Junior Play Will Be Staged March 27

The cast for the Junior play, "Hillbilly Courtship," has been selected and students are hard at work rehearsing.

The show, a farce in three acts, is a hilarious comedy to be presented by the Juniors Friday, March 27.

A special matinee will be held Thursday, March 26, for high school and grade school students.

The characters include: Luke Stilsby, Jerry Dunnam; Emmy Peppin, Ruth Ann Spill; Ma Peppin, Barbara Gerhart; Pappy Stilsby, Pat Patterson; Sol Silverstein, Billy Pumphrey; Lulu Triffett, Sue Lindsey; Seedie Triffett, Toni Johnson; Wash Jeddo, David Whitely; Louis Cattaro, Doyle Pumphrey; Bridget O'Flannigan, Bertalena Lewis; Reverend Boswell, Paul Tharp.

The production is under the direction of Miss Leah Miller, high school speech teacher, with Mrs. Harry Benson, and Coach Ed Cheek, junior class sponsors, assisting.

The scene of action is set high in the Ozarks, and the story is a matrimonial mix-up between local yokals and hopefuls from the marriage bureau. A hillbilly feud and radio talent seekers add flavor to the already tangy confusion.

Due to an oversight, Mrs. A. W. Libbe was not included in the list of workers in the Current Red Cross drive. HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

We were astounded, to put it mildly, at the number of awards the Winters FFA boys brought back from the Houston stock show a couple of weeks ago. We had known they were going great guns against competition which came from all over the state, and other parts of the nation, but we had no idea just how far they had gone.

The boys brought back 16 championships, 12 reserve championships, 24 second place ribbons, 25 third places, 22 fourth places and 17 fifth places. Another 107 placed in the show.

They also brought back a total of $4,000 in prize money from the Houston show. One boy, Pat Pritchard, ran his winnings to $247 in that show.

Add this one show to the others attended by the boys, and you get about $10,000 in prize money won. And this is not all. These boys have sold fat and breeding livestock during this year, bringing in about $25,000.

We'd say that will go a long way toward helping to pay expenses when these boys get out of high school and start to college.

One other thing we'd like to make mention of: During the Houston Livestock Show, while boys from other towns and schools were taking in the sights and running around town, these boys from Winters High School turned to, on their own, and helped to ready the arena and show pens for shows, and altogether made themselves useful to the management at the show. For their helpfulness, we understand they were handed a bunch of passes to attend the rodeo there—about the only group receiving such consideration.

All things indicate that Winters will have a new post office building some time this year, according to Rankin Pace, postmaster. In fact, early fall may see the opening of the new building, he said.

If you haven't been around to visit Bahlman Jewelers' new quarters, we suggest you drop by. They remodeled the old Harrison Auto Parts building, and now have one of the most modern and up-to-date jewelry stores in this part of the country.

What with the recently remodeled home of Harrison's Auto Parts, Bahlman's, and another build or two up and down Main Street, and reports of plans to remodel others, there may be a general face-lifting around here this spring and summer.

These rabbit drives around the country seem to be getting more and more popular all the time, and thousands of rabbits have been eliminated.

As one fellow remarked the other day, as far as he is concerned, it is not the joy of the hunt so much as it is the enjoyment of eating that good food the ladies in the different communities serve up come dinner time in the different communities.

VA Boys Complete Fine Show Season

Five livestock shows, about $10,000 in prize money, and about $25,000 in sales of livestock, is the 1958-59 record by the Winters Chapter of Future Farmers of America.

The Houston Livestock Show was the biggest for the Winters boys. In that event they exhibited 16 champions and 12 reserve champions, and gained many other places in the competition.

The chapter brought home more than $4,000 in prize money from the Houston show, the highest paying show in the state. And a special trophy of the Houston stock show, presented yearly to the top money winner in the junior lamb and sheep show went to Jerry and Jimmy Dunnam. They won the trophy by taking a total of $170 in prize money. It was the first time that any Winters FFA boys had won the trophy.

R. A. Hanson, vocational agriculture teacher in the Winters school, served as superintendent of the sheep show at the Houston Stock Show, and also superintendent of the sheep show at the San Angelo show last week.

A breakdown shows that a total of 32 blue ribbons, 24 second places, 25 third places, 22 fourth places, and 17 fifth places were won by Winters boys in the Houston show. Another 107 placed in the show.

Hanson said the organization has sold both premium and non-premium livestock this year for about $25,000. Most of the sales were made for breeding animals and fat stuff in the Abilene, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio shows.

In the Houston stock show, 240 animals were shown by Winters boys, and a total of 16 championships and 12 reserve championships were won; all in the sheep division of the junior and open shows.

All of the hogs, 60, show by the Winters boys placed but the highest placing was second on a hog owned by Jerry Dunn.

Champions in the sheep show included: Junior champion and reserve champion Suffolk ram, owned by Pat Pritchard. He also had the champion Hampshire ewe.

Champion and reserve champion Shropshire ram and the champion Shropshire ewe owned by Jerry Dunnam. Champion and reserve champion Southdown ram and the reserve champion Southdown ewe owned by Jerry Priddy.

ROGER BABSON SAYS—

"No Nation Will Start War Unless They Have Workable Anti-Missile Missile"

Babson Park, Mass. — To read what some of the very best columnists are writing today you would think that the United States is on the brink of war with Russia. Furthermore, these men should be better informed than I am. However, I do wish to add my "two cents worth" to what they are writing.

Situation in Berlin Without doubt the Berlin situation is serious. Unless Khrushchev backs down on his threat, we could be in World War III within a couple of months; but I definitely doubt such an event, and here is my reason. No nation will start a world war with intercontinental or other missiles until it has in production a workable anti-missile missile. This is a very important statement; but I make it without any reservation.

Naturally, work on such an anti-missile missile is highly "classified," which means very secret; but it would be extremely difficult to keep such tests secret. Russia could perhaps make her tests in Siberia; but even these might be discovered and tracked by means of their electric waves which would travel around the globe. Each of the "big four" nations has listening posts. These are distributed throughout the world. Hence, all tests of anti-missile missiles by any nation would be discovered.

When World War III May be Expected Let me repeat that at present

no nation has such anti-missile missiles in production. No nation will dare fire an intercontinental missile at any other nation until it has an anti-missile missile. On the other hand, whenever Russia or Germany, or perhaps the United States, has such protection which its enemy does not have, we should be prepared for World War III. Hence, I urge readers to follow every news item on anti-missile missiles; but don't get excited over what else is said about Russia or Germany or our United States.

There is a good possibility, that World War III, if it occurs within a few years, will be started by Germany. Not only has Germany the most to gain or lose, but Germany has the best scientists. Germany was first to start her laboratories working on anti-missile missiles. While Russia and the United States have been wasting precious time and a billion dollars competing in sputniks and circling the moon, Germany has had all her physicists and chemists at work to protect her against Russian missiles.

Seeking Anti-Gravity For some years I have been much interested in the work of the Gravity Research Foundation, of which Mr. George M. Rideout of New Boston, N. H., is President. This Foundation was the first to print and distribute anything regarding "anti-gravity." Physicists smilingly referred to it in their lectures, but never in print. Fin-

The pastor, Lou in Berry, will do the preaching. Mrs. D. W. Williams is the song leader with Mrs. Frank Simpson at the piano.

The subject for next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson is "Forgiveness Through the Cross." Meditation: "Ever since the church began, the cross has been the symbol of Christianity. It has become the emblem of forgiveness and of mercy, although originally it was an instrument of cruelty and suffering.

"To the world of Jesus' day it had about the same significance that the gallows, the electric chair or the gas chamber would have for us. It was an object of horror and shame, and was not even to be mentioned in polite society. Death on a cross was one of the most fiendish tortures that human beings ever devised, and was reserved for captives of war, criminals, and slaves; yet Jesus died voluntarily on the cross that He might reconcile man to God, and that He might provide a way whereby they could find forgiveness."

Mrs. Adron Hale attended the Bridwell Lane Church of Christ at Big Spring Sunday morning. She spent the weekend with Mrs. J. C. Bagwell where she visited also with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bagwell. She accompanied Adron home Sunday night after they had had supper at Sweetwater at the Ronny Dentons.

ally, in answer to the offer of an award of $1000, two men in June 1958 won one of the Foundation's essay contests. They were Giuseppe Cocconi of the astronomical department of Harvard University and Edwin Salpeter of the Nuclear Laboratory of Cornell University. The technical subject of their essay was the "Anisotropy of Inertia." In simple layman's language this refers to "Anti-Gravity."

Up to the present time all "anti-missile" work has been done on the basic assumption that both the Newtonian Mechanics and Einstein's General Relativity are unchangeable and that these especially apply to Gravitation and Inertia. If it can be shown that this basic assumption is not true, an entirely new aspect and approach must be made to anti-missile studies. I sincerely hope that the United States will cease ridiculing anti-gravity, especially in connection with anti-missile missiles.

State Capitol Highlights:

Solons May Agree on Omnibus Tax Bill; Shy From Calling It "Sales Tax"

By VERN SANFORD

A possible shaft of light has pierced the murky tunnels of legislative tax study in the form of an "in-between" type money raising bill.

An omnibus tax measure introduced by Reps. R. L. Strickland of San Antonio and Wesley Roberts of Lamesa would tax a raft of things not previously hit, but avoid the label "general sales tax." It is regarded as a possible compromise between Gov. Price Daniel's tax program and Rep. Frates Seeligson's general sales tax, neither of which have attracted widespread support.

Strickland and Roberts estimate their proposal would raise from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000, an impressive sum even in the face of current huge needs.

New tax sources it would tap include sales of real estate, bonds, debentures, corporate stocks, transportation of persons and commodities, occupancy of a retail establishment, hotel and motel use, and trading stamps. It would increase the natural gas production tax and raise sales taxes on new cars, cosmetics, playing cards, radios and TV sets and raise taxes on telephone and telegraph companies.

"Strings" attached to the bill are that after the state deficit is paid off, the money raised could be used to provide school teachers a $600 a year raise, add $13,000,000 to higher education programs and $2,250,000 to the hospital program.

NO HURRY

In terms of decisions, the tax program has made no dramatic forward strides.

Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio, introduced his 1.5 per cent general sales tax measure. It would raise an estimated $67,000,000 annually earmarked for the school foundation program. Informal surveys indicate a majority of lawmakers pledged opposition to a general sales tax in their campaigns last summer.

Despite urging from Gov. Daniel, the House Tax Committee showed itself in no hurry to get out the bill that would raise corporation franchise taxes. Committee declined, on a 15-2 vote, to order a report from the subcommittee which holds the bill.

Part of the governor's plan was to get this bill passed in time to take effect May 1 so the added revenue from it could help offset this year's deficit.

Committee also agreed to allow more time to hear groups wishing to oppose a proposed trading stamp tax.

FIRST HURDLE CLEARED

Texas public school teachers won the first round in their campaign for an $800 a year pay raise.

Senate Committee voted favorably on the $107,800,000 public school improvement program recommended by the Hale-Aiken Committee. Teachers' raises would account for the bulk of the cost, about $80,000,000. Other items would include lengthening the school year to 180 days, increasing transportation allowances, programs for the academically gifted and for non-English speaking children, driver education, etc. Some 3,000 teachers, plus many citizens from other walks of life, came to the Capitol in behalf of the bill.

WARM ISSUE

Another crowd-getter was the Senate hearing on the bill to reduce maximum working hours of firemen and policemen.

With feelings running high, the committee voted to send the bill to subcommittee for a week's study. Same bill was voted out favorably by the House Committee.

Texas Municipal League is strongly opposed to the measure which they say is about as palatable as having the federal government set wages and hours for Texas Highway Patrolmen. League's counter-measure would abolish state regulation of city firemen and policemen.

NO PEACE ON THE TRINITY
State Board of Water Engineers is caught in the middle of a king-sized struggle over Trinity River water.

Houston asked the Board for a permit to construct a dam at Livingston and impound some 1,750,000 acre feet of water.

Trinity River Authority was joined by Dallas, Fort Worth and other Upper Trinity towns in howls of protest over Houston's "water-grabbing." TRA filed a petition asking that Houston's application be dismissed and also filed an application for the same permit Houston is seeking.

A hearing on Houston's application had been set for April 6, but the North Texans are asking for delay. Indications are that such a set-to between Texas' major cities probably cannot be settled for some time.

HIGHER TUITION ASKED

Commission on Higher Education is recommending the Legislature adopt a new system of automatic tuition increases for state supported colleges.

By the Commission's formula, tuition would be in proportion to the college's spending. If legislative appropriations to the college went up, so would tuition.

It was estimated the formula would raise present tuition for in-state students from $100 a year to about $125 to $137.50.

Many students protest that the on the 65 per cent who earn part or all their college expenses.

DON'T STOP NOW

Gov. Daniel's Statewide Water Committee is asking the Legislature to restore proposed cuts in the Water Board budget.

Governor Daniel told a meeting of the statewide water group that water development in Texas needs all the $1,700,000 asked by the Water Board. Legislative Budget Board recommended only $900,000.

Daniel said he felt more water planning had been accomplished in the past two years than ever before in the state's history. To cut back now, he said, would amount to "complete surrender" to federal control.

HANDS OFF LADIES' BILL

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson nimbly side-stepped efforts to get him to rule on the proposed equal rights for women amendment. Senators had dodged the issue by asking for an attorney general's opinion on how the amendment would affect existing legislation concerning women. Wilson said the question was too general and that he didn't feel he should tell the Legislature what it should do.

Easter Lamb Trade Opens At Ft. Worth On Steady Basis, Top $22.50

By TED GOULDY

Second of the monthly cattle auction sales at Fort Worth will be April 9 in Fort Worth. The sale will offer both auction and private treaty selling. Special prizes will include a portable 2,000 pound livestock scale of the type used in beef performance testing work in the Southwest.

The scales will be on display in the lobby of the Libestock Exchange Building prior to April 9. In the March sale, a total of 3,902 cattle sold for $605,748.98.

Easter Lamb Trade Opens On Steady Basis, Top $22.50

Slaughter lambs opened steady at Fort Worth Monday. Trade on the higher grade lambs was active and in line with last week's best prices. The slaughter interests were rather selective and the medium and lower grades were slower. About 65 percent of the day's offering was spring lambs of the new crop, the largest percentage of milk fat lambs so far this season arriving over the weekend for the East lamb trade.

Good and choice milk fat lambs sold for $21 to $22.50 and lower grade killing lambs drew $15 to $18. Good and choice old crop lambs sold from $17 to $18.50 with some woolled club lambs to $19.50. Cull old crop lambs ranged from $12 to $15 in most sales.

Slaughter Calves 25-50 Up, Cattle Bring Steady Rates

Cattle and calves were generally fully steady and some slaughter calves were around 25 to 50 cents higher. Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $27 to $30.50, and common and medium sorts drew $24 to $27. Cull and commoner sorts drew $18 to $23.

Good to choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold from $26 to $27.50 and medium and plain sorts sold from $18 to $25. Fat cows sold from $18 to $21 and canners and cutters drew $13 to $18.50. Bulls were reported from $18 to $23, odd head highed.

Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $28 to $33.50, and heifer calves sold from $31 down. Stocker steer yearlings sold from $23 to $29 and feeder steers drew $26.50 downward.

Hogs and Sows 25-50 Cents Higher, Top $17.00

Hogs and sows were 25 to 50 cents higher. Choice hogs sold at $16.50 to $17, and were leniently sorted in that bracket. Sows drew $13.50 to $14 and some medium pigs sold at $13.50.

USDA Schedules Public Hearing On Texas Brand Inspection

A public hearing on livestock brand inspection has been scheduled for April 6 at Fort Worth, Texas, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The hearing was called, in response to informal complaints to determine if brand inspection at public markets is in the public interest or if such inspection is now performed by Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, Inc., should be discontinued.

At present, the Texas and Southwestern Association is authorized under the Packers and Stockyards act to inspect brands at all posted markets in Texas and to charge "reasonable and non-discriminatory fees" for the service. The fee now is eight cents per head on all cattle and calves sold at posted markets. Complaints from which the hearing stems contend that state law does not now require branding as a means of establishing ownership and that most cattle sold through posted markets are not branded or marked. "The USDA has set the hearing to give all interested persons a chance to be heard," points out W. C. Ball, district supervisor of the Packers and Stockyards Act Fort Worth.

The hearing will begin at 10:00 a.m., in room 2144, Federal Center, 300 West Vickery Street, Fort Worth.

Persons who wish to be heard should contact W. C. Ball, 231 Livestock Exchange Building, Fort Worth. Views may be presented either in person or by attorney.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

Texas Cotton Picture: Challenge for Survival

Since man first set plow to the fertile fallow ground of Texas a century and a half ago, cotton has reigned supreme as the state's top agricultural money-maker. Today that position of cotton faces a challenge—not only for continued supremacy—but for actual survival as an agricultural mainstay.

This challenge to the cotton industry of Texas and the South boils down in final analysis to one critical point: economic survival of the crop under today's heavy production costs. Competition from synthetics, threats of pest infestation and weather uncertainty are of minor concern when faced with the possibility of voluntary elimination of cotton as an economically unfeasible crop.

The responsibility for meeting this challenge has been placed squarely on the shoulders of the cotton farmer, for he alone can decide whether he can produce a crop under today's pent-up costs and come out with a profit. He is under no obligation to anyone to undertake the tedious task of raising cotton, and if there is no money in it for him, he will switch to something else.

Lower Production Costs a Must
A too-frequently overlooked economic fact is that cotton is initially produced by the farmer for the benefit of the farmer and, of course, to provide fibre for consumer goods. Growth and profit of other facets of the cotton industry which follow the farmer are important, to be sure, but their growth and their profit are a by-product of the farmer's work, and they cannot exist for any other purpose.

The price of the farmer's cotton bale today is more or less stabilized. But his expense involved in producing and getting it into the bale is not stabilized. Nowhere in our country has inflation become more real than in agricultural production costs, and no crop has been harder hit by inflated production costs than has cotton. If costs continue to rise at the present rate of increase, a cotton crop won't put a dollar into the farmer's jeans, and then no one else in the industry can hope for a dollar either.

While the Texas farmer's chances for an equitable profit from cotton production have lessened, he has at least been given a provisional opportunity to try his luck at coming out on a larger production volume. The change in acreage allotment rules allowing for increased cotton acreage under a lowered support price could possibly give cotton farming a boost in some areas where production is most economical such as in South, Central and West Texas.

This alternative to a higher support accompanying acreage is hailed by many farmers who are

Wildlife Is a By-Product Of Conservation

Wildlife and recreation are by-products of good conservation practices.

Smart hunters look for conservation farms and ranches. Soil conservation practices give you tips on where you can find good hunting and fishing. Most farmers are friendly to considerate sportsmen.

Many farmers in the Runnels Soil Conservation District use fence rows, abandoned roads, and other such odd areas for wildlife.

more willing to work uninhibited on a sizeable crop and to take their chances on getting a fair price. With the Soil Bank gone—and no one in Texas has expressed extreme regret at seeing it go—the prospect of increase or renewed production will likely bring to front the farmer's enterprising spirit to face even the challenge of production costs.

BUILT ON SAND?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Is this lighthouse built on sand? Seemingly so! All you can see at its base is sand.

Actually this towering structure is built on rock. Underneath these dunes of sand is a rocky ledge, firm and enduring. The sand may be carried away by sea or wind, but this lighthouse will stand secure. There's a rock, a firm foundation, underneath!

Some people look at the Church and see only sand. They see the shifting sands—of custom—and fashion—and passing personalities pile up and wash away around the Church. "Why is it still standing?" they ask—for they see only sand.

The Church would have fallen long ago were it built on anything so fickle as fashion, so casual as custom, so impermanent as mere people. The Church is built on rock, firm and enduring. It will stand secure for all ages, shedding light and imparting strength to all who are guided by it. It stands on the "Rock of Ages," the divine personality of Jesus Christ and His message of hope for all mankind.

By VERN SANFORD

Thousands of ducks and geese now are working their way back up the Central Flyway to the nesting grounds in Western Canada.

We didn't kill nearly all of them in Texas during the hunting season just recently closed. In fact, there were many hunters who did not do too well on ducks. Others, however, got their fair share.

There was considerable disappointment in far southeast Texas. Here, with Federal Aid, the state purchased some 8,000 acres of marshland for a wildlife refuge. It was opened to hunters five days a week. But the hunters got very few ducks.

As a result, not nearly so many hunters took advantage of the permit shooting as had originally been planned. Fortunately, there was a good answer for the absence of the ducks, which should be under control by next season.

This land was purchased only a few weeks before the hunting season opened. It had not been managed land. There was insufficient food on the area for the ducks. Resting areas had not been provided.

A management program is under way now, and by the time the 1959 season rolls around, there should be some excellent shooting in the area. This, of course, providing a good hatch comes back down the flyway from Canada.

Duck stamp sales were heavy in the United States in 1958. In the 10 Central flyway states there were 555,325 stamps sold at $2 ea. Texans bought 167,383, or more than twice the number of any other state. Kansas was next with 73,086. Oklahomans bought 50,033, and 10,207 were sold in New Mexico.

In the Mississippi flyway states they purchased twice as many licenses as in our flyway, but no state equaled Texas. In fact, California, in the Pacific flyway, with 183,011 duck stamps sold was the only state exceeding Texas. (Alaska sold only 9,796 stamps!)

Proceeds from the sale of duck stamps are used to finance Federal waterfowl refuge and law enforcement programs. Every individual, 16 years of age and over, who hunts migratory waterfowl, is required to have such a stamp.

The price this year, has advanced from $2 to $3, with the added money set aside to finance an enlarged refuge program.

The 1959-60 stamp was designed by Maynard Reece, Des Moines, Iowa. He won the designing award, with a drawing featuring a Labrador retriever carrying a mallard drake. This is the third award he has won.

In addition to the purchase of duck stamps, hunters and fishermen also paid more than $20,000,000 in excise taxes on outdoors equipment last year.

Under apportionments from this federal excise tax, Texas will receive $207,027.78 for fishing and $820,000 for wildlife development.

The funds are expended in Texas under the direction of the Game & Fish Commission. Each item must be projected by the commission in advance, and approved under the federal program.

Texas, fortunately, has been able to provide the necessary 25 per cent matching funds from its own license sales. With a program like this, it looks like we'll have good hunting and fishing for a long time.

This also shows conclusively that the people who hunt and fish are not only paying their own way, without general tax funds, but are providing for protection of renewable wildlife resources for everyone.

The wild game and fish of Texas belong to everyone. There can be no harvest of either without the fullest cooperation of the landowner and the man who buys the license. Texas has done a remarkable job.

More Water Means More Fish
Speaking of remarkable jobs, Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game & Fish Commission, was on the program of the meeting of the Texas Press Association in Austin recently. In describing the department's activities, he made a significant statement. "We have more fish today than the Indians had," he told them.

Those of us who have been thinking of fishing back in the so called "good old days" must agree with him. Perhaps we might have had more fish in the Indian days if we had had as much water as we have today. With all our lakes and streams now heavily stocked, our fishing is good. We are told that it will continue to be good because legal fishing pressure cannot reduce it.

Dodgen went on to explain the work of the Commission in keeping the studies going on these lakes to furnish even better fishing for those of us who find a little time to wet a hook.

Fishing definitely has increased a great deal within the last few years. In the first place, fishing is a sport anyone can participate in and enjoy.

Incidentally, there is a $20,000 fishing contest going on in the Corpus Christi area. Last fall the North Beach Women's Club sponsored a program for tagging a bunch of fish in the Corpus Christi Bay. These tags are worth from $10 to $500 each if they are caught and returned to the club group.

The contest, which started last November, will end April 1 of this year. Two of the more 1,000 tagged fish are worth $500 each; 10 of the fish are worth $100 each; 50 are worth $50 each; 100, $25 each; and 900, $10 each. The contest is limited to tourists only.

The Texas coast is ideal for tourists during the winter months. If one should catch one of these $500 fish, he'll be double lucky, for he's just plain lucky to be there in the first place.

Protest Farm Labor Proposal Made by Secretary of Labor

A group of forty Congressmen from the farm and ranch belt called on the Secretary of Labor last week to protest proposed regulations which would, it was contended, tend to fix farm wages and other new controls and requirements.

Headed by Rep. E. C. Gathings (Ark.), chairman of the House Agriculture committee's farm labor sub-committee, a dozen members aired their grievances and pinpointed the dangers inherent in the proposed regulations.

Among others who testified were Poage, Fisher, Mahon and Kilgore, from Texas. McIntyre of Maine, Rhodes of Ariz., Gubser of Calif., and others joined in lambasting the proposal.

In brief, the Labor Department proposes regulations which would require a farmer or ranchman who sought foreign labor or domestic labor through the United States Employment Service, to apply and if local labor should not be readily available, then the employer would be required to employ such labor if available on U.S. lies within the "migratory pattern".

Thus, the New England states are within the migratory labor pattern originating in Florida. The northwestern states are within the migratory pattern originating in Texas.

And the employer would be required to pay the cost of transportation of the workers to and from their origin, pay them the prevailing wage, and provide certain minimum standards for housing.

"I do not believe the Secretary of Labor has that authority", Cong. Fisher stated. "The Congress has always exempted farm labor from the wage-hour law; yet this would in effect fix farm wages where the USES services are used. Thus, we have another example of legislation by regulation and not by act of Congress. This would invade States' rights and would be a monstrous thing."

The Secretary of Labor promised to "take another look" at the intended regulations, and said he would review the entire subject.
