HOME TOWN Talk

By E. C. THOMAS

The big meal served by the ladies of the Pumphrey community at the rabbit drive there recently was made possible by donations from the many farmers of the area, whose land was being cleared of rabbits by the hunters. But after the dinner was paid for, there was a substantial amount of money left, so the folks donated it to the Red Cross. The $50 donated was in addition to the amount earlier donated to the Red Cross by individual residents of the area.

Now that spring is here, there are many who are anxious to see a resumption of the street and alley work which was started last year. There are many spots in the city's streets which have deteriorated to the point where complete re-paving seems necessary.

The baseball season is here, with the Legislature pitching, the Governor catching, and the pore old confused taxpayer standing at a home plate with a broken bat.

Some of these days we're going to accept the invitation to accompany some of the local coon hunters on a night's hunt. Been promising to do just that for a long time, but when we think of the long walks ahead, stumbling about in the dark—we think—we've kinda hesitated in accepting.

There must be something in a coon hunt which stirs up the natural hunting instinct in a man's blood, because the sport is becoming quite popular here. And a good coon dog is worth his weight in dog biscuits.

Jim Hamner, one of the most energetic coon hunters around here, paints an exciting picture of a night's hunt. Just this week—Wednesday—he said a group of hunters treed three coons.

Recently, though, Jim said a group of hunters he was with treed a bunch or flock or covey of coons in one tree. Some hunters counted eight and some counted nine coons up one tree.

Jim says about the most exciting thing which can happen on a coon hunt is to corner a coon under a building, and learn that also under the house is a skunk and a 'possum. Whenever this happens great care is taken in chasing the animals out. However, in such a situation, there is seldom little interference from crowds—few people gather to share the excitement, even though the whole neighborhood may get wind of what is going on.

The mechanics of civilization seem to hold no terror for some of these small animals, however. In fact, some of them put to their own use man's installations. There is a story about a 'possum which hangs out around Green's Milling Co. They say he ventures out at night, climbs a telephone pole, walks the big cable for several blocks, drops down and feeds in the vicinity of the Methodist Church. Then he takes his aerial trip back to his den.

Don't forget the FFA Pancake Supper next Monday at the school cafeteria. Winters' FFA boys always put on a good feed, and use the proceeds to help finance their many projects.

The new government of Cuba has sent their Premier to the United States to pour a little oil on the troubled waters of American-Cuban relations. A sort of Castro-oil.

One Injured and Car Total Loss In Accident Near Here Monday Afternoon

William Wesley Patton, 37, address unknown, was injured in a one-car accident on FM 53 near Winters Monday afternoon about 5 p.m.

He suffered lacerations around the head and neck when the car in which he was traveling, a 1950 Cadillac, hit some mailboxes, a cement post at the corner of Fairview Cemetery and overturned several times. He was treated at the Winters Municipal Hospital before being transferred to Hendrick Memorial in Abilene.

Samuel Monroe Boston of Abilene, owner of the car, told investigating officer, Highway Patrolman H. A. Anthony, that he was in the back seat asleep when the accident occurred. Boston, an oilfield roughneck in Andrews, was on his way to San Angelo and had picked Patton up to drive for him.

The car was a total loss, Anthony said. The windshield was knocked out and the car was bent into an arch as the back door was damaged, the fenders bent in and one tire blown out.

H. B. Edmondson and Dawson Coleman discussed the lesson plan prepared by the Texas Farm for young farmers and ranchers.

Marion Hays, president of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, discussed the labor meeting which was held in San Angelo April 17. Hays brought out the point, "that the purpose of this meeting is to impress upon farmers and ranchers that a giant stride toward actual control of farm labor by the federal government is being taken and unless the people most involved can convince the Department of Labor of the bad effects that these regulations will have on agriculture, they will be published in the Federal Register and become the law of the land."

C. T. Parker, county agent, also spoke to the group.

City Power Plant Adds New Engine, Generator

One of the last official acts of the outgoing Winters City Council was the purchase of a new engine and generator for the city-owned power and light plant. The purchase was made several days ago, prior to the installation of the new council.

The new equipment was purchased from Fairbanks-Morse, and will be installed sometime this summer, according to E. Y. Buckner, superintendent of the light plant.

Cost of the new generator was about $129,000, to be paid with time warrants. Equipment will include a dual-fuel engine, burning either diesel oil or natural gas, the generator, switchboard and cooling equipment.

A new building will be erected north of the present light plant building, according to information. A call for bids to erect the building will be issued soon.

The installation of the new engine, which has a 900 Kilowatt capacity, will increase the capacity of the power plant to 2800 Kilowatts, Buckner said. Present generating machinery consists of four engines.

Roger Babson Discusses:

"Economic Wars Will Be Settled When Everyone Learns to Give and Take"

Babson Park, Mass. — Readers must be disturbed by the contrary reports from Washington about the employment situation. One report claims there are more employed today than there were a year ago—or perhaps ever—while another report says there are more unemployed than a year ago. Probably both of these claims are correct. It is easily possible, owing to the natural growth in population and to other factors which I will now enumerate:—

Four Reasons for Unemployment

(1) Manufacturers, retailers, and labor are pricing themselves out of business. Most investors put all the blame on labor; but each group wants more and tries to raise prices or wages to secure additional money. Finally, the public buys fewer goods, which results in retailers laying off clerks, manufacturers laying off workers. It is a "merry-go-round," with all groups to blame.

(2) Government imposes taxes for defense, social security, old age, pensions, farm and foreign aid, roadbuilding, etc. These taxes make everyone mad and we unconsciously take it out on labor by reducing the number of our employees.

(3) Foreign imports are constantly increasing. Low wages in Germany, Italy, Japan, and other countries enable these nations to export to us all kinds of manufactured products at low prices which our own manufacturers cannot meet. This is even after the foreign manufacturers pay the import duties. Yet we dare not raise these duties for fear these nations will cease to be our allies and turn to Russia. Every store in your city is carrying some imported goods. When you buy them, you are putting good American wageworkers out of a job. Yet we must buy these goods or Russia will get the business and we will lose a valuable friend.

(4) Many manufacturers are either building plants abroad to hire very efficient workers at very low wages or are adopting automation. Retailers install "self-service" and build great supermarkets. These changes throw more wageworkers out of employment.

Four Ways to Increase Employment

(1) I believe in the American wageworker. He is fair and intelligent. Unfortunately, however, his union leader knows that to hold his own job, at $20,000 per year, he must get wage increases for his members. This he does by forcing members to agree to his threats to employees by the use of standing votes. The most helpful thing Congress could do for wageworkers and consumers would be to legislate that all strike votes shall be by secret ballot.

(2) The U. S. Justice Department should be encouraged to prevent monopolies by unnecessary consolidations. When employers combine, they usually do so either to raise prices or to reduce manufacturing costs. As a result certain wageworkers are thrown out of work. Might it not be fair to require a period of time—agreed upon in advance—before prices are raised or any employees discharged? Surely the stockholders should be willing to make some temporary sacrifice when they vote for these consolidations.

(3) Both aging employers and wageworkers should take advantage of Social Security retire from active work when reaching sixty-five years of age. The simplest method of decreasing unemployment would be to reduce the legal work week to 35 hours; but

Primary Grades Presented Annual Spring Program

Winters Primary School is presenting its annual spring program on Friday, April 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. The program is entitled "America's Story in Song" and is directed by Mrs. Dorothy Akins. It tells the story of the founding and settlement of America from the time of Columbus through the present day. There will be about 130 children in costumes depicting the styles of dress of early Americans. Paula Poe as Miss Liberty and Jimmy Nevins as Uncle Sam will be the speakers for the entire program.

The program begins with the discovery of America by Columbus who is played by Carla Sue Davis. The Spanish sailors are Eileen Faubion, Gary Israel, Charles Brown, Cynthia Simpson, John Hogan, Cassie Foster, Raul Cortez, Ben Shoemaker, Shelia Kratz, Leon Gibbs, Tino Arispe, Zane Eoff, Terry Warlick, and Paul Wayne Gomez.

Another important group of people in the history of America are the Indians. The chief is played by Bob Colburn. Other Indians are Pauline Rozmen, Brenda Talley, Laura Torres, Glenda Cooper, Cynthia Jackson, Mary Gairey, Sally Simpson, Gayle Rowell, Jay Roye, David Gossett, Randy Pendergrass, Sam Scott, Antone Sanchez, David Sherman, Johnny Allen, and Bill Hinds.

Another important group of people in the history of our country were the Pilgrims played by Joe Meyers, Charles Mathis, Arnold Riddle, Larry Freeman, Jimmy Gray, Rodney Faubion, Rita Powers, David Torres, Elodia Torres, Rita Kay Upton, Michael Shannon, Randy Van Holmes, Sandra Reed, David Carroll, Darrell Hill, Babs Tatum, Randy Huddleston, Terry Stanfield, Jean Mostad, Gary Jacob, and Larry McMillan.

this would result in more foreign imports and "the cure would be worse than the disease." Please note that I include the older officers of corporations as well as the wageworkers. To reduce unemployment among the younger groups, more of them should be sent to college.

(4) Let me close by saying that the basic difficulty is that both employers and wageworkers are in "cold wars" with other nations. These economic wars will be settled fairly only when all groups are willing to "give and take." Employers, wageworkers, and consumers must all be willing to abide by the Golden Rule rather than use force; strikes are only legalized wars. Also, all of us must be willing to fight the liquor evil, which is one of the causes of unemployment.

dall Boles, Tommy Smith, Jerry Waggoner, Alan Hart, Lenda Fuller, Beverly Foster, Dorothy Martin, Alva Booth, Donna Kay Benson, Cathey Green, Martha Armbricht, and Ethel McMillan.

Songs representative of each group of people will be sung and the program will be concluded with songs of America today. They are entitled "Our Country," "America the Beautiful," "Our Flag," and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The public is invited to hear these primary children sing in this presentation of "America's Story in Song."

Girl Scout News

Crafts made by the Girl Scouts and Brownies of Winters will be on display at the Scout Hut on May 2 from 2 until 5 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend this display and see just what these girls have been doing this year.

All the members of Brownie Troop 1 were present for their meeting Friday, April 17. The leaders, Mrs. Walker Tatum and Mrs. R. G. Cooper carried the girls to Crews where they met at the Nobel Faubion home for a weiner roast.

When the group arrived they went on a hike and explored interesting sights on the Faubion farm. A nature study was conducted on the hike.

Brownies enjoying the outing were Carolyn Blake, Glenda Cooper, Sandra Crockett, Eileen Faubion, Jean Mostad, Cynthia Pinkerton, Sandra Reed, Kay Lynn Rives, Brenda Sue Talley, Babs Tatum and Mary Lou Wilkerson. On April 10th all members of the troop were present for their weekly program. The group met at the hut and worked on sewing cards.

Nibbles were served by Babs Tatum to Carolyn Blake, Glenda Cooper, Sandra Crockett, Eileen Faubion, Jean Mostad, Cynthia Pinkerton, Sandra Reed, Kay Lynn Rives, Brenda Sue Talley, Babs Tatum, Mary Lou Wilkerson, the leaders Mrs. Tatum and Mrs. Cooper and a visitor, Jeri Lynn Cox.

Life is no more puzzling to man than death, but it has greater popular support.

They seem to dovetail in our community. Time and again, our farm neighbors who have credit needs find that we can offer help which exactly meets those needs. If you need a loan, perhaps we can help you. Stop in — talk it over with us soon!

By VERN SANFORD

If you took all the youngsters who went fishing last Saturday and stood them side by side, it would make a long line of mighty happy kids.

Also if you strung out, end to end, all the fishing worms that those same youngsters used for bait, it would make a line ten times longer.

This just points up the fact that worms get the first call to duty when a boy goes fishing. Plenty of grown-ups use 'em too! Fact of the matter is—the common garden variety of earthworm is about the most widely used of all natural fish bait.

Minnows will run a close second. Then come crawfish, hellgrammites, grasshoppers, crickets and a wide variety of critters that usually can be found without much trouble, either in your own back yard or around the creek.

There are some tricks about capturing keeping, and using these various baits.

But let's talk about the earthworm. Although he likes his earth moist, the earthworm is not a resident of water. Only time he ever gets in the drink, without man's aid, is to be washed there when it rains, or dropped there when a piece of the bank crumbles off.

Water resident or not, nearly any fish recognizes the worm instantly as something to eat, and acts accordingly.

A rich, loamy, clay soil is the earthworm's favorite kind of habitat. This because it contains plenty of organic matter which is his food. Most gardens contain the kind of soil that's right for worms, and good gardens are kept well watered.

A little garden digging normally will produce enough worms for a day at the creek. In fact, many a youngster, forced into hard labor in the cabbage patch, with a spading fork on Saturday morning, has consoled himself with the thought that this effort will yield bait for the afternoon diversion. About the cabbages, he couldn't care less.

Worms go deep when the earth is dry. Water it, and the worms will be there next day. Or put down some wide boards and pour the dishwater over them. If there are worms in the soil, they will congregate under the boards in a few days, to eat the food in the dishwater.

Keeping worms for a short period of time requires no effort. Simply some of the soil in which with some of the soil in which they were found. Add a little water from time to time but don't drown them. If they are to be kept for longer periods, the worms should be fed occasionally. Here again dishwater will do. Or use some vegetable shortening mixed with cornmeal, or bread crumbs. Just be sure to keep the container in a cool place.

You can maintain a permanent supply of worms by utilizing a hardwood box sunk into the ground. Bore a couple of holes in the bottom for drainage, and cover these with copper wire screening, so the worms can't escape. Plug all cracks in the box for the same reason. Fill the box with alternate layers of soil and dead leaves. Add worms. Feed occasionally. It is a good idea to cover the box to keep out excessive moisture in the rainy season, and to maintain coolness. Contribute water in small amounts when the weather is dry, and you'll always have worms.

There are two thousand-odd varieties of earthworms in the world, but you don't care about that, and neither does the fish. He can't tell them apart any more than you can, nor does he know their Latin names. All he knows is that the thing is good to eat, and he will go for same when it is properly presented, which brings us to another aspect of the subject.

Presentation is one of the most important factors in fishing success. The big secret is to offer the bait naturally . . . the way the fish is accustomed to seeing it. Thus, as relates to the worm—he can't swim, so he always drifts with the current. If there is no current, he drifts from top to bottom, and stays there, wriggling enough to call attention to himself.

The ordinary cane pole fisherman will ignore this precept. He will rig up a hook, line and sinker, attach a worm, and let the thing dangle there, five or six feet down, until times get better. Sometimes he catches fish, and sometimes, when the fish are in the mood, he catches a lot. But over the long haul he would do much better if he observed the rules of presentation.

Take bream, for example. The bream (colloquially perch—also bluegill, etc.) is the prize fish of the beginner. He bites readily on earthworms and other baits. And he is mighty tasty in the pan. And at least one authority says that the bluegill, for his size, is the toughest fighter of all game fish.

More bream are caught on earthworms than on any other bait.

It shouldn't be necessary to say that for bream a fisherman should use a very small hook. Also just enough earthworm to cover the bend and part of the shank. But I've seen bream fishermen—beginners, obviously—with hooks much too large, baited with earthworms the size of a boy's little finger. That's too much hook and too much worm for a bream, which has a very small mouth.

Use everything small for bream. Spinning gear is wonderful. Here's a place where you can go to the ultra-light tackle, which is coming to be of considerable interest to the masters these days. Take a featherweight rod such as Conolon is making in a five-foot length. Ideally, you'd use an Italian Alcedo Micron reel. But that's out of the price range of most of us who work for a living. The Japanese are making a little reel that will do, and the price is modest. It called the Golden Cub.

Fill your reel with 2-pound nylon monofilament, and you've got the right outfit for bream. You want a "perch" hook, and that means a small one. A tiny split shot is enough weight. No bobber is necessary where you have a current that will drift the worm down to where the fish are. If the fish are congregated in one place, say around an old submerged brush pile about six feet under, then you may want to put on the float accordingly.

Bait sparingly. Drift the worm into the place where the bream are. And you're in business.

The earthworm is also a fine bait for catfish. But here you use different tackle, of course, as well as a different way of baiting the hook. If you're going for catfish, don't think of "ultra-light" tackle. If you think of spinning gear at all, it should be very heavy stuff, with not less than 10-pound test line.

For catfish, you want a larger hook with a gob of worms. All should be hooked through once or twice with the ends left sticking out, so they will wriggle. Toss this kind of bait into a hole where a catfish lives and you're likely to get action.

We started out to write about natural baits and used up all this space dealing with worms. In another column we'll talk about some of the other natural baits and how best to use them.

Castro, Cherry Blooms Spotlight Capitol News

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
Spring fever, cherry blossoms, and Fidel Castro combined to spotlight the news on Capitol Hill this past week. Among Texans perhaps the most welcome and important thing that happened was that over due rain in Texas!

On the cherry blossom front, the annual festival on the Potomac which attracts hundreds of thousands of spectators each year went off on schedule Miss Susan Rogers, daughter of Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa was chosen Miss Texas for the occasion. She performed well and looked the part that pleased all Texans who saw her.

Castro's grand entry into the U. S., on invitation of the Nation's newspaper publishers who are now in annual session in D. C., was received in a cool but courteous atmosphere in official circles. The new Cuban Dictator, who has already legalized the previously outlawed communist party in Cuba and placed known communists in key government positions, says he would be neutral if by any chance the U. S. and Russia should become involved in war.

Rear Admiral C. C. Kirkpatrick, formerly of San Angelo but now chief of the Navy's Information service in Washington, is another Texan who has "gone places" in military circles. A contemporary of General Al Lueddecke, formerly of Eldorado but now General Manager of the important Atomic Energy Commission, the two occupy key positions for which only the highly qualified are selected.

Among Texans who have called on us recently have been Houston Harte, San Angelo newsman, Emil Lochette of Fredericksburg, Gordon Geistweid of Mason, Pat Cagle of Comanche but formerly of Brownwood, Melvin Shell of Gorman, W. E. Fricke of Fredericksburg, Forrest Kyle of Bangs, The John Matneys of San Angelo, Vester Hughes, Jr. of Dallas but formerly of Mertzon and Wendell Mayes of Brownwood.

A new one going the rounds here—taking note of the bankrupt condition of Soapy Williams' welfare State of Michigan—is: "I'll take a Michigan on the rocks!"

Ellington Gives Suggestions For Retirement Check

Would you like to get your first social security check as soon as possible after retirement? You can help the social security office get your money to you earlier by applying beforehand and by getting the proofs needed together, according to Floyd B. Ellington, social security district manager in San Angelo, Texas.

Ellington advised that all persons intending to retire get in touch with the social security office one or two months before actual retirement. They should bring with them the papers necessary to establish their rights to benefits. These include the social security card, proof of age, and proof of recent earnings, such as the last W-2 form or last income tax return, with Schedule C or Schedule F and the cancelled check with which the self-employment tax was paid. If the retiring person's wife is 62, she should bring proof of her age. Also, if there are any children under 18, their birth or baptismal certificates, or other proof of age, should be furnished.

Severely disabled persons applying for freeze of social security status, if under 50, or for disability payments, if 50 or over, should bring information about medical examinations and treatment and employment for the past several years.

In death cases proof of age is needed for all eligible children, widows over 62, and dependent parents. Widows eligible for monthly benefits must furnish proof of marriage. Proof of death must be obtained in all cases.

Ellington cautioned that no one should delay filing his claim because the necessary proofs are not readily available. The social security office will be happy to assist in securing them.

Motor vehicle accidents killed 36,700 and injured 2,825,000 on U.S. highways during 1958.

Speed was blamed for more than 40 per cent of the traffic deaths and injuries in the U.S. during 1958.

Cars that did not have the right of way injured 608,400 and killed 3,890 persons on U.S. Highways in 1958.

There were 24,830 pedestrians injured crossing intersections with the signal in their favor during 1958 in the United States.

In 1958, more than 49 per cent of the traffic injuries resulted from weekend accidents.

Automobile-bicycle collisions during 1958 injured 59,300 persons.

AT THE STATE THEATRE

"Queen of Outer Space"

One of Hollywood's most glamorous stars, Zsa Zsa Gabor, tops the cast of Allied Artists' "Queen of Outer Space," gay science-fiction film opening Saturday only at the State theatre.

This screenplay, authored by Charles Beaumont and based on a Ben Hecht short story, is filmed in CinemaScope and color by De Luxe and pictures life and romance on the planet Venus in the year 1985.

Top-cast with Miss Gabor are Laurie Mitchell, as the queen whose rule she helps to end and whom she replaces on the throne; Eric Fleming, Patrick Waltz and Dave Willock as air force officers and Paul Birch as a civilian scientist, who unexpectedly land on Venus. Barbara Darrow, Lisa Davis and Mary Ford, three of Hollywood's prettiest girls, are cast as close friends of Miss Gabor.

The art direction of David Milton is combined with the music direction of Marlin Skiles and the cinematography of William Whitley to make the viewing of "Queen of Outer Space" what critics refer to as a "a delightful adventure in celluloidal exploring of romance on a new land in the far future."

"Spy in the Sky"

An exciting picture of international intrigue as timely as today's space flight headlines, Allied Artists' "Spy in the Sky" opens Saturday only at the State theatre.

Steve Brodie, Sandra Francis, Andrea Domburg and George Coulouris are starred in the action-packed picture that was produced and directed by one of the masters of suspense entertainment, W. Lee Wilder.

Brodie, who has had many outstanding film roles, has been credited with critics at advance showings for one of his finest performances in "Spy in the Sky." He is cast as a United States intelligence officer assigned to find a German scientist captured by the Russians who made his escape into the free world.

The picture races to a thrilling climax as Brodie pits his courage and wits against a rival intelligence man, portrayed by Coulouris, who wants to find the scientist first so he can be silenced.

"Tonka"

Thrills and spills galore, climaxed by the action-packed reenactment of Custer's Last Stand, highlight Walt Disney's "Tonka," Technicolor film saga of an untamed mustang and a young Indian warrior who was his greatest friend. Wild horse stampedes, Indian uprisings, cavalry charges, bitter tribal rivalries, plus hand-to-hand combats between red men and white—all these form suspenseful entertainment, served in the true Disney manner.

Woven into this bristling story of frontier life in the 1870's is the tender tale of a young Sioux love for a wild stallion, and of his efforts to save the valiant chestnut from brutal mistreatment.

A stellar cast of talented performers has been assembled by Walt Disney. In the role of the young Sioux brave, White Bull, is 19-year-old Sal Mineo, portraying his most challenging starring assignment.

Co-starring are ruggedly handsome Philip Carey and Jerome Courtland, TV's Andy Burnett, and Rafael Campos. Among the list of important supporting players are H. M. Wynant, Joy Page and Britt Lomond.

"Tonka" is directed by Lewis R. Foster. James Pratt produced the movie adaptation of the popular David Appel novel. The film is a Buena Vista release.

"Raw Wind in Eden"

A completely international cast without "extras" or "bit" players will be on display in the Universal-International Color-CinemaScope modern love story, "Raw Wind in Eden," which opens next Thursday and Friday at the State Theatre.

From Hollywood come stars Esther Williams and Jeff Chandler, both American born. Then come Rossana Podesta, born in Libya; Carlos Thompson from Argentina and Rik Battaglia and Eduardo de Filippo, the only native Italians in the cast of the picture which was filmed in Rome and along the coast of the Tyrrhenian Sea. De Filippo, acknowledged as Italy's finest character actor on stage and screen, belongs to Italy's Royal Family of the theatre, being connected with the stage for generations. Battaglia was discovered waiting on tables in Milan and his first film role was opposite Sophia Loren.

The whiz who is always on the verge of making a million dollars never realizes he has to make a thousand dollars first.

Pilot union condemns altimeter used in crash.

All grain prices rise; soybeans irregular.

WHITE BULL AND STRONG BEAR, inseparable Indian friends, portrayed by Sal Mineo and Rafael Campos, respectively, attentively survey a herd of wild horses in this scene from Walt Disney's Technicolor production, "Tonka," also starring Jerome Courtland and Philip Carey.

State Capitol Highlights:

Three Weeks Left For Regular Session; Legislature Working Under Pressure

By VERN SANFORD

With just about three weeks left in the regular session, legislators will be under much pressure—to do many things and do them fast.

Each day that passes without agreement on financial matters heightens the possibility of a special session as soon as this one ends.

Many measures will be trampled under or pushed aside until '61. But as Speaker Waggoner Carr told the House, the problem of raising some new money "won't go away. It has to be faced."

NO EASY OUT

Like every other tax proposal made this session, the huge "something for everybody" omnibus tax bill recommended by the House Tax Committee brought howls of protest.

It would raise an estimated $151,000,000 a year by raising some old taxes and placing new taxes on hundreds of items. Tabbed for increases are natural gas, motor vehicles, cigarettes, liquor, wine, beer licenses.

New targets include hotel rooms, restaurant meals, cigars, chewing tobacco, snuff, aircraft and auto parts, dozens of luxury items (jewelry, furs, cameras, watches, silver, etc.) radio and TV parts, business machines, commercial rentals, club dues, construction materials, dance studios, reducing salons.

Officially, the bill is known as the Tax Committee substitute for H. B. 727. Unofficially, it's called a lot of other things.

House members showed no more eagerness to rally behind this broad-based approach than they had for Gov. Price Daniel's less "spread out" plan.

GIVE LITTLE, TAKE LITTLE

Two appropriations bills of varying sizes have been passed by the House and Senate. Differences will be adjusted by a conference committee of members from the two houses.

Both bills call for spending nearly $2,500,000,000 during the next two years. House bill is slightly larger. It calls for approximately $333,000,000 from general revenue. Senate would spend only $307,000,000 in general revenue.

To satisfy both houses, the conference committee will try to reach a compromise between these two figures. However it's worked out, it's already clear that spending will considerably exceed the $281,000,000 spent from general fund for 1958-59.

ROUGH SLEDDING

Governor Daniel's "abandoned property act" barely squeaked by its first test on the House floor by a 71-69 vote.

Measure would allow the state to take over money and property unclaimed for seven years or more. Estimates of how much it would bring in immediately range from $20,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Many bankers fear such a law would cause people to be afraid to put their money in banks and decide to stick it in a sock instead.

Backers of the measure say the banks and other businesses are holding and getting the benefit of property that does not belong to them, should be used to benefit the people.

CO-OP BILL SHUNTED ASIDE

A bill to allow rural electric coops more "elbow room" has been sent to the Attorney General for an opinion.

Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, sponsor, protested to the House State Affairs Committee that this would kill the bill. This late in the session, delay is usually fatal.

Highly controversial, the bill would allow coops to add new customers after the area of their lines is annexed to a city.

ADVERTISING BILL ADVANCES

A state-financed advertising program for Texas moved close to final enactment despite heated opposition from an advertising man in the Senate.

Proposed bill would create the Texas Development Board to supervise tourist advertising by the Highway Department and industry advertising by the Texas Industrial Commission.

Sen. George Parkhouse, an advertising man from Dallas, objected, not to the idea of state advertising, but to the way it would be handled. He declared the suggested $100,000 appropriation would be wasted.

But the bill gained final approval in the senate and next-to-final passage in the House.

FIRE-POLICE BILL GAINS

A shorter work week for many city firemen and policemen is near to legislative approval.

Senate has passed the bill finally, and a House committee has recommended passage.

Bill limits firemen's working hours to 72 in cities of 10,000 to 60,000 population, 63 hours in cities of 60,000 to 125,000 and 60 hours for all larger than 125,000. Policemen would work the same hours as other city employes.

City officials have protested the measure would raise local expenses and aggravate an already acute revenue-raising problem.

TEXAS DERBY?

Not given much chance of passing, but exciting some interest is a proposal to legalize horse racing and betting in Texas.

Rep. Homer Koliba of Columbus introduced the measure which was sent to a House subcommittee. Thoroughbred horse breeders pointed out that legalized pari-mutual betting could bring in a lot of tax money.

Opponents, including Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, charged it would bring on crime, poverty and immorality.

Pari-mutual betting was outlawed in Texas in the thirties, but proposals to return it come up frequently, always giving rise to lively legislative debate.

SHORT SNORTS

A youth vs. age battle was abandoned when the House failed to give enough votes to a proposed constitutional amendment to raise minimum age for Senators from 26 to 30, House members from 21 to 25. Opponents countered with a measure to set maximum age for legislators at 60. . . . Guards are needed by the Texas Department of Corrections, according to Director O. B. Ellis. Men interested in permanent employment by the department should contact J. F. Heard, assistant director in charge of business and custody, Box 32, Huntsville.
