ROGER BABSON SAYS—

"Abnormal Prosperity Has Always Resulted in Eras of Godlessness"

Babson Park, Mass.—I have recently received a booklet entitled "A Look Into the Future" forecasting boom and inflation ahead. It is written by the editor and staff of one of the leading investment advisory services.

One Subject Omitted

This famous writer does not in any way refer to the present moral and nonreligious conditions of the nations. This same criticism applies to most other writers on the future business outlook. President Eisenhower and his Army Chief of Staff are the only prominent people in Washington who are now doing so. Members of the Cabinet and most Members of Congress act as if these great moral forces are now out-dated and only "old-fogies" worry about them. To me this is a serious situation. This subject is discussed by me in a book published by the Fleming H. Revell Co., of Westwood, N. J., entitled "Fundamentals of Prosperity." I have also discussed the matter in another book, "Religion and Business." When times are bad, these books have a good sale, but in times like today such books are not wanted.

Fundamentals, however, should not change with time. The Ten Commandments apply as they did thousands of years ago. In substance, they are recognized by all religions. Now, with radios, airplanes, and other means of quick communication and transportation causing a constantly smaller world these Ten Commandments must become more realistic. It may be that we are entering a so-called "New Era" when morals will not count and churches will become social clubs; but I definitely doubt it. I further believe that what has happened during the past 150 years should be known by businessmen, whether or not history is to repeat itself. So here goes!

What Economic History Teaches

In 1789 General George Washington was elected first President of the U. S. This country then consisted of only a few states, all very poor and constantly harassed by Indian Wars. There was much unemployment and considerable discontent. Conditions, however, gradually improved until 1812 when we again got into war with England. As usual this spruced up agriculture and general business. Following peace with England, our nation witnessed its first employment boom — which reached its height in 1827. This boom was under the conservative administrations of Thomas Jefferson, the Adamses, James Madison, and James Monroe.

During this first era of prosperity, dishonesty, graft, and inefficiency. This reaction was followed by the election of Andrew Jackson in 1828, our first "turn to the left." The moneyed interests lost confidence and business declined further until 1837, when we experienced our first real business panic. This caused a reform in government and economic conditions which continued until 1861, when the War between the States started. Following this was, U. S. Grant was elected President and prosperity continued, but with accompanying dishonesty, graft, and the ruthless "carpet bagging." This resulted in the panic of 1873 and the depression which followed.

1874 Until After the Spanish War The panic of 1873 brought people to their senses. Government became honest, business more efficient, labor leaders more reasonable, and personal morals improved. Again the economic situation advanced for about 18 years. During 1890-1892, however, many scandals occurred in connection with the building of railroads. This resulted in the people's loss of confidence as well as of money. Furthermore, the new settlers on Western farms were encouraged to borrow heavily on mortgages sold to Eastern investors. These mortgages were later largely defaulted when the country was hit by the great panic of 1893. Again these losses brought government officials, bankers, and business to their knees in repentance. Then came World War I.

Our country's business greatly profited from World War I—which prosperity continued until 1929. During the boom, another increase in dishonesty, speculation, and labor troubles occurred. These national sins culminated in the Stock Crash of 1929 followed by the Great Depression of the "Thirties." After the slump of 1938, World War II broke out, which stimulated business until 1945 when another adjustment took place. Following this, due largely to the groundwork laid by the Roosevelt Administration which favored borrowing, installment purchases, legislation favorable to labor, social security, and leaving the gold standard, occurred our present so-called "New Era" with its crime, waste, and reckless spending.

What of the Future?

It may be that this present era is not yet approaching an end. It may be that unemployment has been corrected by federal and other legislation. It may be that the stock market can go to greater heights. I don't know; nobody knows. All I know is this: Unless crimes, inefficiency, waste, the craze for liquor, and the reckless borrowing of today cease and we return voluntarily to honesty, efficiency, temperance, and thrift, we will suffer a long and severe corrective depression.

This cannot always be postponed by legislation, but only by repenting of our sins and returning to the teachings of the Church. Since 1789, abnormal prosperity has always resulted in eras of godlessness; these eras have been corrected only by unemployment and a return to godliness. This is an example of Newton's Law of Action and Reaction. Perhaps the present-day brokers, bankers, industrialists and politicians can suspend this law. But based on all economic history (since Joseph's 7 years of plenty followed by the 7 years of famine) this economic law of Action and Reaction has been as dependable as the Law of Gravity. Let me also refer readers to their Bible's Eighth Chapter of Deuteronomy. For preaching on the text my ancestor, the Rev. John Rogers was burned at the stake in London in 1551 during a period of English speculation and so-called prosperity.

It is a great temptation to agree with certain people rather than engage in a hopeless discussion and waste one's time.

The whiz who is always on the verge of making a million dollars never realizes he has to make a thousand dollars first.

When the Wingate student body turned out Tuesday to entertain the students and faculty of ACC there was a round of chuckles and sounds of admiration in chapel.

The chuckles were for pintsized fourth grade clarinet players, Janet Hipp and Mike Magee, and the admiration was for the cooperative spirit of the Wingate school.

Instead of the other students having to remain in classes while the band went on tour, the whole student body got a holiday.

Why? Because the whole school is in the band!

The band members range from the fourth grade to the eighth.

The talent was discovered by Douglas Fry, ACC Wildcat Band director.

Fry goes to Wingate and works with the school band quite often. He imported them from Wingate and introduced them to the two chapel services.

Three numbers were presented by the 45-piece band. They were "Little Jumbo March," "Festival Holiday," and the popular "Que Sera, Sera."

The whole student body has participated in the band for approximately seven years. They make tours to towns around Wingate.

They are directed by T. K. Martin, who is also the principal of the school.

"When Hell Broke Loose"

Now it can be told! From the files of the C.I.C. (Counter Intelligence Corps) comes one of World War II's most incredible exploits, which is revealed for the first time in Paramount's dramatic thriller, "When Hell Broke Loose," due to open Saturday only at the State Theatre.

Starring Charles Bronson, Richard Jaeckel and Violet Rensing, "When Hell Broke Loose" tells the incredible story of the "Werewolves" — English-speaking Nazi fanatics dropped behind Allied lines in American uniforms—and their nearly successful plot to assassinate Allied High Command officers.

Bronson, popular film and television star, has the leading role of Steve Boland, a sharp "numbers" operator whose cushy racket is interrupted by the war. Before he can "fix the pinch," Boland finds himself in the Army, goes through the Normandy Invasion and then in Germany falls in love with "Fraulein" Rensing. Through her he becomes involved with the murderous "Werewolves," and faces the shattering experience that almost changed the course of history.

Richard Jaeckel plays the Nazi.

"The Hot Angel"

Teen-agers on an excitement kick that almost involves murder on the highways and in the heavens are the subject of the new Paramount release, "The Hot Angel," which comes Saturday only to the screen of the State Theatre.

Set in the wide open spaces of the rugged Grand Canyon country, "The Hot Angel" tells the thrill-charged story of a gang of motorcycle maniacs who get their comeuppance when a veteran flier of the Korean conflict pits his skill and courage against them.

The film, written and produced by Stanley Kallis, features Jackie Loughery, Edward Kemmer, Mason Alan Dinehart, Emory Parnell, Lyle Talbot and a number of talented teen-agers headed by Zon Teller.

"Some Came Running"

With Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Shirley MacLain, Martha Hyer, Arthur Kennedy and Nancy Gates heading a topflight cast, "Some Came Running," the best-selling novel by James Jones, author of "From Here to Eternity," has been brought to the screen by MGM as one of the year's most dramatic motion pictures.

Laid in a small mid-western town of American in the post-war era, the story begins with the return of Dave Hirsh to Parkman, Illinois, after his Army discharge and then depicts what happens to him, to two girls who fall under his spell, and to a varied assortment of other citizens and temporary residents of Parkman.

Frank Sinatra, who won an Academy Award for his portrayal in "From Here to Eternity," plays the new James Jones hero, a man with conflicting personality facets. Dave Hirsh is a writer who has had two novels published but whose lack of commercial success has discouraged him about finishing his third book. He is also a man who likes liquor, fights, gambling and girls.

The two girls who come into his life in Parkman are of widely contrasting natures. Ginny (Shirley MacLaine) is a good-natured, illiterate girl of easy-going morals, who is wildly in love with Dave; Gwen (Martha Hyer) is an instructor at the local college, first drawn toward Dave because of her admiration for his writing, then finding herself against her will in a romantic involvement.

Before he is in Parkman long, Dave also has become involved in other relationships. One is with the happy-go-lucky, itinerant gambler, Bama (Dean Martin), who becomes his close friend. A second is with Dave's older brother, Frank (Arthur Kennedy), whom he dislikes, and with the latter's wife, Agnes (Leora Dana) and daughter, Dawn (Betty Lou Keim). When Frank has an illicit affair with his secretary (Nancy Gates), the disillusioned Dawn is ready to run off with the first man who comes along, but is checked by Dave.

The plot interweaves episodes involving these people, rising to its climax when a jealous Gwen rejects Dave. The story then reaches a suspenseful denouement which ironically takes place amid the honky-tonk atmosphere of the town's Centennial Festival.

"Some Came Running" was filmed in CinemaScope and Metrocolor. It was produced by Sol C. Siegel and was directed by Vincente Minnelli from a screen play by John Patrick and Arthur Sheekman. Much of the action was filmed on location in Madison, Indiana, a typical American small town closely resembling that described in Jones' book.

"The Whole Truth"

International screen favorite Stewart Granger and Academy Award winners Donna Reed and George Sanders are starred in Columbia Pictures' "The Whole Truth," which introduces Italian beauty Gianna Maria Canale at the State Theatre starting Thursday and Friday. "The Whole Truth" reportedly is the year's slickest, quickest whodunit, a story of love and murder on the Riviera.

"The Whole Truth" concerns a film producer who, in a moment of weakness, has an affair with his leading lady, soon tires of her and returns to his wife whom he adores. A few hours after he quarrels with the tenacious actress, a Scotland Yard detective tells him she has been murdered. Shortly thereafter, the "murdered" woman shows up at a party, as volatile and as fiery as ever. Then she really is murdered and the police believe the producer did it. The "Scotland Yard sleuth" turns out to be the murder victim's husband, not a detective at all. And, of course, nobody believes the producers fantastic story, not even his wife.

Flora Dodson GA Met Friday At Southside Church

Flora Dodson Girl's Auxiliary of the Southside Baptist Church met Friday, April 10, at the church. Officers were elected.

Granger, who severed his association with a major studio to start a new career as a freelance actor, plays the rich, handsome and successful film producer suspected of murder on the Riviera. Miss Reed is seen as his wife and George Sanders is the bogus detective. Miss Canale, one of Italy's outstanding beauties, plays the film star who gets herself killed.

Funeral Rites For W. H. Taylor Held In Bradshaw

Funeral services for W. H. Taylor, 88, resident of Bradshaw since 1907, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Bradshaw Baptist Church. The Rev. W. T. Hamor of Abilene officiated and burial was in the Bradshaw Cemetery. Grandsons served as pallbearers.

Mr. Taylor died at 8:20 a. m. Monday in a convalescent home in Ballinger, where he had been for the past three weeks.

Born August 7, 1870, in Polk County, Tennessee, Mr. Taylor was married to Nora Bell Peck on September 2, 1894, in Tennessee. Mrs. Taylor died July 23, 1933.

Mrs. Ledbetter Gave Program At Diversity Club

"Texas — No Longer Largest," was the topic of discussion by Mrs. Clarence Ledbetter at the Diversity Club meeting Thursday afternoon.

The club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roach, with Mrs. Roach and Mrs. James Glenn as hostesses.

"Only thirty times in one hundred twenty-one years, have the nation's representatives voted to alter the shape and size of the United States," Mrs. Ledbetter told the group. "On June 30, 1958, the senate swept Alaska through the door of statehood, and placed Texas the second largest state in the nation."

In further discussion, Mrs. Ledbetter pointed out that Alaska covers 586,400 square miles and is two and one half times larger than Texas. The descent into second place has been met in Texas with mixed emotions, she said. Most Texans pretend not to care, but it has had a chilling effect on "Texas Brags and Gags."

It has been said, "If all the steers in Texas were one large steer, he could stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, one hind foot in the Hudson Bay and the other in the Arctic Ocean, and with a sweep of his tail, brush the mist from the aurora borealis." Thus goes the most honored, elegant and dramatic Texas brag, but not it is dead, she said.

"Some people say that with supremacy in size gone, Texas has little to brag about, but that isn't true," said Mrs. Ledbetter. "For whatever the statistical tables show, Texas will always be the Champ."

Mrs. Roy Young presided for the business session and Mrs. George Lynch was elected to membership. Those present were Mesdames

W. T. Billups, W. M. Bunger, J. W. Dixon, James Glenn, Z. I. Hale, Sam Jones, C. R. Kendrick, Clarence Ledbetter, M. E. Leeman, John Q. McAdams, Karla Melson, Noel Reid, Earl Roach, Loucille Roberts, Fred Young, Roy Young, George Lynch and Marvin Bedford.

Federal Control of Farm Labor Is Becoming Serious

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Revolutionary changes in the American concept of federal control over farm labor is becoming more serious. Despite a mass protest by 40 Congressmen and Senators at a meeting with the Secretary of Labor three weeks ago, the Secretary has proceeded to draft a regulation which he proposes to put into effect this summer.

The regulations would require farmers and ranchmen who apply for labor through United States Employment Services to hire (if local labor is not available) any idle worker available, even though such person might live 1000 miles away, with the employer paying the transportation costs to and from the employee's home. The employer would also have to pay that imported employee the prevailing wage, determined by the Labor Department, and provide certain housing also required by that Department.

Of course, the employer could refuse to hire such person. But if he did hire him that would be the conditions imposed. And if he applied to contract for a Mexican national, where no local labor is available, before such bracero could be processed, the employer would have to offer to take that unemployed worker who lives that 1000 miles or more away, under the terms and conditions described!

The proposed regulations are monstrous. Before becoming effective they must have White House approval. And the protest is now shifting to the office of the President. In addition, the legality of Winters: Harry Hale of Abilene and Jake Hollis of Anson; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whittenberg and daughter of Winters.

W. H. Taylor, 88, passed away Monday morning at Ballinger after a long illness. Funeral rites were held Tuesday afternoon at the Baptist church with Rev. W. T. Hamor of Abilene officiating. Burial was in the Bradshaw cemetery. He is survived by one son, Guy, of Ballinger; four daughters, Mrs. Billie McCasland of Bradshaw; Mrs. Ben Leverett of Abilene; Mrs. Mack Wells of San Angelo; Mrs. Kent Price, Big Spring, 11 grandchildren and 23 great-grand children.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Spill Funeral Home, Winters.

the regulations are being questioned. The Law branch of the Library of Congress has just released an opinion which holds the proposed regulations of doubtful legality. And many eminent lawyers are joining in that opinion.

I do not believe the regulations are legal. The Secretary builds his case on an old 25-year-old law known as the Wagner-Peyser Act.

The tempo of the battle against this invasion of the rights of the people is picking up. The Farm Bureau, the Sheep and Goat Raisers, and many other groups are joining in the protest, and the opposition is gaining throughout the farm belt of the country.

State Capitol Highlights:

Whatever Happens, Texans Can Expect Substantial Increase in Taxes in '60-61

Whichever way the ball bounces, Texans can look forward to a hefty increase in state taxes for 1960-61.

House of Representatives passed a general appropriations bill calling for spending of $332,000,000 from general revenue. Senators took a more economical approach, began their work with a bill calling for $30,000,000 less than the House measure.

Even so, the Senate proposal would put spending some $21,000,000 above the present level and require an estimated $117,000,000 in new tax money.

House bill includes longevity pay raises for long-time state employees and increases in welfare checks to the aged, blind and dependent, all added during floor debate. House also accepted committee recommendations for boosts in the appropriations for higher education, state hospitals and special schools and the prison system.

GASOLINE TAX VIEWED

Gov. Price Daniel says he's ready to support a 1-cent hike in the state gasoline tax if it will be used to improve public schools, raise teacher salaries.

Neither the House nor Senate appropriations bill included public school teacher raises. Lawmakers seemed to think this, if it were to be done, should be handled in a separate bill.

Texas still would have a lower gasoline tax than other states, said Daniel, even after the 1-cent raise. He said he felt sure service station operators would "go along" with it if it were for the purpose of better schools.

Opponents say that, with practically everyone having to use a car these days, the gasoline levy is about as "general as a sales tax can get."

HEALTH CHIEF RESIGNS

Recent target of lawmakers is the State Health Department, where Commissioner Henry A. Holle stepped out of his $16,000 a year post under the glare of legislative disapproval.

Dr. Holle said he felt the department would be better off with another commissioner who could get more support in the way of legislative appropriations.

Meanwhile, both House and Senate launched inquiries into Health Department spending practices.

FLEXIBLE RATING OFF

State regulation of Texas auto insurance rates apparently will continue for at least another two years.

Senate Insurance Committee refused to approve a flexible rating plan, sent it to the sub-committee "graveyard."

Backers of the bill, mostly large out-of-state companies claimed it would save Texas auto owners millions. Careful drivers would be rewarded with lower insurance, they said.

Opponents, including most Texas companies, fought the bill said it would "take the lid off" rates. They said a merit rating plan, being considered by the State Board of Insurance, would take care of rewarding safe drivers. LENDING BILL FILIBUSTERED Senate disagreement over how to improve loan shark regulation brought on the first filibuster of the session.

Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo sponsored the House-passed measure which would, if approved by a vote of the people, amend the constitution. It would allow the Legislature to license lenders and set maximum interest rates. Present 10 per cent ceiling, widely ignored, would be abolished.

Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso led a long-winded assault on the measure. He and other senators insisted such regulation should be limited to loans under $500 to $600.

Senate gave Kazen's measure preliminary approval, despite all the opposition.

PARTY IN-FIGHTING BEGINS

Fifteen months ahead of convention time is not too soon for Texas Democrats to start haggling over who'll receive their presidential nominating votes.

U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson is the focal point of controversy. Recent developments:

Young Democrats of Texas, currently controlled by leftwingers, declared the senator should pay more attention to the party platform. J. Ed Connally, chairman of the state executive committee, quickly announced the Young Demos did not speak for the party. He called them "immature extremists."

Democrats of Texas, unofficial liberal organization, announced it would have a convention in Austin in May. DOT, also, has "fallen out" with Sen Johnson.

In the Legislature, the House elections committee approved a bill that would allow Senator Johnson to run for president and reelection as senator in the same general election.

INVESTMENT BOARD URGED

A bill by Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville would create a new board to handle investments of three large state trust funds.

Making up the nine-member board would be the governor, attorney general, comptroller, chairman of the two retirement systems, chairman of the State Board of Education and three bank presidents.

Investment in corporate stocks and bonds would be permitted by Hudson's measure. Altogether, the three funds total $820,000,000.

NO AGGIE WOMEN

U. S. Supreme Court has upheld state court rulings that women are not entitled by law to enter Texas A&M College.

A&M officials were pleased, but Bryan-Brazos County citizens, for the most part, took a dim view of the enrollment restriction.

Their feelings were reflected in Bryan Sen. William T. Moore's prediction that "if the A&M Board continues its present policies, the time will come when A&M will have a classroom for each student enrolled there."

There is fear that when Arlington College, an A&M branch which admits women, advances to senior college status, it may eclipse the parent institution.

Goal Diggers Had Progressive Dinner Monday Evening

Salad was served in the Pete Davidson home with Nona as hostess. The main course of the dinner was served in the J. E. Lewallen home with Edna acting as hostess. Climax of the dinner was the serving of refreshments in the Bill Graham home with Gwen serving as hostess.

A Chinese auction was scheduled for next Monday and scandal was read.

Members present were Darlene Seals, Nina Hord, Edna Lewallen, Barbara Smith, Betty Holle, Frances Minzenmayer, Cynthia Davis, Sherry Mote, Mona Hamilton, Naomi Busher, Gwen Graham, Nona Davidson, Dianne Buckner, Sandra Hord, LuAda England, Judy Ledbetter, Alma Spill and Mrs. S. B. Parks and Mrs. Ed Cheek.

Higher Earnings Linked to Higher SS Payments

Higher earnings, up to $4800 per year, can now be credited to individual social security accounts, according to a reminder statement issued by Floyd B. Ellington, district manager, Social Security Administration.

The new earnings base for all workers under the social security system replaces the old $4200 per year ceiling which was in effect from 1955 through 1958.

The increased base will apply to future social security benefit determinations as well as social security tax contributions, Ellington said.

It means that many individuals whose earnings exceed $4200 per year will pay more beginning in 1959 and will also get more when benefits become due. The higher tax and benefit base reflects the general increase in earnings levels in the past few years and the principle of keeping benefits related to earnings.

It will result in greater over-all old-age, death, and disability protection for most people under social security, Mr. Ellington said.

Mr. Ellington, district manager of the San Angelo Social Security office also stated that anyone desiring information concerning the social security program should see the Field Representative, Neil Tarvin when he makes his regular visit to Winters, Wednesday, April 15 and 29, May 13 and 27, June 10 and 24. He will be in the Chamber of Commerce Building from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to those who were so kind and thoughtful during our recent stay in the hospital. Also to Dr. C. T. Rives, Dr. H. H. McCreight and to the hospital and its staff. More Gas Taxes Add To Heavy Burden, Says Local Oilman Proposals before the legislature to put more taxes on natural gas will become an added burden to practically all Texas oil and gas producers who are already the state's number one industrial taxpayers, John E. Wade, Jr., local Oil Information Committee chairman, said this week. Wade is with the Winters office of the Humble Oil Company.

"One of these bills, a so-called tax on dedicated gas, is advocated as a tax that would only hit big gas pipeline companies but actually it will fall on Texas producers," he said.

"Many people who are aware of the heavy taxes paid by the state's petroleum industry don't realize that gas producers and oil producers in most instances are the same taxpayers. Most gas is found in the search for oil and even 30 percent of all Texas gas comes out of the same wells as oil," Wade said.

He pointed out that oil and gas producers' taxes in the last fiscal year totaled $198 million for the state government.

"Of this amount the producers paid $42 million on natural gas production under the present tax of 7 percent of the gross value. No other business in Texas pays such a high percent of its gross income as does the producer when he sells his gas," the Winters oil man said.

"It would be unfair to increase it to 10 percent as some are advocating today," the Oil Information Committee chairman said. "Producers are already paying 30 percent of every state tax dollar collected and they account for two-thirds of all state tax money collected from business and property owners."

He said Texas producers are paying two-thirds of the state costs for various state welfare programs, including old age assistance. They pay 45 percent of the state cost for public education—one of the largest items in the state budget, Wade said.

Water District Bill Filed In Texas House

A bill which would create the Valley Creek Water Control District in parts of Taylor, Nolan and Runnels counties has been filed in the House by Reps. A. J. Bishop of Winters and Truett Latimer of Abilene.

The proposal, House Bill 944, would create the district "to have control and use of the waters of Valley Creek to the end that improvements upon any one part of the watershed will be mechanically and economically related to the improvements of the entire watershed."

The bill designated eight temporary directors to organize the district, pending an election to name permanent directors. They are Frank K. Antilley, L. O. Byrd and Milton Jackson of Taylor County; Bennett Robertson and G. G. Franks of Nolan County; Hugo Vogelsang, Adolph Minzenmayer and Duncan Hensley of Runnels County.

The district would have authority to levy taxes if approved by a vote of a majority of property taxpaying voters in the district, and to enter into necessary contracts with the Federal and State governments and political subdivisions.
