

A Nation's Prayer

ALMIGHTY GOD, in Whose love and eternal care this world has found its sole meaning and ultimate destiny, bless this House.

In the exercise of a holy freedom our people have chosen that man who with his helpmate here abides. Whether we support or oppose his policies, lead us to uphold him in his sacred duty, to the preservation of our Constitution and the safeguard of our liberties.

Strengthen him and his counsellors in the fulfilment of their trust. Enlighten both his supporters and his loyal opposition in every search for the best solution to the problems that beset our nation and our world. Preserve the peace, never letting the flame of freedom flicker for one moment in our hearts.

And guide the families of our land to the Sources of Light and Life and Love, multiplying the influence of the Bible, extending the witness of the Church . . . that the blessing we invoke upon this House may permeate every home in a dedicated America.

Amen.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

ROGER BABSON SAYS—

"Artificial Water" May Make Deserts Bloom; Research Under Way Now

Babson Park, Mass.—We all know that arid lands produce the finest crops when they finally get water. Our most beautiful lettuce and similar table vegetables which come from California are now grown from land which was absolutely sterile a few years ago. The reason is that these lands, which have had no rains during the past century, are very rich in vitamins and minerals, while our normally fertile lands have had these washed away down the rivers and into the oceans. When I was in Africa last year I was told that the Sahara Desert will "blossom like a rose" when it has water.

Present Irrigation Wasteful

The only way we are now able to give these "no rain" lands sufficient water is by irrigation. This usually means building an expensive dam, together with canals to the area. These canals are, of course, open and the water is subject to serious evaporation. As a result, all present forms of irrigation are very wasteful, even if the water is obtainable. I believe that very few new irrigations systems will be built.

The lands, however, must have some equivalent of water, but this will be "synthetic" water. I am certain of this after my few weeks spent in New Mexico and Arizona, from which states I have just returned. There you can buy "no rain" land for $10.00 an acre; but to have it irrigated—even if that is possible—will cost you over $100.00 per acre.

How Water May Be Manufactured

Those of us who have studied chemistry know that water consists of two elements hydrogen and oxygen. In the chemical laboratory we were taught how to decompose water into these two gases of hydrogen and oxygen; in fact, this is now being done in a commercial way by means of a beam of light. I remember, however, that it was dangerous to reverse the process. It created much heat and sometimes an explosion. This in rough, is the process which will take the place of present systems of irrigation; but it will be greatly simplified and costs cut. This new process can be used for all land, however far away from water it may be in this country or in any part of the entire world.

Oxygen gas can now be secured quite cheaply, but hydrogen gas is expensive and tricky. We may need a "trigger" to combine the two, but this will not long be true. Moreover, I am convinced that it will soon be easy to buy diluted hydrogen gas which will work with oxygen. This will be shipped directly to the farmer and he will make the mixture in his furrow. Furthermore, he will want a limited explosion so as to loosen the earth before he plants his seeds.

How These Gases Will Be Applied

The "no rain" farmer, after plowing and leveling the land, will disk or harrow it preparatory to planting his seed. The disking machine which he rides will carry two tanks, one containing the hydrogen and one containing oxygen, both under pressure. These gases will be led in very small tubes to be applied to the ground directly after the disk or the harrowing machine passes. If all goes well, after or accompanying a small explosion, the hydrogen and oxygen will form water or its equivalent. This will be automatically covered with soil after the seed is dropped. This planting should result in marvelous crops.

Please do not write me for further particulars as I am neither a farmer nor a chemist. Write the You'll find white bass fishing at its finest just below Marble Falls Dam. It's at the head of Lake Travis on the Colorado River in Central Texas.

Several conditions combine to make Marble Falls the white bass capital for a large part of the angling population of Texas.

First, the fish are there in profusion numbers.

Second, Marble Falls is in weekend distance of most Texans, and the spot is not far from the geographical center of the state.

Third, good fishing water is of easy access. This, thanks to the ingenuity and energy of an Austin dentist, fisherman, and entrepreneur, Dr. C. H. Roper. He built a contraption called "The Ramp"—where you can ride a cable car up and down the steep cliff.

We'll describe The Ramp in a minute. But first, a word about why the sandies are here in such profusion.

There are many places on the Highland Lakes where you can catch strings of big white bass. But nowhere else will you find so many, in such great numbers, in so small a space, so much of the time.

It just happens that whites find the water below Marble Falls Dam exactly to their liking. When power is being generated, they crowd into the tail race to enjoy the gushing water. When the generators are not in operation they retire to the deeps or chase shad that school on the surface.

Come spawning season, the white bass head upstream, looking for shallow water and a rocky, sandy bottom for the best egg-laying conditions. Well, sir, Marble Falls is as far upstream as the fish can get in Lake Travis, a 65-mile long body of water. And here, below the dam, conditions for white bass spawning are ideal. Then too, the shad school here. And if you say "Shad" to a white bass, it's like saying "steaks on" to hungry newspapermen. They come a'running.

So, how do we get to this fabulous place?

Until recent months, fishermen either climbed down a dangerous cliff to get there or they pulled their boats through rocky shallows below the dam. Either way they risked their necks. So, Dr. Roper figured a way to ease the path, make the fishermen happy, and pick up a little loose change for himself.

Owning land below the dam, atop the cliff, Dr. Roper also wanted to get down there and fish without climbing over all those rocks. So, he dynamited a path along the cliffside. That made walking company from which you buy the insecticides you use for spraying. They will be the manufacturers and distributors of these gases. Otherwise, write the company from which you buy your fertilizers. The simplest thing would be to cut out this column and sent it to such manufacturer of insecticides or fertilizers, asking him if my forecast is crazy!

up and down easier. People heard about his "ramp" and came flocking to use it. He charged them 50 cents apiece. That paid for the dynamite.

But still it was a steep, hard climb. Roper thought about a "ramp jeep" but changed his plans when he heard about a resort operator who was employing some sort of cable car to reach down to the water from his high place above. That seemed like a solution.

So, Roper improvised an installation to fit his situation. He located some abandoned railroad track, salvaged rail and ties. A railroad construction crew, temporarily laid off, put the track down. A second hand elevator furnished the mechanism to raise and lower the "hand car." The car itself was constructed so that its front wheels were higher than the back ones. This in order to keep the floor level despite the incline.

Today everything is automatic. Just push the button and you're on your way. The car glides slowly downward, alongside the 140 foot cliff at a 35 degree incline over a course of 300 feet. Now one can eliminate the danger in clambering down the rocks, or trying to navigate the boulder-studded channel from downstream in a boat. However, those routes still are pursued by a few of the daring ones.

But let's take a trip to this place and see what's there.

First we park our car at the top of the bluff, putting the front wheels securely against a log, so placed to prevent the machine from going over the cliff. Nearby are cabins for those who can't get enough of the white bass fishing in one day. There's a little store and tackle shop at the "take off" spot, attended by Bill Corley. From Bill we get our tickets ($1) to ride the cable car. Tickets are good for 24 hours.

From Bill we also get minnows and whatever artificial lures we need to entice the fish. Four at a time can ride the cable car, which is a busy little apparatus, carrying fishermen up and down all day long when the weather is decent.

When we reach the bottom, there's a choice to be made. Either we follow the bank to the dam, or we fish near a string of boulders jutting out into the current.

There are fishermen all along the bank and out on the boulders. There are people out in the water, some wearing waders and some getting wet. There are a few boats, clustered just beyond the swift water of the tail race. Whether or not power is being generated will determine where we go.

Some anglers prefer working in the tail race when the water is rushing through. Others like it better downstream in the quiet water. You can take your choice, for there are white bass here all the time and they can be caught, regardless of the generators.

As we take up our stations we notice what the others are doing. More of them are using minnows than any other bait. But there are many artificials in view. Most popular of these are jigs with bucktails, spinners, and popping jigs.

You can see every imaginable kind of gear, from fly rod to surf-casting rig. But the spinning outfit by far outnumbered all others, as it should. It's exactly right for this kind of fishing.

A limit catch (25) is no novelty in this white bass haven. Untold thousands of them have been taken from these waters. But the supply never seems to diminish as white bass spawn like crazy.

There are other fish here too. An occasional black bass or catfish is snared, and now and then a carp or buffalo will swallow a minnow or get foulhooked by a lure. Most of the fishermen, however, are after white bass as the whites are present in such vast numbers.

Social Security Not Meant To Replace Private Savings

"How does the government expect you to live on these benefits?" "The above is a common complaint heard by our staff," reports district manager Floyd B. Ellington, "because of a misconception held by much of the public."
"In formulating the social security program, Congress did not intend retirement, disability, or survivors benefits to replace private savings. Instead social security was to supplement the family protection offered by insurance companies and similar investments. After all, Americans have always prided themselves on their individualism and still like to have a hand in their own destinies."
"On the other hand," points out Ellington, "your social security benefits can form the cornerstone for your family's security. In some cases, it might mean the difference between mere subsistence and comfort. In the case of those who have been able to provide adequately for their retirement, these payments may be the means by which many of the plans dreamed about during those long days behind the desk or machine can be fulfilled."

Ellington states that anyone desiring information concerning the social program should see the field representative, Neil Tarvin, when he makes his regular visit to Winters. He will be in the Chamber of Commerce building from 10 a. m. to 12 p. m. on July 15, July 29, August 12, August 26, September 16 and September 30.

MRS. CHARLES CARROLL LUDWICK (Photo by Little)

Karen Kornegay and Charles Ludwick United In Double-Ring Ceremony Friday

The Winters Church of Christ was the scene of the marriage of Miss Karen Kornegay and Charles Carroll Ludwick, solemnized Friday at 8 p. m. A double-ring ceremony was read by Lawrence L. Smith of Abilene, uncle of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Kornegay of El Paso, formerly of Winters. He is the son of Mrs. L. E. Ludwick of Temple and the late L. E. Ludwick.

The couple said their vows before an altar decorated with green palms and baskets of sunburst white gladioli trimmed with white satin ribbons. A Swedish steel candelier flanked with four matching candelabras completed the decorations for the church.

Traditional wedding music was furnished by the A Capella Choir of Abilene Christian College. At the end of the ceremony "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" was sung.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a princess gown of silk mist taffeta and hand-run alencon lace. Jewel encrusted lace appliques adorned the bodice and circlet neckline. The bustle back was a bow, accented with the flared skirt extending into a chapel train.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses and lilies of the valley. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a bandeau of re-embroidered lace embellished with seed pearls.

Sandra Jackson of El Paso was maid of honor and Jan Kornegay, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

They wore identical gowns of blush pink organza. Schiffli embroidery accented the sabrina necklines. Bands of embroidery adorned the softly bouffant skirts in cocktail length. They wore matching Juliet hats of French orange blossoms with face illusions and carried colonial bouquets of pink supreme daisies.

Jennifer Magee of El Paso was flower girl. She wore a white eyelid organza with crushed pink taffeta sash with bustle bow and wristlet corsage of pink feathered carnations.

Lester Ludwick of El Paso, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Jack Sprott and Dan Harper, both of Temple, John Frank Hay of El Paso, and Gray Gardner of Winters were ushers.

Mother of the groom, Mrs. L. E. Ludwick, wore a sheath dress of blue silk organza over taffeta with matching flowered hat and accessories.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. C. N. Kornegay, wore mauve peau de soie sheath with lace bodice. Small matching hat and accessories. Corsages for both were gardenias.

The reception, hosted by the bride's parents, was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lewis following the ceremony. Members of the house party included the aunts of the bride, Mrs. Max Lewis of Winters, Mrs. G. B. Wadzeck of San Angelo, Mrs. C. W. Davis of Arlington and Mrs. L. L. Smith of Abilene.

Also assisting with courtesies were Mrs. John Hay of El Paso, Mrs. John Gardner, Mrs. Raymond Henslee, Mrs. C. R. Kendrick, Mrs. Fred Young, Miss Martha Lloyd Miss Sylvia Young and Miss Kleta Gerhart, all of Winters. Mrs. Jack Wilson of Brownwood, sister of the groom, registered the guests.

For a wedding trip to South Texas, the bride wore a costume suit of bone-colored Italian nubby silk with fitted jacket. A beige hat and multicolored silk shoes and bag completed the outfit.

The bride, a 1958 graduate of Monterey High School in Lubbock, Texas, attended Texas Western College in El Paso. The bridegroom, a graduate of Temple High School, received his BBA degree from the University of Texas. He is currently employed with the Continental Oil Company in New Orleans, La., where the couple will make their home.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Mack, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Magee, Pam and Jennifer, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson and Sandra, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stephens, Temple; Mrs. John Hay, Virginia and John Frank, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Caskey, Ballinger; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. State Capitol Highlights:

Legislators' One Consolation: Capitol Halls Are Air Conditioned This Year

By Vern Sanford Texas Press Association About the only cheerful remark heard around Texas Legislative halls of late is, "Think how bad it would be if it weren't air conditioned!"

(House and Senate chambers are cooled this year for the first time, though most of the rest of the Capitol is not as yet.)

Many remember summer sessions in pre-air conditioned days. Scorching extraordinary was in 1949 which ran to July 6, longest regular session in Texas history.

Lawmakers and reporters complained that the huge granite clocks in the capitol walls collected heat like a dutch oven. Coat and tie rules in the legislative chambers added to the misery.

Some observers said that the 1949 Legislature (which also had a tax problem) didn't really quit. It just sort of melted down. A special session was called the next winter to clear up money problems.

For all its comforts, air conditioning hasn't taken the sweat out of passing a tax bill.

Both House and Senate have tax bills, and a new conference committee was put to work to try to piece them together. But the floor action preceding passage gave no indication that any of the conflicting groups is ready to give an inch.

House membership is split three ways into (1) those who don't want the majority of new taxes to fall on business, (2) those who don't want a majority to be sales taxes and (3) those who apparently don't want any new taxes.

Each of the first two groups has been able to defeat the other's proposals with the help of the "no-taxers." Hence, despite public impatience and their own weariness, lawmakers have been ensnared in a one-step-forward-and-two-backward pattern.

Something Old, Something New Given to the conference committee on taxes were a new bob-tailed bill from the House and an old, nearly full-size bill from the Senate.

House bill would raise about $106,000,000 over two years—about $70,000,000 less than is needed. Senate bill, designed to raise about $160,000,000, is the same one passed by the Senate in the first special session. It contains more sales taxes than business taxes which the House refused to accept on the last round.

Cut from the House bill before passage were the $5 deductible sales tax ( a 2 percent levy on costs over $50) and the natural gas severance beneficiary tax. Both fell by the wayside in one of the "if you kill my tax, I'll kill yours" sessions.

Remaining in the bill were levies on which the House has been able to agree all along—on cigarettes, liquor, auto sales and corporation franchises.

"New wrinkles" added were (1) a licensing fee for private clubs that sell liquor and a 10 percent tax on mixing drinks and (2) a 1.5 percent sales tax on boats, motors and airplanes.

Bill also contains a provision to cut the sulphur tax from $1.40 to $1.03 a ton.

House conferees, none of whom served on the committee last session, are Reps. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen, Frates Seeligson of San Antonio, Wesley Roberts of Lamesa, Joe Ed Winfree of Houston and John Allen of Longview.

Senate conferees include four who served before, Sens. Rudolph Weinert, Dorsey Hardeman, Bruce Reagan and Jimmy Phillips, plus one new member, Sen Wardlow Lane.

SENATE OKAYS BEACH BILL After considerable haggling and several close votes, the Senate passed a bill to guarantee public access to public beaches.

Mustang and Padre Islands are exempted from the provisions of the bill. Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, who sponsored the amendment, said that the islands were being developed with a systematic plan for public parks, beaches and recreation areas.

Opponents to the exemption said it would allow at least one-third of the beaches on the islands to be under private control.

As passed by the Senate, the bill does not try to define boundary between state and private land, but simply affirms the public's right to come and go from state beaches by way of roads.

FEE BILL ADDED TO CALL A bill to let state colleges charge a $30 a semester activity fee got a new lease on life when Gov. Price Daniel submitted it to the Legislature.

Bill had been introduced twice, but fizzled out in the Senate when Sen. Henry Gonzalez challenged it on two points: (1) it was not "within the governor's call" for the session and (2) in order to be considered "within the call," it would have to be regarded as a revenue-raising measure which must originate in the House.

Governor Daniel's action changed this, and the Senate went back to work on the bill. A similar bill was passed by the House last session.

NO DEADLOCK HERE Easiest agreement of the session was a bill appropriating money to pay legislative expenses.

Both House and Senate gave final passage to a bill transferring $400,000 from the cigarette tax fund to pay costs of the second special session.

This brings legislative expenses thus far to about $2,700,000.

LAND SALE APPROVED House passed a bill that would allow the state to sell a tract of about 40 acres just north of the State Hospital in Austin.

State Hospital Board has declared the system does not need the land. Austin city officials would like to see it privately owned so property taxes could be collected on it. Location is such that it could be used for a shopping center.

Bill sets the minimum price at $1,500,000.

Senators Want More Immigrants

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Immigration policies, which have a way of getting into politics, is being highlighted again in Senate hearings on proposals to overhaul the McCarran-Walter Act.

The latter Act maintains our traditional quota rules under which Europeans are admissible in restricted numbers based upon percentage of people of ethnic origins who were in this country in 1920.

Two Senators—Case of New Jersey and Kennedy of Massachusetts—plugged in Senate hearings last week for drastic changes in the quota system. They want more liberal rules to apply in order that more people can come in. Kennedy called for an increase in quotas from 150,000 annually to 250,000, while Case urged that, among other things, an additional hundred thousand "refugees" be admitted over and above quotas.

This contrasts with a resolution from the Uvalde chapter of the DAR, urging that immigration be restricted and that the McCarran-Walter Act be kept as it is.

Since the war vast numbers of immigrants have flocked to the U. S., including hundreds of thousands of so-called refugees and displaced persons. During 1956, for example, 350,000 immigrants were admitted, the largest number since 1925. In addition to others, upwards of a million Puerto Ricans have come in since the war.

At the same time there are those who plug for an ever increasing flow of permanent immigrants from Mexico. The quota does not apply in the Western Hemisphere. Some people contend the present annual average of 50,000 permanent immigrants from Mexico is not enough—that the entry rate should be stepped up. If the present influx rate continues, in 10 years a total of a half million additional Mexican nationals will become permanent residents, mostly in Texas.

Now Good Time For Terrace Repair In Grain Fields

Now is a good time for maintenance of terraces on land where small grain has been harvested, reports Glen Green of the local Soil Conservation Service. To keep a terrace system effective, it should have a maintenance plowing at least once a year.

Special attention should be given to low or weak places in the terraces. Green stated the most likely places for terraces to become weakened from cultivation are at the end of the terraces and end blocks. Maintenance plowing of ridge type terraces is performed by back furrowing toward the ridge. The width of the plow land should be varied each year so that the dead furrow does not fall in the same place. This may require occasional plowing in two lands.

Some of the many farmers cooperating with the Runnels Soil Conservation District who practice terrace maintenance are Elwood Brown, Route 2, Ballinger, and Mitchell Blackwood, Route 3, Winters.
