Courtesy pays off in a multitude of ways. In the words of one member of the Chamber of Commerce, "Courtesy takes so little effort, and the rewards are so great.

The Chamber of Commerce has come up with an idea to recognize the courteous salespeople and service people employed by the many different firms in Winters. And there are many of them.

Beginning this week, and continuing for eight weeks, The Enterprise will print a ballot to be used by customers to vote for their favorite clerk or service personnel. Each ballot will have space to list the name of one lady and one man, whom the voter considers to be the most courteous in their dealing with the public.

At the end of eight weeks, the ballots will be counted, and two $50 Savings Bonds will be presented to the people receiving the largest number of votes, one bond to a lady, and one bond to a man.

The contest is open to all sales and service personnel in all businesses in Winters; employers are not eligible to enter. No registra-tion is required. The contest clos-es on August 3, when the final From Winters Will

The trailer race has not been held at the Winters rodeo in several years, and promises to create a lot of excitement.

Officials of the rodeo, which is sponsored by Winters Round-Up, Inc., predict that this year's rodeo will be the biggest yet, with added events being listed on the program. For the first time this year, steer wrestling will be included on the list of events for the three day affair. There also will be bronc riding, calf roping, girls' cloverleaf race, wild cow milking and bull riding.

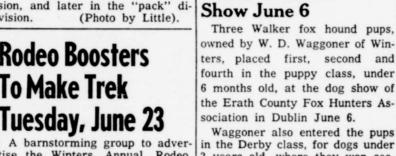

A group of men will appear on Abilene television station KRBC-TV next Wednesday night, as a guest of Harry Holt, conductor of the 'On the Farm" program, to advertise the rodeo. Rex Felker of Quanah, who announced at the rodeo last year, will again call events this year. A big parade of floats and riding clubs from all over the area will get the rodeo activities off to a good start on Thursday, June 25, at 5 o'clock. Another parade is scheduled for Saturday, June 27. Prizes will be awarded to the most colorful floats entered in the parade. Parade committee officials said that floats would be required to participate in both parades to be eligible for the prize money.

Winters State Bank Increases Capital Stock At Meeting

At the annual stockholders meeting Friday, stockholders of the Winters State Bank voted to increase the capital stock of the bank to $100,000 with a certified surplus of $100,000. This now brings the total capital structure, including reserves, up to $430,000, accordin; to John Q. McAdams, bank president.

Owners of 407 shares of stock were present and all voted in favor of the increase.

The Winters State Bank was organized with a $15,000 capital stock in 1906.

John Q. McAdams, who has been president of the bank since its organization, is an ex-president of the state banks division of the American Bankers Assn. He is a former president of Texas State Bankers Association, and was state banking commissioner for several years.

Officers and directors elected include Dr. J. W. Dixon, vice president and chairman of the board; Gattis Neely, vice president; Mrs. E. N. Reid, assistant vice president; W. H. Craven, cashier; and Estella Bredemeyer, assistant cashier.

Directors are McAdams, Dr. Dixon, Neely, Albert Afflerbach, Mrs. Carl Henslee and John Norman.

Despite sharp increases in consumption of frozen foods, the canned-food industry appears to be maintaining its relatively strong position. Aided by population increases and higher personal income, canners have made good postwar gains. During the next ten years, I predict canners will have to devote more time and thought to their raw material sources. Tighter control of plantings will be a "must." In some cases, it will be advantageous for canners to purchase outright the fruit groves or vegetable acreage needed to assure them of adequate supplies and to enable them to compete with truly synthetic products.

Canners' costs have been trending upward for some years now. They will rise at an even faster rate during the next ten years. Both skilled and unskilled labor on farms and in the groves and canning plants will command higher wages. More money will be needed for containers and for canning and freezing machinery replacement, although I do not now foresee any early switchover to alum-inum cans. However, food prothe First Baptist Church in Winers, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Jim Bailey Jr., of Winters, served his brother as best man. Mrs. Jim Bailey Jr., the bridegroom's sister-in-law, was matron of honor. She wore a pastel blue dacron and cotton fitted princess dress with white accessories. She carried a nosegay of white carnations showered with blue lace streamers and tulle. Given in marriage by her brother, Bert Witt Jr., the bride wore an original gown of chantilly lace and tulle over bridal satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and lace scallops forming a sabrina necline. Lace medallions accented the bouffant skirt of tulle and the center panel of lace extended down both the front and back of the bal lerina length skirt.

Her tiered fingertip veil of silk Illusion fell from a pearl trimmed rippled shell cap and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnaions and lillies of the valley showered with satin loveknots. She wore a double strand pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Contract" Farming Will Increase Farming is in the midst of a great change. Gradually, agriculture is being remade into a more vital part of our industrial economy. Fruit and vegetable production, canning, freezing, as well as marketing, are becoming "big business" on a huge assemblyline basis under an advanced-contract basis. But, of all the products to watch, keep an eye on the purely synthetic foods for they may take the lead.

You can't help loving this little pup. Maybe it's because he seems so out of proportion. If he somehow were able to flap those ears he might fly away.

Perhaps there is a little fellow in your home who is "all ears" in another sense . . . a youngster who takes in everything that's said, including some things he isn't meant to hear.

Most children are eager to listen . . . hungry to learn. That is why the early years are so important in the molding of a child's character. The things he hears, whether right or wrong, make a deep impression on his mind. They are soon reflected in his actions and words.

Wise parents take advantage of the Church's program of religious education in implanting those early impressions. They know there is no surer builder of character than religious faith.

NOW . . . while your child is eager to hear and to learn, bring him to church . . . and support the Church in its great undertaking.

can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wilmeth Baptists Plan Youth Rally For June 13

The Wilmeth Baptist Church will host the Runnels County Youth Rally on Saturday evening, June 13, at 7:30.

The program theme will be "The Meaning of Missions for the Modern Mind." Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lasater of San Angelo will have charge of the special music. Marvin Lasater of San Angelo will give a testimonial on his work with young people throughout the state. The Rev. Bill Swindler, pastor of the Norton Baptist Church, will speak on how missions helped win him to Christ. The Rev. Lester Lee Vinson, pastor of the Bronte Baptist Church, will bring the evening message. Rev. and Mrs. Vinson worked six years with the Home Mission among Latin Americans. They will tell of some of their experiences during those years of work.

All young people are urged to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served by the Wilmeth Church in the annex following the program. The public is invited.

Strongest Force in Business Today

Science tells us that the strongest thing in the world for its size is the common red ant. This marvel of nature can lift 10 times its own weight.

As strong as the red ant may be, it has been proven that the most powerful thing for its size is the little want ad in your local newspaper.

The want ad, which costs only a few cents a day, does a hundred-fold job. This mighty mite of the printed page finds jobs for folks, sells used lawnmowers, rents houses, sells farms, loans money, finds missing persons, locates lost dogs, rents appliances, thanks folks, locates homes for surplus puppies, and performs a hundred and one useful services for the community.
