to choose from is extra big.

Quite inexpensive, novel and nice are packs that attach to the visor and hold glasses, cigarettes, tissues, etc., all within easy reach...or a tissue dispenser to be placed under the dashboard...along with trays to make snacking in the car more convenient.

Because he is proud of the auto, spruce up gifts are always better than good. The whirling car-washing-brush that attaches to a regular garden hose is the first consideration...but how about a water bucket filled with jars and cans of cleaners and waxes, scrub brushes, a full-skinned oil-tanned chamois, and a can of spray-on touch-up enamel for those tiny scrapes and nicks on the car.

White rubber tire sidewall disks can be bought to slip on right over regular black tires.

For safety's sake, how about a directional signal kit or seat belts!

For the man "on the road" here are some real-glad-to-get gift ideas: a compass just might come in handy someday...roof-top luggage carriers get the extra baggage out of the way...a lantern or flashlight is a "must"...garment bags and clothes hanging-equipment are always favored by the man on the go.

An electric shaver adapter and a radio are two more gifts the moving motorist will go for. And if he must leave the car parked on the street for any length of time, a locking gas tank cap could save money and inconvenience one day!

Check your nearest auto supply store for these and many more marvelous motoring gifts...your favorite service station carries many good items, too.

Texas has not been without cattle since 1690, when the Spanish brought stock for the first mission.

Christmas Program Presented At FHA Meeting Monday

A candle lighted Christmas program was presented by Marilyn Mitchell and Sherry Mote at the regular meeting of the Winters Future Homemakers of America Monday, December 6, in the Homemaking cottage.

Miss Mitchell gave a reading "The Star in the East" and Sherry Mote sang Christmas carols as background music.

A table laid with white damask centered with three lighted pink candles surrounded with pink angel hair dotted with silver Christmas tree ornaments emphasized the Yuletide season.

A horn of plenty filled with fruit banked with autumn leaves and an open Bible with candles at either side decorated the display case.

Ophelia Dietz, president, presided and the girls of the month elected were Serena Minzenmayer, September; Nancy Norman, October and Frances Saunders, November.

Ruth Ann Spill, refreshment chairman, served orange drink to eight officers and thirty guests.

The meeting was closed with the closing ritual and the FHA creed.

Most Countries Mark Christmas With Gaiety, Greetings, Gift Giving, Feasting

The real and beautiful meaning and spirit of Christmas is the only aspect of the gift-giving holiday that is shared by all the civilized nations of the world.

Greetings, the spiritual bestowal of gifts, dates of celebration, traditions and superstitions are unique in each land or region. December 25 is, however, generally the red letter day.

"The melting pot of the world" applies to the American Christmas celebration as well as to its people. Here, as in no other land, more of these ideas and ways-of-doing are intermingled, though our Christmas most closely resembles that of the English.

But, America, too, has one really unique "tradition" — Santa Claus! The jolly fellow we see around at Christmas is not the same gift-giver in other countries. He is, however, a composite of many of those "Santas" across the seas.

Bayberry candles are an origination of the American settlers — and the poinsettia plant is a native of tropical America.

In Norway, "Julenissen," a gay elf, arrives on Christmas Eve as shouts of "Gledelig Yul" ring out.

"St. Nicholas" dressed in black robes rides over the house tops on a white steed on December 5. He visits the children of Austria, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and Greece.

"Joyeux Noel" is the happy French greeting and "Pere Noel" is the bearer of gifts.

Italian children are visited by "La Befana," a good fairy, on January 5, the Eve of Epiphany. "Buone Feste Natalize" is their greeting.

"Feliz Navidad" is the phrase of the day, January 5, in Spain. There the Three Wise Men fill the children's shoes with gifts.

"Lan Khoony-Khoong," meaning "Nice Old Father," fills oddly-shaped stockings made by Chinese children.

AT TEXAS A. AND M.
Alfred C. Wessels, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Wessels of Winters, is a member of the class of '62 at Texas A. and M. College. Wessels is a graduate of Winters High School where he lettered in basketball and was runner-up for the Lone Star Farmer of Texas.

IN FULTON HOME
Mr. and Mrs. James McWilliams and children of Barnhart were weekend visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Fulton. Mrs. McWilliams will be remembered here as the former Ava Fulton.

IN FORT WORTH
Mr. and Mrs. Grover Davis spent the weekend in Dallas visiting in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Davis.

Texas Sees Goal of 10 Percent Cut In Traffic Fatalities During 1958

Texans are on about the 10-yard line in the drive to set a traffic safety record in 1958.

Safety officials will count it a "touchdown" if at the end of the year traffic fatalities have been reduced by 10 per cent of the 1957 toll. Despite the emphasis on percentages and numbers, it is not a campaign for statistical glory.

None of the players on the safety crusade team can hope to benefit personally from an impressive scoreboard. Nor are they out to "win for the coach." Gov. Price Daniel already has had his "contract" renewed—at last summer's elections.

Real winners will be 254 Texas people. All of them would be dead by Dec. 31 if last year's accident rate continued.

For the first 10 months of this year Texas has been achieving its aim of a 10 per cent cut in traffic deaths. This has been done even though travel has increased two per cent.

But the last four weeks—like the last four downs in front of the goal post—will be the hardest. Christmas and New Year's holiday traffic will multiply driving dangers many times.

State officials, patrolmen and all the civic-minded associations and commissions and councils are geared for an all-out push. But actually "getting there" will depend on each Texan putting "Drive safely" at the top of his Christmas list.

SAFETY LEGISLATION

For greater safety in the years ahead, the Governor's Highway Safety Commission will ask the next Legislature to pass a six-point program.

Points in the program: (1) state aid for driver education in the public schools, (2) creating county-wide courts of record to handle traffic violations, (3) legalizing use of chemical tests to determine intoxication, (4) strengthening drivers license law, (5) revising and updating the uniform vehicle code and (6) increasing salaries for members of the Department of Public Safety and starting a program to bring the highway patrol to the national minimum standard of 1,600.

Essentially the same program also has been endorsed by the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

SCHOOL REPORT COMPLETE

Hale-Aikin Committee has completed its study and agreed—with some difficulty—on a proposed program for improving public schools.

Final report is 37 pages long, detailing improvements and expansions that would increase school spending by $110,000,000 a year. Suggestions for upgrading the quality of public education include more days of school, more pay for teachers, driver education, special programs for the gifted, pre-school teaching of non-English speaking children, clerical assistance for teachers, etc.

Full final report will be printed within two or three weeks for distribution to legislators and interested citizens. Copies may be obtained from the Texas Education Agency, Austin.

SCHOOL LAW TESTED

Texas officials are studying carefully the similarities between Texas' and Alabama's pupil placement laws.

U.S. Supreme Court declared the Alabama law constitutional "on its face." But the court indicated the law might later be considered unconstitutional in the way in which it was applied.

Texas' pupil placement law, in the same general pattern, was passed in 1957, has never been tested in court. It allows local school officials to assign students to certain schools on the basis of 17 factors—aptitude, intelligence, home environment, personal conduct—almost everything except race.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said all the court tests of similar laws are being watched. By the end of the year, he said, "we should know pretty well what the law is."

PRISON FUNDS RUN SHORT

Texas Board of Corrections will ask the Legislature for a half-million-dollar emergency appropriation to finish out the fiscal year.

Untimely fall rains caused heavy losses in the Prison System's cotton crop. Result is that the system, which pays more than half its own way with prison industries and agriculture, will run short by an estimated $506,000 by Aug. 31.

Department of Corrections also will be asking for funds to expand its overcrowded facilities. Needed, says the Board, is $9,050,000 to build two new units for prisoners and one tuberculosis unit.

GO SLOW

"Like pay for like work" is a great idea, says the Texas Public Employees Association. But its members, the state employees, are wary of any effort to put a job classification system into effect in a hurry.

TPEA says it will study carefully the job classification study made by the Texas Employment Commission at the request of the last Legislature. Employees said they might have some recommendations of their own by the time lawmakers meet.

TEC's study makes no salary recommendations but is simply an individual description of some 26,500 state jobs.

Some employees fear that attempts to adjust pay inequities between similar jobs would only result in more inequities. Others say the task of adjusting and supervising job classification would create another mushrooming money-spending bureau.

RE-TREAD FOR ROADS

Texas Highway Commission has okayed a $20,000,000 program for improving 3,061 miles of existing farm roads.

Age and heavy use has brought need for re-surfacing, bridge widening and shoulder replacement, said the commission.

Texas' farm-to-market road system has grown from 3,060 miles in 1948 to the present 28,203 miles.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Independence Day Association has announced a $280,000 program for improving Washington-on-the-Brazos State Park, site of the signing of the Texas Declaration of Independence. It hopes to raise the money privately, create a tourist attraction and suitable site for March 2 observances

Mrs. N. Hambright Honored On 88th Birthday

An informal party honoring Mrs. Naomi Hambright on her 88th birthday was held Monday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Osborne of Crews.

Other children who hosted the affair were Mrs. Effie Dietz and Marvin Hambright of Crews, Clarence Hambright and Mrs. Carl Baldwin of Winters. Six of her 24 grandchildren were also present for the occasion. Mrs. Hambright also has 15 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hambright was born November 25, 1870 in Detroit, Ala., and came to Texas soon after her marriage, living in Hill County for a time and later moving to Runnels County where she has lived for more than 50 years.

After Mr. Hambright's death, she lived in Winters for several years but now is making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Dietz, at Crews. She is still active, walking to the mailbox, gathering eggs and likes to raise flowers. She is a member of the Methodist Church and is able to attend in the summer.

Mrs. Hambright has two sisters, two brothers and a half brother living in Alabama.

State Department of Health is showing off its new "home"—a $3,000,000 building just completed on the northern outskirts of Austin. Texas has had a teenage crime wave in 1958, says Dept. of Public Safety Director Col. Homer Garrison Jr. Juvenile arrests are at an all-time high, up 16 per cent from last year.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. De LaCruz Tuesday Morning

Funeral rites for Mrs. Inocencia De LaCruz, 52, resident of Winters for twenty-eight years, were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in Mr. Carmel Catholic Church, with the Rev. Julius Johnson, officiating. Rosary was recited Monday at 8 p.m. in Spill Memorial Chapel. Burial was in the Lakeview Cemetery.

Mrs. De LaCruz died Sunday at 10:40 a.m. in Winters Municipal Hospital. She had suffered a stroke about a week earlier.

A native of Mexico, Mrs. De LaCruz was born December 28, 1905 and came to Texas on September 6, 1927, settling near Big Spring. She was married to Evandro De LaCruz in Big Spring and the couple moved to Winters in 1930.

Mrs. De LaCruz was a member of the Mt. Carmel Catholic Church. Survivors included five sons, Louis, Jose, Paul and Daniel, all of Winters and Juan of Ballinger; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Guerrero of Sanger and Susie De LaCruz of Winters; 15 grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Celia Flores of Mexico, and Mrs. Thomas Salas of Joliet, Illinois, and one brother, Diego Santos of Sonora.

Christmas Seal Sale Makes Tuberculosis Study Possible

Treatment and prevention of tuberculosis in children—and the reasons why young girls break down with TB—are being studied under Christmas Seal medical research grants from tuberculosis associations.

Dr. John W. Middleton, president of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and associate professor of medicine at the Medical Branch, The University of Texas, announced today that four centers in Texas were cooperating in a large scale study designed to improve care of children with tuberculosis. Those centers are at the Driscoll Children's Hospital in Corpus Christi, the Dallas Pediatric Hospital, the Houston Tuberculosis Hospital, and the El Paso Health Department.

Exact purpose of the study, according to Dr. Middleton, is to find out whether serious complications can be prevented by giving a drug, isoniazid, to children when first infected with tuberculosis.

The study was organized and coordinated by the U. S. Public Health Service. A medical research grant from the National Tuberculosis Association supplements federal funds.

Almost 3,000 children are now under observation. Some of the children are receiving isoniazid; some are receiving dummy pills. Preliminary reports indicate that fewer complications are arising among the children receiving isoniazid.

"The study is one of two on tuberculosis in children being aided by Christmas Seal grants," Dr. Middleton said. "Another clinical study concerns tuberculosis in adolescence."

"No Time For Sergeants"

One of Broadway's most successful comedies, "No Time For Sergeants," now comes to the screen as a Mervyn LeRoy production for Warner Bros.

The laugh-crammed picture which opens Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre, stars Andy Griffith in this story about the peace-time Air Force's hilariously unsuccessful attempt to indoctrinate a naive Georgia farm boy. Co-starring in the film, which LeRoy both produced and directed, are Myron McCormick, Nick Adams and Murray Hamilton.

Don Knotts, the popular comedian of the Steve Allen show, also has a key role in the picture, which was adapted for filming by the noted screen-writer, John Lee Mahin.

"No Time For Sergeants" first delighted millions when it was published as a novel by Mac Hyman, an ex-Air Force lieutenant. The play, written by Ira Levin and produced by Maurice Evans, opened in New York on October 20, 1955, with Griffith and McCormick heading the cast. The play was hailed as one of the funniest ever, and Griffith was widely acclaimed.

Mervyn LeRoy has had the magic touch in transplanting plays to the screen. In 1956 his production of the play, "The Bad Seed," was one of the most successful films of the year. He directed "Mr. Roberts" which turned out to be the biggest money-maker of 1955.

Andy Griffith was the popular choice to recreate on the screen the role of Will Stockdale, the naive draftee. A graduate of the University of North Carolina, Griffith was teaching music and speech at the high school in Goldsboro, North Carolina until a few years ago.

He gave up teaching to entertain at nightclubs in the South. A recording of one of his comedy monologues, "What It Was—Was Football" sold 800,000 copies and paved the way for his stage debut in "Sergeants." Andy left the cast to make his first motion picture, "A Face in the Crowd," which Elia Kazan filmed for Warner Bros.

Myron McCormick recreates his humorous characterization of the sorely tried Sergeant King. The actor, who also was in the New York production of the play, was previously known for his outstanding comic portrayal of the Seabee promoter, Luther Billis, in the stage version of "South Pacific." He has been seen on film theatre screens in "Not As A Stranger" and "Three For The Show."

"Teenage Rebel" The modern-day story of a mother who has lost her daughter in a divorce settlement some years back, and of her efforts to win over the love of this innocent victim of her earlier indiscretion, will be told in "Teenage Rebel" which opens Saturday and Sunday at the Fiesta Theatre.

The Twentieth Century-Fox CinemaScope drama, based on the Broadway stage play "A Roomful of Roses" by Edith Sommer, headlines Ginger Rogers, Michael Rennie, and three stars of the future, Betty Lou Keim, Warren Berlinger and Diane Jergens. The central figures in the film plot are the latter three, all teenagers, who represent the initial phase of the film company's current campaign to develop new faces in motion pictures.

Betty Lou Keim, already established on Broadway and TV and with the MGM film, "The Wilder Years," before she was signed by Twentieth Century-Fox, plays the role she created on the stage—that of the teenage daughter who has developed an extreme dislike for her mother. Handsome young Warren Berlinger also comes to the picture from "A Roomful of Roses," and makes his film debut in the screen version. A product of the Broadway stage and TV, he has won considerable critical praise for his acting ability. The fine notices on his performance in the TV version of "Kiss and Tell" are a recent example. Diane Jergens, who plays Berlinger's sister in "Teenage Rebel" already has appeared in several films and is also a talented TV performer. Her most recent film role was in "Friendly Persuasion."

Feelings about these youngsters have run so high that Twentieth Century-Fox has cast Berlinger and Diane Jergens in its forthcoming CinemaScope production, "Three Brave Men," starring Ray Milland, Ernest Borgnine and Frank Lovejoy.

Debbie Reynolds at high school time showed great promise in every field she entered—except that of acting. The vivacious Miss Reynolds, co-starred with Continental favorite Curt Jurgens and rising young John Saxon in Universal-International's Color - CinemaScope "This Happy Feeling," opening Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre, excelled as a baton twirler, a sandlot baseball player, and as a performer on the French horn.

However, it was because high school plays lean usually toward the dramatic that Debbie never succeeded in winning a role, her talents running to comedy, music and impersonations. As a result her early theatrical training was restricted to such behind-the-scenes activities as prop girl and prompter.

Then came a talent contest in her local community, Burbank, California, in which she did an imitation of Betty Hutton and won the title "Miss Burbank of 1948" and a screen test and contract. Her performance as Helen Kane in "Three Little Words" brought her the star build-up which led to such successful pictures as "The Tender Trap," "Susan Slept Here" and "Tammy And the Bachelor," in which she sang the title song and became a million-record-sale sensation.

Debbie also sings the title song in "This Happy Feeling," written by Jay Livingston and Ray Evans, who created the "Tammy" tune.

"Showdown at Boot Hill"

"Showdown at Boot Hill," a Twentieth Century-Fox Regal Scope release starring Charles Bronson which opens Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre, is the story of a deadly gunman who is obsessed by his small size to the extent of becoming a bounty hunter—a man on the right side of the law but hated by everyone. The film features several masterful gunfight scenes and promises to be one of the most taut, action-packed westerns to appear on the screen since "High Noon."

Co-starring Robert Hutton, John Carradine and Carole Mathews, the film introduces the new and highly talented Irish actress Fintan Meyler in the role of the shy and withdrawn frontier girl, "Sally." Produced by Harold E. Knox and directed by Gene Fowler, Jr.

The film features an exciting new song by Marilyn and Joe Hooven, "Don't Ever Pretend at Love." The story concerns Deputy Sheriff Luke Welsh, played by Bronson, a professional gunfighter and bounty hunter who trails a man to a small western town, kills him and then finds the entire community turned against him. Finding only one friend, a lovely young girl, he finally brings the situation to the boiling point and then performs an act of bravery which vindicates himself in the eyes of the town and the woman he now loves.

Floating Buoys Mark Fishing Spots on Coast

Fifty floating buoys are being placed in coastal bay waters as navigational aids to sports fishermen, according to the director of the Marine Fisheries Division of the Game and Fish Commission.

The purpose of the buoys is to mark good fishing reefs which are often difficult for fishermen to locate. Formerly these reefs were either unmarked or marked with stakes, jugs, poles and various other items. The new buoys are constructed of fiber glass. They serve as permanent markers for designated reefs.

They are cylindrical buoys which extend two feet above the water. They are orange and white striped with the letters TG&FC stenciled on the side.

The locations were selected by the marine biologists working in the area. The buoys will be placed in the following bays:

Aransas, Copano, Corpus Christi, Galveston, Matagorda, San Antonio, Tres Palacios, Trinity, and the Lower Laguna Madre.

All locations have been approved by the U.S. Coast Guard. More precise descriptions of the positions of the markers will be given in a forthcoming article in the TEXAS GAME AND FISH magazine.

69 Pay Fines For Shooting Out of Autos

Shooting from automobiles constituted the major game offense during October, according to the monthly report of the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission. There were 69 paying fines for this violation. In addition there were 69 fishermen arrested for not having licenses.

were 34 for killing doves during closed season and 33 for exceeding the bag limit on doves. There were 23 who jumped the season on quail, and 26 caught hunting with unplugged guns. Headlight hunters also accounted for 25 arrests. In all there were 457 persons arrested. They paid fines and court costs amounting to $10,956.87. Five persons also served jail terms. The man who thought nothing of walking ten miles a day now has a grandson who doesn't think so much of it either.

By VERN SANFORD

Duck hunters, particularly along the South Texas coast, are urged to "look a little harder and shoot a little slower" this year.

This announcement comes from the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service. It all came about when the Federal boys threw a little unannounced hitch in this year's regulations concerning canvasbacks and red heads.

Cans and reds are in short supply this year. But nothing was said about it until the new regulations were announced. Under these regulations you are limited to two of either or one of each.

This is quite a blow to the hunters on the coast along the Laguna Madre, from Corpus Christi to Brownsville. Here the reds pile up by the thousands in rafts. They decoy well to spreads around blinds.

Many hunters in South Texas violently disagree with the Federal boys about the reds and cans being in short supply. Apparently they were when the census was made in Canada in the early spring. However, later studies indicate there was a heavy late crop. It is possible we may have a paradox this year, millions of ducks, and a law which says they can't be shot.

This is just one of the tragedies that go with wildlife studies. There can be many mistakes made. Many of them are made in behalf of wildlife protection, however, and all good sportsmen will abide by the rules. Those who don't will, of course, be prosecuted.

Incidentally the migration of waterfowl from the north already has started along the entire Central Flyway. Now there are many ducks on the Texas coast, and even on the smaller impoundments throughout the state.

Late counts indicate that both duck and goose populations are at a fairly high level. This is good news to Texas duck hunters.

OLD AUTOS PAY OFF — About six months ago, after much study by biologists and a lot of complaining by people who knew it wouldn't work, the Game & Fish Commission dumped a couple of hundred old auto bodies off Port Aransas, in 60 feet of water.

This experiment cost about $7,000. There were all kinds of charges that money being paid for fishing licenses was being wasted by dumping these old wrecks into the Gulf. A goodly number contended that no one ever would catch a snapper around them.

Seems they are right. No one has caught a snapper around them yet. The trouble is there are so many other fish roaming around the old bodies that the bait can't get down to the bottom (where the snappers are) before some other big fish catches it.

Now hundreds of boats roam about the artificial reef, daily.

This success was no surprise to the biologists, who often have a hard time getting a job done because the curbstones biologists don't believe in it.

Anyway, this artificial reef business is growing. Up in the New England states a sportsman's club located some 14,000 empty beer kegs. They filled them half full of cement and dropped them into the water. In some other places worn out barges have been used. Also proposed is the worn-out railroad dump cars for artificial

Funeral Rites For W. M. Whitley Held Saturday

Funeral services for W. M. (Bill) Whitley, 63, Winters Chief of Police, were held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in Spill Memorial Chapel. The Rev. L. L. Trot of Abilene, Baptist district 17 missions secretary, officiated and the Rev. Virgil James, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church, assisted. Burial was in the Lakeview Cemetery.

Mr. Whitley died unexpectedly at his home about 6:30 a.m. Friday. An autopsy showed cause of death to be a heart attack. He had been sick during the night and died before an ambulance arrived.

Mr. Whitley was born May 3, 1895 in Granbury and moved to Coleman at the age of 5. Shortly afterwards he moved to Runnels County, living near Bradshaw. He farmed and worked for Radford Wholesale Grocery Company until about 1940, when he was employed by the Abilene Police Department. He was a special officer compartment such as tackle box, or car trunk.

for the Texas and Pacific Railway for a time, then moved to Winters in 1946.

After serving a short time as Winters Chief of Police, Mr. Whitley became a Runnels County deputy sheriff. He resigned that post in 1948 and went to work as a deputy sheriff in Llano County. In July of 1949, he returned to Winters as chief of police and held that job until his death.

He was married to Aline Dunn of Abilene, November 14, 1938.

He was a member of the Odd-fellows, the West Texas Peace Officers Association and the West Texas Sheriffs Association.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care for Mr. Snellen, who invented that vision test in 1863. But not for today's needs, for much more is involved.

Children in school today do not learn at 20 feet but at near distances, 10 to 18 inches away. That's why testing for skillful vision at "near" is so important. Evidence shows that most children who fail the 20-foot test usually are in the UPPER fourth of their class.

Seeing-problems increase as the grade advances. In grade school 9 per cent, in high school 24 per cent, and in college 40 per cent of the students have deficient vision.

Be sure YOUR child is examined for NEAR vision. That's important!

Local Farmers Made Application For Conservation Program

Walter Adami, Rt. 2, Winters, and John Mitchell, Rt. 4, Winters, have made application during November for assistance under the Great Plains Conservation Program. Mitchell's applications were on three farms totaling 564 acres. Adami's application was for one farm on 754 acres. Adami and Mitchell will both develop conservation plans. These plans may include needed conservation measures and land use adjustments. James Glynn, of the local Soil Conservation Service, reports that these plans can incorporate all of the going programs such as the Conservation Reserve and the Agricultural Conservation Program. Federal cost-share under the Great Plains Conservation Program ranges from 50 to 80 percent of the average cost for installing needed conservation measures. For further information concerning the program, contact the local Soil Conservation Service, County Agent, FHA or the ACP.

The following is by Edward H. Carruth in connection with next Sunday's Sunday School lesson: A Scottish agnostic, who had been the object of numerous evangelistic efforts, attended the village church one Sunday. Later he returned and united with the church, much to the surprise of many of the members.

When asked what led to his decision to unite with the church, the man replied, "The little woman I helped down the steps after the first service I attended. She looked at me earnestly and said, 'I do hope you love Jesus as much as I do. He has done so much for me!'" Jesus knew there is no more powerful testimony on God's behalf than the declaration of His love by those who have received His blessings. And He knew also that there is no field so fruitful as one's own village and circle of friends. Thus He refused the demoniac's request to accompany him. He said, "Go home to your friends, and tell them how much the Lord has done for you."

Attending the Drasco Baptist Church Sunday were Karen Smith of Hardin-Simmons University, Jerene Richards and Kay Ballew of Abilene and Zack Prince of Fort Worth.

Changes In Your Social Security

By F. NEIL TARVIN

Social security benefits are intended to replace in part loss of income brought about by the death, disability, or old-age retirement of the worker. For this reason, they are related to the average earnings of a worker in employment or self-employment covered by the social security law. Obviously, social security benefits are affected by changes in the national economy. Since the last benefit increase was put into effect in 1954, wages have increased by about 12 percent and prices by 8 percent. Congress felt that adjustments in the benefit scale were in order and voted an across-the-board increase in the amendments which the President signed into law on August 28, 1958. These benefits become effective at the beginning of 1959, and will be included in all benefit checks for January which will reach beneficiaries early in February. As I said in the first article in this series, it is not necessary to visit your social security office to apply for these increases. They will be made automatically.

The benefit increases for retired workers amount to about 7 percent over the levels provided in the old law, with a minimum increase of $3.00 in the benefits payable to a retired worker who came on the rolls at or after age 65. Slightly smaller increases will be shown on the benefit checks of retired women workers who elected to retire at age 62 or at any age thereafter before reaching age 65. Proportionate increases will be made in benefits paid to beneficiaries who are the dependents or survivors of retired or deceased workers.

For retired male workers now getting benefit payments, the monthly payments, beginning with the payment for January, will range from $33 to $116, as compared with $30 to $108.50 under the old law. For women workers now getting retirement benefits the increased checks will range from $26.40 to $116 per month. This slightly lower minimum benefit is due to the fact that some women chose to retire before age 62.

Another change in the law will make possible large maximum benefit payments for many people coming on the benefit rolls in the future. This will be due to the change in the so-called "Earnings base" on which payments are figured. Right now, only earnings up to a total of $4,200 in a year can be credited to a worker's social security account; beginning with 1959, earnings up to $4,800 in a year will be credited to a social security account. The largest monthly benefit payable to a retired worker with average yearly earnings of $4,800 will be $127. However, this maximum benefit cannot be reached for many years.

Along with the increase in benefits will come an increase in social security taxes. Beginning in January, employed persons will have one-fourth of 1 percent additional taken out of the pay; the tax rate will be two and one-half percent each for employee and employer. The rate for self-employed people will go up from three and three-eighths percent to three and three-fourths on their 1959 net earnings. The old rate, however, will apply to self-employment earnings for 1958 which must be paid when income tax returns are filed in 1959.

In the first article of this series I discussed briefly changes in the disability provisions of the social security law. In my next article I shall explain how these changes can mean payments to many people who could not qualify for benefits before the law was amended.

Save Quail Bands

Hunters killing banded quail this year are urged to deliver the bands to their game wardens. Many thousands of banded birds have been released. When these bands are turned over to the warden, or sent to the Game & Fish Commission in Austin, it aids in the biological research necessary in wildlife management.

C. C. Wiedenfeld of the local Soil Conservation Service examines protective litter on the Mitchell Blackwood farm southwest of Winters.

Runnels Farmers Leaving Stubble on Land for Protection Against Erosion

Many farmers in the Runnels Soil Conservation District are now taking steps to protect their land from wind erosion during the winter and spring months. Vernon Webb, Rt. 2, Ballinger; Paul Pruitt, Star Rt., Bronte; B. B. Campbell, Hatchell; Jim Patton, Wingate; Herman Bredemeyer, Rt. 1, Winters; Walter Spill, Rt. 2, Winters; and Arthur Eggemeyer, Rt. 1 Miles, have planted small grain for cover crops.

Some of those who are leaving stubble from sorghum on the surface of the soil are Vernon Pape, Ballinger; Frank Gruber, Norton; R. W. Kutsek, Rt. 1, Miles; Lonnie Burton, Rt. 3, Winters; Lawrence Green, Ballinger, and C. H. Spaw, Maverick.

James Glynn, of the local Soil Conservation Service, reports that living cover crops such as small grain, winter peas and vetch furnish the best protection during the blow season. When these crops cannot be grown, the residues from previous crops should be managed so as to leave as much dead litter on the surface of the soil as possible.

Local Delegates Of District Eleven Attended State Teacher's Meeting

Superintendent A. Dooley of the Wingate School and Mrs. J. T. Randolph of the Winters Primary School were the local delegates from District 11, who attended the Texas State Teachers Association convention in Fort Worth on November 27, 28, and 29.

Sadie Ray Powell of San Antonio, president of the T.S.T.A. presided for every session. Outstanding speakers on the program were Howard E. Butt, Jr., of Corpus Christi; Dr. Sylvia Sorokin of St. Louis, Missouri; Governor Price Daniel; Supt. Lester Buford, Mt. Vernon, Illinois, and Mayor H. Roe Bartle of Kansas City, Missouri.

Friday afternoon there were sectional meetings held at various places throughout the city of Fort Worth. These conferences were in charge of capable leaders from different parts of the country.

Officers elected for the new year were Vincent Miller, president and Mrs. Alexander of Palestine, vice-president. The meeting will be in San Antonio at Thanksgiving next year, but the delegates voted to change the time of meeting after the next convention.

Much discussion of the Haile-Aikin committee report was heard.

Rita Walker hit 23 points to lead the Blizzardettes, followed by Carolyn Faubion with 19 points and Dorretha King with 15 points.

A Junior Livestock Show, which will be about the biggest of its kind in the territory has been planned for January 10 by the Winters FFA Stock Show Association. They plan to show about 400 head of fat stock, including all breeds cattle, sheep and swine. There will be no poultry shown. The show will be held in the livestock barns on the north edge of town.

Members are out selling memberships in the Association this week, and we can think of no better way of supporting this show than joining the organization. These junior livestock shows attract the attention of many people over the state, and the Winters show is about the top.

These boys who study, raise and show livestock in these shows have shown many times that the faith of the community in their activities is well founded.

Santa Claus, Indiana, Receives Many Santa Claus Letters Each Year

Each year thousands of cards and packages pour into certain tiny post offices throughout the country to be stamped with their special cancellation.

Santa Claus, Indiana, is perhaps the most popular recipient. Many cards and letters addressed to "Santa Claus, Santa Claus, Indiana," arrive there, too.

Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, a city seven times the size of the original in Palestine, receives thousands of cards and packages from all over the country. They are marked with special Christmas stamps and sent on.

This story is repeated in six other Bethlehems, one Santa. It happens in Christmas Cove, Maine; Noel, Virginia and Missouri.

There are many towns throughout the 48 states named Nativity,

Goodwill, Peace, Joy and Star.
