ROGER BABSON SAYS—

Best Hedge Against Inflation Is To Invest In Companies With Land

Babson Park, Mass.—The best hedge against inflation should be good "land stocks," that is stocks of companies with large land holdmore stock certificates when it so desires. But (and I say this reverently) only God can make more land. (This may be increased a total of perhaps 1-1000 percent by realtors who do so by pumping up sand from the adjoining water but this is not real land.)

But, why do I advise buying stock of a land company instead of buying acreage in fee? The answer is very simple. If you yourself buy the acreage, you must pay the taxes and watch the property personally. If, however, you buy the stock of a good company, the taxes are paid by the company and you have no details to watch. Furthermore, such listed land stock is easy to sell; while considerable red tape and looking up of titles are necessary if the property is in your own name. Hence, I prefer certain land stocks to acreage.

Relation to Population

Readers hear much about the business boom which is supposed to come in the 1960's due to the increased marriageable population. Although the birth rate is falling slightly, (it is now 24.5 per thousand; and the marriage rate dropped last year to 8.3 per thousand, and deaths in 1958 were only 1,674,000, yet those who are approaching marriageable age are constantly increasing due to the baby boom of 20 years ago. The investor is most interested in those who are reaching marriage age. The experts expect 5 million babies in 1960 and 6 million in 1965. The great majority of stocks are not directly affected by marriages; but the demand for houses and furnishings definitely increases as the marriage rate rises.

As more people retire on pensions, more attention is being given to the most healthful states—the Southeast including Florida, the Southwest including New Mexico, Colorado, and Arizona, together with parts of the Pacific Coast. Such states offer the climate for which older people are hungering. A dry climate, with normal variations of temperatures, is now recognized as giving the most relief to those suffering from bursitis, arthritis, and various forms of rheumatism. Therefore, a first requirement is that the land be in a state which can "guarantee" a long and healthful life. Personally, I like New Mexico or Arizona as health resorts, but all states are different and each has some advantages over the others. What climate is best for me, may be poison to you.

Freedom from Labor Troubles
 Of all the stocks listed on the New York exchanges, the "land company" stocks are freest from labor troubles. Such companies employ few people. In fact, I have heard of one land company, listed on the American Stock Exchange, which is said to have only three employees. Even those railroads like the Canadian Pacific, the Union Pacific, and the Northern Pacific, which have great land holdings, are practically free from strikes. Even during a strike on one of the railroads its land holdings are increasing in value.

Although much western land is now good only for grazing, yet the income from such land should expand with the national increase in babies. This grazing should pay taxes and other expenses. But the great gamble about any acreage is that at any time minerals such as uranium may be found, or fuels such as oils or gases, or other underground products. This especially applies to timber land, which is constantly becoming more valuable. Land companies which have not yet discovered their underground resources are not investments for income. But at any time discoveries may be made which could double the market prices of the stocks. The day a house is completed, it usually begins to deteriorate and the house becomes worth less, but the land should become worth more each year. Therefore, put more money into land and less into the house when buying a home.

Possibilities From Irrigation
 Most cheap land today is awaiting irrigation. The fact that these sandy and barren lands have had so little rain during the centuries means that the vitamins and minerals are yet in the soils. They have not been drained into the oceans by the rains and brooks and rivers.

Hence, when such virgin lands are irrigated they produce the most wonderful products. This is why the marvelous lettuce and other vegetables come from the former Mohave Desert of South Central California. This was considered only barren sand before it was irrigated. Many plans for further local irrigation are being made to adopt power from uranium, oil, or gas to be found on the property. I personally am most interested in water wells powered by gravity or perhaps by sun rays.

For Utah, Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona a most spectacular project is the "Powers Plan" of bringing water from the Great Bear and Great Slave lakes of Northern Canada, southward to irrigate the above states. These millions of gallons per second are now flowing north and are wasted in the Arctic Ocean. Mr. John W. Powers, 401 Yorkshire Drive, Harwood, Alabama has a plan to turn this water southward into the United States. If properly accomplished at a reasonable cost, it could make these states "blossom like a rose." But whatever may be accomplished by more irrigation and whatever happens to the stock market, so long as the marriage rate continues upward, productive land should constantly increase in value.

President Sure To Veto House Bill

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Economy-minded forces in Congress received their most severe setback of the year last week when the House passed a Senate-approved housing bill that will cost $6 billion—about 90 percent of which will be subsidies which somebody is going to have to pay until the year 2000.

It was a Christmas-tree, bonanza bill with all the trimmings, aside from its good features which include extension of the FHA program.

Among other things, the measure authorizes 190,000 more high-cost public housing units, at a cost to the taxpayers of $3.7 billion. Under this program the government builds housing units and then rents them to tenants for a fraction of the real rental value. It was disclosed the other day that over in Boston 353 firemen and policemen, with families, each earning more than $5,000 per year, live in subsidized public housing projects there. The net average subsidy to each public housing unit throughout the country now amounts to $40 per month. That is what it costs taxpayers, each month, for every public housing unit that is built—and it goes on for 40 years.

A presidential veto is almost certain, in view of the President's repeated expression of interest in economy and a balanced budget. If a veto occurs, it will be sustained by the House.

Four young men from our district will enter the academies this summer. They include William Densford of Pipe Creek and Burton McCord of Brady, both of West Point; Larry Graham of Hunt, to Annapolis; and Ralph Rohatsch, Jr. of San Angelo, to the Air Force Academy.

TO FORT WORTH

Mrs. Andrew Poe, wife of a former Winters resident, was killed Friday in downtown Seattle, Wash.

She was dead on arrival at a Seattle hospital after her car hit a telephone pole. Her husband told Winters relatives he thought she either suffered a heart attack or "blacked out."

She was a native of Seattle. Her husband, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Poe, was born and reared at Winters. He moved to Seattle about 30 years ago and is now employed by Boeing Aircraft Co. as a nightwatchman.

Funeral was held at 11 a.m. Tuesday in Columbia Funerary Home in Seattle.

I confess that my shoes are last on when leaving home, and first off when arriving home.

Farm Bureau Begins Presidents' Drive For Blue Cross-Blue Shield Members

Marion Hays, President of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, has announced a Presidents' Drive for more Blue Cross Blue Shield members. All applications for the drive must be in the hands of the Dallas office of Blue Cross Blue Shield by June 13.

The Presidents' Drive is being carried out in the form of a statewide contest with prizes available for winning County Presidents and winning State Directors. In addition, the County Farm Bureau treasury will receive an extra bonus if the County meets its quota of one-third increase in their Blue Cross Blue Shield membership as of April 1, 1959, or a minimum of thirty applications, whichever is greater.

Details of the contest prizes and rules are available at the local County Farm Bureau office located on 9th street, in Ballinger, Texas.

The Texas Farm Bureau, working with Blue Cross and Blue Shield, has offered a program of prepaid hospital and medical-surgical care since June 1, 1944. This program was, and still is, based on a deep conviction that farm families have as great a need for prepaid health care as anyone. With the cooperation of Blue Cross Blue Shield of Texas, it has been possible for the Farm Bureau to obtain such a program on terms that are equal to, and in some instances, better than, similar plans being offered groups in industrial firms. The present program offers to its Farm Bureau members the finest prepaid health protection that has ever been made available to them.

In participating in this program the Farm Bureau is joining with over 56 million other people who have chosen Blue Cross as the most satisfactory prepaid hospital care available. Hospital costs have been steadily increasing, along with other living expenses, and more than most other services for reasons that are peculiar to the special job that the hospital does. The hospital is open 24 hours a day, every day, offering to its patients the most modern of equipment and all, or most, of the newest drugs and techniques that have become available.

Budgeting for prepaid health care has become the accepted method of spreading the risk of hospital costs, together with the major portion of the bill for doctors services. One hundred twenty million one hundred million Americans now have some kind of prepaid health care and in Texas, one million one hundred fifty seven thousand of these carry Blue Cross Blue Shield prepaid protection.

We Must Not Forget

As the nation grows older the list of those who gave their lives on many fields of battle grows longer. Their graves are now scattered throughout the entire world.

We can never repay them for their sacrifice, but we can remember their great service — and it is for this purpose that a special day has been set apart. Forever to preserve the principles for which they fought is the highest tribute we can pay to their memory.

If we observe Memorial Day with the reverence and reflection it deserves, we will be justly proud of our nation's past — and fully confident for the future.

 Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday "Tom Thumb"

AT THE STATE THEATRE
 Saturday Only "Raiders of Old California" and "Thundering Jets"
 Sunday and Monday "The Perfect Furlough"

"Raiders of Old California"

"Raiders of Old California," the Albert C. Gannaway production for Republic which starts Saturday only at the State Theatre, is the story of a U. S. Cavalry officer who stays in the field after the Mexican War is ended with the avowed purpose of seizing property rightfully deeded to others under old Spanish land grants. With ruthless violence, he uproots the tenants in a "run-or-be-killed" power play.

The story roars to a tremendous, action-packed climax when a U. S. marshal and a federal judge are brought into the territory to hold trial at the behest of the offended property holders. Suspense holds firm until the would-be land king meets his unusual demise.

With Jim Davis, Arleen Whelan, Faron Young, Marty Robbins, Lee Van Cleef and Louis Jean Heydt heading a fine cast, "Raiders of Old California" is rated as top screen entertainment.

"Thundering Jets"

"Thundering Jets," a film as typical and exciting as today's headlines, with an added peek at tomorrow in space, will have its local debut Saturday only at the State Theatre.

This story of the daring space raiders of the U. S. Air Force, produced by Jack Leewood for Regal Films and released by Twentieth Century-Fox, stars Rex Reason, Dick Foran, Audrey Dalton, Barry Coe, Buck Class, Robert Dix and the men of the United States Air Force.

Filed in Regalscope on location at Edwards Air Force Base, home of the Air Force Flight Test Center and the Air Research and Development Command, "Thundering Jets" takes an authentic behind the scenes look at the daring young men who are pushing back the space frontiers faster than the speed of sound in the race for air supremacy.

"The Perfect Furlough"

The latest evidence of Hollywood realism to benefit cast as well as audience is in evidence in the spicy Army comedy, "The Perfect Furlough," coming Sunday and Monday to the State theatre, with Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Linda Cristal, Kennan Wynn and Elaine Stritch providing the fun.

An Eskimo village, complete with igloos and the Hollywood version of deep snow, had been built on a sound stage for one of the sequences dealing with the plight of 104 snow-bound B.I.'s among them Tony Curtis. When Director Blake Edwards viewed the set he had one suggestion—that they drop the temperature on the stage to a shade above freezing, which was accomplished with huge cooling machines.

Next morning when the cast arrived for scenes at the Eskimo village Edwards had no trouble getting them to simulate that chilled-to-the-bone feeling.

"Tom Thumb"

"Tom Thumb," George Pal's film version in Eastman Color of the celebrated Brothers Grimm fairy tale, combines live action, animated cartoon characters, songs and dances in a diverting fantasy, with Russ Tamblyn playing the title role of the five and one half inch "Tom" whose tiny stature enables him to hide in a horse's ear.

Filed in England for MGM release under Pal's direction, the cast includes screen, radio and TV star Alan Young and such noted British artists as Terry Thomas, Peter Sellers, Jessie Matthews, June Thorburn and Bernard Miles. Among the colorful puppets are ConFuShon, Jack the Jumper, Gingerbread, Jim, Clownie, dancing Thumbella and the Yawning Man, who sings one of the song hits, with the voice of Stan Freberg.

Songs heard in the story of little "tom," who is adopted by a woodsman and his wife and who becomes the subject of incredible adventures, including "Tom Thumb's Tune," "Are You a Dream," "The Talented Shoes," "After All These Years" and "The Yawning Song."

Hints Given On Control Of Grain Sorghum Insects

In 1958 the major insect pests of grain sorghum were the sorghum webworm and the corn earworm. Both insects were difficult to control in varieties of grain sorghum having characteristically "tight heads," said Neal M. Randolph, associate professor of entomology at Texas A&M. These insects often occur together in damaging numbers in heads of grain sorghum. Sorghum planted late in the season generally is subjected to more insect damage than are earlier plantings.

The sorghum webworm does damage to grain sorghums especially during wet seasons and extensive losses have occurred throughout the eastern half of Texas, he said.

The corn earworm, also called the tomato fruitworm and the cotton bollworm, is one of the most destructive insects attacking grain sorghum. It is often referred to as the "headworm" when feeding in the grain sorghum head.

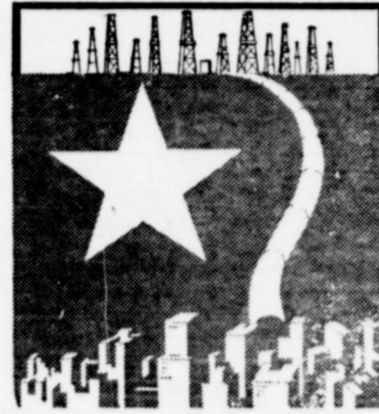

Randolph said that studies conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station showed that fair to good control of the sorghum webworm could be obtained from certain insecticides. The insecticides used were: parathion, methyl parathion, thiodan, Sevin, Phosdrin, toxaphene, and Hercules 5727. Some of the insecticides are restricted as to use and the instructions on the label of the insecticide should be followed closely, he noted.

Low infestations of the corn earworm persisted throughout both experiments and only fair control was obtained from the application of any of the insecticides used, the entomologist said.

I wish and pray I may always be the exception that proves the rule.

Chemicals Prove Worth In Control Of Cotton Insects

U. S. cotton growers would pay an annual toll to cotton insects amounting to almost 1 pound of seed-cotton for every 3 pounds they produce without modern insecticides to combat them, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says.

More than 20 years of research by entomologists of U.S.D.A.'s Agricultural Research Service, in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, show that although the percentage of production increase varies somewhat with the use of insecticides, more cotton has always been produced on treated plots.

Field trials at the ARS Cotton Insects Research Laboratory, Waco, Texas, show an average annual seed-cotton yield of 1,049 pounds per acre from treated plots. This is 309 pounds, or 42 percent, more cotton than the average annual total produced on untreated plots.

The experiments show that, since the advent of modern organic insecticides to control cotton pests, yield gains have averaged 53 percent. Before 1945, when growers depended upon inorganic insecticides such as arsenicals and sulphur, yield increases amounted to about 34 percent annually.

Highest production on treated plots and the greatest increase over untreated plots occurred in 1955 when treated plots produced 1,461 pounds of seed-cotton per acre as compared with only 778 pounds on untreated plots.

Since 1939, when the cotton Insects Laboratory was established at Waco, tests have been conducted to compare production on plots treated with new insecticides, with standard insecticides, and plots receiving no pest control treatment.

Only a few irrigated plots were involved in the study and those were analyzed during the last three years.

Health Letter

Texas is fortunate as far as stream and river pollution is concerned compared to many other states, but there is still room for much improvement of sewage treatment facilities.

To encourage cities to improve their sewage treatment facilities, Federal funds are available under Section 6 of Public Law 660 to construct outfall lines and sewage treatment works. The Texas State Department of Health is the administering agency in Texas.

Interested cities must submit their applications for Federal funds by May 1, 1959. Applicants are graded one against the other to determine priority for the federal fiscal year 1959-60. Those with applications already on file should request reactivation before the deadline date, including any additional information.

Five major points are considered when grading the cities. They are: financial need of the city; existing facilities; existing pollution problem; nuisance conditions; and the "readiness to go" of the applying city.

During the past three years about 100 cities have made application for the funds which are limited to 30 percent of the cost up to a $250,000 maximum. The amount available has totalled about 1.7 million dollars for each year.

However, the President's proposed budget has cut the total appropriation to $20 million. Texas' share would be $685,430. This represents a 60 percent reduction from the available money which has been allocated to Texas for each of the past three years.

The program is primarily designed to aid the abatement of pollution in streams, rivers and other bodies of water. Cities without adequate sewage treatment facilities should take steps to avoid discharging partially treated sewage into streams and rivers.

In 1958 there were 40 applicants for Federal fund aid. Sixteen of these cities were accepted. All of the others could have qualified, but that was the limit of Federal funds available.

The readiness to go will be high on the list of qualifications for the limited funds available in 1959-60. This includes available site, approved plans, and the financial ability to finish the program as planned.

Additional information may be had from the Division of Water Pollution Control, State Department of Health, Austin.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

Agricultural workers are keeping a close watch this year on grasshoppers — that ravenous insect that engulfed much of the Texas Panhandle in 1958.

A late fall survey of insect eggs shows that grasshoppers are likely to be more widespread in the Western states this year but not so heavily concentrated as during the scourge of last spring.

During the survey, grasshoppers were found on 22,666,922 rangeland acres in 15 western and midwestern states as compared with 18,686,492 in 1957. However, where the previous year's survey showed many areas of extremely heavy infestation, the most recent count revealed most of the acreage to carry only a light or moderate number of hatchable eggs.

Field workers check the hopper eggs in order to give advance warning to farmers and ranchers. Later spot samplings will be made as the year progresses. One encouraging note in Texas and Oklahoma is the fact that they have found considerable parasitism of grasshopper eggs by blister beetles and bee flies, which should reduce the egg hatch.

Colorado, Montana and California have the rangeland areas with heavy grasshopper populations, followed by Wyoming, Utah

Oklahoma and Texas. Some 3-460,000 acres in Texas have an egg count ranging from "light" to "very abundant".

The effects of the Texas Department of Agriculture's campaign against the hopper last spring showed up clearly in the survey. Few grasshoppers were found in many of the areas treated with insecticides. Over 1,000,000 (m) acres were treated in Texas during the campaign.

Grasshoppers are a very real threat to the farmers' and ranchers' pocketbook. The average annual loss to crops and forage in 17 states west of the Mississippi is estimated at $90 million.

Ag Economist Takes Look At Egg Situation

Egg producers are much concerned about the current low prices being paid for their product and future improvement.

Extension Economist John G. McHaney says that at least eight basic factors are involved in the present situation, both from the price standpoint and future improvement. He lists them as total production, number of layers in the nation, rate of lay, hatchery production, weather conditions, number of flock replacements bought, storage stocks and long range changes that develop in the production and marketing of eggs.

Egg production for the 1959 January-March period in the nation was six percent over the same 1958 period. In Texas, the increase was 14 percent. Egg prices in Texas for the first quarter of 1959 averaged about 11 percent below a year ago. April prices dropped 24 percent below those for the same month in 1958. The rate of lay in the nation is up four percent and number of layers three percent.

McHaney said that production of egg-type chicks in the nation for the first quarter of 1959 was only slightly higher than for the same period in 1958 but smaller hatches were in prospect for May. The large hatch during the last half of 1958 is largely responsible for the present egg supply and will help maintain the large number of layers in late 1959, he said.

The long-time outlook for eggs, believes McHaney, will most likely be influenced by the steady growth and widespread use of risk sharing plans by poultry producers. Many commercial firms guarantee the poultry producer profits amounting to 4 to 6 cents per dozen. The degree to which these vertical integrated practices spread — and they are spreading, says McHaney, will influence what happens in the next few years to the production and marketing practices presently used by the egg industry.

McHaney sees little chance in the near future for any improvement in egg prices. If hatchings and placements continue large, egg prices for the remainder of 1959 are likely to be below those for the same months in 1958.

Tuberculosis Code Law Signed By Governor Daniel

An updating of laws pertaining to a disease almost as old as mankind was accomplished recently in Texas by the signing of the Texas Tuberculosis Code by Governor Price Daniel.

The bill (House Bill 421) makes plain the enforcement of compulsory isolation upon those who have contagious tuberculosis and who refuse to isolate themselves and protect others. Such enforcement has been had in various parts of Texas for two years, but it was felt procedure for enforcement needed to be clearly spelled out. This act does that.

Also contained in the code is provision for penalty of fine or imprisonment of anyone — physician or otherwise, for failure to report a case known to them as contagious tuberculosis.

Also provided is that premises occupied by people with infectious tuberculosis shall be disinfected before the property is sold or rented to anyone else.

Draft of the act, sponsored in the House by Representatives Don Kennard and Don Gladden of Fort Worth, and Representative Robert H. Hughes of Dallas and Senator Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, was reviewed by various agencies concerned with TB control before its presentation in the House and Senate. Those agencies were the Texas Medical Association, the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools and the Public Welfare Department, the Vocational Rehabilitation Division and the Texas Tuberculosis Association, a voluntary agency. The latter, and the Texas Medical Association, cooperated to aid the Humble paints and protective coatings last six months to a year longer than most paints. This means longer intervals between paint jobs — saving you the cost of additional paint, and time spent in repainting.

Painting with Humble coatings is an economical way to protect your buildings and equipment against weathering and corrosion . . . and to add years to their useful life.

Humble produces a complete line of coatings to protect all types of surfaces — wood, metal and masonry. These coatings are available in a wide range of finish colors.

House Processing Money Bill At Fast Clip; Less Opposition To Tax Plan

By VERN SANFORD

There's a "get on with it" mood among House members during this special session.

House was the target of some criticism after the regular session for having made almost no progress in money-raising.

This session the House began processing money bills at a fast clip. Initial action indicated there was less opposition in the House to Gov. Price Daniel's tax program than during the regular session.

Many in the lower house seemed to be in a mood to get as much as possible over to the Senate and "let them worry with it a while." Then, if the finance problem still isn't solved at the end of this session, they hope people won't be saying that the House "sat on its hands again."

Senate attitude toward the various money-raising approaches is largely an unknown quantity. No money-raising bill ever came to a vote in the Senate—either in committee or on the floor during the regular session.

Debt-Paying Bills

Three bills recommended by Governor Daniel to wipe out the $65,000,000 state deficit received first legislative attention. These measures are:

1. "Bookkeeping bill" designed to lop $28,000,000 off the Aug. 31 deficit by crediting certain money to this year instead of next year.

2. One-year increase in the corporation franchise tax to bring in $17,000,000. Sponsor Rep. Joe Ed Winfree of Houston called it "a donation by Texas business" toward bailing out state government.

3. Abandoned property act, to transfer to the State Treasury funds unclaimed for seven years. Estimates vary as to how much it would bring in; sponsors say about $20,000,000 the first year, $2,500,000 a year thereafter. It was re-written after its defeat last session, but bankers still aren't happy.

First two of these bills received quick approval.

Governor's Permanent Program

To cover new money needs for the next two years, the governor is pushing a separate tax program, a "package bill" known as H. B. 7.

It would raise an estimated $161,000,000 in two years.

Affected by the bill would be (1) natural gas, with a reduction from 7 to 5 per cent in production tax and addition of 5 per cent "severance beneficiary" tax, (2) interstate corporations, with a new and complex taxation formula, (3) utility companies, with an increase in the gross receipts tax, (4) cigarettes, one cent per package more, (5) other tobacco products, except snuff, to be added to sales tax fold, (6) liquor, increase from $1.408 (correct) to $2.50 a gallon sales tax, (7) automobiles, with sales tax increase from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola is sponsoring the bill.

In the past weeks the governor has been making a vigorous round of conferences and talks, rounding up support for his program. He launched it before the Legislature with a speech pouring fire and brimstone on the heads of lobbyists. He accused the "third house" of causing expensive delays.

Other Tax Bills

As in the regular session, there is no lack of ideas for raising money.

Besides the governor's bills, these have been proposed:

(1) One per cent tax on all manufactured goods by Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla. To bring in an estimated $200,000,000 annually. Businesses grossing less than $25,000 annually would be exempt.

(2) 1.5 per cent general sales tax, by Rep. Frates S. Seeligson of San Antonio. Food, feed and fertilizer would be exempt.

(3) One per cent tax on retail sales, one per cent on personal income and three per cent on corporate income, by Rep. Louis Anderson of Midland.

(4) Five per cent tax on corporation net profits, by Rep. Dean Johnson of Houston.

(5) Five per cent tax on trading stamps, by Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs.

(6) Graduated oil tax, by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston.

Re-Run on Appropriations

Re-approving the appropriation bills passed during the regular session was no great stumbling block for either House or Senate.

As before, both houses passed bills calling for 1960-61 spending totaling about $2,400,000,000. House bill would require some $333,000,000 from the general revenue fund; the Senate bill, about $20,000,000 less.

Only change on either side was a House amendment to cut off aid to dependent children payments for illegitimate children after the first one in a family. By having more children, said Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, unwed mothers get more money from the state. House members agreed the payments encouraged illegitimacy.

Hard part on getting out an appropriation bill will be settling the House and Senate differences in conference committee. No conference group was appointed in the regular session. Some predicted there would be no effort to come to final agreement on spending this session until ways to pay for it had been agreed upon.

Too Much Oil

Texas oil allowable for June will be 282,738 barrels a day less than for May.

Texas Railroad Commission set the statewide flow at 2,904,414 barrels a day on a 10-day producing pattern.

It is the lowest allowable since last July. Both independent producers and major buyers asked the Commission for a sharp cut. They said there is a surplus of petroleum and the threat of a glut on the market.

Gone With the Wind

If you inherited some of grandfather's Confederate bonds, just look on them as keepsakes. Texas Supreme Court has held that the state cannot pay them off.

Holders of some state Civil War bonds issued in 1862 received legislative permission to sue the state for $46,000 payment on the bonds. Lower courts held the state was not liable because of a general statute of limitations against debts that old. Supreme Court upheld that ruling.
