To those who wish to send cards to Dennis, his address is Lamesa General Hospital, Brenda's address is: Care of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Holley, Muleshoe.

About 400 head of livestock will enter the show ring at the Winters FFA livestock barn for the annual Winters Junior Livestock show, Saturday, January 10. Included will be classes for steers, swine and sheep, in what has been called one of the biggest shows of its kind in the country.

All 4-H boys and girls and members of the Future Farmers of America in North Runnels County are eligible to enter their livestock in the show. Prize money amounting to about $1000.00 will be awarded winners in the show.

Showing of livestock will begin at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, according to Jimmy Smith, president of the FFA Stock Show Association, sponsors of the show.

Judging the steers will be J. D. Hampton, vocational agriculture teacher from Brady. He has worked with livestock many years, and has been teaching agriculture eight years.

Judging wethers will be Aime F. Real of Kerrville, an outstanding breeder of top quality sheep. Real has been selected by the Official Board of the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago to judge the Southdown sheep in the International show in 1959-60.

Placing the winners in the swine drive out will be Monte Griffin, well-known swine breeder. He was on the Livestock Judging Team at Texas Tech and is a breeder of prize-winning Chester White, Berkshire and Duroc swine.

Classes in the show are as follows:

- STEERS
Light and heavy. To be divided after weigh-in.
- SWINE
Light, medium and heavy barrows.
- SHEEP
Light and heavy fine wool.
Trio of fine wool.
Light and heavy crossbred.
Trio of Crossbred.
Light and heavy medium wool breeds.

Trio of other medium wool breeds.

Light and Heavy Southdown.
Trio of Southdowns.

Champions in each class will be presented at the conclusion of the show, with trophies awarded to all winners.

In competition for Showmanship Awards, four boys from the sheep class, four from swine and two from the steer class will be selected and there will be a showing contest held in the ring, and the winner in each division will be awarded a trophy. Donors of trophies for this event are: steers, Winters State Bank; sheep, Winters Lumber Co.; swine, Kendrick Insurance Agency.

This annual livestock show is financed with funds received from membership fees in the Winters FFA Stock Show Association. The final push on the membership drive will be held this week with all funds received going to finance this show. As has been expressed by backers of this organization and livestock show, "purchase of a membership in the organization gives everyone a chance to help a worthwhile group of young stock raisers, in their showing of their accomplishments in the livestock industry."

General superintendents of the show are E. F. Albro, Bob Christian and Roeneal Boles; swine division, Monroe Boles, Pat Pritchard, Gary Worthington; Sheep, J. F. Priddy, Jr., Milton Jackson, Mike Priddy; steer, George Brown, and Dan Brown.

Judging of the livestock will begin at 9 a.m. with the steers; 10 a.m. swine judging; 2:00 p.m. sheep judging and at 4:30 the parade of champions will be held and awards presented.

Showmanship judging will be an annual affair of the Livestock Show.

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

"Pattern for Tomorrow's Meat Producers" might well be the theme of the Annual FFA-4-H Livestock Show here Saturday. Because from the strains of livestock which go into the show rings come the stock cattle, swine and sheep which will be raised in the future to meet the needs of an increasing population.

We believe that such stock shows are highly responsible for the high quality of livestock now being raised. Nothing but the best enters the show ring, and from them come the herds and flocks which feed the country.

The quality of livestock raised all over the country not too many years ago would, in most cases, be considered as undesirable now. Stock raisers now demand that their basic breeding stock be the best. They watch the stock shows, and those prize animals are bought to form new herds or improve existing herds.

Without these stock shows there is, of course, the possibility that the breed of animals would be improved anyway; but we doubt that the improvement would be as fast or as consistent.

Although at this stock show, all animals will be shown by young people, the raising and showing of such stock is not child's play. There is considerable expense, and much hard work to feed an animal and get it in shape for the show ring. And besides, there is a twofold purpose: the inevitable improvement of a breed, and the experience to be gained by these young people.

The livestock show to be held Saturday is being sponsored by the Winters FFA Livestock Show Association, and is open to all FFA members and 4-H'ers in North Runnels County. Financing of the show is through membership in the Association. This is one of the biggest junior livestock shows in the area, and with your purchase of a membership you help to progress the livestock business and add a lot of experience for those young people.

And of course, you are urged to attend the Show. There is no admission charge, and you will get a chance to see some of the best livestock in the country and watch some of the best livestock handlers in action.

According to the Chief of Police, Lawrence Hennigan, there have been many street lights broken and window panes knocked out recently by air guns and pellet guns. One street light has been replaced several times, only to be broken out by someone with an air rifle.

Hennigan points out that parents of minors who disregard property rights are responsible for damage. He also said that there is an ordinance against the firing of air guns or pellet guns inside the city limits.

Kiplinger Predicts Business Boom In The 1960's; Inflation, and Higher Wages

Business will boom in the 60's, according to a year-end report from the Kiplinger organization on changes and growth during the next decade.

The business boom will flow from population growth, plus rising productivity which will increase the output per man-hour, plus higher incomes, plus the pull of people who want more and better things for themselves, plus the nimble shifting of business patterns, Kiplinger says.

Companies will expand, despite painful and expensive growth. They must add capacity, products, diversity and new outlets as a hedge against the rapid changes that would drive them down and possibly out.

More chains, larger stores and many stores taking on additional lines is the revolutionary picture for merchandising in the 60's. The food store will become a general store, with other things than groceries. The end of the trend is not yet for the super-super-market. Pre-packaged and frozen foods, requiring more complex equipment, fancier fixtures will all bring on new kinds of warehousing needs.

Also there's automation . . . this tide is rising fast. It means more mechanical equipment and systems to replace muscle power. It's a must for domestic business, and it's a must for our foreign trade. Automation downgrades muscle, but it upgrades brains. Increasingly, college graduates will be lapped up and trained for top executive posts, technical and engineering jobs. And, surprisingly, the lower-echelon jobs such as foreman and supervisor will be filled by college grads.

As business gets to be in bigger units, it will need more far-flung, more responsibility will rest on the individual. Business processes themselves are being upgraded and the men who run them. Automation adds to the need for the trained and the educated in key spots.

Wages and salaries are bound to rise, following the patterns now. Despite higher prices of everything—probably 20 per cent higher by the late 60's—most people will be able to afford more things.

This means a continuation of inflation at about the same rate as in past decade. Savings, pensions, etc., will shrink in terms of what they will buy.

Unions will be affected by the growth of white-collar workers, specialists or experts in various fields. Unions will find it harder to unionize effectively. Union leaders are already foreseeing the trend.

More women will join the ranks of workers in the 60's. They've got to work for the growing economy requires that they do work.

Now 60 percent of women working outside the home are married and run households. The proportion will rise, especially women in the 45-to-54 age group who have raised their children. 45 percent of the women of middle age will be working by the late 60's.

School Census Will Continue Until January 31

The Winters School District is now taking a census of all school children in the school district. The census will continue until January 31.

All minors who will be six years of age on or before September 1, 1959, and who will not be eighteen years of age before September 1, 1959, will be included in the census. This includes all married persons, college students, or students in school who will be under eighteen years of age next September.

Census trustees for the Winters School District are Mrs. Voleta Smith, for the west half of the district; Marvin Hambricht, eastern half of the district; and Mrs. Z. B. Morgan, for those living within the city limits of Winters.

All parents and-or guardians have been asked to have ready all necessary information for the purpose of the census. Of special need is the registration of students who will be entering school for the first time next September. Such information is necessary in planning first grade classes next year.

Children must be six years of age on or before September 1 to be counted and will need a birth certificate by that date to enter school.

Roger Babson Discusses:

Fresh Air and Exercise Will Cure Many Illnesses When Nothing Else Will

Babson Park, Mass. — Every reader of my weekly column knows two things: First, that I have just returned from a 20,000-mile trip to Africa; and secondly, that I am not a physician and have not the right to speak with authority on health.

The Report of Doctors

I have had some rheumatism in my left leg, and Mrs. Babson has had some bursitis in her shoulder. We have been to nine doctors and all have told us: "Forget it. Almost everyone your age has aches and pains." The above doctors' comment may be true; but this is what I know! After two weeks on a cargo steamer of the Farrell Lines during which time I had no mail, no cables, and no telephone calls, my rheumatism went away entirely and Mrs. Babson had no bursitis.

I exercised considerably, walking on deck, and went to bed early leaving my portholes wide open. In fact, my cabin had good cross ventilation. During the time spent on the ocean and in the wilds of Africa, we were free of all aches, we "ate like pigs, and slept like babies." Upon returning home, I found my desk piled with mail; whether my rheumatism will return I do not know! But my guess is that many such aches are due to the unnecessarily busy and nervous lives we lead. Doctors should tell us to take our religion more seriously and practice more of Jesus' teachings against struggles and worries.

Is Warm Weather Climate Sufficient?

Many feel that if they go to some warm climate in the winter, it will solve their health problems. Perhaps so; but probably not, if they continue to receive too much mail, use the telephone too freely, and enter into the customary social life of southern winter resorts. I have a definite illustration in this connection which shows the need of exercise both in the house and in the fresh air. Let me tell you about this.

Among my acquaintances is the widow of a former president of one of the largest chemical companies in this country. They had a beautiful home in Florida and were very wealthy. She suffered greatly from arthritis in her hands. She finally sent North for the nation's most famous specialist in arthritis to come to Florida and spend a few days in her home where she was living with her six servants. When he returned North, the doctor left the following prescription.

A Specialist's Prescription

"Sleep with windows open and a fan blowing in your face, as if you were sleeping on the deck of a steamer. Neither give nor attend cocktail parties, and always leave the dinner table a little hungry."

Then the specialist added: most important of all, after each meal let your hands soak in hot water for fifteen minutes, as if you were washing dishes! Each morning, go out on the lawn and stretch as though you were hanging clothes to dry on a line! Finally, get an indoor bicycle to ride, and discharge five of your six servants, including the chauffeur!" In about a week came a bill for one thousand dollars.

Something I Do Know About

Africa is a most wonderful continent, rich in all natural resources except oil. It has four strong banks with hundreds of branches; these pay 4 1/2 percent interest on time deposits. Africa has wonderful stores and factories of all kinds in such cities as Cape Town, Johannesburg, Pretoria, and especially Salisbury in Southern Rhodesia. In Johannesburg, sixty five years ago, there were only a few people and they all lived in tents. Today the population is six hundred thousand, and there are dozens of skyscraper buildings.

If I were a young man, I would seriously consider settling in Africa for health and a fortune. I would forget diamonds and gold, but invest in either the copper industry or the chemical industry. I am sorry to say that Africa, unlike Canada, is on the pound-shilling-pence basis, which handicaps Americans who would like to invest therein. When, however, Africa goes on the decimal system, like Canada, there will be even greater opportunities, for both investment and profit. In conclusion, let me say that one need not take sea trips to Africa for either health or investment. Many states in the good old U. S. A. offer both to those who are thrifty, honest and patient.

BRADSHAW NEWS

"Let us appreciate those who are unlike ourselves." —Selected.

Due to the illness of Pastor Devin McAnally, Rev. Harvey Pinner of Abilene preached Sunday morning at the Methodist church. Mrs. Pinner accompanied Harvey to the services.

Billy Wilson was a visitor at the Baptist Sunday School and church services Sunday morning. Billy is one of our new neighbors.

An illustration for next Sunday's International Sunday School lesson from the New Century Leader: A naturalist was studying the habits of the terns, the graceful birds that nest along the seashore. He noticed how faithfully a tern tended its single egg, brooding over it every hour of the day and night, good weather and bad. This egg was the bird's first and greatest interest.

As an experimnt the naturalist drove the tern away from the nest, stole the egg, and substituted a rounded stone. Almost immediately the tern was back to its nest, brooding over the stone. Not noticing the difference, it was quite willing to devote its life to the hopeless task of trying to hatch a dead bit of rock.

Sometimes human beings are as stupid as the tern, devoting their lives to something fruitless. The rich young man in next Sunday's lesson had devoted his life to his dead money, and his future prospects were hopeless. Jesus asked people to devote their lives to the Kingdom of God and to make it their first and greatest concern.

IT'S THE LAW—IN TEXAS

Whenever you are asked to sign something, your signature should be a warning signal that in some way you may become legally obligated by what you sign.

Usually you are asked to sign something as a result of a business transaction, such as a contract, a receipt, an order, a release, an option, a mortgage or a deed. For your own protection, you should clearly understand what you sign, why you are signing it, and what the consequences may be. It is rarely possible for a person who has signed a document to avoid its legal effects.

You can decrease your legal risks by always taking these precautions before you sign anything. Know what you are signing and what the document contains. Understand clearly what it means. Don't be confused by its title—a "statement" may be a release of all your claims, or a "contract" may be a negotiable promissory note. "Co-signing" a note may result in your having to pay it.

Read EVERYTHING in any document. Clauses in fine print may be important. Remember, too, that oral promises not included in writing may be unenforceable. Take nothing for granted.

Check and verify the document. Be sure the dates, prices, names and conditions filled in are correct. You are bound by what it says, not by what you thought it said.

Ask questions. Inquire about conditions and items of importance to you. Don't sign unless you know what it means. Language clearly stating what you want can be inserted. If substantial sums are involved, consult with your attorney.

Retain a copy. Be sure the proper persons sign. Request and retain a copy. Record it, if necessary, with the proper public official.

Like your fingerprint, your signature is unique. No one else has one exactly like it. Only you can sign it, and affixing it may set into motion events of great legal consequences. Treat it with the importance it deserves, and do not bestow it carelessly. If in doubt, seek information and advice.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

State Capitol Highlights:

Activity In Capital City To Increase With Legislature Convening Jan. 13

By VERN SANFORD

Holidays are over, but Austin is entering another period equally festive, active and exhausting for participants.

Tuesday (the 13th) the 56th Legislature convenes, bringing hundreds of new residents to the Capital City for five or six months or more. Their arrival steps up demand in many areas—for rent houses, hotel rooms, catering services, typewriters and stenographers.

A week later comes the Inauguration of Gov. Price Daniel, with a parade, swearing-in ceremony, Capitol reception and a multitude of balls and special parties.

Thereafter, if the usual pattern continues, there'll be more social activities for and by the visitors. Lawmakers' wives, separated from home-town friends and, often, from their husbands by long hours of debate and committee hearings, form their own luncheon clubs.

Many organizations send delegations to Austin during the session. These groups—over breakfasts, luncheons, dinners, barbecues or maybe just coffee—meet with their legislators to tell them their special woes and hopes.

Even school children come by the busload to supplement their civics studies by observation.

Last session, a period of uncomfortable concern over ethics and lobbying, saw a dropping off in the lavishness of party-giving for legislators. This round may be even more grim and business-like. Lawmakers will face staggering problems in trying to pull the state out of debt and find money for new needs. No group would want to appear too flush lest it be seen as a likely tax target.

Whatever the social leanings of the lawmakers—for champagne in crystal goblets or coffee in paper cups—their activities give Austin its liveliest, newsmost months. One frequent gallery-sitter, with no particular legislative interest, said he came regularly because a session provided spectators absolutely free "the excitement of a football game, the fervor of a revival meeting and more education than a year in the University."

Some events and issues on which interest is likely to focus immediately:

SPEAKERSHIP of the House of Representatives still is in doubt. Even those who claim it's "sewed up" know that pledges can come unhitched. There'll be a big crowd on hand to find out whether the secret vote hands the gavel to Waggoner Carr of Lubbock or Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville. Secretary of State Zollie Steakley will preside at the suspenseful opening session.

After the speaker is picked, attention will shift to committee assignments—who'll get the top jobs. There's also speculation as to how well members who've fought each other so hard in the speaker's race are going to get along afterward.

MONEY gets top billing on almost everybody's list of legislative problems. Governor Daniel's recommended budget calls for spending $2,311,434,306 during 1960-61. An extra $185,000,000 in new tax revenue would have to be raised to cover it and wipe out the current deficit.

Overall, the governor's budget is a 10 per cent increase over present spending. Almost all the increase, he pointed out, would go to meet a growing population's need for basic state services—education, highways, welfare and hospital and correctional institutions. Governor Daniel said he had found "no public sentiment" for reducing these services.

Not included in this budget are several items for which there is certain to be demand, such as teacher pay raises and medical aid for persons on the welfare rolls.

EDUCATION, on all levels, will be a broth that many will try to stir.

For public schools, the Hale-Aikin Committee of 24 is presenting a lengthy report on ideas for improving programs. Included are more pay for teachers, longer school terms, special instruction for the gifted, driver education, etc. Total cost of the additions would be $80,000,000 a year for the state, about $32,000,000 a year for local districts.

Both the Commission on Higher Education and Governor Daniel have recommended increased appropriations for state-supported colleges and universities. Both also recommended Arlington State College be made a senior college.

Not happy with these are (1) University of Texas officials who regard the UT appropriation share as too meager and (2) residents of three other towns, who also had wanted their junior colleges expanded.

HIGHWAY bills will abound. Seen as likely are proposals to (1) allow the Highway Commission to set higher speed limits on new divided highways, (2) restrict billboard advertising on new interstate routes, (3) prohibit location of utility lines on highway right of way outside of cities and (4) prohibit car owners' registering their cars in counties other than where they live in order to escape auto property tax.

SAFETY legislation, both to punish the guilty and train the innocent, has widespread support. Recommended measures would

(1) allow chemical tests for drunkenness, (2) increase the State Highway Patrol, (3) strengthen traffic courts, (4) provide state aid for driver education in public schools and (5) overhaul the driver's license law.

WATER law will again be in the news when the State Water Board presents its report to the Legislature with the recommendation that $5,000,000 be spent in water planning in the next five years.

Texas lost hundreds of millions in this decade through drought and uncontrolled floods, the Board noted. It suggested planning directed toward capturing for use some 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 acre feet of the 42,000,000 acre feet estimated to run annually into the Gulf from Texas.

SMALL LOAN COMPANIES likely will be the center of some heated legislative debate as they have been in the past.

Texas Legislative Council has suggested a law giving the State Banking Commission authority to police the small loan industry and a constitutional amendment to allow the Legislature to fix interest rates.

INSURANCE will, as usual, be the subject of a few bills. Probably the most controversial will be a measure to provide for "flexible auto insurance rates," as opposed to the present state-set rates. Legislative Council declined to endorse this, but suggested the Board of Insurance work on a plan to reward careful drivers.

Several proposals are likely to emerge in an effort to resolve present uncertainty as to whether the Board of Insurance should operate full-time or part-time.

Surface Water Is Generally Good Over Texas

It won't be news to people in the flood-soaked Rio Grande Valley but fall rains over much of Texas bring reasonable assurance of good surface water supplies for 1959.

The Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande has backed up more than its share of irrigation water for the next growing season. But unfortunately, the state as a whole has not even approached its potential in construction of surface storage facilities along its major streams and rivers. However, prospects are good for the natural underground water resources upon which so many of us depend.

Snow survey experts along the Continental Divide report 1958 as a good year as a result of heavy snow water runoff, high streamflow and good carryover storage. Gradual seepage of snow water from the mountains of New Mexico and Colorado account for a big portion of our underground water supply in the Panhandle area of Texas. Although nothing is more unpredictable than the weather, indications are for additional heavy snows this winter which will eventually add to Texas' natural subsurface supplies.

It is no secret that our underground water reservoirs took a real beating during the seven year drought. Many natural springs in Central Texas dried up for the first time in the history of white settlements and our water tables in West Texas dropped alarmingly.

The year 1958 saw these springs once again flowing and some improvement was noted in the water tables along many irrigation belts of the state. Early fall weather conditions indicate a wet winter is in store for many sections of Texas. However, years of good water supply point up the importance of adequate water storage facilities, both for better distribution through the irrigation season, and for balancing the available supply between dry years and those of abundant snow and rainfall.

Demands upon our Texas water supplies are increasing every year. More and more water is required by agriculture, industry, rapidly expanding city populations and for recreational and other uses.

TO HOUSTON

Max Lewis returned home Monday after spending the week-end visiting his mother, Mrs. J. B. Lewis, who is a patient in a hospital at Houston. The condition of Mrs. Lewis, who was injured in a car accident several weeks ago, is much improved.

"Texas" came from "Tejas," an Indian word meaning friends or allies. The name was applied to Indian tribes living around Spanish missions in eastern Texas.

Amusements Coming to Local Theatres

AT THE STATE THEATRE

"Kings Go Forth"

A poignant love story of two American soldiers for an American girl who lives a lonely life with her widowed mother on the French Riviera during the last days of World War II, is the theme of the Frank Ross production, "Kings Go Forth," which will open Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre through United Artists release.

Frank Sinatra, Tony Curtis and Natalie Wood are co-starred in "Kings Go Forth," and the supporting cast is headed by Leora Dana, Karl Swenson, Anne Codee and Jackie Berthe. The picture was produced by Frank Ross and directed by Delmer Daves. The screenplay by Merle Miller is an adaptation of the best-selling novel by Joe David Brown. Daniel Fapp was chief cinematographer, and the musical score was composed and conducted by Elmer Bernstein.

"Once Upon a Horse"

Some of the most colorful names in Hollywood dominate the supporting cast of "Once Upon a Horse," the Universal-International CinemaScope Wild-West comedy which opens next Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre, introducing the TV comic team of Dan Rowan and Dick Martin and also starring Martha Hyer, Leif Erickson and Nita Talbot. Hollywood stalwart James Gleason and the character discover of "Love in the Afternoon," John McGiver, head the feature cast. Then came former heavyweight champion Max Baer and brother Buddy Baer, forming a rough-house contingent in a hilarious saloon brawl. And the gilt-edged cowboy star quartet of Kermit Maynard, Bob Livingston, Tom Keene and Bob Steele form an enviable sheriff's posse.

"Peter Pan"
Capturing the bright landscape of fantasy and the atmosphere of imperishable youth, Walt Disney's all-animatronic treatment of J. M. Barrie's "Peter Pan," returns to delight moviegoers of all ages. In color by Technicolor, the famed story of "the boy who would not grow up" includes such famous characters as the imaginative Wendy; Nana, the patient canine nursemaid; Mr. and Mrs. Darling; the terrible tempered Captain Hook; the ticking Crocodile with his constant longing for another bite of the not-so-excellent Cap'n; the bumbling Smee; the roistering pirate crew; small John with his terrible logic, and smaller Michael with his appalling determination.

And running through the story like a bright golden thread are the antics of the incredibly lovely and highly tempered Tinker Bell, dainty messenger and boom companion to the irrepressible Peter Pan.

Let's Talk Livestock:

First Cattle Market Of New Year Was Good One At Fort Worth

By TED GOULDY

If a good start means a good finish, then the cattle market will be a thing of joy for Southwestern stockmen in 1959. The first session of the New Year Monday was active, and slaughter cows and slaughter calves were strong to 50 cents higher. Fed cattle, bulls and stocker and feeder classes were fully steady, some stockers strong.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings ranged from $26 to $29.50, the higher figure reserved for baby beef cattle such as the eleven head from R. H. Coltzer of Erath County, that scaled 582 pounds at $29.50 and the 36 heifers from Gaines Plaxco of Clay County which averaged 654 pounds at $29.25. Heavier steers ranged from $26 downward in most cases. Stocker and feeder yearlings ranged from $23 to $29.50, also. Plainer butcher cattle sold from $18 to $25.

Fat cows bulked at $18.50 to $21 and canners and cutters sold from $13 to $18.50, some shelly kinds down to $12 and $11. Bulls bulked at $18 to $23, odd head higher when good enough.

Good and choice fat calves drew $26 to $30, and plain and medium sorts sold from $18 to $25.50. Stocker calves drew $25 to $32, and choice lightweights were scarce. Heifer calves drew $30 down.

Hogs Advance About 50 Cents As Northern Farmers Balk

Receipts of hogs around the major marketing circle were less than 65,000 Monday, according to USDA estimates. This was a drop under a week earlier of 66,000 head and enough to bring prices back by half a dollar a hundred.

The state for this peculiar development was set when well over 90,000 hogs were reported at 12 markets Friday, January 2, and Cornbelt buyers slashed hog prices to below the $18 mark and in some cases top hogs sold at $17.25 to $17.75.

Cornbelt farmers registered their reaction to this break by holding off Monday and this resulted in some dramatic recoveries at some Cornbelt terminals of 50 cents to $1 or more in spots.

At Fort Worth, the severe break was averted since market agencies and the stockyard operators had agreed a two-day holiday, January 1 and January 2, was advisable.

Choice hogs stopped at Fort Worth at $18.50 and $18.75, and lightweights and over weights, as well as mediums, sold from $17 to $18.25. This was a 50-cent advance. Sows sold from $16 to $17.50, also 50 cents higher.

Lambs Open Weaker, Top $18.00-18.50, Feeders Up
Trade on slaughter lambs was slow and weak at Fort Worth Monday from a packer standpoint. Slaughter interests were fortified with some sizeable numbers of directs and previously contracted lambs and held the line firmly at recent lows and prices were 25 to 50 cents under the somewhat stronger market last week when trade was a forced affair due to weather conditions.

Most of the offering was lambs. Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $17 to $18.50, the top figure for some shorn fat lambs with No. 1 pelts sold to shippers. Both woolled and shorn lambs drew up to $18.

There was a definitely more active tone to the feeder trade and medium to good feeders sold from $16.00 to $17.50, some of the lambs at $17.00 and $17.50 indicating a definitely better outlet.

A few odd yearlings sold from $15 to $17 and occasional aged muttons drew $12. Slaughter ewes sold around $8.

Meat Imports Big Factor In Livestock Prices

Just how important the United States market is for meat exporting nations can be easily seen by these figures from the current Foreign Agriculture Report by USDA.

In a two-week period, Argentina shipped to the United States 5,128 metric tons, of which 3,351 was salted and cured beef (useful for manufacturing beef and competitive to our domestic boning type animals, such as canners, cutters, bulls, etc.); Argentina also just ordered beefless Tuesdays and Fridays, to curtail meat eating to provide additional export meat.

Salings of New Zealand meat for January are listed at 5,850 tons (or, 11,700,000 pounds) and just recently Australia shipped us 196 long tons of frozen beef.

It all adds up! And, Guatemala has banned cattle for two years from neighboring countries. This is to protect herds from disease which might close U. S. outlets. Ireland now insures U. S. shipments against such a ban.

Supt. J. B. Nevins Honored At Birthday Party

Families of the Winters School Board sponsored a surprise birthday dinner honoring James B. Nevins, superintendent of the local schools, Tuesday night at the Lazy N Stables guest house.

A Winter Wonderland theme was employed to render the banquet area appropriate to the season of the year. Entering the front door a flood of blue streamers led to a blue sky made of crepe paper studded with silver stars. A massive white-wall background with the letters 'Nevins' over the buffet table announced the honoree for the occasion. Huge snow banks with snowballs and miniature skiers were formed on either side of the table laid in white, and centered by a snowman.

The group opened the program by singing "Happy Birthday," led by Mrs. W. F. Minzenmayer. T. A. Smith said the invocation. Appropriate dinner music was enjoyed throughout the meal. The game of N-e-v-i-n-s, a spelling match, and a quartet with bells was directed by Mr. Nevins. Concluding the program, Don Timberlake, a comedian from Hardin-Simmons University, was presented.

The menu consisted of charcoal-broiled fillet steaks, green beans, tossed salad, potatoes, hot rolls, iced snowballs, angel squares, and hot coffee. The birthday cake was in the shape of a huge 'N' decorated with blue roses, and used as a centerpiece on the buffet table.

A remembrance in the form of an engraved desk set was presented Mr. Nevins.

Invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. James B. Nevins, honoree; Messrs and Mmes. Raymon Lloyd, W. F. Minzenmayer, James Glenn, Audra L. Mitchell, Clarence Ledbetter, T. A. Smith, Mrs. Don Timberlake, and Jim Nevins of Lawn, Misses Eugenia Voss, Nancy Norman, and Jno. W. Norman.

Nation's Workers To Pay More Social Security In 1959

With their first paychecks of the New Year, the Nation's workers will begin to pay more for their social security protection. The increase amounts to 25 cents more on each $100 of earnings.

For the first time, annual earnings of up to $4800 will be subject to the social security tax and credited toward social security benefits. Until now, only the first $4200 of earnings in a year has been taxed and counted toward the amount of benefits payable to a worker or his family.

If you are one of the 75 million Americans whose work is covered by social security, you'll begin this month to pay a social security tax of two and one-half percent on the first $4800 of your earnings. Your employer will match this tax with an equal amount out of his own pocket.

The tax in 1958 was two and one-fourth percent for the employee and for the employer on wages up to $4200. The new tax rate applies to wages paid in 1959, even if the wages are paid for work done in 1958.

The New Year will also bring increased benefit checks to the twelve and one-half million men, women, and children now receiving monthly old-age, survivors, or disability insurance benefits. Effective with the checks delivered early in February, retired workers will get an increase of about 7 percent—some slightly more, some slightly less.

Retired workers' payments now range from $30 (except for women who retired when they were between 62 and 65) to $108.50. Beginning with benefit payments for the month of January, the minimum retirement payment for those now on the benefit rolls will be raised from $30 to $33, and the maximum will be $116. For those who become eligible for benefits in the future, payments may be as high as $127 (as a result of counting earnings of up to $4800 in years after 1958).

Payments to those receiving benefits as dependents and survivors will also be increased by about 7 percent effective with the checks mailed out in February. But where several members of one family are getting payments, each person may not get a full seven percent increase in his individual benefit amount.

The maximum payment to a family group, until now limited to $200, may now be as high as $254.

By VERN SANFORD

Deer season has just closed in Texas with one of the best harvests since controls took over many years back. Just how many hunters got their deer never will be known. We've talked to a great many, however, who are very happy over their success.

Another interesting thing this year was the number of women and children getting deer. Perhaps 6-year-old E. P. Ruhmann IV, of Kennedy, was the youngest. He got two nice bucks early in the season.

These kids are learning to be real marksmen. This particular boy's story intrigued me, because he was a fellow who really was ready for his first deer hunt.

Young E. P. had been shooting a BB gun for more than two years, plinking pesky sparrows by the dozen. Last year he got his first chance to shoot a real. His dad and granddad took him out with a 22 Hornet, bolt action Savage and the boy killed his first javelina hog. Then at the beginning of this season they provided him with a 410 shot gun and he got his limit of doves several times.

Finally when the big day came he was ready for it. With a .222 caliber Savage rifle he got his two bucks with one shot each through the shoulder.

He was able to do this because of his early training. Fortunately young Ruhmann lives in a small town where he can get into a pasture and shoot to his heart's content. He learned how to plink on tin cans and sparrows, and has even killed his share of cotton rats.

It is unfortunate that more boys don't have this same opportunity to learn to shoot. The BB gun is marvelous for their training. Many of us will recall the first time we ever shot a BB gun, which was the old-fashioned spring type, known as an air rifle. Today's BB guns are much more modern. They represent a great advance in BB guns and in target shooting.

Next after the air compressed BB gun came the pellet gun, powered with carbon dioxide gas.

Now a new gun has just been announced by Crosman Arms Co., that shoots real BB shot, either lead or steel. This is a gas powered gun, with authentic frontier styling and has a finger tip lever action which permits the shooter to feed, load and cock the rifle with one easy stroke, with removing it from his shoulder.

This gun, known as the Hahn Super BB repeating rifle, has a smooth barrel, open rear sights and a post type front sight, which guarantees target accuracy.

Incidentally, Crosman has gone a long way in the development of these gas powered guns and pistols. The company also provides a set of targets, which can be used for basement shooting. All of these things add to the possibility of a small boy's learning to shoot accurately from his dad's instruction.

This instruction is worth much to the boy and to the dad. Some of our best hunters have graduated from the BB gun. But such guns should be handled with care. They can be dangerous, too. That's the advantage of dad's showing his son how to use a gun.

Because of the unusually warm weather at the beginning of the waterfowl season many were disappointed. They failed to get the kills they expected. There is plenty of warning about this in the way the bag limit was handled last year. Quite a few hunters' limit was cut on canvas backs and red heads.

There were not many disappointments in quail shooting, however. At the season's opening most hunters got their limits, although dogs had hard work. There had been no frost to defoliate the weeds and trees. Dogs nearly ran themselves crazy trying to point birds in tangles of weeds and grass.

There is no doubt about last year's quail crop being the best in history. Favorable weather conditions throughout the year provided ample food and cover. The next season was successful. Bobs and blues multiplied by the thousands. Hunters got their share.

Many close studies has been made on quail by the wildlife biologists. It is not a migratory bird and it lacks much of the hardness of many other birds. Because it nests on the ground, and because it stays in close range, it is subject to a great deal of predation. As a rule there is only about a 20 per cent carry-over in each season's crop.

One of the real problems also affecting quail welfare has been the destruction of native habitat. Fortunately many land owners has recognized this and are doing everything possible to restore habitat.

You can do much as a sportsman to help with this program and assure another good quail crop next season. If you know a land owner who hasn't provided cover, offer to help him get multi-flora roses, or plant some of the well known cover crops on his pasture land. Your local game warden will be happy to help you develop such a program.

He will also appreciate it if you'll deliver to him the aluminum band you may have found on any quail you killed during the past season.

Greatest of all hunting can come from the cooperation of the land owner, the sportsman and the warden.

Expansion Program of Southwestern States Phone Co. To Exceed 6 Million

A 1959 expansion and improvement program costing in excess of $6 million was announced for The Southwestern States Telephone Company today by its general manager, D. T. Strickland.

The company will spend $6,345,000 on new construction in 1959 in order to keep pace with the rapid growth of the areas served by the Company in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

During the year the Company will convert 14 exchanges from manual to dial operation, and replace the dial units in three other exchanges with larger units.

The Southwestern States Telephone Company is one of the largest Independent (non-Bell) telephone companies in the nation, serving 132,000 telephones in 162 communities in the four-state area. Its general offices are in Brownwood, Texas.

"The demand for additional telephone service continued during 1958 despite the so-called recession," the Company's general manager stated. "We added telephones and telephone facilities at a fast pace throughout the year and provided improved, expanded service to many areas. We have every reason to believe 1959 will be a banner year—one of the best in the history of the Company."

Strickland said 86 percent of the company's telephones are now dial, compared to 55 percent dial five years ago and 26 percent dial at the end of 1948. By the end of 1959, 90 percent of the Company's telephones will be dial, with only 10 exchanges remaining non-dial in operation. The Company became 100 percent dial in its Louisiana and Arkansas operations during 1958.

The Company converted nine exchanges from non-dial to dial operation and replaced dial units in four other exchanges in 1958. Twelve new buildings were constructed and three additions to buildings were made. An extensive microwave radio system was installed to link the long distance facilities of the Company's West Texas exchanges.

Construction projects in the West Texas Division of the company total about $1,455,000. Exchanges in this division are located at Ballinger, Bangs, Blanco, Blanket, Brady, Brownwood, Fiat Rock, Lake Brownwood, Coleman, Dripping Springs, Fredericksburg, Goldthwaite, Johnson City, Junction, Kingsland, Llano, London, Marble Falls, Mason, Menard, No-vice, Paint Rock, Richland Springs, Round Mountain, San Saba, Stonewall, Talpa, Willow City, Wimberly, Winters, and Zephyr.

Cable facilities, trunk circuits, and copper circuits for improved and expanded service will be constructed at several exchanges at a cost of about $182,000. Communities to be affected will include San Saba, Winters, Brownwood, Brady, Lake Brownwood, Llano, Coleman, Menard, Kingsland, New Bluffton, Ballinger, and Mason.

More than $200,000 will be expended for the installation of carrier equipment to provide improved, expanded service involved in various exchanges. Circuits involved in this project include those from: Brady to Llano to Kingsland; Ballinger to Talpa; Ballinger to Paint Rock; Brownwood to San Saba; Brownwood to Coleman to Glen Cove; Goldthwaite to Mullin, Caradan, Big Valley, and Star; Round Mountain to Johnson City; Brady to Menard; Winters to Ballinger; Fredericksburg to Johnson City, and Brady to San Angelo.

A one-position switchboard for information operator and a chief operators turret will be installed at Ballinger at a cost of about $2,900.

Health Letter

More than one-half million Texas babies were born hale and alert during the two-year period between September 1956, and August 1958. That adds up to an average of some 685 new babies per day.

For the same time period 147,000 Texans died—representing a ratio of more than three births for every death, a fact clearly worth being thankful for.

The figures are revealed in an advanced look at the State Health Department's biennial soon to be published.

The excess of births over deaths during the two years added some 360,000 people to Texas' population. That increase, together with the influx of new comers now making their homes in Texas, swelled the population past the 9.2 million mark.

Since 1936, infant deaths during the first year of life have dropped from 71 per one thousand, to less than 30 per one thousand today. And during that same period, maternal deaths have been cut from 6.9 per thousand to less than 15 so far this year.

The past biennial also produced these developments:

Some 115,000 Texans, whose births were not registered at the time, found it necessary to file delayed certificates of birth through probate courts to prove age, parentage, and citizenship. Most of these births occurred prior to 1903, the year the Texas vital statistics law was passed to require birth and death registration.

Nine hundred persons changed their names during the two-year period, and court-ordered amendments to birth certificates were duly attached.

Almost a quarter of a million people asked for certified copies of the birth records. Just to Process these requests required more than 550,000 trips to the files which now contains more than 11,370,000 records of births and deaths.

Winters Public Library Began 6th Year Jan. 4

Winters Public Library began its sixth year January 4, according to Myra Glover, librarian. The library, located in the American Legion Hall, is opened every Saturday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock.

To begin the new year a special membership offer of $1.00 per family a year is effective for the month of January only. Another offer of this kind will not be made since the membership fee is $2.00 any other time during the year. Everyone is urged to take advantage of this offer and enjoy the new books that have been added to the library.

The library was opened to the public in January 1954, with 900 books which had been donated. In that year 1800 books were checked out. Today there are approximately 5000 books in the library with 3105 books being read the past year.

The first year the library was opened, five civic clubs began their support of the organization. The Literary and Service, Diversity and Home Demonstration Clubs have continued to support the library each month.

Vandals Light Fires in I.O.O.F. Lodge Building

A clumsy attempt at arson or the destructive work of vandals was discovered Tuesday night in the IOOF lodge hall, when members of the lodge found piles of partly burned paper on the floor of the hall.

Damage was slight, and was limited to a calendar over the desk and burned spots in the floor. D. Waggoner, fire marshal, said that wadded paper was found on the stairway, and around the desk in the hall. Paper had been piled in the middle of the floor and set afire, he said, but evidently the person or persons responsible were frightened off or changed their minds.

There was no evidence of pilfering, Waggoner said.

It was not known when the damage was done, but it had been done sometime during the last few weeks when activity in the lodge hall was slight. Police and fire marshal are investigating.
