

HOME TOWN Talk

Although the year started out without promise of rain, the moisture which has fallen within the past several days has increased prospects for a good cotton and milo crop.

Almost as much rain fell in the first four days of June as had fallen in the five months preceding. Since Monday morning, June 1, until Thursday morning, 5.8 inches have fallen in Winters, with varying amounts in the surrounding communities. During the first five months of the year, only 5.9 inches had been measured here. These are unofficial measurements.

January passed with no measurable amount of moisture, and February was not much wetter, with .20 water in the gauge. Only a trace during March, then in April, 2.4 inches of rain fell. During May, Winters received 3.3 inches of moisture. In total, 11.70 inches of rain have been received in Winters.

This rain, coming when it did, will force many farmers to replant cotton, although there is much cotton and milo up and growing. One source said there are prospects of one of the best milo crops in a long time.

Members of the Winters Volunteer Fire Department again are asking that automobile drivers give right-of-way to fire equipment making a run to a fire, and to firemen who drive their own personal cars to the scene of fires.

Just been reading an article in the daily paper about a little ruffian down at the state capitol wherein some representatives and senators are taking to task another group of the same for accepting rides in airplanes belonging to gas companies. Seems the group on the one side thinks the group on the other side might be influenced in their voting by accepting airplane rides, etc.

We've got a farmer friend who scratches for a living out on a dry land place on Bluff Creek who says he'd like to get in on that "influencing." Says he couldn't put himself down as representing anybody, or lobbying for anybody, because he's just a little ole taxpayer, the likes of which nobody seems to pay any attention to. Says if some of those lawmakers can be influenced by a ride, he'll offer them a ride. Of course he hasn't got an airplane, but they can ride with him on a five-year-old tractor, that's not paid for, powered with fuel that he owes for, plowing cotton that'll probably get hailed out, or if it makes, that he'll have trouble getting enough out of to pay for the seed and the gas it takes to make the crop. Says if they really can be influenced by a ride, he'll let them take the old tractor around by themselves, and while they're bumping along maybe they can figure out a way he can get the extra money to pay for the additional taxes they're going to slap on him during this special session.

On second thought, though, he says maybe they'd better forget it—he'd probably get into trouble for failure to register as a lobbyist.

C. T. Parker, Runnels County Agent, is a one-man agriculture booster club, and could be called a one-man chamber of commerce. He spoke to the Winters Lions Club Tuesday noon, and pointed out that Winters' success and future is hinged on the manner in which Winters copes with a declining farm population. He called to their attention that the day of the small farm is past, and that as farm and ranch activities become larger and larger, Winters must work to take up the slack by promoting some other form of industrial support. He called attention to the fact that many towns, which have built around a strict oil economy or some other single industry, have literally become ghost towns or non-existent. He called on the Lions to give as much help as possible to farming activities, to help promote more diversified farming practices.

If more people would drive right, more people would be left.

FROM ABILENE
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Donahoo of Abilene were visitors the first of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bedford.

ADDED ATTRACTION — Above are pictured some of the dogs and ponies of the act imported from Gainesville as an added attraction for Winters Thirteenth Annual Rodeo, June 25, 26, 27. The act is produced by Portis and Mary Sims and has been shown in Shrine Circuses all over the country. They'll show three night at rodeo time.

Rodeo Plans Are Being Completed

An extra attraction to be presented during the Thirteenth Annual Winters Rodeo June 25, 26 and 27, will be a dog and pony act, imported from Gainesville. This act is sponsored by the Winters State Bank.

The act consists of several trained dogs and ponies, and is known as "Those Famous Jockey Dogs," presented by Portis and Mary Sims of Gainesville. They have been shown at many Shrine Circuses all over the United States.

Another special event at the annual rodeo will be a calf scramble, to be held each night of the rodeo. This event has proved to be popular in past rodeos, and several boys will be given the opportunity to match their wits and skill against that of half-wild calves turned loose in the arena. Boys catching calves will be awarded special prizes.

For the first time this year, the program of events will include steer wrestling. Other nightly events will include bareback bronc riding, jackpot calf roping, wild cow milking, girls' cloverleaf race and bull riding.

Lloyd Woodley of Lampasas will furnish the stock and produce the rodeo. Rex Felker, who worked the rodeo here last year, will be the announcer.

Two parades have been scheduled, the first to be held Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and another Saturday afternoon. Riding clubs from nearby towns will take part in the parade. Floats competing for prizes in the parade will be required to parade on both parade days.

Presbyterians Plan Worship Services June 7 and June 21

Morning worship services will be held Sunday, June 7, and June 21, at 11 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church, according to an announcement made this week. Laymen from the Brownwood Presbytery will deliver the sermons.

Leslie E. Ellison, who recently graduated from McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, will assume his duties as pastor of the local church July 5.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services and members are urged to be present.

Valley Creek Water Control Dist. Formed By Legislature

A culmination of many months of work on the part of landowners, county agriculture agents and soil conservation personnel, the Valley Creek Water Control District this week became an official reality. Governor Price Daniel Monday signed the bill, officially designated House Bill 944, creating the water control district in portions of Nolan, Runnels, and Taylor counties.

The new water control district is the result of efforts begun several months ago to work toward conservation of land and water in the Valley Creek watershed area. A complicated situation existed in the creation of the district because the area was situated

White Safe In Honolulu

Hudson White, 31-year-old Winters farmer, who had been missing from his home for seven weeks, talked with his wife on the telephone Wednesday, from Honolulu, Hawaii.

Apparently a victim of amnesia, White disappeared April 14, without trace. As he explained it to the police in Honolulu, he was sitting on a seawall along the waterfront of that island city when he 'came to,' and immediately notified authorities. He said he had no recollection of how he came to be in Hawaii. He sent a radiogram to Sheriff Don Atkins asking him to notify his wife he's safe.

On April 14, White left his home, supposedly to go to the bank and borrow $900 to pay his taxes. The next thing he remembers, according to the Honolulu police, he was in Hawaii. On the day of his disappearance, he drove to Abilene, sold a pickup for $475, and vanished.

The FBI and State Department of Public Safety have circulated bulletins with his picture, but no reports had been received on him.

White is under medical treatment in Honolulu Veterans Hospital. When he comes home will depend on his condition, the Hawaii police said. He has talked with his wife on the phone and Mrs. White feels he will be able to come home in a few days. She was to have talked to him again Thursday.

Mrs. White has said she "never did give up hope." The farm where they live has been kept going. She got a man to plant 200 acres of cotton and 100 acres of maize. She sold the cattle, not being able to care for them.

Mrs. White said she believes there is "a connection" between this attack of amnesia and an old back injury. He had received treatment for a slipped disc in his back, one that pinches a nerve, she said.

Jim Wilburn Will Preach In Wisconsin

Jim Wilburn left Winters this week for a three week preaching tour through Wisconsin, before returning to Winters about June 25. He will speak each night for a week in both Appleton and Janesville, Wis.

Jim Wilburn

The church in Appleton is a mission point supported by the Church of Christ in Winters, and the area where Mr. Wilburn worked for five years previous to returning to Winters a year ago. While in Appleton, he saw the church there build the first new church building erected in that state by Churches of Christ in the twentieth century.

In Janesville, he will also be returning to the scene of previous work as he helped start the church there in 1954. Since that time the Janesville group has grown to a point where a second congregation was started in nearby Beloit, Wisconsin, and they are in a new building.

In the absence of Mr. Wilburn, the elders of the Winters church have announced that Lynn Huff, Jimmy Roberts, and David Coffman will be the speakers on consecutive Sundays. Each will speak at both morning services, as well as the regular evening worship service.

Mr. Wilburn's family will accompany him to Wisconsin.

School Board Hires Agriculture Teacher Recently

Mrs. Wilkin has about 15 records now bringing in revenue and one of her compositions, "Take This Heart" sung by Mitchell Torak, a Frenchman, is now on sale in England and France.

The record "Waterloo" has gained popularity in the East and is fast becoming popular all over the nation, especially from Main to Florida.

Area Receives 5 Inches Rain Since First of June

Crop Tests Being Made in Runnels, Says C. T. Parker

Many test crops of maize, cotton and sesame have been planted in Runnels County to determine the strains best suited to this section of the state, C. T. Parker, Runnels County Agent told members of the Winters Lions Club Tuesday.

Also, Parker told his audience, there are test crops of sunflowers in the county.

Because the many varieties of these crops being tested at state experimental stations in other sections of the state are not suitable for this exclusive area, Parker said, the county agent's office is making a series of tests for Runnels County.

Also, the county agent said, there may be a good future in the production of sunflowers in this area. He said that the tests are being made all over the county.

He told the Lions Club members that regardless of the result of other economic developments in this area, Winters still is primarily dependent upon agriculture. He pointed out that close cooperation between the businessmen of Winters and the farmers and ranchers in the area is necessary if Winters is to continue to grow and prosper. He stressed the fact that "as agriculture goes, so goes Winters."

ROGER BABSON SAYS—

"Small Investors Should Follow The 'Ten Commandments' of Investing"

Babson Park, Mass.— A small investor should first buy a little stock in the best bank in his community. Not only is this a safe investment; but it gives him prestige and a source of advice on financial matters. After buying the stock, he should get personally acquainted with the chief executive officer, who may be the President, Vice President, or Cashier.

(1) Life Insurance and a Home
Theoretically, if we are entering into an age of inflation and you are likely to live twenty years or so, life insurance should not be a good investment. You had better put the money into a small home with an adjoining vacant lot. However, you may not live twenty years, or even five years, in which case a life insurance policy would be your very best investment.

(2) Buy Well-Diversified Common Stocks
These should be listed on the New York Stock Exchange and approved by your banker friend or by a seasoned investment counselor. They should be common stocks of companies without large bond issues or cumulative preferred issues.

(3) Watch Labor Relations
The greatest clouds on the investment horizon today are creeping Socialism in Government and unreasonable Labor Leaders. Perhaps the safest rule is to buy the stocks of companies which have just been through long and difficult strikes, with a final settlement satisfactory to all. These companies should be free from major strikes for a considerable time.

(4) Buy For Cash
Put the certificates in a safe deposit box in the bank of which you have bought stock. If you have all your stock certificates paid for, and will hold them, you cannot be wiped out when the panic and depression comes; good stocks always "come back." But those who buy on borrowed money or on margin usually suffer total loss.

FINGER ON THE SITUATION—President Eisenhower, who says that we'll "not retreat one inch from our duty," and that we'll exercise our right of peaceful passage to and from West Berlin, points to that beleaguered city as shown on a map in the White House office. The President has stated further that, should developments justify a summit meeting this summer, "the United States would be ready to participate in that further effort."

(5) Importance of Patience
For every stock buyer there must be a seller, irrespective of the price. Stocks go up when more people are impatient to buy, while stocks go down when more people are impatient to sell. Buy your stocks when other people are frightened and anxious to sell. Fortunes are made by bucking—not by following—the crowd, which is usually wrong.

(6) Importance of Facts
Depend upon what the publisher of manuals report, rather than upon tips by brokers or friends. You can always consult the manuals on file in the Trust Department of your friendly bank, free of charge. The Trust Officer will gladly help you interpret these printed reports.

(7) Investing for Income and Growth
The small investor should buy for Income and Growth rather than for speculation. I believe that the stocks of Public Utilities offer the best such opportunities. Later on, you can learn to buy for profit.

(8) Consider Companies Owning Land and Natural Resources
The Government can print unlimited amounts of bonds and money; corporations can print more stock certificates and build more plants; but only God can make more land, oil, gas, and minerals.

(9) Importance of Character
The value of stocks depends very largely upon the managements. This is something you must talk over with your banker. The manuals, card files, and other publications of the Trust Officer do not disclose the character of the managements. Managements are apt to be the best in companies producing useful products rather than in the liquor business, for instance, or even in companies dependent upon fashion and other intangibles.

(10) Importance of Correct Timing
Stock prices have always moved in cycles of several years' duration. Each cycle consists of four periods:—Prosperity, Decline, Depression, and Improvement. Your banker will tell you it is unwise to buy for profit in a period of prosperity, as at present, or even in a decline. Wait for a depression when your friends are all bearish and the future looks dark. Such a time will come again, to be followed by improvement and a period of great prosperity.

VISITED SONS
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapman visited last week in the homes of their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman and Howard Hall of Lamesa and Mr. and Mrs. Carter Chapman and Jan of Pecos. In Lamesa, the Chapmans attended Howard Hall's graduation and in Pecos they attended Jan's graduation from kindergarten.

Dissatisfaction breeds progress.

By VERN SANFORD

This is the time of the year for kings! These fighting game fish of the Gulf of Mexico now are running in great numbers. You can fish them with anything you have. If you want a lot of fun with a fish that will knock your lure 20 feet into the air and follow it, then try for kings.

You can catch them on a lead-head jig, fishing with a bass casting rod. Or you can troll behind a big boat with mullet, shrimp or most any kind of hardware.

Some fishermen use Japanese feathered jigs. Others like the Hooties, which are native to the area around Port Aransas.

Every man should make one good king trip a year. These scrapers forage from one end of the Texas coast to the other. So you can pretty much take your choice as to where you want to fish.

The king is a fighting fish that is pretty good eating, too. They come in varied sizes. Most will average out around five pounds. Believe me, that's five pounds of dynamite, with a quick fuse. The king is a fast reactor, and it doesn't stop until you hit it across the back of the head with a club the size of a baseball bat.

It's not the fish for a man with a weak heart. Especially so if you use light tackle. In fact, if manufacturers of light monofilament line could pass a law that everyone had to fish with a light line, they'd be running their factories day and night trying to supply the needs of king fishermen who lost line to these critters.

I don't care how much experience you've had, the king will pull something new on you. For instance, last summer some members of the Texas Game Fishing Club were fishing off Port Aransas. It was their annual tournament in which they caught kings barreled them, and sent them to the Buckner Orphans Home in Dallas.

Tommy Reichman (wife of music man Joe) was fishing with a partner. They were running a neck and neck race for points. Suddenly Mrs. Reichman landed a big king. The boatman lifted it over the side of the boat and quickly bashed it across the head with the Pacifier (also known as the Priest).

Then he tossed the king overboard and put the stick in the ice box. She lost the point . . . and the fish.

He was an experienced boatman, but he just got so excited he became thoroughly confused.

While fishing from these boats other fish, but those who like kings think they are best cooked over open coals.

So if you want to have a real trip this year, try one for kings on the Texas coast.

The Gulf is getting much more business today. Many people pull their own boat rigs to the coast now. Texas is very fortunate in having a great deal of excellent bay water where a 16-foot boat is very useful in getting into top fishing water.

Several passes have been cut through to permit a circulation of bay and gulf waters. These passes are helpful to fishermen. Perhaps the most important one right now is the Rollover Pass near the town of Gilchrist on High Island east of Galveston.

Then there is Cedar Bayou not too far from the town of Rockport.

Farther south there is another pass proposed through Padre Island, about 12 miles south of Corpus Christi.

Still farther on down there is a cut, straight out into the Gulf from Port Mansfield. This was originally opened as a boat channel. However, it soon sanded up so that big boats could not go through. But it permits circulation of water, and that has been most helpful.

Artificial reefs along the Texas coast also have been beneficial to coastal fishermen. In three spots these reefs provide excellent fishing.

They are located near Freeport, Port Aransas and Port Isabel. Each has been built by dumping 600 old car bodies into the water at about 60 feet deep. They have been laced together with oil field cable and weighted down to prevent their being rolled away by tide or wave action.

It was first proposed to build these reefs for snapper. However, it has developed that other fish like kings, Spanish mackerel, ling and sheepshead like them too.

There is little harmony in the home where parents are continually harping.

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."

"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church."

"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."

The subject for next Sunday's Sunday School lesson is "Denounce Greed." Illustration: "On the northern coast of Devonshire, England, stands the strange little chapel of St. Nicholas that is half church and half a lighthouse. When the building was constructed, long ago, workmen put a lighthouse at one end instead of the usual steeple. The light is still in active use today, guiding ships and protecting travelers from the perils of the sea. Through the generations people attended church in this chapel every Sunday and on special religious holidays. But the light did not confine its shining to special times. It was aglow every night of the year, 365 days a year, in good weather and in bad. This little chapel is an excellent illustration of what a church ought to be, serving men as a place of worship and also as a guide and protector, also defend the truth and the right and denounce greed and oppression of every type."

So when the time comes to sign on the dotted line, be sure to do your financing at The Winters State Bank. Then, as you enjoy your 1959 car, you will also enjoy the feeling of satisfaction that comes when you know you have saved money and the financing is kept at home and the insurance is with a local agency.

New Picnic Cooler

Weber Tackle Co., of Stevens Point, Wis., has just developed a cooler moulded entirely of Dylite plastic. It's likely to become a sensation because it weighs only 31 ounces. Despite its light weight, the "Go-Kooler" is large enough to carry 12 bottles of cold drinks, or eight quart cartons of milk, plus sandwiches. Since it is extremely buoyant, it would double as a life preserver in an emergency.

Wardens Begin Enforcement of New Shrimp Law

Enforcement of the new Texas shrimp law (HB12) just passed by the Legislature will begin immediately. It has been announced by H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. The bill was explained at a meeting of all Texas coastal game wardens earlier this week.

Basically, sports fishermen are not affected. Under the bill, however, during closed season on coastal waters shrimp taken for bait fishing cannot be used for the table.

Under the new law four distinct classifications are set up for enforcement:

A commercial bay-bait fisherman must pay a license fee of $30 a year, and this license can only be bought in January and February of each year. Commercial licenses now in effect will continue in effect until March 1, 1960, but no other licenses can be bought between now and that date. This provision affects boats used for catching shrimp for pay or sale in the "inside" or bay waters only.

A shrimp house operator is required to have a $5 license, which permits him to unload and handle shrimp from a commercial Gulf shrimp boat. Current licenses expire Aug. 31, when new licenses must be bought.

A bait shrimp dealer also must have a $50 license for the purpose of handling shrimp or other fish bait, either fresh or frozen, for retail or wholesale purposes.

The sports fisherman must have a $3 license for operating a sports bait-shrimp trawl, net or rig for catching shrimp for his personal use. This license also expires Aug. 31.

For both inside and outside waters the legal shrimp, except bait shrimp, is not more than 65 headless and 39 heads-on for white shrimp and 50 headless and 30 heads-on for brown or pink shrimp per pound. Shrimp of any size may be used for bait.

For inland waters the open season for taking shrimp is from Aug-

15 to Dec. 15, both dates inclusive. This means the season for commercial shrimping on inside waters is closed until Aug. 15.

Trawl size for the inside waters is limited to 65 feet from board to board, with not less than 2-inches stretch mesh. Only one trawl per boat is permitted. Commercial shrimping also is closed from sunset to sunrise, which means no night commercial shrimping.

The new law also bans the heading of shrimp aboard a boat in inside waters and stops the taking of shrimp from natural or man-made passes.

A bay-bait shrimp boat operator may take shrimp from all coastal waters at any time and any size, but he must not take more than 250 pounds of heads-on shrimp per boat per day. He can use only one trawl and it must not be more than 25 feet from board to board, with not less than one and one-half inch stretched mesh.

It is unlawful to process for human consumption any shrimp taken for bait.

Shrimping in outside waters refers to that part of the Gulf of Mexico extending from the shoreline seaward within the jurisdiction of the State, approximately ten and one-half miles. The season in these outside waters will be closed from June 1 to July 15.

Under the new law shrimp may be taken for personal use by means of a dip net, bait trap or minnow seine no larger than 20 feet in length and manually operated, or with a sports-bait trawl with not less than one and one-half inch stretch mesh. It must not be larger than 12 feet from board to board and the boards must not be larger than 12 x 18 inches.

During the closed season, however, shrimp must not be taken for any purpose except to use as bait.

During the closed season no person catching shrimp for his personal use may have either fresh heads-on or frozen headless shrimp to be used for bait purposes in excess of two quarts. It also is unlawful to sell shrimp taken for personal use.

Stiff penalties are provided for violations, with cases to be filed in county court. Fines range from $200 on the first offense to $1000 up on subsequent offenses. The convictions also carry jail sentences, suspension and revocation of licenses. The maximum fine is $2000 with six months in jail and permanent loss of licenses.

"Under this law we must begin immediate enforcement," Dodgen said. "At first there will be many questions arising. Every warden has been briefed on the law, however. It is his job to enforce the law, but at the same time he will give every cooperation possible in seeing that it is carried out with as little hardship as possible."

Some orators don't seem to understand the difference between eloquence and endurance.

"Cole Younger, Gunfighter"

"Cole Younger, Gunfighter," Allied Artists' action drama of a desperado and a desperate youth on a trail of violence and revenge, opens Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In theatre with Frank Lovejoy, James Best and Abby Dalton starred.

The story is laid in Texas in 1873 when the infamous "Bluebellies," private police force of Governor E. J. Davis, ruled the state with terror and violence.

Best, considered one of the screen's most promising young actors, wages private warfare against the "Bluebellies" after his father has been killed by two of the hired killers.

He joins forces with Younger, a notorious gunfighter of the day who realizes that the youngster is marked for certain death because he is completely inexperienced as a gunman. Younger takes Best under his wing, trains him in the art of staying alive on the lawless frontier and the pair then is ready to wreak vengeance on the "Blue-belly" killers.

"Murder by Contract"

The deadly compact between a relentless murder ring and a hired killer with strange hates and very strange fears provides the suspenseful substance of "Murder by Contract," a Columbia Pictures' release. The new thriller, starring Vince Edwards and co-starring Philip Pine and Herschel Bernardi, opens Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

Edwards plays a young man with a bright future in a growing industry... murder. Pine and Bernardi are cast as two accomplices entrusted by the murderer to help Edwards carry out one of his deadly assignments.

Their intended victim is a beautiful young woman being held in protective custody by the police; she is to be a governmental witness. Edwards goes about planning her execution methodically as a bookkeeper totaling up a column of figures but his several murder attempts fail, and Mr. Big of the murder orders Edwards' disposal.

"Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys!"

Hollywood comedy king, Leo McCarey, declares a national holiday starting Sunday and Monday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre when his CinemaScope adaptation of Max Shulman's riotous novel, "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys!" will be un-reeled for the first time. For more than a year a steady occupant of the nation's best seller lists, this rib-tickling story has been written for the screen by Claude Binyon and Producer-Director McCarey, with leading roles played by stars Paul Brothers in conflict are portrayed by Earl Holliman and Richard Widmark in Paramount's Technicolor and VistaVision melodrama, "The Trap," due Tuesday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. Film co-stars them with Lee J. Cobb and Tina Louise, and features Carl Benton Reid.

Newman, Academy Award winner Joanne Woodward, Joan Collins and Jack Carson.

Set in an average-sized American town, the Twentieth Century-Fox production traces the hilarious adventures of a public relations man (Newman), whose busybody wife (Miss Woodward) leads a resentful town's crusade against the Army, which plans to use the community as its site for a top secret project. In the course of the story, mounted in lush De Luxe Color settings, the well-meaning husband almost loses his wife, because of another woman's (Miss Collins) flirtatious intentions toward him, and he alienates the entire U. S. Army, particularly the blundering captain (Carson) in charge of the project.

"Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys!" promises to send the laugh barometer rising to unprecedented heights and should be one film everyone will want to "Rally 'Round."

"The Trap," Paramount's suspense and action-packed story of today's West, is set to be sprung Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. Produced by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank, the Technicolor and VistaVision production stars Richard Widmark, Lee J. Cobb, Tina Louise and Earl Holliman, with Holliman, with Carl Benton Reid and Chuck Wassil.

Widmark portrays a gangland lawyer whose home town in the southwest is used as the escape hatch for the head of a crime syndicate (Lee J. Cobb) bent on fleeing the country into Mexico. Widmark's life depends on his making the necessary arrangements to accomplish Cobb's purpose. Standing in the way of his doing so are members of his own family, officers of the law.

Users Must Pay for Water Taken From Diablo Dam

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Another phase in the long procedure necessary to be followed in the advancement of the Diablo dam project on the Rio Grande was realized the other day when the Bureau of the Budget reported its views on Col. L. H. Hewitt's report which he made last fall to the State Department.

In commenting on the Commissioner's report, however, the Bureau complicated the picture a bit by requiring reimbursement to the government by irrigators and other water users for water used from the conservation portion of the project. It had been hoped that the cost of the conservation portion of the dam could be taken care of from revenue derived from the sale of power potential and sale to municipalities.

"The Bureau of the Budget considers," the comments stated, "that operation of Diablo Dam and Reservoir for irrigation and water supply purposes in the U. S. should be prohibited unless local interests agree to appropriate repayment of costs allocated for these purposes."

"For exceptional supervisory and administrative leadership of the Soil Conservation Program in a difficult area of the Rio Grande Plains of Texas," an achievement award was presented last week to Mr. Meril G. Carter, area conservationist of Uvalde, in a ceremony attended by 2,000 guests, in Washington. Carter was one of 174 agriculture employees who were honored.

Our population is growing by one person every 11 seconds, by 30 every hour, by 8,000 every day, by one fourth million every month. We now number 175 million. By 1980, just 21 years away, there will be 275 million, and by the year 2,000, only 41 years hence, the number will probably be about 350 million—twice the present figure!

A dial telephone system was inaugurated in Mason the other day, and I was honored to be the first person called long distance. The call came from my friend, Mayor Ray Hudson.

CHEVY BESTS

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevrolet's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES... In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NAS-CAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN... Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE... Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling..." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY... No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM... Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST

ENGINE... Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE... You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

State Capitol Highlights:

State's Tax Problems Have Been Handed To Senate By House

By VERN SANFORD

Whether and how the state's tax problem is met now depends largely on the Senate.

House members, apparently eager to "get the monkey off their backs," passed out most of the program recommended by Gov. Price Daniel.

Biggest milestone was House passage by a 71-to-56 majority of the governor's "package bill." As finally passed, it would raise about $150,000,000 in two years — only about $10,000,000 short of the governor's goal.

Included in the "package" would be an increased levy on natural gas, a new franchise tax on interstate corporations and bigger taxes on tobacco, liquor, automobiles, utilities, etc.

Some members bitterly criticized the bill as danger to Texas' industrial future and a product of the labor-liberal lobby. But most seemed to agree that it is "the only way to avoid a general sales tax or income tax."

Senators showed no apparent desire to set a speed record on the first money-raising bills sent them by the House. Bookkeeping bill, designed to erase part of the $65,000,000 deficit by changing the accounting procedure, was sent off for an Attorney General's opinion on its constitutionality.

A bill to increase the corporation franchise tax for one year only—also to ease the deficit—was set aside. Better to wait for the whole program, the Senators decided, than to work at it "piecemeal."

Senate did take one step forward, however, when Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro introduced the abandoned property bill which had bogged down in the House taxation committee.

Stitch-and-Cut Team
Ten lawmakers—five from the House, five from the Senate—have the difficult task of making one package out of the different spending bills passed by the two houses.

Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria and Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah head the group. House-passed appropriation bills more than $20,000,000 larger than the Senate's. Conference Committee's task will be to cut a little off here, tack a little on there until an acceptable

In past sessions, this piecing-together process has taken several weeks. Even on a day-and-night schedule, this committee will be hard-pressed to finish its job before the present session ends in mid-June.

More than different spending ideas separates House and Senate. Each house used the bill to express its ideas on how the State Board of Insurance should operate. House says full-time; Senate, part-time. Unyielding views have been expressed on each side.

Other members of the committee are Sens. Floyd Bradshaw, Weatherford; Ray Roberts, McKinney; Crawford Martin, Hillsboro; and Wardlow Lane, Center. Reps. John Huebner, Bay City; Truett Latimer, Abilene; B. Dewey, Bryan; and Jesse Osborn, Muleshoe.

Election Changes Urged
Study leading toward a complete revision of the Texas Election Code is the goal of a House-passed resolution.

Rep. Harold Parish of Taft is sponsor.

If passed by the Senate, the resolution would provide for a 15-member committee to draft recommendations for the 1961 legislative session.

Making up the study panel would be three House members, three Senators, the Attorney General, the manager of the Texas Election Bureau, three persons named by the governor and four persons named by the national committee members of the Republican and Democratic parties.

All One Job
Two House committees — taxation and appropriations—would be merged under a resolution proposed by Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene.

One committee of 31, called the House Ways and Means Committee, would replace the two 21 member groups.

Latimer declared that since money raised and money spent have to come out even, it would be more logical to have the decisions made jointly rather than separately.

Farm-Market Road Change
State's pressing money shortage may bring about a change in the favored budget position farm-market roads have had for the past 10 years.

Since the Colson-Briscoe Act was passed in 1949, the General Revenue Fund has been automatically nicked $15,000,000 a year for F-M roads. Goal was to build 35,000 miles of all-weather rural roads.

Rep. Richard Slack of Pecos has introduced a bill to take F-M road spending out of the State Highway funds rather than from general revenue. It would not cut farm road spending, but would reduce the money available to the Highway Department for state highways.

Sen. Neville Colson, Navasota, co-author of the 1949 act, opposes any alteration in the program. Even though more than 29,000 miles have been paved, she said there are still school bus and mail routes that are not "out of the mud."

Farm Bureau opposes, as well as others who say that it will lead to an increase in gasoline taxes to make up the cut in highway funds.

Those favoring the change argue that the farm road program has had creamy spending for a long time, but that with general revenue going $65,000,000 in debt, it can no longer be afforded.

Not Yet, DOT Decides
Democrats of Texas threw a lot of brickbats at U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson at their Austin convention, but stopped short of an open drive against his nomination for President.

State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman headed off resolutions, saying "this is not the time."

DOT did agree to change its name to the Democrats of Texas Clubs (DOTC). It had been frequently criticized for having a name that could be confused with the official Texas Democrat Party organization.

Despite their official "wait and see" attitude about presidential nominees, the delegates made their sentiments clear. They cheered when Adlai Stevenson's name was mentioned and applauded criticism of recent legislation designed to help U. S. Senator Johnson.

EYES and VISION

By A. L. SPERRY, O. D.
Director Public Education
Texas Optometric Association

Several months ago we wrote a column about the blindspot present in every normal eye. Blindspots always seem such a fascinating subject to the average person that much discussion is created . . . how an eye can have a blindspot all a person's life and that person never be aware of its existence. At the time we pointed out that having never had vision in this particular area of the eye, where the optic nerve enters the eye from the brain, we are not aware of any loss. It is only in some form of testing his eye that the patient may realize that the doctor has "discovered" a blindspot. It is essential that the doctor quickly explain what the blind area is and relieve the patient's anxiety about it.

However, not all blind spots are normal. There are many ways that a previously normal eye can develop an abnormal blindspot, or in fact, several of them. Unfortunately these blind areas are usually hard for the individual himself to detect.

There are two general types of blind areas: 1. those which involve the eye itself and 2. those which involve a part of the brain or the optic nerve behind the eye and cause a blind area in the eye because that part of the eye is not being received in the brain due to the lines being down somewhere after leaving the eye.

But we should go back a little in order to explain to those of you who are not students of physiology the way in which the eye works. Actually the brain does the seeing. Light coming into the eye is focused on tiny nerve endings at the back of the eye. These nerve endings are like the telephones at the end of an area telephone service cable. They form the retina and cover the entire inside of the back of the eye except where they all join together to form the "cable" of nerves, called the optic nerve, which leads out of the eye and back to the brain (switchboard).

Let's imagine that a group of houses in the area serviced by the telephone switchboard burned. Naturally, the switchboard would receive no calls from these houses—the telephones were all destroyed and there would be a "dead" area on the switchboard although the switchboard itself was in operating order and not affected by the fire. This is what happens to the retina when disease or poison kills an area of the nerve cells of the retina. These areas can usually be seen by examining the interior of the eye as should be routinely done on every eye examination. These areas of dead retina are now "blind spots" and can be measured for size and extent by several methods.

Similarly, damage to the telephone cable (optic nerve) which cuts some of the wires will cut off communication between those telephones, (the eye) and switchboard

(the brain). It is easy to now follow that damage to part of the switchboard, the brain; it will also cut off reception from the telephones the damaged area serviced.

Big Bird Crop Now Indicated

Right now conditions are favorable for a top bird season for this fall, according to the assistant secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. Quail already have paired off and doves are nesting.

At its last meeting the Game Commission also made native quail brook stock available to game breeders. A resolution was passed authorizing the sale of native brood quail at $3 per pair to licensed breeders, on condition that they be used to raise quail for release only. Such broodstock will not be available until next fall.

Birds for stocking farms and ranches also are available to landowners at 50 cents each. Landowners desiring birds for stocking purposes should contact their local warden for further instructions.

"Leto" Relieves "Gum" Discomfort

Just write down one number—Nothing to buy!

An LP-Gas water heater will deliver much more hot water than an electric. How many gallons more in 30 days—that is the contest question.

SEND IN YOUR ESTIMATE YOU MAY WIN!

Wonder why we have a contest like this? To prove what some folks don't know—that Gulfthane beats electricity in providing plenty of hot water 24 hours a day at low, low cost. It's a dramatic way of saying that if you aren't using Gulfthane for water heating, you're probably getting too little and paying too much!

What IS Gulfthane? It's a high quality LP-Gas, also known as bottled gas, propane or butane. It is gas compressed into concentrated liquid form, so that we can deliver Gulfthane to you easily and economically. Here's what it will give you:

- HOME HEATING—clean, automatic heating with Gulfthane for only pennies a day.
- COOKING—the modern way, with fast, clean, automatically controlled Gulfthane flame.
- TRACTOR FUEL—clean-burning Gulfthane cuts maintenance costs up to 50% . . . costs less too.

MANY, MANY OTHER FARM AND HOME USES!

- Here are the easy rules
- Phone, write or visit your Gulfthane distributor and ask him for your entry blank—or use the coupon below.
  - Fill in your estimate of how many more gallons of 160° water the LP-Gas heater will deliver over the 30-day period. Don't forget to add your name and address and that of your Gulfthane distributor. Type, or print in ink. Incomplete or illegible entries will not be considered. Mail to Water Heating Contest at the address below. Entries must be postmarked no later than June 12, 1959.
  - The Contest is subject to all Federal, state and local laws and is open to any adult resident of the continental United States except those employed by, or who are members of the families of employees of Warren Petroleum Corporation, its branded distributors, or its advertising agencies. More than one entry from an individual or a family will not be considered.
  - For each local contest area, the estimate determined by the judges to be closest to the actual, official test result and bearing the earliest postmark wins the prize. Judges' decisions are final.
  - The prize is a certificate worth $50.00 in groceries at a food market selected by the local Gulfthane distributor.
  - Your Gulfthane distributor will display the official test result June 27, 1959 at the address below. Keep a record of your estimate—compare it with the official result. Winners will be notified by July 15, 1959 and will receive their certificate shortly thereafter from their local Gulfthane distributor.

FACTS TO HELP YOU WIN!
An average 30-gallon LP-Gas water heater is able to deliver between 13,500 and 17,900 gallons of 160° hot water per month . . . an average 52-gallon electric water heater between 3,950 and 5,250 gallons of hot water each produces in 30 days, operating 24 hours a day will vary one way or the other between these totals, depending on operating conditions.
Your Gulfthane distributor has an ENTRY BLANK which contains all the test details and gives you plenty of additional information to help you win. To get your entry blank, phone, write, or drop in at the address below, or mail your estimate by using the coupon below. By calculating how much each will deliver, you can estimate how many more gallons you can get from an LP-Gas water heater. Your calculation may win the contest and bring you the prize.
United States Testing Company, Inc. will test two new water heaters—one LP-Gas, one electric. These heaters picked at random from stock. The test will measure how much 160° hot water (normal clothes washing temperature) each will deliver over a 30-day period operating at full capacity, 24 hours a day. The certified results of this test will determine the contest winner.

New Game Area Once Historic Cattle Spread

When the Game and Fish Commission takes over some 28,000 acres of the old Matador ranch in North Texas for a wildlife management area, it will be part owner of one of the most historical ranching spots in the State.

The Matador ranch was put together in the late 1870's after a cowboy by the name of Henry Campbell sold a group of Chicago financiers on providing a huge spread of rich grassland for a ranch that would run thousands of head of cattle.

The Game Commission recently contracted for the purchase of 28,000 acres plus, for slightly more than $700,000. It will be used as a game management area, primarily for turkeys and upland game. Since this area once supported a heavy buffalo population there will be some deer stocked on the property.

"Negotiations have been in progress for some time," according to the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. "When we get final possession of the property extensive plans will be made to set up the management area."

This area is out of what is known as the East ranch, about six miles north and west of Paducah. It is well watered and good range land, with ideal habitat conditions for upland game, according to the executive secretary.

Texas Spiders Described In Game Magazine

There are only two dangerous spiders in Texas—the black widow and the tarantula—according to an article in the April issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH magazine. The article, written by Janey Bell and illustrated by Don Hague, covers the field of native spiders, under the title of "Nature's Extravaganza."

"The best hunters, trappers and fishermen in the world probably are spiders," the article points out. "Although governed solely by instinct spiders obtain their prey in a fascinating variety of ways— weaving webs, stalking and leaping, dipping in the water of camouflaging themselves for an ambush. And food, not fun, is their objective."

Most of the better known spiders are listed in the article, which tells something of their appearance and habits. The wound and treatment of spider bites also are described.

It also tells how spider webs have been utilized by man for numerous purposes. For instance, overlaid spider web has been used as a bandage to stem the flow of blood from wounds. Artists have used the web fabric as a canvas for their paintings.

Beauty Center Opened Wednesday In New Location On W. Dale

The Beauty Center, one of the two businesses which will occupy the newly remodeled front of the old Queen Theatre on West Dale Street, opened Wednesday in their new quarters. The beauty shop originally was located in the south end of the Smith Drug Company building.

Frank's Barber shop will be the other business to occupy the remodeled building. It will be open within a few days.

The front part of the old theatre building has been completely remodeled, with glass and brick front, and modern glass doors. The remodeled portion of the building extends back several feet beyond the old lobby area, and new flooring and ceiling has been installed. The old balcony and projection room of the theatre has been left in place, with the new quarters underneath. The rest of the building, the rear part, will be used for storage, according to Homer Hodge, who owns the property.

Hodge said this week that "if and when the need arises for another theatre in Winters," another building will be built to house it. At present, he operates the State Theatre and also the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

Mrs. Marie Windham of Tuscola, owner and operator of the Beauty Center, has been in business in Winters for three and a half years. Before opening the shop in Winters, Mrs. Windham was an operator in Tuscola for nine years.

Mrs. Leona Matthis has been an operator for the shop for three and a half years. She has worked as a beauty operator in Winters since 1953. Mrs. Irmal Alely has been with the Beauty Center since last September.

Frank Hunter will operate the barber shop in half of the newly remodeled building. His barberhop formerly was located on East Dale Street.

Now Is Good Time To Plant Legumes, Specialist Says

"Recent rains over the Runnels Soil Conservation District have created a good opportunity to plant summer legumes" states C. L. Drake of the Soil Conservation Service.

"The near failure of small grain has left us with a larger acreage than usual for planting," he said.

Guar, blackeye peas, Chinese red peas and brabham peas have been used successfully as soil improving crops in this district.

Yield increases of from one-third to double have been reported by farmers when cotton follows these legumes. They store abundant supplies of nitrogen in the soil for the crops which follow, and increased yields will be noticed for several years. Legumes have aggressive roots which penetrate plow pans, leaving organic matter deep in the subsoil. This greatly increases the water intake rate of the soil, often correcting that "droughty condition," frequently noticed in some fields.

Planting, cultivating and harvesting of these legumes can be accomplished with the usual equipment found on most farms.

Drive carefully -- an accident could make your vacation permanent.
